Held for murder is Mrs. Mary Louise Simpson, of 1237 E. 91st street. She is charged with plunging a butcher knife twice into the chest of William Taylor Simpson, 39, her husband during an argument in their home last Sunday night.

According to Det. Sgt. C. T. Human of the L. A. County Sheriff's department, Mrs. Simpson had been out with a woman friend and returned home late. The companion was with her. Her husband, who was employed as a Safeway food packer, was asleep in the dining room.

ARGUE OVER MONEY

Mrs. Simpson is said to have argued with her husband over money she claimed he had taken from her purse, and about alleged infidelity. The argument exploded into a fight and Mrs. Simpson grabbed the knife from the kitchen, police reports say.

Simpson picked up a coffee table to ward off his wife's blows, reports claim, but received the fatal stab wounds. The wounded man staggered through the front door and collapsed on the porch.

Eastland Will Fight Okay Of Robinson

WASHINGTON — Senate Judiciary committee chairman James O. Eastland, Democrat from Mississippi, served notice upon Congress this week that he would fight on the Senate floor against confirmation of a Negro to the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

Eastland's announcement came after the committee had approved the nominations of Spottswood W. Robinson III, to the rights body by a vote of 7-4.

Also approved was Erwin N. Griswold, dean of the Harvard Law School. Eastland said he would also oppose Griswold.

NAACP LAWYER

Robinson, a prominent attorney and head of the Howard University Law School, was an active NAACP counsel in numerous civil rights cases before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Little debate preceded the 7-4 vote, indicating the predicted Senate fight from Southern legislators over final confirmation.

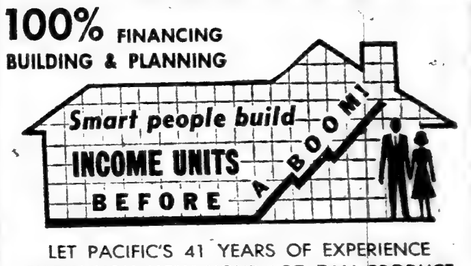
shriek, here eyes suddenly wide with fear.



"Oh, my God!" she exclaimed. "My neighbors would shoot me!"

She rushed to Lane and told him she could not rent to him.

"I had a meeting with my neighbors only recently," she gushed. "A man at Cal-Tech—I don't know what he was—wanted to rent from me. They told me he might be colored and that they would make it bad for him, and for me, if I rented to him. Oh, I couldn't rent to you. And I have lovely neighbors. Oh, heavens!"

Lane said he started to leave her at the phone-less home to get her own transportation, but respecting the woman's age, if not her reasoning, he drove her to her hotel—without another word.

Little Michael Claiborne loves Carnation. Mixed with an equal amount of water, it's still as rich as state standards for whole milk.

She conducts cooking classes, talks at PTA and club meetings, appears on television, and shows young mothers how to prepare infant formulas with Carnation Evaporated Milk.

"I had plenty of extra practice with my own 3-year-old, Michael. His doctor recommended Carnation for his formula, of course."

Mrs. Claiborne conducts dozens of cooking demonstrations every year.

"I love to show the smoothness of puddings made with Carnation," she says. (See recipe at right.)

New Civil Service Commissioner

The appointment of the Rev. J. Raymond Henderson to the city civil service commission is gratifying proof that Mayor Sam Yorty intends to carry out his platform pledge to integrate Negroes into city government.

On other occasions we have said that the Rev. Henderson is one of the city's most useful citizens. We are sure he will prove the wisdom of that assertion by his conduct as a civil service commissioner.

No city commission was more in need of a man of the Rev. Henderson's caliber than the civil service commission. Its function is of great importance to all of those who want recruitment and promotion of public employees based solely on merit and without regard to irrelevant considerations.

Such irrelevancies as race have intruded in the past both in the selection and upgrading of civil servants and dilatory commissions have been unable, or unwilling, to remedy those evils. We are sure that the Yorty administration will cure the situation under which bureau and department heads were able to hire and promote favored persons and will implement laws designed to eradicate favoritism of every kind.

The appointment of a Negro to the civil service commission has been a cherished aim of the community for many years. Mayor Yorty's response, and the quality of the man he has appointed, merit the sincere congratulations of all of those who believe that democracy is best served by a recognition that all citizens should share the responsibilities of self government.

Making a Mountain Out of a Hill

The district attorney's office is making itself ridiculous by pressing "lynching" charges against two young men who were arrested in connection with the Griffith Park disturbance last Memorial Day.

The statute under which they are being prosecuted wasn't intended to fit the circumstances of their crime. It was put on the books to deal with mobs and mob members who take prisoners from the custody of police in order to wreak private vengeance on the supposed law breakers.

It is ironic that California's statute, as well as similar statutes in other states, were enacted in response to a demand that the states protect members of minority groups, particularly Negroes, from mobs and lynchers. The two who are being tried are Negroes.

There is an almost irrestible impulse that seizes district attorneys to use harsh laws against the most defenseless members of society and that's what the district attorney has done in this case.

The Griffith Park incident was regrettable and those who were responsible for the turmoil ought to be punished but the punishment should be in keeping with the quality of the offense. A vigorous prosecution for interfering with a police officer or a breach of peace would certainly serve the interests of justice in this case.

We're not presuming to determine guilt or innocence. That's the function of the judge or jury. What we're saying is that the district attorney ought not make a mountain out of what is a good sized hill at the worst.

Impatience Will Get Results

Our headline writer pretty well summed up the NAACP's annual convention with the caption that "impatience dominated" the gathering.

That note of impatience is understandable when it is realized that the NAACP target date for full freedom is 1963, the one hundredth anniversary of the issuance of the Emancipation Proclamation.

It is plain, too, that the Association is going to have to hurry things along if it hopes to achieve its promise to its members that they, and other Negroes, will be first class citizens two years hence.

We're a little skeptical of the ability of the NAACP to get the job done in the two remaining years but we do agree that efforts should be redoubled in every field. If we don't make the goal we should at least get within shouting distance of freedom by 1963.

Kenneth Clark, Spingarn Medal winner, put his finger on the real problem when he inveighed against "gradualism, tokenism and moderation." If we're satisfied with a token of integration here and there and are content to pursue our aims by gradual and moderate means we can resign ourselves to another fifty years of wandering in the Jim Crow wilderness.

It is sometimes hard to reject the plea that the best thing to do is to take a half a loaf, or a crumb of bread, in lieu of the whole loaf we need but that's what we've got to do.

Negroes have been praised for their patience so long that some of us think that patience is a cardinal virtue. It is the impatient who get what they want, not the patient.

Hawkins Deserves a Dinner

Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins deserves the dinner that will be given in his honor Friday. He has served in the Assembly for more than a quarter of a century and has compiled an impressive voting record in favor of measures beneficial to his constitutents.

Hawkins was the first Democrat to represent his district and one of the first of many Negro state legislators throughout the nation.

Many of the benefits of social legislation that are taken for granted these days are on California statute books because of what Hawkins and like minded legislators did. Many of those laws were pushed through against great odds and are monuments to his unflagging zeal and strong faith in the democratic way of life.

The President is Mistaken

From what we have been able to learn, NAACP leaders were unable to shake President Kennedy's decision to forego requests for civil rights legislation at this session of Congress.

The president and his advisors are firmly wedded to the proposition that it is impossible, or at least impolitic, to seek such legislation now and that the best that can be done is to redouble executive and judicial action in the area of civil rights.

We think the president is making a mistake. We do not believe that he can bribe or buy off the South and southern opposition by taking low on civil rights legislation. We venture the guess that Southerners are going to string along and finally knife his legislative program, no matter how much he kowtows to their wishes on civil rights.

As of the moment, the federal aid to education program — one of the president's pet projects — is lying on its death bed, fatally wounded by the die-hard coalition of southern Democrats and reactionary northern Republicans.

A similar fate is in store for other legislation. All the administration is going to get out of its decision to postpone civil rights legislation is that it will become the target of Republican charges that it sold out its northern Negro supporters to appease its southern followers.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

A friend who read last week's column before it was sent in handed it back to me with a warning headshake and, "Uh-uh, don't do it"! He was afraid that too hasty reading would result in my public overlooking the key point of the column and deciding that I was only making fun of a chap in a white Cadillac car and a stocking cap.

I told my critic that he both over-rated the size of my reading public and under-rated its thoughtfulness. At any rate, I'd take the chance because too many people are satisfied to slide away from the problem I posed.

CONSPICUOUS CONSUMPTION

Actually, I was discussing the subject of conspicuous consumption in its most extreme (and ludicrous) aspects. But conspicuous consumption as such doesn't worry me too much. It's a fault of modern society, and it would be unrealistic to expect people with dark skins not to suffer from a widely prevalent fault merely because their color subjects them to extra penalties.

Take any population group in this country that suffers strong or mild public prejudice, and you'll find a considerable proportion of that group "getting even" with the prejudiced majority by trying to out-do it in the matter of conspicuous consumption. Bigger and faster cars, longer and more expensive fur stoles, louder and brassier parties—these are often weapons with which the disadvantaged minority strikes back at the aggressive majority.

Pathetically inadequate weapons, you say? Sure, you're right, but the chap who uses them doesn't know it.

MOTIVATION

There are some of us who beat our breasts about the amount of money thus thrown away, and they have a point. It is true that the sum total of our annual expenditures for better cars than we can afford, expensive vacations and parties that do us no good and keeping up with the Joneses generally would bring a whopping financial return to Negroes if invested wisely in productive business and industry and the other profit-making instruments of capitalist society.

But what the preachers of this philosophy overlook is that most Americans don't understand investment—and the experience of many Negroes who have invested their savings in glittering schemes has not been conducive to efforts to acquire such understanding. Many of those who throw away money on empty fun do so because they don't know how to invest with wisdom and confidence. And few of those who preach about it have any helpful advice to offer. Here again, as I pointed out in last week's column, it's a problem of motivation. And if I seem a bit hipped on this motivation business it's probably because I am.

I remember an almost violent argument that I got into a few years ago at a very elegant dinner party, when a well known judge handed down one of his pontifical judgments on the race question. He stated that the race problem was very simple: when Negroes meet modern society's requirements, "they will be accepted by white Americans."

I tried to blow him down in my answer. I pointed out two fallacies in his reasoning: first, that Negroes were concerned about being "accepted" by white fellow citizens; second, that constitutional guarantees were conditional upon "good performance." According to such reasoning, I informed the judge, Al Capone would never have had a chance at a trial, and the Rosenbergs would have been shot by the first FBI man to intercept the pair of Communist spies.

NEED TO IMPRESS

The same point that I made to the judge, I make to my friends who are understandably but unrealistically worried about conspicuous consumption. Peasants become sophisticated urban residents with a speed governed by the rewards and encouragement they receive for doing so.

If a Negro family from Georgia or Louisiana lives in the middle of Manhattan or Los Angeles for 50 years without losing its southern-rural habits of speech, behavior and appearance, it's because the family has not recognized the means of changing its mode of life or because it has not been persuaded that the effort is worthwhile.

And if middle-class Negro families develop spending habits that put too little emphasis on sound investment and too much on efforts to impress the neighbors, or to just "have fun," this too is because the methods of sound investment have not been understood, or because the families have no real conviction that money in the bank will make any tremendous change in family status or the security of the next generation. Where such conviction is acquired, Negro families express it exactly as do their white fellow-citizens.

As for the lads and lassies who go for the white Cadillacs and conked locks, these are not the cause of public disesteem for the Negro urban population. They are the result of expression of disesteem; we didn't produce them, we haven't the facilities for changing them in one social generation—and we are silly if we lie awake nights worrying about only one of the tragic fruits of America's racial psychosis.

Loren Miller Says . . .

law is whatever the Sheriff Fox says it is for that day and if he wakes up with the notion that all Negroes ought to walk on the south side of the street he enforces that rule that day. The next day he may decide that all Negroes should walk on the north side of the street and Negroes who get out of line and walk on the south side are liable to wind up in jail, or worse.

YOU CAN'T WIN

The Sheriff Foxes down in Mississippi know as well as I do that their laws prohibiting Negroes from using certain portions of air line terminals and bus depots are unconstitutional. That doesn't stay them. They're the law. Negroes who try to use the prohibited facilities get arrested. The Fox judges know even better than the sheriff Foxes that the laws they are called on to enforce are invalid but that doesn't keep them from fining and jailing Freedom Riders.

Nothing infuriates the southern Foxes more than to have the Supreme Court announce that the law is the same for everybody, Negro and white. They can't understand why the Foxes shouldn't be permitted to make the law for the geese just as they have always done. The only explanation they can offer is that the Supreme Court must be filled up with Communists.

GOOD RACE RELATIONS

People who object to the fox and goose manner of enforcing the laws are put down as agitators out to unsettle good race relations. The way the foxes look at it there's nothing wrong with the way they run the country. Everybody knows that geese were made to be eaten by foxes. Of course, it's mighty tough if you happen to be a goose.

Come to think of it, Grandpa never did tell me what the geese ought to do when the foxes gang up on them. Maybe he didn't know. I asked Grandma and she said don't be a goose, it's just a story to show how bad things are down south. They're sure tough.

affront others. "We respect the right of the councilmen to make the appointment on the basis of individual merit and ability," the letter said. "The selection of any any one of us will enlist the unqualified approval of all of us and our supporters."

Among those who appeared at the council chambers Monday to urge the appointment of a Negro councilmen were Rev. P. J. Ellis, head of the Baptist Ministers Union; Joe Jones, Leon H. Washington Jr., Perry Parks, Atty. Morgan Moten, Donald Derricks and Cecil Murrell.

Six of the candidates were interviewed Monday by the City Council's Charter and Administrative Code Committee, composed of Councilmen Harold Henry, L. E. Timberlake and Tom Sheppard.

Henry, Council president, said another six will be interviewd Thursday. He estimated it will probably be a month before the committee arrives at its selection.

Those who appeared Monday were: Tom Bradley, Dr. J. A. Somerville, Gage S. Johnson, Mrs. Augusta L. Glover, Kango Kunitsugu and Atty. Louis L. Litwin.

Philip Will Act For Elizabeth

LONDON—Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, will represent Queen Elizabeth at the independence celebrations in Tanganyika, Colonial Secretary Iain MacLeod announced in the House of Commons.

He also said that the date for freeing the East African territory has been set ahead from Dec. 28 to Dec. 9.

nants where a plumber had removed a new 40-gallon hot water tank before installing it in the Fernandez home.

He had told friends he was happy to be in the home after trying for a long time to buy it. He said he had thought the house had an adequate hot water system, but found it did not and had to buy a heater from Sears. The plumber, reportedly, sent by the store, had just finished installing the tank.

DEAFENING BLAST

His wife, Rose, 28, who was seven months pregnant, had been talking to neighbors from the front porch before saying she heard a "roaring" noise in the kitchen and would investigate.

The moment Mrs. Fernandez opened the door leading from the living room to the kitchen the whole house and the entire neighborhood was jolted by a deafening blast. The young mother died instantly when she was struck point-blank by flying timbers and scalding water.

Fernandez, standing in the backyard, was struck by nearly a ton of plaster and framework from the back section of the house as the pressure from the exploding hot water tank crumpled the house like a matchbox. His small daughter, Angela, 3, was blown 20 feet into a neighbor's yard.

TORN AND BLEEDING

Sal Bart, 30, of 7835 Flight avenue, a TV repairman, who witnessed the blast, ran over and found Angela lying bleeding and torn beneath heavy sheets of plaster and splintered wall studs.

Angela died Friday in General Hospital. Her five-year-old brother, Ricardo, who had been playing in the living room at the time of the blast, suffered only minor injuries. He was treated at the hospital and released.

The explosion blew the hot water tank a hundred feet into the air through the roof of the home. The hurtling tank knocked down power lines before landing in a neighbor's yard 75-feet away.

NEIGHBORS TALK

Neighbors spoke of the Fernandez family as "really nice people."

One white neighbor told the Eagle: "He was always working on his house. He was always busy, tending the lawn, painting, fixing. He must have wanted his wife to be happy with their new place."

Mrs. Marie Davis, of 2001 S. Longwood, a sister of Fernandez, said:

"Herman's dream was that house. That's all he would talk about. He loved his wife and his children, and wanted them to be happy more than anything. He made all the purchasing arrangements, the decorating and all. They had lived there eight months, but he was bothered by the water heater being so bad, and worked for the day he could get a new one."

Mrs. Davis said her brother had bought the heater from Sears and that the store had sent out an independent plumber to do the installation earlier that day.

HAD WORK DONE

"It was not true," she told the Eagle, "that Herman was trying to install the heater himself. I have the papers where he paid for everything at Sears, from the purchase of the thing down to the installation. My brother might have done a lot of other work around the house, but he most assuredly would not have attempted to work on a gas heater and hot water tank."

Mrs. Fernandez was known in Los Angeles as a popular and talented member of the young-marrieds set. She designed all stage sets and decorations for the first annual ball last year held by the club of which she was an active member, the Questionettes. Although the club is currently getting ready for its second annual affair, at the Beverly-Hilton Hotel, Mrs. Fernandez had been unable to be as active this season as last. She had been too busy moving into her new home, and she was close to the birth of her third child.

Herman worked as a waiter and bartender, and helped his sister Marie in a catering business.

FINAL RITES HELD

A double Rosary service was read Friday night at the Angelus Funeral Home for Mrs. Fernandez and her daughter.

Fred Jones, father, and Shirley Jones, a sister, of St. Louis, flew here immediately after hearing the tragic news and arranged for the bodies to be flown to the Missouri city for burial.

The young mother is survived by seven sisters, Eva Jeanette, Valeria, Delise, Fredericka, Ruth, Diane and Mrs. Lillie M. Brown, all of St. Louis. Also surviving are three brothers, Fred D. Jones, Jr., Archie Jones and Thomas Jones. The three brothers live in St. Louis.

Herman Fernandez was represented at services in St. Louis by members of his family which includes Ernest, Rube, Bedford, Kelly and LeRoy Fernandez, all brothers, and sisters Mrs. Twadie Forrester, Mrs. Mafie Davis and Miss Bessie Fernandez.

Contest Without a Prize

For the next three months, August through October, the California Eagle is running a "Contest without a Prize." At any rate there will be no monetary reward for the winners.

During the past weeks several students have approached us, telling us they would like to write for the Eagle. We welcome their proposals.

One young woman, when asked what she especially wanted to write, replied, "Editorials."

We explained, possibly a bit condescendingly, that editorials are the special preserve of the publisher, with the editor occasionally getting an opportunity to put in her two cents worth, and that they express the policy of the paper.

After she left, we began to think about her proposal. Why not? we asked. Why not give our young people an opportunity to tell us what they think should be done, give us an idea of how they view the world with which they will have to grapple in the years ahead?

All this is to say that, as a result of our young friend's suggestion, the Eagle is instituting an editorial writing contest. Once each month the best editorial received from a student will be printed in the Eagle, with credit given to the writer.

We ask our contributors to confine their efforts to 250 words, to type their editorials double space, with adequate margins, and to send them in to the editor, including their names and the school they attend. Each contribution will be carefully considered and the winners will be selected following consultation between the publisher and the editor.

Pasadenans Launch 'Hire Negro' Drive

where redevelopment is being planned. The group says it intends to continue conferring, discussing, prodding, demanding until progress is evident.

FED UP

The idea for the Freedom Callers arose, as did the idea for sit-ins a year and a half ago, in the mind of one student who was fed up with discrimination. He had applied for a job he knew was open during the summer, only to be turned down, although he was qualified. He had had other similar experiences.

In the stores where he traded, in the banks where he and his friends deposited their money, there were no Negro clerks. In the City of Pasadena itself you could hunt a long, long time before you'd come upon a Negro, except of course as janitors.

The Pasadena City College student began investigating. He also began contacting his friends.

VISIT STORES

He — and they — visited Sears Roebuck and Co. in Pasadena. They walked up one aisle and down another. They found quite a few clerks. All white.

They went to two banks. Same story.

They referred to a 1955 survey of Negroes in Padsadena, with special reference to jobs in city employment, conducted by Whittier College at the request of the NAACP.

That survey showed that on July 1, 1954, there were 1653 persons employed by the City of Pasadena. Of that number 88 Negroes.

Sixty-eight of the 88 were garbage collectors; 10 were truck drivers for Engineering and Street Maintenance Depts.; five were gardeners; three were policemen. There was one fireman, one stenographer.

STILL THREE

Inquiries indicated there are still three policemen on the force, still with the rank of policeman. There is still one fireman in the Fire Dept., but he has been promoted to captain, in charge of the Linda Vista Station, in a lily-white area.

Checking on other areas of employment in the city, the students found that the picture had changed little since the 1955 survey was made.

The first student called his friends and his relatives. He asked them to call their friends and their relatives. And he urged all of them to close out their accounts with firms that do not hire Negroes above the classification of maintenance.

He asked them to pay up their bills and inclose a note, stating they were terminating their purchases until such time as there is a policy change and Negroes are hired as clerks and in office and similar jobs.

300 RESPOND

Some 300 Negroes in Pasadena have already said they are all for the program.

John Bugs, who is the executive secretary of the Los Angeles County Commission on Human Relations, and who happens to live in Pasadena, told the Eagle he has been working with the Non-Partisan League of that city.

He stressed the fact that he is not acting in his official capacity as a county employe, but purely as a private citizen.

He told the Eagle that his group has held meetings with City Manager Don C. McMillan, with the mayor and with the City Councilmen who in Pasadena are called members of the city's Board of Directors.

PROMISES MEMO

Bugs confirmed the small number of Negroes hired by Pasadena and their almost total absence in commercial and clerical jobs.

Bugs reported, however, that McMillan expressed considerable interest in the facts presented by the Negro representatives and insisted that Pasadena has an official policy of non-discrimination in hiring.

McMillan promised, Bugs said, in response to a request from the Negro representatives, to send a memorandum to all heads of departments in Pasadena and others who hire and fire reiterating a non-discrimination policy.

The city manager asserted that all qualified Negroes would be given equal opportunity by the city for any jobs available.

He said the city now is in need of a civil engineer and that it is open on an equal basis to Negroes and all others who apply.

Rev. Henderson

been active in missionary work, particularly in Central America and Africa. His term on the commission will expire in 1964.

Although he has avoided direct political activity, the Rev. Henderson has been an active participant in civic and community affairs, particularly in the NAACP. Two years ago he raised more than $50,000 among Baptist Churches for the Association and was honored for his leadership at the 50th convention session of the NAACP.

The minister has the distinction of being the first Negro named to the Civil Service Commission, although prior mayors have long been importuned to make such an appointment. In naming him, Mayor Yorty expressed the belief that Rev. Henderson will make a "large contribution to the welfare of the city."

The Civil Service Commission administers the civil service system for the entire city and has general supervision of city employment.

Granted Stay

NEW YORK—A Puerto Rican youth scheduled to die in the electric chair next month won a stay of execution this week following a charge by his lawyer that Puerto Ricans were discriminated against for jury duty in New York.

Judge Adrian P. Burke of the New York Court of Appeals granted the reprieve to Salvador Agron, 17, now in the death house in Sing Sing. Agron was convicted in the Court of General Sessions on October 6, 1960, of having murdered two other youths in a New York playground on the night of August 29, 1959. He was sentenced to die during the week of Aug. 7.

Revival Closes Church of God Convocation

The third annual convocation of the Progressive State Church of God in Christ will be concluded on Frdiay, July 28. Immediately a soul stirring revival will be conducted by the State Overseer, Bishop E. E. Cleveland, of Berkeley, Calif., in the tent at Rosecrans avenue and Avalon blvd.

The convention has been marked by many demonstrations of the sponsoring churches.

Some 300 delegates from Northern California, Arizona and Texas and the Los Angeles area are said to be attending the meetings which opened July 16. The revival will close on Aug. 20 with baptismal services, in which all who find faith in Christ, will be emersed in one big ceremony. Last year over 200 were baptized.

Each evening during the meetings some 500 to 2000 people have joined in the worship services. Scheduled to speak this week are Bishop Mary Coore of Kingston, Jamaica; Rev. Pearl Toliver, of the Hooper Avenue Four Square Church, and Rev. J. L. Stuuon, and many others.

Bishop E. E. Cleveland is reportedly one of the finest gospel ministers in the country. Under his supervision the Church of God in Christ is working out plans to build a school for Chrisitan education and a recreational center in South Los Angeles. Providing for activities for young and old in a Christian environment is one of the tasks which the church should undertake, the followers of the denomination are said to believe. They also are said to subscribe to the idea that fellowship between people of all faiths is a necessary part of a God-directed life.

Last Sunday morning some 200 friends and members gathered at a fellowship breakfast at Sportsmen's Park and heard Dr. J. L. Sutton speak on the subject: "Are You Acquainted With God, the Infallable One, the Healer, the Keeper, the Satisfier, the Strength Giver?"

The sick to be healed, the sinner to be saved and the believer to be filled with the Holy Ghost, are said to be the chief aims of the revival.

Love to be Next Science Theme

Continuous benefits are available to all through a fuller comprehension of God as Love. This idea will be enlarged upon at the Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love." Highlighting the sermon on this subject is the Golden Text from Zephaniah (3:17), "The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing."

"If we love one another, God dweileth in us, and his love is perfected in us."

Minister Tells Views on Crime

Rev. Charles H. Larkin, associate pastor of the Morning Star Baptist Church, who said he was concerned about the crime wave which has been gathering momentum the past few years, offers some of his thoughts on the matter and gives a scriptural answer to the problem.

"J. Edgar Hoover told the American Bar Association in 1958 that crime was costing the country some 22 billion dollars annually. A sum equivalent to $128 for every man, woman and child in the United States. And crime is steadily increasing." How alarming, how disgraceful—in a Christian country. Why?

"This reference, from Ezekiel 18;1-2, has helped me." Rev. Larkin says, "it reads like this, 'The word of the Lord came to me again. What do ye mean by repeating this proverb concerning the land of Israel? The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge.' The prophet Ezekiel was saying that the sins of the parents were being reflected into the conduct, or behavior of their children.

"That's the Why. The violation of the law by adults, has been tolerated to the extent that Youth has been encouraged to participate, and as a result, conditions have become most alarming.

"The most recent flare-ups in Anniston, Birmingham and Montgomery were encouraged by the governor of the state, by the mayors and by the police. And while the governors were defying the Supreme Court and getting away with it, what is expected of ordinary citizens?

GUESTS OF SAFETY SAVINGS — Safety Savings and Loan Assn. honored two loyal members of the Primm Tabernacle AME Church of Pomona when the church honored the Right Rev. H. Baker, mayor of Pomona, and Bishop F. D. Jordan. Seated with the honorees is Rev. Vince Townsend, pastor of Primm Tabernacle.

Do you recall the 1961 Masters Golf Tournament played at Augusta National Golf Course this past May? If you do, then you will remember how defending champion, Arnold Palmer, lost the opportunity of being the first to win the coveted trophy two years in a row, on the last hole of the final day of play.

All the highlights and exciting thrills of this fabulous tournament have been recorded for Cadillac Motor Car Division on a 16mm color and sound film. There are no commercials in the film, only 35 minutes of exciting golf showing all the well-known professionasl in match play.

The Cadillac Co. is so enthusiastic about the film that they want others to enjoy the excitement. The film is available for private showing to any club or organization at no cost. Cadillac will have a representative put on the show at any of your meetings, if you so desire.

To obtain the film, call the Merchandising Department at the Main branch, MAdison 9-4789, and specify the date and time of your meting. If the film has not been reserved for that time, you are more than welcome to it, the company advises.

They also have the 1960 Masters film available if you would care to go back a year and see how Palmer first won it. This film is 60 minutes in duration.

World Water Ski Title Meet Slated

For the first time in the history of water skiing competition, the world's championships will be defended this year by athletes competing on their home course.

Both won their world championships at Milan, Italy, in 1959. The world title events are held every two years under the auspices of the World Water Ski Union.

Around the World in 50 Days with the Robinsons

By JESSE AND MRYTLE ROBINSON

Perhaps it is the dream of every couple to go around the world.

Well, Jesse and Myrtle Robinson began making the dream come true when they boarded a Jet Pan American and waved farewell to Saul and Louise Hill, Theop and Helen Smith and Tom Parrots of Chicago at the International Airport on July 6. Their daughter Pearl stayed behind to attend summer school.

For five hours the popular Post Office executive and his school teacher wife winged across the Pacific in solid comfort. When they arrived at Honolulu airport, Postmaster Howard Green, Larry Kamada and the Caesar family from Compton showered the couple with leis.

The Robinsons' activities for the next several days stemmed from the Princess Kaiulani Hotel. All the hotels on the Waikiki Beach are plush. Here you get atmosphere, a view of the seas, rub elbows with the swells —and the tab is only $25 a day.

The Robinsons said it's worth it to be on the jewel of the Mid-Pacific. The brown people are wonderful. As they toured the city, the beauty of the islands was breathtaking. Flowers, sugar cane, pineapple farms and busy people are part of the scene.

A highlight of the visit was a 35-mile drive out of the city to attend a real native Huikelau. This is different from the American luau in that the menu is only part of the affair and this event was given to raise money for the Morman College.

The event includes fishing parties, a feast, a holiday, a picnic, a carnival and a dance all rolled into one.

Mrs. Flora Soren, postmaster of the village, greeted the Robinsons in real island manner with two orchid leis and kisses on both cheeks.

Much of the pleasure on the Island was made possible by the friendship and good relationship already established by Postmaster Otto K. Olesen and Frank Huber.

On Sunday, July 9, the Robinsons boarded Pan-Am to Tokyo. Expense account for three days in Hawaii, exclusive of plane fare and excluding gifts $125.

The world travelers arrived in Tokyo in sweltering heat. It took them two hours by limousine to get to the Marunouchi Hotel. Traffic, traffic, people, people, heat, heat.

Many fine hotels are found in Tokyo. The Marunouchi is two blocks from the Ginza, Japan's downtown shopping area. Incidentally the hotel is already sold out and all rooms are reserved for the 1964 Olympics.

Six days in Tokyo is hardly enough, the Robinsons said. They toured the city by night, at sukiyaki while sitting on the floor, sipped sake pored by dainty Geisha girls and danced with Minatos' hostesses.

They saw fine silks in leading department stores and even saw the silk worms that started the whole process.

Japan has tremendous cabarets, clubs etc. to equal those of New York and rival those of Paris. The extravaganza at the kabukai Theatre with 300 girls on stage is a dazzling experience. They saw the great Buddha at Kamakura, lunched at Ewoshima and visited Nikko and its magnificent shrine.

It is evident, they said, that [redacted] is working night and day to prepare for the Olympic Games in 1964.

Expense account for six days in Tokyo 70,000 yens or $195.

This is a report of the first ten days of Myrtle and Jesse Robinson's 50 days around the world. Their next stop is Taipei, the home of C. K. Yang and their friends Major B. T. Carter and wife Laura of L. A. The next report next week will be from Hong Kong.

Club Plans Annual Fete

The Les Petite Femmes held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Evelyn T. Williams. As usual, Mrs. Williams, always unique in her entertainment, reigned over the "second cup of coffee".

The Femmes cemented plans for their Annual "Christmas in July," to be held Saturday, July 29, at the beautiful Zenda Ballroom. The theme—"Black Magic."

Members had a treat in store for their public, which has supported them in the past, and the introduction will be unique and one that all should be on time to see. Mr. Wendell Green, will do the honors o fintroducing the members. Former members and members of the press will be special guests of the evening.

Officers and members are: Althea Townsend, president; Evelyn Thierry Williams, vice president; Bonzell (Bonnie) Chauteau, treasurer; Harrietta Terrel, business manager; Marjorie Frase, Esther Busby, Rita Jean Wright, and Beryle Wilson.

Top Stars To Spark Cruise Trip

Hardworking chairman Bixie Crawford and Juanita Mitchell are anticipating a capacity crowd aboard the S.S. Catalina this Saturday night when the ship's captain shouts, "All aboard that's going aboard," at the Wilmington Terminal.

The ship's human cargo will include some 1900 supporters of the Exceptional Children's Home's first Moonlight Cruise which will get under way at 7:30 p.m. from the Wilmington Terminal and will return to the mainland at 2 p.m. or thereabouts. Proceeds raised from the trip will go toward the new home's building fund and support is invited.

Miss Crawford, one of the nation's outstanding songstresses, has arranged an exciting show for the gala voyage for everyone's pleasure.

On board there will be continuous dancing in the ship's salon and wonderful entertainment from such performers as the Ship Mates, Pam Hilton, Evelyn Freemand and Tommy Roberts and the irresistible Bixie Crawford.

In the magic city of Avalon and in the Casino Ballroom, Moonlighters will dance to the music of Russ Morgan. His band will play tunes that will bring back memories of the good old days.

The Moonlight Cruise offers each and everyone a chance to help support the Exceptional Children's Home as well as an opportunity to enjoy one of the gayest events of the season.

They will return to New York City on Saturday, July 29.

Betty Jones and her mother, to Dallas for some fun as of this Sat. Mignon Braxton, Mildred McKinney and Margery Bruce home from a regional meeting in the S. F. bay area. EARLY SPARKLE

That early a.m. sparkle around and about Point Fermin last Sat. could be traced to cohostesses Mary Starks and Katie Fillmore who summoned a crowd of their best chums for a picnic, gaily and bountifully styled; Mary's sister-in-law, Marie Birk of Dallas, visiting the Emmett Houstons (Thelma), was discharged Tues. from a local hospital.

Libby Clark and her mother were flown to Chester, Pa., where Libby is to decide where plastic surgery will be held. Dr. and Mrs. Perry Beal and family replaced their Berkeley Sq. address with one in Angeles Vista, pool nicluded.

Last Thurs., Carney Steward and Dorothy Price hostessed a luncheon at Wilfandel, the full accent being on Cornelia Bradford. Jim (passed the bar) Gordon and his bride Joyce Bernard (they were wed at Adele and Ernie Weaver's; the latter are just back from a vacation trip and fetched their grandchildren from NYC to summer here) are the happiest of the season's bridal pairs as they get settled in their apt. on W. Adams.

HEIR APPARENT

Mentioning the Ernie Weavers, their always enchanting daughter, Barbara King and husband Neville, have about three months to go before their baby arrives; the baby of Atty. and Mrs. Calvin Porter (Sandra) is due a few months after the King heir or heiress apparent gets here.

Atty. and Mrs. Jerome Weller (Bert) bought that modern house designed and built by students at Trade-Tech; the Weilers were visiting from Chicago when they first noticed the structure being displayed in the school yard. They leave momentarily for Chicago and will return here in Oct. to occupy their acquisition which they are having moved to a South L.A. area. The Wellers, by the way, were among the more special guests at the Frid. night shivaree as hostessed by Mabel and Ed Hurd at their house.

The "Big Brohter Mikoshi" is at present in storage with the Los Angeles City Board of Public Works. Reports are that the Mikoshi is in perfect condition, indication of the careful handling of the gift from the City Sister of Nakoya.

Arrangements are being made through the courtesy of the mayor's office, to have both "Mikoshis" on display at the north entrance of Weller street, on Thursday, Aug. 17. The traditional dedication ceremony is slataed to take place at 7 p.m., to be followed by a pre-parade practice session. DUKES' LIVING ROOM DELIGHTS LADIES

SHOW BUSINESS

By MAGGIE HATHAWY

The personnel of beautiful Carver House sent a Jet plane, via Western Air Lines, to fly press writers to see the unveiling of one of Las Vegas' most beautiful Hotels last Friday night.

We were met at the station by one of the city's few Negro Commissioners (James Gay) and dashed away in 105 degree heat to visit and play at the plush new rendezvous.

We were treated to steaks and drinks and ushered into some of the lush rooms (mine overlooked the pool) to spend a fast, gambling, swimming, eating and drinking 24 hours.

EARLY "YAWNING" SHOW

The floor show was unveiled for the press at 4 a.m. and by this hour the place looked like "Casablanca at the Crossroads of the World." Every nationality that one could dream of came to see what this new club had that the others did not have.

One thing they had was the world's most beautiful, long-legged chocolate show girls and chorus girls. The waitresses looked like little brown teen-age dolls fresh from Hollywood starlet schools. The cigarette girl was so beautiful that one of the Play Boy Magazine writers shot a picture of her to submit for a cover photo. The club and hotel interior was decorated in orange and black, motif being carried out throughout. Bell-boys wore gay orange shirts, cocktail waitresses wore short, short orange costumes with long black hose; and even the stage was flooded with orange spotlights.

The food was excellent and the service was as good as could be expected in view of the overflow crowd. The show girls were bare from the waist to the hips. Lon Fontaine was hired as the producer after the press protested that he was too important to be "just the choreographer." The star (Bubbles) was a little too dated to hold up such a fast, modern jazz show.

Manager Bob Bailey' (who is doing a terrific job) explained that the dancing-line would be kept as stock material but the headliners would change every four weeks.

Sammy Davis was ill and did not appear and Billy Eckstine called and, through his wife Carole, who was at ring side, expressed his regrets that he could not leave New York to arrive in time for the show.

SWINGING STRUCTURE

If this was a disappointment to the patrons they did not voice it. They continued to celebrate.

If it is the intention of the owners Woodward, Cohen and George Smith Jr., to have an interracial hotel in a Negro neighborhood they may be successful this time

PEOPLE & PLACES

Dr. Roy Andrew—Buzzed back in town after a week in Yosemite with the family!

Liz Rodgers—Back in the late 30's she was among the top waitresses in the then popular Dunbar Hotel's grill and now she's a westside property owner!

The Coopers—Lena and Joe got themselves a nice hamburger and taco stand at 46th and So. Vermont; they're nursing the idea of coming up with a string of taco wagons!

Delores Shields — Top flight bowler vacationing from her post in the Probation Dept., strolled into Hayes drug store on a hot Wednesday afternoon in skin fitting white shorts and the males temperatures rose to the boiling point!

Rumores—The word being passed in the pill pushing set is that that new drug store going up out south isn't new at all. The old owner is still behind the biz, just a set of new faces!

Fraud—Several medics are jittery since the heat moved in on "doc" operation and hung a charge on him although he isn't a Son-of-Ham, he knew a few!

Tommy Tucker—Since he has been featuring gumbo his luncheon biz has almost doubled and of the downtown and Beverly Hills variety!

Shirley M. Jones—Shapely St. Louis office clerk in town on a sad mission to return her sister's and niece's body back for burial!

Hazel Simpson — Busy pushing the world's freshest egss from her big Sagus Ranch isn't so busy that she lost track of what the Freedom Riders are doing. She just applied for a $500 Life NAACP membership. She's been a card carrying member for years, even back in the days when dues were 25 cents!

Hildegard Bostic—She is being coy about the opening of the Flying Foxes and also coy about the fact it will be one of the city's finest!

Polly Tricks—Three Democrats in the new 30th district will vie for the seat but what they aren't

'Chazz' Crawford

There's a whole lot of shaking going on in Lost Wages, Nevada around this time, and a lots of it is Brownskin style, now that the CARVER HOUSE has made it official that it's open. And the EL MORROCO directly across the street is purring like a Maltese kitten as their cash box keeps singing. That is where JEAN SAMPSON is breathing those tuneful tempos and a girl child named LAVELIE BAMBI is giving the bumps and grinds a new meaning. Producer RED MITCHELL has scored with this package and to top it has BURT KENDRIX providing the background music. Yeah, we made that Press Junket on a Western Airlines plane to Vegas too, and after that air-conditioned craft settled down in that 112 degree heat (understand our colleague MAGGIE HATHAWAY called it 105 degrees, but Maggie, you can do better than that. It was hotter!) we started having one little party after another.

This was about our fifth time to VEGAS and it still remains for us that that this is a town without clocks. You lose all track of time. The lobby of the Carver House was romping, when we strolled in Friday night. Someone has already said that they have more California license plates on the cars than the Vegas people. We quickly saw DOROTHY BRANNICK (our town's best lady cook) actor "JAMES" "WALTER" SMITH, modoli JOYCE MOORE (acting as an attractive waitress) HARRY "Sweets" EDISON who had been playing his horns elsewhere on the Strip instead of the westside, ACE "playboy" GRAHAM and others, but this started the ball rolling! Except that there was also GERTRUDE GIPSON telling us that she had been there since Wednesday. The lobby was romping. A bevy of attractive waitresses are on the premises dispensing the food and liquids. Notable among them were JACKIE RICHARDSON, BARBARA ADAMS, PEGGY SIMMS, MIMI DILLARD, BOBBIE COTE, DEE ALLEN, LURLINE BALL, and the aforementioned JOYCE MOORE. The stalwart gents who tend the Casino bar are JOE JOHNS, WILLIE HERBERT, CECIL JOHNSON, JIM ROBERTS, RUBEN BULLOCK and CHARLIE HOWARD.

If you're wondering where some of the town's players have vanished to, you'll probably catch up with them in Nevada. There were HERB JONES of the GROTTO, CHARLES of the CARIBBEAN, ERVIN "Brother" WILBURN, HAROLD FREEMAN, FREDDIE JET, DUB FRAZIER and BILLY BROOK and LLOYD PICKENS who is probably assisting in the production of the CARVER HOUSE floor show.

Speaking of the Carver show, it's drawing capacity crowds from all over the strip. MITZI GAYNOR, GEORGE BURNS, and our swinging boy EARL GRANT have all been over from their "gigs" to catch the CARVER show that now boasts choreographer LON FONTAINE as producer. Suave BOB BAILEY is seeing that the entire CARVER HOTEL is running smoothly. NICHELE NICHOLS on the show did devastating impressions of LENA HORNE, EARTHA KITT. Her take off on PEARL BAILEY doesn't come easy for her, but this kitten swings in her own right and is "on her way" as she belts to the crowd. Genial JOHN BUBBLES was a bone of contention, specially for the Press crowd who during a knock down, drag out Press conference admitted for the most part that Bubbles comedy timing and "old pro" know how can hardly be questioned but that his "Vintage" material has to be discarded in order to comply with this Jet age. Now about that chorus line.

BRAVE MEN CHOOSE

BY DR. FRANK N. D. BUCHMAN

This address goes to the world through press, television and radio from the Moral Re-Armament World Assembly at Caux, Switzerland on the occasion of Dr. Buchman's 83rd birthday, June 4. At this Assembly leaders from every continent are meeting to plan a global strategy to answer corruption, Communism and war.

FORTY YEARS AGO THIS MONTH there came to Oxford a man who had some knowledge of life, some insight into the ways of East and West, who had spent days with Gandhi in India and Sun Yat-sen in China. In what is now Kerala he met an English Bishop who said, "You must go to Oxford. They need the experience you have found."

During those forty years, the conviction he brought to Oxford has been a live issue, rousing men and nations through those who have chosen or rejected his challenge.

It was an Oxford man, who had been in the British Parliament for twenty-five years, a man who played a part in the Cyprus settlement, who this week spoke up for this conviction in public debate. A week before, the head of a college spoke boldly of it in introducing that great African film, "Freedom," to an Oxford audience. These men, and many others, are in the line of those who in Britain's history have brought integrity into national life by their decision. The title of this speech, "Brave Men Choose," is taken from a book by an Oxford man on this very theme, that brave men turn the course of history.

One such man in Oxford was Professor Streeter. The message rang a clarion call to this great scholar. It challenged him. It touched him. In Oxford Town Hall, before many members of the University, he said, "I have been watching this work with what diplomatists call 'benevolent neutrality.' Tonight I have decided...During these last years I have felt the world situation becoming more full of depression, more full of despair. There is a great deal of goodwill, but there is not enough of it to solve our tremendous problems—war, class war and economic breakdown." Later he said, "Modern civilization can only be saved by a moral awakening. It can happen in Britain. It will happen if those who lead Britain learn to find in God their inspiration and direction. And Britain thus led would save the world."

"I have decided." There is the key.

A REVOLUTIONARY FAITH

Eleven distinguished members of senior Oxford paved the way for Dr. Streeter's decision, among them the Master of Balliol, the Master of University College, and others who later became heads of colleges. They stood for justice and fair play for this message. It captured a wave of men in Oxford. Oxford became a voice to the world of a revolutionary faith.

It was another great Oxford man, the late Marquis of Salisbury, who speaking in the House of Lords said, "The cause of the world's state is not economic. The cause is moral." He echoed Dr. Streeter's conviction when he said, "If I may use a phrase which is common in a great movement taking place at this moment in this country and elsewhere, what we want are God-guided personalities, to make God-guided nationalities, to make a new world. All other ideas of economic adjustment are too small really to touch the center of the evil."

He, too, decided, and to his home invited this man to meet with the leaders of British life to see how they could unitedly give a moral and spiritual leadership to a world on the brink of collapse. Under the Hatfield trees he walked with friends old and new, among them Lord Lytton, who was later to say that that walk had left an indelible mark on his life.

In East London, in the cradle of the British Labor movement, where Moral Re-Armament was launched, there were also brave men who chose. There was Tod Sloan, Keir Hardie's fellow fighter from the docks. He wrote, "Chaos cannot obtain if we work, live and practice Moral Re-Armament. It is a really laughing, living, loving obedient willingness to restore God to leadership. This to me is the only revolution that matters—the change of human nature—and it does happen."

There was Ben Tillett, pioneer of the dockers' unions across the world. From his death bed he sent this word, "Tell Frank Buchman to go on fighting. You have a great international movement. Use it. It is the hope of tomorrow. It will bring sanity back to the world."

The Earl of Athlone, who first met this message in 1929 when he was Governor-General of South Africa, speaking in a radio broadcast to the British Commonwealth in the early days of the war, said: "The call for Moral Re-Armament has encircled the world, and become a source of fresh hope to millions of men and women. Heads of states, national, civic and industrial leaders of all classes, creeds and parties have welcomed it as the cure for that deep disease of the spirit from which civilization is suffering.

"Moral Re-Armament stands for a change of heart, for that new spirit which must animate all human relationships. It calls on us to make the will of God the guiding force, as for individuals, so for homes and nations."

As the ideological struggle intensified across the world, a growing multitude caught the fire of these pioneers. For only men ablaze for the right can ever hope today to win men who burn for the wrong. "Fire from Heaven," that is how Don Sturzo, patriot-priest of Italy, described Moral Re-Armament in a message sent to the world assembly on Mackinac Island. His thinking inspired the Christian Democrat parties of Italy, France and Germany, which have given three great Europeans to the world—Prime Minister de Gasperi, Prime Minister Schuman and Chancellor Adenauer.

Prime Minister de Gasperi expressed his conviction that Moral Re-Armament by going "to the root of the world's evils will bring about the understanding between men and nations for which all people long."

Prime Minister Schuman wrote, "What Moral Re-Armament brings us is a philosophy of life applied in action. It is not a question of a change of policy. It is a question of changing men. Democracy and her freedoms can be saved only by the quality of the men who speak in her name."

Chancellor Adenauer knows the value of Moral Re-Armament. He says it has played "an invisible but effective part in bridging differences of opinion between negotiating parties in important international agreements."

These brave men chose. Now a world-wide army is surging forward on every continent.

LATIN AMERICAN OFFENSIVE

Four weeks ago there arrived in Brazil, a focal target of the Kremlin for Latin America, a force of 150 from twenty-four countries. Thousands flocked to see the Japanese play, The Tiger, showing the answer to the Tokyo riots. Thousands more who could not get in saw films giving the answer to conflict of race, class and ideology.

The President summoned this force to the capital, Brasilia. Led by General Bethlem, former Ambassador of Brazil in Pakistan and Bolivia, the man whose decision had brought them to his continent, there came to meet the President a modern group of men and women ablaze with conviction. The President heard from the grandson of Mahatma Gandhi, a former Mau Mau fighter from Kenya, a former top Communist student leader from Kerala, an American educator whose experience of Moral Re-Armament had led him to give his life to Negro education in America, the son of an American Ambassador to Brazil and Peru, an Indian chieftain from Western Canada, a Nigerian nationalist, a member of the great Mitsui industrial family of Japan, a Frenchwoman who was a member of the central committee of the Socialist Party and leader of the three million Socialist women of France, and a British admiral, descendant of the Lord Cochrane who helped liberate Chile, Brazil and Peru.

The Corriere Della Sera, carrying this news to Italy, wrote: "President Janio Quadros received today a delegation of Moral Re-Armament at his residence. He gave them a cordial welcome and said, 'I have followed the activities of Moral Re-Armament now for several years. I am convinced that the world as it is today cannot survive unless men stand for the ideals for which you are fighting. The disorder in the world today—economic, social and political—is due to the fact that men have stopped being concerned about spiritual and moral forces. I have listened with deep emotion to your convictions. I want to let you know that as far as I can I will do all that is possible so that we in Brazil will understand better the moral values of our civilization.'

"Responding to the invitation to come to the conference for Moral Re-Armament which opens in Caux, Switzerland, on June 1st, Quadros said, 'I will send a personal representative.'

"When he learned that the Japanese play, The Tiger, was available, he telephoned to the General in charge of his Military Household and said, 'Provide all that is needed to bring The Tiger to Brasilia. Instruct the Mayor to obtain the theater, provide transport in the city and, further, have the Air Force put at their disposal so that this work can be known in city after city through all the centers of Brazil.' "

COMMUNISM CONFRONTED

General Bethlem, describing in the press the impact of this force, writes, "For the first time on this continent Communism has been confronted with a positive alternative and for the first time it is being made to retreat. I have found a real revolution in MRA. We Brazilians are being challenged to give this to Communists, non-Communists and anti-Communists alike. Many of us have been confused through our moral compromise. I have found clarity through change. We need to wake up. The ideological war is already here. Which way Brazil goes, so goes Latin America. The situation is deadly serious. A former Minister of Foreign Affairs told me, 'Cuba has brought us to the brink of war. MRA may be the last hope. If Brazil gets it the world will get it.' The Minister of War said, 'We will do everything we can to make Brazil the capital of the answer. You have the winning idea in MRA.'

"In the Catholic University of Sao Paulo where, it was stated, eighty percent of the students were pro-Castro, one professor-priest said, 'Since you have given your films and plays and held an assembly in our university, there have been no political demonstrations. Moral Re-Armament is being talked about everywhere.'

"A missionary monk, who had come down from North Brazil where the Communists are training small armies and guerilla bands in the hills, said, 'Brazil is just like Spain was before the Civil War. Can you fill my truck full of your literature so I can distribute it through all the cities up and down the Amazon?'

"The owner of a national newspaper said to me, 'Many of us have lost faith. We have regained it again through MRA.' The president of the largest newspaper of Latin America said, 'MRA is not only an idea on the march. It is a force on the march. Our newspaper is at your disposal. Everyone must be reached with this idea.'

"The inescapable choice for Latin America," concludes General Bethlem, "is Moral Re-Armament or Communism. We will never succeed in this fight unless we change men. We are out to clean up the nation and the world. I have committed my whole life to this fight."

General Carpentier of France, servant of his country in many campaigns and former Commander-in-Chief of the Central European Ground Forces of NATO, who flew to Brazil to join this force, spoke to a vast audience in Rio de Janeiro. "From the heart of the best men," he said, "must come this tremendous wave of Moral Re-Armament which will win over Communism. In this ideological war we must confront Communism with another ideology—that ideology is MRA. It is because I am convinced of that that I am here to conduct a war.

"We need tactics, strategy and means. Some people think that strategy can come from a meeting of men who are responsible in the political field, but I do not believe it. I have read in the newspapers for the last ten years accounts of men who meet in Washington, Paris and other great countries. But it is from all free men who fight for Moral Re-Armament that the answer will come."

FOR GOD OR AGAINST GOD

Workers and military find unity in this ideology. Damasio Cardoso, militant dockers' leader of Rio, told all his fellow-workers and their families, "I pray to God that what happened in my family will happen to every family in the docks. We are either for God or against God. The choice for all of us is MRA or Communism."

The Catholic priest in the docks, who before Cardoso's change could not enter the quarter where six hundred dockers and their families lived, added, "By their fruits ye shall know them. MRA is a tree. You can see its fruit. Moral Re-Armament has become a much more powerful weapon than any military weapons of Russia or North America. The most powerful weapon is absolute honesty, purity, unselfishness and love. I want to declare here that in me MRA has a friend, admirer and fellow worker."

That gifted artist, Louis Byles, from Jamaica, ninety miles from Cuba, speaks for many in Latin America and the Caribbean when he says, "We have very little time left." He starred in that film, The Crowning Experience, as the man who plays the part of a convinced Communist captured by the fire of a superior ideology. He has just shown this film to the leadership of his island. Said one of the government officials, "This is not a film. It is God. We must get this out immediately to Jamaica. It is exactly what we need."

It will take brave men to free, unite and save the continent of Africa. Philip Vundla, who represents 600,000 Africans in Johannesburg and was a founder of the gold miners' Union, says, "There is great bitterness in our country. South Africa is being used to divide East from West on the basis of color, but the real issue is not color but character. It is not only the white men who have to change in South Africa. We have to change too. We need it, and I wish everybody to know that."

Vundla chose the ideology that brought unity and rejected division. His choice almost cost him his life at the hands of extremists, but his steadfastness has won him the respect of friend and foe alike.

In Kenya, threatened again by bloodshed and chaos, the branch secretary of one African party faced the choice between two ideologies. He said, "I had an airplane ticket to the Communist conference of African leaders. Instead I came to the Moral Re-Armament Assembly. I did not know there were such people committed to eradicate hate, fear and selfishness. Our leaders went to the other conference with a calabash filled with the waters of freedom. The Communists punctured it, and our freedom is pouring out. MRA will seal the holes so true freedom can be maintained. I must bring the light of this answer to our country in darkness."

THE CROWNING EXPERIENCE

A woman former Mau Mau leader, detained for eight years, said, "Here my hatred of the white man has ended. We women played a big part in leading our nation in the wrong direction. Now we must play the fullest part in rebuilding the country." Calling her children to stand beside her, she said to each in turn, "Forgive me. I have been full of hate and have led you into hatred."

Another former Mau Mau district secretary said, "Bitterness has been the disease in our land. From my heart and home it spread like fire until there was bloodshed and chaos everywhere. God give us all new hearts to put right what is wrong in time."

At the recent conference for heads of African states in Monrovia, great applause greeted the special showing of The Crowning Experience. "We are your debtors," said President Tubman. "Everyone in the country must see this film." He added, "I will make every possible effort to meet Dr. Buchman in Caux this summer." Two out of the six pages in the conference edition of The Liberian Age printed the news of Moral Re-Armament, underlining the statement that "Africa can be lost in the sinking sands of the materialism of East and West. Leaders of Africa welcome Moral Re-Armament because it is the solid ground on which a hate-free, fear-free, greed-free continent can be built."

President Tubman shares the view of the Maharajah of Mysore, who said at a showing of The Crowning Experience, "The only hope for mankind is to give no quarter to the powers of evil, internal or external. Human nature is so constituted that it cannot be taken for granted that good will automatically prevail over evil in an indolent or uninterested world. It is of the utmost importance that we carry on this task of Moral Re-Armament with ceaseless vigilance. The armament of morality is invisible, but it is of matchless power, and its army includes, or should include, the whole of mankind. Let us all, both individuals and nations, enroll ourselves in this army."

From Geneva, where the fate of great portions of the Asian and African continents is being discussed at the conferences on Laos and Algeria, a Swiss editor spoke over one of Europe's most powerful radio stations, reaching millions on both sides of the Iron Curtain. He said, "Through all the confusion caused by many different meeting places, press rooms, delegation headquarters and police-bodyguards, move the men and women of Moral Re-Armament who have come down from Caux, high above the lake of Geneva, and with a very compelling sense of dedication are making available to friend and foe alike their Whitsun message. This, too, speaks of overcoming difficulties in the meetings of politicians from East and West and I quote Robert Schuman's word that it was only in Caux that he found encouragement and hope."

The future of Asia may well be decided by which idea wins the Buddhist nations. Leaders from Japan, Laos, Cambodia, South Viet Nam, Thailand, Burma, Ceylon and India are convinced that Moral Re-Armament is the ideology with the answer. Buddhism has just been made the state religion of Burma. Five senior abbots from that country have come to plan at Caux for the mobilization of the Buddhist world in the ideological struggle. These revered leaders were seen off at the Rangoon airport by a hundred monks and senior officials. They have just been received in Oxford by the heads of two colleges, by the Mayor of the city, and the President of the Union. They were shown the rooms in Christ Church, where this work had its beginnings forty years ago.

CONDITIONS OF SURVIVAL

This is the word of a man on his eighty-third birthday who has spent a long life up and down the world meeting and knowing men, who in 1915 paid the first of eight visits to Japan and was there the guest of those who laid the foundation of modern Japanese finance and industry, Baron Sakatani and Viscount Shibusawa, whose grandson, a minister of finance, his great-grandson, and even his great-great-grandson, are working with this force today. They come with former Prime Minister Kishi and other leading Japanese to Caux this summer to forge a unity of statesmanship among the free nations. They carry forward the work of which General Ho Ying-chin, former Prime Minister of China, says, "More unity has been created between the nations of Asia at one Moral Re-Armament assembly in the Philippines than in ten years of post-war diplomatic activity."

It is the word of a man who has known the personal friendship of Viceroys and Governors of India and of the men who opposed them, and brought them together; who knows the problems of Africa at first hand since 1929, and these statesmen of Europe and the Americas for more than fifty years. He has seen the development of two materialist ideologies and the devastation of two world wars, the retreat of freedom, and now the advance of a mighty answer.

We are facing world revolution. There are only three possibilities open to us. We can give in, and some are ready to do just that. Or we can fight it out, and that means the risk of global suicide. Or we can find a superior ideology that shows the next step ahead for the Communist and the non-Communist world alike. What we shall never do effectively is to patch things up by pretending that basic differences do not exist or do not matter; nor by supposing that an ideological challenge can be met by economic, political or military means alone. Absolute moral standards are not just questions of individual conduct today. They are the conditions of national survival. We need to scour out the dirt in our national life, our political life, our economic life, our school life and our home life through a change in men. Wherever men give man the place in their lives that God alone should have, slavery has begun. "Men must choose to be governed by God, or they condemn themselves to be ruled by tyrants."

There is no neutrality in the battle between good and evil. No nation can be saved on the cheap. It will take the best of our lives and the flower of our nations to save humanity. If we go all-out for God we will win.

"Then it is the brave man chooses,
While the coward stands aside,
Till the multitude make virtue
Of the faith they had denied."

FOR THE BIRDS — This baby contest stuff is strictly for the birds! That, at any rate, seems to be the view of Kathryn Eileen Fuller, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuller, second prize winner of a contest just held at the Lewis Metropolitan CME Church. Vanessa Joy Cammon, poised, sophisticated daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cammon, takes first prize honors with aplomb, as she nestles in the arms of the Rev. I. Scipio Jr., pastor. See Church Page. Four Freedom Riders Can Take It -- They're Ready to Ride Again

——Riders Return——

WEAR BADGE OF HONOR — Four Freedom Riders, wearing their "Freedom Rider" badges, told newsmen Thursday of conditions in Mississippi jails. But all four are ready to ride again. L.A. Racist Sends Rider Insult Note

Bigots in Jackson, Miss., are matched by bigots in Los Angeles, Calif.

Marcia Rosenbaum, 23-year-old artist, of 2136 W. 20th street, one of four Freedom Riders who met press and television last Thursday, found the same race hate here at home Monday as she had experienced in the Southern heartland.

NICE LETTER

She received a letter, written in a mature, feminine hand, postmarked "Hawthorne," unsigned, which said:

"It's too bad they didn't have a snake pit to throw you into," adding, " You should have been shot while there," and "Thank God for the South."

The letter is grammatical, spelling and punctuation are correct, even to the capital "N" in the word "Negro."

Miss Rosenbaum and the other three who were her fellow jailmates in Mississippi are not likely to be too disturbed by the letter writer, however.

WILL RIDE AGAIN

After telling of the miserable treatment they were subjected to during their month of incarceration, all four expressed their intent and desire to return to the South for more Freedam Rides and more Sit-Ins.

The others were John Rogers, 28, professional boxer, and his wife, Janice, both of 2136 W. 20th street, and Rita Carter, 18, of

A young woman with a police record who was trying to "go straight" so she could get back custody of her children was booked for murder Saturday.

Mrs. Tondalao Wilson, 31, of 9000 S. Avalon blvd., told police wearily, "I guess there's no use lying. I'll tell you the straight story."

SPOILED CHANCES

She was booked for stabbing Sandy Edward Booker, 36, of 9006 S. Avalon blvd., to death with a butcher knife shortly after midnight, because he "screwed up any chance I had of getting my kids back."

She told police, "That's the knife I used to cut him! I meant to annihilate him."

Friday was Mrs. Wilson's birthday. She had arranged a party at the home of her friend, Donna Jean Todd, 34, whom Mrs. Wilson met while she was "doing time" at Corona, who lived in the same building.

'BEST BEHAVIOR'

To the party she had invited her children, their foster mother and her step-mother. She was trying to be on her "best behavior."

She said, "This guy Sandy

Redskin Game Boycott Plan Wins Support

A steady tide of anger threatens to grow into a community-wide boycott to greet the Los Angeles Times - sponsored football game between the Los Angeles Rams and the lily-white Washington Redskins scheduled to be played here Aug. 11 in the Coliseum.

Protests are being lodged against the game by various civic organizations, lodges, newspapers and citizens incensed over the Times' blatant and brazen insistence on forcing a known anti-Negro team upon a sports-loving Los Angeles public.

NAACP JOINS RANKS

Monday, the NAACP joined the ranks of those threatening a boycott of the game, announcing it had voted to lodge strong protests with the Times, the County Board of Supervisors, the City Council, the Coliseum Commission and the Los Angeles Rams team itself. The Executive Committee of the NAACP and the general membership voted unanimously for the protest actions.

Already strong criticism has been rolled up against the proposed football tilt by the local Congress of Racial Equality, by the California Eagle and by the 26 chapters of the Order of the Eastern Stars and the Shriners' Egyptian Temple Number Five. The powerful Shriner and Eastern Star orders have also made known their resentment of the game on their KGFJ radio broadcast.

Radio station KGFJ, however, accepted advertising from the Los Angeles Times and began promoting the game, urging its large Negro audience to attend.

BIASED POLICIES

Observers felt that the Times, stung by the heavy welter of antagonism the proposed game has aroused, thought it would be a smart idea to take to the air to counter blasts from Negro groups and newspapers.

As one NAACP member put it Tuesday:

"They must have thought they could change Negroes' minds with rock 'n' roll music and make them forget racial pride with the notes of Fats Domino or the U. S.

10th District Needs A Negro Councilman

AN EDITORIAL

Almost every possible excuse to forestall the appointment of a Negro to City Council to fill the 10th District vacancy has been voiced during the past six weeks.

None of the excuses will hold water.

The plain, simple truth is that Los Angeles is the only large city in the north and west without a Negro on its council or board of aldermen.

Under the present system each councilman represents about 180,000 persons. There are almost 400,000 Negroes in the city. The figures are eloquent of the necessity for such an appointment.

It has been said that there are "too many" applicants, and that the appointment of any individual will arouse resentment and invite reprisals. The applicants themselves knocked that argument into a cocked hat with a statement that each of them will be satisfied with any appointment based on the judgment of the councilmen.

Another argument is based on statistics purporting to show that the 10th District population is about evenly divided between whites and non-whites. The figures are inaccurate and misleading, and based on old statistics which do not reflect the changes of the past year.

The claim has been made that the 10th District should be moved to the Valley in order to settle the issue. That would settle nothing and would only perpetuate an ancient injustice.

In sum, there isn't any legitimate reason why a Negro should not be appointed.

The Council has a long list of Negro applicants before it, each of whom is qualified for the position. One of them should be selected.

We've made it as plain as we could that our choice is J. Edward (Eddie) Atkinson. We think he is the best man for the job and that his appointment would redound to the best interests of the district and of the city at large.

We think, or rather we know, that City Council won't discharge its responsibilities unless it utilizes this golden opportunity to get in step with progress and democracy and to appoint a Negro to fill the vacancy.

LONG, LONG AGO

There was a time when the old fashioned political boss used to could and who couldn't represent Negroes in elective office. No Negro dared run for a job until he got the good word from downtown that he was acceptable to the Boss. And if he didn't get the word he didn't get public office, no matter what his qualifications.

That system wasn't born out of the sheer cussedness of the political bosses. It reflected the belief that Negroes weren't competent to make their own choices and the feeling that, after all, they were little children who needed guidance. Those attitudes have pretty deep roots in Ameri-

Judge Griffith, Mayor Urge Negro for 10th

Tension is mounting with each passing day over the appointment of a member of the Los Angeles City Council from the 10th District.

On Monday Mayor Sam Yorty expressed a strong conviction that a Negro should be selected for the post.

NEED REPRESENTATION

On Monday, also, Judge Thomas L. Griffith added his voice to those welcoming the Mayor's stand and stating his concern over the needs of the Negro community for representation.

And on Monday, too, Council President Harold A. Henry, who is also chairman of the Charter and Administrative Committee which is interviewing candidates, let it be known that he deplored the racial overtones injected into the committee hearings last Thursday by Lloyd W. Taber, a white applicant.

Henry's remarks came in response to protests over Taber's statement made by J. Edward (Eddie) Atkinson, who was being interviewed for the Councilmanic post by Henry's committee.

'IRRESPONSIBLE'

Taber had said that white and

May 30 'Lynch' Witnesses are Asked to Call

Next Tuesday, Aug. 8, two young men, one barely 18, will go on trial on a lynching charge that grew out of a fracas at Griffith Park on Memorial Day.

Penalty on the charge, if convicted, could mean 20 years in jail for Willie F. Jones, 22, of 5118 W. 20th street, and Andrew McLemore, 18, of 4201 S. Normandie avenue.

Their attorney, Herbert M. Porter, has expressed his belief that the two are innocent. He asks that persons who were in Griffith Park and witnessed the melee last May 30 get in touch with him at once at his office, 360 W. Vernon avenue, ADams 2-7213.

Boy, 11, on Bike Killed by Truck

Ronald J. McDaniel, 11, of 10423 Compton avenue, was struck by a truck and trailer last Friday noon as he was riding his bicycle on 103rd street.

Young Ronald was thrown to the pavement and suffered traumatic and other injuries. He was pronounced dead by Dr. Victor Rogers, 1755 E. 103rd street, who rushed to the scene immediately after the impact.

Truck driver Marvis Stinson, of Richmond, was booked for manslaughter.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Shiloh Baptist Church.

Mail Foreman George Mouton Is Found Dead

Mild mannered, good natured George Mouton returned home from his work as foreman of mails at the Terminal Annex Post Office last Sunday and died alone in his home at 961 E. 54th street. He was found by his aunt, Mrs. Marie Lumpkins, when she came home around 5 p.m. Sunday. She called a doctor and the police.

Mouton reportedly had been under treatment for a heart condition and other ailments for some time.

He was born in Lafayette, La. but came to Los Angeles as a youngster. Funeral arrangements are being made through Angelus Funeral Home.

A spokesman at the Personnel Department of the Post Office where he had been employed since 1940 said that Mouton had worked his way up from temporary clerk. He was well liked by his associates and was an excellent worker.

Mouton is survived by his daughter, Debra, and another aunt, Mrs. Rose Ellis, of Salt Lake City, Utah.

Judge Won't Order Opening Of Va. Schools

RICHMOND, Va.—Schools in Prince Edward County, which have been closed for two years to prevent integration, will not be opened for the fall term, U.S. District Judge Oren R. Lewis indicated here this week.

The NAACP, in pleading for the opening of the schools in a three and a half day trial, presented uncontested testimony and evidence that the county's public school system was abolished for the sole purpose of evading the 1954 Supreme Court decision.

STATE MATTER

Judge Lewis indicated, however, that he did not consider that it had been demonstrated that a Federal constitutional requirement exists to compel State and local governments to maintain free public schools.

He said the question is one to be determined on the basis of the State constitution and that that must be tested in the state courts.

Judge Lewis did, however, indicate that he was giving serious consideration to invalidating county tax credits and tuition payments and possibly state tuition grants to Prince Edward County.

TO BE APPEALED

He is expected to hand down his final decision some time in August. Whatever his ruling, it will probably be appealed to the Supreme Court.

The schools have been closed since 1959. The Prince Edward School Foundation has paid for "private school" education since then for the country's 1500 white children, leaving most of the 1700 Negro children in the area without schooling.

The State has afforded the private schooling for whites by various tax grants and credits to homeowners and parents of white pupils. Officials have claimed the same grants are open to Negro children, to attend private segregated schools, but Negro taxpayers in the area have refused to accept the Jim Crow grants.

The convention will get under way Wednesday morning with Mayor Sam W. Yorty scheduled to deliver an official address of welcome and with a response from NBA president, Atty. Elmer Jackson of Kansas City.

Attys. Carl Earles and Thomas Neusom, convention chairman and regional director, respectively, said that the lawyers will address themselves to problems involving lawyers and racial discrimination.

TOPICS LISTED

Thursday and Friday sessions will be given over to the discussion of such topics as career opportunities in government service, school integration law suits, legal problems in urban renewal and urban redevelopment and the administration of fair employment legislation.

Among lawyers slated to discuss various topics are Attys. Euclid Taylor, Chicago; George Crockett, Detroit; George Leighton, Chicago; Loren Miller; Donald Hollowell, Atlanta; Charles Wilson, San Francisco and Thomas Jenkins, Florida A&M Law School.

A full round of social events will be climaxed with a dance Friday night.

800 Attend Gus Hawkins Testimonial

"I feel like I just inherited a million dollars tax free."

This statement was made by Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins last Friday night at the testimonial dinner which was held in his honor at the Chalon Mart on S. Broadway.

Approximately 800 key political figures throughout the state and friends filled the banquet hall and adjoining dining rooms to pay tribute to the dean of the Assembly who has devoted more than three decades to public service.

Theme of the banquet, "A Tribute to Courage" was exemplified in the array of plaques, scrolls and resolutions including a citation for distinguished service to the blind, given to Hawkins and the many salutations from state representatives which included Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson and Attorney General Stanley Mosk.

Introduced by Dr. H. Claude Hudson as "Mr. California" in the State Assembly, Hawkins said: "Nexer has one person owed so much to so many people who are dedicated to certain ideals and principles. I shall put forth every effort to merit this tribute and to measure up to this rich experience which has become a reality."

In his final remarks he paid tribute to his wife Pegga. He told of the sacrifices she had made and said she deserved equally as much credit as he. Without her he said, many things would have been impossible.

Among the highlights of the evening were the musical interludes by such well known artists as Buell A. Thomas, Jr., Mary M. Thompson, Florence Bowle, Louis Johnson and Vennie H. Johnson and the presentation of roses from the Women's Sunday Morning Club to Mrs. Pegga Hawkins, Mrs. Glen M. Anderson, wife of the Lieutenant Governor, presented the flowers.

Senator Richard Richards served in the Emcee role.

FIFTEEN MORE ARRESTED — The 15 Freedom Riders who were arrested in Jackson, Miss. Sunday are among the group shown here who attended a meeting at Price Chapel AME last Wednesday night. Nine of those jailed are UCLA students.

15 More Cal. Riders Sent to Jackson Jail

Fifteen more Freedom Riders, nine of whom are UCLA students, were arrested in Jackson, Miss., Sunday, bringing the total of those who have been jailed since May 24 for stepping into the "wrong" waiting room to nearly 300.

The exact figure as of the latest tally is 294.

FROM SANTA MONICA

The 10 white and five Negro Riders were arrested when they sat in the railroad station's "white" waiting-room, although all were interstate travelers whom the government says cannot be segregated.

As with those who preceded them, the 15 were charged with breach of the peace.

A number of those arrested Sunday were members of the Santa Monica CORE chapter.

Robert Singleton, 25, of 516 Gayley avenue, Los Angeles, one of the group, is leader of the Santa Monica CORE chapter. He is a student at UCLA.

UCLA STUDENTS

Other UCLA students in the group were: Sam Townsend, 27, of 518½ Gayley avenue, graduate student; Max Pavesic, 21, of 7203 Fifth avenue; Joseph Gerboc, 21, of 1064 S. Cloverdale; Winston Fuller, 24, of 510 Gayley avenue;

Philip Posner, 22, of 2312 25th street, Santa Monica; Michael Grubbs, 24, of 1156 W. Exposition blvd; Albert Barouh, 21, of 8551 Cashio street; and William Leons, 25, of 10971½ Roebling avenue.

NEW ORLEANS RIDER

Also Herbert Mann, 35, of 528½ East avenue, postal worker; and Lonnie Thurman, 35, of 524 W. 120th street, a teacher.

One of the group was from New Orleans. He was Richard Steward, 21, of 2771 Prentiss avenue, New Orleans.

The mother of one of the Riders arrested with a previous group, Marilyn Eisenberg of Van Nuys, asked Gov. Brown to intercede with Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi to get Marilyn freed from a four months' sentence at Parchman.

Mrs. Eisenberg asked that Marilyn at least be allowed the treatment "ordinarily given to criminals in a civilized country."

Miss Eisenberg is an honor student at USC. She was sentenced July 18 to four months in jail and a $200 fine.

Gov. Brown said that he would attempt to intercede in her behalf.

APPOINTED — Mrs. Leontyne King was appointed City Library Commissioner by Mayor Yorty Tuesday. This is the first time an American Negro has served on the commission. Mrs. King is the mother of hotelman Celes King, III. She serves as family counselor at Angelus Funeral Home.

Gen'l Electric, Shell, Schlitz Called Biased

General Electric, Shell Oil company and the Schlitz Brewing company were cited this week on charges that they refuse to hire Negro workers.

The action was made known in Washington in accusations filed with the President's Committee on Equal Employment by the NAACP.

Also accused was the U.S. Naval Shipyard at Charleston, S.C.

GE was charged specifically with bias at its Dover, Del. plant. The Shell refinery at Wood River, Ill., was listed as racially discriminating in its hiring policies, and the Schlitz brewery at Tampa, Fla., was likewise named as an offender.

Also listed in the complaint were two South Carolina firms, the Walterboro Dress factory at Waterboro and the Youngswear, Inc., at Smoak, S. C.

The Committee was urged to take quick action against "a blatant discriminatory employment practice at the Charleston Naval Shipyard." It was charged Negro shipyard workers are denied equal promotion and seniority Crow job classifications.

Abraham D. Carter, 75, of 2626½ S. Harvard blvd., was found by his wife Irene gasping for breath on the floor of the bathroom of their home about 8:20 a.m. Thursday. She called an ambulance but her husband died before help arrived.

Mrs. Carter told police that her husband had suffered from the effects of a cold about two weeks previously but had not complained of any other illness. She said she was preparing breakfast when she heard the sound of his fall and went to investigate.

Tired of Abuse, Wife Shoots Her Husband

Seek to Void Relief Cuts In Newburgh

NEW YORK—An attempt to have new welfare regulations at Newburgh, N.Y., which result in heavy hardships for Negroes, set aside was made this week by the NAACP.

New York Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz was asked to take legal action to void the new restrictions, which include denying welfare aid to unwed mothers who give birth to an additional illegitimate child, compelling able bodied men on relief to work at any job offered and placing limitations on residential and other requirements.

The NAACP, in a telegram sent July 25 which had not been answered three days later, stated that although Newburgh has not as yet implemented "these illegal regulations, the very fact that it continues to threaten to do so discourages persons from applying for benefits to which they are entitled by law."

The NAACP also stated that the regulations "put in fear those who are now obtaining relief."

Housing Bias Charged, Pair Seek Damages

An owner of publicly assisted housing who refuses to sell to a potential buyer because the buyer's wife is a Negro is liable in a damage action under California's Fair Housing Act, according to a decision handed down last week by Superior Court Judge Frank S. Balthis.

He made the ruling in a case filed against Sun Vista Building Company and James N. Starbird, developers of Vista Del Mar Estates in the Palos Verdes area, by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jacobson of 1315 Gunlock avenue, Compton.

The Jacobsons, represented by Attys. Loren Miller and Stanley R. Malone, charge in their suit that the developers agreed to sell them one of the Vista Del Mar homes but backed out of their promise when they learned that Mrs. Jacobson, a school teacher, is a Negro.

The suit alleges that the Jacobsons made a deposit of $1000 on Jan. 16 and that they were told the home would be ready for occupancy about May 14. The court was asked to compel the developers to complete the transaction and lodge title in the purchasers.

Under California's Fair Housing law, discrimination in the sale or rental of housing financed through FHA loan commitments is prohibited and the person discriminated against is entitled to damages in an amount of not less than $500. The defendants claimed that Jacobson was not entitled to sue under the act because he was a white person.

In addition to requesting the court to compel completion of the transaction, the Jacobsons ask for $5000 damages on the ground that the discrimination was willful.

Mothers Finds Twin Dead in His Crib

When Mrs. Tommie Sarden, 17, of 2920 Walton avenue, went to give her twin babies their bottle at 1 p.m. on Thursday, she found 3-month-old Marcus lying flat on his face. She told police that she had checked the babies earlier and that the child was lying on his stomach with his head turned to the left.

She could not arouse him and when the doctor she summoned arrived, the child was dead. An autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of death. The child apparently died of suffocation.

'Wife's Fault' 2 Girls Ignore 10 p.m. Curfew

A mother and a father who allowed their teenage daughter to be out in the city's streets past curfew time were arrested last week and now face court charges.

Police arrested Calvin Mays Sr., 37, and his wife Christine, 35, and charged them with allowing their children to break curfew laws.

ARRESTED BEFORE

Police said they discovered the Mayses had allowed their daughters Joanne, 17, and Rose Marie, 16, to leave their home at 9226 Bellhaven last Sunday night and stay out until 1 a.m. the following day.

Police records show the girls have been arrested several times in the past for curfew violations. Joanne had been arrested previously on a suspected robbery charge.

The Mays have two other girls, Barbara, 12, and Carolyn, 15. Police say the two younger girls have also been jailed for curfew-breaking.

DOES HIS BEST

On one occasion Mrs. Mays reportedly told police she did not feel she should deprive her girls of social activities.

After she was arrested, she explained, "I tell my kids to come in at 10 because I know about the curfew, but they don't listen to me... I just can't control them."

Her husband says he does his best "in bringing up my kids," and added, "It's all my wife's fault. She loves them too much. She defends them. I can't chastise them because if I do, I get into a fight with the whole family."

'Stay Away' Tip Comes Too Late

Justine Mark, of 628 E. 45th street, told police officers Saturday that she was parking her car at the curb in front of her home when Herbert Dunnard, Jr., approached her and advised her to stay away from Robert Willrick of 4423½ S. Avalon blvd., because he had been drinking and was in an ugly mood.

Before she could get out of the car, she said Willrick approached her and hit her over the head with a shot gun.

She said he then pulled her from the car and pummelled her with his fists, knocking her to the ground. She began to scream, jumped up and ran toward 658 E. 45th street. She heard a shot but was not hit.

Santa Monica Welcomes Dynamo from Memphis

Mrs. Margaret B. Perry, a Memphis teacher who finds time to work with the NAACP, the church, the youth and knows how to get out the vote, is a welcome addition to the Santa Monica community.

Mrs. Perry, her husband George and their four children moved June 10, and are now living at 1824 16th street in Santa Monica.

The former second grade teacher and supervisor and coordinator of the Adult Evening Program of Memphis, under the guidance of the Foundation for World Literacy, is already finding her niche in her new environment.

Sunday night she was guest speaker at the Youth Missionary Society of Calvary Baptist Church. She has enrolled for advanced education courses at UCLA and has taken her California teachers' examination with a view to continuing her profession here.

The Perrys moved to Santa Monica when Perry was transferred to the U.S. Engineers Corps in Inglewood.

Their children are George F. Jr., 12, who accompanied his mother to the Eagle office Monday; Joyce, 13; Alice Marie, 10; and Irvin Gene, 6.

In Memphis, said Mrs. Perry, progress is being made, but the pace is slow. There is no school integration, but 75 per cent of the Negroes turn out to vote. Integration has been won on city buses, zoos and in some of the parks.

NAACP picket lines are now attempting to break down bias in restaurants.

AIDS YOUTH—Mrs. Margaret B. Perry, teacher from Memphis, has just moved to Santa Monica where she lost no time in involving herself in youth problems.

Woman Cut, Man Named Joe Jailed

Police arrested a man named Joe Friday morning for cutting a woman's arm, but the man who was jailed said it was another man named Joe who did the slashing.

Officers said they answered a call at 116 E. 30th street, Apt. 8, and found Joe Williams, 35, of 3313 S. San Pedro street, kneeling by a bed on which lay Mary Thomas, her arm bleeding profusely.

Williams was holding a towel around the wound.

When officers asked Miss Thomas to name her assailant, she refused. Police were unable to find the knife.

Williams said he had spent the night with Miss Thomas and had left in the morning to get some bread when a man named "Joe Lee" came to the house.

"When I came back," he told police, "I saw this fellow Joe Lee leaving in a dull red car. Mary was lying on the bed bleeding."

Police said evidence indicated Joe Williams was at the scene the cutting.

Washington Gets Commissioner

The District of Columbia got its first Negro commissioner last week. He is Joseph B. Duncan who has been serving as Recorder of Deeds for the District.

The commissioners are the closest thing to a mayor and city council that Congress affords the District of Columbia and Mr. Duncan will be one of a group of three who will conduct its affairs.

The powers of the commissioners are strictly limited because the southern dominated Congress won't give the District much in the way of home rule. The District is penalized because too many of its residents are Negroes.

The last census reports show that 53 per cent of Washington's population is Negro and it is apparent that if free elections were permitted Negro voters would have a big say in who would be mayor and who would sit on City Council.

The southerners can't stomach that prospect. They deny all Washingtonians self rule in order to gratify their racial prejudices.

It is a disgrace that Washington must be ruled by a congressional committee peopled by southerners who are out of sympathy with the aims and aspirations of more than half of its citizens. The nation tolerates that state of affairs because it has been brainwashed into tolerating racial discrimination.

We know that Mr. Duncan will do a good job. We hope that the time will come when the people of Washington can select their own councilmen and mayor as other American cities do.

Joe Shell, Number One Enemy

Joseph Shell, assemblyman and the Number One enemy of civil rights in California, has just thrown his hat in the ring for the Republican nomination for governor.

Mr. Shell has never voted for a single one of the many civil rights measures that have come to the floor of the assembly during his membership. He has been a bitter end opponent of fair employment practices legislation, fair housing laws, and of every effort to strengthen laws against discrimination in places of public accomodation.

Those votes are bad enough. But Mr. Shell has topped even that record of reaction.

He voted consistently against repeal of the state's miscegnation statute even after it had been declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court!

This unbroken record of opposition to all progress in race relations stamps him as about the worst candidate who has ever sought public office in California.

Mr. Shell is a political bedmate of Dixiecrats of the stamp of Senators Eastland of Mississippi and Talmadge of Georgia. It will be a disgrace if he gets a single vote cast by a Negro voter in the forthcoming election.

Our experience is that no matter how bad a candidate is he can always find some Negro willing to tie a handkerchief around his head and jump on the candidate's bandwagon—for cash on the line.

We don't believe that Mr. Shell can find an Uncle Tom in the state who can swallow his disgraceful record. We hope not. California couldn't find a worse public official.

Pasadena's Freedom Callers

Pasadena residents, who are tired of being discriminated against by both public and private employers, have invented a system that deserves some attention. They've turned Freedom Callers.

The idea is a simple one. They have listed private employers who apparently draw the color line and have turned their attention to municipal government. They call, and get their friends, to call the offenders and ask: How Come?

What they want to know is why there is such a paucity of Negro employes in the particular place they're calling. From what we hear they are beginning to get results.

The Pasadena experiment is part of a nation-wide impatience with the slow process of integration. Negroes are beginning to feel that the time for talk has passed and that the present calls for action.

The results have been gratifying, even in the Deep South. Savannah, Georgia, Negroes withdrew their patronage from downtown stores and the move was such a success that the merchants finally gave in and agreed to halt their discriminatory practices.

The same thing has happened elsewhere, even in such comparatively large cities as Atlanta and Nashville.

There are many employers who can't understand reasonable arguments who get the point quickly when their cash registers stop humming. Dollars, or the lack of them, are more eloquent than words.

We hope the Pasadena movement keeps going until the ills at which it is aimed are eliminated.

Double Talk from Fulbright

Nobody is more expert with double talk than Senator William Fulbright, senator from Arkansas and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

In his capacity as an expert on foreign relations he said a few weeks ago that "It is not our affluence, or our plumbing, or our clogged freeways that grip the imagination of other peoples. Rather it is the values upon which our system is built. These values imply our adherence not only to liberty and individual freedom but also to international peace, law and order . . ."

This is the same senator who has not only voted against every civil rights bill of the past two decades but who joined in filibusters to kill off even the mild proposals that scraped through the last two sessions of Congress.

Senator William Fulbright's home state is Arkansas. And the capital of Arkansas is Little Rock. Senator Fulbright had nothing to say when state inspired mobs violated the law of the land in an effort to prevent Negro children from attending public schools in the state capital.

He did have something to say when Eisenhower sent troops to protect the little children. He opposed the troops. He ranted that self government in his state was being destroyed.

The Senator William Fulbright who talks about our adherence to liberty and individual freedom is the same senator who signed the manifesto against the Supreme Courts' school decision.

We believe there is a commitment to liberty and individual freedom in America. We don't think that Senator Fulbright is qualified to explain it to the rest of the world.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

Last week I carried out one of my annual assignments that give me a special feeling of accomplishment. It was lecturing for an hour to a group of 50 foreign visitors to this country who spend two months studying American history, government and social and economic structure at one of our great universities, and then spend a wind-up month going about the country getting a visual grasp of some of the ideas discussed in their lectures. My annual assignment is to straighten out their thinking and broaden their information on the subject of "minority" status in this country; not just the race question, but the whole range of problems arising out of differences between various economic, cultural, racial and religious groups in the U.S.A.

GET LOW-DOWN

I especially like this assignment because of the feed-back that I get from the group. These are no callow students, nor are they ivory tower theoreticians. They are drawn from leadership posts in their own countries and they view American scenes with eyes trained by actual experience.

Some are editors, others are governmental officials; some are businessmen and others trade unionists—or health workers or engineers or experienced in any of a couple of dozen fields. So, in speaking to the point of their assembled interest I am required to get my facts straight and make sure that my reasoning will stand up under shrewd argument. This is good for me, but even better are the questions that come to me in the 90 minutes of discussion following my opening presentation.

These questions are valuable because they give me a chance to find out what some of our friends say about the race question when Negroes are not around—some of our muddled reactionary friends and some of our equally muddled "liberal" friends. For its natural that, no matter how much or little weight I give the race question as such in my extended remarks on the subject of "minorities," the questions almost invariably center on the racial issues that gain worldwide press headlines and fascinate as well as puzzle foreign visitors. So this seminar group, even in its preparatory studies, ask all kinds of questions of all kinds of people—and as you might expect, they get all kinds of answers.

A DILLY

One question asked last week was a dilly. A Central European asked me to comment on an opinion set forth by a fairly prominent sociologist who has acquired a reputation for backing liberal causes. This chap told my inquirer that one big reason why racial issues remain unsolved in the South is that Negroes are afraid to take risks, and that white liberals have been the backbone of freedom rides, sit-ins and other daring assaults upon the citadel of segregation. My questioner wasn't reproachful; he just wanted to know whether colored Americans were afraid of reprisal or satisfied with the rate of progress.

I am very proud of the fact that I never flipped my lid even to the extent of one millimeter. I told the questioner that he had fallen into bad hands—that he had information that was so false that it was absurd. I pointed out, first of all, the difference in risks run by a white person from the North who takes a bus ride, is whipped around the head a bit, pays a fine or serves a few days in jail and then goes back home with a hero's halo to tell his students and congregation or circle of friends all about his adventures.

I pointed out the difference between this risk and that run by a colored youth or adult living in the South, who gets beaten more brutally, has less money to pay a larger fine, spends longer time in jail, and then goes back to his community to find perhaps that he has lost a job and has been blacklisted, maybe has lost a year in college, and discovers that his whole way of life has been changed.

FLAT LIE

Then too, I went on, the statement that whites have been the backbone of the challenge against racial segregation is a complete, flat lie. There were no whites acquiring bunions and sprung knees in the Montgomery bus boycott. Some "white" money but not much went to pay the fines of colored kids arrested in sit-ins. The freedom riders were organized—not in white but in Negro colleges and high schools. For every courageous white person who has actively participated in expeditions aimed at breaking the race lines in the South there have been hundreds of Negroes. And it's Negroes who have put up most of the money to finance these conditions.

I explained to my foreign visitor-friend that none of this was derogatory of the role played by liberal whites in the crusade against racial discrimination; it was only setting the record straight.

Negroes are the direct victims of Jim Crow; they ought to be the first to resist, and so they have been—from the very start. For a William Lloyd Garrison of Abolitionist fame, there was a Frederick Douglass and a Sojourner Truth. And being heckled by a threatening crowd in an Alabama waiting room is a more horrendous experience for a 19-year-old still in college than for a sociologist from New England who will be back in his classroom next week. I think that my questioner got the point—and so did the rest of that interesting group.

Loren Miller Says . . .

can history. Negroes got here as slaves and were relegated to the status of second class citizens after Reconstruction flopped. Old Massa knew what was good for his slaves and his successors knew what was good for their children.

DYING SYSTEM

The boss system has died out in most cities. Negro voters have taken the reins in their own hands and the political boss no longer sends down the word about who can run for office. The prime example of this new order showed up in New York a few years ago when De Sapio decided to dump Adam Clayton Powell. Powell emerged the victor over the Tammany boss' hand picked candidate.

However, we haven't seen the last of handpicking Negro candidates, at least not in Los Angeles. The Labor Movement has moved in where the old style Boss left off. There is a difference of course. Labor acts with the best of intentions when it presumes, as it often does, to tell Negroes who should represent them in public office. But the same spirit of paternalism that moved Old Massa to order the lives of his slaves and the Boss to handpick candidates still obtains.

FATHER KNOWS BEST

Time and again in the past 20 years in Los Angeles, Labor has made decisions as to who should represent an overwhelmingly Negro district in public office. After the decision has been made word has been sent down to Negroes who are told that so-and-so is the best possible man for the job. Any demurrer is branded as little short of treason; the doubter is hooted down as an enemy of labor, progress and all that is good.

Carrying the operation another step further, labor has insisted on handpicking Negroes for appointive office. The appointive power is given to understand that labor knows best and that the Negro it has selected must be accepted, or else. In the ordinary case the person selected is chosen without the knowledge of Negroes whose representative he is supposed to be, and without any real effort to determine the state of sentiment among Negroes.

ASK, DON'T TELL

I am in agreement that the political alliance between Negroes and organized labor is a good one. The two groups have many objectives in common and what is good for one is, in the ordinary case, good for the other. But cooperation ought to be a two way street. Negroes don't tell the Central Labor Council who to elect, or select, as its officers. And the Central Labor Council ought to at least consult Negroes before it handpicks a Negro candidate or tells an appointive officer what Negro he should select for some position in government.

Los Angeles Negroes are coming of political age. They know what they want, and who they want. What they don't want is the old style big-brother-knows-best system under which they are told what to do, who to vote for and who should represent them. They are tired of being told. They want to be asked.

"Two kinds of gratitude: The sudden kind we feel for what we take; the larger kind we feel for what we give."—E. A. Robinson.

"Pride slays thanksgiving, but an humble mind is the soil out of which thanks naturally grow."
—Henry Ward Beecher.

Mayor Urges Negro for 10th

Oriental residents would resent appointment of a Negro.

Atkinson branded Taber's statements as "irresponsible, unintelligent and disrupting." Atkinson ran in the last election in the 10th district, obtaining 46 per cent of the vote in a run-off against the then incumbent, Charles Navarro.

Henry, in reply, stated: "Our decision will be made upon merit, qualification and character."

Mayor Yorty, in urging selection of a Negro, asserted:

"I think we should select from this district at this time one of the fine Negro representatives who have submitted applications to the City Council."

MAYOR'S WARNING

He agreed with those who claim that the San Fernando Valley should have more representation, but warned:

"The answer to the Valley is not to frustrate the aspirations of the Negro community" by seeking to have the 10th District relocated.

Judge Griffith, in his letter to the Mayor, commended Yorty for his statements on Valley representation, and solidarized himself with the majority of Negro candidates who have given assurances to Councilmen that those who are not selected will give full support to the one chosen.

17 NEGROES

Seventeen of the 32 candidates seeking the post are Negroes. On Monday, the Council committee interviewed another six candidates, making 18 so far interviewed.

Another six are scheduled to appear today, Thursday, with the remainder to be called next week. After that, the Charter and Administrative Committee will make its recommendation to the City Council.

Four Negro candidates appeared Monday. In addition to Atkinson, who lives at 1214 N. St. Andrews place, they were:

George C. Sevelle, 65, of 1219 S. Gramercy place, owner of a service station maintenance company; P. F. Chadwick, 47, of 1677 Victoria avenue, member of the City Social Service Commission; and Herman K. Barrett, 62, of 2729 S. Cochran avenue, retired security guard.

Trio, Donald Dean, Les McCann and a number of other entertainers, as well as four Freedom Riders who have won their spurs in the maximum security section of Mississppi's Parchman Penitentiary.

27 COURT ACTIONS

The four are Rita Carter, Berkeley student; Marcia Rosenbaum, artist; John Rogers, boxer, and his wife, Janice.

Additional entertainers who have promised to appear are: Nancy Wilson, Curtis Amy, Frank Butler, Richie Kamuca, Teddy Edwards and Jean McDaniels.

Rev. Shuttlesworth now has 27 civil and criminal actions, all as a result of his Civil Rights activities, pending against him in Alabama courts. Seven are directly connected with the Freedom Riders.

When a mob circled the building housing the first Riders to arrive in Birmingham, Rev. Shuttlesworth and members of his church rushed to rescue them and drive them to safety.

Rev. Shuttlesworth's home and church have been bombed twice and he has been beaten with chains, but he has never surrendered or given up the fight.

In addition to pastoring his church, he is a founder of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, and secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

The protest rally and march are joint projects of the Los Angeles, Santa Monica-Venice and Van Nuys chapters of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

Among the CORE leaders who are aiding Saturday's demonstration are Earl Walter, chairman of the Los Angeles Chapter; Henry Hodge, national vice president; Paul W. Jackson, chairman of public relations; Woodrow Coleman, chairman of the Action Committee; and Eugene Rudolph, secretary of the Santa Monica-Venice chapter.

4 Freedom Riders Ready to Ride Again

Berkeley, a student at Oakland City College.

Rogers told of threats that were made in the Jackson City Jail when, on their way to court, he kissed his wife. Jailers mistook his wife for a white woman and, Rogers was told, were about ready to lynch him on the spot.

IN SOLITARY

He also told of three days he spent in "solitary"—a windowless, bare, unlighted cement hole in the ground, five feet long and five feet wide. He was given no water during the entire three days and only one meal. That was during the weeks he and the others spent in Parchman Penitentiary.

But even routine prison life at Parchman was no picnic. For the first few days the Riders were deprived of such conveniences as toothpaste and toothbrushes.

In the cells there was no room for exercise. They had nothing to read. No tobacco, Rogers said they were called every name in the book, "Communist Nigger bastard," being one of the favorites.

NO MATTRESSES

The women, separated by race, of course, didn't fare much better. The white women were placed in a cell 13x15 feet, in which there were 20 inmates. They took turns arranging their mattresses so they could sleep, that is, until the mattresses were taken away from them as punishment for talking at night.

Miss Rosenbaum described the food they were given: biscuits and grits and one cup of chickory for breakfast; beans and rice for lunch; biscuits and grits for dinner.

Once during the almost one month they were there they had horsemeat, Miss Rosenbaum said. (This was denied by Hinds County Sheriff J. R. Gilfoy. "That's absurd," he said, "with the price of horses in Mississippi, we can't afford it.")

THEY SANG

The women, too, were subjected to a choice string of epithets and insulting queries. Some of the questions were:

Are you a Communist? Can you read and write? Did you know CORE is Communist? Who paid you?

They had no female guards. The male guards came into the cell. The women protested.

But apparently the Riders are giving the jailers something to think about. Instead of acting like other prisoners, they sang, sang Freedom songs. Some of the other inmates began singing with them, said they would join the Riders as soon as they were out of jail. One of the guards was overhead whistling one of the Freedom songs.

The unsigned letter writer of Hawthorne seems to be a dead-ringer for her sisters in Mississippi.

Here's the letter that she wrote and was too ashamed to sign:

FAR SUPERIOR

"Niggers and Nigger-lovers:

"You poor things. 'Freedom Riders.'

"It's too bad they didn't have a snake pit to throw you into instead of the nice treatment you received. My thinking is that you received much better than you deserve.

"One look at the picture in the Examiner only proves to me that you must be a bunch of degenerates.

"Thank God we have the South. You should have been shot while there.

"Any white woman who would marry a Negro or live with one is worse than the Negro and should be painted black.

"It's disgusting that the City of Los Angeles puts up with your kind.

"More than ever I believe in segregation. No doubt all decent white people, Negroes and Jews are disgusted with your type.

"Signed — White and far superior 'to your kind'."

'Don't Quote Me,' Say Negroes to Berlin Query

A great many Los Angeles Negroes feel that their country should not contemplate going to war with Russia over Germany.

But nobody wants to come out in the open and admit it.

ONE FAVORS WAR

The Eagle put this question to a score of Negro businessmen, professional men, laborers and housewives over the weekend:

"Should the United States go to war over Germany?"

All but one said they felt the U. S. should not now go to war over "any country," and especially over a country that has led the nation already into two world conflicts.

One Negro citizen supported President Kennedy's current war build up over the German situation, saying:

"I think we should fight any country that tries to take over what belongs to us."

FEAR EAST GERMANY

A Western avenue lawyer said:

"Frankly, the Russians are not trying to take anything from us. They are threatening to get out of Berlin and to leave it divided, as our government and their government during Roosevelt agreed, it should be.

"We are afraid East Germany might give us a hard time, and with Russia signing a pact with East Germany we feel Russia would come to the support of East Germany if we set the West Germans against them. We'd rather shout war threats against Russia than try to get Germans of our West Zone thinking about killing fellow Germans of the East Zone."

A Negro minister who, like all the others, asked that his name not be printed, said he thought all the war talk was coming "from people who think Hitler was right in trying to wipe out the Jews and in killing 20 million Russians during the War. They'd like to use any reason to drop a nuclear bomb on the Russians. But they forget that they, too, might be killed in an all-out nuclear battle."

WEAK MINDS

An official with a local YMCA branch declared:

"Weak minds always shout for battle. All their talk about love for their children and their homes is forgotten when they are sparked up with fight talk. No, I don't think we should fight over Germany."

A waitress in a West Adams cafe said:

"The Germans in the Western zone have had a higher rate of employment than we have had. We'd look pretty stupid going to war to make them safe when we're only half-safe."

A white psychiatrist, Dr. Isidore Ziferstein, asked to put his statements and name on the Eagle tape interview, said:

"It is all economic. It might seem strange we want to go to war over Germany and not over South Africa or the Congo."

Woman Kills 'Man from Past'

Booker knocked on the door." She told him to go away. She didn't "want him hanging around." He came back four or five times.

Mrs. Wilson's guests left and she walked with them to the car, knowing "in my mind" that Sandy had spoiled everything.

After the birthday party from which she had hoped so much ended so dismally, Sandy returned. They argued. He knocked her down, Mrs. Wilson said.

STARTED CUTTING

"I got up, went into the kitchen, grabbed a knife and started cutting him."

Tommy Hardwick, a witness, who lives at 1008 E. 41st street but who was spending the night at 620 E. 90th street, said he was awakened by some people arguing and cursing.

He said someone was knocking on his door. When he opened it, a man, later identified as Booker, fell into the room. "A woman called Toney was cutting him about the body with a butcher knife and another woman called Donna was trying to stop her."

Booker ran from the room, with both women following him. He died two hours later at Central Receiving Hospital.

Mrs. Wilson said that she and Donna were "really close," and that their friendship had started at Corona.

Miss Todd, 34, was also taken into custody.

Police said they booked her because of the conflicting testimony she gave them.

Rev. Doggett's Open House Draws Crowd

Rev. and Mrs. John N. Doggett, Jr., held open house in their spacious new 20-room home on Virginia road last Sunday and introduced their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Doggett, Sr., and Mrs. Carrie Brown, Mrs. Doggett's mother from Philadelphia, to members of the community. Bill Doggett and his wife Angelia from Bay Berry Point, Long Island, New York, were also guests of honor during the reception which was attended by 700 persons.

The house was formally dedicated by Bishop A. P. Shaw and Miss Lorraine Doggett sang "Bless This House," accompanied by Mrs. T. Davis.

CREATIVITY

The decor of the lovely house and its appointments proved beyond a shadow of a doubt the creativity of Mrs. Frances Doggett. The whole atmosphere of the house is one of peaceful welcome with comfort and style accentuated by subtle colors and dignified embellishments.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Doggett have the ability to make everyone feel at ease. The linen draped dining room table was a gourmet's dream with its tasty, dainty sandwiches artistically arranged on gleaming silver trays. The crystal punch bowl, as if by some miracle, seemed always full of golden cool refreshing punch. At the far end of the table hot beverage was poured to the delight of all. The centerpiece of yellow flowers set between tall silver candelabra brought guests back to take another look and to reach for an additional varicolored sandwich or cake.

The youngsters were served from their own table of the same fare in the patio area and the energetic committee of church women performed their part of the hostessing in the true elegance of the Christian spirit of perfection.

Ram-Redskin Boycott Backed by Local NAACP

Bonds lingering in their ears."

The anti-Negro policies of George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins' team, are known throughout the United States.

SKINS WARNED

Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udal has already warned the owner that his team would be barred from playing football games in the new Washington, D. C. stadium if Negroes were further barred from playing on the squad.

Udal cannot take action, however, until the team has played one game this year in the stadium. If the Redskins play then without a Negro player, or without changing the team's lily-white, John Birch status, Udal can act officially.

But the scheduled game Aug. 11 in Los Angeles is currently the battle mark, with thousands of Negroes threatening to stay away if the Times-sponsored team does not integrate by that time.

NOT NEW

The fight against the annual game is not new. It began three years ago, and since that time the Los Angeles Times has turned its head in complete, abject disinterest to pleas and protests of Negroes who openly resent seeing the local Rams play a team boasting of its anti-Negro hiring policies.

Some critics of the criticism from Negroes have said the protests were not fair, as the Times sponsors the game to benefit the Southern Area Boys Club. All of which has led other Negro leaders to suggest that money for the boys' club could be sent directly to the club, rather than being the stadium.

It was learned that the five-year contract the Times signed with the Redskins allows the Washington team to receive a guaranteed amount of money no matter how many people attend the game.

Meanwhile, the Times has been busy publicizing and promoting the game, openly indifferent to spent to benefit the players and protests of local Negroes. Signs in great profusion have been strung across streets around the city, mostly in white-populated areas, advertising the game against a background of American flags.

Competitive daily newspapers have been utilized to promote the game. Television is filled with ten-second "I.D's", or flashes about it.

The Redskins are noted among sports circles for their lily-white roster rather than for the fact that they have had 11 coaches in 24 seasons. Marshall himself has flaunted his game and player prowess by saying: "I know more football talent than any man in this business."

Harry Wismer, one-time stockholder of the Washington team and now president of the N.Y. Titans football team, told sportswriters not long ago that one of the big reasons for his break-up with Marshall in 1954 "was the Negro question. You can't win today without Negroes. Too many of them are our biggest stars."

Sport magazine, one of the leading journals about sports in the U. S., says in its current, August, issue:

GOLD AND CAUCASIAN

". . . In the District of Columbia, which is approximately 75 per cent colored, the burning issue is Marshall's own segregation law."

The magazine noted that whites, as well as Negroes, are critical of the Redskins' owner's anti-Negre attitude. It also declared that the team's uniform colors now are "burgundy, gold and Caucasian," and that as a result Negro football players like Jim Brown, Bobby Mitchell, Ted Dean, Dick "Night Train" Lane and Lenny Moore "have become ineligible from birth for the Redskins."

ALMOST MADE

When Sam Lacy of the Afro-American newspaper wired Marshall to ask why he refused to hire Negro players, Lacy reported:

"I got the darnedest reply. It was to the effect that he was interested in colored money but not in colored players."

Only one Negro has ever got close to the Redskins' team, and that was John Thomas, a player then with the College of the Pacific and now with the San Francsico 49ers. He had received a Redskins invitation by mistake. When Thomas showed up at the Redskins' trainin camp at Occidental College here in California an assistant coach met him at the gate and withdrew the invitation.

Tay Brown, Compton College Grid Coach, to be Honored

By EDW. "ABIE" ROBINSON

Raymond Tay Brown, nationally known football coach at Compton College, will be honored by a testimonal dinner tonight (Thursday), at 7:15 p.m. The tribute is being sponsored by the Compton-Lynwood Civitan Club and will be held at the Masonic Hall in Compton. The public is invited to participate.

Brown has been head football coach at Compton College for the past 17 years. He has a leading record among the nation's junior colleges.

His first year at Compton was 1937 and he posted a 5-3-1 record in 1938, 39, and in '40 brought the Metropolitan Conference title to the Tartars. During the war he was called up by the Navy and in 1946 returned to the Tartars, picking up the first of three consecutive national grid crowns.

Compton College was the first to win the Junior Rose Bowl game with a smashing 19-0 victory with ex-Jordan High John Finney being the game's big hero. Other Negro players Brown coached in his 17 years were Billy Anderson, Bob Boyd, Joe Perry, Jim Wadell, Joe Lewis, Jim Smith, Lee Mack and Bobby Smith.

Brown captained the great 1932 Trojan team and was Compton's first All-American. There isn't a single Californian more deserving of the honor than Brown because he is an excellent example of a builder of good citizens.

Among some of the men who played under Brown who have been invited to the dinner are Hugh McElhenny, Joe Perry, Charlie Ane, Ben Agajanian, Bell Fell, Dick Long, Bunny Aldrich and Charlie McNeil.

TAY BROWN

While Brown will bow out as Compton's College grid mentor he will become the college's Athletic Director.

California Eagle Golf Editor

We wonder why the Los Angeles City Parks and Recreation Department always seems to do everything backwards. Maybe it is because they have Americ Hadley (known to this department as a "do nothing" executive) as their supervisor of golf.

There are 150 women who have been members of the Sepulveda Women's Golf Club for quite some time and to date they have held their meetings in every place but the United Nations building. This is because (even though they have supported the Sepulveda course for the past 4 years) the city just can't seem to find the money to build them a club house.

Nevertheless, according to Americ Hadley, the department just "dug up" $44,885 to build two buildings. These are called halfway houses and they consist of refreshment stands and rest rooms.

Neither of them is a club house.

Each of the buildings has a screened enclosed terrace, 12 feet by 29 feet, and a 12-foot wide, 29-foot long concession area. We know that the girls would much rather bring their lunch and have this amount of footage to meet it until some one can unravel the tape for erecting a club house.

The reason that we speak of it as "tape" is because Gus Bushby (when told that the girl's club house should have been built first) said, "That is a matter of opinion. You know the City had a lot of expense there, such as running water, power and many other things that it takes to build a golf course."

Well, all we have to say is, since when did anyone ever build a golf course without building a ladies' club house? Any way, Bushby finally assured us that they are "getting ready" for someone to bid on the job and the ladies will have a club house in the "near future!" (They said that four years ago).

If you are interested in your children learning to play golf why don't you carry them out to the Sepulveda or the Rancho driving

Questionettes All-Purpose Club Presents Seven Humanitarian Service Awards

Radiant members of the popular Questionettes All-Purpose Club joined forces at an Afternoon of Elegance party and saluted six prominent community citizens and one social organization for their services in the field of human relations last Sunday.

The party was given in the magnificent Hewlett estate at 2726 So. Brighton Ave. The affair was carried out in a delightful manner with each Questionette member serving as hostess. Winsome president Mrs. Rita Williams presented the New Frontier Humanitarian Awards to such outstanding personalities and leaders as Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, attorney, and publisher Loren Miller, Bob de Coy, Dr. Leroy R. Weekes, Ethel Bryant, who accepted an award for Mayor Sam Yorty, and the Zenith Club.

Rose M. Ferandez, who passed recently following a tragic accident in her home, and who was an outstanding Questionette member, was also honored.

Some five hundred guests enjoyed a buffet dinner and cool cocktails in the beautiful garden. New officers were installed.

The Questionettes are big supporters of the NAACP, Urban League, and are contributors to many community charity projects.

Currently the group is planning its second annual Courante Ball, which will be held in November at the Beverly Hilton, when some fifteen young ladies will be presented.

In addition to serving the community in many ways, the Questionettes are sponsoring a four year scholarship of a UCLA student.

Club officers are as follows: Rita Williams, president; Sylvia B. Hightower, vice president; Elizabeth Gholson, recording secretary; Odessa Fields, corresponding secretary; Nadine Johnson, treasurer; Roslyn Thompson, parliamentarian; Yvonne Morgan, business manager; Peggy A. Robnett, historian, and Angelique Bratton, club advisor.

Members are Jane Daniels, Nettie Johnson, Clara Lange and Eula Neal.

Around The World In 50 Days With The Robinsons

By JESSE and MYRTLE ROBINSON

Continued from last week: Jesse and Myrtle Robinson, two of the finest couples in the fast growing city of Compton, are currently making a wish come true by going around the world in a mere fifty days. The California Eagle is most proud to be able to bring our vast readers a stop-by-stop account of their current tour!

"The weather was steaming as we left the International Airport in Tokyo on the new Mandarin Jet Convair No. 88 C.A.T. Airline and just as we finished dinner we landed at Taipei, Taiwan (popularly known as Formosa). It was nice to be greeted by Major Booker W. Carter and wife Laura, former residents of L.A. They took us bag and baggage to the Dragon Hotel and after freshing up a bit, we were soon off to see the city on a Saturday night.

"First step was the famed Grand Hotel (owned by Mrs. Chang) located on a hill overlooking the city, far away from the masses — and we do mean masses. Taipei is a city of over a million people in a city the size that would hold only forty thousand in the U.S. We tapered off the evening with cool ones at the Officers Club.

"Let it be placed in the record that the Carters here are the big wheels. Judging from the smiles and greeting, one could easily tell that the couple is well liked and most respected. Sunday we attended church and met interesting persons such as Mrs. Kathryn McCoy, second secretary of U.S. Embassy, who was the reader for the morning services.

"At a dinner in the Carters' home was Captain Shan Chang Lee, office of Quartermaster General, and Roberto C. C. Hua. The Carters live modestly seven miles from the city, in a three bedroom house with all the conveniences, including air conditioning (a must, not a luxury) and Susie, who is the Chinese maid, earns more than her husband, who is a Colonel in the Chinese Army. They have eight kids to provide for.

"Early Monday we saw the stores along the downtown strip and rode in one of the pedicabs, which is a rickshaw gone modern. It was delightful to be in the company of Colonel Willie Wollschleger, Major H. W. Thompson, and Captain Dewitt Bryant, who arranged for us to visit the army training center on Tuesday. After viewing the wonderful job done by the army, we made it back in time to meet the Postmaster of Taipei in the person of E. K. Chin.

"The post office here has several unique services which includes a serious rival to Sears in U.S., a mail order service where a customer may order any item from a catalog furnished by the P. O. They offer wrapping service. Any article brought to the P. O. by a customer will be wrapped for mailing or shipping and may either be mailed in the P.O. or taken elsewhere. A tape recording service is also offered whereby a customer may tape a message at the P. O., mail the message, and if the receiver has no recorder the message will be played by the P. O. for the total fee of 25 cents.

"We lunched in the home of the Postmaster, a nine course Chinese dinner served in the manner of the Chinese. At this point Myrtle and I went our separated ways. She lunched with Mrs. Carter at the Officers Club and met the wives of the many dignitaries of the island including Vice Admiral Smoot. Our stay in Taipei ended much too soon and with tears in our eyes we waved goodbye and headed for Hong Kong.

"Arriving in Hong Kong on the Cathay Airline we came in on the tail end of a typhoon seare. To us it just seemed like one of those all day February rains in Compton. Our arrival was anticipated by the Miramar Hotel management, whose man was at the airport and approached us from the crowd with a printed card with our name and called to us at the same time like an old friend.

"The Miramar is the Beverly Hilton of Hong Kong and you can do it for only $11 a day. The main shopping and tourist center will be found on Kowloon, the mainland. Hong Kong is really an island and is not the popular area people mean when saying, "I'm going to Hong Kong." They are really going to Kowloon in most instances. More to come next week."

ENGAGEMENT — Miss Marguerite Waller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Waller, has chosen August 26th for her marriage to Ralph J. Waddy Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Waddy. The bride-elect is attending U.C.L.A. and majoring in physical education. Mr. Waddy is a Dental Technician in the United States Navy, stationed with the First Marine Division in Camp Pendelton.

Party Fetes NewYorkers

BY DOROTHEA FOSTER

It was a patio party that Hilda and Frank Caines hosted on Sunday afternoon honoring their New York guests, Mr. and Mrs. George Wiggins, in the spacious gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Carney (Louise) Anderson in Pasadena.

Over 75 guests were captivated by the charm of Mrs. Wiggins, the former Gertrude Hawkins who is widely known in New York's social and civic circles.

Summertime chatter prevailed around the attractively decorated table of Mrs. Caines, incidentally, all prepared by her. Mary Carr, daintily clad in pink and telling about her delightful trip to Mexico City; Gertrude and Sylvester Quinn telling of their latest fishing trip; Ann and Oliver Odom all set for a Las Vegas vacation. Bernard and Maxine Thompson passed up a vacation this year because they have been too busy entertaining out-of-towners. Ditto Bessie and Ted Gray (their son, Ted, Jr., left recently for a three year sojourn in the Air Force).

Others included Arizona Harris (she will call Los Angeles home and New York Circles will certainly miss her); Florence Allen and Kathaleen Jordon, both of New Rochelle, New York.

Still more were Emma Baker and her personable escort, Walter Cathcarte, Cassie Harris, Audrey Scott (she'll host a party for the Wiggins on Sunday), Marilyn and Julius Holder have scheduled a swim party for Saturday. Julia Williams will host a sit down dinner for the honorees on Thursday evening and Frances Turner will pour cocktails on Friday (her hubby Frank left on Tuesday to visit his relatives in the East). Hattie and Bob Thompson were there as was Ed and Marie Cline (they're still talking about her beautiful party for many out of town guests recently); Billye and Laurence De John, Inez and Jesse Taylor, Mayme and Earl Troxler, and Irene and Frank LaVigne.

Mrs. Caine, famous couturier, was assisted by her daughter, Violet Greene and her granddaughter, Gemma.

Among the senior hostesses serving at the affair were: Ethel Bell, Ethel Brulngton, Bessie Bury, Dorothy Buckner, Ruth Giles, Aurora Hoskins, Mattie Hodges, Gertrude Jones, Josephine Ladd, Harriette Montier, Montana McNealy, Violet McDowell, Techniia Ross, E. Birdie Smith, Otrie Taylor, Pauline Turley, Idell Vertner, Eloise Walton, Mabel Wilson and Ollie Green.

$WINGING $HERMAN — Mr. and Mrs. Noble Sherman and their eight-month-old daughter, Natalie, receive keys to a 1961 Falcon Futura which they won in a recent drawing at Great Western Savings and Loan Association. Presenting the keys is Emil Seliga, executive vice president of Great Western. The Shermans, who reside at 3520 Knollcrest Avenue in Los Angeles, were presented with the automobile and a $1,000 check as the winners of the drawing. Sherman is a salesman with Sherman Brothers Floor Covering in Los Angeles. Great Western is the fifth largest savings and loan association in the nation with seven offices in southern California. The offices are located at Seventh and Hill Streets; 947 West Manchester Avenue, near Vermont; 15112 South Western Avenue, Gardena; 16818 Hawthorne Boulevard, Lawndale; 5098 Faculty Avenue, Lakewood; 1440 Lincoln Boulevard, Venice; and Great Western's executive office at Crenshaw and Vernon.

ANOTHER FIRST — Significant business circles proudly welcomed the opening of LA SALLE DISTRIBUTORS, INC., whose energetic personnel represents over a quarter of a century of local experience in the importing, exporting, wholesaling merchandising and retailing of nationally established products Officials of the company, Thomas A. Palmer and Schouyler A. Nelson successfully launched their opening campaign with an exclusive franchise for the Gibson's Wine of California, winner of 80 top awards as the finest of wine that just can't be beat. Photo-viewed from left in their modernistic headquarters at 138 East Florence Avenue, just minutes away by Harbor Freeway, are Palmer, Nelson and Sam Tapp, district sales manager. Remember the very next time you thirst—think first of La Salle Distributors, Inc., and wherever you live give them a ring and make their hearts sing by dialing PL 3-5517. (Adams Photo) eating place, so the next night after seeing "Parrish," which was excellent, Madame Prescott and I made it to O'Henry's Steak House on 3rd Street for a fabulous steak dinner, with all the trimmings. I wanna thank Lady Starkman for the cue.

VOGUETTES AFFAIR

Hated missing the Voguettes Formal Yacht Party and Dance, aboard the Circle Line Yacht No. 12, that same evening, but it was just too darn hot for the formal bit. Heard it was swinging, and still thank Madeline Jones for the invite.

MITCH MILLER MAINSTAY

Rode downtown with young Miss Leslie Uggams and her mother, and our conversation revealed that Leslie has completed 17 weeks of a 39 weeks contract for doing the Mitch Miller, Sing Along TV Show on NBC. They rehearse 5 days and tape two each week, so this is no easy gig. Leslise, who sings a fine song, and is a seasoned performer, has a Columbia album release scheduled for October 1st, with Mitch and the Sing Along group. Not bad for a teen-ager, eh?

SWINGING CREW

That fine photographer, James Campbell, is working the summer vacations at 136th St. Liquors, along with me, and introduced me to a very charming friend of his, Miss Laura Irvin, from Chicago and Northwestern University. Miss Irvin is now Dean of Women at Maryland State College, Division of the University of Maryland, at Prince Anne, Md. This is quite a job, and Laura seems to be quite a gal for it. Luck to her.

NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BAR-STANDER

The rompingest show in town is LON FONTAINE'S production at the SUMMIT. The chicks are not only eyefulls but they can hoof and their wardrobe consists of first rate drygoods. The line was assembled and their routines staged by the most favorably discussed producer - choreographer of the season. He's LON FONTAINE who doubles as choreographer of the CARVER HOUSE, "Le Jazz Hot," In Vegas that has the Night People there paying their dues with the booze.

Comic REDD FOXX as bold, as brash, as bombastic as ever—and he could never be considered droll—pulled few punches on the opener and had an uneasy management "walking on eggshells" for fear he would let loose a barrage of haymaker humor. But the audience reaction of those who sat with us in the room that night seemed to say they were mad about the boy!

The announcement of the JUBILEE FOUR'S appearance made someone at an adjoining table to ours gasp, "They wouldn't sing spirituals, would they?" but the quartet sailed smoothly into some up tempo things that put that customer at ease.

The cuties in the line include FRANCES NEALY, HARRIET "DEE DEE" YOUNG and NORMA WASHINGTON and we're really drug that we can't remember the names of the other two dolls who are new to us, but Scout's Honor we will call 'em off next time. We met MICKEY and her spouse but can't think of their surname.

Had to miss STUFF CROUCH and ROY HAMILTON'S birthday bash Monday night as we were "on deadline" while they were swinging. Hope their natal day was a gasser!...

MORE RAMBLINGS ON THAT LAS VEGAS JUNKET!—

We rode the Turbo-Jet up there with the LEROY BEAVERS' (Jessie Mae) and LIL CUMBER FISHER. The other members of the press were on other flights. All the way there we kidded that we were really flying up to catch MITZI GAYNOR and knew nothing of the Carver deal. So the BEAVERS and LIL couldn't "locate us when they left for the Strip where they intended to catch one of the nude girlie shows as well as EARL GRANT at the lounge and during the mixup EARL announced us all from the stage as his guests and by that time we were still on the Westside taking names for our column.

We encountered LEONARD "Jazz Critic" FEATHER in the hallway of our floor at the Carver, and the dean of jazz scribbling "made the scene" with our party of journalists for the rest of our stay there.

Now that we're back, we get a call from comedienne VERNA VANTAIRS who said she went up there last weekend and ran into a former Opera singer at the EL MOROCCO who took her and her party on a tour of the Strip. She says that while at the TROPICANA, the bosses there mistook her for one of the Carver House chorines and decided to catch the 4 A.M. show there to talk to the girls about working his club. VERNA said the bosses came over, huddled with the chicks and she who never worked a line is back in L.A. and she never learned the outcome. Isn't that ironic?" Verna asked us. Yeah, it is Verna, but that Vegas desert is something else!

New acts opening at the EL MOROCCO this week: Comic "BARON HARRIS and exotic dancer DESIREE!... and say "Print Shop" that's our boy JESS DAVIS who opened at the DUNES last Thursday. His name didn't even get type-set last week!...

BOBBY & NAOMI JOHNSON'S 25th Wedding Anniversary splash last Saturday was said to be a real ball. Guests started arriving at twilight and lingered till dawn! Once again, our regrets for not making a good scene!

We sidetracked televiewing PEARL BAILEY on the SULLIVAN show and BOBBY SHORT on PLAYBOY'S PENTHOUSE to join the capacity crowd at the Embassy auditorium on the last Sabbath to witness gospelbinders BROTHER JOE MAY and SISTER ROSETTA THARPE, BROTHER JOE'S daughter ANNETTE MAY, the SANCTIFIED FOUR, the L.A. "ALLSTARS" and fabulous PROF. O. W. BROWN. Everyone present got their message, especially about 20 patrons who got so happy, they had to be restrained.

PLEADING — Tuesday Weld as a boy crazy girl attempts to convince Elvis Presley to give up his dreams of becoming a writer in "Wild in the Country," 20th Century-Fox Cinemascope deluxe color drama of a young man torn between delinquency and a desire to be a serious author, screening at the Manchester Theatre, with Hope Lange, Millie Perkins, John Ireland and Rafer Johnson.

ranges between 9-12 for free lessons? Griffith Park also is giving free lessons but to take advantage of these lessons your child must be 14 to 17 years of age. Rancho's lessons are given on Fridays from 3 to 4 p.m. Sepulveda's from 9 to 10 a.m. and Griffith Park's from 4 to 5 p.m.

You will have to hurry because last week there were 115 boys and girls on hand at Rancho Golf Course and the golf clinic will only last 6 weeks.

Maybe you had better rush your children down to Sepulveda in the Valley since they only had 57 youthful golfers.

Pro Jimmy Thompson's staff divided youngsters attending the 3 to 4 p.m. Rancho session into 3 groups for their instruction and pro Dick Boggs was assisted by assistant pros at Sepulveda Dam Park.

Arms Spending Will Not Solve Job Problem

George L. P. Weaver, newly confirmed Under-Secretary of Labor, gave the California Eagle a gloomy picture Monday of present and future employment prospects for Negroes, despite the new billions of dollars being pumped into armaments.

He said the new spending would not, of itself materially improve the situation as far as Negroes are concerned.

25 PERCENT NEGROES

Weaver pointed out that 25 per cent of the more than one million workers who have been without jobs for six months or more are Negroes, although Negroes constitute only 10 per cent of the nation's total work force.

He said that it seemed to him that the additional expenditures "must be accompanied by specific actions to combat the unemployment which still exists in this country, not only generally, but among the Negro population in particular."

Weaver was replying to a query from the Eagle as to the probable effect on Negro employment of increased Federal expenditures.

NOT 'SHOT IN ARM'

The assistant labor secretary said this is one of the questions frequently asked in Washington.

"I think it is important to point out at the very beginning," he said, "that the new defense spending must stand on its own merits.

"The proposals made by the President of the United States for increased defense expenditures are not proposals designed to do anything about the employment and unemployment situation."

Weaver said it was obvious that any additions to total government spending would have an

Negroes Best Fitted, Say Wyman, Roybal

By BILL LANE

After several weeks of interviewing 32 applicants for the [illegible] in the 10th District of the City Council, the 14 councilmen appeared to be getting ready to cast their votes for the 15th member. The vote could come within a few days.

Leaders in Council Race

EDDIE ATKINSON

TOM BRADLEY

GEORGE THOMAS

Despite heated sentiments from backers of white applicants and a steady stream of pleadings and demands from the Negro community, only two Councilmen came out this week and admitted how they intended to cast their votes.

BETTER QUALIFIED

They were Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman and Councilman Edward Roybal. Both indicated they would vote for a Negro, and both said that several of the Negroes seeking the post are better qualified than the white applicants.

Three Negroes were generally considered top runners for the seat. They are J. Edward "Eddie" Atkinson, Lieut. Tom Bradley and George Thomas.

Council President Harold A. Henry, who is also chairman of the Charter and Administration Committee which has been interviewing the 32 office-seekers, said he had to "take a close look" at the growing strength of the Valley and Palisades areas and their demands that someone from their areas be selected.

NEED REPRESENTATION

"After all," he said, "the Federal Government itself each 10 years allots Congressional seats based on the growth of areas. If a certain geographical area loses in population, then the Govern-

Husband Admits Shooting

Choir singer Margie Riley, 43, lay in the rear yard of the house at 407 E. 43rd street Saturday morning, with bullet wounds in her head, back and chest.

She reportedly had been killed by her Yellow Cab driver husband, John W. Riley, who shot her as she ran and then, as she lay bleeding at his feet, fired three more shots into her chest, witnesses stated.

GIVES SELF UP

Riley, 42, who lived at 211 W. 67th street, walked into the Newton Street Police Station shortly before noon and told the desk sergeant that he had killed his wife.

The Rileys had been married 21 years. They had no children.

Riley blamed Andre Hardrick who at the time was the choir master of the Progressive Baptist Church, 1201 E. Vernon avenue, for the estrangement that ended in the killing.

Mrs. Riley, a member of the church, sang in the choir.

BLAMES CHOIR LEADER

Riley said he had been separated from his wife for seven months and that "it all started when a new choir director came to our church."

Riley said that his wife "started going with" Andre Hardrick, of 1558 E. 52nd street, and that

Four Grilled For Murder of Div. 5 Driver

James Murphy Davis, 31, wanted for the murder of MTA bus driver, Albert J. Tyler, was arrested shortly after midnight Monday by police who staked out at his home, 2416 S. St. Andrews place.

Davis, a "little guy" with a limp who is a car washer at 20th Century-Fox Studios in Hollywood, said he beat Tyler, who was "so big", at his own game.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Tyler, 25, of 4108½ 2nd avenue, who operated out of the transit company's Division No. 5, at 54th street and Arlington, was stabbed in the left shoulder. Witnesses said his attacker plunged a five-inch knife into the region of his neck.

The killing occurred early Sunday at 55th and Broadway.

Tyler apparently recognized his assailant as man he had seen riding the Adams bus.

Tyler was with his wife, June Ella, 22, and two other couples. They had come from a surprise birthday party given for Mrs. Tyler at her mother's home, 2715 W. 42nd street in Leimart Park.

'HEY, BABES'

Accompanying the Tylers were David and Marie Johnson, of 5954 S. Arlington, and Carl and Gwenella Smith. As they walked down Broadway they passed four men standing outside the "Brass Rail."

"Hey, Babes, you're good looking," yelled one of the loit-

Hubby Kills Hod Carrier In Love Nest

Dead is Samuel Russell Johnson, 43, a hod carrier who lived at 1766 W. 37th place.

ARGUES WITH WIFE

According to police reports, Jacobs argued with his wife, Ethel, of 633 Imperial Highway, in her apartment and departed. He returned a short time later assertedly to apologize.

Mrs. Jacobs said she opened the door to listen to him and Jacobs forced open the door to see Johnson lying on a couch in the living room. Johnson ran into the bedroom and stood behind the door to bar entry of the husband.

SHOOTS THROUGH THE DOOR

A shot was fired through the door, the bullet striking Johnson in the neck, killing him instantly.

Police found a boning knife in the dead man's right hand, but Mrs. Jacobs said Johnson did not have a knife when he fled into the bedroom.

Jacobs surrendered to police at the intersection of Hooper and Central a short time later. He told police he had thrown the death weapon into a drainage canal.

'Lynch' Case Youth Posts Bond, Freed

One of the Negro youths held in the infamous Memorial Day "lynch" case was freed on personal bond Tuesday in Superior Court, pending full court hearing August 14.

Judge Lewis Drucker ordered Andrew McLemore, 18, of 4201 S. Normandie avenue, released on his own recognizance following a plea of defense counsel, Atty. Herbert Porter.

McLemore and Willie F. Jones, 22, of 5118 W. 20th street, were arrested in Griffith Park, Memorial Day during an outbreak of violence which bystanders said was aggravated by

COUSIN ARCHIE AGAIN

I knew it was Cousin Archie when the operator told me long distance was calling.

"Why didn't you answer my letters?" he wanted to know.

"I've been busy," I grumped.

"If you would of knew what I was going to tell you, you would have called me right away like I asked you," he snapped back. "Say, you still got that paper?"

I was cautious: "Well, yes, I am still connected with it."

"Then," said Cousin Archie, "Like I was telling Aunt Emma when I figured this thing out you are the very one I should talk to. You remember Aunt Emma, don't you? She lives out south of town."

"I remember Aunt Emma."

"Well, she hasn't been so well. She don't hardly get around at all anymore and I guess I'm the only one that goes out to even see her. When did you write her last?" It's awful hard to stop Cousin Archie once he starts.

"Never mind Aunt Emma," I said, "What's on your mind?"

GOING TO MOON

"Don't be impatient like you always was," he admonished. "Anyhow it's about this business of going to the moon and the stars. You know why they're doing it?"

"For scientific reasons," I said.

"Nuts," said Cousin Archie, "They're getting ready to get away."

"Who's getting ready to get away? What are you talking about?" I wanted to know.

"The white folks, that's who," he said. "Don't let them fool you."

"You must be out of your mind," I protested.

"It's you out of your mind," Cousin Archie came back. "Look. Remember I told you last time I talked to you Ethiopia is stretch-

Picket Line to Greet Rams-Redskin Game

A picket line will greet the Times-sponsored Rams-Redskins football game Friday night, August 11, at the Coliseum.

The line will represent stark testimony to the feeling aroused in the Negro community of Los Angeles by the insistence of the Times on bringing into the city a football team, the Washington Redskins, nationally notorious for its outspoken anti-Negro policy regarding player-hiring.

FUTURE BOYCOTTS

And if current rumblings are true, all future Times-sponsored athletic events that bar or restrict Negroes will run into similar opposition.

Pickets will carry signs showing the opposition to the game, and will begin marching shortly after 5 p.m.

Although the game was seen sure to draw some Negro patronage, all indications are that much of the Negro community has been made to feel the importance of demonstrating its dislike of the Jim Crow team selected to play.

NOT ANTI-CHARITY

It was pointed out, both by the California Eagle and the local branches of NAACP and CORE, that the boycott and picketing are not leveled against the charity projects slated to benefit by the game's monetary proceeds.

In fact, the Eagle, the NAACP and CORE urged people interested in contributing to the boys' club charity the Times aids to mail their contributions directly to the Southeast Area Boys' Club

The NAACP was more specific, however, in urging Los Angeles Negroes to cancel subscriptions to the Times.

TIMES RAPPED

"The Times itself is just as great a malefactor in its hiring policies, and failure to urge fair hiring of Negroes as is George

Dandridge Won't Sing For Redskins

Singer Dorothy Dandridge told the Eagle office Monday she had turned down a requested booking to appear at the Coliseum for the Times-sponsored Rams-Redskins game.

The attractive and internationally popular singer disclosed that she is a lifetime member of NAACP, and that she felt appearing at an affair the organization had listed as interracially unfair would be detrimental both to herself and to the organization.

The management reportedly engaged another singer, Connie Haines, to appear in place of Miss Dandridge. There was no indication that Miss Haines, or the Lancers or Phil Harris, who are also scheduled to appear, knew anything about the Negro boycott of the game.

Two Men Exchange Shots, Both Miss

Jimmy Quon, market owner at 1435 W. 39th street, told police that a would-be robber Saturday fired five shots at him and at the same time he fired six shots at the robber.

Both men missed.

Police found 11 bullet holes in the walls.

Henderson Out, Henri O'Bryant, Houston Picked

The Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, whose recent selection for the Civil Service Commission was given the highest praise throughout the community, this week withdrew from the appointment, on the grounds of pressure of outside duties.

In his place, Mayor Yorty named Norman B. Houston, 1645 S. St. Andrews place, secretary of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Mayor Yorty also announced the appointment of Henri O'Bryant, of 2730 Westshire drive, choir robe manufacturer, to the Fire Commission.

AME Bishops Split On Medical Aid Bill

By Ethel Payne

WASHINGTON — Negro clergy and doctors last week joined in the sharp debate before Congress on the controversial medical care plan for the aged under Social Security.

Opponents of the program, mainly the American Medical Association, have raised such a hue and cry over the fear of "socialized medicine" that they have succeeded in beclouding the real issues. They have made the term unpopular with the frightening implications of "welfare state" under a dictatorship form of government.

TARGET NEGRO LEADERS

Actually, most people do not understand the term. To them, it is simply something to be resisted like Communism and police brutality.

In recent weeks, the powerful lobby of the AMA has been making increasing efforts to influence Negro leaders to work against the Kennedy Administration sponsored bill, H.R. 4222, the Anderson-King measure.

The particular targets of the AMA are Negro doctors and ministers. The American Nurses' Association testified it had been subjected to similar pressures.

A parade of witnesses have testified pro and con on the bill before the House Ways and Means Committee. Joining with the AMA was Bishop David H. Sims, Philadelphia, of the AME Church. His statement was read to the committee in which he said his views were shared by Bishops Sherman L. Greene and H. R. Wilkes, Atlanta, Ga.; and Joseph Gomez and E. C. Hatcher of Cleveland, Ohio.

BISHOPS DIFFER

Bishop Sims said the bill, if passed, would "sound the death knell of the individual's feeling of responsibility toward aged parents." He said it would foster this type of thinking: "We don't have to take care of the aged, let the government do it."

But two other AME Bishops, Frank Madison Reid and George W. Baber, disagreed with him. They wired Congressman Cecil King, co-author of the bill, their support of the plan. Said Bishop Reid, whose jurisdiction includes Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina, "Not only is this legislation of great importance to all Americans, but it is of particular significance to members of our denomination.

"Our church believes in preserving the dignity and the independence of all mankind commensurate with our faith in Christian doctrine. We believe that social security provides the best means to secure health care for our older citizens."

STIGMA

Bishop Baber, who presides over the populous Northeastern area, said: "In an enlightened society such as these United States, it is a stigma on our democratic way of life to subject these people to humiliating means tests before they can qualify for medical assistance.

"Many of them have spent the best years of their lives in toil and sacrifice for the generation coming behind them and no longer have the means to properly maintain themselves.

"I cannot hold with the argument of those who profess that this will lead to socialized medicine and a welfare state. On the other hand, it will enable more of our citizens to enjoy richer and fuller lives, secure in the knowledge that they will not become burdens to either their families or to society."

The bill also received similar support from Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, prominent Baptist leader and president of the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance of Greater New York.

NMA ISSUE

The social security plan will be a hot item on the agenda of the forthcoming convention of the National Medical Association in New York City. The president of the American Medical Association, Dr. Leonard Larson, is scheduled to be the principal speaker at the opening meeting.

Last year, when the NMA met in Pittsburgh, the House of Delegates of the all-Negro body passed a resolution endorsing the principle of Federal subsidy for medical aid to the aged. The president then was Dr. Edward C. Mazique of Washington, D.C., a leading exponent of the Social Security plan.

Dr. James Aldridge of St. Louis, the president-elect, was vigorously opposed to the resolution. Following the convention, the NMA resolution was withdrawn and notice was sent to national organizations favoring the social security plan that the NMA was not on record supporting it.

FACTS ABOUT PLAN

Because the issue of medical care for the aged involves so many retired Negro workers, it is important to know the essential facts about H.R. 4222, the Social Security plan.

As Bishop Baber pointed out, Negroes are especially hard hit for security in old age because the vast majority of them have never earned enough to allow them to save for this period of life.

Most aged persons have low incomes; three out of five have less than $1,000 a year. The average old age benefit is only $74 a month. The situation is even more stark among Negroes who have been confined largely to menial work and cannot qualify for higher benefits.

Rising medical costs are a growing threat to the aged, most of whom have little or no insurance protection.

NO SUBSTITUTE

Commercial insurance is unavailable or too expensive for most older people and Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans are raising their rates.

Continuing high unemployment intensifies the need for action since many older people have lost jobs, private pension rights

Dr. Odom Says Public Misled On Money Due

The Rev. L. Sylvester Odom, president of the Western Christian Leadership Council, sponsor of the recent Rev. Martin Luther King Freedom Rally at the Sports Arena, said Monday he felt the Coliseum officials had "misled the public" in announcing that the WCLC still owed $614.89 for that affair.

He said that what the officials failed to reveal was that the sponsoring group had paid $1500 prior to the meeting and that the additional amount due was incurred in the repeat performance held in the evening, which had not been anticipated when arrangements were made.

'DISCOURTEOUS'

The bill for the $600 plus was sent to Rev. Maurice Dawkins, WCLC board chairman, at a time when the minister was ill and out of the city for a four weeks rest, it was revealed.

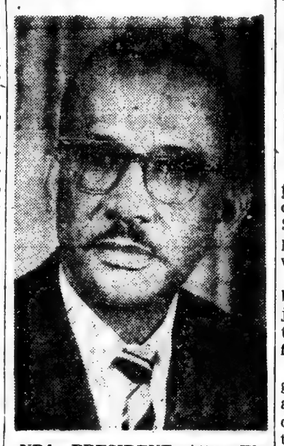
Rev. Odom said further: "To my knowledge, at no time was any attempt made by the Coliseum officials to contact any officer of the WCLC in regard to payment of the bill before the matter was brought before the Coliseum Commission.

"To me this seems to be a rather discourteous business procedure."

He said that the bill has now been paid in full and that a complete report on the rally is in process of preparation and will be published shortly.

Tired of Life, Woman Takes Sleeping Pills

The husband of Mattie Raines, 25, of 1137 W. 45th street, a machine operator, told police that his wife tried to commit suicide last Saturday night by swallowing a bottle of Sleep-Eze pills.



Raines said his wife came home from the store at about 9:30 a.m. with the medicine. When he found her in the living room, the bottle was empty. He immediately called for an ambulance.

Mrs. Raines later told officers that she took the pills to go to sleep and end it all. She said she was having marital troubles, that her husband had been beating her and that she just couln't take it any more.

She refused however, to issue a complaint against her husband.

Mrs. Jennie Lombard Grace, whom Daddy Grace refused to recognize as his legal wife during his lifetime, was granted $200,000 by the Philadelphia court where she had staged a long battle for a share in the vast estate of the multi-millionaire evangelist.

His daughter and son were also awarded $200,000.

Ban on Funds For Airport Is Demanded

WASHINGTON—A Senate vote to table an amendment cutting off Federal aid to discriminatory Southern airports drew a sharp protest from the NAACP last week.

The tabling had been supported by Mike Mansfield, Senate majority leader, on the ground that the funds were not earmarked for terminal construction.

The Association asked that the government "make no grants of any nature to any airports which discriminate in any manner between travellers because of race.

"The alleged separation of FAA grants to states and cities for airports into what may be termed operational funds and those for terminal facilities is one invented and advanced only to perpetuate illegal segregation in interstate air travel," the NAACP charged.

The allegation that Federal funds for site acquisition, runways, hangars and landing systems may be separated from funds, "whether federal or state, used to build and maintain terminals is a mischievous fiction conceived and nurtured below the Potomac," it declared.

'Elect Loren Miller' Committee Formed

A group of citizens, interested in the newly created 21st Congressional District, is calling a meeting next Monday night at 8 p.m. at the University of Southern California to organize a "Draft Loren Miller For Congress Committee."

The meeting will be held at Founder's Hall, 34th and University streets, on the university campus.

Atty. Loren Miller, known throughout the city, state and nation for his 30-year battle for civil rights, is considered by many an excellent choice to represent California as its first Negro Congressman.

Spokesmen for the group said: "We can think of no better person to send to Congress from the 21st District than a man who has spent a lifetime in this important area of constitutional law (civil rights).

"We know that thousands of people in Los Angeles feel the same way. We are organizing the Draft Loren Miller Committee to crystalize this feeling into positive action.

"Atty. Miller has assured us that he will accept a genuine draft of the community.

"All interested citizens are urged to attend this important meeting."

New Trial for NAACP Head

Edward D. Warren, president of the NAACP, has been granted a new trial on one of two misdemeanor counts that grew out of his protest last June 3 over the way police were handling a woman they were arresting.

His conviction on one count of failing to obey an officer's order to leave the scene was let stand, with sentencing set for Sept. 12.

The new trial, granted last Thursday, has been set for Aug. 29.

Cops Ruffed Him, Tailor Tells Mayor

A tailor who claims that he was rousted by police and thrown into jail for more than 72 hours on suspicion of a crime he didn't commit this week appealed to Mayor Sam W. Yorty for relief from what he called "Gestapo" tactics.

The man is Robert Merrill who runs a tailor shop at 5274 S. Avalon blvd. On July 13, police showed up at his shop without a search warrant, ransacked his place and then repeated the performance at his apartment at 1319 W. Santa Barbara avenue. They claimed to be looking for a stolen coat but found nothing incriminating.

He was released on July 17 and in his letter to the mayor, Merrill pointed out that the loss of four days was a severe blow to his small business. Police said the search and arrest were routine.

Negro History Will be Taught For First Time

For the first time in the history of Los Angeles, a class will be taught in the public school system this Fall dealing with the role of the Negro in the development of the United States.

Miss Lillian Duffy, who has taught in Los Angeles since 1943, who has a master's degree from USC and who has recently returned from a trip to Africa, will teach the class.

It is being held at Dorsey Adult School, starting Sept. 14 at 7 p.m.

Decision to initiate the class was made after the lack of courses on Negro History was brought to the attention of school authorities by Mrs. Vassie D. Wright, president and founder of Our Authors' Study Club.

Mrs. Josephine Davis, principal of Dorsey's Adult School, encouraged the project.

Miss Duffy, who teaches at Widney High School, said the course will start with a study of the African background of the American Negro and proceed to focus attention on the part Negroes have played in each epoch of the history of the United States.

185 Complete Protest March Against Jailing

Local residents caught a glimpse of the kind of determination which makes the Freedom Rider steadfast in his effort to break down the evils of segregation and bring freedom to all the people in the South.

This detemination was seen in the march of some 200 people ranging in age from four to 64 years, who braved the sweltering heat last Saturday afternoon and walked 9.7 miles from 103rd street and Central avenue to the Temple and Spring street Federal building in downtown Los Angeles.

The march followed a stirring address by the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, the dynamic minister from Birmingham, Ala., who told the people that the price of freedom is high but is worth every sacrifice we make. He has been beaten, imprisoned and bombed because of his leadership in the South.

ENCOURAGEMENT

The crowd of some 750 persons who assembled at Will Rogers Park before the march gave the brave minister a standing ovation as he left the park to go to the airport to return to the Birmingham battleground.

Many dug deeply into their pockets and gave money to support the fight for human dignity which is being waged by the Freedom Fighters and the disfranchised Negro citizens in the South.

Along the route, interested spectators also gave "cash and encouragement."

In the vanguard of the march were the Rev. F. Douglas Ferrell of the Tabernacle of Faith Baptist Church, Rev. Claude Evans and Rev. Ashton Jones, who has long been a crusader for the brotherhood of man.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY

In spite of the heat, 185 of those who started the march reached the destination and knelt in prayer on the cool grass and the steps of the Federal Bldg. in protest against the government's concern over Berlin, Laos and Cuba, while virtually ignoring those who are unjustly jailed in the South.

Those who dropped out of the march because of fatigue were transported to the Federal Bldg. lawn by motor car. They cheered those who arrived, hungry, hot and tired, just four hours after they started.

Miss. Case Submitted to High Court

NEW YORK — A 32-year-old Hattiesburg, Miss., farmer last week asked the Supreme Court to review a seven year prison term he received for "helping to plan" the burglary of five bags of food worth less than $25. He filed his appeal through attorneys for the NAACP Legal and Educational Fund.

Clyde Kennard, a war veteran, first broke into the news when he tried to enroll at Mississippi Southern University in 1959. He was arrested and convicted on what he alleged were trumped up charges at that time but the Mississippi Supreme Court tossed out the conviction.

His latest difficulties stem from the charge that he induced a 19-year-old farm hand to steal the five bags of chicken feed from a neighbor.

Dr. J. H. Jackson Faces $750,000 Damage Suit

Dr. J. H. Jackson, one of two claimants for the presidency of the National Baptist Convention, Inc., was sued last week in Philadelphia for $750,000 by a tenant whose little girls developed lead poisoning, allegedly from eating plaster from the walls of a tenement building which Jackson owns.

The father of the girls claims that Jackson ignored requests to repair the building. The little girls were ill for three months, the claim said.

Boy Friend Hits Maid, 21, with Baseball Bat

Suffering from injuries she received, Delores Coleman, 21, a maid at 149½ W. 42nd street, told police Charles James, 31, who beat her with a baseball bat, struck her with his fists and threatened her with a sawed-off shotgun and a .32 caliber automatic last Thursday night.

Miss Coleman said she and James had been living together for two weeks at 2096 W. 31st street. James came in around 11:30 p.m. and accused her of going with other men, she said.

175 Freedom Riders Slate Mass Return

ATLANTA — Some 175 Freedom Riders, out on bail, are set for a mass return to Jackson, Miss., Aug. 15.

The State of Mississippi indicated Aug. 2 that all those released on cash appeal bonds must appear for trial on charges of breach of the peace on that date.

The Riders, according to the Freedom Ride Coordinating Committee, will be there. They will return by chartered buses and car pools from all sections of the country.

On the way, the various contingents will stop off in New Orleans and in Atlanta for rousing simultaneous mass rallies Aug. 12.

Moreover, according to the Rev. James M. Lawson, staff consultant and chairman of the emergency meeting of the committee, the Freedom Rides will continue.

On the same day as the rallies in Atlanta and New Orleans, other meetings will be held in key Northern cities, such as Los Angeles, Chicago and New York.

On Sunday night just prior to the opening of the trial, another meeting will be held by the Riders in Jackson.

Numbers' King Trial Set for September 18

Ernest Russell, numbers racket kingpin, lost his motion last Thursday to have charges against him dismissed for lack of evidence, and must stand trial on the charges.

Russell and 28 co-defendants appeared before Judge Lloyd Nix to hear the decision on their request and to enter pleas.

Trial date for those caught in one of the biggest raids in Los Angeles history has been set for Sept. 18.

Court Voids Permit for Cemetery Use

Compton's City Council was ordered to annul its ordinance granting Lincoln Memorial Park the right to use land adjacent to a school for cemetery uses by Los Angeles Superior Court last week.

The order came when the Senior Achievement League, represented by Atty. Welford Wilson, complained that the council did not follow its own rules and regulations and violated the city charter.

The League had based its opposition to the cemetery on the claim that such use would have an adverse effect on school pupils and that the land was better suited for playground purposes.

Under the court ruling, the council must reconsider its action and must hold a proper hearing to permit a full investigation of all objections.

Sham Liberalism in South

The sham character of southern "liberalism" on the race issue was never better illustrated than in the remarks made over local TV by North Carolina Governor Terry Sanford. Sanford is, by popular definition, a liberal on racial questions and North Carolina never tires of proclaiming its virtues where Negroes are concerned.

Yet the burden of Sanford's remarks was that segregation is firmly rooted in North Carolina and that it can't be, and won't be, disturbed by Supreme Court decisions or by anything else.

The governor pointed out that few Negroes now attend mixed schools in his state and ventured the prediction that the number won't increase in the near future. Negroes, he says, aren't interested in using mixed facilities. What they want, Sanford says, is equality in segregated facilities and the "right" to use all state owned facilities. He is dead wrong.

The reason that few Negroes attend public schools in North Carolina does not rest on their lack of desire to do so but on the fact that North Carolina's laws make it all but impossible for any but a select few to attend desegregated public schools. The state has a pupil placement law administered, not to admit aspiring Negroes to hitherto white schools, but to keep them out.

North Carolina, like other southern states, makes it so difficult, if not dangerous, to use general public facilities that few Negroes can avail themselves of their constitutional rights.

It is this system of preventing and discouraging Negroes from using public facilities, while keeping up the pretense that such facilities are open to Negro use, that passes for liberalism in North Carolina and that gives Sanford the title of "liberal."

Mock compliance with the Constitution is made to appear as obedience to the law of the land.

Pen Stroke Needed Now

During his campaign for the presidency, President Kennedy remarked truthfully that discrimination in federal housing programs could be ended with a "stroke of the pen."

The president hasn't made that pen stroke yet. FHA and VA builders are still free to discriminate in the sale or rental of housing built under the mortgage insurance plan. They are still doing so.

Urban redevelopment housing constructed on sites on which Negroes formerly lived can still be sold or rented exclusively to whites. That is still happening.

We can't resist the feeling that the time has come for the president to live up to his personal promise and to the pledge of the Democratic platform and call a halt to racial discrimination in all publicly assisted housing.

All that is required is an executive order from the president requiring builders and developers who take advantage of federal housing programs to sell or rent to all qualified persons without reference to race or color.

The necessity for such an order is greater now because the housing program has been expanded through new legislation passed at the current session of Congress.

The National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing has proposed a form of an executive order that seems to us to be eminently fair and satisfactory.

We hope that the administration won't delay any further. When it is all said and done federal assistance to housing rests on a pledge of the credit of all of the people of the nation. All of the people should share in the benefits.

Welcome, Bar Association

Los Angeles has the signal honor of entertaining the National Bar Association this week. The National Bar Association is an organization of the nation's leading lawyers who happen to be Negroes.

There may be divisions on other issues but there is unanimous agreement on the proposition that all Negroes, and all Americans who believe in the democratic way of life, are deeply indebted to Negro lawyers.

The record of the past three decades is one of victory after victory in federal and state courts in the area of civil rights. Many of these victories, such as the school cases, overturned old legal precedents that barred the way toward full enjoyment of rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

A glance at the roster of lawyers who have appeared in these precedent-shattering cases reveals that an overwhelming majority of the advocates were Negroes. That is as true today as it was yesterday.

The civil rights practice isn't the most lucrative, either. Lawyers who appear in cases of this kind always do so at substantial sacrifice to themselves. They get plenty of applause and all too little cash for their efforts.

The time will come in the United States when the color of a lawyer's skin won't make any difference in the opportunities that come to him. But that time hasn't arrived yet. Until it does, Negro lawyers will find it necessary to meet together and consider their problems.

We think that we speak for the whole community when we welcome the National Bar Association to Los Angeles.

New Judges for Los Angeles

Los Angeles county is going to get eighteen new superior court and seven new municipal court judges within the near future. In addition three judges will be added to the District Court of Appeal.

The appointments will be made by Gov. Brown who has the final responsibility for the selections. It is fashionable to say that the appointments will be made without reference to any consideration but ability. The practical aspect of the matter is that there are literally hundreds of lawyers qualified for the jobs and that many factors enter into the appointments.

We think that some of the appointments should go to Negro lawyers. There are plenty of such lawyers qualified for the appeals court, the superior court and the municipal court.

Thus far the governor has made exactly one appointment in Los Angeles. He first named Bernard Jefferson to the municipal court and later elevated him to the superior court. During that period of time the governor has appointed some thirty judges in Los Angeles.

Our frank opinion is that the governor hasn't done very well so far. We hope he takes the new opportunity that is his to better his batting average.

Mayor Yorty Keeps Promise

Mayor Sam W. Yorty continued his obvious plan to integrate Negroes into city government with the appointment of Mrs. Leontyne King to the Library Commission and Henri O'Bryant to the Fire Commission last week. Norman B. Houston was named to replace Rev. J. Raymond Henderson to the Civil Service Commission when the latter was unable to serve.

During his short term in City Hall, the mayor has named Negroes to the police, fire, library, civil service, social service and health commissions — more than all of his predecessors combined.

We're sure that all of the appointees will do a good job. We're just as sure that Los Angeles will be a better city by reason of having wide representation of all of its citizens on the commissions which determine city policy.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

One hundred years ago a Confederate general by the name of Forrest was teaching the Union Army lessons in how to win battles by "gittin' thar fustest with the mostest" in the way of military strength. This year's election in New York could well—if New York's Negro electorate is not smart— teach the rest of the country a lesson in how to get the leastest with the mostest in the way of voting strength.

And the sad truth is that generally New York's Negro voters, as a racial group, haven't been smart. They have put a great deal into the pot in the way of unorganized votes, and because the voting strength is not organized, not directed, not planned, Negro voters get very little out of campaigns in the way of direct benefits political earned.

GRANGER

A LULU

This year's campaign for Mayhas already turned out to be a real lulu. The Republican Party is hopeful and aggressive as it has not been in years; the Democratic Party is bitterly divided in a way that stretches the memory of political old-timers to find a parallel.

To some it would seem that the fratricidal warfare being carried on by the Democratic Party machine against Mayor Wagner is confused and will defeat the regular oragnization's purpose. It is a natural assumption, because ordinarily the first business of a polior has already turned out to be a elected to office. But in this case the first effort of New York's Democratic bosses is to keep themselves in power so that no one will be elected to office without their okay. It's so simple as that.

NEGROES INTEREST

Where does the Negro vote come into the picture? All over the place. In the reaction of Negroes toward the record of Mayor Wagner as compared with that of DeSapio, Sharkey, Buckley and the other Democratic bosses. In the record of Edward Dudley, borough president of Manhattan, whose brief administration has been a matter of pride to that Negro public which felt grieved and shamed by the Hulan Jack debacle.

In the effort of DeSapio's Tammany Hall to purge out of politics Earl Brown, veteran Negro Councilman, who has made a tremendous legislative record, and whose great sin was that he voted on the Mayor's side to install Ed Dudley, who has become easily the best borough president in New York City.

The choice for the Negro electorate in Manhattan is very simple. There are now three candidates for borough president: One is Edward Dudley; another—Santangelo—is a politician of Italian extraction who brashly stated that it would be bad precedent to allow Negroes to consider the borough presidency as their special possession. The third candidate, Lloyd Dickens, has a host of friends, but he is the Tammany candidate.

RACE ISSUE

One thing is certain: either Dudley will be renominated to succeed himself or the office will pass to a white candidate who has not scrupled at injecting the race issue into the campaign. Or, to put it another way, for a Negro to vote against Edward Dudley is to endorse Tammany's purge of Earl Brown, who has served black Manhattanites well over a stretch of years.

There will be a great many arguments in this forthcoming Democratic primary. And it will be easy for the average Negro voter to become confused unless he keeps his eye on the main issue. He will be reminded of past favors received, no matter how trifling or fictitious they may be.

Statistics will be quoted up and down and cross-ways; old history will be dug up and paraded around; names will be called back and forth.

The average Negro voter who has been getting the leastest for the mostest can begin this year to correct matters by asking himself two questions and answering those questions with his vote.

One is—does he want to return a Negro to the post of borough president where he has performed with distinction? The other is—does he like Tammany Hall's trying to run Earl Brown out of politics, for good?

The way in which New York's Negro electorate answers these two questions will have important meaning for voters and candidates the country over.

Loren Miller Says . . .

ing out her hands like the Bible said. You seen any pictures of the United Nations lately? Look's like Tuskegee Institution home coming. And there's more coming. And if it ain't the Africans it's the Indians and the Arabs and the Chinese. They're taking over the world, I tell you."

PLENTY OF SPACE

"Don't be ridiculous, there's plenty of room on the earth for everybody."

"Sure, there's plenty of room," Archie said. "But it ain't like it was with the white folks having all the good room and the black people and the yellow and red and brown people having all the bad room. I'm telling you they're inventing these space ships so's they can get away from here."

"You talk like a Muslim," I said.

"I don't go with the Muslims," Archie shot back. "I'm a Baptist, been one for 60 years and I can't put up with that heathen stuff but you just mark my words, one of these days when they get enough ships they're going to up and leave this world and go on to the moon or the stars and they won't be nothing left here but colored people."

"I certainly won't put anything like that in the paper," I said. "It's ridiculous."

READY TO LEAVE

"You said that before but look at it this way. The Africans are marching all over Africa, the Chinese is spreading all over Asia and the Freedom Riders is riding all over the South. White folks can't take it, they ain't got no peace, I tell you. They're going to take off."

"All white people don't believe in segregation," I said, "Some of them are perfectly willing to live in peace with other people."

"I don't care what they believe in," Archie came back. "What you think they going to do when they look up and see the rest of their kind leaving this world and getting away from all these race problems? I tell you what they're going to do. They're going to get away from it all."

"Nonsense," I said.

"Call it nonsense if you want," insisted Cousin Archie. "But one of these days when you look up and see all them ships lined up and the white folks leaving, you remember what I told you."

"Have it your way," I said. "But what if some Negro lines up and gets on one of the ships?"

"Don't be silly yourself," said Cousin Archie. "The NAACP hasn't got any law passed saying you can't have Jim Crow spaceships."

Negroes Best Fitted for Post On City Council

ment gives additional Congressional seats to those areas that have grown in those years.

"Our City Charter demands reapportionment every four years, and there is no doubt that those areas, the Valley and the Palisades, have grown by leaps and bounds recently."

Councilwoman Wyman disagreed with this line of reasoning, pointing out that the new Councilman should be chosen on qualifications, and not on race.

NEGROES BETTER

"And as far as I can see, the Negro applicants for the post show vastly more qualifications than do the white applicants. And who can deny that a half million Negro citizens need proper Councilmanic representation?"

"Frankly, however," she went on, "I and the rest of the Council members should select on the basis of personal attributes. I am for a Negro on the Council, although I can vote for only one. I cannot say at the time who he will be, but I will cast my vote for the one I consider most qualified."

Councilman Roybal, the only Mexican-American member of the Council, told the Eagle:

THREE QUALIFIED

"The three of them, Atkinson, Thomas and Bradley, are highly qualified. In fact, their qualifications are better than those of any of the white applicants, and we should select someone who can display an active and discerning interest in the entire city and not just in any geographical or racial sector.

"Personally, I feel a Negro should be considered seriously. There is a definite need for one in the Council, and our city would suffer in human relations with the Negro community if a Negro was bypassed."

Conversation is like a boat. If everybody crowds to one side it sinks. It needs balance to keep afloat.

Four Arrested In Murder of MTA Driver

erers, and began following them, making crude remarks, coming up from behind and putting their hands on the young women's bodies.

Tyler and Smith warned the four men to stay away from their wives. They argued and then the three couples went on their way.

They crossed the street and were again overtaken by the four.

One of the four swung at Tyler who reeled. He said he was cut and slumped to the ground.

MADE GETAWAY

The four ran down 55th street to Grand, to a white car parked on 54th street. Inside all four crouched down until they made their getaway.

A few hours later, three men were arrested and charged with the crime. They are:

Albert Armstrong, 24; James Anderson, 24; and James E. Peake, 28, all of 943½ W. 75th street.

All said they didn't know anything about the fourth man, the man who had wielded the knife.

HE WAS THERE

Peake told police he was there "when the little guy stabbed that fellow." He said he tried to stop the fight and didn't have "anything to do with the cutting."

Armstrong and Anderson both also admitted being there "when the little guy stabbed the fellow." Both denied having anything to do with the killing.

When Davis was picked up, following a tip, he admitted the killing and turned over a two-inch knife to the officers. "This is the knife I cut him with," he said.

After searching his room, officers found a yellow-handled fish knife with a five-inch blade.

Davis said he went to the 5-4 Ballroom, met some fellows and drank a bottle of wine with them.

He said they were walking down the street when one of them "must have touched some women." He said they started arguing and that he hit Tyler with his knife folded back on his hand.

Tyler and Mrs. Tyler have one daughter, Shaland, 2. Both were previously married, and Tyler had adopted his wife's two daughters.

Tyler's two sons, Albert James Jr., 9, and Larry, 6, live in Oklahoma, with his mother, Mrs. Albert Tyler, and a sister, Ossie L. Tyler, both of Tulsa.

He is also survived by his father, Alvin James Tyler, of Richmond; a brother George H. Tyler, and a sister, Lois Tyler, living at 2228 Marvin avenue.

Tyler, who was born in Porter, Okla., had lived in Los Angeles for the past five years.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Harrison and Ross Funeral Home.

Pickets to Greet Rams-Redskins

Marshall of the Redskins football team," said Jesse D. Scott, chairman of the NAACP Labor and Industry Committee.

Scott declared that if Negroes in many instances were given equal opportunity and employment "many of their boys would not have to accept charity."

In response to a deluge of telephone calls from persons and organizations interested in picketing, it was announced Tuesday that all persons planning on joining the picket line Friday night around the Coliseum should appear at 5 p.m. Friday at the Hoover-Santa Barbara entrance of the stadium.

Signs will be in abundance for the marchers.

WRONG IMPRESSION

Radio Station KGFJ contacted the Eagle offices to correct an impression given in an earlier story that it had accepted paid advertising to support the game, despite the opposition of the Shriners, who have a program on the station and who have been strong in their protest against the Redskins.

The station outlined that it had taken the spot announcements only because the announcements were of a charitable nature, and would help raise funds for the club. The station emphasized that it accepted the announcements in its line of public service.

At press time, various local organizations and clubs were offering their services for picket-line activity the night of the game.

'Lynch' Case

police handling of a group of noisy Negro young people.

One white man joined ranks with the police during the melee which saw a police car overturned, bottles tossed and people pushed and shoved. Police said the two Negro youths, McLemore and Jones, freed another Negro who was in their custody when they attempted to quiet the throng.

Jealous Man Admits Murdering His Wife

early this year Hardrick "threatened my life over the telephone."

Hardrick, however, told the Eagle Monday that there was no truth at all either in the charge that he was "going with" Mrs. Riley or that he had threatened Riley. He claimed instead that Riley had threatened him and had created such frightening scenes at churches where he, Hardrick, was directing that he finally had to give up his job.

WITNESSES

Among witnesses who told police about the killing were Mrs. Riley's aunt, Gertrude Daniels, with whom the slain woman lived at 411 E. 43rd street.... Jorrell Sparks, of 402 E. 43rd street; Lillie Johnson, of 403 E. 43rd street; and Oremble Lynell, of 285 E. 43rd street.

Police reported that Riley went to Mrs. Daniels' house and wanted to know where Margie was.

Before Mrs. Daniels could answer, he reportedly pulled open the door, pushed his way into the house and began chasing his wife. He fired two shots inside the house.

Mrs. Riley fled through the front door, ran across the front lawn of the home at 407 E. 43rd street and to the rear.

SHOT IN BACK

Riley, according to police, ran after her, shooting her in the back as she tried to escape. When she collapsed in the rear yard, police claimed, Riley stood over her and emptied his gun into her body.

Riley, however, told a different story. He said he went over to Margie's house to try to talk to her. She opened the door, he claimed, and began shooting at him, whereupon he shot back.

Mrs. Riley was born in Robinson County, Texas. She had lived in Los Angeles since 1941.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

For 20 years I am fighting the metropolitan newspapers for mentioning in their reports the race of an individual involved in the reported event. You know better than anybody else that these papers were out to pull down the Negro race wherever they could.

I urged the papers not to mention the race of an individual at all whether he or she may be involved in a good or bad affair. It is unimportant.

I expect from your paper just the same. Do not regard me as a crackpot if I criticize your report in the Eagle of July 27, page 4, fifth column, fourth line below the title "Neighbors Talk."

Does it make any difference whether the neighbor was white or black?

Now our metropolitan papers are getting out of this habit. Please don't you get into it.

Fred Buch

(EDITOR'S NOTE — We do not consider Mr. Buch a "crackpot" for voicing his objection to the use of racial designations in news stories. We do, however, believe there is a difference between the habit of the metropolitan press to which he objects and the use of race designations when they occur in the Negro press.

(The dailies, in a practice which they have largely abandoned in Northern cities, including Los Angeles, formerly tended to carry news about Negroes and members of other minority groups primarily in crime stories. This gave the impression to readers that Negroes, persons of Mexican extraction, etc., were, in the main, criminals.

(At present, the daily newspapers no longer follow this practice. They generally omit mention of race in crime stories, and tend to identify individuals as Negroes or whites only in those instances where race is important to a proper understanding of the story. It is, for instance, of interest to know that the Freedom Riders are made up both of white and Negro men and women.

(This policy is also followed by the California Eagle and by most other Negro newspapers.)

To the Editor:

I feel it is my duty to try and keep the records straight. This letter is in reference to the Times Charity Football Games.

Out of the profit of these games, Times Charity has built and maintained the boys club on E. Main Street near the river at approximately $85,000 and up a year. They built and helped support the Boys' Club in Boyle Heights.

They spent a half million dollars building the Southern Area Boys Club for our group, hiring trained social workers of the highest type, and furnished the total budget for two years of approximately $60,000 a year.

I have been a member of the Southern Area Boys Club since its conception. Except the contribution the Community Chest gives, Times Charity continues to furnish all of the money necessary to fulfill our budget.

This year, Southern Area Boys Club sent 100 boys to camp. As chairman of the camping committee, I know without the assistance from a special fund the Times Charity has, we could not have sent that many boys to camp. It seems to me picketing this game to turn people away would not hurt anyone but the boys.

If you are successful in getting everyone to stay away from the football games, which the Times Charity puts on to raise money for these worthy causes, what have you got to offer to replace it? Times Charity supports the Southern Area Boys Club, but all tax payers have to support Juvenile Hall.

M. Earl Grant,
President-manager
FAMILY SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

P.S. As of February 19, 1957, I have been a life member of the NAACP.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The California Eagle recognizes that the Southern Area Boys Club benefits from the donations made by the Los Angeles Times. Unfortunately, however, the struggle for recognition of Negro rights is always attended by some sacrifice.

(The Eagle is of the opinion that discrimination, wherever it exists, has to be fought, even when it is sugar-coated and even though it is topped with whipped cream and a maraschino cherry.)

Job Prospects Gloomy, Says Labor Aide

impact on the job situation, but added that the number of long term jobless is in excess of 1,000,000, according to figures released this week, despite the fact that employment, hours of work and earnings have increased.

NEED TRAINING

"The situation is particularly trying among the Negroes," he pointed out.

"This is why," said Weaver, "we are all so much interested in the passage of the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1961 now being considered by the Congress.

Weaver added that the training and retraining program provided by the bill will fit workers for "the new employment opportunities coming up under the impact of automation and technological change."

Sit Downs

WASHINGTON, The U. S. Supreme Court was petitioned this week to review the cases of 34 Negro students who conducted a lunch counter "sit-in" in Richmond, Va., last year.

In a petition filed July 22, attorneys for the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund ask the nation's highest court to review an April 24, 1961 decision by the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia which upholds the students' convictions.

The students, who attended Virginia Union University, demonstrated at Thalheimer's, one of Richmond's largest department stores, in February 1960, and were arrested and fined $20 each.

If you keep your mind open, litterbugs will throw a lot of rubbish into it.

Since 1955 Canada has been absorbing over a billion dollars a year from abroad in long-term investments. More than 600 million dollars goes abroad each year in interest and dividends, most of it to investors in the United States.

Rev. Peters' Anniversary Luncheon Grand Affair

The 18th anniversary of Rev. Arthur Atlas Peters and his lovely wife was celebrated in grand style by 235 persons, at the Cocoanut Grove of the Ambassador Hotel recently during a testimonial luncheon which was masterfully conducted by the incomparable Nat King Cole, as master of ceremonies.

During the program while commendations and flowers and laurels were tossed to Rev. and Mrs. Peters, the ole master himself, King Cole, a minister's son, received a beautiful gold placque from Rev. Peters for his outstanding contributions to the work of Victory Baptist Church. This gesture is typical of Rev. Peters, who is constantly seeking out ways and means of making others happy even on his special day.

Among those bringing special greetings were Police Commissioner Everette M. Porter, who brought a commendation from Mayor Yorty; Gilbert Lindsay, from Supervisor Hahn; Judge David Williams from the community and Rev. E. A. Anderson, who told of the lean years in the ministry of the "Singing Shepherd." Telegrams were read from Rev. M. L. King and Rev. R. Abernathy.

Special guests included his brother, Rev. S. T. Peters and his family, from Slydell, La. and Edwin Gold, of Gold's Furniture store who are sponsors of the TV program at Victory. Others told of Rev. Peters the dreamer, and his early dream of a nursery and a day school in connection with his church. Told how this plan, whose "mother could not read and write and whose language was in dis and dat and outher," went on to open the first accredited day school in Los Angeles, run by a community church. And who now has been given a Federal Housing Committee prospective to build an up to 11 million dollar home for senior citizens.

Heart stirring music was sung by Robbie Williams, Helen Henderson, C. C. Perkins, Thurston Frazier and the A. A. Peters Corale and of course, Rev. Peters closed the 'show' by singing, "If I Have Helped Somebody." Lavada Adams and Lessie McDowell were chairmen.

Peace Reigns At AME Meet

The 37th annual Conference of the AME Church met at Bethel AME Church in San Diego last week in what is reported to be the calmest, most peaceful and most orderly conference in the history of the Southern California sessions. This is in contrast to the last few years which were particularly stormy.

Only a few of the local ministers were changed by Presiding Bishop H. Thomas Primm, of the Fifth Episcopal District. The announcements were made at the First Methodist Church in San Diego, on Sunday evening. One of the significant results of the meeting was the retirement of Rev. T. L. Scott, of St. James AME Church, who has served as an itinerant minister for more than 60 years.

Rev. George Grant, pastor of Emmanuel Church, 52nd and Compton avenue, was transferred to another conference and the Rev. Wallace Young formerly of Perris, was assigned to the Emmanuel pastorate.

SUPPORTS RIDERS

Rev. J. N. Harris of Long Beach was assigned to Brown Memorial Church in Pasadena and Rev. C. N. Carter of Pasadena was assigned to St. James Church, 1843 E. 102nd street, of which Rev. Scott was pastor for five years.

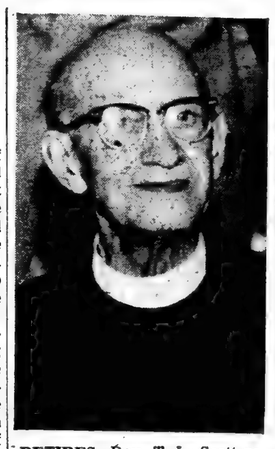
The conferees passed a resolution in support of the Freedom Riders and all those fighting nonviolently for civil rights.

Rev. and Mrs. C. Wayne Love, hosts for the conference presided over a glamorous reception for all conference guests Rev. X. C. Runyon was host, presiding elder. Sharing honors was Presiding Elder A. K. Quinn and D. V. Kyle.

RE-ELECTED

Mrs. Ann P. Davis was re-elected president of the Women's Missionary Society and Mrs. Edythe M. Primm, Episcopal supervisor, gave the missionary address for women. The candle-light ceremony, entitled "A Night in Light," featured all of the women wearing white in a procession. "This was most impressive," according to Mrs. Camilla Leftridge who with Adolphus Clay reported the highlights of the meetings. Clay was appointed director of public relations and social activities for the Southern California Conference, by Bishop Primm.

Rev. X. C. Runyon, presiding elder opened the annual love feast of the meeting on Wednesday with Rev. Henry W. Murph of Grant AME Church, delivering the conference sermon on the "Rapture of the Forward Look."



Rev. C. D. Toliver, of Second AME, chose "Mountain Climbing," as his Wednesday night subject. Rev. Paul Kidd of Walker Temple spoke on "We Are Yet Alive."

Dr. Charles S. Spivy, dean of Payne Seminary of Wilberforce opened the Institute on Thursday. The Friday services were electrified by a "Dynamic address on the "State of the Country," by Rev. H. H. Brookins of First AME Church."

Dr. Fred E. Stephens of Bethel addressed the group on the "State of the Church." Rev. L. Sylvester Odom of ward preached the missionary sermon.

The Youth of the District, under the direction of Mrs. Mary King, presented an excellent portion of the program. The Price Chapel Youth Choir, directed by Eugenia Clark, sang gospel songs which made those assembled glad that music was incorporated in the program of the church, according to both Mrs. Leftridge and Clay who said that Bishop Primm requested that the group sing for a future meeting of the Bishop's Council.

H. H. Pettigrew, recently elected president of the Southern California Laymen, received his certificate of office along with other officers of the group.

Rev. T. L. Scott Retires at 77

Rev. T. L. Scott, 77, pastor of the St. James AME Church was retired during the 37th annual session of the Southern California Conference of the Fifth Episcopal District at San Diego last week. This action came after more than 60 years as a minister whose career started at the age of 13 in Topeka, Kans.

Rev. Scott said Monday that he was converted at the age of 6, was appointed librarian of the Sunday School soon after that and at the age of 14 he became superintendent of the Sunday School.

In 1903 he went to Lane College in Jackson, Tenn. and lived in the home of Bishop Issaic Lane He sold bananas and worked his way through school. He started his active evangelistic career, traveling across the country. He said that he was successful in converting his four brothers and one sister and performed the marriage ceremony for one of the brothers. His eldest brother James Scott is 91 years old. He lives in Boyle Heights.

LOVE ABOVE ALL

One of the interesting things about the ministry of Rev. Scott is that his parents did not want him to become a minister and so he packed his clothes and sneaked away from home one night.

In 1909 he married Ada C. Richards after a three-week courtship in St. Joe, Mo. The marriage exists today after 52 years. Both the Scotts have that "Love-in-Bloom" look when they are together. Mrs. Scott a native of Trinidad, Colo. was a school teacher at Savannah, Mo. at the time of the marriage.

Rev. Scott was pastor of Grant AME Church in Chicago for 17 years. He was instrumental in establishing four churches in Chicago. He is credited with saving some 60,000 souls, with training 50 preachers, most of whom he supported and counselled.

One son Theon L. Scott, Jr., serves in the United States Marines, his daughter, Georgiana Edmonds Scott Smith, is choir director at First AME Church and another daughter, Abastasia, is married to Atty. Herbert L. Dudley. Alvin Scott died at the age of 14 and was preaching a sermon at the time of his death.

Rev. Thompson Welcomed by Mixed Group

Rev. Roy L. Thompson, new pastor of the Manchester Avenue Baptist Church, 255 W. 85th street, opened the doors of the newly integrated church to a large group of worshippers who listened with interest and appreciation to his sermon entitled, "It Shows on Your Face."

Some 200 persons attended and welcomed the pastor at the first service in the new church year. Several persons joined the church. Many remained after the service to express a willingness to serve in the program of the church, which includes a day nursery, and an accredited school for children from the kindergarten through the third grade.

"Wasn't that a marvelous sermon?" was the question-like statement of Caucasian and Negro worshipper alike.

Rev. Thompson said in his sermon that there were at least three things which should be reflected in the life of the true Christian, and that each should be reflected in the face: the spirit of humility, the spirit of forgiveness and an implicit faith in Almighty God.

We add line by line to our faces in much the same way the historian writes on parchment the narrative of the past, line by line. The emotion of the heart, the sense of duty, all that we love, our relationship to others is written no matter where we sit, or walk or move or stand, and is reflected in our lives. That which we serve is shown in our faces.

O'Bryant was recently appointed by Mayor Sam Yorty to the Los Angeles Fire Commission marks the first time such an appointment has been made to a member of the community.

'Tee Time'

— WITH —

Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

Before we remind you that the Fox Hills Women's and Men's Clubs are still segregating we would like to tell you a little golf joke that is so corny it is funny.

"A foursome was getting ready to putt when a ball fell on the green. One guy winked at his pals, took his foot and kicked it into the cup.

A moment later, when a fat fellow came up inquiring about the ball, they told him: "It's in the cup." Stooping, he picked it out and waddled off shouting, "Hey, Louie, I got a nine."

It was reported to us that some one at Fox Hills said they are not segregating so we would like to clear up that statement for the 50th time.

Any person can rent or play on this golf course but a Negro cannot join either of the clubs.

We have already reported to you how the present president at Fox feels about it. Now we have just finished talking to Chester Carlson, the manager, and this is his opniion.

"It is too bad," he said, "that the management does not segregate the facilities but we still have to suffer this type of bad publicity because the golf clubs choose to remain private."

"Why don't you meet with them and tell them to open their membership to Negroes?" we asked.

Mr. Carlsen laughed. (He seemed to be a very nice quiet type of a manager.) "Well," he said, "it is not that easy. "Did you know," he went on, "that they are members of the So. California Golf Association?"

"Yes," we assured him, "and that association has a Caucasian clause in its constitution. Were you aware of that?" we inquired.

"Yes, I'm aware of the clause," he quietly answered, "so you see there is nothing we can do with these private clubs.

"We'll tell you what you can do with them," we advised him. "You can tell them what the County told the Kiwanis to do with their annual Western Ave. tournament."

"What was that?" he asked sleepily.

"Accept Negroes or you can't use the course," we informed him.

We also informed him that it would be awfully embarrassing if his beautiful club was surrounded by a picket line.

"Oh you wouldn't dare do that, would you? You wouldn't picket your own race?" he asked.

"Well," we assured him, "that would not be so bad because in some countries when members of the race won't cooperate, they shoot them."

It all amounts to this, dear golfers: If you can't join their clubs, don't support their course. Carry your dollars where you are welcome.

He also connected safely in 27 of the Reds' 30 games.

Britt Sims Keeps Angels Press Happy

The man who keeps them well fed and happy in the Los Angeles Angels press room is former boxer Britt Sims. Britt's two key assistants are Mrs. Eugenia McMurray and his uncle J. A. Land.

Britt was a fixture in the old Angels' press box for almost a decade. He counts Don Stewart, president of the PCL Angels, as one of the finest men he has ever worked for.

Rating rightup there in Britt's book are the current Angel officials. Britt says, "The American League Angels are a wonderful bunch. I have the same feeling about the new Angels as I did about Mr. Stewart.

He adds, "I find Messrs. (Gene) Autry, (Fred) Haney (Cedric) Tallis, (Francis X) Leary, (Bob) Sobol Irv Kaze, George (Goodale), et al wonderful men to work for."

Actually Britt was first employed at Wrigely Field as a groundsman back in 1941. Later he was promoted to a night watchman and in the late '40's Whitey Myers signed him on as maitre d' in the press room. He held this post until the arrival of the Dodgers. He worked for the local NL entry through the 1959 season. Out of baseball in '60, he was back at his old post with the birth of the new Angels over eight months ago.

Britt recalls a night shortly after Casey Stengel had won his first pennant as a New York Yankee manager as one of the most humorous ones in memory.

Britt says, "Casey kept 14 or 15 writers here all night rehashing the series. He talked them all to sleep: I stayed here half the night washing George Goodale's (the old Angels' PR director and current promotion director for the AL Angels) face to keep him awake."

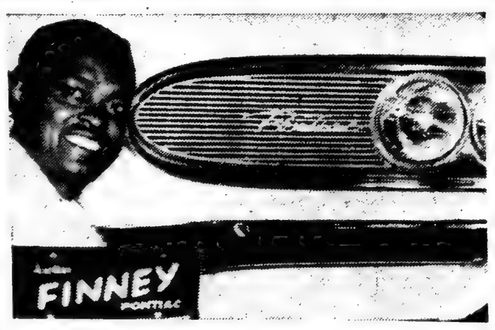
Sterling Forbes Becomes Fourth To Ink Lakers Pact

The Los Angeles Lakers have signed their fourth newcomer for the 1961-62 season, with the announcement that they have a contract with Sterling Forbes, former Pepperdine great: and brilliant Interfrat basketball star for the Kappa fraternity.



The Laker contract list now stands at nine returnees from last year's playoff squad, and the four new men who will vie for spots. The rookies include Wayne Yates, 6'8" first draft choice of the club, Bobby Joe Smith, former pupil of Coach Fred Schaus at West Virginia, Bobby Sims, who played AAU ball last year, and Forbes. The latter three are all candidates for the backcourt vacated when Bobby Leonard, fiery veteran, was drafted by the new Chicago Packer franchise of the NBA.

Forbes, 6'5", 210 pounder, was the mainstay, along with Bobby Sims, of the Pepperdine squad which two years ago tied for the championship of the West Coast Athletic Conference. A draft choice of the Lakers that season, Forbes was the last rookie cut by the team at last year's training camp. His only drawback then was lack of experience at a backcourt position. The boy has been working on backcourt moves ever since, and while touring Europe this summer with the Harlem Globetrotters, played backcourt at every opportunity.

GLOBE-TROTTERS — Myrtle Robinson, L.A. school principal, and her husband, Jesse Robinson, U.S. Post Office executive, are circling the globe via Jet air planes. (Young)

Around the World in 50 Days with the Robinsons

By JESSE and MYRTLE ROBINSON

The Robinson's interesting around-the-world trip continued in Hong Kong. In this magic city one rubs elbows with the very rick, who come to spend thousands of dollars, and with those who work long hours for a few cents a day.

Poverty is up any alley; yet we have seen only two beggars.

For the tourists, besides spending money on clothes, jewelry, yardage, etc., there are many interesting sites to visit. As you leave Nathan Road, the heart of the business and shopping district, you drive past the Resettlements Estates, which are H-shaped apartments occupied by Chinese refugees.

They were the victims of a fire in 1953 when they lived in paper huts along the mountainsides.

Further along one reaches Yuen Long, a dense farming center and distributing point for native products. On the way you will also see Kam Tim, the walled village. The most interesting spot is Lok M Chau, the last outpost, for this is the border town where you come face to face with Red China. You may look across the river from a hill top and see the barbed wire fence which means "Keep Out!"

Those planning to make this trip should certainly visit the Aberdeen and eat a seafood dinner on one of the floating restaurants. Also enjoy the funicular car up the peak 1,305 feet. Remeber Susis Wong? Well, you may visit the spot shown in the picture of the Wanchai District.

For discriminating shoppers like Lucille Ashford, Ouida Williams, Toni Atkinson, Elois Davis, Betty Howard and Juanita Miller, this town is a mecca for quality. Pure silk suits with three or more fittings, hand-made shoes, custom jewelry, all can be purchased in one week's time for low, low prices.

For example, a fine English worsted suit will cost about $50 to $55 at better tailers; a cashmere sports jacket runs about $30 to $35, and a summer suits about $30 to $35. If a customer is not satisfied, he or she does not have to pay.

Of all the cities we visited, including London, Paris, Rome and New York, we fell in love with Hong Kong because you can go broke saving money, and we did.

Incidentally, a visit to any city isn't complete for Mr. Robinson without looking in at the Post Office (he's even figured out a system for a Space Post Office), so we were graciously received by Mr. A. G. Crook, the British postmaster general of all of Hong Kong.

Don't get tired of the word "unique." Being a school principal, I should know better, but then you should travel around the world.

The American gals will love this, but not the postal employees, especially the crew in the Terminal Annex. There is only one woman employee in the entire service and better yet, men, she is a widowed clerk for women only! Most Chinese women would consider it a mortal sin to work in the Post Office and stand in line with men.

Our last night in Hong Kong was like Christmas in L. A. Things were swinging, streets were crowded, ships docking, and passengers scurrying around like crazy.

Tell you about it next week because we know Abie Robinson is yelling his beautiful grey head off about the length of this letter.

Oh, incidentally, did you take advantage of that $3 August subscription? They did over here.

Some more to come—next week.

Luncheon Fetes Out-of-Towners

Leona Collier proved herself a charming hostess at a luncheon in her home, 3785 St. Andrews place, last Thursday when she entertained out-of-town guests.

Out-of-towners were Emma J. Ford and Jennie Duke of Washington, D. C.; Claudia Hubbard of Akron, Ohio; Mary Louise Russell of Forestville; Winfor Green, Evanston, Ill.; and Betty Weintraut, Atlantic City.

Other guests present included Gladys Allen, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Drake, Sadie Coleman, Susie Hill, Lillian Dixon, Willa Grey, Cora Armstrong, Harriett Cowell, Joyella Jones and Betty Beck.

Buffet Honors Visitors

A party which Donessa and Herbert Hollon will always remember is the one given by Edna Zebbs in the home of their cousins, Alein Kimbro and Bernice Williams, 2019 Palmgrove avenue, prior to their departure for their new home in Teaneck, N. J.

The party followed a glorious three weeks in the Southland visiting their son, Herbert Hollon Jr., his wife Bonnie and their granddaughter.

The Hollons have visited the city frequently over a 15-year period and have always expressed themselves as having a delightful time here.

This year was no exception. They enjoyed California's great outdoor living, visiting the fabulous egg ranch of Herbert and Hazel Simpson in Saugus, spending a day at Hollywood Park, enjoying a visit to L. A. County's new building to meet county officials as arranged by Gilbert Lindsay, attending a host of cocktail parties and spending plenty of pleasurable moments with the newest member of their family, their granddaughter Bonnie Hollen.

Accompanying the Hollons from New Jersey was their son Marc Hollon. They returned home last week by jet.

Les Petites Hold Gala 15th Annual

Some 950 guests attended the 15th annual affair given by the members of Les Petites Femmes recently at the Zenda Ballroom.

The unique theme, "The Black Magic of Christmas in July," was carried out beautifully by the members. The silver Christmas tree was decorated with black and silver, as also were the gifts.

Elaine Walker, Irene Williams and Sandra Hayes entertained with a modern dance routine prior to the club's introduction.

The members, attired in beautiful black gowns with matching shoes, and wearing short white cocktail gloves, were introduced. Their costumes were offset by white orchid corsages, glittering with black sequins. Wendell Green served as master of ceremonies. Following the introduction, 200 black balloons were released.

Officers of the club are: Althea Townsend, president; Evelyn Thierry Williams, vice-president and one of the founders of the group; Bernice Hillson, secretary; Bonzell Chouteau, treasurer; Harriett Terrell, business manager; Esther Busby, corresponding secretary, and Marjorie Frasher, chaplain. Members are Clothilde Spurlin, Beryle Wilson and Rita Jean Wright.

Former members enjoying the affair were Martha Cummings, Mamie Taylor, Eleanor Hunt, Bernice Avery, Peggy Odom, Cecelia Carr, Goldie Moore, Helen Griffin of Pasadena, Jeannette Garnichaurd of San Pedro and Ruth Dennis.

Western Alumni In Regular Meet

Western University Alumni met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rulette and expressed a great deal of thanks for the support the community gave them when they were hosts to the recent National Reunion meeting.

Mrs. Olivia Gentry, national reunion secretary from Kansas City, was guest at the meeting.

The Alumni group announced that they will make scholarships available to students meeting the group's requirements.

The next meeting is scheduled for Aug. 13, at 4 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clara Bell Strange, 2190 W. 26th place.

Neighborhood Club in Meet

The Neighborhood Charity and Friendship Club's regular meeting was held in the home of Beatrice Martain, 4815 Compton avenue.

One new member was accepted in the organization in the person of Mrs. L. M. Sydney. Members also discussed plans to aid the Stovall Foundation and decided to tell their friends the importance of Polio shots.

Bill Smallwood

In town for a week: Connie and Hugh Beaty, visiting Dotti and Bob Allen. The Johnny Simmonses plan a lighthearted week of SF during the month's last week. The Bobbee Black Borders and youngset son (her oldest boy is in France) were home to Ft. Wayne, Ind., after Mexico City. They flew to SF Tues. before heading for home. On their way home: Alice and David Cunningham via lejsure in Texas. Joe Gordon of Tacoma, Wash., arrived for a fortnight's playtime.

Mrs. Barry Tate visited her in-laws in the nation's capital. It's official. No Pitt-Los picnic this summer. Dr. and Mrs. John Simmons and son will be driving east to parentally look on while the latter registers at Dartmouth as a sophomore. Enroute they'll visit Columbus, Ohio, and of course have reunion with Edith Boyd and family either in NYC or Haverford, Pa. where the Boyds are summering. Tess and Gil Lindsay busy with their respective modiste and tailor, getting ready for their Aug. 17 departure via Super Chief: they're doing Detroit, Canada, Cincinnati and the Atlantic seaboard.

Adelaide Barker home from her year of teaching in France. Or will be any split second now. Chuck Davis, visiting with the Cab Calloways in N.Y., sails today on the Liberte for France. Dick Gregory, the comic, hired Cal Bailey (he moved back to SF) and they're traveling together as a team. Bunky Robinson flew to Mexico City to join Walt Davis and then drive to LA via some fun in Guadalajara. Edna McCormick having a time of it with that broken ankle which is knitting slowly, so slowly.

YARDS OF PINK

New Yorker Ruth (I may move to LA) Martin, visiting the Schuyler Nelsons at their local and Laguna houses, jetted with hostess Rosita to SF. On their way back to LA they visited the Eddie Arnolds (Thalia) in Palo Alto; Ruth and Eddie are cousins. LACC frosh Anna Lee, dashing to Carolyn and Stephen Brown's Sat. night party, whirls by in yards of pink, all laughing eyes; she and her schoolmarm mother, Ida, both speak usable Spanish which should prove ideal for that year in Mexico City they quietly plan. Atty. Cora Brown is humming and buffing her nails; she takes the bar shortly.

Tony Doram was in town from Vegas to superintend his son's entry into Loyola. Thoroughly brilliant Nira Hardon is toying with idea of taking a sabbatical and entering law school. A bell-ringer sure enough: The Sun. night cocktail party as hosted by the Thomas sister - and - brother team, Mary and Carlton, for charming houseguests from Clevelands, the Ted Simpsons. We've just heard Carol Coleman Johnson has been offered a position as thermodynamicist with Convair in S'Diego; her medic husband is interning at S'Diego County Hospital.

Colorful Parade to Highlight Nisei Week Annual Festival

With the announcement of the appointment of Matoa Uwate of Radio Little Tokyo as Ondo Parade co-chairman, festival chairman, Maehara, revealed the list of civic dignitaries slated to participate in the gigantic street parade. The traditional Ondo Parade will wind through the streets of Little Tokyo on Sunday, Aug. 20.

Although not necessarily in the order of appearance, the following were confirmed by the Nisei Week Festival Committee: Governor and Mrs. Edmund G. Brown, Chamber President Eiji Tanabe, official guide; State Senator and Mrs. Richard Richards; past president Frank Kurihara, official guide; Miss Cherry Blossom Festival of Hawaii, Jo Ann Yamada; Akemi Tani, 1960 Nisei Week Festival queen; and the Prince and Princess finalists of the Nisei Week Baby Show.

Others are: "Timmy" of the Lassie Show; Issei Pioneers; the Nisei Week queen; Nisei Week queen attendants; and the official Nisei Week car.

Representatives from the offices of the Mayor, Supervisor Debs and Councilman Roybal are also expected to join the traditional feature of the Nisei Week Festival. The Ford convertibles for the guests of honor will be furnished through the courtsey of Downtown Ford and other agencies.

Again expected to be the outstanding hit of the parade are the two "Mikoshis" (portable shrine), the official gift of the City of Nogoya to Los Angeles and the "Baby Mikoshi" which was recently donated to the Nisei Week Festival by Mr. Tokijiro Nakajima of Kawafuka. Mr. Nakajima has also donated the "Taru Mikoshi" ("taru" meaning sake barrel), a tradition in the festival parades in Japan, which will be a colorful addition to the Mikoshi section of the parade.

The "shi-shi-mae" lion dance will also attract the attention of thousands of spectators jamming the streets of Little Tokyo. Special prizes will be given to the "best dressed" participants in the "kasogyoretsu" costume parade, which is open to all comers. Those interested are urged to feel free to "join the parade".

Triple Event August 14

New facets in music of the present era will be explored by pianist Roger Williams, trumpeter Al Hirt and the Belafonte Folk Singers when they combine their unique skills in a scintillating "Music For Tonight" program especially designed to exploit their individual artistries at 8:30 Monday through Saturday nights, Aug. 14-19, in the Greek Theater of Los Angeles.

CLASSICAL AND POPULAR

Williams, who has played concerts to capacity audiences in over 150 cities across the United States and Canada, has a unique musical message to deliver. "For years, there has been a gulf between popular and classical music, and I hope to build a bridge across that gulf," he declares. "I think it is more the result of tradition than desire on the part of the public. People who genuinely enjoy good music can appreciate the best in both classical and popular."

MUSIC TO DELIGHT — Pianist Roger Williams, upper left, trumpeter Al Hirt, and the Belafonte Folk Singers will share the spotlight in a brilliant new show, "Music For Tonight," created especially for the Greek Theater of Los Angeles, where it will run at 8:30 Monday through Saturday nights, Aug. 14-19. Ralph Alswang, who was responsible for the stirring Belafonte production that recently broke all attendance records, has staged a stunning new presentation, supported by the Greek Theater Orchestra.

PANDORA'S BOX ATTRACTION — Currently heading the outstanding show at Pandora's Box, atmospheric 8118 Sunset strip coffee house is the perennial performer, Preston Epps, whose million seller record favorite of 3 years age, "Bongo Rock" is still one of the most sought after sessions in shellac ever recorded. Bill Tilden is a specialist in making everyone feel their best and a visit to the famed Sunset and Crescent Heights site will definitely delight.

MANNE-HOLE FAVORITE — Helen Humes, Contemporary recording artist, is featured with Shelly Manne and His Men on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays at Shelly's Manne Hole on North Cahuenga. This "elegant jazz joint" presents the tops in jazz nightly from 9:30 p.m. There is a $1.00 admission charge on weekends and a 75 cent minimum nightly. Minors over 18 are welcome. Get the habit of enjoying your favorite artists at Shelly's Manne-Hole, just south of Hollywood Blvd.

VIDEO AND RADIO ROW

Missed Willie Bryant on CBS-TV on "Face The Facts" this week, but I understand that he did a commendable job of acting.

Took San Francisco artist's model, Rosetta Howard, to the early morning WCBS-Radio, Jack Sterling Show, and she was selected from the audience for an interview by Jack and gifted with a lovely transistor clock-radio. Tyree Glenn, the trombonist on the show swears he is now going to study sculpturing. I wonder what he meant by that?

TOWN HALL WORSHIP

At church on Sunday, at Town Hall, Dr. Barker delivered a fine message and among the other ears listening, I saw Attorneys Cora T. Walker, and John Doles; beautician, Bunny Jones and public relations man, D. Parke Gibson. We all went to Toffenettis for breakfast afterwards and exchanged some spiritual thoughts and ideas, along with some general chit chat. This made for a very full Sunday, and a most enjoyable one.

NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BAR-STANDER!

Received a wire from comic DICK GREGORY about two hours after last week's deadline advising us that he and his LILLIAN had increased the population with an 8 lb. and some ounces baby girl. Dick temporarily vacated his stand at the "Hungry i" in San Francisco to wing to Chi town to welcome his heiress. . . On the heels of this communique came a letter from comic BARON HARRIS, just recently opened at the EL MOROCCO in Vegas that he and the missus welcomed Sir Stork with a bundle of "girl child" joy on the 2nd of the month. The running joke around town is that if you take a plane trip, also pack a bag for Havana, just in case!

The NAACP, the CALIFORNIA EAGLE and other God-fearing folk who despise discrimination are throwing a picket line at the Coliseum Friday night protesting that RAMS-REDSKIN game inasmuch as the Redskins are so chinchy about hiring brownskins for the team. We'll be there, won't you? DOROTHY DANDRIDGE has bowed out as a participant at the half-time festivities at the request of the NAACP. She did it gently but firmly!

DOROTHY SYE, the Prexy of the C'est La Vie Club, got in touch after a quiet spell to say she and the other foxy members of her club have now established a Record Shop, so to speak, called the Compton Record Club in South L.A. on Central Avenue in the hundred and twenties, and next week we're just liable to give the exact address 'cause these are our sweeties! . . .

Actor - Stuntman BOBBY JOHNSON took a nasty spill, being knocked down hard and sliding through table legs doubling for EARL GRANT in "Tender Is the Night" at Fox. But Bobby took along his shoulder and hip pads in order to weather the blow. . .

The JACK THOMPSON'S (they've been on the Honeymoon for a year, and we mentioned their marriage here when they first got welded) took us on a tour of the town the other night, and we'll have more to say about Edge Tea Room of Mrs. Bessie Locker. The next day Mrs. Locker presented me with a belated birthday sponge cake, as requested before I went to California. Need I say the cake was scrumptious? Well, it was, so there, and I thought about you every mouthful of the way.

Selma Whitmore pens from Switzerland that she is visiting Toni Featherstone, a med-student at the University of Zurich, and thoroughly enjoying her stay.

THRIFTIMART'S 62ND OPENING ON AUGUST 15

THRIFTIMART will open their 62nd supermarket on August 15th. This new unit is located in the Spring Valley area of San Diego, at 1049 Elkelton (at Jamacha). It will be the second market for THRIFTIMART in the San Diego area. Included in the five-acre shopping center, with parking for 242 cars, will be a Cornet Variety Store, Spring Valley Automobile Supply, Olympic Cleaner, Lane's Barber Shop, Foster's Freeze, Standard Service and Oscar Beauty Shop. In the 26,250 sq. ft. market will be five complete departments; Grocery, Meat, Produce, Delicatessen and Liquor, as well as a representative Clothing and Housewares Department.

OVERWHELMINGLY ACCEPTED

The first THRIFTIMART in San Diego, at 6120 Lake Murray Boulevard (at El Paso), La Mesa, was opened March 28th of this year. The overwhelming acceptance by the people of this area, of this first unit, has prompted rapid THRIFTIMART expansion in San Diego. THRIFTIMART will begin construction almost immediately of two more supermarkets in San Diego.

The history of THRIFTIMART is one of continued success. Mr. Roger M. Laverty, Sr., President, started the THRIFTIMART chain approximately thirty-one years ago in Los Angeles. From a very small beginning, THRIFTIMART has grown into a two billion dollar a year business. THRIFTIMART stock is listed on the American Stock Exchange, and has paid, without fail, a quarterly dividend to their investors every year. THRIFTIMART owns and operates its own wholesale warehouse, known as Smart & Final Iris Company. Smart & Final Iris Company sells to grocery and supermarkets in California, Nevada and Ariozna.

Jerseymaid dairy products are featured in all THRIFTIMART stores. Jersey maid is owned and operated by THRIFTIMART and three other Los Angeles market chains. Other self-owned and operated divisions of THRIFTIMART are a Produce Warehouse, which buys and delivers to THRIFTIMART stores thousands of tons of fresh fruits and vegetables every year, a Delicatessen Kitchen, which supplies THRIFTIMART stores with the finest imported cheese products from all over the world, as well as hundreds of other delicatessen items which are sold under the Jane Anderson label at THRIFTIMART stores. THRIFTIMART also owns and operates their own Meat Plant, which specializes in Lee's Finest Quality Skinned Hams, Corned Beef and other products under the Lee label.

CHAIN SELL-A-BRATION

Mr. Ed Glaus, Superintendent of the San Diego stores, is boastfully proud of the acceptance THRIFTIMART has received from the people of San Diego and fully intends to do everything possible to deserve continued acceptance.

A month-long opening celebration will be held in both stores, beginning August 15th. There will be many valuable prizes, entertainment and thousands of specially reduced prices during this grand opening celebration.

THRIFTIMART cordially invites you to visit our stores, conveniently located in every community, during this grand opening.

and support from relatives.

Public welfare programs (relief) are overtaxed by growing loads. Their medical allowances are pathetically small and in too many cases over-harsh requirements limit their usefulness.

Last year, Congress passed the Kerr-Mills bill which gives more Federal funds to states which plan to provide better medical care through public assistance, but this is for the "medically indigent" and is no substitute for social insurance.

The Anderson-King bill which has the backing of Pres. Kennedy, as well as organized labor and other groups, would provide four kinds of health care for all persons aged 65 and over who are eligible for benefits under old age and survivors' insurance and the railroad retirement system.

The most outstanding feature of the bill is that every person who receives Social Security, who is aged 65 or older no matter how low the amount, would be entitled to four important kinds of health benefits, with the same amount available to all. For example, Susie Smith gets $30 a month and John Jones receives $150 a month, but both would be entitled to have the cost of the following services paid:

1. Full hospital services (other than doctor services) in one spell, for up to 90 days. All costs are paid after the ninth day. The patient pays only up to $10 a day for the first nine days.

2. Skilled nursing home services foll wing hospitalization for up to 180 days.

3. Outpatient hospital diagnostic services, including X-ray and laboratory services, after a deductible amount of $20.

4. Home health services for up to 240 visits a year, including nursing care and part-time homemaker services.

REDSKINS GET MESSAGE—Some 400 to 500 people—old-timers and teenagers, Negroes and whites, well-known members of the community and the hard-working residents that keep the wheels going 'round—joined Friday night's picket line at the Coliseum to tell the Redskins and the Los Angeles Times that sponsored the Rams-Redskins game, that we're tired of Jim Crow, even when it's sugar-coated. Monday reports indicate the Redskins got the message, First picture shows Jimmie Witherspoon, right, only top-flight entertainer to pound the pavement, and behind him the Eagle's Maggie Hathaway and the Sentinel's Evelyn Burwell. Second picture shows a couple of old pros from the "Don't Buy" campaigns of the '30s, Leon Washington, Jr., and Abie Robinson, second and third from left, with Brad Pye Jr., left, Elihu McGee and Howell Exum. Next picture shows some of the up-and-coming leaders of tomorrow. Fourth picture shows Celes King and an unidentified young woman who shouldered a sign and got in step. (Verdell Young.)

Beautician Shot In Escoiffure Salon Hold Up

Willie Dale Short, 26, Mississippi - born beautician was shot and killed by one of two gunmen who held up the Escoiffure Beauty Salon, 9105 S. Broadway, at closing time Saturday night.

Short, a former paratrooper, was shot in the chest when one of the thugs pulled the trigger of his sawed-off rifle, accusing his victim of "holding out" on him and not turning over loose change that was in his pocket.

FACES MASKED

The gunmen had ordered the occupants of the shop to lie down on the floor and, after the shooting, backed out the front door and vanished.

Both hold-up men had masked their faces with handkerchiefs. The killer's partner carried a double-barreled shotgun.

Short, part-owner of the store, was tidying up the place after the day's work, when the armed robbers entered. In the store at the time were co-owner and manager Leonard Howard, 11906 S. Figueroa street; Emerson Brodie, 221 W. Vernon Avenue; and a customer, Kathryn Grissom, 3030½ S. Harvard Blvd.

The gunmen ordered all present

Local Woman Leads Police to Kidnaped Baby

The quick thinking, quick acting and kind heart of Mrs. Charlotte White, 23, of 1132 E. 51st street, Monday led to the rapid solution of the latest local baby kidnaping case and the return of the blond baby, Donald Michalke, to his mother.

At the Church of God Gospel Tabernacle, 5022 S. Central avenue, Sunday evening, Mrs. White became concerned about the hunger cry of a seven-months-old boy whose 6-foot tall mother was unable to comfort him.

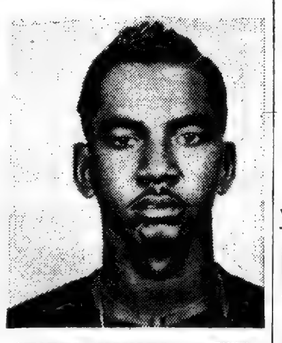
GAVE THEM SHELTER

When the "mother," who gave her name as Beverly Wilson but who police say is Mrs. Bonnie Rose Barrington, told a hard-luck story about how her sailor husband had put her out of the house, Mrs. White took the woman and the child to her home, cared for them and fed them.

The next day Mrs. White insisted that the woman let her take her home and drove her to a housing project in Long Beach where "Mrs. Wilson" said she lived.

IT FIGURED

Upon returning, Mrs. White read the story of the kidnaping. It figured. She notified police. Police notified the FBI.



With Mrs. White as guide, officers went to the Long Beach housing project and found the baby.

Mrs. Wilson, or Mrs. Barrington, had disappeared. Police information indicated she is mentally disturbed, childless and con-[illegible] with mother love.

'Magnificent' Leaders

TOP MAN — Leader among the unsavory "Magnificents" is William Joe King, son of an Alabama Baptist preacher.

SHARES HONORS — Willie Charles White, King's half-brother, shares leadership in the "love-for-pay" racket.

Woman Tires Of Hired Love, Tips Off Police

A tip given police by a young woman who is a sometime waitress and a sometime lady-of-the-night provided the link last Thursday morning that led to the arrest of "The Magnificent Seven," who are accused of transporting women from Cleveland to Los Angeles for purposes of prostitution.

Norma L. Bailey, 26, walked into the University Police Station about 3:15 a.m. and said, "I want to turn in my man." The reasons, were that he had beaten her up that night, that she had been "busted" (arrested) twice that week and that "I'm just tired."

$100 A NIGHT

She named Billy King, 22, of 2623 West blvd., as the man for whom she worked for the past three weeks and said that she turned over to him $100 a night. After she made that, she said, she could go home.

William Joe King, FBI special agent William G. Simon said Saturday, was one of the ringleaders of the so-called "Magnificent Seven," whom they have been investigating for months.

Simon said prostitutes controlled by the group concentrated their street-walking in the Adams blvd. and Crenshaw area and on portions of the Sunset Strip.

HALF BROTHER

Ringleader along with King, said Simon, is his half-brother, Willie Charles White.

Others in the group, which boasts of its expensive clothes

Mother Eartha (To-be) Shocks British Viewers

When actress - singer Eartha Kitt went on TV in England Sunday night she found her tent-like dress was not sufficiently concealing. She also found difficulty hoisting herself upon a stool to sing, causing her to look down and chuckle:

"Okay, Junior, this is the last engagement."

Thousands of viewers protested her appearance "in her condition."

Eartha is married to William McDonald, a Chicago businessman.

ONE OF THE BOYS — One of the boys who helps out wherever he can in the "Magnificents" activities is Glenn Dine Smith.

Cab Driver Hearing Set

John W. Riley, Yellow Cab driver who was arrested Aug. 5 for slaying his choir-singing wife, Mrs. Ma[illegible]e Riley, was scheduled to face a preliminary hearing on a charge of murder at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday morning in Division 40.

Riley, apparently jealous and bitter because his wife left him seven months ago to live with an aunt at 411 E. 43rd street, blamed Andre Hardrick, choir master, for his difficulties.

The Rev. T. W. Coggs, pastor of the Progressive Baptist Church, 1201 E. Vernon avenue, pointed out to the Eagle this week that none of the three members of the triangle were members of his church at the time of the killing.

Mrs. Riley was a member of the choir when Hardrick came to the church last year, but she resigned. Both Riley and Hardrick left the church subsequently, Rev. Coggs asserted, following a conference he had with them.

Hardrick insisted that Riley's suspicions were groundless.

Lynch Charge Dropped as Memorial Day Trial Opens

Two Face Stiff Counts, White Jury

"Lynching" charges were suddenly dropped against two young Negroes by the District Attorney's office Monday and they were placed on trial for aggravated assault, rescuing a prisoner from police and assaulting police.

Facing a 12-member jury in Superior Court Tuesday were Andrew McLemore, 18, of 4201 S. Normandie avenue, and Willie F. Jones, 22, of 5118 W. 20th street.

POLICE INEPT

Both McLemore and Jones were arrested in connection with the notorious Memorial Day disorder in Griffith Park when police, called to quell noise from a group of Negro teenagers, reportedly manhandled and cursed the noisemakers. A grand melee ensued. A police car was overturned, bottles and stones were tossed.

Police say they apprehended one Negro youth and claimed Jones and McLemore opened the police car door and let him out when their backs were turned.

200 KIDS

Police also claimed they were struck by several Negroes. Out of a group of about 200, many of them youngsters, officers arrested McLemore and Jones, charging them with lynching.

McLemore was released from jail last week on personal bond while the case was held up in the court of Superior Judge Lewis Drucker. Jones made bond shortly after he was arrested. On Monday, the case was assigned to the court of Superior Judge LeRoy Dawson.

On Tuesday, as the prosecution opened its case, Ross R. Davis, operator of the merry-go-round

'No Colored' Clincher Kills Apartment Deal

By LEE SANDERS

My 15-year-old nephew has just returned from a sojourn in the deep south and we were discussing the Freedom Riders.

"Isn't it good we don't have prejudice in L.A.?" he said.

At the time, I was on the ragged edge of a weeks' long search for a quiet place to live. I'm a day-sleeper, and in this Time-of-the-Big-Noise, a quiet place is almost as hard to find as brotherly love.

LIKE A MIRACLE

Miraculously, though, a few days later I found it. A most unlikely location — the Kingsley Studio Apartments, on Kingsley just off Sunset. But way to the rear of the building, kitchen and living room on the second floor, bedrooms on third. Split-level living, yet! Heavily carpeted to cut noise of footsteps, thick old walls to deaden sounds of other peoples' living while I slept. The kitchen and bathroom were old,

4 Riders Are Beaten In Houston Jail Cell

Four white Freedom Riders, who were among the 11 who left here last Wednesday to test segregation at the Union Station coffee shop in Houston, Texas, report that they were badly beaten and mauled by fellow prisoners crowded into a make-shift "tank" a few minutes after they were placed in jail Friday.

The "tank"—a former dining room—was filled with about 100 men, twice as many as it was supposed to hold. The prisoners had been informed the Riders were coming and about 10 of them ganged up and began beating them, using twisted towels as their weapons. The beatings lasted 10 to 15 minutes and were repeated at intervals.

CUT ON HEAD

(In Jackson, Miss., by contrast, the 189 Freedom Riders who returned from all sections of the country for their mass arraignment Monday, were given protection by police who have boasted that there have been no "incidents" since the Riders made their appearance there.)

One of the Riders, Robert Kaufman, 23, a student at the University of California in Berkeley, was hurled against the bars of the tank and was cut on the

Loren Miller says...

Don't Stop Me

Don't stop me if you've heard this one because I want to get in a few words about the discussion raised by the boycott of the Rams Redskin game. As nearly as I can make out, nobody has a good word for the Redskin record. Everybody agrees that its policy of excluding Negro players should have gone out with high button shoes and bustles. What disagreement there is revolves around the claim that the boycott was ill advised because a portion of the game's proceeds were earmarked for the Southern Area Boys Club —this year and in years past.

I see little merit in the contention. The Number One enemy of Negroes, all Negroes, is racial discrimination. It has to be grappled with wherever it rears its head. I recall yeaes ago when

Leon Washington and I were promoting a Don't Buy campaign against a local store in order to

Reversal Follows Picketing

After facing angry words from Negro newspapers and pickets in the East and Midwest, George Preston Marshall, Jim Crow protagonist and owner of the Washington Redskins football team, called it quits when he faced the all-out boycott and picketing deployed against him and his team in Los Angeles last Friday night.

Three days after the game, on Monday, Marshall announced he was ending his "no-Negro" policies, and would hire Negro players by next football season.

MARSHALL SHAKEN

In Los Angeles, after the picketed game, white sports writers told of Marshall being visibly shaken Friday night when he saw the endless, silent lines of Negroes and whites carrying signs at the Coliseum gates. The signs, carried by marchers from the Eagle, the Sentinel, the NAACP, CORE and persons from various walks of life, protested the selection by the L. A. Times of the Redskins to play in the annual charity game.

There was no doubt that the picketing and publicity hampered attendance.

Two-thirds of the persons attending the game were children. At the last minute the Times had

Baby Dies in Bathtub at Child Center

A 17-month-old baby girl, Grace Laura Legnon, of 736 W. 137th street, died last Wednesday while in a bathtub in a private child care center at 215 E. 95th street.

The child had been left at the center, which is operated by Mrs. Marie Smith, as both parents, Roderick and Diane Legnon, are employed.

ACCIDENTAL

The couple has one other child, a three-year-old boy.

Police investigating the death reported it was accidental.

Mrs. Smith said she was giving the baby a bath and left her in the tub alone for about three minutes while she went for some clean clothes. There was about six inches of water in the tub.

When she returned, she found Grace slumped over, unconscious, but her head was not under the water, Mrs. Smith told police.

GRABBED CHILD

Alarmed, Mrs. Smith, instead of calling the Fire Department, grabbed the child, rushed next door to get a neighbor to drive her to a doctor. The first doctor was out. The second doctor, Dr. T. J. Robinson, of 9516 S. Main street, called the Fire Department, but the child was already dead.

A bruise on the little girl's forehead assertedly came when she bumped her head slightly on a door earlier in the day. It was not considered serious.

Police said no inquest was scheduled. The coroner's office had not completed an autopsy at press time.

Funeral services were held Monday.

ordered that any single paying adult could bring in five children free.

200 CROSS LINES

Only about 200 Negroes saw the game; thousands stayed away. Several hundred milled around the gates and refused to cross the picket lines.

Comic Sloppy Daniels kept marching pickets laughing. Elihu "Black Dot" McGee, who has never missed a Rams home game, missed his first one.

One Negro fan, Ed Jackson, from Passaic, N. J., stopped at the gate and inquired the reason for the picket line.

"Then I'm not going in, either," he said upon learning the reason. "I was going in, but not now." Jackson, brother of Luther Jackson, Jr., writer with the Washington Post, then joined the pickets.

'SPOON' PICKETS

Jimmy Witherspoon, nationally known singer appearing at the Black Orchid, carried a sign saying "Don't Go In." Said Witherspoon:

"I'm all for this fight. Jim Crow is a drag."

Delores O'Bryant, a blonde student of 1455 Avon Park Terrace, said: "Marshall should not be allowed here, or anywhere in the league with his racism."

Composer Evelyn Burwell: "I must believe in integration. You see me carrying this sign, don't you?"

Peggy Benton, white, awaiting arrival of her actor husband, Gene: "I don't want to go in now. Negroes are right to feel insulted to be told they are not wanted simply because they are Negroes."

LEFT STANDING

Isaiah Israel and Lambda Anderson joined the lines of Negroes standing at the main gate without buying tickets. Both said they approved of the line, as one Negro fan bolted from the side of his wife and hurried in, leaving his wife looking for him as she told the Eagle: "I have been too busy working to read the papers, but I agree with you, though I have to do what my husband says." She went in.

Judy Udkoff, of 3571 Crown Ridge Drive, Sherman Oaks, was left standing at the gate by her escort when Judy, who is white, refused to cross the picket line. Her escort threw the ticket to the ground and walked in without her. Miss Udkoff tried to give the ticket to some Negroes standing near. A white bystander finally accepted it, and the young lady went home.

WHY STAY OUT?

One Negro man, with five children in tow, stopped to yell on the Eagle tape recorder: "Why should I stay out? Tom Wilson and those other colored fellows on the Rams should strike with you. Then there wouldn't be no game and I couldn't go no way!"

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall had threatened to bar the Redskins from playing in the new D. C. government-owned stadium, if Marshall persisted in his Jim Crow policies.

Upon his return to Washington from Los Angeles, Marshall sent a letter to National Football League commissioner Pete Rozelle in New York, promising to hire Negro players when the draft, or hiring, season comes next Fall. His letter must have been written over the weekend.

Udall reportedly announced he accepted Marshall's promise as one made in good faith.

CALLS ARREST 'SILLY'

Judge David W. Williams last Friday called the arrest of a man sitting on a bench six feet from a gin rummy game in MacArthur Park that was raided by police "silly."

He acquitted Louis Patoff, 50, of 825 S. Park View street, who had been free on $157 bail.

Rubber Stamp Sentences Get Stiff Scrutiny

The criminal complaints committee of the Los Angeles County Grand Jury moved this week to press serious study into long-term "whim" sentences given by a court clerk to men jailed for being drunk.

Many of the sentences reportedly were given in rubber-stamp fashion by the court clerk to men who had actually been sentenced to short terms by Judge Thomas L. Griffith in Municipal Court.

SUSPEND CLERK

Named in a complaint and petition filed by Deputy City Public Defender Floyd Davis was James Staples, of 5049 Navarro street, a clerk in the court of Judge Robert Clifton. Staples reportedly conducted his own sentencing of drunks brought before Judge Griffith who was sitting in session for the Lincoln Heights court of Judge Clifton who was on vacation.

George J. Barbour, chief clerk of Municipal Court, suspended Staples for a month pending his own investigation. Staples was charged with "conduct unbecoming a public employe."

Lawyers Will Increase Fight On Civil Rights

The cause of civil rights in general and the Freedom Riders in particular drew the unqualified support of the National Bar Association as it concluded its annual convention here last Saturday. The lawyers also adopted resolutions urging additional appointments of Negroes to judicial posts and to other governmental positions. Next year's convention will be held in Atlantic City.

Chosen to head the lawyers for the coming year was Robert E. Lillard, Nashville city councilman, who told his colleagues that he would make every effort to double the membership of the organization and increase its usefulness.

Other officers are: Theodore W. Coggs (Milwaukee), 1st vice-president; Reuben E. Lawson, (Roanoke, Va.) 2nd vice-president; Theodore W. Crowley (Chicago), 3rd vice-president; Charles Waugh (Muskegon, Michigan), 4th vice-president; Jewel Stradford Rogers (Chicago), secretary; Leona Pouncey Thurman, (Kansas City, Mo.), assistant secretary; and W. H. Hawkins (Nashville, Tenn.), treasurer. To the executive board, the following were elected; Maceo Turner (Atlantic City, N. J.); William S. Thompson, (Washington, D.C.); George W. Crockett (Detroit); J. F. McClelland (Nashville); C. Francis Stradford (Chicago); and T. J. Henry (Atlanta).

Seminars and panels heard many of the nation's most distinguished lawyers discuss a variety of topics. Discussion leaders included Attys. George W. Crockett, Detroit; Jack Young, Mississippi; Donald L. Hollowell, Atlanta; Euclid Taylor and George Leighton, Chicago; Loren Mille and Vaino Spencer, Los Angeles and Cecil Poole, San Francisco.

The Langston Law Club of which James R. Akers is president acted as host. Atty. Leo Branton was chairman of the convention committee.

Narcotics Agent Killed in Vegas

LAS VEGAS — William Tollus Green, 32, identified as an undercover agent for the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, was found murdered here Friday in what authorities described as a gangland killing.

Green testified last May in a narcotics case in Los Angeles in which Morris Joseph, 35, was sentenced to 60 years in jail.

The dead man's body was found in his parked car, two bullet holes in the back of his head.

N. Y. Labor Party Plans To Back Mayor Wagner

NEW YORK — A new labor party is scheduled to be on the ballot in New York's November municipal elections —but its name is still in doubt, as is also the question of its independence from the Democratic Party.

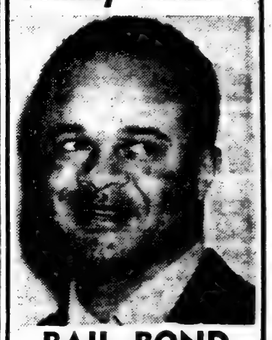
The name proposed by labor leaders was the "Freedom Party," but a corporation formed by right-wing politicians has already assumed that name, and this may preclude its use by New York's workers.

The proposal for a labor party was first put forward by 15 labor leaders last April, and was approved by the city's Central Labor Council in July.

The Central Labor Council, however, at the same meeting also endorsed Mayor Robert F. Wagner for re-election, thus throwing considerable doubt on the independent character of the new formation.

Wagner, at odds with Tammany Hall, is a Democrat and is supported by what is called the "independent - liberal" grouping within the Democratic Party, headed by former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman.

Mother Seeks Death by Gas



Sarah Wilkes reported to police that 20 minutes after her mother, Mrs. Carolyn Wilkes, 32, of 5108 Woodlawn avenue, went into the bathroom last Sunday morning, she smelled the odor of gas. Pushing in the door, she found her mother on the floor unconscious.

She could give no reason for her mother's actions. Mrs. Wilkes was treated at Morningside Hospital and later transferred to General Hospital.

Allen University students gather for an informal supper at Dean Cumbo's apartment. Left to right are Sitrena Burris, Miss Cumbo and Gloria Massey. Main dish will be chicken with Carnation cream sauce (recipe below). "Carnation has been the milk in my home as long as I can remember," Miss Cumbo says. "In fact, it was my formula milk when I was a baby." This milk in the red and white can is the world's favorite, by far.

With Dr. Frank R. Veal, President of Allen University, Dean Cumbo discusses second semester plans during coffee break. "Most of us here at school prefer Carnation to cream in our coffee," Miss Cumbo points out. "It makes coffee taste so delicious—and it's nice to know Carnation cuts fat calories in half!"

Dean of Students at Allen University tells why...

"Carnation is the milk I use like cream for coffee and cooking—even whipping!"

During her busy day at Allen University in Columbia, South Carolina, Miss T. Lorraine Cumbo likes to relax for a coffee break now and then. After school she comes home to her attractive apartment on the campus—and relaxes by serving dinner to student guests!

"Cooking is my hobby—but I'm careful about calories. That's why I cook with Carnation. It makes everything taste so creamy—but it has only ½ the fat calories of cream."

Today's Carnation is evaporated a special way that makes it look, pour and even whip like cream—with ½ the fat calories, and at ½ the cost of cream. Even when you mix it with an equal amount of water, Carnation gives smoother cooking results than ordinary milk, at far less cost.

recipe:

Creamed Chicken with CARNATION LUMP-FREE CREAM SAUCE
(Makes about 4 servings)

2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1⅔ cups (large can) undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK

Blend flour, salt and butter together in saucepan over low heat until smooth. Gradually add undiluted Carnation to butter-flour mixture. Stir constantly until thickened and smooth. For Creamed Chicken or Turkey: Pour "Lump-Free" Cream Sauce over mixture of 2 cups chopped cooked chicken or turkey, ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup sliced stuffed olives. Serve over toast slices or toasted buns.

Child is Victim Of Wild Shot In Street Fight

Three - and - a - half year old Roy Louis was ready to take a ride on a bicycle with David Halsell last Sunday when he was shot through the right elbow. The child was the innocent victim of a quarrel between grownups.

The shooting occurred outside the home of Louise Daisy Jacobs, 35, of 1020 E. 43rd street, where she was arguing with Andrew Nicholson, 41, of 1350 E. 50th street, who was seated in his parked car.

Nicholson apparently was attempting to effect a reconciliation with Miss Jacobs and was also obsessed with the notion that he was being pursued by a mob.

Halsell, 23, of 4816 S. Normandie avenue, rode up on his bicycle and stopped to give Roy a ride as the argument between Miss Jacobs and Nicholson reached its climax.

Miss Jacobs said that as she started to walk away from the car, Nicholson got out and fired at her, but missed. She ran and hid, but heard two more shots.

Nicholson, apparently believing that Halsell was one of the "gang" that was after him, turned toward the younger man as Miss Jacobs disappeared and fired at him.

Nicholson gave himself up at Newton Street Police Station and said that he started to shoot at Louise and then shot at Halsell and that he "guessed" that's when he hit the little boy.

Roy was treated at Orthopedic Hospital for a compound fracture of the elbow.

'Draft Loren Miller' Meeting Slated Mon.

Seeking to run the "best possible candidate" for congress in the 21st district, a group of civic minded citizens will meet Monday night, Aug. 21, at U.S.C. to form a Draft Loren Miller Committee.

The meeting will convene at 8 p.m. in Founders Hall, 34th and University streets.

EMINENTLY QUALIFIED

Citing Atty. Miller's 30-year fight in California and the nation for civil rights and equal opportunity, spokesman for the group declared that he is eminently qualified to be the first Negro Congressman from California.

"We need a fighter like Attorney Miller to represent us in our nation's capital. Atty. Miller has conducted a long and unswerving fight against racial discrimination.

Those seeking to draft Miller for the congressional race point out that he led the fight in Los Angeles and California against discrimination in civil service and private employment, police brutality and the Jim Crow Fire Department. He was the first attorney to challenge Race Restriction covenants as a violation of the constitution, a successful fight he carried to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Atty. Miller is national vice president of the NAACP, member of the National Legal Committee of the NAACP; Board of Trustees of the National Urban League; vice president of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing, is active in many local civic organizations, and is publisher of the California Eagle.

The public is invited to the meeting Monday night which will be devoted to organizing the drive to raise funds necessary to run Mr. Miller for Congress.

The Magnavox Company reports the nation's TV repair bill last year amounted to more than $3-billion.

Kenyatta Exile Ends in Triumph

Jomo "Burning Spear" Kenyatta, 71, acknowledged leader of Kenya's seven million Africans, was released this week from eight years of imprisonment and house arrest.

He returned to his native village in triumph after his long period of exile imposed upon him for leading the fight against the British rulers, and was greeted by a jubilant demonstration.

Informed sources say Kenyatta may well become the first prime minister of Kenya when it gains its independence in 1962.

The government built a house for Kenyatta, and his admirers furnished it for him.

P.O. Mechanic Tries Suicide

Becoming despondent due to financial difficulties, Donnie Thurman, 25, of 1252½ W. 35th place, a post office mechanic, went to Ida Smith's home last Friday and told her he had just taken 100 aspirin.

Mrs. Smith, who lives at 1552 W. 22nd street, said Thurman stayed about ten minutes and then drove away. He was found later in his car at 22nd and Catalina, unconscious, with an empty aspirin bottle by his side.

He was removed to Central Receiving Hospital.

Overtime Not Paid, Say Trash Handlers

A dozen or more trash handlers are expected to file charges shortly against contractors who engaged them to haul away rubbish and refuse from Los Angeles homes.

The handlers will charge they were underpaid, not paid for overtime and misled about laws and rules governing contracting and sub-contracting for trash handling.

ALL NEGROES

The handlers are all Negroes. The firms who contracted with the city and county of Los Angeles for the hauling are owned by whites.

One case involving such a complaint was lodged this week by Attys. Herbert M. Porter and D. C. Korman, in behalf of John Shine.

Shine, a Negro, charges that Charles Pratty, owner of a firm under contract to do a major portion of the hauling by the city of Los Angeles, did not pay him for overtime according to the Labor Code.

Atty. Porter declared in Shine's amended complaint that the Labor Code "spells out emphatically in its Public Works contracts rules that a contractor must not have his workers or any subcontractors work over eight hours a day or 40 hours per week on straight time.

NO RECORDS

"The code demands that the men be paid one-and-a-half time for overtime," said Porter. "Some of the contractors, who reap enormous benefits from the city and county without passing them on to the men doing the actual work, claim they have not kept any records or books as to time worked by these men.

"There again they are violating the law. Section 1814 decrees that all rubbish contractors enjoying these city-county contract benefits must keep accurate records. And it is a misdemeanor not to keep them. Besides, a contractor guilty of these charges must pay the city or county engaging him a penalty of $10 a day per man."

Porter said the men's charges date back two years. The complaints will be heard in Superior Court.

Gene Fowler visited W. C. Fields shortly before his death and found the ailing comedian reading the Bible. "I'm looking for the loopholes," Fields explained shyly.

FEPC Orders Back Pay in Bias Decision

A San Francisco photographic supply firm was found to have violated the California Fair Employment Practice Act and ordered to pay $2,175.50 back wages to a Negro shipping clerk, under a decision announced recently by the FEP Commission.

The T. H. Wilton Company and its general manager, George Ryerson, discriminated against Clarence B. Ramsey because of his race when they refused him employment last January, the Commission found.

The company was also ordered to establish nondiscriminatory hiring practices. Wages received by Ramsey for occasional work during five months of unemployment will be deducted from the back-pay award.

Harry Peterson, president of the Wilton firm, was not personally involved in the violation, according to the Commission findings, and charges against him were dismissed.

The Commission's decision and order was based on its second formal public hearing in 20 months of operation under the FEP Act. The hearing was held in San Francisco last June 13 and 14.

Joe Adams Mc's Ralphs 8th Avenue Market Opening

The importance of the gala opening celebration of Ralphs beautiful new store at Washington Boulevard and Eighth Avenue is stressed by the announcement that world-famous D.J. and recording artist, Joe Adams will be there!

Joe Adams Mc's

In fact, he'll be there Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., with records to give away, celebrities to introduce, and a warm welcome for his many fans.

'MAYOR' BETWEEN TRIPS

"We're pretty lucky in the timing of the opening," said Richard Mahler, manager of the beautiful new Ralphs Washington store. "Joe Adams, the mayor of melody, is just back from Europe where he directed the Ray Charles Show on the Riviera, and he's off to Europe again in September, so Ralphs opening couldn't have come at a better time for us."

LOCAL PRODUCT

Joe Adams has had more than his share of honors in his seventeen-year career as disc jockey, recording artist, actor, director and producer for stage and screen. He has been prominent in television, too, with "Joe Adams Presents" on KTTV, and the Sheena of the Jungle series on KABC-TV, and is remembered for the Parade of Bands for NBC.

"JOE ADAMS" DAY

He is probably the only disc jockey in this vicinity who has a day named for him. The Los Angeles City Council designated March 14, 1953 "Joe Adams Day" in recognition of his contributions to civic betterment. The magazine, "Fem" named him "Man of the Year" in 1955, and he won the Foreign Correspondents Press Association Award in 1956.

PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

And, this is the same Joe Adams who will tape interviews and color stories at Ralphs new Washington Store three days this week. They will be broadcast each following day during his regular 12 to 2 p.m. show on KNOB-FM.

CLOWN 'MEDALS'

Man Kidnaps Beautician to Win Her Love

In a desperate attempt to win back his estranged sweetheart at gun point, Ernest Dennis, 42, of 1188 W. Exposition blvd., kidnapped her from the beauty shop at 3221½ S. Central avenue, where she is employed, last Saturday morning shortly after the shop opened.

The two reportedly separated a short time ago. Louella Grubbs, beauty operator, 43, of 990 E. 32nd street, told police that since then Dennis had been molesting her and telling her friends he was going to kill her. He entered the shop while she was styling the hair of Lovie Johnson, of 919 E. 32nd street. She continued to work as Dennis spoke to the customers in the salon.

He asked Miss Grubbs what was the matter with her. She did not answer. Calling her by her nickname, "Skipper," he reportedly pointed a gun at her and said he was going to kill her. The two women begged him not to shoot.

At gun point and dragging her by the arm, Dennis forced Miss Grubbs into his car, police said. Stopping in front of a cleaning shop at 801 E. Jefferson blvd., Dennis said he was going to get some clothes. He returned in about five minutes and was driving west on Jefferson blvd. when he was apprehended by the police.

The officers did not find a gun in the car but located it later at the cleaners on E. Jefferson blvd. Police said the gun was stolen in 1946.

Dennis later admitted he was wrong in attempting to frighten Miss Grubbs, but he said he thought if he bluffed her enough she would come back to him.

He further stated that he picked up the gun at his brother's cleaning shop on his way to the beauty salon and returned to the shop to slip it back behind the counter.

Dennis was charged with kidnapping.

It's The Law Up Here, Too

Northern boards of education which have been conniving at segregation in public schools by drawing boundary lines to include whites in one district and Negroes in another had better take a look at a recent decision of the United States Court of Appeals.

The Court upheld the decision of a federal district judge who ordered the New Rochelle, New York — New York, not Alabama or Mississippi — to undo its discriminatory work by drawing district lines in such a manner as to eliminate racial segregation.

Most northern cities effectuate school segregation by conforming location of schools to the pattern of residential segregation.

School boundary lines ramble around in a gerrymander pattern and when all is said and done white pupils are in one school and Negroes in another.

The Los Angeles Board of Education isn't guilty of any downright gerrymandering of school lines but the same thing can't be said of Pasadena and some of our neighboring cities.

School segregation on racial lines is an evil wherever it is practiced, north as well as south. The recent decision offers hope that a means has been found to tackle it in northern cities which give lip service to the laws and yet find ways of doing what southern states do.

Plenty of Discrimination

Los Angeles county supervisors who set out last week to determine whether or not the color line plays a part in county employment won't have to look far to find some very peculiar circumstances.

The county counsel's office—and incidentally the county counsel is the legal advisor to the board of supervisors—has never had a Negro lawyer on its rolls. That's mighty strange in light of the fact that Negro lawyers have served as county district attorneys, as public defenders and as assistant United States attorneys. Some Negro lawyers have even been elevated to the bench.

Through it all, the county counsel has never been able to find a "qualified" Negro among those who have taken examinations for a position as deputy county counsel.

There are other departments where Negroes can't seem to pass muster. Of course, the appointing officers insist that they would never, never, never discriminate but something's the matter when one county office finds that Negroes fit its specifications while a neighboring office can't find a single one.

One of the rules applied by FEP commissions the nation over is that when there is a pattern of exclusion of Negroes there's reason to suspect that discrimination is being practiced. We suggest that the supervisors apply that rule to all departments where no Negroes are employed.

Trying to Frighten Warren

At bottom the recurrent cry for the impeachment of Chief Justice Earl Warren reflects southern rage and disappointment at his opinion in the school segregation cases.

Senator James Eastland of Mississippe was one of the first of the Dixiecrats to demand the removal of the chief justice and since that time he has gone on record as wanting to have the full court impeached and removed from office.

What the John Birch Society has done has been to pick up and elaborate on the southern demand with the accusation that Chief Justice Warren's civil rights and civil liberties opinions convict him of "Communist sympathies." Of course, there is absolutely no merit in the charges.

Nor is there the faintest ground for belief that impeachment proceedings will be undertaken. The John Birchers know that. They aren't really trying to impeach the chief justice.

What they are trying to do is to discredit the Supreme Court as it is now constituted and to frighten the justices into taking a reactionary tack on both civil rights and civil liberties matters.

Opposition to racial discrimination in the United States is far older than the present Communist party or its predecessors. It springs out of a belief in the theory that all men are created equal as enunciated in the Declaration of Independnce. Opposition to discrimination will continue as long as men hold that inspiring belief.

The Best Qualified Man

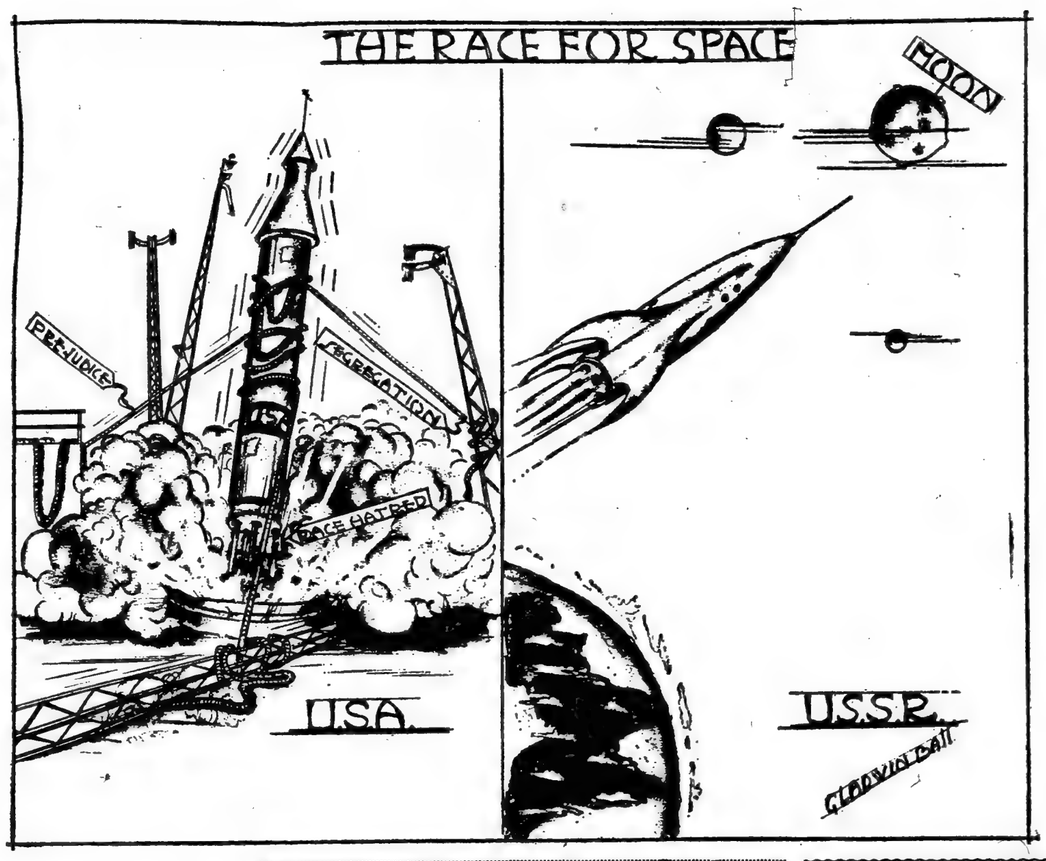
Councilmen Edward Roybal and Rosalind Wyman put their fingers on a significant fact last week when they observed that the best qualified candidates for the 10th district vacancy are Negroes.

We think that any examination of the applicants will demonstrate the truth of that assertion. And if we could rely on the Council picking the best person for the job we could rest our case right there.

However, it is our sad experience that there is a double standard in American life as far as public office is concerned. There is one standard for whites, all of whom are presumed to be qualified and another for Negroes all of whom are required to prove that they are superior to all other contestants.

Politicians have a way of demanding perfection when a Negro seeks a position of any consequence and if the Negro applicant isn't perfect he is passed over while a person with lesser qualifications is appointed.

City Council has a golden opportunity to right a long standing wrong by appointing a Negro to the 10th district vacancy. It should embrace that opportunity.



Stay in School? -- Certainly

The Los Angeles Urban League deserves support for its Stay-in-School campaign. Figures show that there are far too many drop-outs among Negro students at the high school and junior college levels.

The tragedy is that many of those who decide against securing an education are well equipped for the task. They quit for a variety of reasons. Many of them might decide to stick it out if they had a little encouragement. In many instances, the student might complete a college education if he could be induced to finish his high school course.

Youngsters these days don't take anything for granted. They want to be shown. And they have to be shown that getting an education is important — important to them as individuals as well as to the community.

The League is well equipped to take the leadership in the drive to encourage students but it can't do the job without community support. The very least the rest of us can do is to tell the story of what the League is trying to do and to offer it our help in the task.

Loren Miller Says . . .

compel employment of clerks, that we were met with the argument that we should let up on a particular place of business because it did hire Negro janitors. The argument went that if we persisted the janitors would get fired. We didn't give in and the result was that the store kept the janitors and hired some clerks to boot.

Calculated Risk

When the legal case against segregated schools was being prepared there were those who advised caution on the ground that closing of Negro schools would, or might, throw some Negro teachers out of jobs. Of course, there was that possibility but its existence wasn't important enough to call for dropping the campaign against Jim Crow schools. It was a risk that Negroes had to take.

It is certainly true that every person who stayed away from the game last week diminished the share of the proceeds that would have gone to the Boys Club. But the argument against the boycott was misplaced. The persons who had it in their power to decide how much, or how little, the Boys Club would get were those in charge of the game. If they wanted the Boys Club to get more money through increased attendance, all they had to do was to persuade George Marshall of the error of his ways. A dramatic announcement on the eve of the game that the Redskins had changed their policy would have sent sales skyrocketing.

Real Question

The real question is that of the welfare of the boys who avail themselves of the services of the Boys Club. Most of them need encouragement. They need to know that if they prepare themselves they can have a chance to exploit their talents to the fullest in our society. I know of no better way of discouraging them and of herding them off to frustration than telling them, by example, that no matter how good they may be they won't be hired by those who control jobs. And that is precisely what the Redskins have been telling Negro football players for years and years.

It doesn't do much good to ladle out charity to Negroes on the one hand and to discriminate against them on the other. The good that charity does is blotted out by the evil that is worked by discrimination. On reflection, all of us know that. We express the idea when we say, as most of us do, that what Negroes want is a chance, not charity. In the long view, charity will keep us alive; opportunities will make us men.

'Lynch' Trial

in Griffith Park where the incident occurred, described the police officers who made the arrests as conducting themselves in an entirely proper manner. He said officers had been called when Negro boys were stealing rides on the merry-go-round.

Two police officers called to the scene provided the court with high emotionalism during cross-examination from Atty. Herbert M. Porter.

One of them, Patrolman John D. Calderwood, caused eyebrow-raising from the all-white jury when he admitted he had struck one of the defendants, Jones, "twice, as hard as I could."

At one point Judge Dawson reprimanded Porter when the lawyer tried to get Calderwood to say what he reportedly had said on June 14 at a preliminary hearing.

At that time Calderwood allegedly was unable to identify the right Negro youth he claims he placed under arrest at the park. Nor would Judge Dawson let Porter introduce preliminary testimony from Calderwood showing where he referred to several of the Negroes in the mixup as a "bunch of niggers."

Doctor to patient: "I want you to skip your vacation this year and get a good rest."

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

When this column appears—provided there is no skyjacking or bomb-planting or such-like to interfer—I'll be in Beirut, Lebanon. From there I'll go on to Athens and Oslo, with little-snack stop-overs in Paris and Rome. Europe at any time of the year is a very pleasant place for tourists, in any country outside of the Iron Curtain.

Even Paris and Rome are something special in August, in spite of being cram-packed with tourists from Germany, the U.S.A. and other countries enjoying "the abundant life." While the less-traveled themselves to the more exploration-minded tourists as true paradises of discovered enjoyment. There are food and music, each differing in its national setting; there are the sights of historic interest and the fresh views of a nature that has been tamed and gentled in comparison with our mountains and plains and deserts and lakes.

GRANGER

But principally there are the people—people not only to watch but also to know, to approach with polite friendliness and to appreciate with the special appreciation that grows only from mutual liking.

A MAN'S SMOKE

Thus, my pleasant recollection of Beirut stems not from its charming, unmodernized but comfortable small hotels and restaurants, but from an evening in a coffee shop, where an amiable Sqrian taught me the mysteries and joys of the nargileh, or hookah—the famous water-cooled pipe of the East. He showed me how to hook up the long tube with the vase of water that sat on the floor, and to draw smoke from the brazier where the rough tobacco burned, down through the water and up into the mouth.

In my case, my first incautious gulp of smoke didn't stop at the mouth. It went into the throat and got into the lungs. I must have looked a sight, coughing and strangling and trying to be apologetic all the time while the other coffee shop patrons smiled, or looked sympathetic, or laughed out loud, according to their natures.

My friend sat up and howled with laughter like a lost hyena. Then he sobered and clunked me on the back and gave me some water to cool my rasped throat. He enever apologized to me for leading me down the garden path, so to speak. His attitude was that I wanted to learn to smoke a man's smoke, so I was learning, and there was only one way to learn and mine was that way.

FIREWORKS IN HEAD

In an odd kind of way that incident made me like him as a coffee shop pal, and we had a fine time that evening doing nothing but talk. His English was even worse than my French, but we managed to communicate—on the oddities of Americans and the whimsicalities of the Lebanese on the Arab-Israeli split (he called it war), on the taste of Scotch whiskey (which I liked and he found abominable) and on why we liked each other.

Perhaps the real reason for our mutual liking was the fact that the coffee shop also served a colorless liquid, the name of which I have forgotten (I'll tell you when I get back, if you're interested) but the effect of which I never shall. It burnt at first and its licorish flavor took some getting used to; then, when acquaintanceship diminished caution and repeated doses gave a fictitious confidence that I could "take it," the world suddenly exploded into a ringing of bells and fireworks going off in my head.

To my friend's credit, he got me back to my hotel, and next day I caught my plane with memory of the debacle pushed back in my mind behind recollection of a really fine evening spent in making friends without influencing people.

AND CATS

Well, this trip calls for influencing people—in the interest of the international welfare group with which I'm associated. I must eschew the joys of tourism and try to find people who would prefer to be in the mountains of Lebanon, or the islands of Greece, or the fjords of Norway, rather than in Beirut or Athens or Oslo, talking to me.

I'll learn all over again the justification for the protesting response of the Italian social worker a couple of years ago when I asked her to arrange a meeting for me in August. "Mr. Granger," she exclaimed in mild outrage, "NObody is ever in Rome in August—except American tourists, hotel and shop owners, and cats." I found she was pretty nearly right; practically nobody was at my meeting, but there were plenty of tourists outside—and cats.

And still I'm glad to be packing, and getting out the passport, and going over the currency exchange rate in five countries, and readying myself to tackle tourist iines, ensnare reluctant conferees into meetings and pack extra clothing for weather ranging from too hot to too cool for comfort. I'm glad, not because of what I'll see and experience, but because of what I shan't have to endure. I shan't have to listen to sound trucks blathering forth campaign junk and tripe as they crawl about the streets of uptown Manhattan, insulting the intelligence of borough voters with three out of four of the words heard. When I come back with my voting intentions unchanged regardless of political palaver, the shouting and the tumult will have died, and I can cast my ballot in peace.

Escoiffure Beautician Murdered

to line up against the wall and hand over their money. They did. Short apparently turning over approximately $90. But the man with the rifle turned Short's pockets inside out and found a handful of change. It was then he ordered all the victims to lie on the floor and fired at Short.

In all, the thugs netted approximately $285.

Short reportedly moved from 221 W. Vernon Avenue about a week ago, and his aunt, Mrs. Martha Spencer, 244 E. 108th Street, said he generally gave her home as his permanent address.

Short's two half-brothers, Charles and James Stewart, also live at the 108th Street address.

The body was being shipped Wednesday through Conner-Johnson to the Rev. D. L. Short of Memphis, father of the slain man. The two brothers were accompanying the casket.

Letters to The Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

The argument presented by M. Earl Grant in last week's California Eagle is a shallow, one-sided squirm normally assigned to small minds. With no reference to his person, I vehemently disagree with his contention that ". . . picketing this game to turn people away would not hurt anyone but the boys." It is quite obvious that Grant completely ignores the effect of racism which the Washington Redskins practice and the L.A. Times sanctions.

Proceeding categorically with his argument we notice that Grant has inadequately, inaccurately and loosely chosen his terms. The presumption that the picketing will "hurt" the boys implies that the intent of the picketing by CORE, NAACP and others is to do harm to young boys.

Furthermore, the charge assigns a hideous and heinous character to the participants because only the cruelest of men could deny boys opportunities to enjoy a summer camp.

Those who would deny men, women, boys, girls and children an opportunity to develop to their fullest potential and enjoy the liberties of their country and those liberties which are theirs by birth and creation must be taken into account. To ignore this or deny it is criminal and egotistical. The charge can never be reconciled with the disposition of the participants or the principle of the sponsors.

The remaining error by Grant is an unintelligible and injudicious balancing of the two sides of the issue. Placing the victims of discrimination and prejudice on one side of the scale and the boys' clubs on the other, we see the evils of discrimination—stifling of the intellect, production of docile and shy men and women where assertive and forward looking people are needed and a divided people where unity is of the essence—and for this the boys stay home from summer camp.

Each time we strike a blow for equality of opportunity we strike a blow for the health and happiness of the American people for once a man feels the dilemma of discrimination he is mortally wounded. All inhuman acts detract from us.

The L.A. Times makes a contribution to the L.A. Boys Clubs. Does the Times contribute to the men and women of Fayette County, Tennessee, to Mrs. Till whose son was savagely murdered because his skin was dark or to any club for the discriminated which is a large club of mental cripples?

Instead, the Times invites a segregated football team into our community in defiance of the wishes of many of the people of this community and has the audacity to say "support segregation and discrimination so that young boys may go to camp."

If we continue to support segregation or fail to understand the broad consequences of that system, we may all camp out against each other as enemies do when they are at war, for we will not know or understand one another.

WILLIE THOMPSON

Debs Asks Inquiry

Supervisor Ernest E. Debs has called for a Civil Service and Community Relations survey of all 57 county departments following charges of racial discrimination in hiring.

He said last Tuesday that he had received "verified information" that one or more governmental departments are violating FEPC.

'No Colored' Clincher Ends Rental Hopes

too — too old! But, ah, the quiet.

The manager, Mrs. Bush, her name sounded like, quoted a rent that made me gasp. Far too much for the apartment and way out of proportion to my paycheck. But after all, utilities were included . . . So after a day and night of meat-cutting revisions of the budget, we agreed to try protein substitutes instead. My husband even agreed to cut down on cigarettes, he was that tired of the personal noise I was making about the freeway apartment we live in.

NO COLORED

The soul-searching done with, decision reached, we went back to the Kingsley manageress. Made arrangements to move in. Ticked off everything once more, took out checkbook. Pen poised, paused to hear the last pleased little clincher from her.

"And, of course, we don't allow colored in the building."

The quiet exploded. Pen back to pocket.

"That wouldn't matter to us," I said. "We don't happen to be prejudiced people."

"Oh." A quick drawing back. "Oh, I'm not prejudiced. I just don't want them living in the same building with me."

MAID 'LOYAL'

"We don't feel that way at all," I said. "We like living in the same building with other people."

"Oh, it's not that I don't like them." Flustered now. "Why, I've had the same colored maid for three years! I've just come back fro mthe hospital, and she took such good care of me! She's just as loyal to me as can be."

We sat silent. She got up, walked out of the room briefly to compose herself. Came back with: "Well, I guess it's just that my grandfather was born in the south. . ."

"I was born in Mississippi," I said. She gasped, unbelieving.

"Right close to Jackson, Mississippi." We were on our feet now, checkbook back in pocket. "But I'm not still living there."

Out the door with us. Quiet, split-level living receding fast.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME

Back in our cramped apartment, walls so thin I can almost see the color of my fellow-tenants, the frantic freeway noise didn't seem so deafening as I looked across the street at the group of joyous, laughing, noisy youngsters of varying complexion, from light tan to black; with a liberal sprinkling of the paler they call white. Maybe with a new pair of ear-stops . . .

Yes, my darling nephew, wouldn't it be good if we didn't have prejudice in L.A.?

and big, late model cars as evidence of the easy life they live, are:

Glenn Dine Smith, 4147½ Gatewaite; Jerry Moseley, of 2015 S. Second avenue; and Kenneth Jones, Richard Strickland and Melvin Mack Brown.

King, White, Jones, Strickland and Brown, said the FBI, live variously at 2623 West blvd., 2701 S. Orange Drive, 3202 W. 27th street and 3524 W. 27th street.

MAKE BAIL

All seven were charged under the Mann Act which carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5000 fine.

Bail for both King and White was set at $10,000 each, and both were released on bond. Bail for the others was set at $5000 each.

A preliminary hearing in the case has been set for Sept. 1.

The group was accused of transporting eight women from the vicinity of the Cambridge Hotel in Cleveland to Los Angeles on Jan. 2 and July 23.

King, according to the authorities, was born in Alabama March 1, 1939 and is the son of a Baptist preacher.

PAD AND FOOD

Miss Bailey said she's been "on the street" for approximately a year. About three weeks ago, she went on, she was introduced to King and started working for him.

In return for the approximately $100 a night, she said, he "gives me my pad and food. He also takes care of my bail and fines."

She continued: "Billy has several other girls on the street, two that he brought in from Cleveland by car. These two are Barbara Gordon and Betty Dawson. He brought them out in January.

"The others are Alicia Hightower, Clara Hale, who is a juvenile, and Yvonne Laverne, who is also a juvenile.

"Billy's brother Charles also has five girls working for him. He brought four of them in from Cleveland."

PLANNING ANOTHER FIRST—Planning out the details of another Awards program are members of the Interdenominational ministerial alliance who will work out ways and means of making this yearly awards dinner and presentation, one of the finest yet enjoyed in this area. National Alliance Plan Launched for Awards

The National Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, one of the nation's foremost religious bodies, has announced plans for its first yearly Awards Dinner and program.

Though the organization boasts of over 7000 members in major cities across the nation, the current program will concern itself with recognition of outstanding accomplishments in the Human Relations and Race Relations field.

SPIRITUAL GUIDANCE

According to Rev. Gharah L. Degenddingeze, president of the Alliance, the obligation of significant and noticeable endorsement for furthering the causes of human relations and race relations is as much a job for the ministry as it is for other phases of our society.

"It has long been the purpose of the National Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance to offer moral support," said Rev. Degenddingseze, "as well as spiritual guidance to those who strive for better relationship between ethnic groups. We also feel," he continued, "that public recognition should not be denied the champions of human equality even by the most conservative theological practioners."

NOMINATIONS OPEN

Present plans by the group have the setting for the program at a Sherman Oaks Country Club, late in September or early October, depending on the committed schedule of the chosen keynoter.

Names and background material on nominees for the Alliance Awards are currently being received by the Charles "Chuck" Williams & Associates Public Relations firm at 851 S. Central avenue, L.A. 21. The Rev. Sydell Peterson, chairman of the Ways and Means and Awards Committees will chair final selection of awardees.

Businessman Slates Profiles Of Ministers

By Henri O'Bryant

In this age of "Freedom-Rides, sit-ins, wade-ins and school integration and other civil-liberties issues which bring to the front our national leaders, we are made aware of the many local giants who quietly and unobtrusively go about from day to day, diligently working toward the betterment of the community.

Los Angeles is unique in that it has an abundance of energetic dedicated men who put the welfare of their people above themselves.

To cite all of them would be a mountainous task, requiring volumes of space, but even among this multitude of leaders there are some who standout because of their continuous contributions to civic, economic and political community projects.

LEADERS CITED

Foremost among these leaders are the ministers, who, though dedicated to the spiritual development of their fellowmen, recognize the necessity for leadership on all fronts.

Many of these ministers were singled out and accorded special honors as ministers of the year at a red carpet banquet held in the International Room of the Beverly Hilton Hotel last October. Hosts to the affair were some of the top exeuctives in the business and professional world.

FROM OBSERVATION

It is my intention to present an impression of some of these ministers in subsequent articles. The urge to tackle the job of honoring these men is overwhelming and while I am not a literary genius I will give profiles of several of these outstanding men.

Next week with a sketch of Rev. F. Douglass Ferrell, pastor of the Tabernacle of Faith Baptist Church, we will see an impression of the man himself. These will not include the size of his congregation, the massiveness of the church buildings or the beauty and location of the minister's home, but it will be an impression of the spirit of the man gained from years of observation and close association.

Otto Johnson Laid to Rest

Otto Johnson, 66, the husband of Mrs. Emily A. Johnson died on August 9. Funeral services were held Monday at the Angeles Funeral Home for the native of Dublin, Ga., who had lived in Los Angeles for 42 years.

Mr. Johnson was the only child of James J. and Charlotte Roberta Johnson, and he spent his early years in Georgia. As a young man he went to Philadelphia, moving to California in 1919. He worked for the Pullman Company for 34 years, retiring in 1953.

In 1938 he married the former Emily Adams, who survives him. He was a charter member of the Redeemer Baptist Church and was affiliated with the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

In addition to his wife he is survived by four aunts and several cousins.

Food for Thought

Christians must uphold the truth, purity and unity of the church.

"Have we forgotten, that God's salvation and love was meant to be shared—not conserved?"

Laymen must forget self; go to work in service of Christ's church and put Christianity into practice in the vocation of their common life.

They must literally pour out love, prayer, friendship, resources—out of compassion—for all people.

They must support and encourage pastors and help them interpret and carry out the mission of the church.

Elders and church officers must lead . . . others will follow.

Churchmen must carefully examine use of the stewardship dollar in the light of the total needs of God's kingdom in these changing days.

Gypsies Bury Their King In Miami

MIAMI, Fla. — A gypsy king, his grave sprinkled with ceremonial wine, began a journey to Romany heaven Monday with kisses from his subjects and his fingers stuffed with money to pay his passage across the River of Shades.

A heart attack killed Miller Williams, the king of southern gypsies, at the dog track in Daytona Beach last week at the age of 43.

A council of gypsy clans meeting in Miami in 1954 elected Williams king over a nine-state southern district. It was the duty of Williams, a muscular, balding, mustached man, to settle gypsy disputes, find work for those out of a job, attend weddings and funerals, and rule on problems and feuds in general.

After a daylong feast in Daytona Beach, Friday, Williams' body was shipped to Miami and funeral services began in earnest with a wake Sunday night.

According to gypsy lore, his journey to heaven will take about a week. Into his coffin wiyth him went a brown straw hat, another suit, a razor and shaving cream, a toothbrush, his bathrobe, and his favorite lounging outfit—a pair of Bermuda shorts. They are for him to use on his journey and in his life in the land beyond.

Rev. King Says 'Never Adust To Injustice'

"We have a long, long way to go in the fight for equal rights and opportunity in America," Rev. Martin Luther King, said as he addressed those gathered in the Fellowship Hall of Ward AME Church at the bon voyage dinner for Rev. L. Sylvester Odom, last Thursday evening.

We should not listen to all the optimistic talk about how far we have come in the struggle, he went on, there are still three states where schools are still to be desegregated, the fourth state, Georgia, should comply this fall. He pointed out the problems existing in cities like Los Angeles, Chicago, New York and the nation's capitol, where the subtle sinister evils of unfair discrimination because of race and color still rears its ugly head.

Rev. King, spoke fluently in what is reported to be one of his most impassioned addresses. He told the group that he hoped that his people would remain maladjusted to the conditions that would segregate and discriminate against them. That the maladjusted characteristics should be cultivated and that they never adjust to injustice.

Combined Strength

"Until every mountain of racial prejudice is brought low, and every valley of second class citizenship is raised up and until the crooked places of injustice are made straight and the rough places of hate are made smooth and plain: Negroes should continue to fight with all the strength in the combined group to the end that the dream of brotherhood will become a reality," Rev. King said.

Rev. Odom will leave on Aug. 27 to attend the World Council of Methodism at Oslo, Norway.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch--Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

WHAT'S DOING

This is the Army's Nike Zeus, the only free world missile now being developed to hunt down and destroy enemy Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles.

The eyes of Nike Zeus will be powerful ground radars that scan the skies. Its brain will be a computer that takes information supplied by radar and guides Nike Zeus to its fast-moving target.

Prime contractor for the Nike Zeus system is Western Electric, manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System. Bell Telephone Laboratories directs its design and development. This is one of the many ways telephone people help keep the nation ready to defend itself.

50 YEARS OF PROGRESS

The 50th Anniversary of the Telephone Pioneers of America, an organization for telephone employees with twenty-one years of service or more, will be celebrated during the week of October 30th. It will honor the largest social organization of its kind in the world. From a start in 1911 of 450 charter members, there is now a membership of more than 200,000. In our Southern California Chapter, one of 63 in the United States and Canada, we have more than 7,600 active and life members. It was formed for the purpose of providing a means of friendly association for the longer-service employees in the industry, both active and retired, and to promote a continuing fellowship and a spirit of mutual helpfulness among them.

Garden Party Honors Tuskegee President and Confab Delegates

It was a big time last weekend for delegates attending the 6th Triennial Session of Tuskegee General Alumni Association. Following a week long series of glittering social events, a garden party was held Sunday afternoon in the plush and spacious Crestway Drive (Baldwin Hills) home of Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Jackson, honoring Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Foster from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m.

Dr. L. H. Foster is president of Tuskegee Institute. Mrs. Jackson is the granddaughter of Booker T. Washington, founder of the famed Alabama institution.

Other special guests were: Mrs. Edith Washington Shehee of Tuskegee, mother of Mrs. Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. James O'Neal, their daughter and son, Edith and John, and Mrs. Margaret Washington Cabiness, all of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sampson of Buffalo, N. Y., cousins of Dr. Jackson. Mmes. O'Neal and Cabiness are sisters of Mrs. Jackson.

The refreshment tables were centered with a beautiful arrangement of pink and white carnations and were presided over by Misses Margaret Gaillard, Marjorie Bates, Edith O'Neal and Mrs. Jacqueline Bailey.

Assisting Mrs. Jackson were their children Gloria, Anthony, Carolyn, Theodore Jr. and Adrianne, also John Rector and Robin Cabiness. Hostesses were Mmes. Herman Askerneese, Lawrence Rachel, Charles Russell, Bertram Gillard, Dorothy Watson, Ruth Ann Long and Pauline Turley. Mrs. Gertrude Jones registered the guests.

More than 300 people came to greet Dr. and Mrs. Foster. Among them were many of the visiting Tuskegee alumni as well as local alumni.

Adding to the enjoyment, was the music of the Bill Austin Trio which played throughout the reception.

The long list of social affairs and entertainment showered upon the visiting delegates from all parts of the country will be hard to beat when the group's conclave meets again in 1964.

This marks the first time the General Alumni Association convention has been held away from the famed college campus.

The local Tuskegee Alumni Chapter deserves plaudits for planning a wonderful program for the visitors. Henry M. Miller is president of the Los Angeles Tuskegee Club. His convention committee consisted of Mamie Hamilton, Sarita S Jones, Ruth Hightower, Mrs Augusta L. Glover, Mrs. Otys Elmore and Mrs. Robert Springfield.

THE ROBINSONS WITH GUIDE — Jesse and Myrtle Robinson are pictured with their guide when they visited Mt. Olive in the Holy Land during their round-the-world trip. In the background is visible the Dome of the Rock which has triple significance. For the Jews it was the location of Solomon's Temple, for Moslems it is the place from which Mohammed ascended to heaven, and for the Christians, it is the site where St. James was thrown from the temple walls.

Tehran to Israel — Tehran, the home of the Shah of Iran, is a very clean city. It reminds one of a city on the plains of Texas or Kansas.

However, it is not the winds that blow the city of Tehran clean. Instead it is a crew of diligent workers who at four in the morning hand-sweep every inch of the streets.

We spent one day and night here. With the help of our guide we were able to see many interesting sites. One such site was the bazaar similar to our 3rd street market multiplied by blocks and blocks and they sell everything from food to furs.

We spent eight hours in Beirut, Lebanon, truly the crossroads of the world. There were white Arabs with black servants and black Arabs with white servants. When one has oil, the servants are of all complexions. We saw Yugoslavian combat troops, United Nations officers, school children with their teachers on a field trip and 35 French nuns trying to clear customs.

Flying time from Bierut to Jordan is one hour. From the air we saw Damascus and the Sea of Galilee. The most historic and notable points of Biblical interest are seen by entering Jerusalem on the Jordan side.

In two full days we were able to visit the little town of Bethlehem and view the Grotto of the Church of the Nativity where the star marked the traditional site of the birth of Christ. We climbed the walls of Jericho, passed the tree where Zaccheus sat, and drank water from the well of Jacob. We followed the 14 stations of Jesus from the court of Pontius Pilate to the Crucifixion. We washed our faces and hands in the River Jordan and waded in the waters of the dead sea.

We arrived in Jerusalem on Monday but it wasn't until Wednesday that we met Dick and Betty Guy who make their home in Spain where they teach in the high school for children of the military personnel. Here we decided to visit the Stone City of Pitra, one of the eight wonders of the world. Pitra is 230 miles from Jerusalem by car and horses. In Pitra are the ancient temples, tombs, monastery and judicial buildings carved from rose red rock. All these wonders were carved two thousand years before Christ, they rise five and six stories high and the workmanship appears to have been done only last year.

On Friday we were able to pass through the Mendelbaum Gate to Israel. Once through, you have reached the point of no return. That is your present passport becomes void. We arrived on the eve of the Jewish Sabbath so all businesses were closed at sun-down and nothing could be bought until Sunday. Even the hotel restaurant did not cook, but featured cold plates.

By chance we joined four American youths—two boys and two girls—caught a bus and visited Mt. Zion. Very often we ran across young people traveling all over the world on nerve alone. This group of youngsters was no exception. They were well acquainted with just everything and were exceptionally friendly. At Mt. Zion we saw the tomb of David, the birthplace of Mary, the city of Nazareth and Capernam. All tourists are interested in the Dead Sea Scrolls. In Jordan the Rockefeller Foundation has constructed a wonderful museum to house the many articles which have been excavated.

We are trying to capture the beauty of the Holy Land with our cameras and to bring back and share our visit with our many wonderful friends.

Variety Affairs Add to National Bar Convention

By JOCK WILLIAMS

Program chairman Xenophon F. Lang, of the Langston Law Club, in cooperation with Mrs. Geri Branton, president of the L.A. Wives of Bench and Bar, implemented a well-rounded social program throughout the four-day session of the convention.

PREXY — Mrs. Elaine Swan, wife of Dr. James Swan is president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Charles R. Drew Medical Society which was host of a lavish patio party for the National Bar Assn. delegates at the View Park home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Jenkins.

A pre-convention cocktail buffet at the Crenshaw blvd. mansion-like residence of Leo and Geri Branton two nights before the sessions proved to be a fitting prologue to the round of social events to follow.

Pool and patio parties were so numerous that it would take a Houdini to name all the hosts and hostesses. Likewise, the suite parties in the Statler Hilton and other downtown hostelries bespoke hospitality unlimited.

The get-acquainted cocktail party was held in the patio of the Crispus Attucks Wrights' secluded Van Ness avenue estate. Here a Hawaiian setting put everyone in a gay mood. Background music was provided by a Hawaiian ensemble. Champagne, delicacies of every description, and a bounteous flow of spirits frumenti would have satisfied the desires of an epicurean.

The luncheon sponsored by the Wives of Bench and Bar for the visiting National Barristers Wives was like a fashion fair at the Waldorf Astoria, with a setting just as elaborate in the Mission room of the Statler Hilton. With bright yellow chrysanthemums decorating each table, a trio of women instrumentalists serenaded the guests. Following this there was a fashion show featuring Charity Washington's lovely models displaying the latest fashions. Harriet Terry's narration was professional. Marilyn Hudson was chairman of the luncheon. The headline speaker at the luncheon was Mrs. Juanita Miller.

On Thursday from 5 till 7 there was another patio party at the View Park home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Jenkins. Here there was another bounteous buffet of delacacies and a variety of beverages. This party was hosted by the Women's Auxiliary of the Charles R. Drew Medical Society, whose president, Mrs. Elaine Swan, headed the corps of hostesses. She was ably assisted by Mrs. William Beck Sr. and the other members of the auxiliary.

The 36th annual ball followed a banquet in the Pacific Ballroom of the Statler Hilton. There was a variety of after-hour breakfast parties in the Leimert Park, Crenshaw, View Park and Baldwin Hills areas.

Credit for the social and entertainment program go to Xenophon F. Lang and Mrs. Geri Branton, who worked around the clock for more than a month implementing the details.

Gives Home Donation

Following the Two No's Charity Whist Club's three months tournament held recently the group donated proceeds raised from the tourney to the Exceptional Children's Home.

The club learned of the Home's wonderful work through the California Eagle and arranged to visit the new building and make a donation.

During the club's regular meeting last week, winners of the recent tournament were announced as follows: Enola Chalmers, first prize; Edmond Middleton, second prize; trophies winners, W. C. Green, W. H. Chalmers, Catherine Prince and Beulah Sanders.

The group also announced that there is an opening for five new members interested in playing bid whist. Those interested should call AD 2-9114.

Despite the fact that such widely read sportswriters in the Negro community as George T. Davis, Bud Furillo, Maxwell Stiles and Sid Ziff gave the Rams-Redskins boycott the silent treatment by not mentioning a single word, the boycott was impressive and had a great impact.

All future L.A. Times charity games with the Redskins will certainly be met with an even greater picket line if they continue to schedule the game. In fact so impressive was the boycott that other cities in which the Redskins have games scheduled have announced that they will greet George Preston Marshall's NFL team with the same treatment.

Pete Rozelle, National Football League Commissioner, has a hot potato in his hands now that the boycott is spreading and if the NFL Commissioner fails to make some ruling regarding Marshall's anti-Negro policy the national boycott as planned will certainly hurt other NFL teams and their attendance.

So far Rozelle, like the daily sportswriters, have side-tracked the issue or just plain ignored the plea of Negro football fans to do something with Marshall.

The estimated 500 Negroes and whites who started marching around the huge Memorial Coliseum last Friday night were mute evidence that the fans are becoming tired of Marshall's race practices and if the NFL doesn't do something they will.

As of now the L.A. Times is out of the picture but there still exists a five year contract with the Redskins and if by this time next year Marshall has failed to give Negroes jobs on his team, the sponsors of the boycott plan to take their picket line right downtown to the L.A. Times building with a month long demonstration. In fact they have threatened to picket the Times because of their hiring policy and that's not a bad idea.

Like we said if Pete Rozelle and the sportswriters fail to speak out against George Marshall and the sponsors of such games which bring a team like the Redskins to this city they are in essence as bad as George Marshall.

The sportswriters are well aware how valuable Negro players have been to football and baseball and other sports. What is known to us sportswriters is that for several years the Rams accounted for the fact that the annual L.A. Times Charity game drew upwards of 90,000 fans. Last Friday, with the L.A. City School Districts character building agencies, through Guy Wrinkle, supervisor of Athletics, inviting organizations to be the L.A. Times guests, the attendance at the game was still a mere 59,000.

100% Wrongers Host Gridders

Play ball with the 100% Wrong Club of Southern California and you might be the lucky recipient of a pair of season tickets to all of the L.A. Rams home league games.

Check with any member of the club which meets every Thursday night in Safety Savings Commnity Conference room on how you may participate in this ticket bonanza.

The lucky person will be awarded the tickets at the 100% Wrong Club's big beer bust at Dootsie Williams' View Park home, 3635 Homeland drive, Sept. 17.

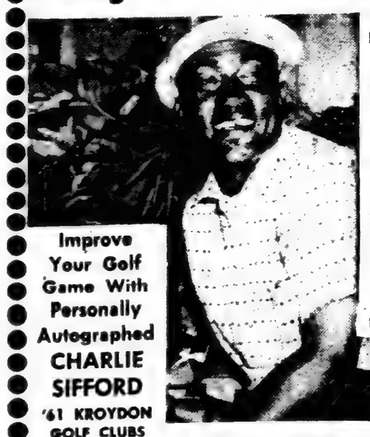
The affair will be open to the public. Many grid stars of yesteryears have been invited to participate.

Elgin Baylor Training with Army Reserves

The Army had to do some tall thinking today so that PFC Elgin Baylor, the 6-foot 5-inch professional basketball great, could get some sleep.

Baylor, one of more than 6,000 southern California reservists of the 63d Infantry Division training at this Camp Roberts, found the standard army cot just wouldn't accommodate his huge frame.

"With my head on the pillow my feet stick over the other end. And visa versa," Baylor complained.



Baylor's sergeant major, Robert L. Sizemore, solved the problem that was keeping the Los Angeles Laker star awake. Sizemore created a 12-foot bed for Elgin by adding another cot and stacking both with mattresses to bridge the steel end.

Pepperdine Slates Grid Workouts

Pepperdine College opens football workouts Sept. 1 with 14 lettermen and a host of promising newcomers welcoming head coach Pence Dacus and his staff.

The Waves have recently completed drawing up an ambitious 10-game schedule for the '61 season with the addition of New Mexico Highlands on Sept. 30, which opens the home slate. Initial contest of the season is Sept. 16 at Sacramento State.

Pepperdine has its work cut out with games at Sacramento and Chico before returning home for the New Mexico tussle.

On the bright side of the ledger is the return of sophomore fullback Ron Wootton from Lynwood. In his frosh year, Wootton gained 484 yards net in 130 carries, both marks setting school records.

Danny Valdez In State Title Go at Olympic

Danny Valdez and Gil Cadilli hook up in a 12-rounder for Valdez' California featherweight title tonight (Thursday), at the Olympic.

The bout will not be televised and will follow the TV 10-rounder between Orlando de la Fuente and Fidel Lucero.

Valdez looked sharp in stopping Tony Herrera in his last bout, while Cadilli dropped a close 10-rounder to Featherweight King Davey Moore.

Learn-to-Swim Sessions to End

Fifth and final two-week sessions of the 16th annual "Learn-to Swim" drive will get underway at Los Angeles' 37 municipal pools Monday Aug. 21.

The final series of the two-week "water - proofing" sessions for boys and girls 7 to 17 years of age will windup Friday, Sept. 1.

"Learn-to-Swim" drive classes consist of 20 students each, with a pool lifeguard in charge of every group. Each period continues for half an hour.

There is no charge for instruction, but boys and girls pay regular admission fees to the pools - 20 cents for youngsters 7 to 11 years of age and 30 cents for those 12 to 17 years old. The fee for adults 18 years of age and over is 40 cents.

National Swim Meet Scheduled Fri. at Stadium

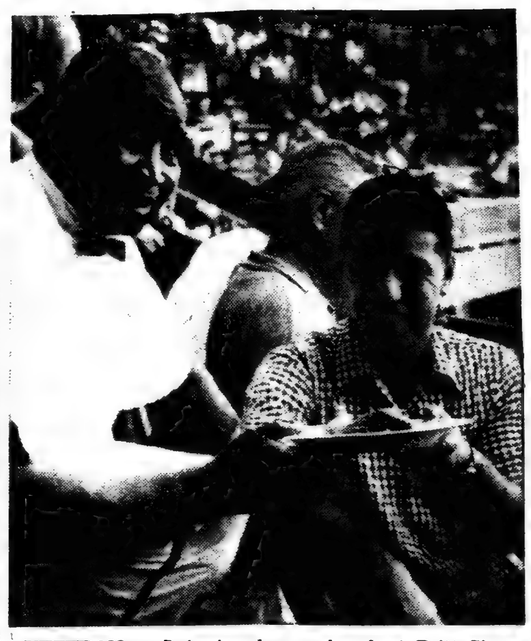
It'll be a little Olympics at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium this week when record busters from five nations — United States, Japan, Brazil, Argentina and Mexico — churn up the water in the 1961 men's national AAU swimming championships.

Two of the best races of the three day meet, 100 and 1500 meter free styles, are on opening day, Friday, Aug. 18. Finals on Friday, Saturday and Sunday start at 4 p.m., heats at 10 a.m.

Diving championships take place at the swank Los Coyotes Country Club, Buena Park, with the winners appearing daily in exhibitions at the Swim Stadium, adjacent to the Coliseum.

New 3 Point Rule

The newly organized L.A. Jets will introduce the American Basketball League's new 3-point rule designed by Commissioner Abe Saperstein when they launch their pre-season tour on Oct. 9.



The Jets will oppose San Francisco Saints in an eight-game schedule in Santa Cruz. The rule says any shot made from outside a 25-foot perimeter will count 3 points for the American Basketball League pros.

Angel Official to Attend Banquet

L. A. Angel Farm Director Roland Hemond is scheduled to be the principal speaker at the Denker Little League banquet at Denker Playground Aug. 25.

Hemond will give the Little Loopers and guests a brief outline on the present Angel team and some of the future Angels "down on the farm."

Hemend will be introduced by Brad Pye, Jr., sports writer and a member of the L. A. Angels' public relations staff.

VETERAN — L.A. Angel press box host Britt Sims is shown serving Herald-Express Writer Bud Furillo one of his tasty chicken dinners. Britt has been a fixture at Wrigley Field for over a decade.

Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

The Cosmopolitan Men's Golf Club held one of the most colorful tournaments of the year last Sunday at Santa Anita Golf Club.

We were fortunate enough to receive an invitation (along with the Western Ave. Women's Golf Club) from Earl Reason, popular Cosmo president.

It has been a long time since a Negro club extended the Western Ave. women an invitation to participate in one of its tournaments. In the past the Negro women's clubs had boycotted them because they left them to fight for integration (and won).

But long live the male golfers; all they seem to want to do is play some golf with anybody. They don't care who won what or where. Thus the Cosmo officers (with Alonso Pemberton as their efficient tournament chairman) sponsored this "best ball" tournament.

We know that our Mother (Mrs. Bernice Gaines), our Aunt (Mrs. Olevia Stewart) and our sisters Doris and Bernice are going to call us before the "chickens crow" to ask what is a "best ball tournament?"

A best ball tournament is a foursome (4) composed of 2 ladies and 2 men. They are partners and the 2 partners who shoot the best score (best score is the lowest score) win the tournament.

Twenty-four foursomes teed off at noon (riding and walking) and food and fee (expense) was on the Cosmopolitan club.

It was announced on the first tee that the ladies would shoot from the men's tee and this really made it long and competitive.

Just before dark the tournament chairman announced that the first prize had been captured by Willie Dickie and Etta Drake. (They scored 67).

Second prize went to J. Jones and Vera Carter who shot 68. Vera, a Western Avenue member, shot a straight blazing 89 without aid of handicap which was nothing short of sensational due to the fact that the course was so long, the sun so hot and the greens had no grass on them.

Wouldn't you just know that someone would have to come in with a tie (it was almost dark when the winners were announced) and they had to tee off in the dark to play "sudden death" (play until the tie is broken).

Al Duhon played Andrew (Skeeter) Green and his partner until the moon came up.

By this time the bugs began to fly, the dew was falling and the golf course had taken on an appearance of a "first class cemetery" so we borrowed Harold Eaton's "post office" flashlight, found our car and rushed away before the ghost that took the course over.

Later, Frank Adams informed us over the long distance phone that "Skeeter" Green (with the help and handicap of Elizabeth Moore) had won the covetous last prize.

A good time was had by all and here's hoping that the next time it will last 2 days instead of 1½.

UGA National Tournament At Ponkapoag Golf Course

The 35th annual National Golf Championships of the United Golfers Association will get under way at Ponkapoag Golf Course, Canton, Mass., just outside Boston, Aug. 21. A field of nearly 500 golfers is expected to participate.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Paris B. Brown, UGA tournament director, who declared no entries will be accepted after midnight Sunday, Aug. 20. Tournament headquarters will be the Statler Hilton Hotel, Columbus and Arlington, Boston.

A minimum purse of $1500 will go to the professional winner. Plans for the tournament were completed at the UGA convention in Cincinnati last March. Sponsors are the Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Ga., Seagram Distillers, New York, and Ward Baking Company.

Pre - tournament registration fees should be directed by money order (drawn to UGA) to Jack Dukes, 90 Harrishof Street, Roxbury, Mass., and must be received not later than mid-night, Sunday, Aug. 20.

Fees are as follows: Professionals — $15; men amateurs — $12; women amateurs and senior men and women $10. Non-UGA amateurs will be charged an extra $1 while non-UGA professionals pay an extra $5.

UGA officers are Howard Anderson, Toledo, president; Maxwell C. Stanford, Philadelphia, executive vice president; Miss Evelyn V. Williams, Washington, general secretary; James Morrow, New York, financial secretary, and William D. Jones, Dayton, treasurer. Franklin T. Lett, Detroit, is chairman of the national committee.

A calendar of social activities has been arranged by the host club, the Bay State Golf Club, including a boat ride, dances and a Tee-Off Party on Sunday, Aug. 20. Jack Dukes is president of the Bay State Club.

Swim Stadium To Host City Aquatic Meet

The 1961 All-City Aquatic Championships will be staged at the Los Angeles Swimming Stadium in Exposition Park all day Saturday, Aug. 26.

Supervisor of Aquatics Joseph C. Smith reported that the championships meet will get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 26, with thrilling water polo clashes featuring junior and senior teams from each of the Recreation and Park Department's three aquatic districts, Central, Valley, and South. Junior and senior diving competition will round out the morning's activities.

The Aug. 26 meet's action will spotlight synchronized swimming in the afternoon, beginning at 2 p.m. The evening competition will get underway at 8 o'clock.

Net Semi-Finals Scheduled Fri.

District competition in the 1961 Boys and Girls Novice Tennis Championships is on tap Thursday and Friday, Aug. 17, 18, at eight centrally located municipal play centers.

Winners and runners-up in district competition will battle in city-wide finals scheduled Friday and Saturday, Aug. 25, 26, on the Griffith Playground Tennis Center's courts.

Grambling College Grid Staff Eyes Big Season

By COLLIE J. NICHOLSON

The Grambling College coaching staff will start the 1961 season here Sept. 1 with a good chance of duplicating its 1960 performance.

This statement sums up the mid-summer clinical report on Tiger prospects by Southwestern Conference analysts and prophets.

"Perish the thought," protests Coach Eddie Robinson who has been notable for his ability to make much of little. The coach is not in a jam, but he believes in giving his teams all the protection possible against phychological hazards.

Robinson seldom concedes himself a spot higher than last place.

Last year his revivified eleven posted an impressive 9-1 record and grabbed a share of the SWAC crown.

'Seers maintain that they should win more than provincial recognition this fall.

Robinson fills the air with lamentations over the loss of stalwarts Earnest Ladd, 290-pound defensive star of the Philadelphia Eagle-College All-Star game, Roosevelt Taylor of the Chicago Bears, and All-American Preston Powell, a highballing rookie with the Cleveland Browns.

But here discernible gloom ends.

The finger - crossing mentor starts his 20th campagin as a distinct troublemaker for SWAC opposition.

The initial practice session will find an impressive array of veterans, seasoned sophomores and promising freshmen battling for positions.

Another big reason why the team is expected to fare prosperously is Robinson's highly-regarded corps of assistants.

They are constantly appraised as the best in small-college circles.

Efficient staff members are Fred Hobdy, ends; Leroy Hawthorne, tackles and guards; Melvin Lee, centers; Otis Moore, backfield; and Tom Williams, defense and scouting.

Their work has been a big factor in Robinson's over-all career record of 120 victories, 50 defeats and seven ties.

L.A. Lakers Battle Disc-Jockey Nine

KGFJ's Larry McCormick and KBCA's Ken Jones will be on the Radio stars nine which will meet the L. A Lakers in a preliminary baseball game before the L. A. Angels and Minnesota Twins games Friday night at Wrigley Field.

Some of the other radio and TV personalities on the club are KMPC's Johnny Grant, Ira Cook, Steve Bailey, Fred Hessler and Jimmy Maynes.

The Lakers' will be paced by Tommy Hawkins, Elgin Baylor, Ray Felix, Rod Hundley, Coach Fred Schaus, Rudy LaRusso et al.

Gomper Center to Form Flag League

Gompers Center will feature flag football leagues beginning Aug. 21. Leagues are now being formed in the Midge Division (12 years and under), Junior Division (13-15 years), and Senior Division (16 years and over).

Any boy or club interested in joining should contact Arthur Curry at Gompers.

Phil Gordon Makes the

New York Scene

Was surprised by the first-time-in-New York visit of three lovely ladies from the West Coast; L.A.'s, Mary Batiste and Betty Thomas and Mrs. Sammie Calhoun from Oakland. These three decided to make a quick drive into my town from Chicago, where they had attended the National Beauty Culturists League and Theta Nu Sigma Sorority Convention, and where Mary had taken first prize for hair styling while several other California lasses had also won trophies.

BIG CITY FRIENDLY

I had the pleasure of giving the three girls a poor man's tour of the city, and they thoroughly enjoyed our Rambling to have Italian ices and delicious pastries, to see the UN building, Times Square, the East River Drive and West Side Highways, St. Patrick's Cathedral, the Statue of Liberty, a swinging trip through Greenwich Village, with a shopping stop at the leather

'FIORELLO' STAGE RAGE AT BILTMORE

Beyond a doubt the Biltmore currently is housing the season's most stimulating and rousingly different musical, Fiorello! Direct from Broadway, the company gives a thoroughly brilliant and excitingly staged presentation of the story-into-music segment of the late New York Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia's earlier life.

FAST MOVING

Playing to packed houses nightly and at matinees, the musical is moving into its third week at the Biltmore. Seven weeks is the unusual span of visit for the show. And high is the recommendation that natives and visitors alike see it.

Nine Years Old Cinerama Exits September 10th

On Sunday, September 10th, Cinerama at the Warner Hollywood Theatre will terminate its nine consecutive years engagement at the 7:30 p.m. performance of "Seven Wonders of the World."

Plans currently being developed include the building of a new Cinerama Theatre on Hollywood Boulevard or the acquisition of a theatre now in existence with physical attributes to accommodate the new and enlarged Cinerama screen and an entirely new CineramaSound system.

"WINNING WEST" NEXT

The new Cinerama location is to be put in readiness to meet the release of the new Cinerama—Metro Goldwyn Mayer production "How the West was Won" now before five separate three-eyed camera production units in various locations throughout the West.

Hollywood and the Southern California area will feel the absence of Cinerama in the interim. Over 9,000,000 people have experienced the new dimensional productions over the period of the past nine years of consecutive presentation in the popular Film Capital playhouse which constitutes a world record for length of engagement and gross attendance of any stage or screen attraction throughout the entire Southern California area.

'GASSER'—Leroy 'Sloppy' Daniels, pertly 'punster', produces the laugh provoking show at the Brass Rail, South Broadway's conveniently located go-place, just minutes away via Harbor Freeway.

PEOPLE & PLACES

COOL CAT—A flashy dresser sporting a gold fedora and slacks to match jumped into his red sports job and was clocked at 90 mph down Western Avenue, when the heat pulled him to the curb and we quote, "Whatta you earth men stopping me for." Needless to say he is now orbiting in a cell!

FREDDIE JETT—Just before embarking on his vacation he took a look at his wardrobe and it didn't suit him. He called Harvey (Mr. Spider) Biggins who deals in costume jewelry, uniforms, lingerie and accessories, gave him his size and the next day Mr. Spider delivered the very latest in continental wear for men. Freddie was so pleased, he paid Mr. Spider cash on the spot. Biggins has added to his growing biz, personal wardrobing for men. That is, the paying kind!

JIMMY WITHERSPOON — He was one of the Rams-Redskins picketts and when a pretty blonde refused to cross the picket line, her escort slammed her ticket to the ground and marched straight in. "Spoon," caught the action picked up the ticket, asker her to wait while he walked a little longer and drove her to her Westwood home. She showed up later with a party at the Black Orchid where he is appearing and segregation was dealt another blow!

JOE ADAMS—He just returned from Europe where he produced the Ray Charles show and, natch, it was the greatest!

MITZI LAWRENCE — She is one of our budding young actresses and she took time out to walk the Rams-Redskins picket line which is why lots of folks called it the glamour line!

JIMMY JACKSON—Known as Mr. Reliable in the cocktail circuit, will manage the Bostic Flying Foxes and Vera Gholson will be the number one waitress!

LULU BENDY—She dropped the telephone on her pretty big toe which accounted for her limping at her club's picnic last Sunday!

GLADWIN BALL—Who is rated as one of California's most promising young architects and should be brought to the attention of Mayor Sam Yorty. Some city owned building needs some young ideas!

DODGERS—Not a single Dodger baseballer showed up for the Rams-Redskins game last Friday. Somebody did a mighty fine job!

HAZEL SIMPSON — She and hubby Herb are toying with the idea of selling their $100,000 egg ranch in Saugus and becoming world travelers!

IRMA ROQUE—Attractive hazel-eyed electronics employee for the Litton System refreshes herself daily while on her vacation

'88' GREAT—Lorenzo Flennoy, who unquestionably has more friends than a dollar bill, is presently playing pretty for the people who frequent the West Adams Carribean Club, where weekly fashion shows, featured game of the week, fine food and reasonably priced drinks has made this a haven of rest among the best.

and sportswear shop of Elaine Starkman, uptown through Central Park to Harlem, some home-cooking at the Gilt Edge Tea Room where Mrs. Bessie Locker did them up brown, up the Major Deegan Expressway and the N.Y. Thruway to Westchester County Center and Yonkers Raceway before going back to the New Yorker Hotel where they were most ready to hit the hay.

I had fun, and I think they did too because they all plan to return to the 'only city in the world' sometime in the very near future. New York is a summer festival, so I shall welcome them anytime.

"Rocco Brothers" Excellent

Saw two interesting movies during the week; "Rocco and His Brothers" which was excellent, and which I highly recommend to one and all adults; and the much - publicized, "La Dolce Vita", which I thought was deprave and a complete waste of time and money. See it if you must be convinced; or be smart and take my word that you'll get nothing worthwhile from it, so catch a good Mickey Mouse or Mister Magoo, and have a ball.

HAPPY HAPPENINGS

Sarah Vaughn is currently holding down Freedomland until the 21st, and there will be a Grand Opening of The Fantasia, Music Hall and Supper Club on 125th Street, with Music From Outer Space, Music of tomorrow, today.

School marm, Miriam Howell, from Charlotte, N.C. is working her summer vacation in Portchester, N.Y. and enjoying herself when she's off.

Outstanding Mary Countee

Mary Countee has just completed school and is preparing to head for parts unknown for a bit of well-earned rest and relaxation.

CALEB PETERSONS CLEANED

Barbara January and spouse (Caleb Peterson) arrived in New York recently by Caddy, with their daughter in tow, and proceeded to have all Barbara's and daughter's clothes stolen from the car while they were eating. Oh, those too easily accessible back seats in those Caddy's. Now, if it had been my Rambler . . .

SWINGING SHOPPING SPREE

Oh, well, it was most unfortunate, but has been remedied by a shopping spree for all new duds, so Barbara's morale is even higher than before the theft, making all right with the world.

I gotta go, so until next week . . . 'Bye . . .

Belafonte Tops Gate At Theatre

Harry Belafonte, who recently completed t three week engagement at the Los Angeles Greek Thetre, with an extra performance necessary to accommodate the crowds, amassed the greatest advance in the histor yof the Griffith Park Amphitheare, with $252,340.00, according to James Doolittle, its director.

Belafonte, who plays the outdoor 4400-seater every two years, played to a $5.00 top, for a total of 18 regular performances and one extra on July 30th, during the three-week run, making the pre-opening total that much more significant.

THOUSANDS TURNED AWAY

"This advance is probably the largest single pre-opening sale ever achieved by one individual in the history of the American theatre," commented Doolittle, who presents all forms of theatrical presentations in his varied e nterprises, from Greek Tragedy, to ballet, to legitimate dramas, to one man shows.

"We turned away an average of one thousand people per day," continued Doolittle, "it is the most overwhelming response I have ever seen accorded to a single artist."

The uniformity of the Belafonte box office bonanza was also made dramatically by Zollie Vol-

GENIUS WITH A SOUL — Ray Charles, bandleader, composer, arranger, instrumentalist and vocalist, makes his annual pilgrimage to the Hollywood Palladium on Sunset Boulevard, just east of Vine Street. Sunday, August 27 from 8 p.m. until 2 a.m. Hal Zeiger, popular promoter of this stellar single session, suggests that music lovers purchase pasteboards promptly at all mutual ticket agencies.

'PIPE-ARTISTS' — The popular Raelets blend their voices in song and provide pleasing harmony for Ray Charles and his band for their one night stand at the Hollywood Palladium.

sipping cool ones mixed by Ike Lewis in the Rubaiyat Room!

MAURICE SAUNDERS—She is back on the range and that tempting aroma at Arlington and West Jefferson comes from the establishment at 2060 W. Jeff and known as Maurice's Cackler!

BUDDY MONTGOMERY — A crow-bar swinging ex-con attempted to rob the popular bartender as he stuck the key in his front door the other eve—which accounts for the "L" - shaped wound on his forehead!

JIMMY JACKSON — Known in the cocktail circles as "Mr. Reliable," will become manager of Bostic's Flying Foxes when it opens!

LOUIS ARMSTRONG—The lad who came out of the Jones Home in New Orleans and became one of the nation's most celebrated musicians, may be heading the band in the pit at the International Ballroom on Halloween night when the Rinkeydinks hold their cabaret party!

VERNA DECKARD — She is having a ball in Paris and is heading for Rome, Italy and London and hopes to be home in September!

ROY LOGGINS — Enterprising young caterer for Hollywood's top studios, just landed a fat contract to do food business with the So. Cal. Auto Club!

PEARL BAILEY — She doesn't know it but she cost a gent a fin for not having once been married to Cong. Adam Clayton Powell. He wagered his girl friend she once was.

BETTY J. HAYNES—Graceful clerk in University Division heat station, is so poised and unaffected by the busy traffic in and out of the station she can easily go unnoticed but that's not true of her work!

ATTY. RAYFIELD LUNDY—He gave an excuse when he and his young son crossed the Rams-Redskins picket line, "my cousin is playing," as he purchased $1.10 admission tickets, while Tommy Tucker tore up two $5 reserved seat tickets!

JIMMY WITHERSPOON—With the current big hit record, "I Don't Know," going great was the only big-time entertainer in the Rams-Redskins picket line and he walked for 3 hours!

BIG SHOTS — Several well known community personalities ducked crossing the picket line at the Coliseum by slipping in gates they thought were unattended, but what they failed to realize was that spotters were at every gate — and you will be shocked to learn the names!

ELIHU McGEE—He and Leon Washington once walked a picket line in front of Kress' 5 and 10c store on Central back in the 30's. They were doing the same thing at the Coliseum at the Rams-Redskins game last Friday!

HOUSEWIVES — A check was made tracing the reasons why the sudden wave of white men are flocking into the Negro community on the make. Seems like the brownskin office girls give them too much liberty and they assume all brownskins go for the butt-slapping and smile routine, but they don't; and that near mayhem involving a Beverly Hills executive and a Sutro street housewife proved it the other afternoon!

SERVICE — The newest gimmick which the community know-nothings have come with is that when they have a chance to strike a blow at bigotry they goof, but when the downtown boys give them an item about being nice to us white folks, they peddle it to you like hot cakes!

FAY McCRIMMON — Tall and willowy Dept. of Water and Power's newest clerk, with pretty grey eyes, is a pretty fair golfer and in a few short weeks as a clerk produces like a five-year vet!

IRENE HAYES — Prexy of the United Progressive Christian Civic Club, and Jean Giles of the Avalon Community Center's new fall project will be Operation Community Improvement and calls for a crackdown on health, building and safety and absentee owners!

Mrs. Aadland stated that since WINCHELL has proclaimed that it will be banned in several cities for its censorable passages, it should be a smash seller.

Florence also said that her daughter BEVERLY has gone on a nightclub tour and that Negro

HARRISON AWARDS CAMPERSHIPS — Campership awards were granted last week to four youngmen by Leon Harrison, of Harrison-Ross Mortuaries. The recipients of the awards were four youth leaders of Victory Baptist Church, who will attend Thousand Pines Camp, operated by the Western Baptist State Convention. Pictured above are from l: Mr. Harrison, Henry Scott, David Rochelle, Louise Parker, Larry Barnes and Mrs. E. C. Hines, a youth director of Victory Baptist Church.

BIG "T" SERVING SAN DIEGO COMMUNITY — Residents of the greater San Diego area are anxiously awaiting the opening of Thriftimart's sixty-second super structure, the second supermarket in the rapidly advancing border city at 1049 Elkelton Boulevard (at Jamacha), Tuesday, August 15th. triumph came perhaps at New York's Carnegie Hall on April 23, where she appeared before a wildly - enthusiastic SRO audience. Reporting on the event, Variety, the bible of show business, said, "Pandemonium broke loose and a standing ovation stalled the songfest . . ."

The signing of Miss Garland is a major show business achievement for Robin, 31-year-old head of Concerts, Inc. Only 5 years old, his company now operates the largest modern music concert circuit in the country.

MODERN CONCERT MASTER

Robin has produced a total of 75 concerts since the first of the year, presenting such star performers as Bob Newhart, The Kingston Trio, Shelley Berman, Ray Conniff, The Limeliters and Charles Laughton in multiple appearances in the Southland and the Orient. The young impresario will leave soon for Honolulu to make final arrangements for an August 19-20 concert. Program will feature the Mary Kaye Trio, The Four Freshmen and singer Gene McDaniels.

chok, who is promoting the singer's concert in Vancouver, B.C., (August 19th). A full six weeks prior to the appearance, the Belafonte engagement was a total sellout in the 6000-seat Exhibition Forum.

This year marks Belafonte's third engagement in Vancouver, and at a $4.75 top, he is amassing an unprecedented $21,000.00 net after alltaxes. This far exceeds records set by such luminaries, at Vancouver, as Dany Kaye, Victor Borge, Elvis Presley, Bob Hope and even the New York City Ballet and the Red Army Choir.

GEORGE KIRBY ADDED

On August 3rd, Belafonte opened for the first time at Harrah's Club in Lake Tahoe, Nevada, for two weeks, with the same show he has been presenting in concert, plus comic George Kirby, who will appear for this engagement only.

tel. The $10 fare is one-fourth of the usual cost of transportation alone from Los Angeles."

BILLY WARD DOMINOES

Bailey also announced that Billy Ward and the Dominoes are the next attraction booked into Mr. B's Supper Club. This popular group follows the original production which starred John Bubbles.

Another feature of the air-flight package is the "Overniter," on which patrons may fly round-trip to Las Vegas and stay a night at the Carver House for $15.

Carver House management also offers special packages for clubs, or groups. Information on such packages may be obtained by calling A. S. "Doc" Young at HO 9-8918.

WORLD WIDE ATTRACTION—James A. Doolittle, general director of the Greek Theater in Los Angeles points to one of the new lighting improvements being utilized this season. Youthful audience represents the international flavor of the Student Program existing at the Theater which enables those of both high school and college brackets to participate in specially priced admissions. Left to right: Marie France (Paris), Ken Evans and Charlotte Hawkins (USA), Mr. Doolittle, Babila Patel (India) and Mohammed Bassiouny (Egypt).

Kenneth Morris Talks to Laymen

"Today as never before it is more difficult to distinguish between good and evil. Most people do not know what side of the road of life they are walking on, but as lay people we have a duty to combat the problems facing the world today and to set a better example for our young people," Kenneth Morris, executive director of the 28th Street YMCA, told the Laymen at First AME Church last Sunday afternoon.

The program was sponsored by the laymen of the AME Laymen of the Southern California Conference of the 5th Episcopal district. It was a delegates rally and was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Camilla Leftridge. Featured on the program were members of the First AME Youth Choir and Janice Ewing and Jackie Reese who handled the devotionals.

Morris said that he agreed with the man who said, "Evil men often do their wicked work because good men unwittingly give them the right-of-way." With 65 percent of all crime being committed by young people, it becomes the duty of the adults to set a better example and to begin to train their youngsters at home in the moral facts of life. Too often, he said, we leave to teachers and the church the task of teaching our children the common every day precepts of decency and honor and justice.

musician TEX THOMAS arranged her music. She said that she, FLORENCE AADLAND, now toiling in a downtown employment agency, will go on a nitery tour with the support (musically) of the same agent. She says her act will probably be billed as FLORENCE AADLAND, the "Mother of the Year" . . .

Cutie BOBBE COTE, the actress, has switched from the PAUL KOHNER to the LIL CUMBER agency . . . CLEOPHUS HOLMES is a young actor setting his sights on movie and TV stardom. He is training diligently with the Theater West and intends to be prepared when big break comes! . . .

The CARVER HOUSE promoters in Las Vegas have switched from that bus run for tourists and now have a chartered plane that will take you up there for ten dollars round trip (I kid you not) and BILLY WARD and the DOMINOES are the next attraction followed by the TRENIERS.

JOE LOUIS and LEONARD REED have resumed their nite-club act and luscious PAT SIDES (our local talent) is working with them in the East . . . The C'EST LA VIE Record Club in Compton didn't phone in the address but said they liked the piece we had on them last week and we expect to hear from them with every breath we take . . .

Recevied a nice letter from BOB BAILEY, the entertainment director at the Carver House in Vegas saying that he read our article on the hotel and its show with a great deal of interest and he appreciated the wonderful way in which we placed the offering to the Los Angeles market . . . Now Bobby probably sent the same letter to most of the scribes who Jetted there for the opening, but it had a special thrill for us since we almost missed our plane to L.A. and had to mail the key to our room back for fear that the management might think we were trying to burgle the joint at a later date! . . .

Now just in case you hadn't noticed, and we really don't see how you could miss this stud, BILL LANE, formerly feature writer with the Michigan Chronicle, has joined our family at the Eagle and is coming on like there's no tomorrow with his newstuff (and there may not be a tomorrow, the way the daily papers' headlines have it) but Bill says he's with us (our family at the Eagle) as long as there's ink in the printer's shop! Good deal, Bill! . . . And the winds us, our BILL SMAL. returned from his tour U.S. . . . Man, that chap have made everywhere! . . . Okay, PEARLIE MAE BAILEY, we didn't make it to your opening at the GROVE, but we'll be there tomorrow night without fail, God willing. . .

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Announcement of the seven-man nominating committee for the NAACP Board of Directors, was made here recently by Bishop Stephen Gill Spottswood, chairman of the Board.

Woman Turns Her Husband Over to Police

Ruby Brown, of 5408 S. Hoover, told police officers last week that Fred Philpot, 34, the man with whom she had been living for seven years, came home drunk and began fighting her.

This was not the first time, she said, nor the first time she had called the police.

Officers took Philpot to the police car, but when he began yelling and threw up his arms as if to strike one of them, they struggled with him, handcuffed him and carted him off to jail.

Masons Dedicate Funeral Home

The members of the Prince Hall Masonic Lodge turned out in full regalia at the People's Funeral Home last Sunday afternoon to dedicate the new building and to rededicate the lives of the members of the firm to the principles of Christian service to mankind and community improvement.

James R. Finis was master of ceremonies. The beautiful masonic ritual was performed to proclaim the beautiful new funeral home a sacred commitment to service.

A. A. Robinson, president of the firm, introduced the staff and the Grand Master of the lodge, Walter C. Taylor, marked a stone in the chapel during the ceremony.

Prowler Takes Alley Way Out

Charles Ray Bland, 22, of 1527½ 22nd street, was observed by police officer John Thomas, as he attempted to pry opera window at 1167 E. Adams blvd. with a pool cue, last Thursday about 10:15 p.m.

When he realized he was caught in the act, Bland swung at the officer with the cue but missed his mark and ran toward the alley. Thomas fired three shots as the suspect fled through the rear gate.

Vote Charge Jails Judge

WASHINGTON — Two election officials and 14 poll workers in Telfair County, Ga. have been indicted by a federal grand jury in Savannah on charges of casting and counting fraudulent ballots in the presidential election list November.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said that besides returning the two-count indictment the grand jury also issued a resolution asserting that the county's board of registrars and the deputy registrar failed to register voters properly or purge voters' lists of ineligible names.

The first count, charging conspiracy against the rights of citizens, named 16 defendants. These included Judge Eli Willcox, of the Court of Ordinary (a probate court), who was responsible for general supervision of the election, and Lewis B. Seay, clerk of the Telfair County Superior Court.

Bishop A. W. Womack Dies of Heart Attack

Bishop Arthur W. Womack, of Philadelphia, died from a heart attack recently after an illness of several weeks. He was 70 years old.

He was the presiding bishop of the Fourth Episcopal District of the CME Church. He had helped to establish the work of his church in Africa and was considered one of the outstanding ministers of the present age.

head. He was the spokesman for the group.

The guards were not present when the beatings occurred, the victims reported. When the jailers returned, they swabbed Kaufman's head, but refused to let him or the other three see a doctor. They also refused to let them telephone their lawyer, Atty. George Washington Jr.

ARRANGED BAIL

Atty. Washington learned what had happened when he visited the jail Sunday. He arranged bail, $500 each, for the four because he feared for his clients' safety.

The three mauled along with Kaufman were all of Los Angeles—Steven McNichols, 22, of 930 N. Edgemont; Stephen Sanfield, 24, of 1533½ N. McCadden street; and Joseph McClinden Stevenson, 18, of 2101 Stanley Hilld drive, a University of Chicago student.

None of the Negro Riders were mistreated.

Negroes arrested were Clarence C. Berrard, 21; Ronald P. Labostrie, 25; Robert C. Farrell, 24; and Marjorie Dunson, 30.

White women in the group were Ellen M. Kleinman, 19; Beverly Radcliff, 23; and Patricia Ann Kovner, 20. All were from Los Angeles.

Also arrested were seven demonstrators from Houston, members of the interracial Progressive Youth of America. Those who left Los Angeles were sponsored by CORE.

Houston's mayor, on the occasion of the arrest of 33 demonstrators several weeks ago, let it be known that he did not approve of the action and the charges against them were quietly dropped.

A complaint against the Los Angeles 11 and Houston seven was filed, however, by the manager of the coffee shop, James D. Burleson, under county statutes, charging unlawful assembly.

Die in Crash

3 African Students Killed on Trip East

By LYNNE C. SHIFFLETT

Visiting Los Angeles a few days ago were four of Africa's most promising student leaders.

Only one of them will go home. The other three were killed in an automobile accident near Albuquerque, N.M., Sunday.

Here under 60-day State Department cultural and educational exchange grants, the students were routed to Los Angeles by the Committee on Friendly Relations Among Foreign Students.

HIT GRAVEL

Shortly after arriving in Albuquerque, N. M., from Los Angeles, Mr. Hammed Olajire Sansusi Adewumi of Nigeria, Mr. Souleymane Diaby of the Ivory Coast Republic and Mr. Maurice Yanni Magar of the Sudan were killed while returning from a dinner engagement.

Miss Wilma Shelton, who was in charge of students' arrangements in Albuquerque, in a phone conversation Monday told the Eagle that about 14 miles from Albuquerque the car carrying three of the African students and their State Department escort hit gravel and went off the road.

The reason for the severity of the crash has not been officially determined although it is believed that the car was going too fast.

3 KILLED INSTANTLY

The driver, a New Mexico school teacher from the Indian American School in Albuquerque, was killed instantly, along with Mr. Diaby and Mr. Magar.

Mr. Adewumi died shortly after reaching the hospital. Joseph De-

Two in Lynch Case To Appeal Conviction

After deliberating all day Monday, an all-white jury in Superior Judge LeRoy Dawson's court returned a verdict of guilty against two young men in the Griffith Park Memorial Day "lynch" case.

Found guilty of interfering with police officers and assaulting police were Andrew McLemore, 18, of 4201 S. Normandie avenue, and Willie F. Jones, 22, of 5118 W. 20th street. Jones was also convicted of rescuing a prisoner from police.

WILL APPEAL

Both McLemore and Jones were allowed to remain free on bond, pending sentencing Sept. 19.

Atty. Herbert M. Porter, counsel for the defense, said he would file an appeal "by that time."

The verdict climaxed a week-long court battle that had earlier been sidetracked several times in another court before finally being assigned to the court of Judge Dawson.

The prosecutor's office strongly emphasized during the entire court proceedings that McLemore and Jones were the type of persons who cause trouble on the streets, and implied that wives and children would not be safe in Griffith Park unless the jury voted for conviction.

DEFENSE HALTED

In one phase of the trial, Judge Dawson refused to permit defense attorney Porter to reread statements of white arresting officers, taken during preliminary court hearings, in which the officers reportedly identified the wrong man as one of the prisoners who had been at the park on Memorial Day at the time of the alleged "lynching."

Porter was also overruled when he attempted to recount pre-

Cal. Asks U.S. to Probe Mistreatment of 'Riders'

Atty. General Robert F. Kennedy was asked this week to investigate the treatment being accorded Freedom Riders in Mississippi jails.

Raising the question as to whether or not the Riders from California may be risking bodily harm, Cal. Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson suggests a federal inspection of the prison conditions.

CRUEL TREATMENT

In a letter to Kennedy, Anderson said he has received reports that "The Freedom Riders are being subjected to unusually cruel treatment, especially those formerly from the South."

Anderson's letter states:

"I have received reports of such conditions as poor food, inadequate medical attention, lack of sanitation facilities, withholding of mail and reading matter, maximum security confinement, [redacted] up' of prisoners, eliminating mattresses and forcing prisoners to sleep on steel bed frames or on concrete floors.

SEEKS INSPECTION

"Would it not be appropriate for the United States Attorney, the Civil Rights Commission, or other Federal Agency to make an inspection of the situation so that we may be assured that the Freedom Riders who are willing to risk jail for their convictions are not risking bodily harm?"

In Jackson, Miss., meanwhile, the arraignment of 189 Riders was proceeding slowly, with the expectation that it will take the courts until some time in January to complete proceedings

Revs. Peters, Branham Mum, Avoid Feuding

By BARBARA MOUNTS

Baptist ministers of Los Angeles were as sharply divided this week as their national leaders, while delegates of the 5,000,000-member National Baptist Convention, Inc., were heading toward what may be the most explosive meeting in their 81-year history.

With two presidents, both claiming to be the duly elected head of the entire organization, two boards of directors, two registration lists, and two clearly defined line-ups, there is no telling what may happen when the thousands of church representatives meet face-to-face in Kansas City, Mo., the first week of September.

PLAYING IT COOL

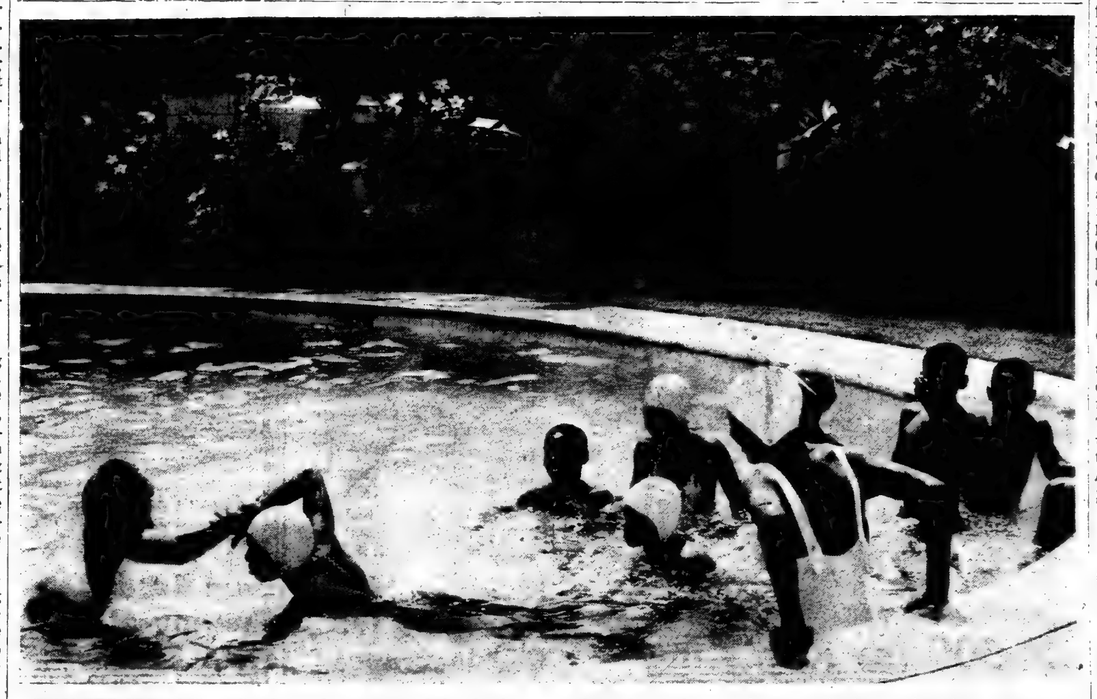
Yet both sides are talking peace, and adherents of both Dr. J. H. Jackson, pastor of the Olivet Baptist Church of Chicago, and Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, pastor of the Concord Baptist Church of Brooklyn, seem confident that the difficulties that erupted at last year's convention will all be ironed out. Both sides seem certain that their man will be elected president.

Here in Los Angeles, a formidable array of ministers is lining up for each side. Some of the most prominent, however, are playing it cool and refuse to speak out publicly either for Jackson or for Taylor.

The Rev. John L. Branham, pastor of St. Paul Baptist, is one of those who isn't saying, nor is he going to the convention. The Rev. A. A. Peters, pastor of Victory Baptist, is another who isn't talking and who isn't going to Kansas City.

TALK THINGS OVER

Among those strongly in the Taylor camp and ready and willing to let their views be known are:



Rev. Marvin T. Robinson, pastor of Friendship Baptist Church, Rev. T. M. Chambers Sr., pastor of Zion Hill, Rev. Douglass Ferrell of the Tabernacle of Faith, Rev. B. W. Wade, pastor of Pilgrim Church.

Other Taylor supporters are: Rev. H. B. Charles, of Mt. Sinai; Rev. P. J. Ellis of Morningside; Rev. Emmett Burns of Strangers' Rest; Rev. Alex Toussaint, of St. Andrews Baptist Church, and many others.

Rev. Robinson said, "The Taylor supporters are firm in their conviction that Dr. Taylor was elected president at Philadelphia, but that they want unity in the convention and so have tried to get Dr. Jackson to meet with Dr. Taylor in an effort to solve their differences.

"We believe," he said, "that we will find a solution at Kansas City. At any rate, we have issued registration material and have in-

Start Probe of Bias In Fire Department

By BILL LANE

"Are you a pusher for integration?"

"Did you ever attend an integrated school?"

These are some of the questions reportedly asked Negro firemen who apply for captains' positions with the Los Angeles Fire Department when they go before a Civil Service Board screening them for upgrading.

Although Joseph A. Hawthorne, local Civil Service director, told the Eagle he knew of "no instances" of racial bias in the hiring of Negro firemen with the city's fire-fighting department, a full scale investigation into the charges was ordered this week.

PROBE ON

Fred Kline, president of the Mayor's newly appointed Fire Commission, began a probe into reasons why only two Negro firemen have been hired by the Los Angeles Fire Department in the past six years.

Also under inquery is the practice of the special Civil Service Commission, which rates fireman applicants, of turning down Negro applicants by "flunking" them on oral tests. No rating records for the oral tests are required.

60 NEGROES

Out of a total fire-fighting force of 3000, Los Angeles has only 60 Negro firemen.

Atty. Arnett L. Hartsfield, Jr., who was a fireman here for 20 years, charged Friday that Asst. Fire Chief W. W. Johnston should not be allowed to sit on oral tests given by the Civil Service Commission because of what Hartsfield said "is known all over the city as Johnson's prior advocacy, practice and encouragement of racial discrimination"

Western Ave. Women's Golf Club Integrates

Last Thursday a seven-year battle to integrate one of Los Angeles' publicly owned golf links came to a successful conclusion.

The Western Avenue Women's club, which had resisted integration for all these years, finally accepted two Negro women as members, and the feud was ended.

For a report of the long struggle, see Maggie Hathaway's column, "The Tee," on Page 6.

Police Nab Women for Card Playing

Newton vice officers, with an ear to the ground, heard the clink of coins and the shuffling of cards outside the house at 5711 S. Hooper avenue last Thursday night.

They sidled up to the window and peeked in. Sure enough, there was the evidence. Four women were playing cards in a private home.

The officers made known their presence, and proceeded to arrest everyone in the house. Everyone except one. One man crawled through the bathroom window and escaped.

Arrested were Mrs. Jermine Neal, 56, a domestic, at whose home the card party was in progress; Mrs. Betty Williams, 24, a seamstress of 11761½ Compton; Mrs. Elsie Louise Lee, 28, a machine operator, of 1907 E. Nadeau; Mrs. Alma Emma Jackson, 54, a domestic, of 717 E. 28th street.

Also arrested were Jennie Lee, 27, 1311 E. Cruces, maintenance worker; Esau Wilson, 43, a mechanic, of 1513 W. 45th street; and Robert Lee Sheppard, 28, an assembly line worker, 1383 E. 58th street.

BUGGING THE RACE

What really bugs Negroes, if you don't mind my using the teenage term, is that it is next to impossible for him to be judged on his individual merits and ability when he tries to exercise a right that is accorded to others without question. If he turns up to ask for a job, the chances are that the prospective employer will rate him on the basis of what he, the employer, thinks about Negroes in general. If the man has ever employed a Negro who got to the job late and soldiered after he got there he will assume that the applicant is afflicted with the same failings.

If a Negro runs for public office, the voters will make up their minds about him on what they think about Negroes in general and not on the basis of what the particular candidate has to offer. If the average mayor, governor or other appointing power ponders the naming of a Negro to public office he will judge the office seeker by some particular standards that he has set up for Negro office seekers and not on the yardstick that he applies to other applicants.

RED AREAS

All of this came to my mind when the Jewish Labor Committee put in an appeal to Attorney General Mosk to take a look at practices of insurance companies in reference to rates for automobile risks. It seems that the companies, or at least some of them, have a little chart which they furnish their agents. Large areas on that chart are blocked out in red and agents are told that all residents in the red areas auto-

Negroes Pay More For Auto Insurance

A probe of discriminatory auto insurance rates in California was requested Tuesday by Isidor Stenzor, state chairman of the Jewish Labor Committee.

In letters to Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk and State Insurance Commissioner F. Britton McConnell, Stenzor charged that persons living in certain areas — those inhabited largely by Negroes—are charged at a higher rate than those living in "white" neighborhoods.

RATED BY AREA

Stenzor claimed that he has in his possession a map of Los Angeles County which at least one insurance company furnishes to its agents and which shows Negro areas blocked out in red, with the notation, "Applicants residing in RED area MUST be rated at Group 2 or 3."

For such persons, therefore, individual performance is automatically ignored.

Basic auto insurance rate for individuals in Group 1 is $8 per month; for Group 2, $11 per month; and for Group 3, $11.50 per month.

$36 HIGHER

Thus Negroes, forced to live in restricted ghettoes, are penalized for living in those proscribed areas to the tune of $36 to $42

Ignores Race of Settlers

By GRACE E. SIMONS

On Monday, Sept. 4, the citizens of Los Angeles, as is fitting, will celebrate the 180th anniversary of the founding of the "City of Our Lady Queen of the Angels."

As is also fitting, all events will take place in the Old Plaza area where the city had its first beginnings and, according to a committee set up to arrange the celebration, there will be an authentic reenactment of the founding of Los Angeles, complete with a procession of some 60 soldiers, friars and pobladores, headed by the Spanish Governor of 1781, Felipe de Neve.

AUTHENTIC?

Authentic? Well, maybe not quite authentic.

If you happen to be down at the Old Plaza during the evening of Sept. 4, take a good look at the "pobladores in the parade." The "pobladores" were, the settlers, the 11 families that came to the site of Our Lady of the Angels, and became its founding fathers.

In the parade, all the "pobla-

They Fall Dead At My Door, Says Suspect

Calvin Jones, 32, of 1347 E. 28th street, arrested Saturday for killing a friend with whom he had been arguing, complained to police that "Someone is always falling dead in front of my door."

He claimed he had not touched the victim, Jake B. Lawson, 40, who died from two stab wounds in the abdomen; in fact, Jones said he didn't even know him.

A witness, Eddie Brooks, of 1236 E. 25th street, said that Lawson had come to Jones' house to borrow 50 cents, that Jones had refused, that Lawson became belligerent and insulting, picked up a 2 x 4 and struck Jones on the shoulder.

Another witness, Mrs. B. Darsteter, told police that Jones had called her and said, "I just cut Lawson."

Jones explained to police that the blood found on his clothes got there when he bumped his head on the floor the previous day.

Then, either forgetting his first story, or deciding it was best to tell the truth, Jones continued:

"Lawson was pestering me all day. He broke down my door and hit me with a 2 x 4. I hit him with my knife. I meant to cut him in the belly, but didn't mean to kill him."

Lawson is survived by a sister, Mrs. Marie Rose Henderson, of 1128 E. 27th street.

She Butted in, so He Shot, Says Card Player

"She butted in on an argument."

That was the reason Aaron Montgomery, 40, of 342 E. 56th street, gave police for firing a .22 caliber pistol at Mrs. Beatrice Ella Hines, 34, of 655 W. 59th place, last Saturday night.

Montgomery was criticizing the way his wife, Jessie Mae, was dealing the cards in a friendly card game.

Mrs. Hines said she threw a cigar box at Montgomery to stop the argument.

That did it. Montgomery went to the bedroom and got a gun. When he returned to the living room, Mrs. Hines streaked out the front door, with Montgomery firing one shot that whistled over her head.

Montgomery exited out the back. He later told police he was only trying to scare Mrs. Hines for "butting in."

Down the Lane

By BILL LANE

ALTHOUGH L. A. police are often—and quite logically—derided for brutalizing tactics against Negro citizens, some attention should be given to some of the forces causing police action in the first place; namely, the tendency of many parents to permit their teenage offspring to loiter on streets, in parks and to stay out late in groups and gangs. Negro youths who stage uprisings when told to "move along" on streets merit no sympathy when they are tossed bodily into the clink.

Freedom Riders are gaining a lot more by their sobriety and purposeful decorum in the face of savage-like cops.

REDD FOXX staged a party Friday nite for members of the show and staff at the Summit, where he is appearing. About 50 were invited. But nearly 300 showed up at Foxx' West Adams manse. Foxx lamented: "My wife didn't know 95 per cent of the people there!" The Redd one says when he sees "the right green" he'll make up with Dootsie Williams.

WHEN cops shot a Japanese boy running from a burglarized Eastside spot the other night, they found the boy had been visiting a teenage Negro girl nearby. At the girl's house the parents said: "He must have come from the house down the street where that party is."

Sports Arena Rally Nets $14,600 for Rev. King

A final accounting issued last Wednesday by the Western Christian Leadership Conference shows that a total of $27,433.25 was taken in at the June 18 Freedom Rally in the Sports Arena, attended by some 40,000 people.

Of this sum, the amount of $14,600 was turned over to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, of which Rev. Martin Luther King is head.

Expenses for the meeting amounted to $12,457.32.

The items that involved the greatest expense were the souvenir program ($3,834.36), rent of the Coliseum ($2,100), program (Mahalia Jackson, $2,489.18, public relations and promotion $1100.)

One of the lowest items on the list was newspaper advertising and photographs, split four ways, and amounting to a total of $441.71.

John Jackson Elected to Serve State Aged Unit

John A. Jackson, executive director of the Stovall Foundation, was recently elected to serve a three year term on the state-wide advisory committee on institutions for aged persons.

Jackson is the first Negro from the southern section of California to serve on this committee which reviews and recommends laws for the operation of homes for the aged.

He has completed special courses in administration of aged homes at UCLA and is a licensed consultant in the field of public relations and aging.

Jackson says that he is particularly interested in the develop ment of better programs and services for senior citizens in their own homes or in retirement homes.

Senators Plan To Extend Life Of Rights Body

WASHINGTON — The fate of the President's Commission on Civil Rights hung in the balance this week as administration leaders sought to extend its life by tacking an amendment on to an appropriation bill. Such a move requires consent of two thirds of the Senate. The Commission will expire this fall unless its life is extended.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, Senate majority leader, was faced with a two way battle in his attempt to amend the appropriation bill. On one hand he was besieged by diehard southerners who were seeking to prevent the necessary two-thirds consent and on the other he was facing a move by Republican senators to tack a complete civil rights act to the appropriation bill if the subject is opened up.

ADDED CHANGES

The administration decided early in the session that it would not seek civil rights laws at this session of the Congress, except for a measure extending the Commission's life. Mansfield has told senators that he will actively oppose any move to tack an entire civil rights act on to the appropriation bill.

Senators Javits and Keating, New York Republicans, challenged the administration's move and said that they will seek wholesale changes in present civil rights laws when Mansfield moves to suspend the rules in order to present the Commission rider. A number of northern Republicans and Democrats have indicated their support for the Keating-Javits move.

Southern Democrats, led by Sen. Russell of Georgia, are apparently prepared to bow to the demand for the extension of the Commission's term but are ready to mount a filibuster if anything further is attempted.

Dara Readies Showing of New Style Creations

Dara, whose spectacular showing of originals was one of the features of the recent Tuskegee Alumni luncheon, will present a new showing of her latest creations Sept. 8, at the Caribbean Lounge on West Adams blvd.

Elegance was the watchword of the high style collection displayed in Dara's late summer and fall collection at the Statler Hilton Hotel for delegates and visitors who attended Tuskegee's Women's Day.

Among outstanding models who stepped into the spotlight and onto the runway were Toni Tardi, Barbara Hill, Jackie Stephenson, Mattie Thomas and Annette Ellis.

Style show stoppers by Dara of Beverly Hills included a Swiss garden original of exquisite colors with a bell bottom skirt and fabulous jeweling that completely encrusted the bodice, and a five piece ensemble in a fashion note fabric that tingled the enthusiasm of the audience. This Dara creation consisted of a coat, suit, dress and hat.

Bogus Broker Traced To Alaska, Brought Back

Selling houses without a real estate license and leaving town with the deposits made on four houses, which he failed to put through escrow, brought Charles Hayden Lyles, 34, afoul of the law here last Friday.

He was booked att the county jail. Bail was set at $5250, following his extradition from Anchorage, Alaska, where police took him into custody.

Lyles, who is also known as Rev. Lyles, gave his address as 10962 S. Broadway. He said that he had spent the deposit money and had gone to Alaska to work and save enough to pay back his victims.

One prospective buyer who gave him a deposit was Wallace W. Wooton, of 221 W. 111th street.

George Bernard Shaw once said that he believed in the discipline of silence and could talk for hours about it.

If everyone would sweep in front of his own door the whole world would be clean.

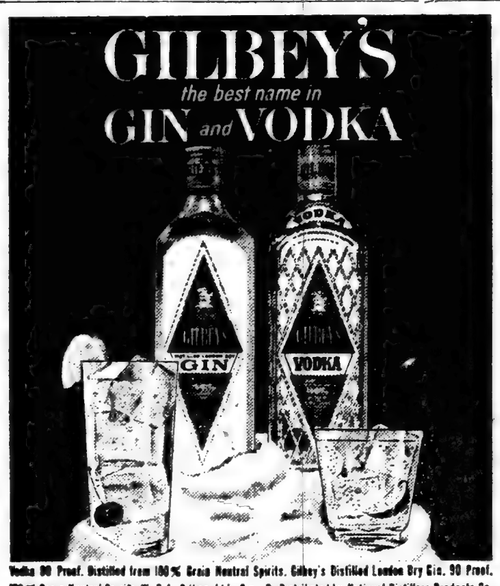
Young Demos Ready to Fight Bias in Housing

"Bye, bye Ghetto!"



That was the catchy slogan of the kickoff party given last Friday night by the city-wide Young Democrats.

The speaker of the evening was James Flournoy, chairman of the housing committee of the NAACP who discussed discrimination in housing in California, and what can be done about it.

Geoffry P. Commons, chairman of the Young Democrats, said that "specifically the group will work for desegregation of housing in Los Angeles both by initiating legislation and by supporting the enforcement of existing laws in this area."

The Young Democrats, who range in age from 17 to 35 years, will hold their next meeting Sunday, Aug. 27, at 8 p.m. at 1835 Camino Palmero, just northwest of Sunset and LeBrea.

"Everyone is welcome," said Commons.

3 Accused of Rioting At Manual Arts High

Felony charges growing out of a minor riot were dropped Monday by the District Attorney against four youths arrested last Thursday near the Manual Arts high school at 4131 S. Vermont avenue.

But three of the four were ordered held for misdemeanor charges of staging a riot, disturbing the peace and on three counts of battery.

TO FACE TRIAL

Ordered to stand trial were Kenneth Hicks, 19; his brother Alvin, 18; both of 1221 Leighton avenue, and Earnest Waters, Jr., 19, of 3701 Montclair. Bond was set at $525 for each defendant.

According to detectives of University Police Station, the three youths were in a large gathering of young adults and juveniles loitering in front of the school last Thursday. The school has been the scene of many arrests and probes into gang fights and narcotics, said Det. Sgt. John Geddes.

Det. Sgt. Alonzo M. Brown said he was driving near the school, saw a crowd of youngsters and ordered them to disperse. He said he radioed headquarters to send aid units in case he "ran into trouble."

REFUSE TO LEAVE

Brown said several of the youths said they were not going to leave, and challenged him to make them leave. At about that time police reinforcements arrived. Some 20 officers attempted to break up the crowd.

One of the officers was reportedly jumped on from the back, while fighting broke out between officers and a number of teenagers.

The disorder was quickly put down, but not before some of the officers sustained minor injuries.

Officer Geddes said they arrested a juvenile, Richard Pledger, 17, of 3747½ S. Normandie, when the boy insisted on being told why the Hicks boys and Waters were being arrested. Pledger might be released, however, as no accurate charges had been brought against him, Geddes said.

Police said the youths normally gather outside the school to pick up girl friends who are attending summer sessions.

HEADS DENTISTS — Dr. John B. Singleton, of Nashville, was installed last week as president of the National Dental Ass'n, at the organization's Washington convention. Dr. Richard Layne of St. Louis was named president-elect.

Boys' Club Gets Boycott Cash in Bigotry Fight

Raymond E. Miller, executive director of the Southern Area Boys' Club, advised the Eagle this week that several members of the community had responded to the Rams-Redskins boycott in a tangible way and had contributed funds to the Boys' Club.

Those sending in a total of $58 were: L. J. Brockenbury, 1246 W. Jefferson blvd., $25; Marie Turner, 5138 W. 20th street, $3; Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas, 4201 Seventh street, $10; Walter Miller, 1559 E. 53rd street, $10; and Mr. and Mrs. Brad Pye, Jr., 1928 W. 43rd street, $10.

Phone Caller Tells Pastor He Will Die

A 67-year-old minister Friday complained to police that some one was molesting him and had threatened his life.

Rev. Franklin Charles Jones, of 3925 S. Arlington avenue, said an unidentified man, apparently a white man, had phoned him and warned:

"Something is going to happen to you. You are going to be killed within 30 days."

Mr. Jones also said his window screens have been cut, and the screen torn loose from his front door.

The minister said he has received several offers to purchase his property on Arlington avenue, but that he has turned them down because the price is too low. He said he thinks someone is attempting to frighten him into selling.

The James Shifflett family raised $258.50 for the Freedom Riders last July 8. This month Mrs. Shifflett presented Rev. Martin Luther King with a Bank of America cashier's check for that amount.

In an interview Mrs. Shifflett stated, "We are indebted to all those who supported our fund-raising event and we would like to thank them for their cooperation."

Time for the Commission to Act

If the Interstate Commerce Commission had been as vigilant as it should have been the nation might have been spared the spectacle of the arrest and prosecution of the Freedom Riders.

The Commission is charged with the responsibility of supervising interstate commerce and it knows, or should have known, that the Supreme Court decided a good many years ago that segregation or discrimination of passengers offends federal laws governing such travel.

And unless its agents are blind they must have known that bus, airplane and railroad lines in the South have kept right on displaying segregatory signs in waiting rooms and other places of public accommodation in bus depots, union stations and airline terminals.

The ICC should have ordered the removal of these signs years ago and ordered their replacement with other signs advising the general public and discrimination or segregation is an unconstitutional exercise of power by public carriers.

As it is, the ICC has just got around to holding a public hearing on the matter and if its past speed is any indication it will drag its feet a little more before it shoulders the responsibility that belongs to it.

The attorney general is to be congratulated for moving to get the Commission to do what it should have done. We hope that he presses his case vigorously and lets the South, and the general public, know that the Freedom Riders are well within their rights in trying to use all terminal facilities.

Falsifying Los Angeles History

Every time Los Angeles gets ready to celebrate its birthday, those in charge of the celebration do their best to falsify, or at least conceal, what they must regard as an embarrassing aspect of the city's history.

They never mention the fact that people whom we would describe as Negroes played an important part in the founding of the original pueblo.

The historical fact is that ten of the 22 men and women who got here first were either Negroes or part Negroes—and in the American scheme a part Negro is just as much a Negro as a man direct from Africa.

The pageants that are staged on Los Angeles' birthday never include Negroes, or part Negroes. Participants are always persons of Indian or Spanish descent.

Of course we know that the founders of Los Angeles and those who sent them here weren't as obsessed with color as Americans are. They didn't think it of any particular importance that some of those chosen to participate in the founding of Los Angeles had African ancestors.

But since Americans and American history make so much of the fact that "white men" did this or that in the early history of our country we think they ought to be equally as vigilant to point out that some non-whites also deserve historical recognition.

While we're about it, we can't resist wondering what happened to the descendants of those early Negro founders. Since they don't live in our residentially segregated communities today we can only surmise that they have been absorbed into the population and heaven forbid that some of them don't even known that by Senator Eastland's definition they aren't fit to vote or hold public office.

The Catholics Miss the Boat

Although four more New Orleans schools will integrate this fall that city's very important Catholic parochial school system will remain segregated.

Archbishop Joseph Rummell is sticking by his plan to delay integration of Catholic schools until public schools are desegregated. Apparently he won't move until all New Orleans schools have dropped their color barriers.

The decision is disheartening to Americans who look to religious leaders for leadership in the area of race relations. A church, any church, which preaches brotherhood and then gags when it is called upon to practice that brotherhood is derelict in its duty.

The backwoods Protestant sects of the South are notorious for their wholesale and whole hearted acceptance of racial segregation. They justify their ignorant practices on an interpretation of Biblical history which holds that God cursed Ham and his descendants and that Negroes are descendants of Ham.

On the other hand, the Catholic Church has been in the forefront in interracial affairs. One of its cardinals is an African and in many instances it has refused to bow to local customs and practices which run counter to its concept of a world wide brotherhood of man, regardless of race.

Almost one half of New Orleans children attend parochial schools and the Catholic Church is muffing an excellent chance to assume leadership in a situation which cries out for courage.

Show Us a Little Speed, Too

It didn't take Congress long to pitch in and pass a law providing heavy penalties for persons who hi-jack airplanes. We can't say that we're sorry because this airplane theft business is a danger to all citizens.

However, there is a decided contrast between the speed with which Congress acted on airplanes and the snail's pace progress it makes when civil rights matters come before it.

It seems to us that elimination of discrimination against a tenth of the nation's population is as important as removing the danger that some crackpot may creep into an airplane and order its pilots to take off for Havana.

We're not so good at mathematics but we wish somebody who has access to one of the new computing machines would make a time comparison between the time it has taken Congress to protect the right of a Mississippi citizen to vote and the time it took to enact the airplane laws. It seems to us, at a rough guess, that the proportion must be better than ten thousand to one.

As the NAACP puts the case, citizenship rights are as important to America's eighteen million Negroes as the value of an airplane is to one of our prosperous air lines.

Increasing NAACP's Usefulness

Southern California branches of the NAACP ought to be able to redouble their effectiveness through the appointment of a field secretary for the southern and southwest areas of the Association.

The new official will have her offices in Los Angeles and comes well recommended for her job. She has served as executive for the Texas conference of branches and has earned an LLB from Howard University.

The NAACP is outgrowing the situation in which volunteers can perform the myriad tasks thrust on local branches. With the best will in the world, volunteers find it increasingly difficult to do the job that must be done in larger cities, particularly in fast growing areas such as ours.

We welcome Miss Simmons and hope that she will increase the usefulness of one of our most useful institutions. We are sure that she will.

Fire Dept. Upgrading Policy Being Probed

in the Los Angeles Fire Department.

NINE PASS

Hartsfield is representing seven Negro firemen in a group of nine who recently passed the written test for the rank of fire captain. The list was temporarily set aside after the firemen contended they were discriminated against in the oral test conducted by Hawthorne's department.

Negro firemen who took the recent captain's test are: Cecil W. McLinn, James H. Shern, George W. Winchester, Emmett J. Wilhite, Robert N. Craig, Willie J. Patterson, Jr., Joseph R. Chretien, Jacob H. Addison and Sanford T. Jones.

Hawthorne told the Eagle:

"It's the Fire Department's baby. My department has nothing to do with racial discrimination in the Fire Department."

Hartsfield said Hawthorne was "just passing the buck. He should not be head of a department that is supposed to act without bias yet is made up of men who are infamous for condoning bias for years in the Fire Department."

To bear out, somewhat, the charges of Hartsfield, statements from Assistant Chief Johnston tended to shift "any racial bias" to parties unknown.

DEFENDS POLICIES

Said Johnston: "I had to go through those oral tests myself, and I and many other (white) firemen found no fault with them. And three of those colored boys kicking up this present fuss are on the top of the list to be made captain, too."

Johnston said he did not feel the Civil Service Board was totalitarian or dictatorial in having power to approve or turn down an applicant merely because the board did not like the way he talked. He said he did not see harm in the applicant not having recourse to appeal or to learn why he was turned down so that he might correct his "faults."

"We will give an itemized list of our oral demerits if an applicant wants them after he has received a disqualifying score," said Johnston.

NEGRO FLUNKED

Hartsfield recalled that not long ago a Negro, reading in Omaha of civil service openings here for fireman, came here and applied for a job as a fire-fighter.

"The man had already been a fireman several years in Omaha," said Hartsfield. "But do you know, Johnston and Hawthorne's Civil Service Board turned him down and graded him below 50 per cent on the oral exam. Here, the city needed firemen to fight fires, and we have a Civil Service Board grading them on whether or not they believe in integrated schools."

Hartsfield and his group want oral exams grading lowered to 15 per cent. They want rating forms established, "to give each applicant not only an appeal standpoint but grounds for improvement." He said they would enjoin certification of the captains' list, and would probably solicit study of the situation from the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Loren Miller Says . . .

matically fall into a class which must pay premium rates for insurance. You've guessed it: these red areas are communities in which Negroes are perponderant in the population.

What it all adds up to is that Negro automobile owners must pay higher rates for their automobile insurance in the ordinary case since most Negroes live in the red areas. It doesn't make any differnce that the applicant may never have received a ticket in his life or hasn't had an accident since Hoover fed the starving Belgians. He has to pay a premium for the very dubious privilege of being classified as a Negro in the United States census reports.

PAYING THE HANGMAN

The hard part of the matter is that the man who is charged these premium rates often finds it pretty tough to get a good paying job, for the simple reason that he's a Negro. He's like the condemned man who was required to pay for the rope that was used when he was hanged. He complained that he thought it was bad enough to have his neck broken without having to pay for it. I think he had something there.

California has a law of sorts which purports to prohibit discrimination in insurance rates but it isn't much help. I never knew anybody who was able to make it work, although I have known several who have tried to do so. I hope the attorney general can find something to do in the situation. A man sized investigation which sorted out the facts and held them up to public view might be some help.

NEW STANDARDS

Anyhow, as I was saying, the Negro can't get a fair shake so long as he is judged as a Negro and not as a man. The way things are in this country only two classes of Negroes ever get to the public eye. The bad actors who run afoul of the law are bound to get advertised through Chief Parker's statisticians and the outstanding men and women, such as Ralph Bunche or Robert Weaver, get an abundance of applause when the liberals gather together to congratulate themselves on the progress we are making.

Meanwhile, the run of mine Negro who never gets in trouble and never gets to the top of the heap finds himself victimized in every possible way, from having to pay too much for insurance all the way down, or up, to being overcharged for a home when he gets in the buyers or renters market. He longs for the good day when somebody will take a look at him and rate him on his merit. He's just as certain as I am that Negroes will never be free until a Negro can be a no-good so-and-so without other Negroes having to pay for his failings.

L.A. Ministers Divided Over Baptist Feud

vited all delegates to join with us in making this a decisive convention."

STATE TELLERS

The list of those backing Dr. Jackson, however, is also impressive, and its members are equally confident.

Rev. E. A. Anderson, a member of the board under Dr. Jackson, told the Eagle, "I think we are going to have a real convention this year and that the men who are holding out will come in and accept the leadership of the one and only president of the National Baptist Convention, Inc., Dr. Jackson."

He further stated that delegates will be registered, given credentials and directed to sit under their state banners on the floor of the Municipal Auditorium at Kansas City. Each state will have its own tellers and a report will be given to the central committee.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION

Other Jackson supporters were equally optimistic about a unified convention. They include Rev. Edward V. Hill, of Mt. Zion Baptist Church; Rev. Jonathon L. Caston of Trinity Baptist; Rev. W. H. Wofford, of Bethany; Rev. Grant Harris, of Good Shepherd; Rev. Welford P. Carter of Calvary Baptist in Santa Monica and Rev. B. C. Bachum of Macedonia Baptist Church.

While all of the ministers contacted were firm in their belief that some solution would be found to the dilemna facing them, none had any solution except faith as a means of bringing about a dignified business session.

Meanwhile advance registration is being carried on by both presidents and prayers are being offered in churches throughout the nation for a unified convention.

African Students Killed in Texas

brick, State Department escort, is said to be in critical condition.

Samuel Axwell Kofi Forson of Ghana, the fourth student with the group, was traveling in another car at the time of the accident.

All four were students in Cairo, United Arab Republic, at the Faculty of Medicine of Cairo University and at the Al Azhar University.

TREATMENT OF NEGROES

In an interview before he left Los Angeles on a road that was destined to lead to sadness, Forson commented on America:

"Africa values the friendship of the United States. We have a long way yet to go. This is a unique opportunity for the United States to come to our aid in genuine and mutual cooperation.

"Africa has long been dubbed the dark continent. It is like a giant which is just getting up from its sleep. We hope to contribute to the scientific, cultural, educational, political, and social progress of the world."

Forson was not silent about one of Africa's primary concerns about America, its treatment of the Negro.

"Negroes have contributed greatly to American strength and greatness," he said. However, he added, the friendship between the two continents cannot help but be affected by the manner in which the United States treats black Americans.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

I wonder why you, the Sentinel, NAACP and CORE decided to help Udall. Why did you not do this last year, or the year before?

I'm Negro. I want full citizenship for all—human rights for all. But, I just wonder when did the federal government need our help?

I think you should not settle for crumbs—"Redskin crumbs." Your aim "full blast"—should be the L. A. Times, not G. Marshall. Let us not make our scope so small.

In my opinion the L. A. Times is not now, nor has it ever been a friend of the Negro. If you ask me, their editorials are never kind to Negroes. It is not for federal programs that will help the lower income groups, and we know that means Negroes.

In my opinion, the ministers who sponsored Dr. King should have paid the bill. We know that we cannot do like other groups. So the ministers should set the examples.

I was at the meeting and I thought at the time that the program left much to be desired. It was absolutely too slow moving. Dick Gregory never did get to be the moderator. He only talked when he was doing his own part of the program.

I thought the idea of a Freedom Rally was fine, but there was a great deal of confusion on the platform; in fact, so much that Gov. Brown said that Dr. King asked him to see that every one on the platform was seated and quiet before he introduced King. Mahalia Jackson was one of those who was not quiet—she was standing on the platform giving autographs.

But, thank God we are learning that it does not take all day to do a good job.

I had planned to hear and watch the governor of North Carolina on television but was unable to do so. But the L. A. Times or the Examiner, I don't remember which, said he said that the University of North Carolina had been desegregated before 1954 and that Negroes wanted economic equality more than anything else.

Since I did not see the program, would you clarify this statement in your editorials at some future date? I received a shock when I read your editorial because of what I had already read. Of course, I know most Southern leaders are not sincere when they claim that Negroes have the same opportunities as other groups.

However, I thought this man was a bit better because his children go to school with Negro children. I'm sure that they all want to see segregation drag on and on.

Thank you,
Mrs. O. C. D. McNeil

(Editor's note: We agree with Mrs. McNeil that we "should not settle for crumbs." We agree, also, that the Los Angeles Times has never demonstrated that it is a "friend" of the Negro.

(What Mrs. McNeil may have had in mind was to chide us for selecting "small" targets and avoiding the more powerful ones.

(We don't believe this is a justified criticism, however. We don't mind how big the targets are—or how small. We believe they all have to be tackled, whether it is the Fire Department, police brutality, or a football team that refuses to hire Negro players.

(Every victory weakens, if by only a little, the props that hold up segregation. Every victory, moreover, and every struggle even though victory is not gained immediately, encourages more people to fight against injustice.

(Discrimination is many sided; it has to be fought wherever it exists.)

Freedom Riders

In Jackson the first of the 189 Freedom Riders to appear before a Mississippi jury went into County Court Tuesday with a plea for a change of site for his trial for breach of the peace.

He was Henry Thomas, 19, Howard University student.

In another court Monday 10 other Negroes were sentenced on breach of the peace charges following sit-ins at the city zoo.

They were given $200 fines each and four month jail terms. Their attorney indicated the cases would be appealed and posted $500 appeal bonds.

The 10 included Elihu Osby Jr., 19, of Los Angeles, a student at Campbell College in Jackson, Miss.

YWCA Freshman Round-up Due

The University YWCA has announced its annual Y Freshman Round-Up for new women students entering UCLA in September. The Round-Up will be held Thursday, Aug. 31 starting at 9 a.m. through Friday, Sept. 1, closing at 10 a.m. The group will stay overnight in the University YWCA building at 574 Hilgard, avenue, Westwood.

L.A. Founding Fete Based on Race Myth

dores" will be Mexican-Americans, drawn from the people who live in the area of Olvera street, according to Mrs. Christine Sterling, one of the guiding lights of the founding celebration.

There will be no Negroes in the procession, none, Mrs. Sterling told the Eagle firmly. She added that there were no Negroes among the founding-fathers, only Mexicans.

NEGRITOS, NOT NEGROES

It is true, said Mrs. Sterling, that some of those in the group were called "Negritos," but that term was merely used to describe Mexicans with dark skins. Some, she went on, were called "Chino," and that meant Mexicans with curly hair.

Mrs. Sterling is by no means alone in asserting the myth that "there were no Negroes" among the small band of men, women and children who established the city of Los Angeles 180 years ago. That version of history is also taught in the city's schools and is widely accepted.

Yet, however discomforting it may be to some of our First families, there is little room for doubt as to the racial and national origin of that little band of "pobladores."

HISTORICAL RECORDS

The Historical Society of Southern California has taken care of that. It lists the names of the founding residents of the city on page 148 of its 1931 edition of documents. It lists 12 men, 12 women and 22 children. One of the families, Antonio and Juana Maria Rodriguez, were listed as not yet having arrived at Los Angeles. Rodriguez was described as a "Chino."

Of the others, two of the men are listed as "Negro," two as "Mulato," two as "Spaniard," one as "Mestizo," and four as "Indian."

None of the women are listed as Negroes, but six of them are listed as "Mulata," which, we must assume, means part Negro. The other five were Indian.

ONLY 2 WHITES

As a matter of fact, according to the early records in Spanish and in the English translation, the two Spanish men were the only two "white" persons among the 44 First Settlers. Both of them were married to Indian women.

There are other references to Negroes in the early documents preserved by the Historical Society. On Page 122 of the same volume referred to above, there is a description of some of the settlers, together with a list of the household and farming utensils, clothes, etc., given to them and for which they signed receipts.

Leading the list is one Antonio Mesa. He is described as: "Negro, 38, native of El Real de Los Alamos, married; his wife is Anna Gertrudis Lopez, native of said Real, Mulata, 27. Two children, etc., etc., etc."

EXTRAS, NOT STARS

The reenactment, come Sept. 4, is scheduled for 8-9:30 p.m., to be followed by the dedication of a new kiosko in Old Plaza by Mayor Sam Yorty, who will deliver, says the committee, "a brief message on the occasion of the founding of the city."

Then there will be more entertainment "with Indian dancers, a despedida and street dance to the music of the Tipica Orchestra."

If Negroes feel somewhat miffed at being omitted in the "reenactment" of the founding of the city, they can take some comfort, perhaps, from the fact that at least the Indians, their fellow-founders, made it, if only as extras instead of stars.

'Lynch' Case Pair to Appeal

liminary court hearings in which one of the officers allegedly referred to one of the prisoners as "one of a bunch of niggers."

It all started last Memorial Day, when officers were called to Griffith Park to check reports some Negro youths were riding the merry-go-round without paying. Police said when they arrived many Negro younsters started singing out that they were "Freedom Riders."

When officers began using what bystanders said were abusive tactics against the youths, a general fight broke out. Bottles flew and stones were thrown in the area, and one police car was overturned. Police said one boy, detained in a police scout car, was released by one of the two convicted youths.

'LYNCHING' DROPPED

Charges of "lynching" were lodged against McLemore and Jones, on the alleged grounds that they had seized a prisoner from police custody. These charges were suddenly dropped last week by the district attorney at the opening of the trial. The other charges, which also carry stiff penalties, were ordered to stand. It was on the remaining charges that McLemore and Jones were convicted.

It was brought out by defense counsel that there were about 200 persons actively participating in the uprising in Griffith Park Memorial day, and he asserted that police officers could not be sure they had arrested the proper persons for the specific violations. It was at this point Porter tried, futilely, to recall preliminary testimony of arresting officers.

L.A. State College Offers Art Courses

Twenty different art courses will be offered during evening hours this fall at East Los Angeles College, announced Dr. John Howard, dean of the Evening Division.

Officer Wins Citation for Saving Five

Officer Henderson Cooper, who lives in the South Los Angeles area and who works at Central Jail, is to be given a citation for "unselfish display of heroism and devotion to duty above and beyond the call of duty."

The action for which he is being commended occurred Dec. 4, 1959, when he is credited with saving the lives of five people in a fire at 1244 E. 21st street.

Officer Cooper, noticing flames coming from the house in the early morning hours, rushed inside, found one occupant and led him to safety.

He went back a second time, found three children, carried them outside, despite the blaze, the heat and the smoke.

He went back a third time, found a man, terrified and preparing to jump from a window. Cooper tied bedsheets together and helped the man lower himself to the ground.

There were no other occupants of the building.

2 Firms Face FEP Hearings

A major construction company and a Berkeley restaurant have been accused of racial discrimination in rejecting applicants for employment, the State Fair Employment Practice Commission announced in San Francisco.

The Commission set dates for public hearings in cases against the Guy F. Atkinson Company, with offices in the Russ Building, San Francisco, and Brennan's Cafe, 720 University avenue, Berkeley.

Accusations have been filed in both cases by FEP Commissioner Elton Brombacher of Richmond, assigned to investigate complaints of job applicants who were turned down. Results of investigation supported the complainants' allegations, he found, but he was unable to obtain corrective action through conciliation. Under the FEP law, he is now asking the other members of the five-man Commission to hear the cases and order the firms to take corrective action.

Mrs. Verna Lucile Glover, 1292 Francisco street, Berkeley, who is Negro, charged that Brennan's discriminated in rejecting her application for a position as a cafeteria cashier. Public hearing of the case was scheduled for November 14-15 in San Francisco.

A Negro carpenter, Edieu McNeil, 5434 Alpine Road, San Pablo, charged the Atkinson Company with discrimination in rejecting his application for employment at a freeway construction site. Hearing of his case was scheduled for November 27-28, also in San Francisco.

Youth on Parade Draws Large Audience at Good Shepherd

By PHYLLIS MOORE

"Rejoice O young man in thy youth and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth."
Eccl. 11:9

It has been said that America's strength lies in its youth. This was proven last Sunday when young people attended the "Youth on Parade" program presented by Reve Gipson, at Good Shepherd Baptist Church.

Robert Belton, the guest speaker, was introduced by Bonita Belcher. Robert was a debator at L.A. High School and was valdictorian at his graduation. He was elected graduate advisor of the Los Angeles chapter of the Jack and Jills and attended the Examiner Youth Forum.

GIVE A HAND

Belton pointed out that youth should display itself with thought and reasoning and knowledge. "We, the young men and women, must set the standards, so that we will be able to succeed," he said. "For the Lord may take us by the hand — but we should give him a hand to hold onto.

"When our generation takes its place we will fall by the wayside but we must know how to start again. We must learn to gather man together by common faith, into unity, for only by this will we be strong."

HAVE FAR TO GO

To weigh your thoughts instead of hurrying to criticize your parents was suggested as a means of better understanding between the two generations.

He also pointed out that youth is displaying itself in the current freedom rides, but, at the Examiner Youth Forum, out of approximately 435 youths only two Negroes spoke. Therefore, we still have far to go.

At the close of his speech received hearty applause.

Methodists to Build Chapel in Pacoima Area

The Methodist Church of Pacoima took another step in its program to erect a new church edifice at its 12546 Van Nuys blvd. location, last Sunday afternoon when ground-breaking ceremonies were held at the two and one-half acre site where the first of the community church buildings will be erected. This first building will be the chapel. Contractors expect to have it ready for occupancy in six months.

The pastor of the church is the Rev. Nathaniel Lacy, Jr. The members of the church have been on "a Chapel Crusade" for several months to bring the erection of their new building to fruition.

Travelers dawn Van Nuys blvd. between Dronfield and Borden avenues have often seen the large oil painting of the church building by Arnold McNely, now the building will rise to beautify the spot.

FELLOWSHIP

Following the ground-breaking ceremonies, the women of the church served refreshments. Among the members of the Women's Society of Christian Service who took an active part in the occasion were: Mmes. Cornelia Lee, Mallie Kussman, Dorothy Scott, Arlene Washington, Gloria White and Marie Washington.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch--Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment wtih special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

The news that George Preston Marshall intends hiring several Negroes at the next player draft, isn't at all surprising because if you had witnessed that picket line outside of the Coliseum at the Rams-Redskin game, and saw hundreds of fans turn away and refuse to cross the line, you could have guessed even Marshall knew the handwriting was on the wall.

Negro football fans are not going to wait until the next player draft to see if Marshall puts Negroes in uniforms because they have waited too long. To the fans its now or never. Marshall has been making money outside of Washington D.C. because certain sponsors have been giving him a flat guarantee and the segregationists have been supporting his team in Washington. That plus the fact he is not overly generous in paying his players, has enabled him to show a fat profit at the end of the season.

Since this has been true in the past attendance is in jeopardy because the Coliseum boycott is spreading to other cities and is bound to affect the gate. The theory is that if the National Football League big brass can sit in their swivel chairs and let Marshall make mockery out of the league, the fans are saying they can watch the old movies on their TV sets on Sunday afternoon and there is always college football.

Marshall's attitude in the league for the past 10 years has brought nothing but disgrace to the league and it wasn't until a new president took office that the NFL's brass would utter a word about his behavior. That only came in the form of a so-called letter from Marshall saying that the Washington club did not discriminate against hiring Negro players. Just take a peep at the 1961 roster of the Redskins for the facts. Now Pete Rozell, the NFL commissioner knows Marshall isn't levelling. He knows that from his experience with the Rams organization every year he has seen the Redskins under Marshall show up in the Coliseum with his Redskins and no brownskins.

It seems to the football fans that Rozell should have been reading the "law" to Marshall ever since Secretary George Udal announced that the Redskins will have to find new quarters unless he starts taking players into his organization by ability instead of the color of their skin. It has also occurred to the fans that the NFL has rules governing the players' conduct on and off the field and its time that they enforce the rules which govern the conduct of the owners.

Knudsen Tennis Clinic Tourney Set for Youth

In an effort to re-awaken youth's interest in tennis as a major sport in the central Los Angeles area, plans for a Novice Tennis Tournament and a special tennis clinic were revealed this week.

Under the sponsorship of the Knudsen Creamery Co. and coordinated by the Gramercy Cosmopolitan Tennis Club, the tennis events will be conducted on the courts at Fremont High School at 76th Place and San Pedro Street. The clinic will be held on August 26 from 10:00 a.m. until noon, serving as a prelude to a special, three-day novice tennis tournament scheduled from August 29 through the 31.

Free instruction and tips on the game will be given by representative of aJck Kramer's professional tennis organization to boys and girls of all ages. Among the topics to be reviewed by the professional players are stroking techniques—including serve, forehand, backhand and volley—as well as the strategy of the game.

"Pete" Brown, tennis coach at Fremont High and a member of the Gramercy Cosmopolitan Tennis Club, said the novice tournament will feature singles matches for boys and girls in age divisions of 18 years and under and 15 years and under. Entry blanks for the tournament will be available at the tennis clinic.

Winners of the tournament will be presented special trophies and all participants will receive a special Knudsen tennis tournament sweater emblem.

Moore vs. Takayama

The fight in which Davey Moore, will defend his world featherweight title in Tokyo against Kazuo Takayama has been reset for Oct. 31.

The bout was first set for Oct. 1. Moore will receive a guarantee of $30,000 plus expenses. He holds a title decision over Takayama.

Scheduled for TV

Cassius Clay, 1961 hottest looking heavyweight boxing prospect and 1960 Olympic Games light-heavyweight champion, will appear in his second TV bout it was reported in Louisville last week.

Angels Farm Clubs Boasting Several Top Negro Prospects

Down on the farm the Los Angeles Angels have several Negro players who look like they have the tools to become "Angels of the future."

Currently the hottest prospect of the group is hard-hitting outfielder Dick Simpson, formerly of Venice (Cal.) High school. The tape-measure home run clouter is presently batting around .300 for Statesville, N.C., Owls.

The 18-year-old and 170-pound prospect leads the Western Carolina League in homers with 15. At Venice High he was a 23-foot plus broad jumper and on the base paths he has been compared with the L.A. Dodgers' flock of speedsters headed by Willie Davis, Tommy Davis, Maury Wills, et al.

At the rate Simpson is going he may be invited to go to Spring training with the Angels next season.

Two of Simpson's Negro teammates at Statesville, shortstop Bob Lucas and second-sacker David Best, have shown promise of blossoming out into fine prospects.

Best, brother-in-law of the Milwaukee Braves' great Hank Aaron, and Lucas were both signed at the campus of Florida A&M. As an indication of this trio's ability, all three were selected on the Western Carolina League's all-star East squad. Best got a pinch-hit single and Simpson collected a double in three trips. This trip was instrumental in Statesville nabbing the first half of their split season.

Another fine candidate to be a future Angel is another Los Angeles boy — right hander Walter Darton from Jordan High school.

Before suffering a sore arm Darton had posted a 5-1 record.

Rams Face Browns

The once tied Los Angeles Rams football team have been drilling since last Monday preparing for the invasion of Paul Brown's mighty Cleveland Browns starring Jim Brown this Friday night Aug. 25 in the Coliseum.

In the Rams Redlands training camp the squad worked on offensive line plays and pass patterns.

Last week the Browns posted a smashing 27 to 24 win over the S.F. 49ers. The Rams are expected to give a good account of themselves in Friday's tussle.

DON'T BE AFRAID TO FIGHT

Eight years ago there was only one Negro women's golf club in the city.

A Negro woman was sent ta integrate the Caucasian Women's Western Ave. Golf Club. She was refused and protested to Supervisor Kenneth Hahn who (after it was proved that she had been segregated) suggested that a Negro club be organized at Western Avenue.

Thirty women organized and became known as the Los Angeles Women's County Western Avenue Club. This caused the Caucasian women to lose their status, thus making Western Avenue the second Negro Women's Club in the city and the first Negro County Club in America.

Even so the Caucasian club remained at Western Avenue, but the two clubs played separately. The Negro club resolved to open all segregated municipal golf clubs, never dreaming that they were undertaking a long, rough and rocky road. The road that led to integration was so rough that they lost 40 fighters and ended up with only 10.

It became even rougher when they were sued by two of their own members (who had been removed for attempting to lead the club back to the segregated golf association). The dust began to settle when an understanding judge refused to re-instate members who choose to march backwards.

The Western Avenue Negro Women reorganized and sued the Public Links (Caucasian Golf Association) for membership. Public Links cross-filed and the two groups fought each other through the courts for two years.

The Negro women's first break came when the City Parks and Recreation Board (headed by George Hjelte) ordered the Sepulveda Women to accept this writer's application.

Ten Negro women were immediately carried into Sepulveda, one was voted into Lakewood and three were accepted by Griffith Park women.

The Women's Public Links Association insisted on a withdrawal of the suit against them before they would accept the Negro women members who had fought their way into the Caucasian clubs.

The rough road became smoother when all were accepted by the tough Public Links but even so the women were still segregated at Western Avenue where th fight began.

The militant Negro Western Avenue Women decided that they had fought the Caucasian Western Avenue Women long enough so they decided to end it all in court (again).

Dr. Chris Taylor donated $500 and the Negro women had Atty. Leo Branton standing by when they decided to try "one last conference." That conference proved effective.

The Caucasian Women agreed to integrate if they were not forced to accept this writer (who started the fight). Two other Negro women were accepted and the fight ended.

Last Thursday, seven year later, we had the pleasure of playing a most enjoyable game with the Caucasian Western Avenue Women and we exchanged friendly greetings - for the first time since 1954.

This story was retold, hoping to inspire more people to fight because at the end, nobody is really angry, when you win.

Playground Champions Are Saluted

Softball squads to be honored are Verdugo Playground's "Spartans," and the Westside Jewish Community Center, junior division winners and runners-up, respectively, and St. Andrews Playground's "Yankees" and Fresno Playground's team, champions and second-spot winners in the senior division.

Broadway Federal Cage Team Wins Summer Basketball Title

Weiner Steel, down by 18 points at one stretch, rallied strongly on the steady play of Don McIntosh and Bill Sanchez only to see the comeback fall short as Broadway Federal Savings won a 79-76 decision and the 1961 Major SPAAAU Summer League basketball crown at Los Angeles City College.

Playing for the winner of the second round, the two teams started slowly before Art Williams and Bill Leedom of Broadway and McIntosh and Sanchez began to find the bucket consistly. Broadway held a 43-39 halftime advantage.

Bobby Blue, with 12 points, fouled out with 19.16 left in the second half to hamper the Broadway cause and sensational Billy McGill also left the contest via the foul route with 7.55 remaining after scoring 11 points.

When McGill left, the Bankers held what seemed to be a safe 65-51 margin and quickly increased the lead to 69-51. Then Weiner went to work. With McIntosh practically owning the boards and Sanchez stealing under the basket for two points, the steelmen kept whittling away at the Broadway lead.

Weiner got possession of the ball with 25 seconds left and trailing 79-76, but McIntosh's jump short barely missed and Broadway rebounded to stagger home a winner.

Williams' 19 paced the Bankers with Joe Caldwell getting 12, while Weiner was paced by McIntosh's 19, Sanchez's 17 and 15 by Bruno Boin. McGill, who pick up four fouls in the first half, was held to his lowest scoring effort of the season. His previous low as 14 against Galbraith Sporting Goods.

Third Annual All City Aquatic

Hundreds of youthful splashers representing 37 municipal pools will participate in the third annual All-City Aquatic championships, which will be staged all day Saturday August 26 at the Los Angeles Swim Stadium, 3980 Menlo Avenue.

The aqua meet will get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday, when top junior and senior polo teams representing the Recreation and Park Department's Central, Valley, and South districts will battle for city-wide titles, and junior and senior diving competition will be staged.

Olympic Dark This Thursday

Because of the Yankee-Angel baseball game, the Olympic Auditorium will not have a boxing program tonight, Thursday.

Action resumes on August 31 with heavyweights Alex Miteff and Jim McCarter signed for the main event. Miteff is the colorful Argentine scrapper who has met all the leading contenders.

McCarter, former University of Washington fullback, has an amateur decision over the much feared Sonny Liston.

On Sept. 7 at the Olympic, Battling Torres returns to box Ray Riojas.

National Hair Styling Honors Won by L.A.'s Mary Batiste

Advanced hair styling training has paid off for Mary Batiste, local hair stylist and owner of the popular Salon Bel Cheveaux, at 3841 S. Western avenue.

Last week in Chicago, during the 42nd annual National Beauty Culturists League Inc., she walked off with national honors winning first prize in the hair styling contest over a field of some 25 finalists from all over the country.

Mrs. Batiste was an instructor in the Cosmetology Institute conducted during the convention by the NBCL, along with Patricia Harris, who acts as a technician for Hair Strate, Inc., in the California area.

Mrs. Batiste is putting in her 12th year in the field of hair styling and is one of two state examiners for the State of California. In addition she has served for two and one-half years as technician for the Summit Laboratories, manufacturers of Hair Strate.

Winning NCBL's national title gives Mrs. Batiste the distinction of being the first beautician in California to ever win the national first place trophy.

In winning she used Sammie Calhoun of Oakland to model the winning hair style entitled, "Flight into Space."

In 1959 Mrs. Batiste won a state-wide hair-styling contest and in 1960 she was named among the ten top beauticians and was saluted for outstanding achievement for her contributions in the field of cosmetology for hair coloring.

Mrs. Batiste, after being selected national winner, accepted an invitation to be guest hairstylist at the upcoming Texas State Beauticians Association convention to be held in Dallas in October.

The National Beauty Culturists League, Inc., and National Institute of Cosmetology attracted over 8,000 delegates to the convention held in the Sherman Hotel in Chicago. The organization has chapters in every state but two and in two foreign countries. The hair styling contest was one of the top events of the 42nd annual convention.

Around the World in 50 Days with the Robinsons

By JESSE and MRYTLE ROBINSON

We arrived in Jerusalem on the Israel side on Friday and the stores were closing one by one and by sundown the entire city was quiet and deserted. It was the Jewish Sabbath.

Saturday night it was different. Streets were full of people like New York's Times Square on New Year's Eve, elbow to elbow, a pick-pocket's paradise, but luckily there weren't any.

On Sunday we drove to Tel Aviv and as we drove we could feel the spirit of this new nation.

The trip down from Jerusalem through the countryside certainly shows in part why the Arabs are worried about Israel. Instead of the rocky, uncultivated dry land one sees in Jordan fields, there are fields of green vegetation and mile after mile of cultivated land. Water here is abundant. Farms are raising cotton, apples, tomatoes, watermelon and oranges.

If anyone plans to visit Tel Aviv, be sure to stop at the Don Hotel. It's just like being at Miami Beach — crowded beaches, sidewalk cafes and all.

We left Jerusalem feeling refreshed after our afternoon of bathing in the Mediterranean and winged our way toward Turkey.

In Turkey the average workingman's wages are $39 a month. He seldom buys canned food. He lives in a two room apartment which rents for $10 and his wife operates on an $18 a month budget.

The black market is a flourishing business and it includes some of our military personnel. Radios, cigarette lighters, electric razors are some of the items which bring double profit.

All radios are registered and when an owner decides to sell, the minister of radio sales will supply the buyer. This department is part of the Post Office in Istanbul.

Turkey's economic condition is in a pretty bad state.

We hopped back on the plane and headed for Rome, our third visit. Last year's Olympic Games made more people determined to visit the Eternal City. Being tourist season, Rome is crowded. The popular sights here are Vatican City, the Coliseum, the Borghese Gallery and the Spanish Steps.

Our trip is fast coming to an end. We have used up 36 days of our 50 and only have two weeks in which we will see Paris, Geneva, Berlin and Copenhagen.

We are eager to get back to Los Angeles.

Fashion Show

Armalona Pinkston and Harold Cowen are presenting "Around the Clock", fashion show, at the Clark hotel on Sunday, Aug. 27, starting at 7 p.m.

AKA's Are Returning From 39th National Convention

Nearly 1500 delegates attending the 39th national convention in Chicago of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority returned home Sunday after a week of assessment of their educational, social, service and economic strength, and the gaiety of lavish entertainment between times.

The convention heard Dr. William H. Hale, president of Langston University and of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, at its first public meeting in McCormick Place which honored Miss Marian Anderson. Dr. Hale called on Negro college fraternal groups to halt what he termed the "disassociation" of Negro intellectuals and prosperous groups from the problems and goals of the masses.

After receiving the sorority's Distinguished Service Award, a plaque, from Mrs. Marjorie H. Parker, president, Miss Anderson said with evident emotion, "Being a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority has been one of the great things in my life."

The sorority presented a $500 check in Miss Anderson's name to Hebrew University in Jerusalem. The institution named its United Nations Documents Room for the famed singer last year.

Monday night the officers and distinguished guests were feted at a reception in the Sheraton-Chicago.

Parties were the rule Tuesday night for delegates, and Wednesday a tour was taken of six major South Side businesses followed by a buffet supper at the Parkway Ballroom and a poolside party in the Sheraton.

Thursday night the conventioners toured Chicago supper clubs—Club Waikiki, Carousel in the Sky atop the Morrison Hotel and the Blue Angel.

"Fashion 'n Fantasy," a luncheon fashion show starring Terri Springer, Cleveland model, and featuring Etta Moten, was held Friday.

A formal ball Friday evening was given by the Chicago Pan Hellenic Council in the Sheraton Ballroom. The following night the organization's closed banquet and ball was held in the Sheraton. Anheuser-Busch was host to husbands and escorts at a smoker Saturday.

Duke Ellington and his orchestra provided the music for the Alpha Kappa Alpha Ball Saturday night.

A small crowd of us got together the night before at Thelma and Emmitt Houston's unusually distinctive studio duplex (there's nothing in town quite like it) to properly bid fond goodbye to Johnetta; I should say a swingin' fond goodbye, for so it was. Their aunt, Marie Burke of Dallas, left Sat.; her daughter-in-law, Rose, who came later, left with her.

Texas heat drove Betty Jones back to LA before she'd planned. Her mother, who went with her, will come home with Betty's sister, Ida Bacon of Dallas, who with her family is moving to LA. NAFAD agreed to admit newspaper folks as members. Vernon Strange, who loves the place, jetstreaks to NYC when autumn comes; he'll do the shows, shops, supper clubs circuit. Dr. Gertrude Curtis Thompson was in town briefly from NYC. Home from Hawaii: Marguerite Wilson and Jeanette Jackson.

PATIO PICNIC

Nira Hardon and her mother, Joyce Gordon, and Sandra Porter and Mrs. Geo. Sealey and son are home from Europe via ship. Johnny Simmons Jr. was given a party by his folks; he's off to school in the east.

The Herman Baileys entertained via patio picnic for Mr. and Mrs. Sherney and Mr. and Mrs. Freeney, all of Chica. Home from Hawaii: Eulamae Murray. The Robert Downses (Margery) and family are on a camping trip in the northern end of the state. Up north too are the Wesley Kennedys. While the Lewis Cummingses are home from their vacation spent in that same area. Ruby and Ernest Shelby hosted a Sat. night luau; they leave for the east soon. Ernest gave her a pale green T-bird as a gift when she retired recently. Edna McCormick's summer houseguest, Baltimore's Mary West Jones, leaves today.

Also from Balto., the Ronald Rayneses left for their home after spending vacation time here with Rev. and Mrs. Rakestraw; Mrs. R. is her sister. Eleanor James counting months until Oct. when she ocean-hops to Europe for two months. The Ivy Friendship Club are hard at it working on their eighth annual garden party; this one is on the books for Sept. 24. Corrine Gleed and daughter were in NYC when the senior Gleeds arrived from Europe (they're home in LA now); Corrine and Doris Rodriguez and their children will be heading this way shortly, home by Labor Day.

KAPPA ALPHA PSI MEMBERS — Three members of the Los Angeles area alumni chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi review their recently completed tour of the Anheuser-Busch brewery in Van Nuys via the company's illustrated booklet which explains the beer making process. Occasion was the Fouth Annual tour and outing for the fraternity at the brewery. Charles Fields (holding book), a Budweiser sales representative, explains the brewing process to entertainment chairman Edwin D. Sneed (center) and Dave Wilkerson Jr., transportation chairman for the day's event. Visible in background is one of the historical paintings which are a feature of the plant's Rathskeller, hospitality center where the visitors are invited to sample the brewery's product.

Woodcraft Rangers in Fund Drive

Former Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, Councilman John S. Gibson Jr. and F.A.W. Stiefler have joined the Honorary Advisory Committee of the Woodcraft Rangers campaign for funds, Norman Lynn, drive chairman, announced this week.

Funds from the drive will be used to double the capacity of the Woodcraft Rangers' Lake Arrowhead camp through purchase of a building near the present site.

Lynn said the new structure would house 50 youngsters for winter weekend outings and serve as a dining hall for the summer camp operation.

Two thousand children currently are accommodated each year at the camp, which has been in operation since 1927.

More than 7,000 boys and girls in Los Angeles County are members of either Woodcraft Rangers Little Lodge tribes (8 to 12) or Big Lodge tribes (12 to 16).

"He that does good for good's sake, seeks neither praise nor reward, but he is sure of both in the end."—William Penn.

PEOPLE & PLACES

REDD FOXX—The host who's a most, honored show business personnel from the Summit, where he is currently headlining and personalities from the Black Orchid. Food, fun, drinks, mirth and merriment filled the Foxx household far beyond capacity and a swinging time was enjoyed by one and all at this early 'yawning' ball.

MARTHA WILLIAMSON — Ralph's 8th avenue grand opening was one of the smoothest in the vast chain's history because of the quiet, unassuming proficiency of the power behind the power, Martha Williamson, of Glasser - Gailey, Advertising, Incorporated.

HORTENSE JOSEPH—She just bought out her partner in the well stocked LaJoya Liquor and Deli at 5425 W. Adams. She once owned a Texas restaurant by the same name!

Boss Bill Tilden's Sunset Strip station, at 8118, is a showcase of stellar performers and like Lou Rawls, their talents have been seen and heard by the right persons who have gotten the word and started many an artist up the ladder to $ucce$$.

PLAYS PRETTY — Lovely Joyce Collins, Jazzland recording artist, is currently appearing at the Summit piano bar, accompanied by Bob Berteaux on bass. Last summer she toured Europe and appeared at the Blue Note jazz club in Paris and in jazz concerts all over the Continent.

DOWN MEXICO WAY

Well, my Aunt, DoDo, and teachers, Annie Browne and Kathleen George are finally getting on the road to Mexico City and Acapulco. 'Chazz' Crawford

The most gorgeous album cover since they have been making LP's is RCA Victor's "Lena at the Sands" and that beautiful woman on the cover sings like a tigress on the songs on that set! . . . LENA HORNE! . . . Just TOO MUCH! . . . BOB SESSION vacationing from S.F. and the many sessions L.A. gave. Last swinging affair was housed at WENDELL FRANKLIN'S plushy 4th Avenue pad in honor of Bob's first day on earth day . . .

Speculation runs high as to whether the CLEOPATRA film that stars LIZ TAYLOR in the title role will use enough realism to use dusky actors to portray an episode in history where a majority of the participants were folks of our hue. Recalls to mind what ceramacist GLEN LUKENS once told us: Be proud of your race. They built the Pyramids! . . . And so it would be a shame if they made this Cleopatra film lily-white, now wouldn't it?

Expectant Mom EARTHA KITT is reportedly touring Italy with her ma-in-law. . . . The writer in a Showbusiness "trade" paper is flabbergasted or "beside himself" that JOHNNY MATHIS has managed to outdraw JUDY GARLAND in advance ticket sales at his forthcoming concert [illegible] Forest Hills Music Festival in New York. JOHNNY has [illegible] the impossible, he whines. Now although we are great fans of both Johnny & Judy, we aren't the least bit puzzled that Mathis sold more tickets. This slender ear-bender is a MUST! Like we told our colleague MAGGIE HATHAWAY who wants him for the NAACP's Hollywood Committee's upcoming affair and who wanted to know how much audience he could pull. Well, like he can pull like World War III.

ANNA LUSK tiptoes out this weekend to hail a Jet plane to vacation and see friends and relatives in Oklahoma City that looks mighty mighty pretty especially if it's your home town and you've been away a good while . . .

CLARENCE "FRENCHY" LANDRY and his partner VENARD LANDRY of the "HI-HATTER'S" dance team still going strong as hoofers on that MARK TWAIN Riverboat out at Disneyland! . . .

DOROTHY DANDRIDGE broke in her new nitery act in Bakersfield. This is the one where she uses six male dancer-singers backing her up. They'll be here soon! . . . Just finished a phone chat with ALMENA LOMAX, former editor-publisher of the L.A. Tribune who has been here six weeks after a sojourn in Tuskegee, Ala. She viewed the Southern situation first hand and got first hand information on the Freedom Riders etc. We asked her whether she liked it like that (viewing it first hand) and she said she liked it like that, but she don't dig Tuskegee. For further details she will speak at JONATHAN CASTON'S Trinity Baptist Church this Sunday at 4 p.m. regarding her book "JOURNEY TO THE BEGINNING." The address is 3600 South Cimarron. . .

When SISTER ROSETTA THARPE was here she mentioned that Man has no business trying to make it to the moon. Sister Tharpe said that if GOD had wanted a way he would have made a way. Probably a highway! . . . Next week we'll salute the record Queen of the C'Est La Vie's new record bar in Compton and even give their address. We don't have the foxy redhead's name this issue but just you wait! . . .

Due for the Cocoanut Grove this fall: Both JOHNNY MATHIS & SAMMY DAVIS! . . . Writer BILL LANE'S book will be called "Sitting on a Fortune" and will have to do chiefly with the beige girls who either "walk the streets" for their revenue or sit at home waiting for the calls. . .

Arrivals: Actress RHODA JORDAN and family from Chicago and other points east. In Chitown they vacationed as well as took in the AKA frolics . . . Luscious GEORGIA CARR, the songstress, L.A.'s own luscious songstress made it in from Australia after a scintillating tour of the down-under continent and is ready to take off again for foreign shores . . .

Add arrivals: Miss, LAVELLE BAMBI, the strip teaser, checked in from Las Vegas via San Francisco after a hip tossing engagement at the EL MOROCCO there! ETHEL WATERS after the story in the dailies proclaiming that the actress is destitute (in our words, just plain "broke," she has been cast by "Route 66" for a show now filing in Pittsburgh. The show is called "Good Night, Sweet Blues" and with the exception of Miss Waters and the regulars is being cast entirely with New York actors in order to have the transportation fee. This comes as a blow to many local Negro actors who could have "made the scene" if the scenes had been done here. Story concerns an aged former jazz singer (Ethel) who after having a heart attack only wants to reunite with the six jazzmen who backed her when she was a top blues thrush. And you can take it from there!

As "Moms" Mabley puts it on her "Funniest Woman in the World" album: "Aint nothing jumping but the peas in the pot and they wouldn't be jumping if the water wasn't hot!"

PINNED IN CAR — Mrs. Dollie Mae Walker died, pinned inside her car, when she was hit by a fire truck speeding on a false alarm mission.

Speeding Fire Truck Strikes Local Nurse

Dollie Mae Walker, 29, of 1430 W. 51st street, a vocational nurse whose friends described her as "a girl who was always doing something for somebody," will be buried next Tuesday.

She died Monday night in the twisted wreckage of her car when it was struck by a fire department rescue squad car which was speeding to a false alarm.

HIT BROADSIDE

It took fire department and police workmen 20 minutes to extricate Miss Walker from the smashed wreckage after the vehicle slammed against a guard rail of the Santa Ana freeway at W. Arcadia and Main street about 11:45 p.m. Monday.

The car was hit broadside by the fire truck. Witnesses said the fire rescue rig, heading to a false alarm at 712 W. Third street, had its siren on as it was heading through a red light. Miss Walker's car was headed west on Arcadia, and the young woman apparently did not hear or did not heed the approaching fire engine.

Miss Walker, a nurse at General Hospital, was pronounced dead on arrival at Central Receiving Hospital a few minutes later.

ACTIVE SOCIALLY

Miss Walker was an active member of Emannuel AME Church where she served on the usher board and in the youth choir. She was also a participant in YWCA activities.

A volunteer subscription worker with the Eagle, the young nurse was publicity director of the American Jubilee Choir Festival which was staged by the NAACP last year. She was also organizer and head of the L. A. Della Reese Fan Club.

Police launched a search for the supposed young pranksters who turned in the false alarm. The accident also caused injury to two firemen riding in the rescue truck.

Surviving the collision victim are her mother, Mrs. Katherine Walyer, of 1430 W. 51st street, two sisters, Cena and Dorothy Walker, and two brothers, Elijah and Bobby Walker.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, Sept. 5, at one p.m., at the Emannuel AME church, 5202 Compton avenue. The Rev. George Grant will conduct the rites.

Cancel 'White' Re-enactment Of Founding of City of L.A.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING — Erma Boutte, left, and Vera Carter, right, made integration history this week when they received application blanks from the exclusive, all-white Fox Hills Women's Golf Club. Various Races Among City's First Families

Re-enactment of the founding of the City of Los Angeles, scheduled for Sept. 4 on the site of the Old Plaza, has been cancelled.

No reason has been given.

Bill Gaskin, coordinator of the Los Angeles City Birthday Committee, which is in charge of the demonstration, said he did not care to comment when asked to explain why.

HAD HEARD OF EAGLE

He indicated, however, he had heard of the Eagle and was well acquainted with the hard facts contained in the Eagle's Aug. 24 issue, quoting the Historical Society of Southern California as authority for insistance that Negroes and part-Negroes constituted more than half of the original founders of the city.

Year after year, the re-enactment has taken place, omitting Negroes from the demonstration and ignoring in the accompanying narration the role played by the Negro founding fathers.

This year that will be changed. Faced with the documented fact that Negroes did, indeed, participate in the early beginnings of the pueblo, those in charge of Monday's demonstration decided to call off the traditional re-enactment.

FESTIVAL

There will, however, be a festival. There will be dances, gaiety, fun, speeches, too, and perhaps the narration that was sup-

SOLEMN FACES—There was no joy among hastily summoned members of the community who filled City Council chambers Friday morning. They sensed from the beginning that the cards were stacked against appointment of a Negro to the 10th District post. (Adams)

City Council Rejects Negro In 10th District

By GRACE E. SIMONS

Anyway you looked at it, it was a shabby business last Friday morning when the City Council, in a "quickie" overnight maneuver, brushed aside Negro hopes, expectations and demands for representation on the city's top policy making body, and rammed through instead the appointment of a white man.

Nominated unanimously by the Charter and Administrative Code Committee was Joe E. Hollingsworth, a Baldwin Hills real estate salesman who was virtually unknown to the Negro community. He was also all but unknown to several of the councilmen who had to pass on his nomination.

CUT-AND-DRIED

He just happened to be in the City Council chambers, along with his wife, daughter and son, when the debate was in progress, and was sworn in minutes after his nomination was approved 8-6.

To the hastily summoned audience, almost entirely Negro, that filled the council chamber, the proceedings had all the appearance of a cut-and-dried affair. There was no doubt in anyone's mind that the committee had succeeded in getting eight votes pledged and was determined to press for a vote without delay.

Councilman L. E. Timberlake was the lead man for the coun-

Frame-Up of Rob Williams Feared in N.C.

Local friends of Robert Williams, outspoken defender of Negro rights, NAACP leader, admirer of Cuba's Fidel Castro and the hated foe of white supremacists, expressed fear this week that he was being "framed" on kidnap charges following his disappearance from his Monroe, N.C. home Monday night.

Williams was indicted by the Union County Grand Jury Monday for allegedly holding a white couple hostage in his home for three and a half hours Sunday.

GUNS, TEARGAS

After his flight, the FBI entered the case and issued a warrant for his arrest on charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

City police and state troopers stormed into Williams' house Monday, with shotguns and teargas guns at the ready, after the white couple reported they had seen firearms there while they were being detained.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bruce Stegall, said they were passing through Monroe when Groups Unite For Redress In 10th Dist.

In a strong and heated show of unity, nearly 200 Negro and white civic leaders and citizens met in an emergency session Monday night and drew up preliminary plans to look into the possible recall of Joe E. Hollingsworth, new Tenth District councilman.

Meeting in the auditorium of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company at W. Adams and S. Western, the group also mapped plans to seek possible recall of Councilman Ransom Callicott.

'PRAISE' COUNCIL

Callicott, it was charged, displayed open malfeasance of office during the balloting that ramrodded Hollingsworth into his Council seat.

In spirited outbursts, various members offered suggestions for showing what was termed the Negro community's chagrin at the eight council members' disregard of higher qualifications of three Negro applicants for the Tenth post. One member wanted ads placed in the daily papers "congratulating" the council for "its inept handiwork."

NEED FOR SORROW

Another suggested that Negroes who had applied for the Tenth post should be appointed to a committee to draw up suggestions for retaliation by Negroes for Hollingsworth's appointment and Callicott's performance.

Then the Rev. H. H. Brookins arose and asked how anyone could expect the defeated Negro

Councilman in 10th Just 'Likes People'

By BILL LANE

"I'm just a fellow who likes people," is the way Joe E. Hollingsworth describes himself.

And in his new job Hollingsworth will have his hands full liking a lot of people in his district who did not actually "cotton" to his appointment last week to the City Council, people who had wanted to see the city with its first Negro councilman; people who saw a sudden acrobatic maneuver by eight white council members to sidetrack a Negro councilman who six other members of council protested was more qualified for the post than Hollingsworth, who is white.

COUNCIL'S CHOICE

Joe Hollingsworth is the city councilman newly appointed to represent the Tenth District. The hotly contested district is made up heavily of Negro residents, and it had been felt strongly that Mayor Sam Yorty's request for a Negro councilman would be honored.

And it was felt that one of three highly qualified Negro applicants in a field of 36 applicants would receive prime consideration.

But when the voting ended, Hollingsworth was the choice.

NEGRO REFERENCE

In Hollingsworth's application he listed as one of his personal references Wilbur Watson, of 1383 W. 38th street, a Negro

Nab Strangler Of Woman, 81, In Long Beach

Long Beach police worked quickly Monday in nabbing a 20-year-old transient who admitted strangling an 81-year-old woman to death with a pillow-slip.

Officers were called by neighbors of Mrs. Dora Cutting, white, of 1111 Pine avenue in Long Beach, when they said they heard the woman scream. When police arrived at the house they found Charles J. Golston, 20, no permanent address, leaving her apartment.

Golston told officers he had tried to criminally assault the aged woman, and when she had screamed he twisted a pillow slip around her neck.

"I guess I put on too much pressure," Golston told police.

Golston is now in jail charged with murder.

PICKS JOHNSON

Councilman Hollingsworth Tuesday appointed Cage Johnson, Fox and Hounds headwaiter, as the city's first Negro Councilmanic field deputy.

Teamsters to Fight Hiring at Greyhound

A group of California Negro Teamster members this week mapped plans to seek driving jobs for Negroes on Greyhound busses that operate in the United States, Canada and Mexico, and to "utilize every available recourse" to obtain their ends.

Citing the expansive areas in this hemisphere serviced by Greyhound, the group, headed by John T. Williams of Compton, announced its intention to press for an end to discrimination against Negro drivers seeking employment with Greyhound Lines.

SUBSIDIZED

Greyhound, the group contends, picks up and dispatches over 15 per cent of the U. S. traveling public.

In a public statement of claims and plans, the group declared:

"We cannot concede that such an integral part of our economy should be permitted to exist, flagrantly perpetuating any degree of racial discrimination which denies employment opportunities to qualified Negro drivers. Especially when we consider the fact that this industry enjoys lucrative contracts with our federal government in the transportation of mail, as well as the movement of our military personnel."

The 10 Negro teamsters also ruled out possible company contentions that no Negro Greyhound driver has been hired in California because "no qualified Negro has applied."

Actor Guild Tries Hand At Cracking Movie Bias

A major fight appeared to be shaping up this week to get better representation for Negroes in the film industry.

On one side Hollywood was taking its own initiative in the fight, working through the Screen Actors Guild to bring the need for integration before the maze of Hollywood producers and directors.

NOT LINKED TO NAACP

On the other hand the NAACP, which sparked the drive recently through its national convention, announced it was going to press its efforts to get Negroes hired more abundantly in motion pictures in its own way.

The NAACP stated flatly it did not see any linking of its fight with the efforts of the Screen Actors Guild.

Maggie Hathway, chairman of the Hollywood committee of the NAACP, was quoted in the nationally circulated Variety Magazine as wanting to see Negroes used in every picture turned out by Hollywood.

NEW PROPOSALS

In a special news release this week, William F. Walker, Negro member of the board of directors of the Screen Actors Guild, announced his office was ready to take active steps to get movie moguls to crawl out of the bigotry woodpile.

In his communique Walker proposed Hollywood's setting up a special office to promote better public relations between the motion picture industry and nonwhite foreign and American movie markets.

Walker also outlined the need for expanding job opportunities in motion pictures for Negro craftsmen as well as performers.

Joining him in his proposal was Pauline Meyers, second Negro member of SAG.

RAP INSIGHT LACK

In an extensive survey and prospectus, Walker and Miss Meyers charged Hollywood with neglecting the growing and vast Negro film market. They also blistered Hollywood's perpetual blindness to rapid and far-sweeping changes taking place in race relations around the world today.

In a special statement to the Eagle and the national Negro press, Walker charged Hollywood continues to depict the Negro actor in an unrealistic light in films for movie houses and TV.

"The impression created generally by Hollywood," said Walker, "is that Negro citizens take almost no part in the daily life of their country, Negroes being shown in most instances only in menial roles and being virtually excluded from the professions, from education, science, government and other areas where Negroes do in fact contribute significantly in American society."

NOT TRUE SIDE

Walker outlined the pattern of local daily newspapers around the country of depicting steadily the foibles and failings of Negroes in crime in everyday life. Yet, he said, Hollywood acts as if the country has only a sprinkling of Negroes.

These policies, he explained, have come to be the motion picture industry's stock in trade because of a lack of assessment of the Negro's participation in American life of today, "and we further believe that this is a matter of vital concern to all of us who care about the future of our country."

POPULAR ACTOR

Walker, who has appeared in scores of major movie and TV shows, said Hollywood is going to cut off its economic nose to spite its emotional face by ignoring the vast non-white audiences' likes and dislikes in other parts of the world. He said Hollywood is going to lose more revenue from English-speaking new African nations who refuse to patronize stereotyped Hollywood film fare.

Walker told the Eagle TV movies like "The Untouchables" and "The Roarin' Twenties" practice wholesale distortion of real history.

Some sources claim that Madison Avenue, which has to sell TV films to sponsors, might be following what Nat King Cole said was a kowtowing concession to the South.

"That can't be so," Walker countered, "since the South represents only about 17 percent of the TV audience in American movies!"

WANT RACE OFFICE

Walker and Miss Meyers propose in their directive to Jack Dales, executive secretary of SAG, that Hollywood set up a special race relations bureau, made up of qualified Negroes from various workaday areas, to coordinate good "public and box-office" approaches "in the same fashion that President Kennedy appoints qualified Negroes to central positions that help his administration get policies across."

Both Walker and Miss Meyers said the office should have a movie representative in close touch with Negro groups.

NEW DENTIST — Dr. Bartell W. Ferguson, graduate of Pepperdine and Howard University who interned at Freedmen's Hospital in Washington, will start practice here Sept. 5 in association with Dr. Elvin V. Neal, 49th and Avalon blvd. Dr. Ferguson is a specialist in oral surgery.

NAACP Urges Total Boycott Of L.A. Times

In its increasing and relentless fight to get Negroes integrated into Los Angeles work rolls, the local branch of the NAACP this week aimed its guns at the L. A. Times.

The newspaper, which carries more advertising yearly than does any other newspaper in the U.S., was selected because of its unending failure to support any efforts towards integrated hiring, it was disclosed.

BOYCOTT SALES

The Executive Committee and general membership of the NAACP this week voted unanimously to protest against and withhold support from the Times in every way.

In an additional step, the NAACP began a campaign among its members and friends of members to cease subscribing to the Times and buying it from newsstands.

This step would be in effect, the NAACP reported, "until the Times institutes a policy of hiring Negroes in all its own departments such as clerical, newsdealers, printing personnel, reporters and advertising workers."

Negro Firemen Still Get 'Silent' Treatment

Integration still has a long way to go in the Los Angeles Fire Department.

Negroes now working with the city's firefighters have been and still are receiving the kind of treatment Jews found in Nazi Germany and which in many ways is equal to that experienced by Negroes in the heart of Mississippi.

PAID TO JIM CROW

The perpetrators of these inhumane acts are still on the city payroll, making a living at public tax expense as public servants. They work without opposition at their Ku Kluxish antics, hiding coffee pots from Negro firemen, refusing to talk to Negro firemen, setting up special segregated mealtime for Negro firemen, and, like biased kids, denying Negro firemen places on handball and softball firehouse teams and placing beds slept in by Negro firemen "off limits" to unwary white firemen.

But these same gerrymandering white firemen do not insist on segregation of tax dollars from Negro homeowners when they are drawing their salaries.

FAULTY WORK?

Some observers wonder, however, if the vaunted superiorrace antics of Los Angeles firemen actually hinder their full firefighting abilities.

The upgrading, or promotion system, among local firemen is being probed by the L.A. Fire Commission following complaints from Negro firemen submitted by Atty. Arnett L. Hartsfield, Jr., who was for 20 years a fireman before retiring to law practice.

MAYOR ANGERED

Mayor Sam Yorty told investigators he would like to see all charges aired, and any biased policies removed.

As to Jim Crow policies of various city Fire Department officials, Fire Chief William Miller said Monday he had no authority to tell his firemen with whom to eat or drink coffee.

Miller did say, however, he saw no change soon in the "ostracism" of beds slept in by Negro firemen.

Records submitted by Hartsfield brought out sharply the actual state of discrimination existing in the hiring of Negroes on Fire Department jobs.

These records are now being checked.

U.S. Judge Bars Funds to 'White' Schools

RICHMOND, Va. — White private schools in Prince Edward County, Va., will get no more state or county money, U.S. District Judge Oren R. Lewis ruled last week.

The judge said he will enter an order banning further payment of tuition grants to white schools sponsored by the Prince Edward School Foundation.

NOT TAX EXEMPT

He said also he will enjoin the county treasurer from granting tax exemption for contributions to the foundation.

Additionally Judge Lewis ordered the school board to prepare a plan for desegregation even though the schools in the county, where one of the original school desegregation suits was filed, are still closed.

For the past two years there have been no "public" schools in Prince Edward County. "Private" schools for whites, however, have been subsidized by local and state authorities.

NO EDUCATION

There are no "private" schools for Negroes and since the public schools have been shuttered, Negro youngsters have been deprived of an education since 1959.

At the present time there are no plans to reopen the public schools. Judge Lewis deferred ruling on an NAACP petition demanding their reopening, until the state courts have ruled on the matter.

Shoots Friend By Mistake

Willie Taylor, Jr. found out Saturday that when one shoots at a man half hidden under a table, it might be a friend.

He told police officers who booked him on assault with attempt to commit murder that he had left the home of Teddy Allen, 2016 E. 103rd street, at gun point after John Clayton, of 1913 Nadeau street, bumped him and attempted to lift his wallet during a card game. Taylor balked. Clayton's friend Val pulled a gun and ordered Taylor out of the house.

Taylor said that he left the house and returned later with a .22 rifle. Those who were in the game darted under tables and fled out the windows. Taylor shot at a half-hidden man he thought was Clayton, but it was his friend, Ted Adams, who was hospitalized with wounds in both legs.

Hanging is too good for a man who makes puns. He should be drawn and quoted.

Landlady Finds Tenant Dead

William Dickerson, 65, of 5323 S. Broadway, was found dead in his room on Monday, Aug. 28, by his landlady, Mrs. Beatrice Mayfield, of 1421 W. 79th street.

He is survived by his sister, Mrs. Emma Sledge of Los Angeles. Mr. Dickerson was a veteran and had spent some time in Sawtelle.

The fake-flower industry of the U.S., which provides artificial flowers for allergic women, now begins to rival that of Hongkong, where the bulk of the world's fakes are made. U.S. production is now estimated at $50 million a year and still growing.

Young Wife Beaten, Thrown From Car, Dies

Georgene Mitchell, 21, 1328 E. 28th street, was admitted to General Hospital early last Monday morning and gasped to the admitting physician that she had been beaten and thrown from a car.

She lapsed into unconsciousness and died before attendants could learn when she was thrown out or where or by whom.

Her husband Robert was picked up by police and booked on suspicion of murder. He told police that he had not seen his wife since last Thursday.

He pleaded, "Please don't put me in jail because I'm on probation for beating her. I get real mad when people tell me all the things my wife would do when she was drunk. I heard that she had spent the night with a fellow named Gable who lives across the street from me, but I haven't seen or heard from her."

REPORTS have it a certain Negro Council applicant was part of an inner-Council deal that involved plans of a white incumbent to switch his support at the apropos time. And he did.

Anyway, Negroes will watch Council moves concerning real estate matters in Baldwin Hills, View Park and Leimert Park. Certain bigshot whites in the areas have long had interests (ask the Times) that were not in behalf of "encroaching" Negroes.

Friendly Fannie Writes: "Whites never stop Jim Crowing Negroes without a fight. Why did we expect them this time to give us a qualified Negro councilman?"

When Edward Warren, local NAACP prexy, learned Bill Walker and Pauline Meyers of the Screen Actors Guild were proposing a full-scale reshuffling of Hollywood's approach to Negro performers, craftsmen and audiences, he told the Eagle:

"What they're doing has nothing to do with what we're doing. And even if our aims dovetail, I don't see how we'll work with that group."

Somebody must have swiped somebody's thunder.

JOE LOUIS and his pal Leonard Reed headed to Hawaii's Forbidden City and a possible Orient tour, under management of Detroit's Rollo Vest . . . For the first time in history L.A. has an acting mayor who is Mexican-American, Councilman Edward Roybal — and according to the publicity, Mexicans founded the city. So you know how the Negro fares.

THE URBAN LEAGUE is noted around the nation as an organization that seeks better employment for Negroes. And branches in NYC, Chicago and Detroit actually work hard at getting these job integrations. But something is wrong in L.A. The NAACP, which generally gives Negroes legal protection in time of racial privations and the like, is busiest here seeking better job outlets for Negroes . . . as on the L. A. Times, as waiters, in the Fire Department, in the movies. Where was the Urban League when the lights went out?

Brazil's Coup Aimed At Peasant Leagues

Brazil's militarists this week forced the resignation of Pres. Janio Quadros and are now attempting to prevent the return of Vice President Joao Goulart, in what is generally interpreted as a "preventive" revolution from the right.

Quadros, as he left his country for Europe, accused "foreign sources" of intervening in Brazil. Russia and Cuba have named those "foreign sources" as the United States. This country has repeatedly denied the accusations.

GROWING STRENGTH

But regardless of the presence or absence of foreign meddling, it is certain that one of the developments the militarists felt impelled to "prevent" is the growing strength of the Peasant Leagues in the barren, dark brown hills in the northeast, and the growing power of their leader, Congressman Francisco Juliao.

Juliao and the peasants are described in a series of articles appearing recently in the San Francisco Chronicle, written by special correspondent Andrew St. George.

Says the author:

"The Northeast is dirt-poor drought country, where three out of four people can neither read nor write, nor vote.

"WE'LL VOTE SOON"

"No matter," say the backwoodsmen, known as sertanejos, "We'll be voting for Juliao—with machetes."

St. George says that Juliao "looks like a man of peace; a slight, smiling, gentle figure, with a kindly face and a youthful shock of hair. When he mounts the rostrum, however, he is transformed into a true sertanejo leader: magnetic, passionate, violent."

He tells his barefoot constituents to "unite, organize, and fight, fight, FIGHT!"

Or again, "To conquer you must stand together and strike together, like the tines of a pitchfork, like the fingers of a hand, like the spines of a porcupine."

100,000 STRONG

Juliao held his first Peasant League meetings five years ago, says St. George, in a "canecutter's settlement eight dusty miles from the nearest train stop."

Fewer than 20 turned out to hear him. Only three signed up as members of the League.

Today there are more than 100,000 members in the Leagues that cover three provinces, and Brazilian reporters assertedly claim there are more than a million non-registered followers. Police officers, moreover, are of the opinion that once the Peasant Leagues get in motion, every peasant in the northeast will march with them.

Juliao denies that he advocates violence. "But naturally," he says, "if the landlords or the Army try to push us, we will have to push them back."

In some ways, Juliao resembles Fidel Castro, whom he greatly admires. He is relatively young, 42 years old, and, like Castro, studied law. He attended the University of Recife, and comes from a wealthy Pernambuco family of plantation owners.

He reportedly lives a spartan life, refusing to gouge profits from the peasants on his plantation. He works long hours, spending his time between the League office, talking to peasants in the fields, and attending meetings of the nation's Congress, of which he is a member.

Quarter Brings Death to Man

"He owed me a quarter and when I asked him for it he whipped out a pocket knife and we tussled," said Burrell Henderson, of 1563 W. 53rd street, when he was picked up as a suspect in the murder of Eli Swafford, 50, of 634 W. 54th street, Monday.

Swafford was beaten to death by one or two men, whom witnesses said, pulled him from the rear door of the house on 54th street as he pleaded with those inside to let him in.

He was beaten so severly that he died. Witnesses said that he had been involved in an argument in the pool hall at 54th and Hoover streets earlier in the day. He is survived by his wife Loice.

Odom Named to World Council

LONDON—Rev. Larry Sylvester Odom, pastor of Ward AME Church, was one of 19 members of the AME denomination named at a meeting in Oslo, Norway, last week to sit on the Council of the World Council of Methodism for the next five years.

Rev. Odom will return to his pulpit on Sept. 5 and preach on "[illegible] People Called Methodists."

FIERY ORATOR—Soft spoken Francisco Juliao sways Brasilian peasants in Peasant Leagues of northeast.

Baptist Pastors Head For K.C. Fireworks

Local Baptist ministers and delegates were leaving here Wednesday of this week to get to Kansas City, Mo., well ahead of the opening of the 82nd annual convention of the National Baptist Convention, Inc., a convention that may well prove to be one of the most explosive in the history of the connection.

Reports from throughout the country indicate that hundreds of delegates will be at the convention city by Friday, or earlier, presumably for heavy caucusing over the weekend.

HONORABLE THING

Not only is there controversy over the presidency and who has the right to call the convention together and preside, but there is even controversy as to when the convention will get started.

Dr. Gardner Taylor, pastor of Concord Baptist Church of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Dr. J. H. Jackson, pastor of the Olivet Baptist Church of Chicago, both claim they were duely elected president last year at the troubled Philadelphia convention.

Dr. Taylor, in a statement issued this week, declared he was ready to do any "honorable thing" to bring unity out of chaos and peace to the organization.

NEUTRAL CHAIR

He again suggested that a "neutral" person preside at the Municipal Auditorium meetings in Kansas City.

Among the "neutrals" he proposed are Adam Clayton Powell, pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist Church of New York; Dr. Benjamin Mays, president of Morehouse College; or Dr. Mordecai Johnson, president-emeritus of

Waiters' Union Denies Bias in Job Placement

In a flat statement to the California Eagle, Edmund Anthony, business representative of Local 17, AFL, Culinary Workers, denied his union ever used racial selection in placement of waiters.

"Except," he said, "in the case of some places wanting all Negro waiters and no whites."

ANSWERS CHARGES

When he was told such was discrimination in itself, Anthony admitted it was.

Anthony was speaking in reply to charges made by the NAACP that his union worked in secret conjunction with local hotels and dining rooms to hire Negro waiters only on an "extra" basis.

"We select waiters by their names alphabetically, as they report in their availability for work," said Anthony. "If a man named Johnson comes in and lists his need of work, we send him out as his name comes up. We don't pay any attention to his color or to the requests of the place wanting him."

The NAACP charged that the Cocoanut Grove, the Beverly Hilton Hotel, the Statler Hilton Hotel, the Biltmore Hotel's Rendezvous Room, Frank Senne's Ciro's and Moulin Rouge and the Zebra Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel all refuse to hire Negro waiters on a permanent basis.

It was declared that these establishments request Negro waiters only when Negro social clubs stage affairs on their premises.

Anthony was emphatic that his union does not discriminate. He said when any of the aforementioned places make requests for permanent waiters, the requests are placed on the bulletin board in the union hall.

POLYALOT OFFICE

"Men reading these notices," said Anthony, "then go out to these places to apply. If the hiring officials at these places then refuse to hire some of the men because the men are Negroes, then it is not our fault.

"Our office itself is integrated. We have Japanese, Negroes, Italians, Jews and Irish working here. As to Negro waiters, we have a request to send a crew of Negro waiters to the Breakfast Club this Wednesday. They request only Negroes. At the Beverly Hilton for Wednesday night we will send a crew selected alphabetically."

Anthony explained that his union is operated under a trusteeship.

Negro GIs in Germany Must 'Shun White Bars'

WASHINGTON — Negroes in the U.S. Armed Forces in Germany have been advised to "shun white bars," according to statements made last Thursday by Congressman Charles C. Diggs, Jr., (Dem., Mich.) in a letter to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, a copy of which was sent to Pres. Kennedy.

Diggs also pointed to discriminatory treatment to which Negroes are subjected at the Kadena Air Force Base on Okinawa, which he visited last year.

"In past years, I have sent to the Department of the Army a file of complaints concerning discriminatory practices against Negro servicemen in our Armed Forces in Germany. Many of these also concern the intimidation of Negro servicemen in regard to non-military operated recreational facilities," he said.

"A reply which I received from the Department attempts to absolve a chief warrant officer, an assistant trial counsel, from charges in 'The Overseas Weekly' that he had advised 'Negroes Should Shun White Bars,' by saying record of the trial indicated he actually said, it was a recognized fact that there are "gasthauses" frequented by Negro soldiers and others by Caucasian soldiers, and that this was the result of a sort of unwritten agreement followed by the soldiers themselves.

"This is a tired old refrain which even the Department knows is untrue and should stop using for the sake of its own integrity and intelligence."

Diggs said further that housing for Negro servicemen in Germany is "especially acute."

At the Okinawa base, Diggs charged that troops frequenting recreational areas in the city are shunted off to what is known as the "Black Koza" or the "White Koza." This practice, says Diggs, is "maintained through a system of reprisal, intimidation and physical violence."

Diggs says further:

"The military police force, known as RASP, is used to maintain this segregated pattern and to advise Negro airmen and white airmen by scarcely veiled threats to stay in their so-called respective places.

"Business proprietors are intimidated into discrimination against Negro troops and refusing them service by threats of economic reprisal."

Additionally, Diggs pointed to the "long-standing continuing racial discrimination in National Guard units," to discrimination in upgrading Negro personnel, problems relating to local community relations with servicemen and to discrimination in non-military operated housing for servicemen.

The visibility is almost zero and ahead is a sharp curve.

Suddenly, beneath your wheels, the road says: "Slow down!" It does this by sending sound and low vibrations through your automobile's frame. You get the message and cut your speed.

This road warning system—called a "rumble strip"—cut accidents in test areas by nearly two-thirds. It is made chiefly from a new kind of plastic developed by Standard's scientists...one so rugged that it will stand up to the pounding of the heaviest traffic.

The rumble strip is part of Standard's continuing interest in traffic safety, which includes driver training, seat belts in Company cars, educational films for schools, and widespread distribution of safety tips.

The tough plastic which makes the rumble strip possible is only one of a wide variety that our scientists are creating to help manufacturers bring you new and better products.

Hollingsworth Chosen by Race

The appointment of Joe E. Hollingsworth to fill the 10th District vacancy was a pretty shoddy maneuver even for a Council that is given to small time performances and peanut politics.

Hollingsworth was selected by a committee at a late hour Thursday night and his confirmation was scheduled for Friday morning in an obvious effort to forestall protest and prevent a full hearing on his qualifications.

It is equally obvious that Hollingsworth and the councilmen who foisted him on the District have entered into a deal under which the District will be moved to the San Fernando Valley at the first possible moment. Presumably, he will follow the District to the Valley and try to perpetuate himself in office.

That will leave the Council free to carve up the 10th District and parcel it out among other districts so that the Council can pursue its policy of excluding Negroes. That is its one pervading purpose.

Mr. Hollingsworth has no visible qualifications for the job. Even his supporters were hard put to paint him for anything more than the unknown that he is who has played no part in civic or community activities. There was no comparison between his puny attainments and those of George Thomas who was also put in nomination. Race, and race alone, got him the job.

There is nothing to recommend Mr. Hollingsworth to the large Negro constituency. He is a conservative Republican who has never had a favorable word to say on civil rights or civil rights issues. He is a realtor who belongs to issues.

We're right back where we started before Charles Navarro resigned from City Council. Negroes constitute about 14 per cent of the city's population and on that basis should be able to elect Two Negroes to the Council. They can't do so because they are gerrymandered in a number of districts.

Most of the councilmen who voted along straight racial lines to seat Hollingsworth are immune to reprisals from Negro voters. The big exception is Ransom Callicott who can be, and should be, booted out of office by Negro voters who live in what he obviously regards as his private district.

Los Angeles, and the people who put the unsavory Hollingsworth deal across, should be thoroughly ashamed. The city and those eight councilmen demonstrated that they believe that race is more important than qualifications in city government.

The Soft Talking Democrats

Last Sunday the Los Angeles Times printed discussions by leading Democrats on the ten year future of their party. Participants in the discussion were John M. Bailey, chairman of the Democratic National Committee; Speaker Sam Rayburn, Governor Edmund G. Brown and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

Discussions of the kind invited by the Times are ordinarily given over to platitudes and this one was no exception. What was notable about the articles written by the leading Democrats was the entire absence of any reference to their party's stand on racial issues, either nationally or locally.

The nearest approach was that of Governor Brown who dropped a line to the effect that his party desires a strong America "free from prejudices and poverty." Even that is a pretty slight reference to the nation's Number One domestic problem.

The apparent unconcern with the problems of the Negro is in striking contrast to the fact that the Democrats are in power in the nation today because Negro voters cast their ballots for John F. Kennedy last November. The Democrats couldn't have won without Negro votes in the north or south and Republicans openly bewailed their failure to bid for those votes when the returns came in last fall.

Democratic control of Congress also rests on the backs of Negro voters whose ballots furnished the margin of victory for at least a third of the Democratic congressmen.

There's something that smacks of outright contempt in this attitude of Democratic big-wigs. When they talk to the country at large they are careful to avoid all references to civil rights; it is only when they are whooping it up for votes in Negro communities that they remember that their party has a program designed to eliminate inequalities. They get mighty vocal on such occasions.

The sum of the matter is that the Negro is a stepchild as far as both major parties are concerned. His wants and desires are attended to in only a perfunctory fashion after everything else has been looked after. If there is anything left over, and too often there is nothing, the Negro gets those leftovers.

Negro voters are getting tired of the mealy mouthed attitude of Democratic party leaders who talk so big in Negro meetings and whisper so softly on other occasions.

Stay-in-Your Place Decision

A federal judge sitting in Mississippi tossed out an application by Freedom Riders to restrain arrests in that state with the quip that the riders' "status as interstate passengers is extremely doubtful. Their destination was Jackson but their objective was trouble."

That silly summation of the case reflects the attitude of many unthinking Americans who regard a Negro's requests for constitutional protection as a search for trouble. The attitude rests on the belief that Negroes ought to accept discrimination if their refusal to do so may stir up opposition.

The real culprits in the Freedom Rider cases are Mississippi officials who insist on enforcing state laws designed to enforce racial segregation in the face of the fact that such laws are unconstitutional, and have been declared to be so by the Supreme Court. They are the trouble makers.

Any person who buys a rail, bus or airplane ticket for travel between states is an interstate passenger no matter what motivates his travel. He may be on his way to visit his mother-in-law or to bawl out his boss but the reasons for his travel do not deprive him of his status as an interstate passenger.

Mississippians and the federal judge who handed down the decision know what the law is. They are looking for ways and means of evading the law and that's the reason they try to obscure the issue by ranting about the motives of the Freedom Riders.

The outcome of the case underscores the fact that Negroes, and those who side with them, can't get justice in Mississippi courts, state or federal.

The one consuming passion of Mississippi courts is to keep the Negro in his place — despite the Constitution.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

BEIRUT — As I stated last week, traveling shouldn't be only things to see but also people to know. There are plenty of interesting people-to-know—en masse or singly—in this gateway to the Mid-East. For Beirut is in the Arab world but not wholly a part of it. Its populafion, like its religion, culture and politics, is a mixture of the East and the West. It is permeated by "outside influences"—educational, financial, political and religious—and yet its half-million population could never be called "mixed-up people."

In this respect, Beirut is the exact opposite of the typical American city. Americans insist on likeness and conformity as prerequisites of full acceptances.

The Beirutese recognize differences of background and outlook and appearances, and go on from there. This may be because Lebanon itself and the area in general has been a true melting pot since the early days of the Phoenicians; more likely it's because of the Levantine's instinct for survival through accommodation to things as they are.

HOT CITY

Beirut's a hot city in August. The temperature hasn't dropped below 85 degrees, night or day, since I've been here. Consequently, the people I came to see were mostly out of town, but not far—only in the mountains commuter-resort centers ringing the city where the temperature is ten to fifteen degrees cooler.

Up in Sofar (which local wits—especially in August—call "So far, so good") a group of these people were brought together by Madame Naccache who, as a kind of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and as widow of the former perennial President of Lebanon, is social welfare's leading sponsor in this country. This was, for me, a very good deal. I had a chance to meet people informally, which is the very best way of selling something, whether life insurance or international welfare.

COMES ALIVE

These were only some of the people who made Lebanon come alive for me. There was also the plain, nervously talking, hard driving woman lawyer who won my respect and liking even while she was dragging me through a schedule that allowed me eight hours sleep in three nights.

There was the cab-driver who would not take me straight home at night but insisted on my seeing (at no extra cost) Pigeon Rock by moonlight, a mammoth rock split off by the sea from the rest of the shore cliff, and a favorite suicide spot, especially for those crossed in love. And there was the warm-hearted, graciously hospitable family of a friend in the States, who insisted on giving me an Arab home meal, and stuffed me like a Christmas turkey in the process.

LEBANESE VILLAGERS

But Beirut is also the Lebanese villagers who come into town, sometimes driving or riding small donkeys, sometimes driving herds of black goats to slaughter houses. It is the Kuwaiti sheik who rolled out of a Cadillac into the hotel, elegant in snowy robe and Khafyish (scarf) topped by gold-embroidered aqual (headband) and followed by an obsequious retinue.

But this visit to Beirut will be for me a combination of a crowd, a place and a mood—an occasion. I was supremely lucky in being driven 60 miles to Baalbek, where the old Romans built their boastful temple to all the gods, to impress upon the Phoenicians how powerful was Rome. The excavated temple must measure 200 by 100 yards. Four thousand people crowded the interior to watch the Arab Folk Festival in front of the gigantic altar where animal sacrifices were made over 2000 years ago.

I'll never forget that night—its quarter-moon-lit beauty, the artful modern illumination of the ancient temple ruins, the quiet murmur of the crowd under the spell of the performance—or the performance itself! I'll not forget the 75 dancers and members of the chorus, nor the dramatic staging. I certainly shall never forget the richly throbbing, haunting voice of Feyrouz, the star who is hailed as the greatest singer of the Arab world, as she chanted and lilted out the plaintive songs of her Lebanon villages.

Lebanon has worked me hard these last few days, but hard work like this I should have for the rest of my life they were set upon by about 200 Negroes, armed with rifles, pistols, knives, shotguns, bricks and ax handles.

Mrs. Stegall's story seemed melodramatic and contradictory. She said she and her husband were taken to Williams' home, tied up and kept at gunpoint.

'CHIDED' KIDNAPERS

She added, however, that Williams "chided" the kidnapers, then contrarywise telephoned police, telling the authorities he was holding the Stegalls and would kill them unless Negroes previously arrested were freed.

Despite that alleged threat, the Stegalls said they were released unharmed after being held for several hours.

Williams is known in Los Angeles where a "Crusaders Club" has been formed to discuss and promote his newspaper, "The Crusader." He was in Los Angeles early in March during a nationwide speaking tour sponsored by the Fair Play for Cuba.

FIND NO GUNS

The meeting he addressed at the Embassy Auditorium was rushed by a band of anti-Castro hoodlums, armed with clubs and knives, who attempted unsuccessfully to break up the meeting. Several of the hoodlums were arrested.

When police broke into Williams' home Monday, they found no guns or other weapons. Nor did they find Williams, his wife or his two children. There were, however, a few of Williams' friends in the house, both white and Negro.

Monroe, the county seat, has been in a state of tension for weeks. The first outbreak occurred when Negroes picketed a swimming pool from which they were barred.

BAR ENGLISH WOMAN

A week ago, Negroes shifted their picketing to the county courthouse.

The situation exploded into a race riot Sunday when police tried to prevent a white woman, Constance Leever, 23, of Durham, England, from entering a car with several Negroes that was taking pickets home from the picket line.

Miss Leever, in the United States on a tour with other European students, is a friend of Williams and had joined the pickets at the courthouse.

White hoodlums closed in, began beating up Negroes. James Foreman, president of the National Freedom Council, was clubbed on the head. Several other Negroes were severely clouted. A police officer was wounded slightly by gunshot.

He claimed he was shot by a Negro.

60 ARRESTED

Miss Leever and Foreman were among about 60 men and women, Negro and white, who were arrested. Most of them were charged with inciting a riot and carrying concealed weapons.

State police were rushed to the scene. Firemen were deputized.

Tension mounted. Fights, race clashes continued. Monday night a carload of whites drove past Williams home and a house nearby known as Freedom House. They reportedly made off after they were greeted by a hail of bullets.

Gov. Terry Sanford, in Raleigh, blamed "outside agitators" for promoting violence "in our state."

Re-enactment Plan Cancelled

posed to accompany the re-enactment ceremony.

Dr. Julian Nava, history professor at San Fernando Valley State College, who was appointed by Mayor Yorty recently as chairman of a new committee designed to preserve the history of Los Angeles, was scheduled to deliver the narration.

He still is, so far as the Eagle could learn, but as of press time no one seemed to know for sure.

Dr. Nava told the Eagle Friday that he had checked the records pertaining to the founding of the city and those historical documents bore out the assertions made in the Eagle article.

WANTS JUSTICE

He said he has a personal interest in doing justice to all races involved and added that, certainly, he will mention "the heterogeneous composition of our founders." As a historian, he said, he is very desirous of seeing "that no group is slighted."

After investigating historical records, the Eagle last Tuesday night sent the following telegram to Mayor Sam Yorty and Council President Harold Henry:

"California Eagle this week points to falsification of history by committee to celebrate 180th anniversary of founding of Los Angeles. Committee claims all founders were Mexican, limits participation in reenactment to Mexicans. Eagle quotes Historical Society of Southern California archives that two founders were Negro, two mulato, six women were mulata. Other women Indian, Negroes, part-Negroes had 22 children. Eagle believes falsification of history should be rectified in Sept. 4 demonstration."

LEW IRWIN SHOW

The next night TV commentator Lew Irwin carried a report on Negroes among the founding fathers.

Many people phoned the Eagle about the article. Some did more. One of those was Mrs. Dorothy Crudup, 3937 S. Hobart blvd., who got in touch with City Hall and with the Anniversary Committee to let them know that whether they liked it or not Negroes would participate in the reenactment.

City Council Refuses To Endorse Negro

cilmen who were unwilling to seat a Negro in the 10th District Councilmanic seat. He was strongly backed by Councilman Ransom M. Callicott and Council President Harold A. Henry.

LEAD FIGHT

Leading the gallant but foredoomed battle to nominate one of three highly qualified Negroes was Councilman Edward Roybal, admirably seconded by Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman, and with an able assist from Councilman James Harvey Brown.

First test of strength came on the question as to whether or not the committee's recommendation of Hollingsworth was a "supplemental" report or a "special" report.

Council President Henry ruled it was supplemental. A supplemental report needs eight votes for passage—which the committee evidently knew it could muster; a special order of business would require 10 votes, which the committee could not muster.

CHAIR UPHELD

Councilwoman Wyman protested the ruling of the chair. This was the test vote. The discussion was heated, and acrimonious. The chair was upheld, nine to five. Councilman Gordon Hahn, of the 9th District, with a heavy Negro concentration voted with the majority.

That vote sealed the fate of the nomination.

Roybal pleaded hard and long to have the names of three top Negro candidates also submitted to the council for a vote—the names of George Thomas, Tom Bradley and Eddie Atkinson.

He finally agreed to submit just the name of George Thomas, and, after protest and argument and appeal to the city attorney for a ruling, that name was added to the committee motion, with the understanding that councilmen would vote for either Thomas or Hollingsworth.

In the final vote, which was 8-6 for Hollingsworth, Hahn voted for Thomas, as did also Everett G. Burkhalter, John S. Gibson, Jr., Brown, Roybal and Rosalind Wyman.

CALLICOTT AGAINST

Callicott, whose 13th District contains a sizeable Negro population (approximately 30 per cent), was with the majority all the way. He gleefully joined in an attack on Mrs. Wyman that had been launched by Timberlake, shouting, "It was time somebody put her in her place."

Councilman Karl Rundberg tried to play both sides of the street. He said he had been in favor of a Negro—Cage Johnson—but that he opposed the maneuvers (!) of those opposed to Hollingsworth and so he was going to support the committee's recommendation.

WHO? WHO?

Hahn aroused cries from the audience of "Who? Who?" when he declared that some Negro leaders had come to him and told him that the council shouldn't appoint any Negro "if they apply that kind of pressure."

Hahn didn't name the leaders.

It was a glum crowd, disappointed, discouraged that filled the council chamber Friday morning and listened to the wrangling.

WANTS PROTEST

The mood of discouragement and frustration has carried over and spread. Adolphus A. Clay, director of public relations of the AME Conference of Southern California, expressed that feeling in a communication to the AME Ministerial Alliance Monday.

He called the council decision "prejudiced," said the Negro citizens "of this city had been led very impressively to believe that a Negro would receive the appointment."

He told all ministers and laymen of the AME Conference "not to take this gross insult lying down," asked a strong protest against the action of the City Council and urged the community to "rise up and enter the Negro fight for freedom and justice."

FIGURES DON'T LIE

The last time I looked seven of the ten leading batters and the five leading home run hitters in the National League were Negroes. Figures of that kind don't lie and it is pretty plain that these men are the best in the business. If you went to the major league club owners and told them to fire their leading Negro players and replace them with whites they would have you arrested on the spot or slip out the back way and get a psychiatrist to examine your head.

It wasn't always that way. Fourteen years ago after Branch Rickey hired Jackie Robinson the other 15 club owners met and threatened to throw him out of baseball unless he acknowledged the error of his ways and sent Jackie back to the Negro leagues. Their argument was a simple one. They said Rickey was ruining their investments and he wouldn't want to do that would he?

THE VERY BEST

They all agreed that baseball needed the best players it could get. And, they argued, white players were the best. They had figures of a sort to back up their arguments. The books showed that white players held all the major and minor league records: for home runs, runs batted in, pitching, fielding and double plays. It wasn't up to them to explain that white players held all the records because Negroes hadn't been permitted to compete.

And every last one of the owners claimed that there wasn't a prejudiced bone in his body. In fact, all of them said, there was no color line in baseball. Wasn't baseball the national pastime? Well then, how could you charge them with prejudice? They explained that there were no Negroes because, well, you know, the public won't accept it, and besides Negroes have their own leagues and anyway white players were the best in baseball because they held all the records.

WARPED JUDGMENTS

The eight city councilmen who chose an obscure Baldwin Hills real estate man to fill the 10th District vacancy put me in mind of the baseball club owners who argued with Rickey. They have been playing in a lily white league so long that their judgment is warped, to be kindly about the whole thing. The way they look at it white councilmen must be best for Los Angeles because there are no Negro councilmen and never have been any.

Of course, you understand, they aren't prejudiced. They say so. And it isn't true that they have any personal objections to a Negro. They say that too. It is just that, well, you know, the public isn't ready and after all there is no council district with a Negro majority. Anyhow, isn't this a democracy? Well, then, how can you say there's prejudice in a democracy? Besides white councilmen hold all the records in Los Angeles so it must be that they are the best men for the jobs.

SAME OLD STORY

If you've followed me this far I hope you have got the idea that I think the baseball club owners were prejudiced and that the reason there were no Negroes in baseball before Jackie got in was because they had exercised their prejudices. I entertain the same feeling about the eight councilmen. There are no Negroes in City Council because the Negro population has been chopped up to exclude the possibility of Negroes electing one of their number.

It turned out that the club owners had been cheating the public by their exclusionary policies and if they had had their way baseball fans would never have had a chance to see the likes of Jackie, Willie Mays, Hank Aaron, or Don Newcombe, to name only a few stars whose playing has excited the fans for these many years. And if you want my opinion the eight councilmen who chose a second rater over a qualified Negro for the 10th District job are cheating Los Angeles. They are saddling it down with mediocrity in the council when they could have chosen excellence. With them race is thicker than qualifications.

Councilman In 10th District 'Loves People' employe of the County Sheriff's department.

As to his own qualifications, Hollingsworth had this to say:

"I am not a real estate man. I never sold a house. I sold lots. I am also a construction engineer, a property appraiser, and an accountant."

He was employed for some time as chief accountant with the Gilfillan Brothers firm here.

LOVES PEOPLE

"But my work has been mostly with people," he explained to the Eagle, "and especially with kids. For the past four years you could always find me up around Hauser and Rodeo, with Negro and white youngsters of the Pop Warner Little League. Some people say that's all I know. Well, maybe they're right in a way. With those kids I learned a lot about sportsmanship, and that's highly important these days.

"Out on the field when you get a bunch of boys together, you see them come to know each other as boys, not as races. They work for a common cause. Tank Younger came out and helped me at times."

Hollingsworth, who lives with his wife Alice and their two children, Joe, Jr., and daughter Alison at 5468 Village Green, recalled the time he attempted to have his integrated football team play in Orange County.

PROTEST 'NIGGERS'

"A lot of people out there," he said, "protested they didn't want what they called 'a nigger team' to play down there. I told them my team was a team of boys, and later on we showed them, and now they ask for us. Last year our team won the sportsmanship award. One of our boys is president of the student body at Audubon Junior High."

About his own personal ideas about property and economics, Hollingsworth was brittle as he said flatly: "I fit in with rich or poor, and I am neither. I'm a regular fellow. I'm not a member of any board or group with lilywhite ideals. And as a councilman I am going to represent every person in the Tenth District as an individual. I will not represent any racial group in preference to the other. Frankly, I want to meet all the people in my district, and will appear anywhere at any time to do so."

Groups Unite

applicants, who competed against one another during the job-seeking, to work harmoniously to create an organized opposition after the appointment.

STEERING COMMITTEE

After the motion's defeat, the group nominated 15 residents to a committee to explore the various plans proposed seeking the recall of Hollingsworth and Callicott, molding massive registration of Negro voters, calling for a referendum to increase the number of councilmen.

The Rev. Brookins was made chairman of the committee, which is to deliver a report Friday night, also at Golden State.

The 15 members elected to the Steering Committee were: The Rev. H. H. Brookins, Dr. L. L. White, Norman B. Houston, James Flournoy, Dr. D. Overstreet Gray, Ted Wright, Bob Reynolds, Atty. Eugene Hall, Atty. Arnett Hartsfield, William Pollard, Mervin Dymally, Don Derrick, Henry Hodge, Johnny Otis and Arty. Alma Rudison, president of the National Council of Negro Women.

Frank Terry was named consultant to the committee.

CIVIC LEADERS CONTRIBUTE — Contributing to the million dollar church to be erected soon are these civic leaders who attended the testimonial banquet given in honor of Rev. H. H. Brookins at the Alexandria Hotel, last Friday. From left: Dr. E. H. Ballard, Goodwin J. Knight, guest speaker; Rev. Brookins, Mrs. Brookins, Paul R. Williams, Henri O'Bryant, and Mrs. Paul Williams, seated. (Adams)

Big Crowd Attends Brookins' Testimonial Banquet

Civic, state, and religious leaders of Los Angeles, California, packed the Grand Ballroom of the Alexandria Hotel, historic downtown site of former presidents Hoover, Roosevelt, and Wilson, to honor Dr. H. H. Brookins, progressive pastor of First AME Church, 8th and Towne avenue.

The Hon. Goodwin J. Knight, former Governor of California, led an array of civic and church leaders in lauding the type and quality of dynamic leadership inherent in H. H. Brookins, illustrious pastor of historic Eighth and Towne AME Church. An avalanche of applause greeted the speaker's challenge that: "Catholics, Lutherans, Episcopalians, Presbyterians and community leaders throughout the state will join hands with Pastor Brookins and his faithful followers in erecting in Los Angeles, a one million dollar cathedral.'

To demonstrate his concern, Knight turned to Dr. E. H. Ballard, chairman of the Building Fund Committee, and presented a check for $100. Additional contributions and pledges of $500 were received from Atty. Eugene Hall, H. Claude Hudson, Atty. Crispus Wright, and Henri O'Bryant, Fire Commissioner. Other participants included Dr. A. K. Quinn, presiding elder, Pasadena District; Dr. D. V. Kyle, Dr. Forrest Weir, Dr. C. Albert Hinson, Paul R. Williams, Pat McGee, Dr. Jesse L. Glover, Dr. E. P. Williams, Dr. Therion E. Cobbs and Dr. T. Leslie Scott.

Mrs. Helen Brookins, wife of Dr. Brookins, was the recipient of an armfull of roses presented by Mrs. Lucille Hamilton on behalf of the Planning Committee. Members of the sponsoring committee were: Irene Campbell, chairman; Dora Taylor, Ernest R. Scott, O. A. Simpson, Lulu Hamlett, Montana McNealy, Ruth Jordon, Lucille D. Jackson, Josephine Bailey, Grace Boyd, E. Mae Franklin, Ruth Butler, Esther Davis, Dorothy Harvel, Lela Greene, Condia Raggio, Leona Greene and Addie Webster, and Hallie Randall.

The testimonial concluded Sunday in the morning observance with Dr. Therion E. Cobbs, presiding elder, the Topeka District of the Kansas-Nebraska Conference, who spoke to a crowd of 1000 worshippers on the subject: "Words That Keep Men on Their Feet." Dr. Cobbs praised the pastor and members for the acquisition of a $135,000 site covering a city block, for the one million dollar cathedral to be constructed on the corner of Harvard and LaSalle Streets, in the heart of Los Angeles. A Wishing Well was presented by the members of First Church containing over $1,500. The total receipts and reports exceeded $3,000 for the testimonial project.

The young minister recently announced the purchase of a block deep site for a new million dollar church structure for the congregation, at the Harvard and LaSalle Knoll at 25th street. (Adams)

Minister, Choir Return to Duty

Rev. John C. Bain will return to the pulpit at Vermont Square Methodist Church, 4410 S. Budlong, on Sunday, Sept. 3, after a vacation period with his family in the Sequoias.

The Sanctuary Choir will also and will be directed by Andre return after a month's vacation Wade. Mrs. Gertrude Parsley is the church secretary.

Howard University.

Dr. Taylor said he made this proposal in March, but to date has received no answer.

"I am still open to any honorable proposal," he said, "and prior to the opening of the convention I will ask a deputation to wait on the Rev. Mr. Jackson with a proposal that we have an election based on mutually acceptable and proper rules of voting."

CONFUSION

At this point there is considerable confusion as to which delegates will be seated at the convention — those pledged to Dr. Jackson, those pledged to Dr. Taylor, or both.

There is also uncertainty as to whether the official meetings will get under way on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Dr. Jackson's Board of Directors are set to meet Monday morning at the auditorium, and his supporters say the convention will open Tuesday.

Dr. Taylor's adherents, however, say that his Board of Directors will meet Tuesday morning at the Paseo Baptist Church, and that the convention will get under way Wednesday.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch--Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

The mounting disappointment with the Dodgers, the collapse of the Rams and the one home run and triple of Roger Maris when he visited Wrigley Field have combined to make the old friendly town of L. A. hotter than the weather and madder than grandma who can't find her specs which are resting on top of her forehead.

That brings us down to this week's narration and Mr. Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns, and Mr. Bobby Mitchell of the same squad. Mostly this week's discourse deal with this Mitchell fellow whom we have watched since college days. We almost flipped our lid when he raced 100 yards toward a touchdown only to fumble the ball when he broke out into the clear with nothing in front of him but two goal posts down yonder which he never crossed. Mitchell built up such a national reputation for fumbling that he became known in the football set as the lad with the light finger pigskin touch.

Coach Paul Brown waited until the 7th round of the player draft to see if other coaches had the nerve to draft him. They didn't and today Mitchell at 190 pounds is rated as the game's most exciting and dangerous player. Last Friday night in the Coliseum he ignited the fans with a 55 yard gallop that was as sweet as icing on the cake. Mitchell has developed into a player with super ability by blending his exceptional speed, uncanny faking and excellent balance into a neat package of TNT.

Like we said it wasn't until the 7th round of the player draft and 80 college players later that a coach gave him a tumble. Coach Paul Brown one of the greatest in the business just faked the other coaches out of one of the greatest box-office attraction by going along with rumors about Mitchell's fumbling. He knew it could be easily corrected.

Mitchell's roommate since joining the Browns has been Jim Brown, the human bulldozer. The story goes that Brown would tuck Mitchell into the hay with a football in his arm and threaten him within an inch of 190 pound frame, now Mitchell wasn't about to tangle with Brown and so the Cinderella story goes, the well-dressed, good looking young man with Jim Brown isn't really Jim's son but is "Mr. Outside," his running mate. One of the most sought-after players in the NFL who can chill his foes with his speed.

As for coach Paul Brown, he gets our vote for the NAACP's Springarn medal. He has developed more top Negro professional players than any coach in the NFL.

Valley Playground Nines Nab Junior, Senior Titles

Reseda Playground's Cavaliers and Pacoima Playground's White Sox won the 1961 Junior and Senior Major League baseball championships, respectively, in windup action in the city-wide tournament staged Wednesday, Aug. 23, at Manchester Playground.

Peck Park Playground's Junior Major League team, which bowed to Reseda by a 4 to 2 margin in the windup action, and Van Nuys-Sherman Oaks Playground's squad, which was defeated by a 9 to 5 score by the White Sox in the Senior Major League's finale were runners-up in the competition.

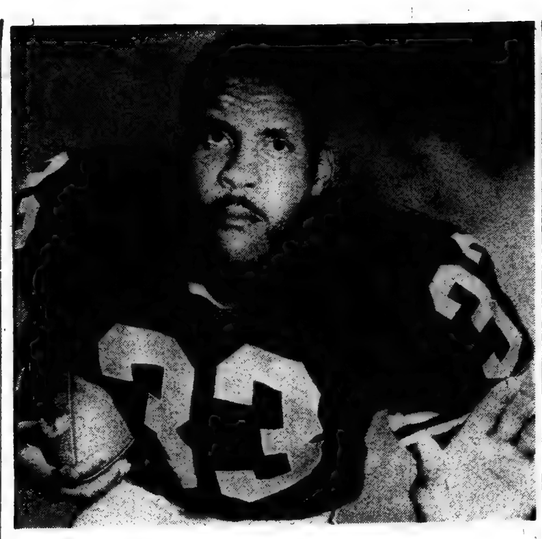
The four top teams and Evergreen Playground's aggregation which was selected for the tourney's sportsmanship trophy, were slated to be honored along with inter-agency softball champions at Wrigley Field this Wednesday, Aug. 30, when the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Seven-Up Youth Foundation will co-sponsor an awards dinner.

Satchel Paige Returns to Mound After 4 Years

Satchel Paige, the Archie Moore of baseball, returned to organized baseball last Sunday in Seattle after four years and pitched four innings for the Portland Beavers against the Seattle Raniers of the Pacific Coast League.

The rangy 6 foot veteran of some 40-odd years of baseball started the second game of the double-header and was nicked for two unearned runs in the first inning.

He allowed only three hits, two of them due to poor fielding, and walked only two in the four-inning stint.



With the score tied at 2-all Paige was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the fifth inning and Seattle went on to edge the Beavers 3 to 2.

Paul Lowe Romps 72 Yards for TD

With hustling Paul Lowe racing 2 yards in the opening minutes of play, the San Diego Chargers routed the Oakland Raiders 35 to 7 at Balboa Stadium in San Diego last Sunday.

Lowe's runback of a Raiders punt following the opening set of downs, got the Chargers off to their third straight exhibition win of the season.

Most of the 10,436 fans hadn't arrived when Lowe went racing down the field, but they were brought to their feet in the third quarter when quarterback Jack Kemp, apparently trapped on his own 30-yard line, tossed a desperation pass which was caught by Keith Lincoln, who set sail for 63 yards and a score.

OLLIE MATSON — L.A. Ram's Liner, who can shake, rattle and roll, is looking for a great season with the club this year. He is scheduled to see action this Friday night when the S.F. '49ers invade the Coliseum.

Compton Dons Win State Baseball Title

By EDW. "ABIE" ROBINSON

Compton Dons survived a rugged tournament schedule to win the So. California Association State Baseball crown and the right to represent California in the Amateur World Series which will be held in Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 2.

The Dons, sponsored by the Metropolitan Builders, of which Richard Corenson is president, received official greetings from the L.A. County Supervisors office last Tuesday.

In Tacoma the Dons will be meeting teams representing Oregon, Washington, British Columbia. The winner of the double elimination tourney will travel to Battle Creek, Mich., for the finals and the world title.

Coach John Rochelle of the Dons was very proud of his team's showing at Porterville, winning five out of six games and having four of his players named to the All-Star team.

Enroute to Porterville from Compton one of the player's cars developed engine trouble and they pulled up at the stadium just 10 minutes before game time. Without benefit of a warm-up toss they went out and beat Fresno in the tourney opening game 19 to 4.

In the second game Ezell Singleton pitched 12 innings, the score tied at 4-all. Coach Rochelle replaced Singleton and the team dropped a heartbreaker to Downey, 5 to 4, in 13 innings.

In the third game the Dons bounced back with a 7 to 1 victory over Stocktons. Willie Mathis hurled the fourth game against Downey and shut them out, 4 to 0, allowing only three hits. The fifth game saw the Dons whip heavy favorite Porterville, giving Porterville its first of two defeats and scoring a 10 to 6 win.

In the final game the Dons edged Porterville 12 to 11 for the state title. Tebbie Fowler got two homers in the six games. Cleo Harris also drilled out two homers, one being a grand slam in the 6th game.

Tebbie Fowler, Billy Pope, Ezell Singleton and George McQuarn were named to the All-Star squad as outstanding players of the tourney.

The Dons will meet British Columbia in the opening of the Tacoma tournament and will be stopping at the Doric Hotel, 242 St. Helen street, in that city.

NFL Pro Teams

In last week's professional football, the exciting Baltimore Colts football team annihilated the lily-white Washington Redskin squad with a shocking 41 to 7 win in a National Football League game played at Norfolk, a.

Down Jacksonville way on a wet and muddy turf the Pittsburgh Steelers, tabbed as the dark horse in the NFL this season, slopped their way to a 24 to 14 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Halfback Charlie Scales, former Indiana ace, was the big mudder for the Steelers, scoring once and setting up another six pointer in the exhibition game.

'Tee Time' — WITH — Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

Recently an article appeared in a local weekly under the by-line of Clayton Moore. We can't understand why Moore suddenly changed his mind that there is no segregation at Fox Hills when he recently informed this writer that he was accepting a P.R. job with the Western States (Negro) Golf Ass'n in order to aid and instruct them on how to integrate. Moore is also a member of the Cosmopolitan Golf Club that last year voted to leave Fox Hills because they were convinced that the Fox Hills Clubs were guilty of segregation.

Moore also jumped the gun when he called the NAACP president and Core concerning their picketing of Fox Hills.

It has never been presented to the board of the NAACP or Core but a Core branch office wrote this writer and offered to picket. Here is the letter from Venice, dated July 10:

"Dear Mrs. Hathaway:

"The Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) has noticed the difficulty that you have written of with the Fox Hills Golf Clubs. May CORE offer its support and strength against these segregated golf clubs.

"Will you come to our meeting Thursday, July 20, at the Calvery Baptist Church, 20th and Broadway, Santa Monica, at 7:30 sharp? CORE is ready for action now."

This can't be the same Clayton Moore who last Xmas asked Santa Claus (in his column) to please bring to the community more militant, fighting columnists like Maggie Hathaway!

By Mr. Moore being so misinformed he caused Vernoncrest to spend quite a sum of money sending out letters to 500 members announcing that there would not be a picket line. We wonder how much it is costing the organization to advertise on TV that the champion of the snooty private Meadowlark (all white) is going to play in their tournament. The only thing a Negro can do in Meadowlark Golf Club is caddy. What is this going to prove? Meadowlark's champion dare not invite a Negro to join the Meadowlark Golf Club.

This is proof how far and how much money the Vernoncrest Golf Club will spend to aid segregation (Vernoncrest and Clayton Moore are aware of the Caucasian clause that is in the men's association's constitution, but apparently they don't give a "hoot". (Wonder what the Freedom Riders would think of a group of Negroes spending money where it is written that they don't want them?)

It is too bad that Moore's militant article had to be at the expense of aiding segregation; or "coasting in on a female writer's back."

It is also painful to realize that Moore is a "fence straddler" and will betray a friend.

It may come as an awful shock to Clayton Moore when we inform him that last Friday the Fox Hills women gave two Negro women (Western Ave.) membership blanks for the first time in the history of the club.

Vernoncrest has used this course for the past 10 years, but never had the courage to attempt integrating; they had better thank the Gods that this happened or there would have been a picket line. Why is this organization so afraid of a picket line if it is so right?

UCLA Expects to Field Team With Line Averaging 209 Lbs.

Led by 25 returning lettermen, UCLA's highly - rated football team opens the 1961 football season this week when a 65-man squad reports to Coach Bill Barnes for a Spaulding Field session before newspaper, TV and newsreel cameramen.

The Bruins, who sit up for a late 3:00 p.m. picture-shooting session because of the summer heat wave, then plan two-a-day workouts for the first two weeks of actual drills.

Despite the fact that they are picked in all pre-season polls to win the AAWU-Big Five championship and go to the Rose Bowl, Barnes' Bruins have a tough row to hoe, kicking off against the Air Force Academy, Michigan and Ohio State, all on the road, before opening a flashy six-game home schedule against Vanderfilt, Oct. 14, in the Coliseum.

A new addition to the letterman list is big Bob Weeden, a 248-pounder from Memphis who played 88½ minutes of tackle in 1957 after starting out as a center and linebacker. Barnes plans to try him at right end.

With Weeden in the lineup, the Bruins would have a king-sized "strong side" offensive line with Tom Paton, 210, at right guard; All-American Candidate Marshall "The Shark" Shirk, 230; and Weeden, who hopes to thin down to about 235.

Even based on official weights of last season, the Bruins will present one of the biggest UCLA lines in the last decade, weighing in at 209 pounds per man.

Bill Smallwood

Leona and Bill Kemp (they teach) are holidaying from Detroit as they relax at Helen Cummings'. They jetsweep home Sat. Tacoma's Joe Gordon hugged Mauvoleyene and Elliot Carpenter an affectionate adieu after a fortnight with them and left today; the Carpenters have fingers crossed hoping to miraculously get reservations this late for Grand Canyon. Labor Day gives a birthday to Pegga Hawkins. It also gives an anniversary to Helen and Jerome Lane.

Mrs. Susie Jackson of Washington, D.C. has her kit bags over at Betty and Jim Scott's (she's Jim's aunt). Betty, by the way, is convalescing at home after a somewhat stiff seige of it in the hospital and is doing so very well now, for which all of us thank Allah. Hazel and Rocky Washington had high hopes they'd be in Chica. now with Myrtle and John Sengstackie in their penthouse and at their lakeside place but Rocky's doctor won't release him just yet for travel.

HOPING IT'S A BOY

After Chicago, Manhattan (where he dined with the incomparable and utterly tireless Jodie Cooper), the nation's capital and Richmond, Va., Walter Bryant set his compass again for LA and with another taste of the Windy City as he comes west by Labor Day. Maria and Nat Cole are hoping it's a boy. N'Yorker Dr. Gertrude Curtis Thompson ("Kid" didn't accompany her this trip) did Catalina a week then the Bay area and back here where she's stopping with the Willie Covans before hopping homeward over the Rockies.

Johnetta Starks is further shaking the dust of LA from herself while currently enjoying Columbus, Ohio, before making a bee-line for Manhattan where, as I told you, she now lives permanently. Lois and Joe Celestain (their hand-in-hand happiness as newlyweds shines through like the sun at high noon) will take advantage of the holiday weekend to get going on a honeymoon trip. Rosita Nelson is spending her two vacation weeks at that most interesting Laguna house she and her busy Schuyler occupy when time permits.

AND - SWOOSH!

Anita and T. C. Bogan checking calendar days until their son and his family touch down at Inglewood from Chicago; the latter is a C.P.A. and plans to move his family here later. Dr. and Mrs. Claude Hudson and his sister, Helen Green, took off for Washington, D.C. and other points; Dr. H. attended the recent Golden Anniversary of Omega Psi Phi. Adelaide Hardy, come summer, never lets LA bore her; she frequently packs a bag and — swoosh! — down the Santa Ana freeway to Laguna she makes tire tracks; there, the oceanside residence of Dora and Roland Woods is second home for coruscant Adelaide.

Dr. Wayne Howard felt the walls closing in on him so he tossed a bag in his car last week and hit the open road for a few days. Sun. (3) will find Calme and Lewis Russ touching glasses in an anniversary salute. Kate Garcia, vacationing in the east, decided to fly on to Bermuda from NYC, so there she winged. Untangling a quite unexpected misprint; Nira Hardon and her mother, Joyce Gordon, and Sandra Porter gave the baby shower for Barbara King. And it is Dr. and Mrs. George Sealey and son who are home from Europe. Allah save us from garbled misprints at future press time!

Around the World in 50 Days With the Robinsons

BY JESSE AND MYRTLE ROBINSON

Through one's life there are always certain things and places that have personal fascination. For us it has been the French Riviera. This is the playground of the French. The Riviera stretches from Toulon to the Italian border and is dotted with world famous spots. Nice is the largest of the resort spots. We landed at the beautiful airport with the feeling that the entire town had come down to welcome us.

Many spectators meet each flight and the visitors gallaries are packed as if it was a holiday. For the first time during our entire travels we were not annoyed by porters snatching at our bags, or taxi drivers rushing up to take us to some hotel. However this put us on our own and we spotted a bus which was taking passengers from the airlines to their hotels. We boarded and the driver deposited us one block from the hotel. Here we were on the famous Promenade des Anglais, trudging along with two suitcases, several flight bags, a camera case, etc. and thus arrived at the swank Negresco Hotel feeling a little undignified. Nevertheless we were expected and the management was most gracious. We are sure that Bob Kennedy, who was vacationing only a few miles away at Cannes, did not receive any more service.

Saturday night is Saturday night in all towns. The native are looking for something to do so the streets were filled with people strolling along, window shopping, relaxing on the beach front and visiting in the hotels. Sunday we learned the secret of the Bikini. People flock to the beach area early. The beach is just like ours. There are many big rocks in the water and people sit on them and swim between them. The wonderful attractions are the pretty young things donned in Bikinis stretched out all over the rocks

Our plane to Geneva was four hours late, so we headed directly to Paris. Arriving there we found the famous city cold, damp and with rain threatening. Paris was closed up tight as a bomb. It was Aug. 15, Assumption Day similar to our Memorial Day. We didn't take the guided tour and elected to work things out on our own. The Hotel Lotti was within easy walking distance of the Champs Elysee. Here at one end stands the world famous Arc de Triumph, resting place of France's Unknown Soldier. Walking down the Champs Elysee from the Arc you pass hotels, restaurants and night spots, like the Lido. From there we went to the Place de la Concorde and the Church of the Madeleine. We took the train to Versailles which is 12 miles from the city and the Palace of Louis XIII, XIV and XV and the site of the treaty which ended World War I. We strolled through rooms in the Palace saw the famous Peace Table and the room of Marie Antionette. The show at the Lido Club is a must for every visitor. It is exciting and delightfully risque.

In our travels we discovered, by visiting in the out-of-way places where dark Americans are seldom seen, that people are anxious to be friendly and want to learn more about the American Negro as a person. We leave Paris now and head for Berlin, the big trouble spot in today's headlines.

Annual Event Set

The National Council of Negro Women will present its 1961 International Cotillion at the Hotel Commodore on Sept. 22 in New York City.

Les Ami Club Members Take Tour to Pasadena

By C. MARIE HUGHES

After leaving "K. P." instructions for their husbands Sunday morning, members of the Les Ami Social and Charity Club were off to an early club meeting at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Holland on W. 62nd street, and then to a "Sight Seeing" tour of Pasadena.

On the "rubbnerneck" bus with regular tourists were seven club members, several of whom are native Californians.

Among the places shown were: Joan of Arc Hospital, Highland Park, Chinatown, historical Elysian Park, S. W. Museum, with the finest collection of Indian relics in the U.S.A., Sycamore Grove Park, Pasadena Chinese Art Bldg., and the famous Pasadena Playhouse.

The driver slowed down as the bus passed the Colorado street bridge, also known as suicide bridge. To date 1120 people have plunged to their death from the bridge.

En route the bus stopped at the Rose Bowl, where the first football classic was played in 1928, the Huntington Library and Art Gallery in San Marino whose collection of fine arts dates back as far as Abraham Lincoln.

Les Ami's charity activities vary from aiding the aged at the Stovall Foundation and the patients at Rancho Amigos Hospital to making a yearly financial contribution to the Woodlawn branch of the YWCA.

Members who participated in the tour from Fontana to San Diego were: Oletha Burleson, president, Annabel Ellis, Ernestine Pack, Marguerite Holland, Jeanette Petrie, Ruth Cunningham and Mattie Johnson of San Diego. Invited guests were Vernon Wichard and Eagle reporter C. Marie Hughes.

LIKE TOURISTS — Oletha Burleson, president of the 11-year-old Les Ami Social and Charity Club, and other club members took a "rubberneck" bus to "do" Pasadena Sunday.

Tourney To Benefit Stovall

The Stovall Foundation will present its first annual Golf Tournament Sunday, Oct. 15, at Whittier Narrows and Western Ave. Golf Courses.

The Stovall Foundation provides a home for the aged and is a non-profit organization.

The men will play at Whittier Narrows and the women will play Western Ave.

It will be an honor to become the first Stovall Champion especially since the tournament is being staged on behalf of people who have passed the age of playing golf.

At the end of the tournament, all players will gather at the Golden State Auditorium to receive their elaborate awards at a presentation banquet.

For the first time in the history of amateur golf, girl scorekeepers will be used (this should bring the wives out as spectators) and a putting and driving contest will also be held for male and female contestants.

The field will be limited because of the number of Sunday starting times allowed. "Choppers" or "dubbers" will be urged to participate in the gallery and leave the tournament to the eagle and par shooters.

Since there will be lady scorers for the men players, there are some who say it would be most interesting to have gentlemen scorers for the female swingers.

WASHINGTON—To help raise their vocational aspirations, Negro youths in the South may soon have an opportunity to visit Negro businesses and places where Negroes are engaged in various job occupations, according to Delta Sigma Theta, Inc.

The South Atlantic Region of Delta Sigma Theta has proposed a "mobile" clinic so that upper-grade Negro high school students may tour industrial centers such as Atlanta, Birmingham, Durham, and other areas to participate in cultural events. The clinic will make tours of Negro communities to see examples of improved living conditions, tours of insurance companies, industrial plants, banks, and other Negro businesses where Negroes have had to overcome barriers in order to succeed.

Southside Club Honors Member

Southside Democratic Club members and their guests, 150 strong, showered Joseph C. Burch, of 2517 W. 75th street, for many years a member of the Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee and a grass roots worker for good government, with honors at a testimonial dinner Saturday night at the Cabinet Workers Union Hall. The dinner was in appreciation of his ten years of outstanding service to the Democratic Party and the Southside Club. Richard Tomlin, president, was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Cora Haskins, organizer of the Broadway Democratic Club, and Mrs. Roberta Brown, recording secretary of the Southside Democratic Club, planned and directed a large back stage force, including sons and daughters of members, who prepared and served the dinner.

Mae Richardson Returns to City

Mae Richardson, popular president of the Neighborhood Friendship Charity Club, returned to the city last week. She had been visiting her aunt, Emma White of Welsh, La., who has been ill.

The president lauded the work the group has been doing in her absence and especially the service rendered to the Health Clinic by such members as Annie B. Walker, Leola Nicolis, Beatrice Martin, Versa L. Lomax and John Richarson.

In the group's regular meeting they discussed details for their annual picnic which will be held some time in September.

Before scheduling the next meeting in the home of Doris Brown, members expressed sympathy to business manager John Richardson, who recently underwent surgery at the Kaiser Hospital.

Volunteers to Beautify Park

Ted Reed, minister of the South Unit of Jehovah's Witnesses, has been recruiting volunteers to help beautify Candlestick Park in San Francisco, for the United Worshippers District Assembly to be held Aug. 29 to Sept. 3.

There will be some 50,000 in attendance at the Assembly and the volunteers will make 20 departmental units a clearing house for services and accommodations for the families of the worshippers. Some 7,000 volunteers are being pressed into service from the various congregations.

Lincoln Alumni Chapter Fete College President

Dr. Marvin Wachman, newly installed president of Lincoln University, Pa., who was in the city on official business last week, enjoyed the chance of a life-time when he had the pleasure of meeting members of the Lincoln University Alumni Chapter.

The setting was the beautiful Hollyridge drive home of Dr. and Mrs. Marion S. Johnson. The time last Wednesday night.

The position of president at Lincoln has had no permanent occupant since the resignation of Dr. Horace Mann Bond four years ago.

Highly respected in eastern educational circles, Dr. Wachman, who recently returned from a two year teaching fellowship in Austria, indicated that his plans for the college included increased enrollment and a stronger faculty.

Lincoln University, founded over a hundred years ago as the first institution of higher learning for Negro men north of the Mason Dixon line, is now co-educational and interracial.

Many foreign students, especially from Africa, have been educated at Lincoln. Two famous graduates who are now outstanding African leaders are Dr. Kwami Nkruma, prime-minister of Ghana, and Dr. N. Azikiwe, governor general of Nigeria.

The local alumni group started in Los Angeles in 1957, according to Atty. H. Clay Jacque, president, who stated that there are some 40 Lincoln Alumni chapters in the Southern California area.

PEOPLE & PLACES

VERNONCREST—Their invitational to come play golf with them at Fox Hills on Labor Day isn't in keeping with the current battle being waged for equality, dignity, and self respect. How can any Negro organization spend money on a golf course that rents its facilities to a group of admitted segregationists?

AL LEVY—He sold his liquor store in the 2500 block on W. Jefferson, took a six month trip around the world and is now associated with Foster and Jewel Price Realty Co!

THELMA BROWNE—She has been the ticket agent at her gift shop in the Watkins Hotel ever since she took over. How come she was eased out of the Ray Charles bit?

10th DISTRICT—Negro voters should start preparing ways and means to defeat such Councilmen as Harold A. Henry, L. E. Timberlake, John C. Holland, Karl L. Rundberg, Shepard, Erani, Bernardi, Lemoine, Blanchard, Callicott, because they couldn't care less about Negroes!

T.I.C. CLUB—Negroes received a bitter dose from so-called white spokesmen representing them in the Council. So disgraceful that an organization as simple as ABC is being formed in the home of Elois Davis. It will be called the "T.I.C." which means "To Improve Condition," with the motto "Something Must Be Set." No foot dragging Negroes are welcome. The same goes for those timid white liberals, with Mexican-Americans most welcome!

LUCILLE HARRIS—She is having a ball in New York and by the time she reads this she will be making the spots in Chicago!

L.A. HOWARD—Big time member of the Utopian Club and high powered Shriner took in the con-

HEART THROB — Kim Hamilton will next be seen in a tender, inter-racial love story, "Forward the Heart", opening Friday, September 8, at the Circle Theatre, 800 North El Centro in 'Filmville'. This powerful play definitely has something to say and will hold sway each weekend. Special consideration will be given for all theatre parties, sororities, fraternities and groups making reservations in advance.

LIVING ROOM PRIZE WINNER — The surprise Cinderella Drawing at the "LIVING ROOM" 2636 Crenshaw, every Wednesday continues to be the focus of Ladies Night. Furniture broker Jimmie Harris presented the lucky lady with a transistor radio, complete with leather carrying case at the last Wednesday session. Harris, one of the most enterprising young businessmen in the city, is located on Vermont. He carries a complete line of home furnishings. Shown with the beaming winner are: left to right Jimmie Harris; Claude Duke, Living Room owner, and Freddie Pinson (the lucky lady).

BELAFONTE SCORES AGAIN

Well, Belafonte, did it again, as he proved himself the master showman and entertainer in his performance against the odds of overhead airplanes and then the descending elements of rain and thunder, while he thoroughly pleased a ajam - packed Forest Hills Tennis Stadium audience. Harry sang material running the gamut from "The Muleskinner", "Cotton Fields", and "Bald Headed Woman", to cuties such as "Why and Why?", and "Mo' Yet", his favorites, "John Henry" and "Matilda", and later, his newest from his "Jump Up Calypso" album, "I Love Junanita" and "Going Down Jordan." Harry also introduced the South African song stylist, the fabulous Miss Miriam Makeba, who captivated the crowd with her other native chants. "Click Song", "Wimoweh" and

TALENTED ARTISTRY

The twelve Belafonte Folk Singers, his standard five musicians and a full orchestra, provided the vocal and instrumental backgrounds for the talented artistry of Harry Belafonte. It ingproved to a rewarding evening for the thousands who attended and stayed through two showers and the jet sounds; Laura and I had a ball.

Julie London In Bowl Role September 23

For brains, for beauty and for sheer musical delight, Concerts, Inc. claims the "second edition" of Stereo-At-The-Bowl set for Sept. 23, will top anything ever offered in Los Angeles.

ONE NIGHT STAND

Beauty? Try to match the cool, classic perfection of Julie London.

Brains? Lou Gottlieb of The Limeliters Trio is a Ph.D. in musicology from the UC campus at Berkeley, one of today's outstanding musical scholars. Or take Hank Mancini, an alumnus of Carnegie Tech and the Julliard Institute, as well as being the No. 1 modern composer-arranger-conductor.

Music? Miss London's sultry "Cry Me A River" was a No. 1 record; Mancini's "Mr. Lucky" and "Music From Peter Gunn" topped album sales for two years running, while The Limeliters are now being critically acclaimed as "the most versatile folk singers" in the land.

HANK MANCINI BAND

Teaming "Hank" Mancini and his orchestra, The Limeliters and lovely Julie London for a joint appearance has been a genuine entertainment coup for Concerts, Inc.

Tickets are now on sale at the Southern California Music Co., and all Mutual Agencies.

REFRESHING — Jovial Judy Washington joins an ever increasing number of Southern Californians who are appreciative of Edgar Charles and Paul Smith's Caribbean Lounge, Adams and Rimpau, where good food, drinks, entertainment and friendly atmosphere add up to a most refreshing evening. Make it!!!

Floyd Patterson In for a Lesson Says McNeeley

If World heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson can read, then he should toss his youthful peepers in the Oct. issue of Sports Magazine. Tom McNeeley, unheard of and undefeated was selected over some mighty impressive heavyweights to meet Floyd in a world championship bout in Boston in Sept. and he says Patterson is going to learn a lot about him.

McNeeley, a tough intelligent young heavyweight with 24 victories to boast about, has never in his life met a fighter with the class of one Mr. Patterson.

However sportswriter Barry Gottehrer came upon some letters which shed light on McNeeley's innermost thoughts, hopes and fears.

MARY COUNTEE VACATIONS

Mary Countee penned from the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit that she is having a ball. Selma Whitmore pens from Athens while enroute on her Mediterranean Cruise, having been to 3 ports in Greece and one in Yugoslavia, acquiring a golden tan. L.A.'s Lille Brown writes from Reno that she's having a wonderful time, and Mary Batiste scribes a thank you note for my small bit during her maiden visit to N.Y.

So what else can I tell you, except that my Aunt DoDo penned from Greensboro, Tuskegee and Atlanta, as she is rolling to Mexico City, that all is well. I hate all these lucky travelers. I'm green with envy, so 'Bye. Think I'll take a spin thru Central Park before I call it a night . . .

Why Burgie puts EXTRA CASH on every barrelhead

They say money isn't everything. But it sure helps. For example, every brewer knows there are two different ways to make a beer light. And refreshing. One way is to cut down on the amount of hops, grain, or malt. Instead, use a little more water. The other way (and the one we prefer) is to brew the beer to be light—and to do this, Burgermeister spends almost twice as much as the industry average for the one choice brewing grain that makes beer light naturally. You can taste the result in today's Burgie. Light. But not watery. For Burgie is brewed to be light. It cost us extra cash on the barrelhead. But you don't pay a red cent more. And that's the way it has to be. A beer that is brewed for refreshing people has to be brewed exactly right. And Burgie is.

Dean Sanders said Southern California's desirable climate and Pepperdine's varied academic programs, "designed to suit individual needs," has accounted for the marked increase in enrollment.

As the Silver Anniversary Year starts, the growth in the physical plant will continue to keep apace of the growing student body, according to President M. Norvel Young.

Parade 'Slipped In,' Despite Cancellation

The so-called Caucasian peoples of Los Angeles slipped local Negroes a double "whammy" Monday when, after statements that the no-Negro Founder's Fete would not be held, they staged a reenactment and commemoration of the city's founding, with one lone Negro, participating.

The only Negro figuring in the celebration was a Negro Catholic student priest who aided in program services during the Monday night festivities on Olvera Street.

NO INDIANS, EITHER

The whole affair was made up, conspiciously, of whites and Mexican-Americans, although it had been pointed out in citywide newspaper stories that the actual founders of the city of Los Angeles, 180 years ago, were Indians, Negroes, two whites and Mulattos.

Not only were Negroes denied participation in the reenactment parade and honoring program, the 35 or more Negro pickets who showed up were roundly booed by persons of Mexican descent and whites who openly screamed that "they (Negroes) are taking over everything. Now they come up with these lies. There were no colored people anywhere around when this city was founded."

Few paid any attention when some Negroes and whites tried to show them that Mexicans were not around, either, when Los Angeles got its founding start.

THROWN OUT

One Negro woman was thrown out of the reenactment parade when she hopped into the pro-

'Magnificents' Face Trial in Love Racket

The "Seven Magnificents" — only when the judge got through counting there were eight—were indicted last Thursday on charges of transporting women across state lines for immoral purposes, a violation of the Mann Act.

A tip given police by a lady-of-the-night who "just got tired" led to the arrest of the Magnificents" who reportedly brought eight young women here from Cleveland, Ohio, and lived off the proceeds of their earnings.

ARRAIGNMENT SET

U. S. Atty. Francis C. Whelan listed the eight as: William Joseph King, 22, and his half-brother, Willie Charles White, 22, considered the ringleaders of the group, and Melvin Mack Brown, 23; Glenn D. Smith, 24; Albert Little, 24; Richard Strickland, 22;

Robinsons Search For Crisis in Berlin

By JESSE and MYRTLE ROBINSON

BERLIN — We arrived in Berlin on Friday night, August 18, a little apprehensive about how we would find the city. In fact Myrtle had suggested that we should skip Berlin.

We had been reading the American papers and thought the crisis to be quite serious.

LIFE AS USUAL

However, once in the airport we began to think otherwise. People moved about the city as usual. The stores were crowded, the sidewalk cafes filled, and there were no worried faces or signs of anxiety.

As we rode to the Kempenski Hotel we thought, "They don't know there is a Berlin Crisis!"

Once in the Kempenski, the climate was quite different.

The lobby was jammed with excited newspapermen. The news had just been announced of the arrival of Vice-President Lyndon Johnson for the following day, Saturday. C.B.S., with its full crew of cameramen and equipment, was using the Kempenski Hotel as headquarters. Americans were rushing all over the place, and jumping in and out of taxis.

HIGHLY MOTIVATED

I felt that if the Berliners were not worried, these newspaper people seemed highly motivated to worry the American people [illegible], and those back home.

En route from Paris to Berlin we met a publisher from Los Angeles. He was going to visit his son, Carl Hartman, working in Berlin. Mr. Hartman is chief of the A.P. news service there. The elder Mr. Hartman related the horrors of Berlin and punctured all my hopes by stating we could not visit East Berlin. In fact Mr. Hartman rather inferred that Myrtle and I were even fools for coming to Berlin at such a time!

Nevertheless, on Saturday morning we ventured forth, toured the famed Kurfurstendam, the Wilshire Blvd. of Berlin.

DOGS HAD PEDIGREES

People sat along the promenade chatting and drinking beer, the shops were busy, the stores were filled, the merchandise was high quality, the people were well dressed, and their dogs all had pedigrees.

Later I toured the city of Berlin in a taxi still trying to find the worried citizens that these newspaper writers at the Kempenski were trying to create for the American readers. We no-

We're Tired of Crumbs

(An Editorial)

A speaker at last Friday's meeting called to consider the Joe Hollingsworth appointment to City Council from the 10th District summed up the community attitude when he said "We're tired of getting crumbs from the politicians' table."

He was referring to the appointment of a councilmanic field deputy obviously intended to dull community resentment against the Hollingsworth appointment.

Adopting his attitude, the meeting voted to institute recall proceedings against the new councilman as soon as possible.

Recall proceedings are difficult and will require concentrated and devoted work in order to be successful. Approximately seven thousand qualified voters in the 10th District must sign the recall petitions.

When the matter gets on the ballot a majority of the voters must vote in favor of the recall. The candidate chosen to replace Hollingsworth must receive a majority of votes if there are two candidates and a plurality if there are more than two.

A job of this dimension cannot be done on the basis of emotion. It will require careful planning, adequate financing and widespread support.

We agree that Negroes are tired of being fed on crumbs. The proposal to recall Hollingsworth will demonstrate just how tired we are and what sacrifices we are willing to make in order to get the seat at the table we say we want, and certainly deserve.

Muslims Rush Guards At Market; Six Arrested

About 20 Muslims literally "turned out" a supermarket Saturday, precipitating an alarm that called out 40 police officers and resulted in the beating of two market security guards and the jailing of six Muslim members.

It all started when two white guards employed at a supermarket at 1717 S. Western avenue ordered several neatly dressed Muslim followers to stop trying to sell their national newspaper, "Muhammad Speaks," to customers entering the market. The guards attempted to arrest several of the Muslims.

PANDEMONIUM

The guards, King Marsh and Fred Prendergast, told police the men accosted customers on the store's parking lot and in the store's doorway. Marsh and Prendergast said the men prevented customers' entry unless they bought the tabloid newspaper, which had as its current headline: "Muslims Set for Christian Attack."

Prendergast said he asked the men to leave, and when they refused he brought out handcuffs and tried to place several of them under citizen's arrest.

That was the spark. Muslims, who are noted nationally for their adherence to the anti-white teachings of their leaders, Elijah Muhammad and Malcolm X, are also noted for their quick vio-

Community Meeting Plans Recall Of City Councilman Hollingsworth

Negroes to Seek Voice In Civic Rule

Councilman Joe Hollingsworth, chosen by City Council to fill the vacancy in the 10th district, will face recall proceedings as soon as permissible under the city charter.

That was the decision of a citizens group which met at Golden State auditorium Friday night to protest Hollingsworth's selection and lay plans for representation in city government. The group overturned a committee recommendation advising against the recall and told its leaders to take whatever steps are necessary to unseat the new councilman.

TO REPORT BACK

In addition to voting to initiate recall proceedings, the group decided to launch a registration campaign to add Negro voters to the rolls, laid plans to seek an increase in the number of councilmen, and proposed a city wide non-partisan coordinating council to press for increased participation in all phases of government.

The Rev. H. H. Brookins, pastor of First AME Church, was named to head the recall committee which was instructed to report back to the group at a Sept. 11 meeting, also scheduled for Golden State auditorium. Individuals and representatives of all civic and community groups have been invited to attend the meeting.

7500 SIGNATURES

Leading the fight for recall was Bob Reynolds who brushed aside committee objections to the recall and told an applauding audience that a united community can oust Hollingsworth from office. He explained that about 7500 signatures of 10th District voters are necessary to

Seek Top Spot Among Baptists

SEEKS UNITY — Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, battling for presidency of National Baptist Convention, Inc., seeks a compromise of dispute at Kansas City conference.

NO COMPROMISE — Dr. J. H. Jackson, of Chicago, insists on his right to preside at Baptist gathering.

Courts Asked to Bar Jackson, Taylor, Appoint Coordinator

(Special to the Eagle)

Warring factions, heading for a showdown this week at at the National Baptist Convention in Kansas City, Mo., faced the possibility that the courts might step in and force a compromise — or, failing that, might possibly close down the convention altogether.

Court suits have been filed in Washington and in Kansas City aimed at preventing both presidential claimants from presiding at the Municipal Auditorium meetings, and asking instead that the court appoint a referee to take control of the sessions.

10,000 BAPTISTS

The city was buzzing with tension as an estimated 10,000 Baptists, delegates and visitors, swarmed into the city from all corners of the country.

Caucusing was starting early in the morning, over the breakfast cup of coffee, and continuing far into the night in local churches, hotel rooms, meeting halls and private homes.

As of press time, it was impossible to tell, according to telephone reports from the convention city, which of the two groups had the upper hand.

TACTICAL ADVANTAGE

Dr. J. H. Jackson, pastor of Olivet Baptist Church of Chicago, seemed to enjoy a tactical advantage in his control of the auditorium.

His opponents are backers of Dr. Gardner C. Taylor of Brooklyn, who, like Jackson, claims he was duly elected at last year's convention in Philadelphia. They accuse Dr. Jackson of "underhand tactics" in renting the auditorium at commercial rates — $7,300, they say—instead of ac-

Chance Shot Jails Two For Murder

The discharge of a bullet when an oddly shaped paper bag was dropped hastily on the pavement led to the arrest last Wednesday of two men who were charged with the August 12 slaying of Willie Dale Short, 26, beautician, in a holdup of the Escoiffure Beauty Salon, 9105 S. Broadway.

Officers W. L. Davis and F. G. Tomlinson were cruising in the Watts area early Wednesday when their attention was attracted by paper bags being carried by two men.

GUN DISCHARGES

They stopped the men for questioning. The men dropped the bags. The impact caused a sawed-off .22 rifle in one of the bags to discharge. The man who had been carrying it fled.

The other man, Robert Thornton, 21, of 1687 E. 110th street, was arrested and confessed the robbery at the Escoiffure, police said.

Police identified the sawed-off rifle by ballistic tests as the one from which the shot that killed

Oslo Opera Co. Fires Tenor

OSLO — The Norwegian Opera Company announced Monday it has dropped American tenor Eddie Ruhl, alleging he refused to share a dressing room with another American singer, Charles Holland, a Negro.

O. Gruner Hegge, head of the company, said he told Ruhl "this sort of behavior will not be tolerated here" and agreed to cancel Ruhl's contract.

Sifford Plays In Dallas Open

Charles Sifford played in the $30,000 Dallas, Texas, Open this week, the first Negro to play in that city's PGA-sponsored affair.

In the early play, Sifford was shooting in third place, behind Arnold Palmer and Earl Stewart.

Last year this same golf tournament was picketed by a Negro golf club because PGA refused to let Sifford participate.

Down the Lane

By BILL LANE

THERE is one aspect of the current anger being expressed among local civic-minded Negroes that bears close, but appreciative, scrutiny. And that is the united intention of all the bona-fide organization heads to get the L. A. Negro vote registered.

Knowing a soldier going to war without ammunition is primarily at a loss to expect victory, these relentless and clairvoyant citizens have vowed to get Negroes in all areas registered. They have vowed to get Negroes conscious of their civic duties and obligations, not only to their community as a social entity, but to themselves as individuals. All civic rewards have obligations.

They have learned, and are still learning, that it is wrong to be angered at whites reaping political rewards when they consider how many whites stay awake while many Negroes are sleeping, figuring and planning for this project and that political sweep.

A NATURAL corollary to registration is voting. But the Negro groups set on bringing out the Negro registration, know equal attention must be given to getting registered Negro voters to vote. They know, too, they must unite in agreeing on the proper Negro candidates, and unite in getting these candidates supported. There will always be some odd balls interested in becoming candidates.

And white office-seekers and incumbents will surely enter some Negro in every campaign as a cleaving measure. It is not too much to expect some strong Negro candidate will be faced by another Negro bearing the same name—entered by who knows.

UNITED awareness and voting will offset these hampering acts.

And local Negroes with social awareness know, too, that they must have Negro candidates who can bring out not only a united Negro vote, but votes and goodwill from white voters. No program adopted merely as a racial opposition or counter will succeed. Getting the goodwill and hopes of some incumbent white political cell will not do it.

Ordinary white citizens must be made interested and sympathetic, citizens who do not follow the dictates of the L. A. Times or the Hearst bleaters, for these papers always lean to the "white-is-right" theorys. They have shown they are not interested in Negroes, qualified or unqualified.

LABOR, religious groups, fraternal orders, neighborhood newspapers, business and professional people and certain of the radio and TV media must be brought into support.

Negroes in Los Angeles have too much money, dignity and hope at stake to remain sunstruck and inattentive while certain conniving white political slicksters chop up and cart away their districts.

BYGONES must be bygones, but pathways of the future must, too, be lighted by the lamp of experience. The future holds much promise, and much work.

News Butch Escapes Injury in Attack

Decosta Jordan, 45, a newspaper salesman at Vernon and Central avenues, narrowly escaped death last Friday when a thug slashed at him with a knife and missed his throat by inches.

Jordan said that a man in a grey suit accosted him and asked him to give him some money. When he turned away the man slashed at his throat and ran away without getting any money.

Fingers Are Crossed as N'Orleans Schools Open

As nine Negro students breached the walls of segregation in four of Atlanta's high schools last Wednesday with hardly more than a ripple of open opposition, attention switched to New Orleans, scene of last year's riots, where schools are scheduled to open today, Thursday.

There 10 Negro first graders are to be admitted to four white schools. These are in addition to the four Negro six-year-old girls who last year braved the curses of hate-filled mothers who tried to block their way to the two "integrated" schools, McDonogh No. 19 and William Frantz. They will return to those schools this fall.

HOPES FOR PEACE

Classes in the 118 public schools are scheduled to open Sept. 7. However, in accordance with the integration program, the Negro pupils were to be kept out of school until Sept. 12.

There was hope that last year's disgraceful outbreaks would at least be curbed.

A legal blow was struck against the segregationists this past week when a three-man Federal Court in New Orleans held that Louisiana's laws permitting local school boards to close schools are in effect a ruse to evade integration and are therefore invalid.

The four schools to be newly integrated are in widely separated sections of the city. Businessmen, hurt by the riots, have reportedly been attempting to work behind the scenes to prevent a repetition. The new mayor, Victor H. Schiro, is working with the businessmen, and is said to be concerned both over the falling off in tourist trade and in the hesitancy of new business to locate in New Orleans.

SAVE OUR SCHOOLS

In addition, the Save Our Schools group, under the leadership of Mrs. H. N. Sand, that drove the few white pupils to William Frantz School last year, has been hard at work to organize opposition to the racists.

Mrs. Sands, whose group numbers 2200 members, said recently.

"We must have some guidance from the top. Ninety-five per cent of the people of New Orleans don't want a repetition of what happened last year. But I'm afraid the people who are silent will remain silent."

On the other side of the ledger, there is some talk that Gov. Jimmie H. Davis may call a special session of the legislature to attempt to repeat its performance of last year, when it was the prime mover in creating a crisis atmosphere.

SEES LITTLE HOPE

Also, Leander H. Perez, White Citizens Council leader who is known as the political boss of nearby Plaquemines Parish, sees little hope for a peaceful solution of the school problem.

"The integration movement," he told the New York Times recently, "is a Communist conspiracy backed by misguided Federal politicians. But the schemes of the Communists and fellow travelers are proceeding slowly in comparison with public resistance."

John A. Stewart, 30-year-old principal of McDonogh No. 19, has turned down a proposal that he transfer to another school this fall. Twelve of the 15 teachers at McDonogh were also planning to return.

At William Frantz, the other school involved in last year's battles, 17 or 18 of the teachers plan to return.

CATHOLICS DELAY

Catholic schools in New Orleans will not desegregate this year, according to Msgr. Henry C. Bezou, superintendent of the archdiocese. He pointed out that Archbishop Joseph Rummel had announced on Nov. 12, 1960 that Catholic schools would not act until integration has been carried out "effectively" in the public schools.

In Atlanta, following careful preparation by Mayor William B. Hartsfield, Police Chief Herbert Jenkins, School Superintendent John Letson and community organizations, there has not been a single outburst of violence at any of the four high schools.

Considerable credit for the smooth transition was given to HOPE (Help Our Public Education), organized by housewives in 1958 and OASIS (Organizations Assisting Schools in September), which was formed by 50 civic groups, including HOPE. They have taken the problem to the people, not waiting for the people to come to them.

They have had 126 discussion leaders in every section of the city. They have been staging skits and workshops on race relations, supplying ministers with suggested sermons and doing a first rate job of publicizing the need for obeying the law.

Police Chief Jenkins said he didn't expect trouble, but was prepared for the worst. He said an armored car loaded with tear gas bombs and shotguns was standing ready to rush to any spot where violence might break out. Police wagons were ready and waiting at each of the four high schools which were being integrated.

On the first day of school, last Wednesday, seven persons, who didn't "move on" when ordered to do so were arrested. One of them styled himself a Nazi and "Heil Hitlered" the judge when he appeared in court.

Compton Opens Medical Center

Completion of a new one-half million dollar medical building, centrally located in the Compton civic center at 322 W. Compton blvd., will be celebrated Sunday, Sept. 10, with an Open House from 2-6 p.m.

Principal speakers during the formal program, starting at 4 p.m., will include Mayor Del Clawson Compton and Dr. Pernworth, president of the Compton Chamber of Commerce.

Additional entertainment by Miss Joyce Bryant and accompanist Miss Malita Phipps will be followed by refreshments.

The new quarters provide complete medical and dental services, including a pharmacy and X-ray, as well as medical laboratories.

The two-story structure, designed by architect Abraham Shapiro A.I.A., contains 18,000 square feet of space. The building, of contemporary design, includes automatic elevators, air conditioning, acoustic ceilings with complete insulation, and vinyl flooring.

Ample off-street parking is provided adjacent to the structure. The builder-developer and owner is Harry K. Sindell.

In commenting on the new facility, Mayor Clawson said: "The Compton Medical Center represents a valuable addition to our City and affords the citizenry with modern, advanced medical features that are sorely needed. We look forward to seeing the Compton Medical Center grow with our community."

Story Going Rounds About Carl Rowan . . .

WASHINGTON — This story is being told about Carl Rowan of Minneapolis when he moved his family to Washington to take up his post with the State Department.

He bought a house in northwest Washington, but for the first few weeks wasn't able to spend much time there because he was busy working Saturdays and Sundays on his new job.

Finally he had a day off and went out to his new home to get at some pressing chores.

He was mowing the lawn when a next door neighbor spied him.

"Say, boy, how much do you charge to mow the lawn?" she asked.

"I don't have a cash price," Carl politely replied, "but I mow this lawn because the lady who lives here lets me sleep with her at night."

Young Worker Falls 125 Feet, Sustains Only Broken Back

When a man is facing what he believes is sure death he does not, as popular belief holds, always see a fast flashback of his life before the final moment.

"There's no flashback on your life—no time for it."

These were the words of George Brooks as he lay recovering from a broken back in Memorial Hospital in Long Beach this week.

Brooks sustained his back injury when he fell 125 feet inside an industrial chimney in Wilmington a few days ago.

The 48-year-old chimney worker said he quickly put his trust in God as he fell. He did not lose consciousness when he hit bottom, and was waiting on his feet, but with a broken back, when firemen finally reached him and brought him out.

Maurice Horwitz, former military intelligence instructor in Russian languages, will be the teacher. Vocabulary, grammar and conversation will be stressed in the course.

People deciding to study this language, should have some background in another foreign language, or a background in English grammar.

To assure a seat in the class, early registration is suggested.

NAACP Head Ed Warren is Found Guilty

Edward D. Warren, president of the local chapter of the NAACP, was found guilty a second time last Thursday of interfering with officers in the performance of their duty.

Warren had objected to the manner in which Officers Sam Hunter and L. J. Gatlin were handling an intoxicated woman they were tossing into the paddy wagon last June 3 at the corner of Santa Barbara and Central avenues.

The NAACP president was convicted by a jury in Judge Kenneth L. Holaday's court.

He had previously been convicted about a month ago on the interference charge and on another charge of refusing to obey police officers.

Judge Vernon W. Hunt let the refusal-to-obey conviction stand but granted a new trial on the interference charge on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Warren must appear before Judge Hunt Sept. 12 for sentencing and before Judge Holaday Oct. 4.

NEW PRINCIPAL — Mrs. Dorothy V. Johnson, who for 11 years has been associated with the Garden Gate High School, has been named principal of the school, starting with the fall term.

Dorothy Johnson Made Principal at Garden Grove

With the opening of school, Mrs. Dorothy V. Johnson assumes new duties as principal of Gardena Gate High School, which is a six-year Adjustment Center School for Girls, at 935 E. 42nd place.

Mrs. Johnson has been employed at the school for the past 11 years as the school psychometrist, coordinator and counselor, and also acted as vice-principal.

At present the school is being enlarged to accommodate more students, which made her appointment possible by the L. A. Board of Education. In the past the school has been under the principalship of Carver Junior High School.

Mrs. Johnson has a BA and MA degree from USC and holds state credentials for school psychometrist, pupil personnel and secondary administration.

She is an ardent civic worker, is the founder and has been the president for 22 years of the League of Allied Arts, which is devoted to the cause of promoting and sponsoring all phases of the arts in the community.

She is a third generation Los Angeleno and is married to Atty. Ivan J. Johnson, III.

Court Bans School Closing By La. Parish

NEW ORLEANS — A three-judge federal court last Wednesday told the State of Louisiana that it cannot close schools to avoid integration.

The closing law was one of a batch of legislative acts passed hastily and bitterly during a special 1961 session of the legislature, all designed to prevent Negroes from attending "white" schools.

UNANIMOUS

"This is not the moment in history for a state to experiment with ignorance," said the unanimous opinion written by Judge John Minor Wisdom of the U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, Judge J. Skelly Wright and Judge Herbert W. Christenberry.

"When it does," the opinion continued, "it must expect close scrutiny of the experiment."

On an action filed by Negroes against the proposed closing of schools in St. Helena Parish (county), the court ruled that the "local option" law is a violation of the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment on two counts:

TRANSPARENT

1—"It is a transparent artifice to deprive the (Negro) plaintiffs of their constitutional right to attend desegrated public schools," and

2—Since the state provides public schools in other parishes, closing the schools in St. Helena would discriminate against the children in that parish, regardless of race."

Parish voters last April overwhelmingly voted in a special referendum to close the schools rather than submit to the desegregation ordered by Judge Wright.

Police Dampen Rites of Former King of Zulus

NEW ORLEANS — Noel "Snook" White, 56, one-time King of the Zulu Club, died in the Charity Hospital here Aug. 20.

He was given a tremendous three-band funeral, but police broke up the "second line" activity, including peppy music, prancing, dancing, skipping and abandoned cavorting "on the way back."

The swaying crowds that had taken over Bienville street were dispersed by police who said no permit had been obtained for a parade.

Death Try for Love

A suicide note was found beside Martin M. Brown, 28, of 972 E. 43rd place, last Thursday when he was discovered unconscious on the floor of his home. An empty aspirin bottle was also at his side.

He is under treatment at the hospital.

The note said, "You don't have to worry any more." He told police he wanted to die because of a lost love.

NEW ORLEANS POLICE ROUGH — Freedom Rider John Dolan, right, points to scalp wound of George Blevins, left, and bruises on Frank Nelson's back caused by beatings while in custody of New Orelans' police. The three CORE members were planning to return to Jackson, Miss. for arraignment when they were arrested.

'Rider' Tells Kennedy Of Mississippi Beating

George Blevins, 21-year-old art student, of 1548 Cerro Gordo street, Freedom Rider who left Los Angeles for Jackson, Miss., last June 21, has submitted to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy a report of brutal treatment to which he was subjected by police officers in New Orleans.

He and two other white Riders were arrested Aug. 12 for "vagrancy" when they were found visiting a Negro home. They were set upon by another prisoner in the paddy wagon and then, when they arrived at the police station, were clubbed, beaten on the head with blackjacks, kicked, threatened and cursed by the officers, Blevins claimed.

SCALP WOUND

Blevins received a cut on the scalp that necessitated four stitches.

After being manhandled by the officers, the three were rebooked on charges of simple assault, aggravated assault and attempted escape. Blevins says none of them used violence at any time.

Blevins, in a signed affidavit to the attorney general, said that one of the officers told Frank Nelson, one of those arrested along with Blevins, "that he had learned some good tricks from the Germans to use on people like us, that New Orleans needed an Adolph Eichmann and that he (Frank) had 24 hours to get out of town after he was released or he would 'blow his head off.'"

TORE WOUND OPEN

Blevins said the officer told him that "the same thing went for me."

The policeman saw blood on Blevins' shirt and asked him where it came from.

"I replied," said Blevins, "that I had a cut on the back of my head and he told me to let him see it. He grabbed me by the hair of my head and, as he felt around, managed to get his fingertips into the wound and tore it open. He then left me alone."

Blevins was a member of the group of Freedom Riders who were arrested in Jackson, Miss., June 25. He was released Aug. 8 and went to New Orleans where he was awaiting return to Jackson for arraignment.

BELLIGERENT

In his affidavit, Blevins said that the other prisoner in the paddy wagon, a man named Jimeney, had been arrested for assaulting a Negro. When he learned that the three white men were Freedom Riders, he "became more and more belligerent."

"He began asking us repeatedly if we were 'trying to start something.' I answered that we were committed to non-violence as members of CORE . . . It later occurred to me that this was something short of a brilliant statement to make in a situation like that. It certainly didn't seem to discourage him any.

"As the wagon pulled to a stop at its destination, he rose from his seat and began swinging his fists at the three of us. . .

SURPRISE BLOWS

"The police began unlocking the door and Jimeney, hearing this, grabbed hold of John's

Driver Robbed By Uninvited Stoplight Hitch

Driving a car late at night without locking the car door on the right side, proved costly for Cosmo Jordan, 35, of 1430 S. Wright street last Saturday.

He told police that when he stopped for a red light at Jefferson blvd. and Western avenue, at approximately 1:30 a.m., a man jerked open the door and jumped in the seat beside him, jabbed a knife in his ribs and ordered him to drive on. The man appeared to be about 35 and sported a heavy black mustache, Jordan said.

Several blocks later Jordan said he was forced to stop the car and get into a parked car which held several men. They drove him to Fourth avenue and robbed him of his wallet, ring and wrist watch. Near Adams blvd. they forced him out of the car and drove away west on Adams, Jordan said.

Skinner Gets Hamerman's Position at Jeff

The local community lost the active participation of one of its most respected friends this week when Sam Hamerman, for many years prinoipal at Jefferson High School, was transferred as principal to Hollywood High School.

Taking Hamerman's place is Donald O'Dell Skinner, who comes to Jefferson from Fairfax High School, where he also served as principal.

A native of Montana, the 45-year-old Skinner was educated in Los Angeles schools, attending Washington High and graduating from Manual Arts. He received his bachelor's and his master's degree in education from USC.

He joined the L.A. school system in 1938 as a physical education teacher at Wilson and has since held posts as life science teadher and track team coach, social studies teacher, registrar, boys' vice principal and principal.

In addition to Fairfax and Wilson, Skinner has served at San Pedro High, Gompers and Eagle Rock.

During World War II he was absent from the school system on leave.

Mixed Memphis Audience Greets Ray Charles

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — There was no segregation among the 3000, about equally divided between Negro and white, who attended the Ray Charles Jazz Concert at the City Auditorium here last Sunday night.

Police swarmed all over the place, but there were no incidents nor even a hint of an incident, so they had nothing to do.

During recent months, seating arrangements at the municipally owned hall have been left to the promoter. Most promoters, however, still maintain segregation.

Senate Votes Extension for Rights Group

WASHINGTON — The Senate last Wednesday voted to extend the Civil Rights Commission for two years after rejecting several far-reaching civil rights amendments.

The measure, prolonging the life of the group until Nov. 9, 1963, was attached as a rider to an appropriation bill for the State and Justice Departments.

The extension was the only civil rights legislation asked of Congress by Pres. Kennedy.

FBI Arrests Seven Charged In Bus Burning

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Seven of nine white men indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of burning a bus containing Freedom Riders near Anniston, Ala., last May 14 were arrested by FBI agents Friday.

Tires of the bus were slashed as it left the Anniston depot. It was followed by a caravan of cars that surrounded it when the tires blew out.

HURLED BOMB

Members of the mob waited at the door for their victims to emerge after they had thrown incendiary bombs into the bus. Several of the Riders were severely beaten with chains and other weapons as they left the smoke-filled bus, gasping for breath.

That was the first major instance of violence against the Freedom Riders, sponsored by CORE, who left Washington, D.C. for New Orleans to test segregation in interstate travel.

The grand jury returned the indictment Thursday, charging the nine with conspiracy to violate laws involving persons traveling in interstate commerce.

SEVEN ARRAIGNED

Seven of the nine were arraigned at Anniston Friday. They are:

Kenneth L. Adams, 41; Frank B. Johnson, 42, Jerome Byron Couch, 25; Jerry Willingham, 23; William O. Chappell, 40; Jerry Ronald Eason, 23, and Frank Tolbert, 54. All are from Anniston except Couch, who lives in Munford, Ala.

U. S. Commissioner Ruby Price Robinson said $5,000 bond was set for each man and that Eason, Johnson and Willingham posted bond.

The other two indicted are Roger Dale Couch, 19, Anniston, presently in jail there on a burglary count, and Cecil Lamar Lewallyn, 22, Anniston, in a hospital as a result of an automobile accident Aug. 13.

Our 1923 Plan Needs Revision

When the City Charter provided for fifteen councilmen for Los Angeles back in 1923 the population was about 680,000. Each councilman represented some 45,000 residents.

Today Los Angeles' population is about 2,500,000 and each councilman is expected to represent approximately 180,000 residents.

The increase in population has increased the complexities of city government. It would be more difficult for a councilman to give adequate attention to the legitimate demands of 45,000 residents today than it was in 1923. Yet he is expected to represent four times that number.

Plainly, the number of councilmen needs to be expanded if city government is expected to remain representative.

There is, of course, a point at which a city council becomes unwieldy. It seems to us that an increase in the number of councilmen to twenty-five is indicated.

Such an increase would not only reduce the number of constituents a councilman would have to represent but would also provide a plan under which all of the disparate elements of the city's population could have representation geared to their particular needs.

As Don Allen, assemblyman and former city councilman, points out in a brochure on the subject, a change in the number of councilmen can be made only by an amendment to City Charter. Such an amendment can be placed on the ballot in two ways: City Council can order it done or the initiative process can be used.

One or the other method should be undertaken immediately so that the change can be voted on next year. We believe that the proposal would command a majority.

The fast growing San Fernando Valley wants more representation; the South Central area of the city needs a change and must have it or be squeezed out of city hall representation.

The citizens committee which is justly disturbed over the Hollingsworth appointment has agreed to make an increase in council representation one of its objectives.

We hope that the plan will be pursued vigorously and that Los Angeles will bring the 1923 Charter provisions up to date. We don't drive 1923 automobiles and we can't conduct municipal affairs on a plan that was adequate for its own day and that is hopelessly outmoded in 1961.

Californians and Civil Rights

California's senators went right down the line for civil rights legislation last week.

Republican Thomas Kuchel and Democrat Clair Engle voted a series of measures that would have extended the life of the Civil Rights commission indefinitely and would have given the attorney general the right to institute suits for civil rights and authorized appropriations to assist states in desegregating schools. All were defeated. Of course, they voted to extend the Civil Rights commission for two years when its indefinite extension was defeated.

As usual, Congressman Gordon L. McDonough led California Republican congressmen in opposition to federal aid to education and in voting against appropriations to the states to assist them in the fight against juvenile delinquency. California's Republican congressmen are as consistent in their wrong votes as its Republican senator, Kuchel, is in his right votes.

Negro voters are fortunate in having two senators with a clear vision of civil rights and decidedly unfortunate in having Republican congressmen with 19th Century viewpoints.

Bad Fix of Its Own Choosing

The Administration fell flat on its face last week when it tried to hitch a bill extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission to an appropriation measure.

The experience should drive home the lesson that its whole legislative approach to the civil rights problem was a mistake.

President Kennedy's advisors persuaded him that if he presented the civil rights program promised by him and in his party platform the South would rise up in revolt and he would lose all of his legislative proposals.

As of the moment, the Administration's legislative program is pretty much of a shambles. The president hasn't been able to get his aid to education, his medical care or his foreign aid bills through Congress. Chances are that he won't be able to do so.

The reason is that the southern Democrats have sabotaged the Kennedy program. They are going to continue to do so. The tragedy is that he put any dependence on the promise that if he would soft pedal civil rights he could expect southern help in other sectors.

Frankly, we don't know what the Administration proposes to do about extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission. What we do know is that it is in a bad fix of its own making.

The Mountain Births a Mouse

The mountain that labored and brought forth a mouse has a blood brother in the Senate committee that presented its proposal to curb filibustering last week.

The Committee proposes to change the rule now requiring a two thirds vote to curb debate to make it require only a three fifths vote. Where 67 senators are now necessary 60 would be required under the proposed change of rules.

Chances that the Senate will approve the miniscule change aren't very bright. It is moving toward adjournment and it is easy enough to bury a measure of this kind in the hustle and bustle of getting away from Washington.

The time to have made the change, as we observed at the time, was when the Senate convened after the election. That proposal was vetoed by Democratic leaders with the evasive promise that something would be done later in the session.

Well, it's later in the session and unless all signs fail there won't be any change this year.

Old Jim Crow Dies Hard

Every time we get to thinking that discrimination has just about disappeared in our northern and western states something crops up to shake our faith and remind us how far we still have to go.

Recently a Colorado judge, who happens to be a Negro, was ordered out of a golf tournament in his state because the club to which he belongs isn't affiliated with the amateur golf association in his state. His club is out in the cold because it has been refused membership on the basis of race.

We know the heavens won't fall just because a judge has been denied the right to knock a pesky ball around a golf course but the incident is important because it highlights the persistence of racial discrimination.

No Negro, high or low, can be free in America, north or south, until all discriminations based on race are eliminated in every phase of our lives.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

ROME — Can you imagine spending five days in Athens, with only three of those days filled up with engagements, and not seeing one single place of historic interest — except in passing at a distance! Well, I can because that's exactly what I did, and I'm going on to lengthen the no-look-no-see record by adding to it 24 hours in Rome.

The reason is simple; a bug bit me—a nasty, treacherous Greek virus that caught me (maybe it was a Lebanese bug, at that, which climbed aboard me in Beirut), sent me into violently recurrent chills and fevers at a dinner party given for me. My hosts took pity on me, sent me home with friends, back to the Grande Bretagne and my ducky white hard-as-a-board bed, and cancelled engagements next day.

GRANGER

The hotel physician called on me and sent up some medicine that did precisely nothing. Early in the evening I wobbled out to try to find coricidin, or empirin or something familiar.

WITH FRENCH ACCENT

Coricidin, ha! Try finding it in pharmacies where the signs say "English spoken," but where promise outreaches performance. So I tried saying empirin and coricidin with a French accept. They probably thought I was springing Swahili on them. At any rate, nothing but aspirin. Next day I teetered out to the offices of the Ministers of Welfare and of Information and the President of the Commission on Tourism. Then back to bed.

The fourth day went much the same way, except that I was kidnapped by the Minister of Commerce, who instead of taking me to lunch at my hotel, as I understood would be the case, drove me far to the beach suburbs, where we sat faeing the diamond-glinted blue of the Mediterranean, selected the fish brought for our choice by the manager, and later devoured its deliciously-grilled entirety. Wow!

BUT NO QUEEN

Then, that evening, toward sundown, I was driven up to the top of Mount Parnes, 4000 feet above Athens, where I had "high tea" (I'd call it a big lunch or a moderate dinner!) with two directors of the Queen's Welfare Fund. The idea was to make sure that if the International Conference of Social Work does accept Athens' invitation to hold the 1964 Conference there Her Majesty will be honorary chairman of the host committee.

The ladies were as charming as could be, and one of them, in her seventies, was cuter than any of the younger competition I've met on this trip, but still I was ungracious enough to be slightly unhappy.

For they were there, representing the Queen, and I had hoped to be at Corfu, being presented to the Queen. I've never met one —only a duchess and a princess and such-like — and they do say (and her pictures confirm it) that she is the most beautiful of the crowned heads in Europe. Ah, well, 'twas a pleasant thought while it lasted!

COMPENSATIONS

So I didn't see the Acropolis by moonlight, though there was a perfect full moon my last night in town. I did have dinner twice in a garden filled with moonglow. I did look down on Athens and watch the shadows creep across the countryside, from the vantage-point of a rugged mountain. I did sample the Greek wine and found it superior to Chianti.

I did meet friends who were utterly charming, who were as well informed on American conditions as the British, but who never allowed their questions and criticisms to degenerate into nasty recrimination. For five days I moved about as a guest whose skin color was occasion for neither startled comment nor overprofusine pleasantries.

So I really didn't miss the Acropolis and its companion wonders. They will still be there when I return, unless there's an A-bomb blast—in which case I probably won't be here either. And I did learn a great deal about a beautiful land I had never seen before.

NAACP Urges Boycott Of Bev-Hilton, Statler

Negroes of Los Angeles were urged this week to stop staging affairs at the Beverly Hilton and Statler-Hilton hotels until the management of the two hostelries begin hiring Negro waiters on a permanent basis.

The demand was made by the local branch of the NAACP, through its labor and industry committee.

REFUSE MEET

The two hotels, charged the NAACP, refused to meet with officials of the NAACP who had earlier sought to get them to hire Negro waiters permanently. The NAACP had alleged, after serious investigation, that the Beverly and Statler had joined with Local 17, culinary workers' union, to hire Negro waiters only on an extra basis when Negro groups were staging affairs in the spots. Or when white groups specified they wanted Negro waiters.

At all other times, however, the hostelries hired white and Mexican and Oriental waiters, on extra and permament basis. The NAACP charged the hotels with flagrant disregard for the Negro organizations and individuals "who spend thousands of dollars annually with these establishments."

UNION ACCUSED

The NAACP also urged Negroes to write, phone or wire these hotels and tell them of their feelings about the matter of racial hiring.

The union, it was claimed, worked against the interests of Negro waiters who must pay it dues. It was felt that the union itself should aid in bringing about more equitable and non-Jim Crow hiring in the hotels serviced by the union.

Also listed as serious offenders were the Ambassador Hotel, the Biltmore, Ciro's and the Beverly Hills hotel.

Chance Shot

Short, had been fired.

DENIES ROBBERY

Two hours after arresting Thornton, officers took Saul Matthews, 19, of 11313 Compotn avenue, into custody. He denied having any part in the beauty shop robbery.

Short, a part-owner of the shop and a former paratrooper, was shot in the chest when one of the thugs who entered the salon at Saturday's closing time and demanded money leveled a sawed-off rifle at him and pulled the trigger.

The gunman seemed to have been riled when Short turned over his wallet containinf some $90, but failed to hand him some loose change that was in his pocket.

Also arrested, after Matthews said he bought the sawed-off rifle from a man named "Pete," was Paul Peter Navarre, 8828½ S. Bandera street, who said he knew nothing about robberies or murder.

Taken into custody along with Navarre were Bobby Joe Toliver, who was hiding in the closet at the Bandera street address, and Dorothy Lewis.

When officers searched the apartment they found 200 Red Devils, which Miss Lewis said belonged to her. She tried to flee, but was captured.

Also arrested on suspicion of murder was Navarre's brother, Charles J. Navarre Jr., 30, of 1354 E. 111th street, who witnesses said resembled the man who shot Short at the beauty salon on Aug. 12.

Navarre Jr. denied any knowledge of the crime. He said his brother Pete had a sawed-off rifle but that he "never fooled with it."

CORE Offers Help in Banning Housing Bias

The Congress of Racial Equality, with offices at 1115 W. Venice blvd., has inaugurated a program designed to open up restricted apartments and houses, all over Los Angeles, to everyone regardless of race, religion or national background.

All persons who have been denied accommodations because the seller of the house explains, "We can't sell to Negroes," are asked to contact CORE. If the "For Rent" sign of the house desired is still displayed and the manager explains there is nothing available, call HO 9-4444 or RE 1-8152 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. any week day.

Pickets Protest Over Omission of Negroes

cession and unfurled a banner saying, "Let's Honor the Negro Founders, Too."

Police told her they would ticket her for jaywalking if she did not leave the parade.

Acting-Mayor Edward Roybal, in making his speech before the gathering of several thousand persons, made no mention of the racial makeup of the city's founders when in his carefully phrased talk he praised the actual founding of the city. Nor did he seem to see the line of pickets carrying signs near the program platform.

In the parade that preceded the program, an oxcart was drawn through the streets. The oxcart, supposedly bearing impersonations of the original settlers, carried instead whites and Mexicans in Spanish costumes.

REENACTMENT DENIED

It had been said, up until 15 minutes before the parade started, that the oxcart would not be used. In fact, it had been said by the Birthday Committee earlier that no reenactment would be held. Only a program in the Plaza was to take place. Who sanctioned the re-enactment parade was in doubt.

When the parade began, a Negro woman, Mrs. Dorothy Crudup, of 3937 Hobart Blvd., joined the procession. Some members of the parade ran to white police officers standing nearby and asked that the woman be evicted.

The white officers approached a Negro patrolman standing near and said a few words to him. Then the Negro officer told Mrs. Crudup to get out of the parade if she did not have a parading permit.

PICKETS

When the woman tried to explain, the officer told her she would be ticketed for jaywalking if she did not leave the procession. She left, and joined the CORE picket line at the Plaza.

The picket line drew strong and loud words of protest from whites and Mexicans attending the celebration. Cries of "Go to Russia!" were heard. A white police officer standing nearby told a Negro bystander, "This is outrageous. Just when our country is in a state of crisis and needs unity these people have to do something like this." Mexicans yelled words like: "Lies! Lies! There were no Negroes around here at that time. There were no Negroes in Mexico until the Spanish came!"

'WE DON'T BOTHER YOU'

When someone explained to one Mexican that the Mexicans themselves did not come about until the Spanish came and mated with Indians and with imported African laborers, the man screamed, "Lies! You people should not come down here in our section and bother us. We don't go up around Central Avenue and bother you!"

One observer laid part of the blame for heated feelings on the daily newspapers which, in conniving cooperation with the Birthday Committee, deliberately "wrote Negroes out of the history of the founding of the city."

FOUNDERS LISTED

Historical records on display in the city's public library distinctly listed the founders of the City of Los Angeles as 26 Negro-lineaged settlers, 16 Indians and two whites.

In a leaflet given away at the Plaza by the Committee for Educational Truth, it was pointed out that "the overwhelming majority of the original founders of Los Angeles were Negroes. But today, and for generations past, every effort has been made to obliterate and destroy the record of this great accomplishment."

Jail Muslins

lence when they feel their rights are being curtailed.

GUARD FLOORED

Pandemonium broke out, and Muslims showered on the two guards from all directions, the guards told police. When police cars from the Wilshire precinct arrived the officers found Prendergast on the ground, trying to dodge the fists and feet of enraged Muslimic cultists. He was trying vainly to draw his gun.

Marsh was pinned against a wall, unable to move.

The guards suffered only minor abrasions.

SIX ARRESTED

The Muslims scattered, but police were able to arrest six. The two white guards insisted "there must have been between 15 or 20 of them."

The six men taken into custody were identified by their non-religious names as Raymond Phillips, 22, of 1516 W. Adams blvd., Donald J. Caffey, 22, of 3115 S. Raymond ave., Fred F. Perkins, 47, of 1820 S. St. Andrews pl., William L. Orr, 19, of 9303 Juniper st., Wade Morris, 25, of 1020½ E. Vernon ave., and Louis L. Faison, 24, of 2400 S. Gramercy pl.

Perkins denied being a Muslim, admitting only that he had joined in the fight "on general principles."

'PUSHED AROUND'

The 'general principles" were set forth differently by Caffey, who had first given his name as Five X, his Muslim name. Caffey said he and the other members began fighting when they resisted being "pushed around" by the two white guards.

Police said other markets have also reported complaints from customers who say they are accosted by Muhammad converts selling Muslim literature.

The men were all booked on suspicion of assault and disturbing the peace.

Baptists Ask Court to Rule On Convention

cepting the free accommodations generally accorded church groups.

Taylor backers claimed the commercial transaction gives Dr. Jackson control over determining who shall, or who shall not, participate in the deliberations.

REGISTRATION

As of Tuesday, Dr. Jackson's adherents were registering at the auditorium.

Dr. Taylor's faction had sent a delegation to Dr. Jackson's hotel to wait on him in another, last minute, effort to seek a compromise so that the conference can proceed on schedule.

Dr. Taylor, for some months, has been suggesting a "neutral" presiding officer, but Dr. Jackson has repeatedly refused to consider that proposal.

Dr. Taylor's executive board was meeting Tuesday in the Paseo Baptist Church of the Rev. Daniel A. Holmes, one of the largest churches in the city.

TALLY BY STATES

After that meeting, the Taylor adherents planned to go to the auditorium en masse, to demand that their registrations be recorded and their delegates be given equal rights with members of the Jackson group.

About the only thing the two segments of the 5,000,000 member organization seemed agreed upon was that if and when the conference gets around to voting for incoming officers, the tallies should be recorded by states. That was one of the disputed points in last year's election. Jackson was "elected" by voice vote after which many of his supporters left the hall. When the vote by states was finally taken, Taylor "won" by an overwhelming majority.

As against the maneuvering, jockeying for position and caucusing of the members of the two factions, the majority of the delegates, on-the-spot reports state, just want the show to get on the road, with the assurance that the voting will be honest and above-board; so that the best man will win and peace will descend once more on the national connection.

Loren Miller says . . .

SPORTING OFFER

I really can't afford it but I want to make a sort of a sporting proposition to Greyhound Lines which protests that it has no Negro drivers because no qualified Negroes have applied. What I will do is to pay for a classified ad in the daily and weekly newspapers to the effect that Greyhound will hire Negro bus drivers if Greyhound will agree to hire all needed competent drivers I dredge up through the ads. I don't want the company to vary training policies or anything of that sort. All I want it to do is to agree with me that it will hire the men I find on the basis of their qualifications and without reference to race.

I'm sure if we play this little game for any length of time you will see Negroes driving Greyhound buses. My optimism is based on the fact that Negroes have been in the driving business a good long time. Away back in the horse and buggy days, Negroes had quite a reputation as drivers of hacks and coaches-and-four. In fact, one of the badges of success was the employment of a Negro with top hat and tails to pilot the family carriage. Then the automobile came along and, sure enough, liveried Negro chauffeurs were all the rage. Their accident rate must have been low. They hung on to the jobs as long as chauffeurs were in style.

GOOD OLD DAYS

As an old hand in Los Angeles I can remember the time when the street railway companies in these parts didn't hire Negro bus drivers. They said that they couldn't find any qualified Negroes. My feet were in better shape in those days and I trudged along on a picket line for several hours trying to persuade the transportation company of the error of its ways. Nothing happened until the war came along and the company either had to hire Negroes or face the wrath of FDR's FEPC. All of a sudden, qualified Negroes popped up all over the place. Watch the next eleven MTA buses go by and you'll see that Negroes have been qualified as bus drivers ever since.

To give Greyhound lines its due, I am willing to concede that it hasn't been swamped with Negro applicants. There's a reason for that. A Negro driver has just so much energy and it's up to him to use that energy in a manner best calculated to find a job when he is seeking employment. He knows all about Greyhound's exclusionary practices and he isn't apt to waste time asking it for a job except as a matter of last resort. Then, too, it's a little humiliating to be denied a job solely on the basis of race even when the rejection is honey coated.

ONLY 73 MORE DAYS

That's where I come in. If Negro drivers see my ad saying that Greyhound is ready to employ drivers on a non-discriminatory basis they will apply in appreciable numbers. Some of the applicants won't fit Greyhound's specifications and I want the company to ease them out under the same procedures it employs when comparable whites knock on the door. There will be others just as competent to drive a bus from here to Salinas as any white driver who wears Greyhound's proud livery.

When you sift it all down, there's something ridiculous about the pretence that there are no Negro job seekers qualified to drive highway buses. As far as I can see nothing more is required than good road driving sense, a little training, and the ability to punch tickets. Anyhow, I'm willing to gamble the price of the advertisements that I am right. I won't insist on it but if I win I think it would be no more than fair that Greyhound refund the price of the ads. I could use the money; allowing for holidays there are only 73 more shopping days until Christmas.

Negroes to Seek Voice In Civic Rule

institute recall proceedings.

Reyolds said that the Council must place the recall election on the ballot if the signatures are obtained. He estimated that the election could be held some time next spring. Angry members of the audience pledged themselves to obtain the necessary signatures and, as one of them put it, explained that they are "tired of eating crumbs from the politicians' tables."

Other committee reports were submitted by Johnny Otis, Donald Derricks, Marvin Dymly, and Frank Terry. Atty. Loren Miller presided over the meeting.

Man 'Subdued' By N'Orleans Police, Dies

NEW ORLEANS—Twenty-one-year old Ezell Ward died in a Sixth District police station cell here Aug. 29 after arresting officers used force to "subdue" him.

Police claimed he tried to escape. Three hours after he was incarcerated, a guard found Ward unconscious.

Orleans Parish coroner was unable to give the cause of death until further tests were made.

Nine persons were arrested for picketing the police station and City Hall following Ward's death.

Catholics Tell Of Pledge for Full Integration

WASHINGTON, D. C.—So that more young people can get "good jobs", Americans are urged to practice at home the justice and democracy they preach abroad.

The speaker was Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington, during a solemn pontifical mass in the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception during the recent 46th annual convention of the Knights and Ladies of Peter Claver. This Catholic lay group has more than 13,000 members in 27 states.

Celebrant of the mass was Archbishop John Kodwo Amissah of Cape Coast, Ghana, who is on a goodwill tour of the United States.

The Washington prelate spoke of efforts to secure racial justice. He urged imitation of the spirit of St. Peter Claver, a 17th century Jesuit missionary at Cargagena, Colombia, who devoted his life to helping Negro slaves. "He taught them the love and mercy of God," he said.

"We speak out against those seeking to divide us from the total human membership in the Church of Christ. We decry essentially separate racial parishes, societies and separatism on a racial or national basis and pledge our efforts in correcting this condition."

The convention went on record to: Support the Freedom Riders "because they singly and dramatically express the deep feeling of resentment all true Americans express against racists and bigots."

It urged members of all religious faiths, particularly Catholics "to recognize the waste of manpower by the indifference demonstrated in denying equal job opportunities."

It called for a "fully integrated system of public education."

It pledged that Knights of Peter Claver would fully exercise their right to vote, and urged all Americans to become registered as voters, "particularly in those Southern areas where they have so long been denied the right of the ballot."

The group further subscribed "fully to the principle of equal housing without regard to race, religion, or previous condition of servitude."

The statement said in its conclusion: "We cannot in good conscience acquiesce to the maintenance of the status quo in race relations in the civic society or in our church . . . and we have a genuine concern for the conscience and souls of our coreligionists who ignore the doctrine of the Church. In the effort to solve the many trying racial problems which are before our Church, and before our country, we pledge our energies and our full and undivided strength of our patriotic leadership."

Pope John Peace Plea Set Sept. 10

CASTELGANDOLFO, Italy.—Pope John said Saturday the political situation at the moment threatens world peace.

The Pontiff, during a general audience at the summer Papal Palace, said "we are living now in a moment in which the peace of the world could be in danger if men do not listen to the thoughts of truth, justice and concord that comes only from God."

Pope John made the statement in explaining why he planned to hold a public mass for peace and to make a speech to Roman Catholics throughout the world calling for peace. The mass and the speech, to be transmitted by Vatican radio, will take place here Sept. 10.

Rosh Hashanah To be Observed By L.A. Jews

Faith in the moral and spiritual principles fostered by mankind "to vanquish oppressors standing in the way of peace, justice and freedom," was stressed by Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, president of the National Conference of Christian and Jews, in a message issued for Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, 5722.

"Contemporary world conflicts make this an apprehensive Rosh Hashanah," Dr. Jones declared. "Yet we take heart in the lessons of history. In other centuries, too, there have been New Years of fear and dread. Times without end, man has witnessed tyrants come, and tyrants vanish. Steadfast and enduring, however, have been the moral and spiritual principles fostered by mankind to vanquish oppressors standing in the way of peace, justice and freedom."

Elaborate plans for observance of the 10 day period of spiritual inventory among the Jews of this community will begin at sundown on Sept. 10, Rosh Hashanah, and conclude at sundown on Sept. 20 with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement.

Yom Kipper is the most solemn day which is celebrated by Jews in the religious calendar. It is dedicated to prayer, fasting and repentance. Music and prayers during Rosh Hashanah emphasize God's universal rule of the world and the brotherhood of man.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch--Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment wtih special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

EVANGELISM

At a recent church conference, Rev. Murph outlined his program for this Conference Year which was unanimously approved and adopted by the membership. The program outlined a concerted effort on the part of the membership to increase church and class meeting attendance.

An extensive program is now in progress. The financial support of the church was outlined, which included the finalization of efforts to erect a youth and educational building.

A building fund drive has been in progress during the past conference year, and it is the desire of the officers and members, under the leadership of Dr. Murph, to culminate these efforts with the building of this youth center.

'Tee Time'

— WITH —

Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

This week we are going to let you look through the crystal ball and read the history of the Vernoncrest Women's Golf Club.

We feel that some of our leaders (who insist on feeding dollars to Fox Hills in order to help them remain "public, private,") need to know that this organization has a background against integration that would turn the stomach of a Freedom Rider.

Fox Hills used to look like a "first class run down cow pasture" until the Negro clubs (led by Vernoncrest) started promoting their tournaments there. In fact, they spent so much money over the bar that two years later the management tore down all of the old buildings, built a new swank club house, accepted segregated clubs and opened up for business.

The Vernoncrest club is calling Fox Hills their home course but the truth is the caucasian club is the home club and they are donated two hours to play by Fox Hills to prove it. Vernon is just a group of weak women led by a strong one (their president) into believing these tales (that they have a home course). This club has a record of "kicking its members out when they wake up, become too smart or express a desire to integrate." Here is proof.

Seven years ago this club was thrown into confusion, split and sued by one of its members because some of the members did two things: they voted to go to Western Ave. and integrate (after Supervisor Kenneth Hahn had given the club to the Negro women asking that they integrate) and they voted to leave Fox.

When this happened three of the club officers, led by their president Mary Woodyard (who is still president), picked up the club records and left the meeting.

At the next meeting they called, they had prorated the money in the treasury and had checks ready to be signed. When a member threatened to sue if the checks were cashed the treasurer refused to sign them.

A motion was made to drop the treasurer's membership; cards were sent through the mail stating that this officer was on trial. But when the officer (treasurer) arrived for the trial, she had her attorney (Walter Gordon) with her. She was not voted out because half of the members ran from the meeting.

At the next meeting the president instantly installed another treasurer (ignoring the legal treasurer), had her sign the checks, and members cashed them.

Just as she had promised, Bessie Garcia sued the Vernondale Club. The club then broke up and half of the members went to Western to fight for integration. The other half (led by Mary Woodyard) attempted to reorganize but rather than go to court "to tell it to the judge" they compromised and dropped the name Vernondale changing it to Vernoncrest.

To be sure that no member would also join an integrated club, they passed a motion that no member could belong to two golf clubs. When two Vernoncrest members protested (Martha Clisby and Ethel Bryant) they were told to take their choice. They chose to remain at Western to fight and they have had the pleasure of becoming two of the first Negro members integrated into the Sepulveda (Caucasian) Women's Golf Club.

SHORT LIVED — Compton Dons baseball team, winners of the California State Championship, at Porterville, travelled to Tacoma, Wash. for the Western Regional ABC Tournament last week and wasn't successful, dropping two games 10 to 9 and 9 to 2. The defeats eliminated them from the National Tourney at Battle Creek. Shown prior to leaving for Tacoma the team was guest of the Board of Supervisors. First row kneeling, George Braggs, Richard Corenson, sponsor of the team; Curtis Mitchell, Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, Walter Jones, George McQuarn and Robert Bledsoe. Rear row: Saul Romey, Lonnie Wilson, Bill Pope, Wilbert Harris, Al Manter, Willie Mathis, Cleveland Payton and team coach John Rochelle.

Angels Slate Prize Day for Final Games

The Los Angeles Angels will have a mammoth "Prize Day" on the final day of their season in the American League Sunday, Oct. 1, when they close out the campaign against the Cleveland Indians.

The Angels will give away many prizes to fortunate fans immediately following the final game of the season. Starting on Friday, Sept. 22, when the Angels open their last home stand against the Detroit Tigers, fans will be able to get free "Prize Day" coupons outside of Wrigley Field prior to any Angel home game on the last stand, Sept. 22-Oct. 1.

The main prize will be a brand new Chevrolet Lakewood station wagon from Central Chevrolet. This car has been on display at Wrigley Field for most of the season.

Other valuable prizes will be announced within the next several weeks.

Bert Piggott, former University of Illinois and Rose Bowl football star and now head coach of the powerful A&T College Aggies in Greensboro, N.C., is eyeing his third CIAA football championship.

Piggott is in a position to know what the 1961 season will bring forth during his four years as head football coach at A&T, he has won two CIAA championships and missed in the other two years by only one game.

With 17 lettermen expected and some freshmen standouts joining the Aggies, and with a little luck the Piggott squad is expected to go all the way, so says the head man. The 1961 squad will start off with the best backfield combination in the college's history.

They say the quarterback post is in solid hands with two Tidewater, Va., boys, Jim Mitchell, 6-2, 185- pound junior from Newport News, Va., and Cornell Gordon, 6 foot, 172-pound spohomore from Norfolk, in addition to Willie Ferguson, 6-1, 174-pound sophomore from Waycross, Ga.

In addition, Piggott is counting on such standouts as Joe Taylor, 193-pound junior, and Gene Cambridge, 165-pound speedster, both from Miami, Fla.; Bateman Jones, 179 senior from Beaufort, N.C.; Dick Westmoreland, Harvey Keaton and Ronald Hart.

The brunt of fullback duties will be handled by Augustus Lee, a 206 pound sophomore from Washington, D.C. Among the returning lettermen who earned letters last season are: Paul Thompson, Wylie Harris, Horace Williams, William Dixon, Joe Henderson, Carl Stanford, George Mc Dowell, John Brooks and Robert Urquhart.

The Aggies will get their first test against the Quantico Marines at Quantico, Va., on Saturday, Sept. 16.

Battling Torres Headlines Boxing Card at Olympic

Raymundo (Battling) Torres, one a top contender for the lightweight title, tops tonight's Thursday, right card at the Olympic Auditorium.

The 20-year-old Torres makes his first Southland showing in over a year, facing tough Ray Riojas of Orange in a 10-rounder that will not be televised.

Torres, now campaigning as a welterweight, still owns an imposing record. He has 38 wins against three losses and this includes 31 kayoes to his credit. The three setbacks were all knockouts — by Joe Brown, Carlos Ortiz and Cisco Andrade.

Since resuming his career this year, the battler has chalked up five straight knockouts in Mexico rings.

Riojas is unbeaten in the last two years. He scored a sensational knockout over Benny (the Bandit) Medina in his his last appearance at the Olympic.

A former Ft. Worth, Texas amateur star, Riojas now lives in Orange. He has a 35-14-1 slate. Prior to the Medina tussle, Ray halted Jimmy Hornsby and Timmie Jefferson at the Olympic.

Both boxers are training at the Main Street gym. Torres works at 1 p.m., while Riojas toils at 5 p.m.

Regular prices will prevail Thursday and there will be a special discount on reserved seats for the ladies.

Pepperdine College Site For Lakers Training Camp

The Los Angeles Lakers this week were ready to start the second season of Major League basketball in the Southland with the announcement that they had completed plans for their training camp at Pepperdine College, the same spot they worked last year.

The sessions will get under way with a press, radio, TV and photo session at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 19, and the strenuous work sessions will begin the next day the 20th.

Coach Fred Schaus will put his charges through closed two-a-day workouts, in the afternoon at 2 p.m. and in the evenings at 8 p.m.

Said General Manager Lou Mohs in making the announcement of the camp, "Through Coach Duck Dowell, the people at Pepperdine College have been as kind as it would be possible to be to the Lakers. We are very happy to return to this congenial atmosphere for our training sessions."

The Lakers will take one of the smallest squads, numerically, in the NBA to camp this season. Every man who participated in the Western Division playoffs last season, with the exception of Bob Leonard, who was drafted by the new Chicago Packers, will report to camp. In addition to the nine returnees, four rookies will comprise the 13-man squad. The latter are Wayne Yates, first draft choice of the Lakers; Bobby Smith from West Virginia, who spent 10 games with the Lakers two years ago; and the two Pepperdine rookies, Bobby Sims and Sterling Forbes. The latter two are returning from last year's training sessions where they were two of the outstanding men Schaus looked at.

The local basketeers will for for 10 days, after which time they begin an exhibition slate, still to be completed, which will include games with the Boston Celtics, the Philadelphia Warriors and the new Chicago team.

The Laker home schedule opens Friday night, Oct. 27, against the Detroit Pistons.

Huskies Open Football Drills

With high hopes for a big improvement over last year's 5-4 record, East Los Angeles College started grid drills for the 1961 season last Friday. Some 75 candidates reported.

Coach Clyde Johnson, former Kentucky All-American and ex-L.A. Ram tackle, is starting his eleventh season as head coach at ELA. Johnson will be assisted by Bill Thompson, "Ching" Duhm and Phil Johnson.

The Huskies open the season agaist Los Angeles City College there on Friday, Sept. 22. ELA's home opener is set one week later in the huge 22,000 seat East Los Angeles College stadium with Pasadena City College supplying the competition.

On Saturday, Oct. 7, the Huskies play their first Metropolitan Conference game meeting defending conference and Junior Rose Bowl champion, Long Beach City College at Long Beach.

Wins Starting Berth in Drills

Barring injuries, the USC Trojans should be able to hold their own this season. Last Thursday USC's footballers donned their suits for press photographers and Willie Brown, one of the most honored football players in Southland history, ran at right halfback on the first team.

The 170-lb. CIF player-of-year in 1959 and offensive star with USC frosh last year teamed with four juniors and six seniors.

The squad averages 183 pounds in the backfield and 207 in the line. A two day a week drill will continue until Sept. 18.

Jim Bates, ranked as one of the fastest men in collegiate football and a tremendous player on the 1960 squad, was given the starting assignment by Coach John McKay.

Lloyd Winston, former national All-Junior College first team choice and who sat out the 1960 season, appears headed for his best season at the fullback spot. He has speed enough to be dangerous on both the inside and outside offensively.

Blades Sign Two

Wally Hergessheimer, former New York Ranger right wing, and Bill Burega, onetime Toronto Maple Leaf defenseman, have been acquired by the L. A. Blades' hockey Club.

The Blades open their 35-game schedule at the Sports Arena against Portland Oct. 13-14.

49ers Shotgunned Way to 38-20 Win Over L.A. Rams

The S.F. 49ers with Wild Bill Kilmer, the ex-UCLA slingshot kid pitching and running, just might lead the Bay Area club to its first title in the National Football League.

Kilmer, operating like a veteran, ran for 67 yeards and hurled for 100 as the 49ers outfought and outclassed the Rams 38 to 20 in last Friday's exhibition game.

Julian W. Ross Directors Board Dedicates New 24-Unit Building

To celebrate the fourth anniversary of the establishment of the Julian W. Ross Medical Center last Sunday, the Board of Directors and members of the staff invited some five hundred guests, to the dedication of their newest building, the Ross Manor, a beautiful $400,000 deluxe apartment building.

The 24-unit structure is located directly behind the Medical Center on S. Oxford avenue.

The building is symbolic of the keen interest of this group in attempting to meet the health and welfare needs of the growing community. Several substandard houses were removed to be replaced by this new and modern dwelling place. This was made possible by the support given to the Medical Center by members of the community during the past four years.

Sunday's dedication represented another goal reached by the hard working Board of Directors in their contributions to civic betterment and racial advancement.

Dr. Leroy Weekes, Board of Directors president, serves with dignity and honor and is one of California's pioneers of ideas to enrich the community.

During the dedication, the late Dr. Julian W. Ross, for whom the Medical Center was named, was referred to as the "spiritual leader" of the group. Dr. Ross was in the city at the buildings ground-breaking ceremonies.

On Easter morning of this year he passed away after a brief illness. Mrs. Dorothy Harvey, Dr. Ross's daughter, was on hand to take plaudits in his place to express to the group the hopes and good wishes she shared with her father.

Tom Hawkins, of Radio KGFJ, served as master of ceremonies. Speakers were Dr. Eugene Hoffman, chief of staff, Queen of Angels Hospital; Edgar Johnson, vice president, Golden State Mutual Insurance Company; Dr. R. Sacks and Mrs. Betty Shapiro, health commissioner.

Many congratulatory letters and telegrams were read. William R. Trumna presented a citation from the L. A. County Board of Supervisors. J. Payne, of the L. A. Urban League Board, presented a certificate of award to Dr. Leon O. Banks.

Subsequent to the program, Open House was held and the 500 guests viewed the apartments and enjoyed the excellent refreshments.

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. L. L. White, and the benediction by the Rev. James Hargett.

GUEST OF HONOR — Mrs. Dorothy Harvey, daughter of the late Dr. Julian W. Ross, was guest of honor at the dedication ceremonies. (Smith)

Twelve Big Sisters Plan Seventh Annual Festival

Twelve Big Sisters, an interracial group providing assistance and guidance to pre-delinquent girls, this week was selected as the beneficiary of the Sunday, Sept. 17, Art Festival to be staged by Celestine Shambrey.

The exhibit, the seventh annual affair held under Miss Shambrey's auspices for the benefit of some worthy community program, will be held at 339 N. Virgil avenue.

In previous years, festival proceeds went to the Woodlawn YWCA, Friendship Day Camp, "Baby" a unit of the Los Angeles County Adoptions Bureau, and several groups working with mentally retarded children.

Founded in 1947, Twelve Big Sisters counsels girls of all races and religions who have had contact with law enforcement agencies. It also makes available medical care, recreation equipment and scholarships.

About a year ago, the organization purchased a home at 2561 Van Buren place to serve as a "halfway house" for girls in need of special treatment after leaving city, county and state institutions.

It will be called Faustina Home in honor of one of the three founders of the organization, Mrs. Faustina M. Johnson.

"We need $8000 before we can open the doors of Faustina Home," said Mrs. Audrey Boswell Jones, Twelve Big Sisters' president.

The funds are needed, she explained, to pay salaries of specially trained social workers and house mothers. The Home will house eight girls in the beginning, but has accommodations for 15.

Contributions to Twelve Big Sisters are tax-deductible. Contributions may be sent to Mrs. Kelso Parker, treasurer, 2706 S. Western avenue, Los Angeles, 18.

A contribution of $160 was set aside for a Life Membership in the NAACP.

Visitors attending the affair were Alice Meredith, Mrs. R. E. Baker of Sacramento and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Meredith.

Following the evening's program guests and club members enjoyed dinner in the patio of Mrs. Beard's fashionable home.

Lois A. Russ Weds Joseph J. Celestain

Last Saturday morning, Lois Anita Russ became the bride of Joseph J. Celestain. The ceremony was held in the beautiful garden-patio of Anita Bogan's Wedding Chapel.

The bride was attired in a gorgeous waltz-length dress of Chantilly lace and nylon silk organza, created by Mrs. Myrtle Pitts. Her matching pill box hat and illusion shoulder length veil completed her attire.

Her wedding bouquet consisted of lilies of the valley and orchids.

Carolyn Hunt, her only attendant wore a pale green bouffant taffeta dress with matching picture hat and carried tinted long stemmed roses. Donald Wilkes was best man.

The private wedding was attended only by the families of the bride and groom.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party was entertained at breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pitts.

The wedding reception was held later in the afternoon at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Miller.

More than 200 guests enjoyed greeting the newlyweds in the lovely garden where cateress Barbara Mounts kept the beautiful white lace covered tables laden with delicious hors d'oeuvers and champagne.

The exquisite wedding cake exemplified the artistry of cateress Mable Bailey. The many gifts were displayed in the den of the Miller home, opening on to the patio.

After a short honeymoon, the newly married couple will be at home in their W. Adams boulevard apartment.

Wifandel Club Honors Founder Della Willlams

A fitting tribute to 15 years of dedicated community service and brilliant leadership as founder and president of the outstanding Wilfandel Club was paid Mrs. Paul R. Williams, wife of the famous architect, at a beautiful reception Sunday marking her retirement from the presidency of the club.

With nearly 700 guests attending, including prominent visitors from New York, Chicago, Washington and San Francisco, the imposing social event was highlighted by presentation to the charming Mrs. Williams of an exquisite silver plate bearing the inscription:

"Presented to Della M. Willaims, Founder, President-Emeritus, Wilfandel Club, For Outstanding Achievement, by Members, Dedicated to Womanhood."

Mrs. Williams graciously responded to the presentation by Mrs. Freda Johnson, the incoming president, by thanking the club's members for their "loyal and stimulating cooperation" during her administration.

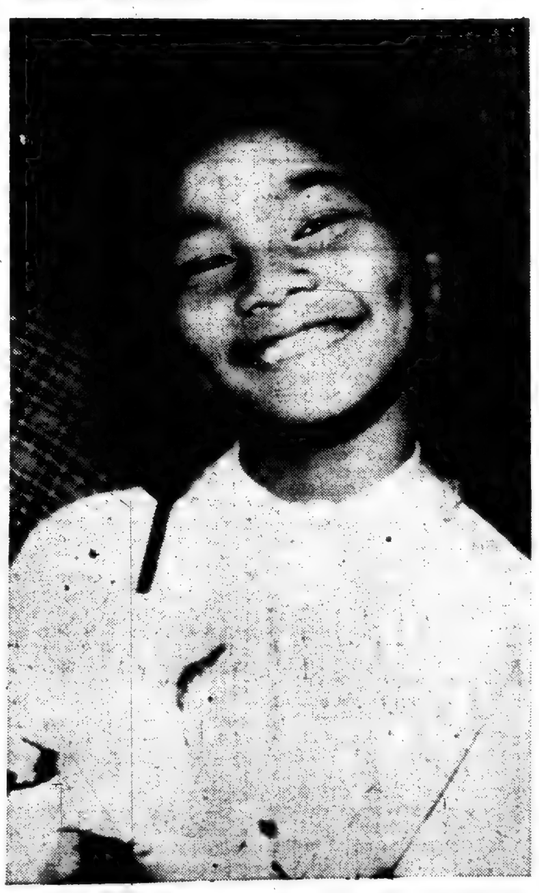
DELLA WILLIAMS

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Zeth Lee, the affair was rated as one of the blue ribbon events of the social season.

Following the reception, Mrs. Williams was honoree at a dinner party for thirty guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pierce, nee Marion Downes.

Through the leadership of Mrs. Williams, the Wilfandel club—which started in 1945 at a meeting with five members present—has grown into one of the most outstanding and beautiful women's clubs of its kind in the United States. Its spacious clubhouse, gardens, and furnishings have a valuation of nearly $100,000. It has been called a monument to finer womanhood.

Mrs. Williams, also a past president of the Links of Los Angeles, is currently leading the financial drive for the new home of the First AME Church here.



Hoskinses Back From Motor Trip

Aurora and Barney Hoskins returned to the city last Thursday evening after 3 weeks' motor tour of the beautiful Cascade and Mt. Ranier northwest, visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alonza Wilkins III.

Alonzo is attached to the Larson Air Force Base near Moses Lake, Washington, where Sandra is a second grade school teacher.

Aurora's aunt, Miss Pauline Slater, and her cousin, Dorothy Watson, made a surprise visit to the Wilkinses while their parents were there.

Miss Slater also accompanied the Hoskinses and Wilkinses to Vancouver B.C. visiting relatives and taking in the Montreal professional football with ex-UCLA star Marv Luster.

BOWL BEAUTY — Little Mutusa Freeman, popular and personable pupil of Irma Webster, Dance Directoress for Donnji Studios, is one of the 'dancesational' darlings who will be participating in the Little Miss America Contest, Sunday afternoon, 2:00 p.m., September 10, at the Hollywood Bowl. Everyone is cordially invited to become her fan and be on hand to cheer for Mutusa as she makes her stand.

The Blackwells Home From Vacation in East

Thomas and Josephine Blackwell returned from their two week vacation visiting friends and relatives in New York, Chicago, Kansas and Oklahoma.

They visited the famed Metropole in New York, Cozy Cole and Woody Herman; were the guests of Nippsey Russell at Chicago's Baby Grand and visited Wilson Peyton at his Brass Rail.

THE ROBINSONS — Jesse and Myrtle Robinson are shown dining in Alfredo's, one of Berlin's famed restaurants. They returned home last Thursday after an exciting trip.

Around the World in 50 Days with the Robinsons

ticed that by now, people of the city began to gather along the streets and a loudspeaker from a truck announced that Vice-President Johnson would arrive at 5 p.m. and would speak later from the steps of City Hall.

It was only four o'clock, but we directed our driver to take us to the City Hall, because the crowd was now standing three and four deep for several miles in the downtown area.

LIKE ROSE PARADE

At the City Hall about 4:15 p.m. the crowd was already about twenty or thirty thousand, and we made two more. It reminded me of the Pasadena Rose Tournament — the huge crowd, the police parading up and down, and the anticipation while waiting.

However, there were two exceptions that made a difference —waiting two hours in the rain, and seeing the Red Cross in action.

There seemed as many, or more Red Cross workers in full uniform as policemen on duty. They worked in units of twos and fours. They carried kits on their backs, stretchers in their hands and walkie-talkies under their arms.

It was a little perplexing to understand why such a display of Red Cross workers were needed on a rainy day, but they were needed, for people began dropping like flies throughout the crowd, and the Red Cross was busy giving sips of brandy or carrying patients away on stretchers. What caused the prostrations, I'll never know.

NOT INSPIRING

Vice-President Johnson, General Clay, the Mayor of Berlin, and other dignitaries finally reached the City Hall steps about 6:20 p.m. and over a hundred thousand people had gathered and stood in the rain.

This was truly a tribute from the German people to Mr. Johnson, Gen. Clay, and the nation they represented.

Our Vice-President gave a very polite and diplomatic speech, scarcely worth waiting two hours in the rain to hear. The people applauded at all the right pauses, seemingly enjoying the English better than the German translation which followed each pause. In the crowd of thirty thousand it seemed that more people were understanding the English than the German.

VISIT EAST BERLIN

On Sunday, accompanied by a young German couple, we went by taxi to the border, and accomplished what Mr. Hartman had said could not be done. We entered East Berlin.

As we approached the border, crowds of people were gathered on either side. The people in East Berlin were staring across at West Berlin, while those in West Berlin stared back across to East Berlin. Both groups were well controlled and silent.

We were cautioned that perhaps cameras would not be permitted. However, Myrtle thought it would be better to have one until someone caught us, so she hid it well in her purse. (You can hide a department store in that purse.)

The West Berlin police asked for our identification, and told us to proceed across the line to the East Berlin police.

Here the German couple with us were requested to empty all pockets, purse, wallet, and were interrogated for several minutes.

'PASS'

I was asked for my passport. The officer seemed more interested in all the places I had been and he enjoyed turning each page of the book. He took one look at Myrtle's bulging purse and said "pass." I am sure that he felt if he had asked her to empty it, his desk top would not hold all of it!

We walked all over East Berlin for at least three hours, knowing that this section must have been the heart of Berlin at one time. The bomb shattered buildings are still standing as grim reminders of the war. This is the great contrast between the two German sectors.

Few people were on the streets. Within the city, there was no gaiety, no laughter. We took pictures without any incident. Police were all over the city on guard, both on foot and mounted.

U. S. ARMY

On leaving East Berlin, the same patrol again questioned the German couple and looked at the contents of their pockets, while we were just waved through. As we left the guards we saw a young woman leaning against the building. She was crying and looking across into West Berlin.

Back again at the Kempenski we noticed crowds beginning to form again along the street. Upon inquiry we were told that Vice-President Johnson was expected to pass through. Equipped with my Bolex, we found a good spot, and waited from four until six.

It was then we discovered that the U. S. Army was arriving. From the reaction of the crowd one would have thought that General Patton's famous 3rd Army had entered Berlin instead of a mere 1500 soldiers with a few jeeps, tanks, and trucks.

TWO TRUCKS TOWED

When I saw two of the trucks actually were being towed I knew we couldn't possibly fight the Russians there with tanks and guns. It clearly indicated the need for atomic weapons.

These troops, just kids, and this poor display of equipment said more than words that there will never be a war over Berlin.

On Sunday evening we were invited to cocktails by the elder Mr. Hartman. This was a perfect entre for visiting the home of the chief of the AP and to learn what new releases they were contemplating for the American people for Monday morning's news. We spent most of the evening in this lovely home, (with bomb shelter), discussing the problems of getting the true picture to the reader, censorship, and speech writing. As a result of this experience of actually being on the spot in Berlin where history was being made and reading the news stories also, I am convinced that the reader seldom knows the real truth.

"The Blacks" Modernistic Film Action

"The Blacks" is intriguing, insulting, diabolical satire; weird, and wrought with ghostly ritual; abstract, then form-filled with timely realism; modern styling with inserts and excerpts; wandering, then direct; inhuman and unfeeling then warm with blood and heart; and has classic, beautiful lines and phrases, almost mutilated by overlapping rapid bits of vulgarity and baseness. It is long and taxing, yet exciting and captivating.

SHOCK IMPACT

It is beautifully enacted, well directed and staged, and filled with shock impact as its unusual, but brilliant dialogue unfolds, and its vague plot winds in and out of your awareness, leaving you confused, yet pleased; stirred, yet misty; and annoyed, but not angry.

This is Jean Genet's "The Blacks", currently playing nightly at the St. Mark's Playhouse, to capacity audiences. It was directed by Gene Frankel, with its most interesting and unique setting by Kim E. Swados, odd lighting by Lee Watson, costumes and masks by Patricia Zipprodt, music supervised by Charles Gross, the Production Stage Man-

Shelley's Manne Hole "Swingsational"

By MARY THOMPSON

Unique in its manner of artist presentation, the Manne Hole, Cahuenga near Hollywood blvd., offers a different name each night and boasts the best in jazz musicians. Stars, who command the respect of jazz lovers everywhere, such as Barney Kessel, Teddy Edwards, Helen Humes, owner Shelley Manne, etc, are here afforded the opportunity for unlimited creative expression and the chance to blow the type of jazz that delights jazz disciples.

MECCA FOR JAZZ MUSICIANS

Featuring coffee - house cuisine in the atmosphere of beamed ceilings and zany decor, the Manne Hole is acoustically superb, so much so that Shelley and Helen Humes recorded directly from the stage on a crowded night and cut a side that's sure to sell a zillion when it hits the scene.

SHANK TOP RANK

Bud Shank, Thursday nite's performer, will arrive on Tuesdays after September 14th, and is indefinitely booked to charm you with his sweet-sounding saxophone. For this appearance, Bud tries a current flair among jazz combos, instruments sans piano.

The Shank group includes Dennis Budimir, guitar; Kenneth Hume, drums; Bud Clark on bass until Gary Peacock returns from a Vegas engagement with the Pete Condoli group.

The swinging Mr. Shank also has his fingers in other pies, like the musical score for a soon-to-be-released UA motion picture titled "War Hounds", and the "Search For Adventure" soundtrack.

BRIDEGROOM KESSEL RETURNS

Barney Kessel, musically established as a great guitarist, returns on Thursday, September 14, for the regular that-nite spot. Barney recently teamed with Mahalia Jackson and other artists for the taping of a series of devotionals soon to be released by a major television network for presentation at the close of TV programming. Won't this be a soul-filled way to end the day?

Claude Hudson, Rev. Brice U. Taylor, Mrs. Dora Taylor, Rev. H. H. Brookins, Mrs. Helen Brookins, Rev. Henry W. Murph, Mrs. Geraldine Murph, Rev. C. Albert Henson, Mrs. Charlene Bryant, Henri O'Bryant and Mrs. A. Moten. (McLain)

BANQUET GUESTS — A few of the several hundred guests who enjoyed the testimonial banquet, served in the Zion Hill Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, on Tuesday, Aug. 29, are shown following the delicious dinner served by Mrs. Alena Dent and associates. Shown standing are Charles O'Bryant, Mrs. Ada Johnson and Michael O'Bryant. Among those seated are Melvin Taylor, Juanita Henderson and other prominent civic and church leaders. (McLain)

TESTIMONIAL MC — Rev. C. Albert Henson, pastor of Pleasant Hill Baptist Church, served as master of ceremonies for the Henri O'Bryant testimonial dinner at Zion Hill Baptist Church last week.

HONORS LAYMAN — Rev. Brice U. Taylor, of the First AME ministerial staff, delivered a special talk in tribute to the sterling qualities of Henri O'Bryant, the man chosen Laymen of the Year.

O'Bryant Honored at Testimonial Banquet

By C. MARIE HUGHES

The testimonial banquet given last Tuesday night in the Fellowship Hall of Zion Hill Baptist church for Henri O'Bryant, Jr. served a dual purpose.

In addition to honoring O'Bryant, newly appointed member of the city's Fire Commission, as Layman of the Year, the affair also was the occasion for announcement of his candidacy for congress in the 21st district, that of Rev. F. Douglas Ferrell, pastor of Tabernacle of Faith Baptist church, for assemblyman in the 53rd district.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Rev. Ferrell, member of the sponsoring committee, gave a ringing campaign speech for O'Bryant and for his own candidacy. He made a pitch for financial support for the campaigns. He estimated that to elect himself to the 53rd district the sum of $11,000 would be needed and to O'Bryant $35,000 would be required. He asked the diners for contributions and at the close of the banquet he announced that nearly $500 had been donated.

Approximately 300 invited guests filled every available space in the auditorium to pay tribute to O'Bryant, prominent civic and religious leader who also achieved distinction in his choir robe manufacturing business.

IMPRESSIVE

The affair, headed by chairmen Revs. B. W. Wade and A. Moten, was sponsored by the Los Angeles City Ministers Committee. After the welcome address by Dr. T. M. Chambers, Sr., host pastor of the impressive banquet, the program got under way.

Greetings were extended the honoree from the Baptist Ministers Union and the Interdenominational Ministers Alliance by Revs. P. J. Ellis and Isaiah Scipio, respectively.

NO BARRIERS

The Business Man's Outlook was presented by Dr. H. Claude Hudson and special talks were given by Rev. Brice U. Taylor and Rev. Ferrell.

Rev. H. H. Brookins, speaking on the subject of "O'Bryant in the Eyes of the AME Church," said that O'Bryant's services penetrated beyond denomination barriers. This was adequately demonstrated by the host clergy committee which consisted of ministers from many leading churches and the audience which represented many denominations throughout the city.

Rev. Henry W. Murph, pastor of Grant AME church and chairman of the presentation committee, announced that O'Bryant had been selected Laymen of the Year for 1961, the second time O'Bryant has been accorded this honor.

OUTSTANDING LEADER

A portion of the resolution read as follows: "Be It Therefore Resolved: That we, the ministers and laymen of Los Angeles here assembled irrespective of denominational affiliation and in the spirit of ecumenical togetherness, accord to Mr. Henri O'Bryant, a man held high in public esteem, who has gained the respect and admiration from men, women and children in all walks of life, who is renowned as a successful business man, a creditable civic leader, a devoted husband and father, an outstanding churchman, and a humble Christian gentleman, the honor of Laymen of the Year 1961."

Rev. C. Albert Henson served in the master of ceremonies role.

LAYMAN OF THE YEAR — Choir robe manufacturer, Henri O'Bryant, distinguished as a church layman and civic leader, was honored at a testimonial banquet by the Los Angeles City Ministers' Committee. He is shown left with two of his children, Michael, 16, and Charles, 14. O'Bryant announced his candidacy for Congress on the Republican ticket. (McLain)

BUSINESS TOO — Atty. James Flennoy brought greetings to Henri O'Bryant from the business and professional groups who saluted the choir robe manufacturer on his selection as Laymen of the Year and also congratulated him on his appointment as a member of the Fire Commission, during the banquet at Tion Hill.

(John Dolan's) leg and began calling for help.

"We sat in our places and watched him while the police entered. I think we all believed that nothing more would follow, that it was all over.

"What did follow was a surprise to me.

"The first thing I noticed was a policeman's fist coming toward me. The blow caught me in the side of the head before it occurred to me to duck it. I was kicked and knocked to the back of the van and shoved out.

ON HIS KNEES

"I saw a uniformed policeman holding Frank by his shirt collar, beating him over the head with a blackjack and yelling 'Look out! He's trying to escape!'

"Since Frank was on his knees, it seemed funny to me that anyone could think he was trying to escape."

Blevins said someone shouted an order to "Get up against the wall," and continued, "As I stood with my hands against the wall a policeman struck me repeatedly over the head and shoulders with a blackjack . . . I saw no sign of Jimeney and had seen none since the police took him out of the paddy wagon."

After being booked, the three Riders were taken to the Charity Hospital, where the hole in Blevins' scalp was sewed up and other injuries doctored. Blevins said he and his friends were denied permission to make a phone call.

FIRE HAZARDS

Approximately one half of the 307,000 beds in nursing homes throughout the United States are health and fire hazards, an AFL-CIO spokesman charged this week.

'Magnificents' Arrested

Donald Kenneth Jones, 21; and Jerry Moseley.

They will be arraigned before Federal Judge Harry C. Westover, Sept. 11.

The tip to police came Aug. 10 from Norma L. Bailey, 26, who walked into the University Police Station about 3:15 a.m. and said, "I want to turn in my man."

$100 A NIGHT

She said her "man" had beaten her up that night and that she had been "busted" (arrested) twice that week. She named Billy King, 22, of 2623 West blvd., as her "man," to whom, she claimed, she turned over $100 a night in return for which she got her "pad" and food, bail and fines when arrested.

FBI special agent William G. Simon said that the prostitutes controlled by the group concentrated their street-walking in the Adams blvd. and Crenshaw area and on portions of the Sunset Strip.

The group reportedly boasts freely of its expensive clothes and big, late model cars, as evidence of the easy life they lead.

Autumn is that lovely season when September washes with dew the dusty face of August.

BRINGS GREETINGS—Rev. C. W. Arnold, pastor of the 82nd Street Christian Church, brought greetings to Henri O'Bryant from the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance during the testimonial banquet last week.

You've got to see "The Blacks" to understand it, and then I defy you to say you do. But it is excellent modern theatre and well worth your time and money.

ARNOLD WATSON — Who operated as a clerk on 103rd street for many years is now at Superior Liquiors at Vernon and Avalon; give him a play!

NUMBERS — The clever males in Tommy Tucker's Playroom have it all down in figures that size 32-24-38 is a gal's best Social Security number!

IDA JONES — Pretty mingled grey haired widow's flashy $10,000 car and a city pole came together when her football playing son was behind the wheel; no injuries except to her pocketbook to the tune of $800!

EDNA AROZA — Harold Washington's better half strolled into the office the other eve looking like a Vogue model to point out that Lillian Kazarian, the popular Rinkeydink, isn't a golfer but instead is a very topflight bowler with several trophies to prove it!

OPERATION — A movement is under way to urge Negro voters to concentrate exclusively on defeating the councilman in office when he or she comes up for re-election instead of trying to replace him!

DOCTOR SHOOTS WIFE, HELD

Baptists Pick Dr. Jackson in 2-1 Landslide

King, CORE, Riders Denounced by Victor; Injured Minister Dies

By GRACE E. SIMONS

In a two-to-one sweep, Dr. Joseph H. Jackson of Chicago was conclusively elected president of the 5,000,000-member National Baptist Convention Inc. in Kansas City, Mo., early Friday morning, roundly defeating his opponent, the Rev. Gardner C. Taylor of Brooklyn, N.Y.

ELECTED — Undisputed victor in the turbulent Baptist convention in Kansas City was Dr. J. H. Jackson, who won by an approximately two-to-one vote.

In the slow, but orderly, state by state, five hour voting that continued until after 4 a.m., Dr. Jackson got 2,732 votes against 1,519 for Dr. Taylor.

MINISTER DIES

The tumultuous conference developed into a near riot shortly after the opening Wednesday morning in which one minister fell or was jostled from the speakers' platform to his death.

The tumult simmered down, however, after the Rev. Dr. D. A. Holmes, 84-year-old pastor of the Paseo Baptist Church of Kansas City, took over the task of presiding officer, under order of the court.

Although the voting definitely settled the dispute over the presidency, the controversy that has roiled the connection for well over a year seemed far from resolved.

ACCUSES KING

Dr. Taylor, in a peace gesture, declared after the vote was counted:

"The Supreme Court of the National Baptist Convention has spoken. Let us all close our ranks behind the leadership of Dr. Jackson." He then pledged, "I will fall in behind Dr. Jackson."

But Dr. Jackson, assured of another term in office, heaped coals on the fires of discontent. He launched into a vitriolic attack on the Rev. Martin Luther King, Freedom Riders, CORE, the preoccupation of Negroes with the fight for civil rights, the city fathers of Kansas City and the managers of the Municipal Auditorium where the meetings were held.

Dr. King, said the victorious candidate, "masterminded the invasion of the convention floor Wednesday which resulted in the death of one of the delegates."

KING OUSTED

As if to underline the attack on Dr. King, rules were changed, as a result of which he was ousted from his post as vice-president of the Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress.

Killed as a result of the turmoil that occurred at the opening of the convention was the Rev. A. G. Wright, of Detroit.

The accident occurred during wild shouting from delegates when the Jackson forces tried to ram through a voice vote re-electing their candidate and Taylor protagonistists shouting a vociferous "No! No! No!" tried to mount the platform and push their candidate to the microphone.

SKULL FRACTURE

Toppling to the floor of the auditorium from the speakers' stand during the pushing and shoving, the Rev. Wright received a skull fracture. He died Thursday from the head injury, without regaining consciousness.

Lucille H. Bluford, editor of the Kansas City Call, was an eye-witness at close quarters to the pushing and shoving that brought about the death of Rev. Wright.

She said the incident occurred just a few minutes after Dr. Taylor, escorted by a group of supporters, marched down the

Surgeon Charged With Murder Try In Close Range Shot

Dr. I. B. English, prominent surgeon, former head of the Pasadena NAACP, staff member of a number of hospitals, was arrested last Thursday, accused of shooting his wife and charged with assault with intent to commit murder.

Reputed to be a crack marksman, Dr. English was nevertheless reported to have fired four shots at close range at his sleeping wife, Mabel, but to have hit her only once. One bullet wounded her in the forearm.

AT FOOT OF BED

Police said two other bullet holes were found in the bed. They believed a fourth bullet was fired but had not recovered the slug.

Mrs. English, the mother of one small child, notified police of the shooting. She said she was awakened by the shots about 8:30 a.m. Her husband was standing, she said, at the foot of the bed, aiming at her and pulling the trigger.

After the shooting, Dr. English reportedly went into his den and sat down on a sofa, seemingly in a coma. A short time later, police said, he left the house at 1218 Sclita road, Pasadena, and went to the Altavista Hospital where he sought treatment. It was there that he was arrested.

'UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT'

Bail for the well known doctor, who has long been active in Masonic and other community affairs, was set at $25,000, but was reduced to $5,000 following representations by his attorney, Loren Miller.

Dr. English gave no explanation for his actions. Atty. Miller described the shooting as an "unfortunate accident."

Mrs. English, too, herself, also seemed at a loss to account for her husband's behavior.

She was taken to St. Luke's Hospital and police said she later mentioned to detectives an argument between herself and her husband some time previously as a "possible" cause of his shooting at her.

A premilinary hearing has been set for Thursday morning in Division 1 in Pasadena.

ACCUSED—Dr. I. B. English, Pasadena surgeon, was arrested last Thursday and charged with attempt to commit murder.

Dr. Jackson To Preach at Pastor's Rites

BY BILL LANE

When a semblance of religious order had been restored and the debris had been cleared away, the body of a Negro minister was shipped out of Kansas City to Detroit for a funeral and burial.

He did not live long enough as a delegate to the National Baptist Convention, Inc., to hear the outcome of the bitter fight between Dr. Gardner Taylor and Dr. J. H. Jackson for the presidency of the organization.

The Rev. A. G. Wright had fallen or had been pushed from the stage at Municipal Auditorium during a melee over who had charge of the meeting. The accident was fatal. He reportedly had been a supporter of Jackson.

Dr. Jackson announced he was going to Detroit to preach at the funeral of the Rev. Wright.

ALWAYS ACTIVE

There would be order at the funeral. There had not always been order in Detroit where Wright was concerned.

As an undertaker in the Motor City, Wright had for a long time fought with Charles C. Diggs, Sr., for the distinction of being the

Baptists May Split on Civil Rights Issue

By BARBARA MOUNTS

Denouncing what he called the "entrenched ignorance" in the Baptist Church and its "Uncle Tom leadership," the Rev. Marvin T. Robinson, pastor of the Friendship Baptist Church of Pasadena, said this week he is in favor of establishing a new Baptist Convention, one that is dedicated to the struggle for freedom and civil rights.

Rev. Robinson, a supporter of Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, who was defeated in his bid for president of the National Baptist Convention Inc., had just returned from the Kansas City, Mo. conference.

MORE UNREST

He said that President J. H. Jackson's attack on the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., following the elections, left more unrest in the organization than the Philadelphia turbulance last year.

Removal of Dr. King from the vice-presidency of the Sunday School and BTU Congress, he said, could split the denomination.

Rev. Robinson proposed that progressive men in both the 5-million-member National Baptist Convention Inc. and the 3,700,000-member National Bap-

City, County Honor Georgia Laster as 2,000 Attend Rites

An overflow crowd of more than 2000 mourners jammed the University Seventh-Day Adventist Church last Monday for the double funeral services for Miss Georgia A. Laster, 33, and her mother, Georgia Laster, 70, who were killed Labor Day in a head-on collision near Lodi, on Highway 99.

TOUGH CUSTOMER

One of the hazards of table waiting is the irate customer who berates the waiter for his tough steak or his weak coffee. As a former waiter, I'll never forget the guest who took me to task about his lamb chops. They were tough, he told me the first time I passed his table. The next time around he assured me that they tasted like mutton chops. Then he summoned me over and explained in great detail that they were improperly broiled. That did it.

I let him know in plain terms that I didn't buy the meat, didn't broil the chops and was not responsible for the quality of his food. His complaints, I told him, should be addressed to the buyer or the chef and not to me. He gave me a quizzical look and said: "You may not be responsible for the chops but you sure are here for me to talk to and I am going to talk to you as long as you are here." He had something there.

FELL ASLEEP

The Los Angeles City Council and the Board of Supervisors adjourned their meetings in honor of the well known concert singer. The accident occurred, according to reports from the scene of the crash, when Miss Laster apparently fell asleep at the wheel of her car and drove off the highway, down a grade, through a grove of trees and back onto the highway head-on into another motorist.

A third passenger in the car, Myrna Huenergardt, is in serious condition as a result of the crash.

Miss Laster, who lived with her parents at 2180 W. 29th street, is survived by her father, Robert E. Laster, and five brothers, Robert V., Frank W., Booker T., James and Sherman. Mrs. Laster is survived, in addition to her husband and sons, by a brother, Fred Banks; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Brantly of Fordyce, Ark.; and Mrs. Decomma Parr of Oakland.

SANG AT BOWL

Miss Laster, whose warm, full throated and exciting voice had been praised by critics all over the United States and Europe, was the recipient of several scholarships including the Atwater Kent, UCLA. Marian Anderson and the Natl. Assn. of Negro Musicians. She also studied in Europe on Fulbright and John Hay Whitney grants.

She was presented in concerts at the Hollywood Bowl and made her debut at the Philharmonic Auditorium in New York. She was active in the work of her church and was the guest soloist at the Glendale City Seventh-Day Adventist Church between concert engagements.

SINGER BURIED — Georgia Laster, full-throated, dramatic concert singer, Marian Anderson award winner who made her debut in New York's Philharmonic Auditorium, was buried Monday from the University Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Recall Plans in 10th To Get Top Priority

Formation of a solid political action framework came closer to becoming a reality among Los Angeles Negro citizens Monday night when a committee was elected to set in motion machinery to bring local Negroes proper representation in local government.

At the fourth meeting held in the auditorium at the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company, Adams at S. Western, responsible Negro citizens were united in their quest to activate policies to bring about the recall of Councilman Joe E. Hollingsworth, newly appointed councilman in the 10th District.

RECALL TOP AIDE

They also joined in approving plans to sponsor a forum to air views of citizens of the community, to undertake specific projects in line with political action and to bring out massive registration of qualified Negro voters.

Placed by vote at the top of the list of aims formulated by a temporary committee selected

The Duke Tells Little Rock He's Cancelling Out

Bandleader Duke Elligton this week revealed he cancelled an appearance in Little Rock when he learned the stadium is segregated.

He said he won't play before segregated audiences.

The Duke's current tour includes Dallas, Houston, San Angelo, Amarillo, Abilene and Midland, all in Texas.

Texas Storm Treats Whites, Negroes Alike

Results of the hurricane that hit Texas hard this week and caused great suffering among a half million or more inhabitants may not have been all bad.

A report from Houston Tuesday pointed out that refugees from the storm, Negro and white, ignored "white only" signs and segregation patterns.

Faced by the stress of a common danger, they huddled together, ate together, shared facilities, cared for each other's children and otherwise acted as civilized human beings.

Pasadena High Schools Face Court Test on Bias

In what in any other area would be regarded as a local law suit, a writ of mandate filed in Pasadena by a Negro father against his city's school system has now become a nationwide cause celebre.

An action filed last week by Jay R. Jackson, Sr., of 2515 Vista Laguna Terrace, against the Pasadena school board asked that the courts transfer 13-year-old Jay R. Jackson, Jr., from Washington High School to Eliot Junior High School. It also levels a charge of racial gerrymandering against the school board for allowing a preponderance of white pupils to attend McKinley school, which Jackson contends is a greater distance from their homes than is Washington.

MORE NEGROES

The writ alleges that such "clandestine" permission forces Washington High School to a one-sided racial concentration, in that

Young Woman, Man on Parole End Own Lives

A shoe repair man, afraid he would be returned to Folsom Prison because he received a traffic ticket, and a 23-year-old South Los Angeles woman who was despondent over poor grades at school and domestic difficulties both found a way out of their troubles last week by resorting to suicide.

John Craig, 40, a shoe repair man, was found Thursday morning hanging by his neck in a novelty and notion shop at 623 E. Vernon avenue.

LEFT ALONE

Barbara Jett, of 10410 S. McKinley avenue, shot herself when she was left momentarily alone in the residence of her brother, Peter J. Jett, at the rear of his grocery store and barber shop, 2202 E. 103rd street.

Craig's body was discovered about 10:15 a.m. From the hips

18 Arrested In Love Nest Crackdowns

Eastside, westside, all around the town, officers picked up 18 persons for resorting and offering Friday night in a widespread vice crackdown that literally fell into the officers' laps as several young women approached police cars and offered to show the officers a good time, for fees ranging from $7 to $10.

Dolores Johnson, 32, of 2180 W. 30th street, was picked up at 52nd street and S. Broadway and Shirley Woods, 24, of 1561 E. 66th street, was arrested at 27th and Western avenue. Louise Charlotte Patterson, 27, of 3742½ Maple avenue, was taken into custody at 43rd street and Broadway.

Officers watched a pickup at 41st street and Western avenue and followed the car to the 4100 Leimert blvd. apartment of Jerry Jefferson, where Richard Savitz,

Hulley Gulley Sends Bowl Crowd Batty

The "Reverend" wailed, and the congregation went wild.

And the Hollywood police also went somewhat batty trying to restore order Sunday night at the sedate and airy Hollywood Bowl when Ray Charles, his voice, his band, his augmented choir and violin section took over for a concert before a crowd of nearly ten thousand.

WHITES DANCE

Charles, fresh from attracting an equal number of fans at the Hollywood Palladium two weeks ago, gave out with one of his original "What'd I Say" songs near the end of the show, and white "hipsters" from the audience apparently got the message.

An estimated three hundred leaped from their seats and started dancing in the aisles. More than a dozen climbed around the large fountain near the stage. They limited their outburst to dancing. Most of them were doing the "twist," which police labeled as "obsene."

HULLEY GULLEY

But Tom McGarrity, the Charles unit's bookkeeper and pilot of the band's plane, said many of them were doing the "hulley gulley—the likes of which you could see only in Harlem. And Ray went to town!"

Anyway, an augmented Bowl police force came, but quiet had crept in and order had been restored. But the meeting had ended. The musical revival no doubt had won enough converts for one Sunday evening.

Suit Filed in Camp Death Of Teenager

Mr. and Mrs. David Rayford, of 5726 Holmes avenue, filed suit this week against the University Religious Conference for $50,000 damages for the drowning death of their daughter, Clara, 13, on Aug. 10.

The Rayfords, who are represented by Atty. B. T. Davis of the law firm of Lee, LaVigne and Davis, charged that the University Camp near Yucaipa, run by the religious organization, was negligent in that it employed too few lifeguards, and guards who had insufficient experience, and further that they permitted the pool to become too crowded.

The child apparently died about 3 p.m., Aug. 10, but her absence was not discovered until roll call some time later.

Police, Fire Dept. Bias In Santa Monica Aired

Santa Monica, the seaside California community which is populated heavily by Southern whites and where the local Independent newspaper spells "Italian" with a capital "I" and "German" with a capital "G" but spells "Negro" with a lower case "n," has been charged with mass bias against Negroes who apply for jobs as firemen and police officers.

The charge was made by the Rev. W. P. Carter, of the Calvary Baptist church, and Hilliard Lawson, 2023 Virginia avenue. They made their charges before the Santa Monica City Council.

CITY COUNCIL HEARING

Evidence was presented to Council showing cases in which Negroes were turned down, not just technically but rudely when they applied for city jobs.

Lawson brought out that three Negroes who had applied for positions with the fire department and had taken the required tests, then received first, second and third places on the eligibility list. But they were never hired.

"Specifically," Hilliard charged, "it is felt that due to unwritten agreements and biased opinions concerning employment of Negroes in the Fire Department, Police Department, Transportation Department and in clerical positions, the intentions of Civil Service procedures are not being followed.

QUOTA CHARGED

"The Police Department has apparently established a quota of two Negro officers," Hilliard said, offering evidence of police bias.

Hilliard and Carter pointed out they feel it is within the power of the City Council to "insure that these conditions are eliminated."

Mayor Tom McCarthy acknowledged the problem was not new to his desk. He said he had referred "the problem" to a city personnel board "for study."

OFFER TO 'LISTEN'

City Manager George Bundy stated his "willingness" to listen "to any Negro who feels he has not been given a job because of discrimination."

No council member said he was willing to do anything to eliminate the apparent racial bias in Civil Service hiring in Santa Monica.

One Negro resident said he was going to bring a Federal suit against the city's tax-dispensing division "as the city takes our tax dollars indiscriminately and gives them in support of city-service bodies that openly discriminate in hiring."

Roy Wilkins Will Speak At Olympic

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, will address a mass meeting at the Olympic Auditorium, Sunday, Oct. 1, at 3 p.m. He will speak on "Civil Rights In 1961."

The Hollywood Activities Committee of the NAACP will sponsor a cocktail party for him the same day at 7 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Celeste King III, 1240 S. Arlington avenue.

Local Pastors To be Heard on Sun. T.V. Show

Minorities moving to Los Angeles will be the topic of discussion on "The Press and the Clergy" television show on KCOP, Channel 13, Sunday, Sept. 17, from 5:30 to 6 p.m.

Rev. L. L. White and Rev. James Hargett will represent the clergy, while Wesley Brazier of the Urban League will be a special guest, along with Peter Mann of the L.A. Examiner editorial staff.

Fire Dept. Needs Men, Says O'Bryant

Fire Commissioner Henri O'Bryant, Jr. has issued an urgent call to young men between the ages of 19 and 31 to make application for job openings in the Los Angeles City Fire Department through Civil Service.

Civil Service examinations for the jobs will be announced soon.

Down the Lane

By BILL LANE

THE NAACP is awaiting the arrival here of Roy Wilkins, head of the body. But it is also busy getting set for a major battle with Hollywood, despite the recent move of Bill Walker and Pauline Meyers of the Screen Actors Guild, assertedly to get Negroes better representation in the movie industry. The NAACP states it is not seeking any settlement by promises, but by action.

It was not explained whether or not this meant the NAACP felt the Walker-Meyers move was intended merely for public print, but the accelerated drive by the local NAACP to bring concrete action out of its meetings with the SAG displays the solid purpose by the NAACP drive.

CHANCES are FEPC actions and mass picketing will arise from the NAACP quest, if Hollywood continues its ageless policy towards Negroes.

IN TEXAS Hurricane Carla raised the Devil. In San Francisco the National Baptist Convention of America got off to a bad start, and in Kansas City things happened at the National Baptist Convention, Inc., that happen only, generally, in blood-and-guts union meetings. In K. C. the skypilots got to fighting onstage and reportedly knocked old A. G. Wright offstage. He bumped his head and died. Rumors were that he was knocked offstage by someone. Makes one wonder why beatniks are condemned for their way of life.

Have you seen Calhoun picketing that Ford dealer on Western avenue because the station uses KFWB for its advertising?

THE LOCAL MUSLIMS won one of their biggest fights for we - are - here recognition when they ran into that supermarket boycott. Gave 'em much grist for their nebulous mill.

Walter L. Scratch, Citizen-News columnist, says he'll look completely into the allegations that Negroes helped found L. A. and then write about it. Something all daily papers should have done beforehand.

By the way, the Smithsonian Institute in Washington has records that Negroes lived in Central and South America long before the Mayans and the Spaniards came. Truth is, so many whites try to live away from their own Constitution, their own historical religion and from their own true histories. Ever look closely at da Vinci's painting of The Last Supper? You'll see how Italian the subjects look. And have you noticed how paintings of Christ year by year show Jesus more blonde and blue-eyed? As if Germans had painted the pictures.

Have you heard baseball man Albie Pearson's recording of T-Bone Walker's "I Want To Walk With You" and "Anytime, Anyplace, Anywhere?"

THOSE NEGROES trying to get jobs here driving Greyhound buses should know that all the Greyhounds bringing the thousands of Muslim followers to Elijah Muhammad's speaking in NYC sported drivers who were white.

All's Quiet as South Extends Integration

For the first time in the seven years since the Supreme Court school decision, there was neither violence nor incident attendant upon the opening of desegregated schools in the South this fall.

There was not even any violence in New Orleans, scene of last year's spectacle where grown women yelled and screamed hate and insults at six-year-old youngsters; nor in Dallas, where city fathers exerted great effort to pave the way in advance; nor in Atlanta, where police stood at the ready but had little to do.

46 IN LITTLE ROCK

Nor was there any violence even in Little Rock, where in 1957 it took armed federal troops to protect the nine courageous teenagers who insisted on their right to attend Central High School, despite everything the White Citizens Councils and their stooges could dish out to them.

This year in Little Rock Negroes for the first time began attending classes at four more "white" junior high schools and one "white" technical high school. In all 46 Negroes have been "integregated" in seven high schools, and only one high school in the city is still lily-white.

TOKEN VARIETY

There has been no avalanche of integregation anywhere. In most cases it has been of the token variety, but it is nonetheless noteworthy that this year, the fuss and the fury of previous school openings gave way to calm and quiet.

In all, 27 previously all-white school districts in eight southern states enrolled Negroes on an integrated basis for the first time. This makes a total of 810 districts in 14 states and the District of Columbia that have let down the color bars since 1954.

12 IN NEW ORLEANS

In New Orleans, 12 Negro children—eight more than last year — attended six "white" schools. At McDonogh, No. 19, where a total boycott was established last year when one Negro girl entered school, four white youngsters attended on the first day of school.

Last Wednesday, Dallas integrated 18 Negro youngsters in eight schools. In Galveston, Texas, 37 Negroes were "integrated" at three schools.

Other places that let down the bars were Ft. Lauderdale and Daytona Beach, Fla., seven Richmond, Va., communities, and Miami, where the previously "white" Arlington Heights High School accepted 277 Negroes along with 133 white pupils.

As a result of this year's piecemeal advances, there are now only three states in the Solid South — Mississippi, Alabama and South Carolina — where no beginning has been made at integration.

Seek New Trial For Teenager In Slaying

ATLANTA — Atty. D. L. Hollowell, of the NAACP, has been retained by Mrs. Letha Cobb to defend her son, Preston Cobb, 15, who was convicted by an all-white jury of killing a white man during an argument.

Sept. 16 is the deadline to file an appeal for any discrepancies which Atty. Hollowell may find in the case.

No Negro has served on a jury in Jackson County for more than 40 years.

Police Nab Suspect in Bus Holdup

George A. Smith, an MTA bus driver of 217 W. 87th street, was robbed by a lone gunman of $105 last Friday near 40th place and Santa Barbara.

A suspect, described as being about 24 or 25 years old, was cornered by special MTA agents, William Jordon, of 11924 Fairview, El Monte, and R. W. Kilso, of 220 N. Redman Avenue, Whittier, who exchanged shots with him, but he got away.

Police spotted Curtis Lavelle Hammock, 22, who fit the description walking from a liquor store at 40th and Broadway, and took him back to 40th place and Santa Barbara where he was identified.

James Arthur Abram, 22, of 135 W. 92nd street, was found seated in the suspect's car. He was arrested on suspicion of being Hammock's accomplice.

Federation's Anniversary Celebrated

The Church Federation of Los Angeles is celebrating its 50th anniversary this week with a prayer vigil each day at noon during the weeklong schedule of special observances.

The federation is one of the oldest inter-church bodies in the world. It has helped to build 800 new protestant churches in the city. In addition to establishing churches it trains religious leaders and conducts week-day religious instructions for public school children and provides a chaplain service to the City Council and other city bodies.

NAACP to Honor Four L.A. Judges

SAN FRANCISCO—Terea Hall Pittman, acting regional secretary of the NAACP, announced this week that awards will be presented to three Los Angeles judges during the biennial Asilomar Conference of the group on Sept. 22-24.

Judges Thomas L. Griffith, David Williams, Edwin Jefferson and Bernard Jefferson will be honored.

Rev. L. Sylvester Odom, pastor of Ward AME Church, will conduct the Sunday, Sept. 24, chapel service.

Man Found Dead

Neighbors who investigated a call to find out why Alex Edwards, 60, of 220 E. 59th street, did not answer his phone last Saturday evening, found him unconscious in his bed.

When police arrived, he was dead from an apparent heart attack. His forehead was covered with perspiration. The radio was playing.

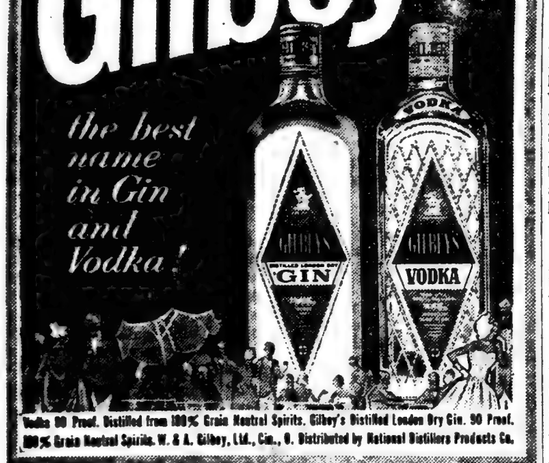
The Community Relations Conference of Southern California will sponsor a reception in honor of the second anniversary of the California State Fair Employment Practices Commission, at the Furniture Mart, 1933 S. Broadway, at 5-6:30 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 18.



Gov. Edmund G. Brown will be the honored guest. FEP commissioners and other state officials are expected to attend.

Rights Report Details South's Treachery

WASHINGTON — Documentation substantiating charges that Negroes in the Deep South are tricked, cheated and defrauded of their Constitutional rights to register, to vote, to enjoy equal educational opportunities and equal job opportunities were contained in a report to the President and Congress submitted Saturday by the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights.

The report also recommended remedial legislation and executive action.

The report, entitled "The Right to Vote" is the first of a series of five volumes prepared by the commission on five areas of civil rights: discrimination in voting, education, employment, housing, and administration of justice.

Finding evidence of discrimination in some 100 counties in eight Southern States, the Commission urged Congress to enact legislation barring States from denying the franchise except on the basis of reasonable age or residence requirements, legal confinement at the time of registration or election or conviction of a felony.

This and another recommendation for legislation which would make a sixth grade education sufficient proof of literacy, are designed to deal with the use of "educational" or "interpretation" tests as devices for disqualifying Negro applicants.

In calling for new legislation, the Commission noted that discrimination persisted despite the fact that existing Federal laws "have been vigorously and effectively invoked" by the Department of Justice.

The Commission report also included:

1. A study of the effect of unequal representation upon the right to vote.

2. A special study of the status of civil rights in 17 rural counties in the South where Negroes constitute a majority of the population but none or very few vote, and four other similar counties where Negroes vote in larger numbers.

3. The results of hearings and investigations in 11 parishes in Louisiana where the Commission found that a variety of techniques were used to deprive Negroes of the right to register and vote.

The commission declared that malapportionment of State and Congressional election districts throughout the United States dilutes the right to vote and, by operating to the disadvantage of minority groups in urban areas, intensifies the effects of racial disfranchisement. It recommended that a Federal law be passed to require that voting districts be substantially equal in population.

In its study of rural counties, the commission found that "a dependent economic position appears to be one of the most significant factors that inhibits Negroes from registering and voting." But, in voting as well as non-voting counties, all public schools are segregated; public libraries provide inferior or no service at all for Negroes; State employment services subsidized by Federal funds offer only unskilled jobs to Negroes; transportation terminals and facilities are segregated; Negroes do not serve on juries; Armed Forces Reserve and National Guard units exclude Negroes; and recreational facilities at some Federal dams and lakes are for whites only.

Finding that unequal conditions existed to some extent in all counties, the Commission said "it cannot be concluded that the free exercise of the right to vote . . . necessarily results in quick tangible gains in other areas." The commission recommended Federal and State action to reduce economic deprivations in these counties.

In Louisiana, the commission found that the Association of Citizens Councils of Louisiana and the state legislature exerted pressure against Negro electors and that the legislature actively encouraged registrars to use a variety of devices to thwart Negro applicants.

2 Negroes Get Jobs as Golf Starters

By MAGGIE HATHAWAY

Jessie Simpkins and Henry Barabin were recently hired by the City and the County Parks and Recreation as the first two Negro golf starters in the history of Los Angeles.

Barabin passed the Civil Service examination one year ago and placed second on the list. He was interviewed in June and though he passed his oral examination he was not called.

In July he filed a claim with the FEP Commission against the County Parks and Recreation Dept. Last week he was placed by the county at Knollwood Country Club which is located in the Granada Hills.

Two other Negroes who passed the county exams have also filed petitions with the FEPC against the Recreation Dept.

Jessie Simpkins, who was already employed by the city as a guard at the Public Library, had no trouble securing his position with the city.

He took his examination in April and made a grade of 84 to place fourth on the list. While he was spending his vacation in Chicago he was notified to report to Rancho Golf Course.

On July 17 Simpkins became the city's first Negro golf course starter.

STARTER—Henry Barabin has just been hired as a golf starter, the first Negro to hold the job in the county.

Kress Store Settles Suit

In the midst of picking a jury in Santa Barbara, attorneys for Kress stores settled with the plaintiff, Mrs. Florence Gilbert, in order to avoid further litigation. The trial was brought to its successful conclusion last Wednesday by Atty. Stanley R. Malone, Jr., of the law firm of Miller & Malone.

Mrs. Gilbert had filed a suit against Kress claiming she had been falsely arrested and detained after purchasing some candy at the store on March 8, 1957, when the store manager implied she had not paid for the candy.

Race Tension Topic on TV Show Tuesday

Racial problems and tensions throughout the country, including the Los Angeles area, will be aired on TV next Tuesday (Sept. 19) when the American Broadcasting Company presents its nation-wide documentary, "Walk in My Shoes." Local viewing time is 10 p.m. on channel 7.

Produced and directed by Louis Lomax, well known author, the documentary will take a long and searching look at racial problems as seen through the eyes of Negroes. Among those interviewed locally were Atty. Loren Miller and members of the Social Action Committee of the Church of Christian Fellowship.

The show is advertised by ABC as the first of its kind to have been created and produced by a Negro.

Autumn is that lovely season when September washes with dew the dusty face of August.

Pa. Councilman Coming to L.A. To 'Show Way'

The honorable Marshall L. Sheppard, councilman-at-large for the city of Philadelphia, will "show L.A. the way" at a protest banquet Thursday, Sept. 28, at the Glen Aire Country Club, located in the heart of the "Valley" area.

As a successful candidate for his council position, the nationally-known Baptist minister and political leader will be the main speaker at a combination awards banquet and protest rally sponsored by the National Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance (NIMA) in cooperation with several key groups and organizations throughout the city. Rev. Gharah L. Degenddingeze is president of the NIMA.

TO BE HONORED

Recent action by the City Council of Los Angeles in defeating the desire for Negro representation is the reason for the appearance here of Sheppard.

Awards will be presented to individuals on the basis of their contribution towards Negro representation and their continued efforts in that direction.

Among those to be recognized for their participation are Congressman James C. Corman, Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman, Councilmen Edward Roybal and John Gibson, as well as other community and political leaders who fought a valiant though unsuccessful fight.

Rev. Sheppard is minister of the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church of Philadelphia. He was elected councilman-at-large by voters throughout the city. He represents any district in that city in the absence of the regularly assigned councilman. As an active member he has full voting rights and is chairman of the council's Public Welfare Committee.

Damnyankee Books on Race Held Not Nice for Savannah Students

SAVANNAH, Ga. — Richard Wright's "Black Boy" and Oliver Lafarge's Pulitzer prize winning "Laughing Boy" are not considered proper reading for Savannah's students.

Also considered "not nice" are Margaret Halsey's "Color Blind" and Henry Roosenberg's "The Walls Came Tumbling Down."

The Chatham County grand jury recommended the books be banned from school libraries.

School Supt. D. Leon McCormac readily agreed. "I don't think these books should be in school libraries," he said.

The grand jury chairman volunteered the information that the jury had received a list of "10 objectionable books" from "an organization in California." The four proscribed were on the "list."

Time was that Americans used to laugh at the former Japanese rulers for their "thought control" tactics.

Hearings on Fire Dept. Bias to Resume Thursday

Hearings will resume Thursday morning into charges that the city of Los Angeles has a biased Fire Department and a biased Civil Service examining board.

It had been charged, in documented complaints filed before the city's Fire Commission and Civil Service Commission, that various members of the commission showed bias in rating Negro applicants for captain's positions, and against certain union members.

UNION RAPS BOARD

The Professional Firefighters, Inc., Local 748, AFL-CIO, had charged that W. W. Johnston, Jr., of the Oral Examination Board and of the City's Fire Department, displayed bias against one of the union members.

Atty. Arnett Hartsfield, who for 20 years was with the city's Fire Department, charge Negroes in the department suffer wholesale Jim Crow and bias, and that Johnston and Joseph W. Hawthorne, general manager of the Civil Service Department, showed steady bias in regards to race.

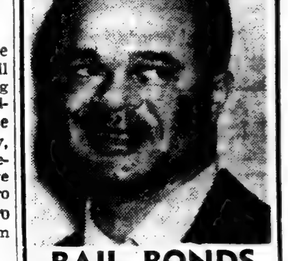
Seven of nine Negro firemen who tried to become captains charged that Johnston displayed open bias, and asked the Negro applicants if they were "pushers" for integration, or if they had attended integrated schools.

TWO DENY BIAS

Another commission member, Victor Petroff, assistant chief of the Los Angeles County Fire Department where discrimination also flourished, it has been charged, denied race disparity in exam gradings. So did John W. Dodge, retired telegraph company official who served with Johnston and Petroff on the oral board.

NEGRO MEMBER

Norman B. Huston, Jr., lone Negro member of the city's Civil Service Commission, is attending the hearings which also reportedly are coming under the close scrutiny of Mayor Sam Yorty, who as mayor of Los Angeles reportedly is embarrassed to have thousands of taxpaying Negro citizens and hundreds of Negro tourists learn his city has a Jim Crow Fire Department.



A passenger at the San Francisco airport was quite unnerved when he heard his Los Angeles flight announced. "Flight 609," the funereal voice announced, "is now ready for its final departure."

AT HOLY NAME—Most Rev. John Kodwo Amissah, archbishop of Cape Coast, Ghana, only Negro archbishop, held mass at Holy Name Church here Sunday. (See Church Page).

To stand up for one's ideas against the general opinion—that is true courage.

School Closing Laws Collapse

Federal courts took a two way swing at the school closing laws of the South last week.

A Virginia judge held that Prince Edward county must stop using public funds to provide schooling for white pupils as long as it keeps its public schools closed.

A three judge federal court in Louisiana went a step further and told St. Helena parish that it can't close down its schools in order to flout the 1954 Supreme Court decision.

The Louisiana opinion put the matter well when it said that this is an inopportune time for a state to experiment with ignorance.

This practical collapse of school closing legislation leaves the South with little of its massive resistance program intact. Schools are going to have to be kept open and they are going to have to be open to Negro pupils as well as white youngsters.

The greatest impediment to full desegregation of southern schools lies in the pupil placement laws under which only two, or a half dozen, Negroes are admitted after taking tests obviously designed to reduce the number of Negro pupils.

Token desegregation is little better than nothing at all. Its only virtue resides in the fact that it acknowledges that the Supreme Court decision is the law of the land and that it holds out hope that barriers will continue to fall.

Three states—Alabama, South Carolina and Mississippi—are still holdouts. Not a single Negro attends "white" schools in those states. The NAACP is shaping up test cases in all three states and we hope that all of them will have been coerced into obedience to the Constitution before the beginning of another school year.

Commemorating Civil War

The widely heralded Civil War Centennial celebration has bogged down. Its chairman, Gen. U. S. Grant III, has resigned and prospects are that the celebration will be permitted to die a quiet death.

The Centennial got off on the wrong foot because it was improperly conceived.

The great and lasting contribution of the Civil War to American history lies in the fact that it resulted in the abolition of slavery and in constitutional amendments designed to wipe out the last vestiges of inequality between Americans.

The Centennial should have been devoted to a celebration of the War's positive results and utilized to rededicate the nation to the unfinished tasks of that war—the elimination of all racial discrimination.

Instead, its sponsors decided that their job was to be "fair to both sides" and they tried to accomplish that feat by commemorating particular battles.

Emphasis on particular battles simply meant that each army was to be depicted as fighting gloriously and bravely for a great cause. Of course, some southern soldiers fought courageously; so did some of the Nazi armies in World War II. But there was nothing glorious about the Nazi cause and there was nothing glorious about the cause of slavery for which the South fought.

Americans who want to commemorate the Civil War can do so by breathing life into the constitutional amendments that came out of it.

Baptist Row National Disgrace

The quarrel between factions in the National Baptist Convention is approaching the dimensions of a national scandal.

No annual meeting of the Convention is complete these days without quarrels and rumors of quarrels that overshadow the serious work the Convention is designed to perform.

From this distance we can't tell who is right and who is wrong but it does seem that the essence of the dispute is the effort of the controlling faction to perpetuate itself in office.

Long term service in the presidency is a tradition in the Convention which the Baptists tried to break up several years ago with a limitation on the number of terms one man might serve.

The Rev. J. H. Jackson, incumbent president, negatived the limitation rule almost as soon as it was instituted and there has been turmoil and strife ever since.

We don't believe that this incessant quarreling suits the purposes or the desires of the many thousands of devout Baptists throughout the nation. We are sure that what they want is for their church to pursue its objective and move on toward solution of the many serious problems confronting the church as a religious denomination and as a potent force in Negro life.

The quarrels simply strengthen the stereotype that many Americans hold of Negro organizations as centers of intrigue and as platforms for ambitious leaders more concerned with pomp and circumstance than with their professed aims.

The Baptists probably won't thank us for it but our advice is that they put an end to their squabbling.

If the leaders can't find a way out of the impasse they have created the rank and file ought to step in and call a halt to a course of conduct that is a reflection on all of us.

The Optimistic Goodwin Knight

Goodwin Knight, former governor who would like to have the job again, took in a lot of territory when he told reporters last week that he can win the "minority" vote.

We agree that Mr. Knight is head and shoulders above such Republicans as Joe Shell who has made a career out of acting like a Dixiecrat in the California legislature.

On the other hand, Mr. Knight fell far short of the legislative record piled up by the incumbent, Gov. Brown. California has enacted more civil rights laws in four years of Democratic rule than it got in the previous dozen years of Republican dominance in Sacramento.

The way we remember it is that while he was governor, Mr. Knight kept a discreet silence on such matters as FEPC and fair housing legislation. We would like to know where he stands now before we put too much credence in his optimistic predictions about his ability to win the "minority" vote.

Another U.S. District Atty.

President Kennedy last week named a Negro to serve as United States district attorney in Cleveland.

He is the second Negro lawyer to win a post of that kind. The first was District Attorney Cecil Poole of San Francisco who has been in office for a few months.

Such appointments help to destroy old beliefs that the Negro is an inferior unfit for public office.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

If this column seems a bit muddled-up, it's probably because its writer is, unabashedly. And if you think that it is not a muddling experience to skitter back and forth, wtihin the space of three weeks, from New York to Paris to Beirut to Athens to Rome to Oslo, back to New York for only a day and then to Dayton for nearly a week—if you think this is not a muddling experience, then you must have had a breaking-in as a one-man band.

You remember, the chap who used to appear on the old-time vaudeville stage playing a fiddle, blowing a mouth organ and beating a drum with his feet and the cymbals with his knees. He made noises, it's true, but it's to be doubted that any of us would call it music.

GRANGER

LOST WEEKS

It's the same way with my "lost three weeks." I had a series of fascinating exposures to people and situations, but by the time I had gotten back to Manhattan last week-end, these had melted together into a pot pourri of impressions. Even the copious notes I made in three countries had to be studied with care before they reproduced the ideas of which they had been intended to remind me.

Out of the blended impression, only two events could be reconstructed clearly: one was the Oslo, Norway, meeting of the executive committee meeting of the International Conference of Social Work, while the other was the annual conference of the National Urban League.

NEW PRESIDENT

If these had not remained clear in my memory, this would have been cause for me to rush (not walk) to the nearest reputable psychiatrist. For the Norway meeting marked the launching of my four-year presidency "on my own," while the Dayton, Ohio, meeting was the last public meeting of my twenty-year term as the League's national executive director. So both occasions were impregnated—for me at least—with a special quality of excitement and emotional intensity.

It was a good thing that the Norway meeting came first; otherwise the Dayton assembly might have seemed to me, in a sentimental let-down of feeling, as being a kind of a platform from which I was stepping off into thin air. As it was, there was no chance for me to feel that way. I was uncomfortably aware that for the next several weeks there would be added to the clean-up jobs at the Urban League headquarters the follow-up jobs arising out of the Oslo meeting.

The question wouldn't be, what would I do with my time? It would be, where can I find the time to do what I'm supposed to do? As a matter of fact, I informed one of the Dayton delegates who inquired sympathetically about my "adjustment toward retirement," that I had already contracted away 13 months out of the forthcoming year, so something would have to go.

LUSH GREEN

But these were two perfect meetings, so far as I was concerned—the one in a study-center setting tucked onto the side of a mountain, 20 miles from Oslo; the other in Dayton where 700 Urban League leaders jam-packed a hotel and tried to forget the steamy weather. There was no such heat or jamming at Lysebu, near Oslo; the temperature never rose above 70 degrees, and it several times dropped below 50. Fog and drizzle had us house-bound for two of the five-day meeting, and as for being jammed up — how can you jam 38 people on a mountainside when the nearest other buildings are a half-mile away and when you stand and look for 30 miles across valley and responsive mountainside rich with lush green and craggy rocks?

But small as the group was, that meeting was—in one sense—the world in microcosm. There were 16 nations represented, stretching across four continents. The bloodstrains of Africa and Asia and Latin America and North America and Europe were infused in a meeting of common interest.

Our discussions ranged from problems affected Central and West Africa to South Asia and the Western Pacific, to Central Europe, to the peons of Peru and the migrant farm workers of the USA. We argued and voted, and then argued again—until a consensus was reached. We shook hands with pride in our achievement in obtaining a solid consensus, and promised to see each other next year at Rio.

And in Dayton, large as that group was and as heterogeneously composed, it was an impressive example of solid unity around a central principle. Earnest discussion started on Sunday morning of Labor Day week-end and continued almost without break through the morning of the following Thursday, but at no point was there disagreement about the League's mission, basic method or philosophy. The discussion was about application of method in light of changing social settings — and here was plenty of room for all the argument anyone would want.

Well, to get back to my opening thought, I now realize that it's possible for a chap to have muddled impressions without being one bit confused. I can't remember all the details of what went on during the past three weeks, but I'm more clear than ever on the fact that there is little wrong with this world that application of common sense, team work and forbearance won't take care of. The question is, how can we produce these?

Loren Miller Says

is in the same kind of a position. You can't really blame him for accepting the councilmanic job when it was offered to him on a silver platter at a substantial yearly salary. Yet he's not properly at fault. The blame belongs to the eight councilmen who dredged him up from nowhere in order to stymie the demand for a Negro Councilman from the 10th District. But he can't dodge the fact that he is there for his constituents to talk to. And it is apparent that Negroes are in a talking mood as far as he is concerned.

Mr. Hollingsworth has become a symbol of the frustration that Negroes feel when they are denied rights and privileges simply because of race or color. He's the councilman who wouldn't be where he is except for the accident of his race. As long as he stays in office he will stick out like a sore thumb and draw the wrath of the entire community. From his point of view, the talking that his constituents are doing is conversation about his recall. The right who put him in office can't be touched but he is a sitting duck.

HARD JOB

Every recall that's talked about doesn't eventuate. It is a pretty hard job to oust a man from office once he's been elected, or appointed. In the first place, the recallers must get the assent of 20 per cent of the voters in the district. That means about 7500 signatures of voters from the 10th District. Getting that many votes is a pavement pounding job of going from house to house and taking names. Some of the names have no value. The signers are not registered. Others will sign their names improperly and still others will forget to use the middle initial they used when registering.

That doesn't end the job. Ultimately the election day rolls around and there's another task entailed in getttins the very people who signed the petitions to go out and vote. My experience is that some of those who do get to the polls become confused and forget whether they came out to vote against the incumbent or went there to keep him in his job.

THEY WON'T HELP

The difficulties of the task offer small comfort to Mr. Hollingsworth. If the recall gets under way he will be in the position of having to go out and defend himself. He hasn't got much ammunition. As far as I can make out, his record isn't good and it isn't bad. He just simply doesn't have any record on any public issues. He's the original little man who wasn't there; he hasn't been anywhere on any matters of general concern.

He'll learn too that he will get mighty little assistance from those who foisted him off on the 10th District. I'll tell him right now that neither the chef nor the management ever stands behind the waiter who serves up a tough steak. They let him shift for himself. After all, as the guest said, the waiter is there to be talked to. Mr. Hollingsworth is going to get an awful lot of talking to and it wouldn't surprise me if he doesn't get talked right out of the job he never should have had in the first place.

Hearings Set on Job Relationship

SAN FRANCISCO—Public hearings on employee-management relations in the federal service will commence at 9 a.m. Sept. 25 here in federal court room No. 258, Post Office and Court House Building, 7th and Mission streets.

Dr. Jackson Elected In Balloting by States center aisle of the auditorium and headed for the platform, presumably in an effort to "take over" the convention.

As Taylor and his group reached the steps, Miss Bluford said, they were prevented from reaching the platform by Jackson supporters. A scuffle followed with fists flying. No weapons were displayed.

NOBODY PUSHED

"It appeared to me," continued the writer, "that the Rev. Mr. Wright and Mr. (Rev. B. F.) Paxton were scuffling but they may have been trying to balance themselves. Nobody pushed or shoved them over." Both men fell from the platform, but Rev. Paxton was not injured.

Other reports indicated that Rev. Wright apparently believed that he was leaning against a wall to support himself whereas he was next to a curtain. Police were of the opinion that the death was an accident, but they were continuing the investigation.

The way was opened for an orderly election when representatives of both factions agreed to a court-appointed monitor.

SWEEPING ORDER

The sweeping court order gave Dr. Holmes authority to decide who could vote in the election. It also restrained both Dr. Jackson and Dr. Taylor and their supporters from engaging in any disorderly conduct. A large contingent of police officers was on hand at all times to see that the court orders were carried out.

In selecting Dr. Holmes, Judge Richard H. Koenigsdorf commented, "Dr. Holmes is an old friend of mine and I certainly have every confidence in his integrity and ability."

In the registration prior to the opening of the convention, Dr. Jackson's forces issued a registration form, the signing of which carried endorsement of the Jackson slate.

FIRM HAND

During the voting, Dr. Holmes, calm and assured, kept a firm hand on proceedings.

The state delegations came to the platform in alphabetical order. As each group appeared before him Rev. Holmes ordered, "All those who are for Dr. Taylor for president will stand up on their feet and keep quiet." After they were counted, he told them to sit down—and keep quiet—while those for Dr. Jackson were tallied.

In explaining the ousting of Rev. King, Dr. Jackson said the rules were changed to conform with the charter of the organization that was issued in 1915. Dr. E. C. Estell of Dallas was elected to the post formerly held by Dr. King.

TOOK OVER

In his attack on the Rev. King and others, Dr. Jackson said, according to the Kansas City Star, "The method of campaign was due largely to Brother King.

"His backers marched in boldly and took over the convention from folks. We never had this kind of thing before, until the last three years.

"This disregard for convention officers and the pushing of folks off the platform was the result of an election campaign so vicious it produced violence," Dr. Jackson continued.

He also took exception to the techniques of CORE, which Dr. King backs.

"What do you produce when you are in jail?" he queried.

DIFFERENT PHILOSOPHY

Dr. Jackson said he was elected president instead of Dr. Taylor because of their difference in philosophy. The Taylor group, he said, wanted to protest racial segregation and lack of civil rights but "not do anything about alleviating the problems.

"They want somebody else to solve them. They want the government to do it."

He continued: "Negroes have got to learn there is something else in the country besides civil rights."

He said he held the auditorium and city officials responsible for not keeping order during the convention. He said, "Our contract was broken when we asked the auditorium authorities for these people to be removed and this was not done. It was not our job to get them out."

Commit Suicide

down, he was resting on a cot. The upper part of the body was suspended by an electric extension cord he had wound around his neck.

The previous night he had borrowed the car of his sister, Mrs. Elnora Johnson, 4206 W. Adams blvd., and was picked up by police in Pasadena for traveling 41 miles per hour in a 30-mile zone. Additionally, he had no driver's license.

ON PAROLE

Craig was on parole from Folsom, which he left only three months ago. His sister said he "had been in trouble with the police all his life and had been at the state prison three times." Apparently he didn't want to return.

He left a note addressed "Kids," and signed, "John."

The note said: "Take good care of Pamula for me, will you? And again I love you. Goodbye Barbara Jean Austin. I love you, but this is the way it has to be. With all my love."

CHANCE CALLER

At the 103rd street residence, Barbara Jett's brother was showing her how to fire their father's revolver, so that she could protect herself. Their lives had been threatened recently, he told police.

As he was explaining the use of the weapon, a salesman knocked at the front door and Jett went to answer it.

While they were talking, he heard a shot coming from the kitchen.

He found Barbara lying on the floor, bleeding from the head. He raised her and propped her up against a chair, but it was too late. Miss Jett had found a way out.

School Bias In Pasadena Is Challenged

its Negro enrollment seriously overbalances its small white attendance.

Dr. Robert E. Jenkins, superintendent of Pasadena city schools, told the press he had suddenly become a national cynosure, with calls being made to him "from all over the United States" for his opinion in the matter.

After pointing out that the transfer was made on approval of a majority of the members of the Board of Education, and that the board had followed the recommendation of a committee which included "five Negroes," Jenkins vowed he would fight Jackson's charges. He did not explain how the suit, which is similar to ones filed in various other Northern cities all the time, had caused such a rash of national interest.

NAACP OBJECTS

Jackson made his charges in a writ of mandate filed by Altadena Atty. Samuel C. Sheats, who is a member of the legal redress committee of the NAACP. One of the members of the committee which recommended the transfer of pupils from Washington to McKinley is George Jones, president of the Pasadena NAACP chapter. Jones said he voted against the transfer.

Although intimating the Negroes who voted for the transfer made it right, Jenkins would not explain why the board would permit so many white students to attend schools far away from their own school districts, unless the transfer was actually sought chiefly on racial grounds.

FIGHT NOT NEW

The fight is not new. It just broke into the open when Sheats had all School Board members served with the intention of the suit.

Some time ago the La Canada district unified, and pulled its Linda Vista school out of the Pasadena school district, thus necessitating the overflow of Pasadena pupils to seek schools elsewhere in the Pasadena area. The send displaced pupils, most of whom were white, to the school district closest to their place of residence. But this was not done. The white pupils were allowed to transfer to a school far removed from their bailiwick, McKinley, which is considered—although integrated by law — a "white" school because almost all of its pupils are white.

WHITES HAPPY

The whites do not regard a school of a majority of whites as an inferior, or Jim Crow school, as Jackson and other Negroes regard Negro - laden Washington High School.

of 4126 Country Club drive, and Dr. Louis Fraction were arrested with other occupants for consorting.

Another pickup was seen by patrolmen at Western avenue and Washington and the officers arrested Beverly Elaine Harper and David Woolridge in an apartment at 2608 Ridgeley drive.

The following young women offered to teach Chief Parker's officers a few tricks and show them a good time for a $10 fee. They were apprehended at various points along Western avenue from 59th to 25th streets: Phyllis Hunt, 21, of 852 W. Florence; Kim Ergliss, 21, of 1239 Denker avenue; Fannie Taylor, 38, of 4522 S. Figueroa; Doris Tabor, 2636 La Salle; Terry Moore, 19, of 4235 W. Vernon avenue; Marie Wade, 22, of 1337 W. 52nd; and Vicki Stella, 22, of 1337 W. 52nd street.

Also Eloise Edna Clark, 21, of 3987 Budlong, and Ada Norwood, 19, and Gloria Edwards, 27, of 1634 W. 29th street, who set up an appointment in an apartment at 1711 W. 38th street where she was arrested.

Recall Plans In 10th District Gain Support

four weeks before was the recall of Hollingsworth, a white real estate operator.

ELECT SEVEN

Efforts to have a new steering unit of seven nominees unify local civic, religious and social groups behind the recall move as a first and foremost project was passed over heated opposition from some members attending the session.

The Rev. H. H. Brookins, chairman of the original policy-forming committee, spoke against "an emotional move such as this without taking into consideration broader necessities that will have to do with Negro voting in many months to come."

Other members voiced equally warm opposition to this point of view, urging top interest in the recall but not speaking so strongly about aims like mass registration and making the Negro public more aware of civic actions.

WANT ANALYST

One speaker emphasized that a political analyst should be called in to study the entire political situation as applying to Negro citizens, and to suggest what possible remedies would be in order.

At one point Atty. Eugene Hall rose to charge that some of those who wanted to concentrate solely on recall plans were willing to contribute "only talk" to the project. He offered to contribute a hundred dollars on the spot against an equal sum posted by any of the "recall only" advocates.

Not only was the challenge met, but many other members present pledged several hundred dollars to the fight, after agreeing that the money was to be used to implement all of the points submitted by the committee. A secretary was selected to take charge of letter writing and office work.

FREE OFFICES

Free office space was offered by Cecil B. Murrell, local realtor, for the seven-member committee staff.

The group also voted to retain the original large committee until the smaller steering committee begins to function. It was further decided that 25 persons be selected to put into citywide action the platform of the group, and to aid in selection of other groups and organizations to work in the expansive political action program.

WANT TWO

Mr. Brookins urged the 16 Negroes who had applied unsuccessfully for the council seat filled by Hollingsworth to join the current action group in selection of two qualified Negroes from the 16 to be placed as candidates for desired public office.

He urged the Los Angeles Negro community then be made fully aware of the qualifications of these men and that the entire community work unitedly to get these men elected at the proper time.

city's top Negro undertaker, Diggs won.

Wright, who also had his own insurance company, campaigned for years to get Negroes better jobs and housing in Detroit, but his methods sometime came under censure of the local Negro newspaper and the NAACP. As a businessman, he purchased numerous Detroit apartment buildings and other real estate property at a time when Negroes found it hard to rent apartments.

Then he developed a heavy interest in the ministry. Few people in Detroit, however, were acquainted with his ministerial work. Most people knew him simply as "A. G. Wright, the undertaker."

Murph for Bishop Testimonial Set Fri.

• This Friday, Sept. 15, at 7:30 p.m., many outstanding civic and religious leaders and laymen of the city will gather at Grant AME Church for the kick-off banquet in honor of Rev. Henry W. Murph, aspirant for the Bishopric of the AME Church. Sharing honors with Rev. Murph will be his charming and gracious wife, Mrs. Geraldine Murph.

The Murph for Bishop Club, sponsor of the affair, has made elaborate plans to make the banquet a tremendous success, and a capacity crowd is expected to pay tribute to Rev. Murph in recognition of the many outstanding contributions he has made to the church and community.

Arthur J. Clement, district manager of the North Carolina Mutual Insurance Co., will be the main speaker. Benjamin Cooper, a trustee of Grant, will serve as the master of ceremonies.

The Program Committee, under the leadership of Miss Cynthia Gibson, chairman, and assisted by Mrs. Jean J. Prescott, has outlined a unique program which will include such notables as Vernon Kilpatrick, Assemblyman of the 55th District; Councilman John S. Gibson of the 15th District.

Also Henri O'Bryant, Fire Commissioner; Atty. Everett M. Porter, Police Commissioner; Dr. H. Claude Hudson, Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Co.; Rev. X. C. Runyon, presiding elder of the South Los Angeles District, Rev. Louis Owens, Jesse Robinson, and Henry Pettigrew, president of the Southern California Conference Laymen's organization.

The Ways and Means Committee is headed by Mrs. Pearlie Craig. Floyd Webster, general chairman, expects all persons interested in the campaign of Rev. Murph to unite with the club in the banquet tribute to the outstanding churchman.

Rev. Jerry Ford Back in Pulpit

Rev. Jerry W. Ford, pastor of Price Chapel AME Church, will return to his pulpit Sunday after a month vacation tour with his family through 22 states. His sermon topic for Sunday morning will be: "The Spiritual Implication of the Physical."

At the 7:30 p.m. service the motion pictures and color slides taken on the trip will be shown the members of the congregation and the friends who attend the service.

The high point of the trip was the visit to the peaceful locations in Canada and the visit as guest spectators in the House of Representatives in Washington, D.C., during the height of the debate on the foreign aid bill, Rev. Ford said. It was interesting to note that racial problems and issues played a large part in the discussions, because of the colored peoples of the world who would be benefited by the aid program.

Young Jerry Ford accompanied his father to the Cloak Room and chatted with members of the House, including the honorable Sam Rayburn who retired from duty shortly afterward.

In Virginia, the Fords were amazed to find absolutely no discrimination. Congressman James Roosevelt provided guest section passes for the entire Ford family to visit the House and the Senate.

Rev. Mays who has been a member of the Southern California Conference for 14 years, has pastored in several Churches of the Conference; and is expected to enliven the Church spiritually and to increase its membership.

tist Convention of American form a new organization built on the Christian principle of love and doing unto others as you would have others do unto you.

SOBERING INFLUENCE

The Pasadena pastor seemed to hold little hope that Rev. Jackson could unify his branch of the Baptists. He said that "Dr. Jackson's attack upon CORE, the Freedom Riders and the Sit-in movement has our whole church upset."

He continued: "The death of Rev. A. G. Wright of Detroit and the loss of his front teeth by the Rev. C. C. Wheeler of Chicago, the presence of the riot squads from the Police Department, as well as the mayor's appeal for law, order, peace and harmony, added up to a sobering influence on the delegates."

By the time the election was held, the majority of the Taylor supporters had become disgusted with the proceedings, especially those leading to the death of Rev. Wright, he continued, and either went home or stayed in their rooms.

CHRISTIAN-LIKE

The result, he went on, was that Jackson's supporters were able to vote him in as president for 1962.

"Dr. Taylor went back to Brooklyn following the election," Rev. Robinson continued, "and did not reveal his plans for future action, but I hang my head in shame at the turn of events in Kansas City and regret that as ministers we are not able to settle our differences in a more Christian-like manner."

The only way the Taylor supporters gained entrance to the auditorium, Rev. Robinson revealed, was to form a human chain and force their way through a hundred or more of Jackson's delegates who were determined to keep the Taylorites out.

NOT SECRET

Dr. Taylor, he said, was kept from the platform until the actual voting began, and added that during the elections many of Taylor's backers were afraid to vote their convictions, because the ballot was not secret.

Rev. Martin Luther King had nothing to do with the plan to enter the auditorium, Rev. Robinson said in answer to a charge made by Jackson. The plan followed, he went on, was suggested by the Rev. W. K. Jackson of Oklahoma City, who proposed that they meet at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning, and together with Dr. Taylor, open the convention.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch--Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Mrs. Clara Kauffman, secretary to Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, called this reporter last week and said, "We here in the office are extremely happy that your group was successful in integrating the Western Avenue (Caucasian) Women's golf club."

She also said that her office attempted to locate this writer for several days because they had been following our integration fights.

Thank you, Mrs. Kauffman, and tell the Attorney General that we are very pleased that he is attempting to get PGA to drop its Caucasian clause.

By the way, if you are a late reader of this column, we would like to bring you up on the facts of the Attorney General's case against PGA.

Bill Spiller some time ago wrote the attorney general and complained that PGA would not give him a membership; he then asked this reporter to publicize this fact.

The first move we made was to ask Mrs. Eloise Davis (who was leaving for a vacation in San Francisco) to visit the attorney general's office in Sacramento and explain the situation to Franklin Williams, his assistant at that time in charge of civil rights, which she did.

Two weeks later Franklin Williams flew down to Los Angeles and requested a conference with this writer, Bill Spiller, Charles Sifford and Jimmy DeVoe. The attorney general's office was convinced that PGA was discriminating against Negroes and has been fighting PGA ever since.

VERNONCREST — What happened to the top Negro golfers and why didn't they play in the tournament? Names noticeable because of their absence were the San Francisco champ, Elizabeth Fuchols, Emmy Banks (Griffith Park), Maude Thomas (Sepulveda), Earl Reason (Cosmopolitan, Billy Eckstine (Sepulveda), Alonso Pemberton (Cosmopolitan) and all the other top golfers?

Where was the Meadowlark (Caucasian) player whose anticipated presence was advertized on the air? Did the Fox Hills men alert her that there might be a picket line to cross or was she afraid that if she participated she might be expected to invite a few of the Negro women players to be guests at her private club at Meadowlark?

BEN MALLARD — Why don't you stop soliciting trophies and pictures in the name of the innocent Budweiser firm when you are aware that Negroes cannot belong to the Fox Hills Men's Club? Why do you have them spending their money on publicity (pictures) when you know that there is a Caucasian clause in their golf contract? If we are going to ask our people to stay away from the Beverly Hilton then we should not support the Fox Hills Club.

Cadilli vs Valdez

The Oympic Auditorium will not have a boxing show this Thursday because of the Dodger-Pittsburgh game.

Featherweights Gil Cadilli and Danny Valdez headline the Sept. 21 card at the 18th and Grand arena.

Cadilli won the California 126 pound title from Valdez in a thrilling and close 12-rounder, Aug. 17.

HOME—Walter Hogan seeking entry in the U. S. Amatuer tourney at Pebble Beach, Sept. 11-16.

Young Walter Hogan Home After Winning Golf Title

Walter Hogan, recent British Junior Golf Title Winner, returned Sept. 7th with an intention to play in the U. S. Amateur Tournament at Pebble Beach Sept. 11-16.

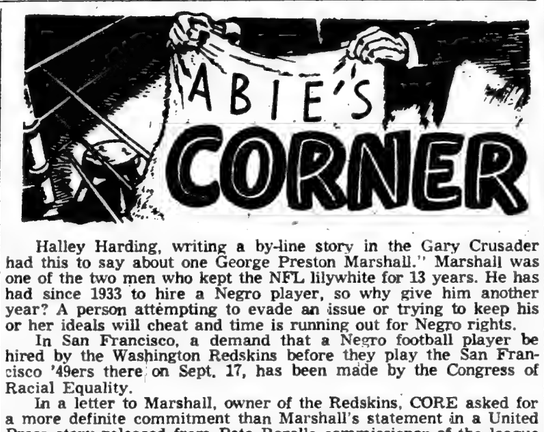
In winning the British honor, Hogan turned in a ten-under-par score, topping his nearest rival among England's top junior golfers by two points, despite badly blistered hands and an acute attack of nervousness.

"I got so keyed up after winning a leading position the second day that I couldn't sleep that night," he says . . . and the following day he found himself six shots behind.

The third stanza, however, found him relaxed and ready to live up to the expectations of fans who were cheering him on.

"All my life," says Hogan, "My Aunt has been telling me to try my hardest to do my best at everything, but never to let my hopes run away with my heart. My experience in England indicates she was pretty close to right, at least when it comes to the game of golf."

Hogan had been a favorite for this year's Junior Crown after having come out third last year.



His card for our rounds in the recent competition was 70-68-70-67 for a total of 275. The runner-up, popular British Peter Bonning, had 70-69-63-75 for an 8-under-par score of 277.

Race Season Starts Friday

POMONA—Pomona's vast stable area developed into a busy mecca of horsemen and horses this week, as the first heavy wave of thoroughbred, quarter horse and harness horse invaders checked in for the 1961 Los Angeles County Fair racing season opening Friday, Sept. 15.

Trainer Reggie Cornell, faced with the task of transporting his 40-horse contingent from Del Mar to Pomona, has been shipping his stable in sections the past couple of days.

Nominations for three of the eight richly endowed stakes to be run during the Pomona meeting close tomorrow night, including the $20,000 added Pomona Handicap, mile and one furlong test which brings the meeting to a close Sept. 30. Among those expected to be nominated for the Pomona is the Greenville Farm's First Balcony, winner of the $100,000 added California this summer at Hollywood Park.

Halley Harding, writing a by-line story in the Gary Crusader had this to say about one George Preston Marshall." Marshall was one of the two men who kept the NFL lilywhite for 13 years. He has had since 1933 to hire a Negro player, so why give him another year? A person attempting to evade an issue or trying to keep his or her ideals will cheat and time is running out for Negro rights.

In San Francisco, a demand that a Negro football player be hired by the Washington Redskins before they play the San Francisco '49ers there on Sept. 17, has been made by the Congress of Racial Equality.

In a letter to Marshall, owner of the Redskins, CORE asked for a more definite commitment than Marshall's statement in a United Press story released from Pete Rozelle commissioner of the league in which he (Marshall), promised to draft Negro players if given an opportunity. CORE demanded assurance "that discrimination will no longer be a reality anywhere in the NFL.

They asked positive steps, at once prior to the appearance of the Redskins in S. F. CORE also warned that silence or a negative answer would cause the organiaztion to "feel obliged to make its position known to the people of San Francisco.

CORE's attitude could mean that the Redskins-'49ers game would be greeted with a mass picket line such as the one held when the team visited the Coliseum when they played the L. A. Rams several weeks ago.

Charley Sifford to Play in Ontario $20,000 Open Tourney

Charley Sifford, the nation's greatest Negro star, has sent in a signed entry for the $23,000 Ontario Open golf tournament, Oct. 11-15 at the beautiful Whispering Lakes Golf Course.

The tournament is the newest on the PGA circuit and is expected to lure a big segment of the country's finest players.

Sifford, who has this year become the first Negro to play in several Southern tourneys, is by far the most successful golfer of his race. He won the Long Beach Open a couple years ago and has been well up in many big events.

Always with a cigar in his mouth, the smallish Sifford is a very a popular man among his follow pros. He has a fine all-around game and an especially keen touch on the putting greens.

Pre-season tickets for the Ontario Open, priced at $7 and good for all five days of play, are now on sale at courses in the vicinity of Whispering Lakes.

Fresno State Grid Team in Heavy Drills

Fresno State which opens its 1961 schedule against Montana State at Great Falls, Montana started its second full week of practice with full scale scrimmage. Some 40 players greeted coach Cecil Coleman at the first "heading-knocking" session last Monday. The home opening game against University of Santa Barbara on Sept. 23 marks the start of the Bulldog's bid for a fourth consecutive California Collegiate Athletic Association championship.

Royal Dragons Social Club In 20th Annual Dance

Some day when the history of Social Clubs in the city is written, there will be an appreciative section on the men's groups. One such group we hope will be a special section for the Royal Dragons.

The club was organized in 1941 and is unique because all of their affairs are invitational and never can you purchase a ticket to one of the club's events because they don't sell.

Last Saturday night the Royal Dragons entertained with their 20th annual Sports Prom at the Fox Hills Country Club.

Some 1000 guests answered their invites and danced to the music of the Jeepsters featuring Curley Dinkins.

Honorary member Atty. Chris Wright served as master of ceremonies and introduced the following officers and members. Board of Supervisors Salutes 12 Big Sisters

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors this week saluted the pre-delinquency program of the Twelve Big Sisters, citing its invaluable role as "big sisters" to scores of troubled Negro girls since its inception in 1947.

The board also urged support of the non-profit organization's current fund campaign pointing out that it has aided predeliquent girls who have had contact with law enforcement agencies readjust to the community.

Supervisor Ernest E. Debs, Board chairman, introduced the proclamation and presented it to Attorney Audrey B. Jones, president of Twelve Big Sisters.

Also underscored was the fact that the organization has purchased a home at 2561 Van Buren, in the Adams - Normandie area, which will serve as a "halfway house" of treatment for girls leaving city, county and state correctional institutions. The facility, to be opened when funds are available, according to Atty. Jones, will be called the Faustina Home.

Contributions to Twelve Big Sisters are tax-deductible and may be sent to Mrs. Kelso Parker, treasurer, 2708 S. Western Ave., Los Angeles 18.

Around the World in 50 Days with the Robinsons

The following article, "Around the World in 50 Days," brings to a close a series on an interesting tour of the globe recently taken by Jesse and Myrtle Robinson.

Monday we left Berlin for Copenhagen, the birthplace of my boss, Postmaster Otto K. Oleson. Copenhagen is a wonderful city. I felt very comfortable there, for most people spoke English, and it was easy to get about.

There are a half million bicycles in Copenhagen, for young and old alike. This is the favorite mode of transportation to work, to market, to pleasure, etc. We visited the famous Tivoli, the Sherman Circus, and the Little Mermaid made famous by Hans Christian Anderson.

Now that our fifty days around the world are over, we wish to thank the Eagle and its staff for allowing us to share our experiences with you. We wrote these articles so that the readers might realize that if Jesse and Myrtle, two employees of the people, could travel around the world on their earnings, any American who wishes could also broaden and enrich his own life by such a trip.

It has made us very happy to have so many people tell us that they have followed our trip with enthusiasm. Some have asked if we had enough time. Our answer is that you have more time by jet, to see the world than any other way. By jet the world is very small.

By boat it takes four days to go to Honolulu from Los Angeles; by jet, five hours. In six hours from Honolulu you can be in Tokyo. Eleven hours and fifty minutes from Los Angeles you can walk in the streets of Copenhagen, Denmark.

In conclusion, it was not the time that concerned us most, but the money! There was always plenty of time, and plenty we wanted to do. I am sure you will find it the same.

Gompers PTA Board Holds First Meeting of Season

Mrs. Arthur Williams, president of the Gomper PTA Board, presided over the group's first meeting last Thursday.

The meeting was well attended and the president and her board members stirred up a great deal of interest as they outlined their 1961-62 plans.

UNITY — One of the best ways in which to get started is by supporting Negro business of all varieties and particularly by supporting this publication with a subscription!

RALLY — Now that the Freedom Rally at the Sports Arena has been booted around like a pigskin, we can reveal that the idea was lifted from the Medical Auxiliary which went so far as to hire Jock Williams to do the PR and had it scheduled for the Coliseum. But the Brothers of the Cloth moved in much too swiftly for the women!

DOROTHY JACKSON—A winsome and attractive Compton school teacher and Raymond Bruce, KNOB's master FM spinner, look like a love item!

TOP RANK—Lots of happenings at Shelly's Manne Hole these days. The great Bud Shank Quartet is set for every Tuesday night, with Barney Kessel back on the stand Thursdays along with our own Helen Humes and traditional New Orleans jazz sessions on Sunday afternoons. And don't forget the one and only Shelly Manne is there on weekends.

Close-Up Show Opening Series September 19

"Walk In My Shoes," the story of the Negro in the United States and what he is thinking told entirely by Negro Americans—will be presented Tuesday, Sept. 19 on ABC-TV, 10-11 p.m., as the first program in ABC's 1961-62 "Close-Up" series.

DIVERSIFIED OPINIONS

Produced entirely by the ABC News Special Projects Division, "Walk In My Shoes" explores the world of the Negro American, and listens to him as he speaks in many voices.

He speaks both for and against the Black Muslims; he is for and against the Rev. Martin Luther King; he is for and against Freedom Riders; he is for and against more rapid integration; he is for and against the NAACP. Although he may make great strides, he is never completely accepted in the main stream of American life.

NATIONWIDE COMMENTS

The Negro will tell the entire story: A Black Muslim taxi driver in New York; famed comedian Dick Gregory at San Francisco's "hungry i"; city people and country people in Chicago, Nashville, Philadelphia, Washington, Atlanta, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The "Close-Up!" series will encompass at least six one-hour and 10 half-hour documentaries.

Triple Dates Will Feature Music Greats

Duke Ellington, Dizzy Gillespie and George Shearing, will be featured in a series of concerts at the Monterey Jazz Festival, Sept. 22-23-24.

FRIDAY NIGHT DELIGHT

Johnny Hodges' "Modern Mainstreamers" with Gillespie, Ben Webster, Earl 'Fatha' Hines, Harry Carney, Stuff Smith and others; Terry Gibbs' new all-star band; Jimmy Rushing and Big Miller in "Dueting the Blues."

DOUBLE DATES SAT.

"Ellington Carte Blanche," an unprecedented program of new works and ageless classic by Ellington, his orchestra and guests.

Saturday night, Sept. 23—Gillespie quintet with singer Joe Carroll; Carmen McRae; George Shearing quintet plus Festival Brass Choir and others."

SUNDAY SESSION

Gillespie and a specially organized workshop band conducted by Gunther Schuller in world premiere of J. J. Johnson's "Perceptions" for trumpet, brass . . . and percussion, and Lalo Shiffrin's "Gillespina Suite" and "Tunisian Fantasy."

Sunday night, Sept. 24—Elington and his orchestra; world premiere of Odetta in the "Bessie Smith Story," Horace Silver quintet and many others.

Phil Gordon Makes the New York Scene

Saw the Apollo Theatre Brook Benton Revue and it was excellent, with Brook showing more and more class and artistry every time out and ably abetted by the performances of singer, Betty Carter; dancer, Bobby Ephram; comedian, Willie Lewis; the Drifters and Reuben Phillips and the band. This week its a Gospel Caravan, and starting tomorrow, a jazz show starring Gloria Lynn, Art Blakey and the Jazz Messengers and Olatungi and his Drums of Passion.

DO-DO RETURNS

My aunt returned from her Mexico jaunt with a tan and many happy memories of bull fights in Monterey and pleasant stops to visit friends like Dr. and Mrs. Henry Shorter in Atlanta, and Mrs. Georgia Williams in Birmingham. When she got in the house she was greeted with a very tasty birthday cake made for her by Mrs. Margaret Jackson (mother of pianist, Calvin Jackson).

Mr. William B. Carter, Imperial Advisor of the Daughters of Isis, returned from Cincinnati, from the 62nd Annual Convention of Masons, with glowing tales of a wonderful time and a most gracious acceptance in that city. All in all, the convention was a success.

From L.A. has come our very dear friend, Dr. Mary McCoo, to visit with her parents in Jersey City, and her sister here in N.Y. Haven't seen Mary yet, but had better before she departs back to the Coast.

Received cards from Urban League secretary, Ruth Allen King, at the Annual Conference in Dayton, Ohio; from telephone company supervisor, Mary Antonio, in Hyannis, Mass.; from Anne K. McDougald, at Pleasant Acres Country Club, in Napanoch, N.Y.; from my mother-in-law, Mary Elliott, in the North Woods country of Lewiston, Michigan; and from former Bay Area resident, Hazel Johnson, in Tulsa, Okla.; all saying they are having fun.

DEBUTANTES COTILLION

Tonight (14th) a pre-cotillion party will be given at their home, by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sachar on Park Avenue to set the pace of the 1961 International Debutante Cotillion of the National Council of Negro Women at the Hotel Commodore, Sept. 22. Sponsored by Baron Theo Von Roth, Ball vice-chairman (and dubbed by Life magazine as one of the three top party givers in the world), the party will honor Dorothy I. Height, national president of the organization founded by the late Mary McLeod Bethune.

STOVE PIPE HAT AT MUSIC BOX

Tex Ritter has been signed to star in his first stage musical play, "Stovepipe Hat," which will have its world premiere at the Music Box Theater in Hollywood Wednesday, September 20, it has been announced by Dan Seymour, the show's producer.

As indicated by the title, "Stovepipe Hat," which has book, lyrics and music by Walter F. Hannan, Edward Heyman, and Harold Spina, deals with a series of warm and humorous events which affected the life of Abraham Lincoln. However, Lincoln never appears in the play.

"Stovepipe Hat", which is scheduled to make its Broadway debut following its run at the Music Box, will boast a cost of 40 professional singers, dancers and actors, plus an orchestra. It will be directed by Harold Spina, composer of the score, who is noted for his many song hits and scores of motion pictures.

The new musical will be presented nightly, except Mondays with a matinee on Saturday afternoons at 2:30. Seats are now on sale at the box office and all theater ticket agencies.

"BALCONY" BREAKS RECORD

Leading the recent resurgence of interest in legitimate theater in Southern California is the striking production of Jean Genet's controversial international stage hit "The Balcony", which is beginning the fourth month of its record breaking run at the Civic Playhouse in Hollywood.

Acclaimed by many critics throughout the world as a work of genius, and condemned by others as the product of a depraved and evil mind, "The Balcony" is emulating the success which it

Large Crowd Turns Out for Ghana Prelate

The Knights and Ladies of Peter Claver turned out in full regalia to welcome the Archbishop John Kodwo Amissah, of Cape Coast, Ghana, at Holy Name Catholic church last Sunday morning. In fact, the worshippers packed every available space inside the church and it overflowed onto the sidewalk as the Archbishop celebrated the pontifical mass at 10:30 a.m.

The African prelate, only 39 years of age, spoke to the Knights and Ladies assembled of their duties to spread peace in their environment and the world around them by first learning what peace is.

"Peace," he said, "is the tranquilty of order. Each one must learn to put things in their proper places with first things first. Man's relationship to God and the rules of life which regulate the order and place of every living thing in relation to the Creator." He told them that the rules are very simple and that to find them one must go to the book of instructions which is laid down for everyone to use in order to find the peace which is based on the love of God and one's neighbor.

Nabisco Scores Again Now It's Easy Scone Mix

A boon to homemakers, caterers and restaurant managers made its appearance in Los Angeles last Friday, during a high tea at Perino's on Wilshire Blvd. The product is the versatile Dromedary Scone Mix which will appear on grocery shelves for about 30c near the end of this month.

The tea table was laid with the succulent variety of teatime delights which even the most inexperienced cook can master. The mix comes with a well detailed set of instructions.

Scones are rich tea biscuits which originated in Scotland, but here in America Eleanor Croizer and her staff have worked out miracle foods using the mix as a base.

The National Biscuit Co., the perfect host, invited food editors, home economists and radio and TV personnel as well as members of the press to the high tea. And each received a beautiful silver tray on which to serve the delicacies which were to be made from the accompanying box of Dromedary Scone Mix.

Bad taste has limits; only good taste can exceed bounds.

Ralph Bunche's Name Proposed For Job of Dag Hammarskjold

TOP JOB?—Dr. Ralph Bunche is one of those whose names have been proposed as a possible replacement for Dag Hammarskjold, as head of the United Nations.

Experience, Race Held In His Favor

By GRACE E. SIMONS

Dr. Ralph Bunche, United Nations secretary, who has served the world organization for many years, including considerable time in trouble spots in Africa, is one of the men who is being mentioned in New York as a possible successor for Dag Hammarskjold, who was killed in an airplane crash in Northern Rhodesia Sunday night.

In the crisis situation in which the U. N. finds itself, many observers believed it entirely unlikely that any American, or, for that matter, a representative of any of the major powers, could receive the necessary approval both of the Security Council and of the General Assembly.

MIGHT FAVOR NEGRO

There are some who say, however, that the fact that Bunche is a Negro might make him more acceptable to African and Asian nations than any other American. His practical experience in executing UN policy could also, these sources say, weigh in his favor.

The death of Hammarskjold comes at a time when conditions in the Congo were rapidly deteriorating, with the Belgian-led armies of secessionist Katanga Province successfully battling against UN forces on half a dozen fronts.

Although initial reports listed the crash of Hammarskjold's plane as an accident, later infor-

Dr. Jackson Censured For Slur on Rev. King

Dr. J. H. Jackson, re-elected president two weeks ago of the 5,000,000-member National Baptist Convention Inc., was censured this week by more than 30 Baptist leaders in 25 states for what they termed his "vicious and un-Christian attack" on the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr.

This action was one of the repercussions reverberating throughout the country following the storm-tossed Kansas City Convention.

NEW CONVENTION

In another development in Cincinnati, a voluntary Committee was set up for the "Formation of a New National Baptist Convention," under the chairmanship of the Rev. L. V. Booth, pastor of Zion Baptist Church of that city.

The committee will hold a two-day convention Nov. 14-15 in Cincinnati to form an organization to "redeem the Baptist initiative and restore a democratic thrust."

Some of the top Baptist leaders of the country joined in the protest against Dr. Jackson's statements to newsmen in Kansas City, during which the newly elected president reportedly declared that Dr. King had "master-minded" the "invasion" of the convention floor that resulted in a free-for-all on the platform during which one delegate was shoved or fell to his death.

Those signing the telegram of protest included Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College; Dr. Ralph Abernathy, of Montgomery, Ala.; Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, of Birmingham fame who now lives in Ohio; Dr. Gardner C. Taylor of New York who opposed Dr. Jackson for the presidency of the Baptist organization; and the Rev. D. A. Holmes, elderly pastor of Kansas City, whom the court appointed as moderator to preside at the Baptist convention.

In their telegram the ministers called Dr. King "one of the greatest men of our time," and said his "Christian character is unimpeachable, his integrity is untarnished and his leadership unquestioned."

ASK APOLOGY

They further asked for a "public repudiation" of "this character-assassination."

They said they were "gravely disturbed" by statements attributed to Dr. Jackson that "constitute a vicious and un-Christian

Jury Finds Killing Was 'Justifiable'

"Justifiable homicide."

That was the verdict of a coroner's jury Monday morning in the death of widely known and well liked Robert Cornelius Lewis, 43, of 6620 Figueroa street, whose body was found last Friday morning on the lawn in front of 13218 Mettler avenue.

CLOSE RANGE

Lewis had been shot through the eye at close range.

Joseph Emil Terry, also well known locally and popular, was arrested on suspicion of murder, following the discovery of the body.

He was not held, however, as a result of the jury's verdict. Nor was Mrs. Mildred Walker, mother of two children, and third member of what police indicated was an involved love triangle. Lewis' body was found in front of her home.

CO-WORKER

Mrs. Walker is an inspection supervisor at the Neuschotz Engineering Co., 6500 Avalon blvd., manufacturers of aircraft parts. Lewis worked at the same plant. As a youth, he attended local schools, graduating from Jefferson High. He also served three years in the Navy.

He lived with a cousin, Marie Mullins, but up until about three months ago reportedly was living at the Mettler street address.

Last Thursday night, about 9:30 p.m., police reported, Lewis called Mrs. Walker, asked her such questions as "Who are you sleeping with now?" and threatened to come over to her house and kill her.

Terry, who lives on 118th street, was in Mrs. Walker's home at the time. He picked up the telephone and argued with Lewis.

POUNDING ON DOOR

Fifteen minutes later, police said, there was a pounding on the door. Terry answered. Lewis was standing outside, demanding entry, insisting upon seeing Mrs. Walker.

Terry told him she didn't want to talk to him. The two men argued, then struggled. Lewis, the police reported, went after Terry with a 10-inch crescent wrench.

Mrs. Walker ran to Terry and gave him a pistol. Terry shot twice into the ground, but Lewis reportedly still kept coming towards him, striking out with the wrench in his hand.

Terry fired again. The shot

Teamsters Deny Williams Fired for Bus Bias Fight

The fight of a group of Negro Teamsters in California to bring about an integrated hiring policy among Greyhound bus drivers took on enlarged meaning this week as two outstanding moves were disclosed.

In the first, Negro Teamsters filed an official complaint with the President's Committee on Equal Employment against the race bias policy of Greyhound Bus Lines.

MAN FIRED

In the second, it was learned one of the Teamsters who is foremost in the campaign to get Negro drivers hired by Greyhound was suddenly dropped from his paid job with Local No. 208 of the Teamsters Union, and reports were circulated that his firing was because of his fight against Greyhound driver Jim Crow.

At a strongly supported meeting held Saturday at the Safety Savings and Loan Association offices in Los Angeles, outstanding community leaders vowed their aid in the driver integration fight.

Among the leaders were Dr. Sylvester Odom, president of the powerful Western Leadership Conference; the Rev. Dr. H. H. Brookins, pastor of the First AME Church; Arthur Hackley, M. D., and Donald Derrecks, of the Committee for Representative Government.

U. S. CONTRACTS

The local branch of the NAACP also pledged its support to the campaign.

The complaint, filed under Executive Order 10925, sought relief and help from the governmental agency. The order is designed to insure equal employment opportunity to any qualified applicant regardless of racial or religious lineage, wherever a government contract is involved.

It is the contention of the Los Angeles Negro petitioners that Greyhound maintains "existing contracts with the U. S. Post Office, a governmental agency, for transportation of U. S. Mail, baggage and newspapers between various established terminal points."

CAN'T GET JOBS

The group of Teamsters also contends that Greyhound maintains current contracts with the U. S. Department of Defense for the transportation of U. S. military personnel "between various established terminal points."

The men also maintain that they are able-bodied drivers of attested ability through their union and with the state vehicle department, and that despite this are unable to get employment as drivers with Greyhound.

It was felt in some circles that the full Teamster union force was behind the efforts of the Negro drivers to become Greyhound

Almena Wins Increase in Child Aid

Mrs. Almena Lomax, former editor of the Los Angeles Tribune and for a long time regarded as the most controversial Negro woman in Los Angeles, went into Superior Court here Tuesday and won an increase in child-support funds from her ex-husband, Lucius W. Lomax, Jr.

Superior Judge Roger A. Pfaff awarded custody of the couple's six children. As agreed upon by Mrs. Lomax and her former spouse, the oldest child, Michael, 13, will be given to the care of the father. Judge Pfaff ruled that the couple's other five children would be given to the custody of the mother who has been living since 1960 in Tuskegee, Ala.

1947 RECALLED

Mrs. Lomax was swept into the national literary limelight in 1947 when she won a Wendell Willkie journalism award for writing an article entitled, "Negroes Are Lousy Lovers." The fiery former newspaperwoman returned to Los Angeles several weeks ago upon ACCUSES — Mrs. Ruth Hill, 23-year-old mother of five, Tuesday accused police of brutal handling.

Mother, 23, Says Police Kicked Her

Mrs. Ruth Hill, 23-year-old mother of five small children, who works as an electronic assembler at North American Aviation Co., told the Eagle Tuesday that she was arrested Monday night, falsely accused of being drunk, manhandled and insulted.

She was filing a complaint with the Internal Affairs Committee of the Police Department, accusing Officer Dollinger, badge No. 3114, of Newton Street Police Station.

Mrs. Hill, who lives at 1240½ W. 39th street, said she was arrested at Wall and 24th streets about 9:20 p.m. She had gone there to speak to her former landlady about an electric appliance she had left there when she moved.

The former landlady called the

Boags Brothers Claim They Were Kneed, Struck, Choked

Two young attorneys, brothers, one of whom is a public defender, claim they were arrested Sunday night, handcuffed and taken to Wilshire Police Station where they were beaten, clubbed, kneed and choked, and otherwise worked over.

Robert Boags, attorney with offices at 4618 S. Central avenue, had a gash over one eye, severe contusions around the eye and other bruises and injuries as proof of the treatment he received.

LIP CUT

His brother, Charles Donald Boags, 32, a public defender, had a cut and pulpy lip, a back injury and a large blood clot in the back of the head as indication of how he was handled.

Dr. Claudius Shropshire, who treated them, told the Eagle Monday that both had cerebral concussions, apparently from blows to the head, that in addition Robert had marks on his throat, indicating he may have been choked, and that Donald received a head injury the extent of which would have to await X-ray examination.

Police, on the other hand, claimed both men were highly intoxicated, belligerent, were interfering with an arrest, used vile language and attacked the officers so that they had to be subdued.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The arrests occurred outside 2328 Hauser blvd., the home of Atty. Claude V. Worrell, who was celebrating his birthday with a party for his friends.

Worrell, who is representing the two brothers, told the Eagle that Donald Boags looked out the window of the apartment and saw police officers talking to a guest who was leaving. He went out to see if he could help.

The man police were questioning was George Austin, of 2358

Whitewash Feared In Fire Dept. Hearing

Although the current hearings into charges of bias in the Los Angeles city Fire Department go into their third session Thursday, observers feel the complainants are up against an iron-clad "buck-passing" system, it was revealed Tuesday.

But despite the apparent efforts of various city departments to shun responsibility for cleaning up widespread discrimination in the promotion of Negro firemen and in the actual hiring of new Negro firemen, Atty. Arnett L. Hartsfield, Jr., said he would continue to press for relief from the blatant conditions.

UNION JOINS HEARING

Hartsfield represents seven Negro firemen who have complained they were discriminated against in taking oral examinations for promotions to captains' positions in the department. He has brought his men's charges before the City Civil Service Commission.

The commission itself has been charged with bias in permitting several of its members, currently members also of the city's Fire Department, to pass judgment, in these examinations.

Joining Hartsfield in his fight against the Fire Department and the Civil Service Board is the Professional Fire Fighters union, which accused one of the commission members, Fire Chief W. W. Johnston, of harboring anti-union prejudice. The union strongly emphasized it had nothing to do with racial bias charges.

In its hearing last Thursday, the commission heard Chief Johnston deny both the racial and union charges.

HOUSTON RAPPED

Commission member Norman Houston, Jr., only Negro member of the board, asked Johnston if he favored or disagreed with the sweeping rules forbidding bias adopted during the reign of former Mayor Poulson.

But Board Chairman George Simmonds leaped in quickly to rule the question out of order and irrelevant to the charges of discrimination under discussion.

Johnston did admit giving certain firemen seeking captain's positions socalled oral "briefings", claiming he did this to help the men "become better officers."

He did not say he had given any of these "practice" tests to

Lynch Case Youths Put Back in Jail

Andrew McLemore and Willie Jones were put back in jail Monday.

They had appeared in court to receive sentencing in the infamous Griffith Park "lynch" case, after being found guilty of interfering with and assaulting police officers in a park fracas.

But when they appeared in Superior Court before Superior Judge Leroy Dawson, Monday, they learned the probation department had not submitted its report on the two youths. So the judge revoked their bail and remanded them to jail until Oct. 23.

McLemore, 18, of 4201 S. Normandie avenue, and Jones, 22, of 5118 W. 20th street, were represented by Atty Herbert Porter.

Evicted, Broke, Pregnant, She Tries Suicide

Broke, pregnant, evicted from her house and with no place to go, a young waitress last Saturday attempted suicide by cutting her wrist.

Rose Alvine Rogers, 20, of 801 E. Vernon avenue, started walking aimlessly. All her relatives live in Alaska. While she was walking she decided to kill herself.

She stopped at a filling station at 1270 E. Vernon avenue, went into the rest room and slashed her left wrist several times with a knife.

Miss Rogers was taken to Central Receiving Hospital where she was treated and released. The police report did not say where she was going when she left the hospital.

Berserk Solomon Kills, Cuts, Leaps Out Window

The wisdom of Solomon escaped a Los Angeles Solomon last Friday when the local citizen went berserk, killing a housewife and wounding her husband before leaping out a window.

Bandit Kills Druggist, Beats Clerk

A topcoat-toting thug killed the owner of a South Central drugstore Thursday with a single shotgun blast into the man's face and escaped on foot after gun-whipping a woman clerk.

He fled with an undisclosed sum of money after forcing the owner and the clerk to empty two cash registers and a safe.

Mrs. Betty Ellis, 32, of 1458 W. 110th street, told police the bandit entered the drugstore of Haig H. Ganajian at 768 S. Central avenue Thursday afternoon. He carried a velvet-collared topcoat on his arm, under which he held concealed a shotgun.

The thug, wearing a tan shirt and appearing to be about 28 and standing five-feet-seven, forced the two into a back room after rifling the registers and safe.

Then, without warning, he fired point-blank into Ganajian's face, the charge killing the man instantly.

When Mrs. Ellis screamed and bent over her employer as if to help him, the gunman battered her on the back of the head with the shotgun, and walked out as she lay bleeding on the floor.

She was taken to Morningside Hospital in serious condition.

The gunman has not been found.

When police arrived they found the local Soloman lying on the lawn, dazed, but still clutching in his hand the butcher knife with which he had slain the woman.

Police said Booker T. Soloman, 39, of 1645 W. 24th street, had gone to Apartment 2 in the same building around midnight Friday and complained to Levert W. Rayson that the Rayson dog had been "messing up the hallway again."

Soloman is said to have been told by Rayson to take his complaint to the building manager. In turn, Soloman knocked Rayson down. When Rayson tried to get up, Soloman struck him with a pop bottle, rendering the man unconscious.

Mrs. Rachelle Rayson, 29, Mildred Meyers, Linzie Gardner and Roberta McBride ran to Rayson's aid, seeing Soloman standing over the fallen man with a straight razor in one hand.

Soloman picked up a chair and struck at them. He produced a butcher knife and slashed at Miss Meyers, inflicting a shoulder wound. Then he turned on Mrs. Rayson, stabbing her in the chest, killing her.

The group chased Soloman up the stairs to the second floor where he ran into the building manager's apartment and leaped through a window — and lived to be arrested.

Linzie Gardner, 18, a sailor from the USS Haven in Long Beach, said he chased Soloman into the manager's apartment and tried to get in but got his hand caught in the door.

OFT in the lists of time, one man can make a cause sublime.

This statement is being proved quite true in Los Angeles these days. And the man doing the proving of it is a Negro lawyer named Arnett L. Hartsfield, Jr.

Hartsfield is new in the field of law, comparatively. For 20 years he was a fireman, hired to fight fires that break out intermittently in the city. And as a fireman he came to know a lot not just about fires, but about people.

People who regarded other people—Negro people—almost in the same light as they regarded fires, as something dreaded, something not to be near, something to be ostracized. How he remained with the Fire Department 20 years is almost unfathomable.

BUT HARTSFIELD is a mild man. And he is a patient man. This is refreshingly evident in his current, patient fight to get better treatment for Negro firemen from this city's tax-supported Fire Department.

Hartsfield is not seeking special treatment above and beyond regular treatment for Negro firemen. He just wants them treated as living human beings by department leaders who still entertain habits from early slave days but who are too dishonest to admit their thoughts openly. A crook becomes so enmeshed in his own crooked ways that he sometimes comes to regard his activities as justifiable in some uncanny way. Yet he is intelligent and cunning enough not to say openly to authorities he believes his way of life is right.

HARTSFIELD is sincerely trying to get Fire Department and City Civil Service Commission bigots who connivingly sanction inner-department bigotry to stand up and be counted. But you can't tell them from the good ones until they toss red herrings into all efforts to probe for the real truth. Then they rise with double-talk and namby-pamby phrases which the daily papers play up as eloquent and veracious, as if quoting some quasi-diplomatic statement from a Tshombe or a Mobutu.

And it cannot be disputed that many, many local whites subscribe to these biased practices—as they did to the gymnastical double shuffle pulled recently by a majority of City Council in selecting a white recreation coach to help run the city in preference to any of three degree-laden Negro applicants.

Like the majority that stood idly by as Christ was crucified, these people stand idly by as Negro firemen are ostracized and shunned and bask warmly and contentedly in the juvenile rationalizations spouted by Fire Department chiefs and which are praisingly slanted in the daily press.

THAT is one reason I always hold that a daily newspaper which practices such misleading journalistic patterns and racial bias in its own precincts has no right ever to pontificate on its editorial pages about how Negroes should act or not act.

Even if Hartsfield loses his fight to remedy bias in the Fire Department and Civil Service Commission, a lot of people will have learned where there exists a lot of rotten apples—whether they like those rotten apples or not.

There is no big money behind the unassuming Hartsfield. He is presenting his case before authorities from whom one would expect judicious attention. He knows that if he fails he will have to go before the FEPC with his charges.

If that fails, then he has only the courts. Fire chiefs and biased civil service members would look mighty silly in court trying the manipulations they are trying now.

But to go to court would take money. I wonder how many Negroes are interested in the fight now being waged by Arnett L. Hartsfield, Jr.

Youth Group Post Given To Reynolds

Robert E. Reynolds, Centennial high school teacher, was named to the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime, it was announced this week. He will be one of six such consultants.

A graduate of the University of Oregon where he starred in football, Reynolds has lived in Los Angeles since 1949. He began his teaching career at Willowbrook School in 1951 and has taught and coached athletics at Centennial since 1953.

The Committee which Reynolds will serve as a consultant will seek to single out the causes of juvenile delinquency and crime among American youth and find ways of combatting conditions that produce the evils.

Reynolds has had long experience in social work directly related to his new position. He served as a deputy probation officer in Portland and was employed by the Bureau of Public Assistance in Los Angeles as a consultant on problems of single men and recipients of old age assistance.

An active Democrat, Reynolds is a member of the Democratic County Central Committee of Los Angeles, is president of the Arlington Heights Democratic Club and is active in the 15th District Democratic Council.

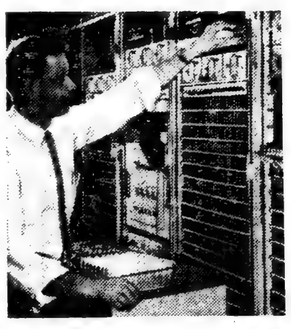
WHAT'S DOING



Someday you may phone by satellite. And, according to Bell telephone engineers, satellites could also be used to relay live TV from all over the world to TV Stations here in California.

Bell System people have already moved a long way toward making this a reality. They've bounced coast-to-coast phone calls off the Echo satellite and are now building a communications satellite of a new, more advanced type. They hope to see the new one launched sometime early next year.

This is just one of the ways telephone people are working to provide better communication links between the U.S. and countries overseas.

* * * * *

A new kind of phone system is now getting its first field test by the Bell System. It's an experimental Electronic Central Office designed to give you even faster, more versatile telephone service.

For example, if you were going out for the evening, you could have calls to your home transferred to wherever you're going.

Phone numbers you call frequently could be given abbreviated code numbers so you could reach them by dialing just two numerals.

This experimental Electronic Central Office is another example of the continuing search to make your telephone service still better in the years to come.

* * * * *

For many years now, we've been making teaching aids available to schools—such things as films, lecture materials, science demonstration kits.

Two of the newest kits developed by the Bell System are for high school physics classes.

With one kit, a student can build a solar-powered device similar to those used by some satellites to send back information from outer space. The second kit helps explain visually the action of electrical waves. It contains a film, lecture material, booklets and a demonstration "machine".

In this way, telephone people, working with educators, help develop scientific abilities of our youth.

FEPC Reports Progress On Second Anniversary

A two-day celebration commemorating the second anniversary of the enactment of California's Fair Employment Practices Act was held here Monday and Tuesday.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown was guest speaker at a public meeting Monday afternoon.

Monday night the Community Relations Conference of Southern California sponsored a reception in honor of the Governor and the commissioners at the Furniture Mart, where civic and community leaders compared notes and expressed pleasure at the progress made since the enactment of the law.

READY FOR TOMORROW

While the law has brought about many firsts in the upgrading and hiring of minority workers, the commissioners indicated that there is still a vast amount of work to be done before fair employment practices are fully accepted. The reason, they said, is the inertia and habit of hiring Caucasians in places of importance and higher salaries.

The hope was expressed by John Anson Ford, chairman, that minority youth will be encouraged by the Fair Employment Practices Commission to obtain the necessary schooling to compete for tomorrow's jobs.

Of the 1,156 cases of alleged discimination reported, 782 have been resolved wtih only four reaching the courts.

attack upon Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

"Unless these charges are strongly refuted by you immediately and publicly," they continued, "not only will the name of one of America's finest preachers be scarred, but the movement he represents will be seriously damaged."

NOT PRESENT

They added that, "The utter falsity of the charge that Dr. King 'master-minded' a plan that resulted in the unfortunate death of one of our brethren is borne out by the fact of his arrival time in Kansas City and his absence from all strategy meetings of either side."

Others among the protesters were the Rev. H. B. Charles of Los Angeles; Rev. C. K. Steele of Tallahassee, Fla.; Dr. W. H. Borders, of Atlanta; Rev. Sandy Ray, New York; Dr. Henry Nabrit of Memphis; Rev. Kenny Miller Smith of Nashville; Rev. M. C. Williams of Denver; and the Rev. E. C. Smith of Washington, D.C.

The Cincinnati call for the formation of a new Baptist organization stated that "the movement is in no way connected with the past effort of 'The Taylor Team.'"

No officer of that movement is involved either directly or indirectly, the call stated.

Jeff Teacher Hit in Face

A school teacher sustained broken eyeglasses when he was struck in the face last Monday at Jefferson High School by a 19-year-old student.

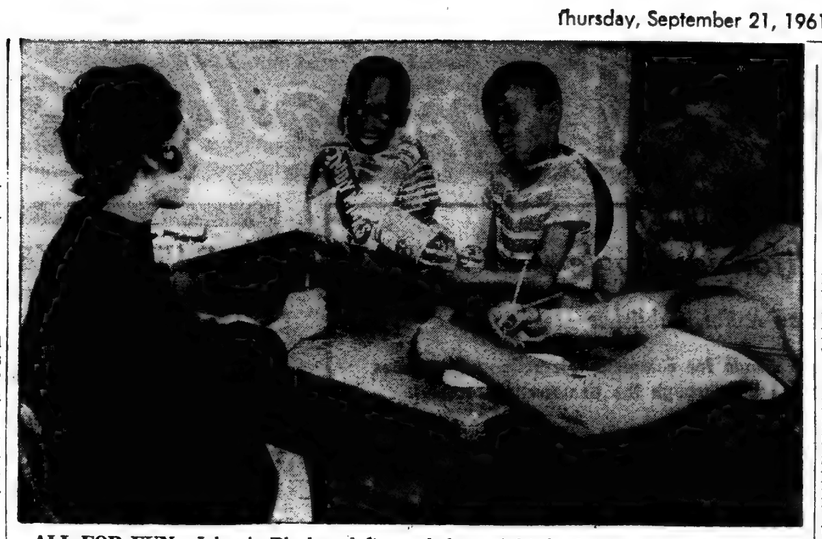
His injuries were described as so serious that his doctor would not permit his release from medical care to appear in court to testify against the youth.

YOUTH ARRESTED

Injured was Russell Craft, of 906 Gretna Green Way, West Los Angeles, a Jefferson instructor.

Arrested and charged with assault was Milton Williams, 19, of 2516 Naomi street.

The boy told police at Newton station that he had struck Craft once in the face when the teacher allegedly attempted to pull a chair from under him. He said he had gone to the schoolroom to give another youth "some money."



He said Craft told him to go to the front of the room and sit in the teacher's chair.

"I HIT HIM"

"I went up there," said Williams, "and he tried to pull the chair from under me, and that's why I hit him."

Craft said Williams was sitting in his classroom like a regular pupil and became disorderly. Craft said he asked him to leave. He said Williams refused to go, sat down in the instructor's chair and that he seized the chair and dumped the youth on the floor.

Williams got up and struck him, he charged, cutting his eyebrow.

Carver Center Receives Community Chest Aid

Full participation of Carver Community Center in the Community Chest was announced this week by Allerton H. Jeffries, volunteer president of the Chest.

The center will lend its support to the chest campaign as well as share in the allocation of chest funds, Jeffries said.

OWNED BY WESLEY

The center, named in honor of George Washington Carver, is located at 5139 S. Main street in a two-story building owned by the Wesley Methodist Church.

Organized by a board of directors led by James S. Laster, counselor, Jefferson Adult Evening High School, the center is under the direction of John Crawford, executive director.

With a professional staff of three, augmented by volunteer leaders, the center conducts group activities for people of all ages. These include a parents' clinic, a volunteer training program and a toy loan project with more than 300 members.

The center's building includes a large gym-auditorium with stage in addition to many large meeting and play rooms.

The program includes group meetings for gym, sewing, athletics, dancing, arts and crafts, music, grooming, educational subjects, field trips and adult activities.

Jefferson Gets Appeals Court Appointment

The newly created Division Four of the Second District Court of Appeals here received three newly appointed judges this week, one of whom was at one time the only Negro municipal judge west of Chicago.

Gov. Pat Brown named Superior Judges Edwin L. Jefferson, Frank S. Balthis and Louis H. Burke to be justices of the Appeals Court.

Judge Jefferson, 56, was thus given an opportunity to reach the highest judicial post ever attained by a Negro in California. Former Gov. Earl Warren elevated him from the Municipal to the Superior bench in 1949.

Tarea Pittman Heads Pacific Coast NAACP

NEW YORK—Mrs. Tarea Hall Pittman of Berkeley was named West Coast regional secretary for the NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, announced this week.

Mrs. Pittman's promotion was approved by the Association's Board of Directors at its regular monthly meeting Sept. 11. She had been serving as acting regional secretary since September 1959, following the granting of a leave of absence to Franklin H. Williams who later resigned to take a position with the Peace Corps.

A native Californian, Mrs. Pittman was educated at Bakersfield Junior College, San Francisco State College, and at the University of California from which she received the degree of Master Social Welfare. Prior to joining the NAACP staff as a field secretary in 1952, Mrs. Pittman was employed as a social worker.

In her new position, working under direction of Gloster B. Current, the Association's director of branches, Mrs. Pittman will be in charge of the NAACP program in the states of California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, Alaska, Hawaii, Arizona, Utah, and Idaho.

Baptists Should Repudiate Jackson

The Rev. J. H. Jackson put his foot in his mouth again last week when he attacked the Freedom Riders, CORE and the Rev. Martin Luther King. He complained about what he calls the Negro's preoccupation with civil rights. "Negroes," he orated, "have got to learn that there's something else besides civil rights."

Two years ago, The Rev. Jackson got favorable headlines down south when he lowered the verbal boom on school desegregation suits. We don't know what he proposes but we do know he's playing directly into the hands of segregationists by his statements.

Of course, Rev. Jackson is entitled to entertain any views he wants on any subject but he manages to make his statements at such times as to give off the impression that he is speaking for the five million members of the Baptist Convention.

His ouster of the Rev. Martin Luther King as an official of the Baptist Publishing Company was another move calculated to endear the Rev. Jackson to southerners who want to turn the clock back to the 19th Century.

We don't believe that Rev. Jackson speaks for more than a tiny minority of Baptists when he sneers at individuals and organizations who are in the forefront of the civil rights fight. We are sure that he is out of step with the vast majority of Baptist ministers.

Yet unless Baptist laymen repudiate him and unless Baptist ministers have the courage to dissociate themselves from his philosophy, the Rev. Jackson can do incalculable harm. He can be sure of getting widspread publicity in southern newspapers and his remarks will be repeated whenever segregationists want to discredit civil rights organizations.

It seems to us that Negro Baptists have a duty to speak out and let the nation know that Rev. Jackson doesn't speak for them. They are victims of the Jim Crow system along with the rest of us.

Segregation in Northern Schools

We don't know all of the details but the suit filed in Pasadena charging segregation in public schools probes at the problems that crop up in all northern cities.

Thanks to residential segregation it is comparatively easy for a Board of Education to draw boundary lines that will concentrate whites in one school and Negroes in another.

Once that is done, teachers can be assigned on such a basis that separate schools blossom into being.

In the Pasadena situation, the Board was faced with the problem of school assignments for a group of white youngsters who had formerly resided in the La Canada district.

To the surprise of almost nobody, the Pasadena Board assigned the newcomers to the nearest school with an already preponderant number of white students. It by-passed another school where the number of Negro pupils was larger and which was just as close, maybe a little closer, to the newcomers.

Thus the concentration of Negro pupils at a particular school was intensified whereas it would have been diluted if the newcomers had been assigned there.

It is difficult to draw school boundary lines in a large city such as Los Angeles without drawing a color line because of the high degree of residential segregation in the city.

Smaller cities such as Pasadena can do a great deal to eliminate school segregation by drawing boundary lines in such a manner as to include pupils of all races. Too often that is not done because it runs counter to long standing practices and attitudes.

Northern cities are going to have to face up to the fact that school segregation is as evil in the north as it is in the south and that they must devise ways for its elimination.

Permanent Civil Rights Commission

Congress finally extended the life of the Civil Rights Commission for another two years after a wrangle in which Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield served notice that he would move to table any proposal for a longer extension.

Southern senators went through the motions of opposing the two year extension but their battle had been won when the administration decided against asking Congress to make the Commission permanent.

Ever since its establishment, the Commission has had to work against a two year time limit. It can make no long range plans because of the limits placed on its term of office.

The inference is that concern over civil rights is a short term affair and that there is no need for a continuing body. The very opposite is true.

Everybody knows that the South has no intention of abandoning its century old discriminatory practices within the next two years, or the next one hundred after that, if it can find any way to persist in its obstinate course.

The Kennedy administration made a mistake when it decided to give in to southern opposition as to the tenure of the Commission. All that it is doing is laying up trouble for itself. Two years hence southern senators will be right back with opposition to any further life for the Commission and will use that opposition to wring new concessions from the administration.

The civil rights problems of the nation can't be washed away. Sooner or later President Kennedy is going to have to take a four square position. The longer the delay, the more troubles he will have.

Judge Jefferson's Appointment

The appointment of Judge Edwin L. Jefferson to the District Court of Appeal is another indication that race and color are no longer the barriers they used to be in public service.

Judge Jefferson's long experience of more than twenty years as a municipal and superior court judge offer convincing proof that he will do a good job in his new position.

So far as we know he is the first Negro judge to sit in a state appellate court since Reconstruction and we are glad to see California set a precedent of this kind. Governor Brown deserves congratulations for giving the state a good judge and for making the unprecedented appointment.

The time will come in America when a man's race or color will play no part in the opportunities available to him. Such appointments as that of Judge Jefferson will hasten that good day.

Either Jim Crow or Ellington

Southern devotees of popular music are going to have to choose between their love for Duke Ellington's band and Old Jim Crow.

America's great bandleader says he won't play to segregated audiences in the future. Fittingly enough, Little Rock, Arkansas, was the first victim of his new policy: he cancelled a concert set for that city when he learned its auditorium practices segregation.

If our experience is any indication, lovers of popular music are a persistent lot. They know what they want. Maybe they can desegregate public auditoriums faster than the courts.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

Last month as I was preparing to go overseas on international welfare business, I was reminded that the American Tennis Association would be holding its annual championships. A wave of nostalgia swept over me, because for 20 years of my life the tournament activities of the ATA and its affiliated clubs and associations had been my greatest passion outside of my job and my family. I thought of the tournaments I had played in—from New Jersey and New York to New England, out to the Mid - West, down into the South — matching strokes on the court with the greatest names in Negro tennis.

GRANGER

I thought of Ted Thompson and Eyre Saitch, and Edgar Brown and Tally Holmes, and Lou Ballard and Ora Washington — and of Reggie Weir, who first crashed the color line of the U.S.L.T.A. tournaments, opened the way for Althea Gibson's subsequent triumphs, and then went on to win the national U.S.L.T.A. indoor championships by way of showing what he would have done if he had been admitted to open play before the "forty-years" had slowed him down.

STANDARDS

In the process of reminiscing, I thought also of Rhoda Smith, one of our leading colored women players of 30 years ago, whose greatest contribution to tennis was not on the courts but in her attitude toward the game and those who loved it with her. I remembered how Rhoda had taken notice of Althea Gibson when the latter was a gawky, awkward, untrained youngster about to play in her first tournament finals, had marked the fact that Althea had no outfit suitable for play before a critical audience, and had sat up the night before the finals to make the low-teen-age player an outfit that would not have looked out of place at Forest Hills.

I remembered so many other instances of this lady's concern for the game and its standards of enforced conduct — and more, her concern for the development of the young people who could gain or lose so much in the way in which they learned the lessons of amateur sport.

CONFIDENCE

Those recollections were prophetic, for the day before I went overseas I received a letter from Rhoda Smith, whom I had not seen for years. It was a welcome letter because it came from an old friends. It was an inspiring letter because it was proof that her concern for the welfare of others had not diminished with the years. Though the Cosmopolitan Tennis Club is now dead, and the happy days when we spent long summer afternoons and week-ends on the courts playing fair to good to very good tennis are gone, never to be resurrected, Rhoda Smith has found other ways to express her concern for people — her confidence in the future of colored American youth.

Her letter was touchingly simple; it said, "Twenty-five years ago I had a crisis in my personal affairs that made me miss the A.T.A. championships. I hated to do this but I felt that I had to in order to protect my economic future. This year I am going to miss the championships again, for a different reason. I have been reading about the colored families in Tennessee who are in need because they have been standing for their rights as American citizens. I think that they are fighting not just for themselves but for all of us. So instead of going to the tournament that means so much to me, I am sending you my plane fare to the tournament and am asking you to see that it goes to help those familes down in Haywood or Fayette. I think I will get more good out of the money by using it this way."

PERSONAL SACRIFICE

Rhoda Smith's letter contained her check for $50. It was one of the biggest contributions I have ever received — for the Urban League or any other cause — because it meant a personal sacrifice on the part of the donor and it was an answer from her heart to the needs of people she has never seen and does not even know by name. She sent it because they are fighting not just for themselves but for all of us."

The check has been long disposed of — sent to President Hollis Price of Le Moyne College in Memphis who intends to use it for scholarship purposes (not at Le Moyne College) "for some capable but needy student from Haywood or Fayette." The committee headed by Dr. Price was raised and spent approximately $5,000 for food to needy families in the two counties. Now the federal government is supplying food and so the committee's aid program is being revised.

So Rhoda Smith has made a gift that has already quadrupled in its benefits. The pleasure that she derived from her sacrifice has been shared with me; the committee headed by Dr. Price is encouraged by this out-of-the-blue sign of support from abroad; a youngster from a dreary rural county down in Tennessee is inspired by knowledge of having a friend; the hard-pressed but still hard-fighting families of Haywood and Fayette know that their fight is not in vain.

Thank you, Rhoda Smith for being yourself and sharing yourself with those in need of help. And thank you for reminding those lovers of tennis who no longer have the Cosmopolitan Tennis Club to remind them, that there is more to tennis than hitting a ball — or even winning a championship — that tennis is a way of learning the best that is within oneself and sharing that best with others.

Bunche Held Possible Choice for Head of U.N.

mation raises sharply the question of wheather the UN craft was shot down over Ndola, in Northern Rhodesia. Swedish owners of the plane in Leopoldville said the plane might have been shot down by a jet fighter of the Katanga Air Force.

SABOTAGE POSSIBLE

A UN spokesman said neither "gunfire nor sabotage" could be ruled out.

Hammarskjold was heading for a conference with Katanga head, Moise Tshombe, in Ndola when the plane crashed. Purpose of the conference was to attempt to bring about a cease fire of the war between UN troops in Elizabethville, Katanga capital; Kamina Base, Albertville, and elsewhere.

The fighting erupted first in Elizabethville, when UN troops attempted to take over the post office and other government buildings by force, as a means of unifying the country and bringing Katanga, the heart of the country's industrialization, under the control of the Central Government.

RESISTANCE UNEXPECTED

The UN action was taken upon the request of the government at Leopoldville of Pres. Joseph Kasavubu and "strong man" Joseph Mobutu.

Apparently the resistance of the Katanga soldiers was unexpected by UN headquarters. While it is difficult to assess the situation accurately from a distance, it appears that the Katangans look upon the UN troops as invaders with imperialist aims.

Their resistance appears to have more of a pro-nationalist than a pro-Tshombe and pro-Belgian character. If so, it is a new demonstration of the same power that two years ago forced Brussels to a realization that the Congo must be granted some form of independence.

LIKE LUMUMBA

It is ironical that Hammarskjold lost his life in attempting to bring unity to the Congo. That same policy (centralization) seven months earlier led to the brutal murder of the country's duly elected premier, Patrice Lumumba, while he was in custody of Tshombe's police.

At that time, however, the UN was not assisting unification efforts. In fact, it intervened on behalf of Lumumba's rival Kasavubu, when Lumumba attempted to rally the armed forces loyal to him for an attack on the "independent" area known as South Kasai.

Lumumba was returned to Leopoldville and placed under house arrest. He regained his freedom briefly, only to be recaptured, beaten, humiliated and imprisoned, and later turned over to the officers of his arch-enemy, Tshombe, and to his death.

Alcoholism to be Discussed

California's number one public health problem, "Alcoholism — Disease or Disgrace," will be discussed by a five-member panel at the Sept. 28 noon luncheon meeting of the Southwest Health Council.

The meeting, to be held at Ontra Cafeteria, 4137 Crenshaw blvd., will review the problem concerning an estimated 250,000 alcoholics in the Los Angeles area, according to Rev. A. Wolf, president of the Southwest Health Council.

2 Attorneys Charge Police Beat Them Up

Sunset Plaza drive, who left the scene after the officers began concentrating their attention on the Boags brothers.

'SMART LAWYER'

Donald, Atty. Worrell continued, was cursed and cussed out by the officers, who called him "one of those smart lawyers" and finally handcuffed him and started leading him away.

At this Robert Boags and other guests came down and Robert began remonstrating with the officers for arresting his brother. The talk was loud and angry and finally the officers told Robert that if he wanted to talk that way they'd put him in the squad car, too, Worrell said.

Friends then took Robert a short distance away, 10-12 feet, and argued with him, trying to prevail upon him not to intervene any further.

But Robert was also arrested and the two placed in the police car.

STOP FOR BEATING

Worrell said that while they were driving to the station, the officers stopped the car, one of them got out and began beating Donald on the back and head with his metal-rimmed report book.

Worrell said he had not been present during the altercation outside his house. He had taken another guest home, and when he returned the officers had carted off the two brothers.

He went to the police station, he continued, and saw both of the brothers who at that time showed no visible evidence of having been mistreated.

While he was talking to the sergeant, he said, the two brothers were taken into a separate room and the door closed. Both of the men were handcuffed.

KNEEING, CHOKING

He said he heard a tumbling sound, and when the sergeant opened the door, he saw Robert on the floor, his hands bound together behind his back, an officer kneeing him in the stomach and choking him with his hands.

The left side of Robert's face was covered with blood, Worrell stated.

Donald, he said, was leaning over a table, with his head resting on it. His mouth was torn and bleeding. There was blood streaking the table. He said he was not sure whether or not Donald was handcuffed at that time.

DENIED TEST

Although police claimed the brothers were very drunk, they were refused a sobriety test, which they requested. They were also refused the assistance of doctors.

Charge placed against Donald Boags, the public defender, was a felony count of assault with a deadly weapon. In response to a question as to the weapon used Worrell said the officers replied Donald had kicked one of them.

Robert was charged with resisting arrest.

A hearing on the case has been set for Sept. 20, Div. 40, at 11 p.m.

OFFICERS' VERSION

Police gave a different version of events leading to the arrest.

They said they noticed a car being driven in an erratic manner and ordered the driver over to the curb. The man, Austin, said he was looking for an address on Hauser.

At this point, according to the police report, Donald Boags walked up slowly to the police car. He was "staggering and had difficulty maintaining his balance. He mumbled, 'What's going on? What have you got him to stop for?' His speech was thickly slurred and there was a strong odor of alcohol," said the report.

POLICE BUSINESS

The officer reportedly told him this was "police business" and not to interfere. Boags then said that he was a public defender and an officer of the court, but refused to show his identification, the report charged. There were heated words betwen the officers and Boags, after which Boags was handcuffed.

Some of the other guests had gathered around and, according to the police report, urged the officers to "give him a break—he's stoned, he's wiped out, he's had too much to drink."

It was at this point, the officers claimed, that Robert Boags appeared, screaming, "Nobody's taking my brother in." Officers said they finally handcuffed him and placed him in the car as he screamed vile names at them. In the car, they said, Donald kicked Officer G. F. Adams, who reportedly suffered a contusion of the abdomen. Another officer, B. Shaw, was said to have suffered a thumb injury.

police twice. The second time they came they arrested Mrs. Hill and took her to City Jail.

Once inside the courtyard, Mrs. Hill said, Officer Dollinger pushed her against the car, twisted her right arm, handcuffed her, kicked her twice and then, adding insults, commented,

"That's what we do to a smart nigger."

Mrs. Hill said Officer Dollinger repeatedly used the offensive term.

She said also that, once inside the jail and booked, her requests to see a doctor or a nurse or her own doctor were denied, though her arm was very painful.

Although accused of intoxication, she was not given a sobriety test.

Mrs. Hill was released on $21 bail and was to appear Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in Division 58 for arraignment.

She said she intends to plead "not guilty" to the charge.

the death of Lucius Lomax, Sr., the children's grandfather.

The court ordered Lomax, who now works as a liquor store clerk, to pay $20 each week for the support of each child left in the care of the mother, beginning Sept. 23.

Also ordered by the court was an attorney's fee of $500 and court costs. Lomax was ordered to pay the $500 to Atty. Herbert Simmons, who represented Mrs. Lomax in court.

LOMAX SCORES

The court took into account the claim of Lomax, the defendant, that his ex-wife would not return his books and records to him. Judge Pfaff decreed that Mrs. Lomax should return the items.

On Monday, Mrs. Lomax told the court she had gone to her former husband's home at 1428 W. Gage avenue, to ask why he had not made good his alleged promise to increase his child support allowance from $15 weekly for each child. When he refused she said she decided to stay on in the home with the children. She had secured a court order forbidding Lomax to enter the home.

Lomax then secured an unlawful detainer action through his lawyer, Atty. Stanley Malone, but the court refused to move on the detainer action until the custody and support case had been heard.

Mrs. Lomax had been living in Tuskegee since last June. The six Lomax children inherited the bulk of the grandfather's half-million-dollar estate. Lomax, Jr., was willed the Gage avenue home and two other real estate parcels. He has been living at the Lomax W. Adams estate.

Fear Whitewash Of Fire Dept.

Negro firemen seeking a position as captain.

UPHILL BATTLE

But behind all the legal maneuvering and acrobatics is the bizarre record of outright segregation and Jim Crow in the department itself.

All of Hartsfield's attempts up to now to get a city commission to look into the charges have been futile. It was only on the charges of bias in the oral exams that he was able to get a hearing before the Civil Service Commission.

Although Mayor Sam Yorty has issued a statement that he wanted all the bias charges looked into, the Mayor himself is unable to direct any of his appointed Fire Commission members to conduct hearings into the charges.

Fire Chief Hubbard ruled that hiring irregularities should be brought before the Civil Service Commission, as did the City Attorney, who also ruled out any discussion before the commission of evidence of segregation within the Fire Department.

FEARS WHITEWASH

Hubbard also says discrimination within the department should be the interest solely of the department's trial board. But Hartsfield lamented this as what he termed a totalitarian setup.

"If the trial board takes up these charges," he told the EAGLE, "it will whitewash them, and we then have nowhere to appeal. The Fire and Police Departments are the only city departments from which there can be no appeal in hearings of this nature.

"Chief Engineer William L. Miller has been in office since 1956, and in all that time only two Negro fireman have been hired, and the rank race discrimination has continued unabated. And Negro firemen can take their complaints only to the department's trial board," Hartsfield continued.

FRIENDS HIT

"We actually have had cases where white firemen have signed petitions that they are against Jim Crow meals, beds and coffee pots. Then they get orders from 'upstairs' to stop fraternizing with Negro firemen or they will be transferred to remote stations," said Hartsfield.

The Mayor's Fire Commission has gone on record with what has been termed its own hedging tactics by refusing to look into the bias charges on grounds that Negro firemen have "clouded" the issues by taking their fight on upgrading before the Civil Service Commission.

All Hartsfield can do, if the Commission rules against him, is bring charges before the Fair Employment Practices Commission or take the case to the Federal Court.

Greyhound Bus Case Given to U.S. Committee

drivers. And if that was not true, it was surmised that the union would give its blessings to the fight, however tacitly, although the campaign did not originate in the official headquarters of the Hoffa-dominated union plexus.

FIRING REPORTED

It was therefore a surprise in some quarters that the union's leaders of the Los Angeles headquarters were angered at the move of its Negro members to the point, according to reports circulating in the community, of firing John T. Williams, who had been employed as Health and Welfare coordinator of Local 208, AFL Teamsters, U.S.A. He was hired about March 1, of this year and was the first Negro to hold a post of that importance with the Teamsters on the West Coast.

Reports reached the EAGLE that Williams was summoned before the union about the first of September and told of certain consequences if he did not "lay off" the Greyhound fight.

It was shortly afterwards that Williams reputedly was dropped from the union payroll.

Efforts to learn from local Teamster heads the reasons for the Williams dismissal ran into mute silence in some quarters, and eloquent denials in others.

One Teamster executive claimed Williams left the job before he became involved in the Greyhound job quest.

SAY MORE FIRED

George E. Mock, international vice president of the Brotherhood of Teamsters, said Williams' firing had "nothing to do" with the bus-driving fight. Mock claimed Williams was dropped several weeks before the union knew about the campaign.

He said Williams was discharged "along with other employes" in a union work cutback, "as the union is currently in bad financial straits." He said it would take some time before any of the men were called back to work.

"We don't have the drivers," said Mock, "but we do have colored men in washing, greasing and other non-driving jobs at Greyhound. I don't know anything about the Amalgamated's policies."

Mock was answering a question as to the Teamsters' attitude toward Greyhound's biased policy on hiring drivers. The "Amalgamated" is the Amalgamated Coach Drivers Union, which has jurisdiction over Greyhound drivers.

hit Lewis in the arm.

AIMED AT HEAD

Infuriated, Lewis said he was getting his gun. It was then that Terry aimed at Lewis' head and shot him through the right eye.

Police said that Lewis twice previously had tried to break in at Mrs. Walker's home and that on Aug. 13, after the last attempt, she obtained a pistol for self-protection. The first time he came banging on the door, Mrs. Walker let him in.

The second time, Aug. 12, she refused and, police said, he then took out a knife and slit the screen.

Police said also that an examination of Lewis' blood showed an alcoholic content of .21, five points over the official drunk finding.

Terry, a local business man, operates the Jet Auto Parts Shop, together with his father, in South Los Angeles.

In addition to his cousin, Mrs. Mullins, Lewis is survived by two daughters, Tamara, 19, and Deina, 18; a son, Michael, 10; step-father, John Washington; and an uncle, Jesse Lewis.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from the Angelus Funeral Home.

Murph Testimonial Attended by Notables

The Grant AME Church Fellowship Hall was filled with an over capacity crowd of more than 500 persons who gathered to pay tribute to Rev. Henry W. Murph, the eminent pastor of the church, who is a candidate for the Bishopric. The kick-off banquet was sponsored by the Murph-for-Bishop Club.

Many civic and religious leaders of the greater Los Angeles area praised the efficient and effective leadership of Dr. Murph as well as his dynamic ministry during the last 12 years.

SOMEONE SPECIAL

Henry H. Pettigrew, president of the Southern California Conference Laymen, started the praise snowball rolling and by the time Assemblyman Vernon Kilpatrick and Councilman John Gibson, Jesse Robinson and Norman O. Houston, told the influence of Rev. Murph in their spheres of influence, the dinner guests were aware of the fact that the man they came to honor was someone special in the religious field.

The main speaker for the evening was the manager of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company. Other speakers who testified to the caliber of the man said the contributions he could make as a bishop of the AME Church, were: Dr. H. Claude Hudson, of the Broadway Federal; Henri O'Bryant, Fire Commissioner; Rev. Louis Owens and Rev. X. C. Runyon.

Mrs. Geraldine Murph was given a tremendous ovation and a lovely bouquet. Mrs. Murph recently recovered from a serious illness. Miss Cynthia Gibson presented the flowers to the great woman behind the great man.

FOR BISHOP

Musical selections were offered on the program by the Price Chapelaires, accompanied by Mrs. Eugenia Clark; by Mrs. Maxine B. Scott, a whistler; and by Mrs. Dana Hughes, soprano, who was accompanied by Jean J. Prescott.

Among those present were: Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Toliver, Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Scott; Rev. and Mrs. F. D. Ferrell; Rev. U. S. Carr, Mrs. Mary Page of Chicago; and of course hundreds others.

The committee on arrangements for the Murph for Bishop Club included: Benjamin Cooper, Katherine Johnson, Pearlie Craig, Shirley Andrews, Ann Edwards, Ruth DeBoef, Cynthia Gibson, Dorothy Boswell and others.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch--Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

Dear Mrs. Hathaway:

Your participation in the First Annual Fong Golf Tournament contributed much to the success of the event. According to all indications of those who participated, we are of the opinion that last year's competition was one of the finest in history. The New China Club of Reno heartily thanks those of you who so greatly contributed to making this such a memorable occasion.

Your wholehearted acceptance of the First Annual Fong Tournament and anticipation of demand for continuance of a sporting event of this caliber paved the way for a repeat performance.

This year, our Second Annual New China Club Tournament will be held at the Crystal Springs Golf Course in San Francisco where larger facilities are available for the expected greater number of entries.

To those of you who are participating for the first time in our Golf Tourney, may I extend my personal invitation for your golfing pleasure. You will be welcomed at the well-known location where all detailed information will be centered. Our capable chairman, Mr. Arthur C. Larieau, Sr., has provided for your every need, such as 29 trophies, $1500 in prizes, 3 prizes and trophies in every flight, 5 piece silver sets, silver trays plus souvenirs for everyone.

Entry fee is only $12 for 2 days of golf (Oct. 18-19) and it is almost impossible to miss winning a prize.

In order to secure a place, all golfers entry fees must be in by Sept. 30. You may address all entries to Arthur C. Larieau, Tournament Chairman, 103 Belvedere Street, San Francisco 17.

May we have clear skies and good golfing during the Second Annual Golf Tournament.

Your host,
B. H. Fong

Green Bay Team Boasting Young And Old Stars

By EDW. "ABIE" ROBINSON

Willie Davis, former Grambling College football star, is putting in his fourth season in the National Football League as one of the Green Bay Packers ace defensive lineman.

Davis, a 6-3, 240 pound cagey left end, is teamed with veteran Emlen Tunnell, a 14-year NFL veteran, and newcomer Eliah Pitts, a 20-year-old ex-Philander Smith College halfback.

Along with Paul Hornung, Ray Nitschke, Bart Starr and Max McGee and the rest of the Packers, Head Coach Vince Lombardi's once poorly regarded young ball club could be the surprise of the 1961 season.

In five pre-season games the Packers drew 30,000 against Dallas, 31,056 at St. Louis, 42,560 at Milwaukee, 33,452 at home with the Giants and their lowest, as expected was a mere 18,000 against the Redskins in Columbus, Ga.

The 31,056 was a record for a pre-game in St. Louis; the 42,560 was a record for a pro game in Milwaukee and the 33,452 was a record for a pro game in Green Bay. The Columbus game against the lowly Redskins was the first pro game in Columbus, Ga. and it seems well known that the fans showed up to see Coach Vince Lombardi's classy crew.

Gil Cadilli Set To Battle in Olympic Bout

Gil Cadilli wrapped up his training at Cisco Andrade's Gilman Hot Springs training camp this week. He arrived at the camp last Friday to finish drills for his bout tonight (Thursday) at the Olympic Auditorium against Danny Valdez.

At the camp Cadilli worked with the veteran Andrade, boxing four rounds daily.

Cadilli, managed by former Central Avenue liquor store tycoon, Al (Rocky) Fields, upset Valdez last Aug. 17.

The Olympic Auditorium has an attractive lineup following the Cadilli - Valdez featherweight match.

Orlando Zuluets, veteran Cuban welterweight, has been signed to box Mexican hopeful, Battling Torres, Thursday, Sept. 28.

Former Poly High athlete Paulie Armstead has agreed to box Alfredo Escobar, Thursday, Oct. 5. Escobar will defend his California lightweight title in a 12-rounder.

Art (Sailor) Thomas Will Wrestle Here

Art (Sailor) Thomas, considered the best Negro wrestler in the game today, will be one of the many stars on the big Friday, Oct. 6, card at the Sports Arena.

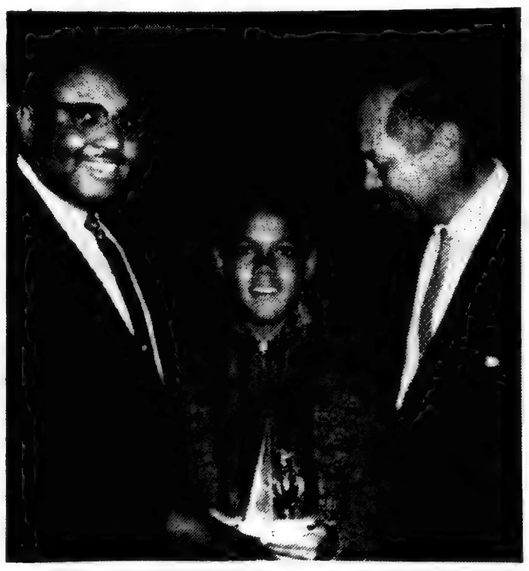
Promoter Cal Eaton announced that he has signed Thomas to meet "The Brute" in a top supporting match under the Freddie Blassie-Ricki Starr world heavyweight title match.

Other favorites like Edouard Carpentier, Argentine Rocca, the Torres brothers and Fritz Von Goering will appear.

Tickets are now on sale at the Olympic Auditorium, 1801 S. Grand avenue.

ELA Huskies To Open Grid Season Friday

Huskies Look Big And Strong For Sept. 22 Opener



The East Los Angeles College football squad, after drilling twice daily since Sept. 1, still had that big strong look which delighted the coaches on opening day. ELA will open the regular season's schedule Friday, Sept. 22, at Los Angeles City College.

The Huskies' rough workouts have cost them in injuries to three key men. Olvin Moreland, All-City left halfback from Los Angeles High, broke his right leg and will be lost for most of the season. Barry Leventhal, All-San Gabriel Valley, dislocated his elbow, as did Jess Willard, formerly Fremont High. All three were working at the same position which cuts the Huskies' depth at left halfback.

Outstanding ends include lettermen Louis Hood and Bill Dickey, Potas Newman from Fremont High, Fred Green from Centennial, Marshall Cochrane from Mt. Carmel, Tommy Gaines and Larry Mills from Jordan, Todd Androvich from San Pedro, and Harold Saunders from Manual Arts High.

At tackle the Huskies have lettermen John Bilderback and Ross Hernandez, plus Frank Davidson from Wilson High, Kent Tucker of San Gabriel, Tom Deaton and Steve Ortiz from Sante Fe High, Matt Gross from Dorsey, and John Cousimano from South Gate. All are 230 plus in weight, and should give the Huskies the size needed to compete in the Metro Conference.

Guards who have shown well are Bob Ragland of Loyola High, Leo Hernandez from Garfield, Rutherford Hays from New Orleans, letterman Tom Hall, Tony Perkov of San Pedro, and Bob Quintana from Lincoln.

New China Club of Reno, Nevada, Second Annual Golf Tourney Set

The second annual Fong Golf Tournament, sponsored by the New China Club of Reno, Nevada, will be the outstanding meet of the season, according to Arthur C. Larieau, chairman.

"Because of the wide field of contestants and the fine reception given last year, we have moved the Fong tournament to Crystal Springs Golf Course, San Francisco, where it will be played Wednesday, Oct. 18 and Thursday, Oct. 19," Larieau said.

The host group, Fairway Golf Club of San Francisco, expects visitors from all of the western states. Last year a field of more than 150 entered from Arizona, California, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington when the tournament was held at Washoe County Golf Course, Reno, Nev.

In addition to the beautiful permanent trophy, Bill Fong, owner of the New China Club, announced there would be 28 trophies and prizes in A, B, C, and D Flights for men, and A, B and C Flights for women.

"Each contestant will receive a special souvenir gift," said Fong, "and we want to insure everyone an enjoyable stay in San Francisco. There will be a buffet, cocktail party and banquet for players and their guests."

Entry fee must be received by Sept. 30.

BEAUTIFUL CALIENTE IN OLD MEXICO: Twenty ticketholders picked up $2,785.40 for selecting five winners in last Saturday's 5-10 public handicapping contest at Caliente Race Track. Only one favorite found the way to the charmed circle during the six races comprising the 5-10. The biggest longshot was Flag Honors, $25.20 winner of the sixth race.

There were 298 tickets listing four winners and each of those returned $62.20. Winning numbers were II-7-6-2-9-4. The 5-10 pool grossed $82,534. One of the largest daily-doubles in months was paid to lucky holders of Lalo's Joy, winner of the second race, and Timocrea, victor of the third. Each received $861.60. The crowd of 14,063 sent $331.873 through the mutuels for the 12 races, not including the 5-10 pool.

Manual Arts and Dorsey were very slim pre-season favorite, among Southern League coaches when the latter were polled to name the team to beat in this fall's race. Los Angeles is the defending titlist and the Romans went to the city finals last year, losing to an inspired Banning team, 57-26.

Dorsey coach Bill Lauermann, whose Dons beat L. A. in a big upset last year and would have been champs but for a forfeited game, has, as usual, only a handful of lettermen—six—but the Dons are likely to show a terrific balance in their offense.

Classy backs like Bob Oates, Rex Stewart, and Jack LeBlanc will be missed, but 2nd all-league end Morris Lewis, 155, is back—this time as a right halfback. The rest of the backfield has size, speed, and passing ability so if it jells, the Dorsey team will have something to go on with a promising line.

Blewett can call on blinding speed from lettermn Donald Willis, 160, left end, who ran 14.4 in the high hurdles, and William Cook, 165, left halfback, with a 9.7 100 to his credit. Jones, of course, has been one of the city's top broad jumpers for the past two years. Other lettermen: Kenneth Bell, 178, center; Oscar Cormia, 178, fullback; Orlando Miller, 208, right tackle; Manuel Juarez, 170, right half.

National Leaders Urge Help to Broaden Program of Delta Sigma Theta

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Several top-ranking national leaders urged the help of Delta Sigma Theta, Inc., in the fight on broad national problems at the organization's executive board meeting held here recently.

One of the leaders was Mrs. Esther Peterson, newly-appointed assistant Secretary of Labor.

AID WOMEN WORKERS

She urged Deltas to help promote passage of state and Federal laws to protect the nation's workers, particularly its women workers who, Miss Peterson said, often work longer hours than men for less pay.

The nation's employment problems will not be solved by sending its women workers home, she added, noting that the challenge is to find employment for all who want to work.

Another of the leaders was Dr. Whitney Young, newly-appointed executive director of the National Urban League.

He urged Deltas to help newcomers adjust to their new community environments and to help tell the Urban League story of non-dramatic projects aimed at mending various social ills.

Among the social ills mentioned by Dr. Young are employment, where Negroes outnumber whites two to one, and family breakups, involving 62 per cent of the nation's Negro families.

Dr. Young asked Deltas to see to it that the Urban League receives Community Chest funds in communities where local prejudices prevail against the League's work.

The occasion for the visit of these leaders was Delta's executive board meeting held at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C.

Other leaders of national organizations who urged Delta's help were:

Mrs. Abbott L. Mills, national director of the Red Cross Office of Volunteers; Mrs. C. E. Cortner, national representative of the Girl Scouts USA; Robert Donahoe, associate director of the United Givers Fund of the National Capital Area, and Mrs. Barbara Luther, executive director of the District of Columbia Mental Health Association.

MARRIED AGAIN?

Our baseball umpire married again? I dunno. I keep hearing it too. Arthur Clements played bachelor host at dinner last Wed. The Girl Friends met Mon. with Margaret Moore.

Ed Dudley Jr. (his Dad is Manhattan Borough President in NYC) is here for school. Occidental College, I believe. The Ocie Jacksons are in town from Texas until mid-Oct. Their son Felix drove in with them. He's a Loyola student. They're stopping with the Jessie Striders, as customary. The latter were Sun. dinner hosts to their house guests and the Norman Houstons, Eloise Davis and Jay Jenkins. CC's meet Sat. with Mabel Miles (she and her mate have a new address).

Bobby Gant was 10 so his folks gave him a Sun. birthday party. Women's Sun. Breakfast Club: Their Oct. breakfast (8) will be their seventh annual This Is Your Life saga. No one ever knows the subject until the name is announced; Fay Jackson masterminds the event. Past "Lifers" have been Dr. Claude Hudson, Judge Thomas Griffith, Norman Houston, Andy Razaf, Gus Hawkins and Gilbert Lindsay. Such a devotee of Hammond organ music is Phil Fortier that he went downtown and bought himself one for their apt.

Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

This being our first column in the Eagle, our thanks to the publisher, editor and staff for making it possible. I know no better medium by which to reach the public in general than by newspapers.

Let us show our appreciation by subscribing to this paper and by so doing we'll have the opportunity of keeping up with our news (racewise), our views, likes and dislikes (which are so often misplaced in local papers). Let us keep pace with this mushrooming city of which we are a part. News sent in by Saturday of one week appears in the following Thursday's paper. Call HU 6-5825 to report your news.

Fredric Jones was appointed as a member of the newly formed 13-member Urban Development Committee. The purpose of the committee is to evaluate the city's various development programs and to submit recommendations.

Freddie (as he is known to us) is employed by the Government in the city of Ventura, is past president of the NAACP, and is a member of the Ventura Democratic Club and many civic organiaztions. Here in Oxnard we are proud of his appointment to serve on this committee. He, with his wife, resides in the city of Oxnard.

Visited by phone with Rev. Alfred Lee Henderson, who succeeded Rev. J. H. Blake at Bethel AME Church, 3rd and Roosevelt. This is an interesting and wide-awake young minister. He has a terrific program outlined which from time to time we will bring to your attention.

Rev. Henderson comes to Oxnard from Yakima, Wash., where he was pastor of the AME Church. He is a product of Paul Quinn College and Wilberforce University and has worked on his Masters in San Diego. Prior to his Washington stay he was principal of a school in Texas. This community welcomes Rev. Henderson and his lovely wife to Oxnard.

If you have no church home, I suggest you drop in this Sunday on his 11 a.m. worship or at 6:30 p.m. for the A.C.E. League. The League members carry on some pretty interesting discussions, I hear.

The Board of Christian Education has selected the third Sunday of each month to illumine the life of some deserving Christian man or woman. This program is referred to as "This Is Your Christian Life." This Sunday, Sept. 17, at 6:30 p.m., the program will be held at Bethel AME Church, 3rd and Roosevelt. The name of the person whose life will be relived will appear in next week's column.

We extend sympathy to Mr. Barnard Brown and his sister, Mrs. Haymon of Oxnard, and brother of Ventura, who lost their mother, Mrs. Ida Brown of Oklahoma. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left by car last week to attend the funeral. Mrs. Haymon was at her mother's bedside at the time of death.

(Dick) Richard Abrams, of Oxnard and Los Angeles, has been on the sick list, but is much improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Abrams have spent much time in Los Angeles the last few months, as Mr. Abrams' doctors are in that city.

Marion Ray, who has been on vacation for several months, has opened her shop again and is accepting appointments.

As school went into session, we find five new Negro teachers added to the list. This brings the total of Negro teachers to 10. Remember your NAACP!

ON SOCIAL SIDE

During the last few sizzling days of summer, back yard parties were greatly enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alford entertained more than 100 guests on Labor Day Sunday. The afternoon was spent dancing and playing cards. Delicious barbecue was served. Guests departed around 10 p.m.

Hats off to Clifton and Margaret Tatum for a lovely barbecue party this summer in their newly completed patio, equipped with grates, oven and refrigeration. Clifton stayed at his post as main chef, while Margret mingled through the crowd to see if each guest enjoyed the delicacies which she and her husband had prepared.

Cards were played in the early evening on the lawn and as the evening shadows began to fall, guests came into the patio for dancing and to protect themselves from our piercing coastal dampness. The party was in progress until the wee hours.

Don't forget, I am expecting your news—next week and every week.

to Vegas to be on hand when his wife, Corrine, and their daughter, and Doris Rodriguez reached that mecca while enroute home to LA from their transcontinental trip of 73 days. The Thirteen Aids, reactivated, have plans for the near future. That was Judy Davis (debuts next month and enters UC in Feb.) with her mother at ringside Sat. during the Oleg Cassini fashion show at the Bev-Hilton. Betty Scott's family are delighted and a bit amazed at her swift recovery; she hopes to return to her teaching duties before too long.

ON THE ISLE OF CAPRI

That was Mil Blount lunching Wed. at the Coconut Grove with the Junior Auxiliary of the Jewish Home for the Aged. She's the only Negro member and has been active since '43; further, she's a life member. She was introduced last week to great applause and spoken plaudits. Darn clever, those invitations of the Turnabouts for their Oct. 8 shindig at the Statler. Frank Silvera in town.

Ditty young Steve Curry for two weeks from military studies in Va. Edna McCormick out've that cast and back on her job. Happy schoolmarm: Haroldine Brewington was transferred to a school near their Altadena home. Louise Arnold in Capri preparing to move onto next port of call. She's spending Thanksgiving in the Carolinas and will be home here by Xmas or thereabouts.

Mrs. R. D. Jones Wins Grand Prize

The Community Association of Perris, Inc. has awarded its Grand Prize, a 1,000 pound live Hereford steer, to Mrs. R. D. Jones, of Route 3, Box 506, Riverside, California.

The group held a mass meeting last Sat., for the purpose of public discussion of zoning for their area, Mead Valley, at the regular place of meeting, White-Townsend Ranch, where Mr. Webb, County Planning Commission Associate, was guest speaker, displaying charts defining regulations governing zone categories. The organization is nonprofit, chartered by the state for the purpose of promoting growth and development in the Mead Valley area.

Ascot Executive Board in Meet

Dr. Samuel Rowe, Ascot school principal and Mrs. Joe Williams addressed the Executive Board recent meeting and helped outline the school's PTA program.

Mrs. Esther Williams, chairman of the hostess board and her members are arranging for a delightful menu to be served for the teachers' meeting.

The next regular PTA meeting is slated for Wednesday Sept. 27, in the school's auditorium at 1:30 p.m.

Little Foxes Festival Set At Fox Hills

The "LITTLE FOXES FILM-LAND FESTIVAL" to be held Oct. 8th at Fox Hills Country Club will offer the general public an initial opportunity to see "in person" many of the Negro film artists who, otherwise, would seem to loose their identity in the film industry. This "who's who" is occasioned by the APPRECIATION AWARDS presentations to be made at this Festival to acknowledge the contribution of the Negro film artists in "opening the doors" for others to follow. It will be a rare treat to see these artists "out of character" as they receive their awards and, judging from the responses to date, the event will be a veritable "re-union" for many of them.

BEAUTIES PARTICIPATE

An added feature of the Oct. 8th event will be the selection of "Miss American Beauty of California" for the CANNES FILM FESTIVAL finals to be held in New York in late October.

THRIFTIMART MAKES EXEUCTIVE PERSONNEL CHANGES—Robert E. Laverty, Vice President of THRIFTIMART, INC., has announced executive personnel promotions effective immediately. Richard Lundeen, an employee of THRIFTIMART for thirty-one years and General Superintendent of the Grocery Division for the past twenty-two years, has been promoted to an advisory capacity and assistant to Robert Laverty. Earl MacNeill, a THRIFTIMART employee for the past thirteen years, has been appointed to replace Mr. Lundeen as General Superintendent of the Grocery Division. MacNeill, in his tenure with THRIFTIMART stores, has had experience in all phases of the Produce and Grocery Divisions in the THRIFTIMART chain. For the past three years, Mr. MacNeill has been Assistant Sales Manager. Don Conroy will succeed Mr. Earl MacNeill with his title of Sales Manager for THRIFTIMART stores. Conroy has ben with THRIFTIMART for twenty-seven years and has spent the major portion of his service in the Advertising and Buying Department. Robert Laverty, in charge of all divisions of sales at THRIFTIMART stores, is confident that the promotion of these three employees, with their many years of experience and knowledge in the supermarket business, will bring added emphasis to the THRIFTIMART efforts to better serve the people of Southern California, Nevada, San Diego and Bakersfield in the present existing sixty-two THRIFTIMART supermarkets and of the many THRIFTIMART stores presently under construction or on the drawing boards to be opened in the near future.

gladly take your loot but won't hire Negro waiters on a permanent basis. Other serious offenders are Ambassador, Biltmore, Ciro's, Beverly Hills and Fox Hills!

RAY CHARLES—He cut short his Hollywood Bowl concert because police said teenagers were fighting. What really happened was that several hundred mixed couples were doing the latest dance craze "The Twist", and the blond oxford gray combination burned the "beat" no end so they put a halt to it!

CIRCUIT — Looking for something different, well take her to Tommy Tucker's Playroom, Paul and Charles' Caribbean Lounge, Earl Bostic's Flying Fox, Claude and Blanche Duke's Living Room, Eddie Atkinson's Town Tavern, Hank Stewart's Black Orchid, Hotel Watkin's Rubaiyat Room, Edwin Pearl's Ash Grove, The Intermission Room, Ann's Place, Pandora's Box, Ollie Matson's New Orlean's Seafood Grotto, Marty Zuniga's Marty's Lounge and to top it off, the Flamingo Hotel or "Good Eating" at Smith's Barbeque Junction!

CHARITY WHITE — Winsome Mansfield socialite got that coffee cream complexion while sunning in Alcapulco when she visited Mexico recently!

LINDSAY VICKERS — Avalon Center's Youth Worker and ex-UCLA broad jumper George Brown, now with the Youth Authority, will say their I dos in Oct.!

C. W. WOODS —He is steaming over fact that the Bel-Air Engineering Company handed him a pretty shoddy deal and he took his case to the Atty. General Office and now threatening a big suit.

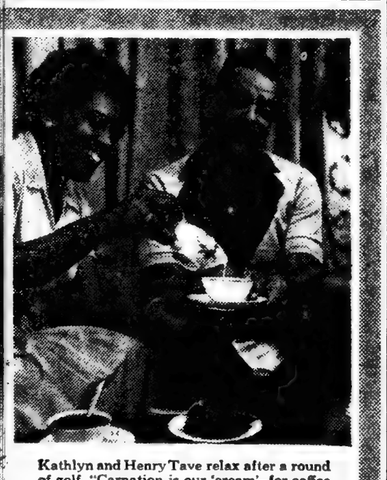
JANET PEARSON and WILLIAM WRIGHT told it to a parson in Las Vegas and got glued in the Casino town. They say they bumped into a bit of prejudice at one place they stopped and indignantly asked the management to tell them just exactly what race they took them to be. Holding her brand new granddaughter, Kathlyn Tave instructs daughter-in-law Barbara in formula preparation, while son Clayton looks on. Eight out of 10 mothers who feed their babies a Carnation formula say: "My doctor recommended it." Showing young mothers how to prepare the formula at home is one of Mrs. Tave's activities as a Carnation Market Consultant.

Kathlyn Tave, career woman, mother and grandmother

"Best cook in the world" reveals her Carnation cooking secrets



It is Henry Tave who insists his wife is the world's best cook.

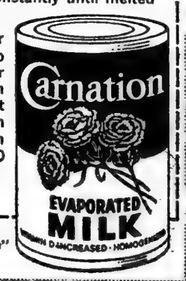
"At least I'm one of the busiest," Kathlyn Tave admits. She is a Market Consultant for the Carnation Company in the Los Angeles area.

"I couldn't ask for a more satisfying career. Carnation is everybody's favorite—for baby formulas, for drinking, for cooking. And how I love to tell my Carnation cooking secrets!

"Macaroni and cheese, for example. You don't need a cream sauce. You just make a 3-minute cheese sauce that's as easy as melting the cheese in Carnation!" (Recipe at right)

The creamy consistency of Carnation is the secret of many a superior casserole, meat loaf, and potato pie. Even when you mix Carnation with an equal amount of water, it's as rich as state standards for whole milk—for smoother cooking results at far less cost!

Kathlyn and Henry Tave relax after a round of golf. "Carnation is our 'cream'—for coffee, cereals and whipping. We all like it better than cream—and it costs only ½ as much," Mrs. Tave explains. She is past president of Cosmopolitan Golf Club, and of Tau Gamma Delta sorority, Mu chapter.



recipe:

Macaroni and Cheese with
CARNATION 3-MINUTE CHEESE SAUCE
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

- 1⅔ cups (large can) undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons dry mustard
- 2 cups (about 8 ounces) grated process American cheese
- 4 cups cooked macaroni
- ¼ cup chopped pimiento
- ¼ cup chopped green pepper

1. Simmer Carnation with salt and mustard in saucepan over low heat to just below boiling (about 2 minutes). Add cheese and stir constantly until melted (1 minute longer).

2. Pour sauce over macaroni, pimiento and green pepper mixed together in buttered 2-quart casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 25-30 minutes.

town to record his Christmas album for Columbia while awaiting his turn at the Cocoanut Grove...

The announcement that SATCHEL PAIGE is returning to organized baseball prompted one sportscribe to say that Satch has as much pitching talent as the entire pitching talent of the DODGERS combined. Say ABIE maybe you can use this item on your page, but every now and then you mention one of our showpeople so maybe we're even.

Attractive LENA TORRANCE COOPER and her mister are "putting on the dog" so to speak. The couple have opened up a Hot Dog stand and claim that their sandwiches are the tastiest in town! . . . The BARRISTERS Secretarial Guild (comprised of the luscious ladies who toil for the town's tan attorneys) held their installation meeting at mouthpiece THOMAS NEUSOM'S plush home Friday night. Lawyer man SHERMAN SMITH did the installing . . .

Aspiring actor CLEOPHUS HOLMES is now writing a stage play called simply "SAMMY" . . . Say Mr. Davis, Junior, have you got enough lawyers? . . .

Actor WALTER SMITH returned from a weekend flight to the CARVER HOUSE in Las Vegas Sunday and phoned us to say that the $10 roundtrip plane bargain offered by the Carver had 95 percent white aboard his plane, and he theorized that the beige set just can't believe that they can get so much for so little and shy away from the deal . . . but it's SO TRUE! . . . and now the EL MORROCCO in Vags is offering a bus ride there for $11 and something and you get a refund when you arrive there of all but a fin of your money. Beverly Hills Group Set to Buy Out Negro Owned Liberty Savings

'Riders' Win Victory --Bus Bias Banned

WASHINGTON — Freedom Rides and a long time NAACP demand for action against segregation by the Interstate Commerce Commission bore fruit when the ICC last week established rules forbidding Jim Crow on buses or in their terminal facilities.

The order came as a direct result of a petition filed last May by Atty. General Robert Kennedy and sets up two basic rules which:

1. Forbid interstate bus operators from segregating seating on the basis of race, creed, color or national origin.

2. Prohibit interstate busses from using terminals where waiting rooms, rest rooms, lunch counters or other facilities are segregated.

$500 FINE

The ICC which has sweeping regulatory powers over all commercial, interstate, surface transportation, said the first violation of the new rules would call for a fine of $100 to $500. The penalty for a second violation could range from $200 to $500.

The unanimous ruling by the 11-man commission dealt only with busses under an act which gives the ICC much wider power over motor carriers than it has over railroads, which are regulated under the original Interstate Commerce Act. The Justice De-

Blodgett Holds Control, Seeks To Block Sale

A determined effort on the part of a powerful Beverly Hills financial group to take over control and ultimate ownership of Liberty Savings and Loan Association flared into the open last week when a routine hearing on a sale of 10 shares of Liberty Stock was held in Probate Court.

The only obstacle standing in the way of the Beverly Hills group's ambitious plan to gobble up the oldest and largest Negro owned and controlled savings and loan association in the state is the stubborn refusal of L. M. Blodgett, president and one of the founders, to sell his stock although he has been offered more than a million dollars for the stock he owns and controls.

WILLING TO SELL

Minority stockholders have already entered into an escrow agreement for the sale of 140 of the Association's 280 shares to a syndicate represented by Norman Sanoff with Charles Feldstein acting as the agents who will be paid a large commission by the sellers. The escrow is slated to close Sept. 30.

Those who have agreed to sell their stock include W. C. (Sharkey) Blodgett, Atty. Charles Matthews, Owen Mc Card, Capt. J. L. Taylor, Mrs. Estelle Blodgett, Mrs. Cecelia Brousaard, Mrs. Mary Blackwell, Mrs. Mary Watkins and Miss Miriam

JUDGE — Thurgood Marshall, whose name is synonymous with the legal actions of the NAACP, is Judge Thurgood Marshall now. He was appointed to the U.S. Second Circuit Court of Appeals by Pres. Kennedy.

Marshall Wins Position on Appeals Court

WASHINGTON — Thurgood Marshall, veteran civil rights attorney and director of the NAACP Legal and Educational Fund, will soon be Judge Thurgood Marshall. He was named to the Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit by President Kennedy last week. The Appeals Court ranks just below the Supreme Court.

With Congress in the throes of adjournment the appointment will probably not be acted on in time for confirmation at this session. However the President has announced that as soon as Congress adjourns he will give Marshall an interim appointment which means that he can begin service on the court immediately.

HOWARD GRADUATE

Born in Maryland and educated at Howard University, Marshall began his service with the NAACP in 1934 and has appeared in more than 35 cases before the Supreme Court. He was chief counsel in cases challenging segregation in graduate and professional schools, in transportation, in the race restriction case and finally in the famed 1954 cases that resulted in overthrow of segregation in primary and secondary schools.

Marshall now lives in New York where he resides with his

Pacoima Woman Picked

In a surprise appointment, Mrs. James Avery, of 11501 Herrick avenue, Pacoima, has just been named to the job of postmaster of the controversial Pacoima Post Office.

Her selection was announced Tuesday afternoon, following telegraphic confirmation from Sen. Clair Engle to Don Rose, chairman of the Los Angeles County Central Committee.

FRIDAY CEREMONY

Acting with dispatch, Mrs. Avery, the mother of two children, long active in civic and school endeavors, will be sworn in Friday night at 7 p.m. at the Post Office, 13507 Van Nuys blvd., in Pacoima.

Assemblyman Tom Carrell and a number of other Democratic bigwigs will be present for the ceremony.

Mrs. Avery's selection makes her the first Negro, man or woman, to be selected to head a major post office in California. In fact, there is hardly a post office in the country, major or minor, that is headed by a Negro.

SURPRISE ACTION

Selection of Mrs. Avery came as a considerable surprise to

Judge to Rule On School Bias In Pasadena

By J. ROBERT SMITH

Pasadena Superior Court Judge William E. Fox Friday took the case of alleged school segregation against the Pasadena Board of Education under advisement and will render his decision early next week.

Jay R. Jackson, a 13-year-old Negro boy, of 2515 Vista Laguna Terrace, through his father as guardian, is seeking a writ of mandamus to be issued against members of the Board of Education, the Superintendent of Schools and the Director of Accounting and Financial Control of the board commanding them to permit young Jackson to transfer from Washington Junior High School to Eliot Junior High School.

J. Robert Smith, journalist, who is well known in the local community, is currently a reporter for the "Pasadena Independent."

SCHOOL INFERIOR

Those specifically mentioned in the suit are Robert G. Freeman, Luverne LaMotte, Walter T. Shatford II, Steve Salisian and James N. Stivers Jr., Board members; Robert E. Jenkins, Secretary of the Board and Superintendent of Pasadena schools, and Henry Sievers Jr., Director of Accounting and Financial Control of the local school board.

Jackson charged that last Aug. 10 a written notice was sent the board requesting that his son transfer from Washington to Eliot on the grounds that the former is a racially segregated school, and therefore inferior, and as a consequence his son will be damaged by being required to attend Washington.

The charge further alleged that on Aug. 18, Jenkins and Sievers denied and refused the transfer.

DEFENDS PRACTICE

Arguing for the board, William E. Lamoreaux, assistant Los Angeles County Counsel, began by filing a general demurrer, and also an answer in the event Judge Fox should deny the demurrer.

To bolster his contention Lamoreaux told Judge Fox, "These proceedings force the Board of Education to defend its right to determine the pupil attendance

'Cyclone' Hits Boy Friend, 'Other Woman'

A human cyclone is the way police described Suzanne Williams.

This was after Suzanne, 44, of 108 W. 109th street, had allegedly broken into her boy friend's penthouse apartment, chased another woman friend out, wrecked furniture and cut her boy friend on the hand.

It was also after Suzanne had reportedly broken the windshield of the boy friends' car, bent the vehicle's radio antenna, flattened the car's rear tires and ripped the upholstery.

SMASHED DOOR

The description also came after Suzanne had reputedly broken the glass door to her boy friend's

Rob Williams, Hunted, Says, 'I'm Not Guilty'

"Shoot at Sight!"

That is the intent of circulars now flooding the country, describing Robert F. Williams, president of the Union County (N.C.) NAACP who fled his home last August when he was warned he "would be hanging in the courthouse square" in 30 minutes, according to a statement made by a newly formed New York "Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants."

The Justice Department "wanted" circulars, one of which is displayed locally in the Compton Post Office, describe Williams as "heavily armed," "extremely dangerous" and "schizophrenic."

DENIES GUILT

Williams, in a letter written to several New York newspapers, emphatically denies he is guilty of the "kidnap" charge for which he is being hunted like a criminal.

He calls the charge a "frame-up" and accuses the government of seeking to "lynch" him "for political reasons."

Williams was charged with kidnapping a white couple, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bruce Stegall, who were passing through New Town, main Negro section of Monroe, N.C., during the height of the race violence that erupted following

Roy Wilkins Rally Set for Olympic Sun.

The heartening victory just gained over Jim Crow bus facilities in the Deep South will be one of the highlights of Roy Wilkins' keynote address at the Civil Rights Rally scheduled for this Sunday at 3 p.m. at the Olympic Auditorium, 18th and Grand.

Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, will also discuss the recent sessions of Congress and its failure even to consider Civil Rights legislation, as well as outlining action planned by the NAACP to stamp out discrimination and segregation.

RIDER, STARS

Also on the program will be one of the returned Freedom Riders who will tell of his "Ride for Freedom," and of his stay in a Mississippi jail.

There will also be a number of top stage, screen and radio stars and at least half a dozen of the leading church choirs of Los Angeles.

Following the meeting, at 7 p.m. at 1240 S. Arlington avenue, the Hollywood Activities Committee of the NAACP will hold a party for Wilkins, to which all are invited.

Among entertainers who will help make the social one to remember will be Johnny Mathis, Louis Armstrong, Nellie Lutcher, Juanita Cruze and band leader Roy Milton.

Celes King III will be host; chairmen will be Maggie Hathaway and Bene Green.

Loren Miller says . . .

DEATH OF A MYTH

President Kennedy's appointment of Thurgood Marshall to the federal appeals court not only put him on the bench but it killed a myth. After the 1954 school decision the NAACP, naturally enough, began to urge southern states to obey the Supreme Court order and admit Negro pupils to public schools.

That always struck me as fair enough. I never could see much sense in having a Supreme Court unless citizens were ready to bow to its interpretation of the law. To put it mildly, the southern states didn't see eye to eye with me or the NAACP. They invented the White Citizens Councils.

The Councils took the position that the states didn't have to pay any attention to the Court and could go right on segregating pupils if they wanted to. In fact, the Councils took to telling school boards that the Court was wrong and the decision was the work of Communists who had wormed their way into high governmental positions. Any way you look at that kind of talk, it was obvious

Policewoman Robinson's Funeral Set

EAGLE News—Policewomen — Mrs. Georgia Ann Robinson, 82, 969 S. Mariposa avenue, died at her home last Monday night. Mrs. Robinson, who was one of the first policewomen to be hired in California, was the first Negro policewoman in the United States.

In 1929 she was retired because of blindness caused by an injury received when she was attacked by a drunken woman in jail.

Mrs. Robinson was one of the organizers of the Los Angeles NAACP and worked diligently with the Sojourner Truth Home and the Plis-Art-Lit-Mo Club. Her husband, Morgan E. Robinson, died last May. She is survived by her daughter. Mrs. Marvin McCard, with whom she lived.

Mrs. Robinson had been an Eagle subscriber for 49 years and even though she was blind the past 30 years she had her daughter or a friend read the Eagle to her every week — first the headlines, then particular items in which she was interested.

Funeral services will be held under the supervision of Conner-Johnson Mortuary, with requiem mass at St. Phillips Episcopal church at 9 a.m. tomorrow, Friday. Interment will be at Rosedale Cemetery.

Fire Dept. Charges Hitting 'Stone Wall'

By BILL LANE

Seven Los Angeles Negro firemen ran up against a stone wall in seeking remedy for their charges of bias in the city's Fire Department Thursday.

The Civil Service Commission, meeting to hear the charges, was accused of "closing all doors" to the complainants.

RAPS 'WHITEWASH'

Atty. Arnett L. Hartsfield, Jr., representing the seven Negroes, ripped the commission for refusing to hear or consider a long list of specific bias complaints involving treatment of Negro firemen by their officers and fellow white firemen in various station houses.

Men interested in employment with the L. A. Fire Department can secure applications at the offices of the California Eagle. Filing date deadline is Friday, Sept. 29.

He also blasted the commission for its apparent effort to "whitewash" Fire Department heads sitting on Civil Service Commission oral examination boards after openly admitting they held prejudices against Negroes.

When the commission, in effect, ruled out hearing 114 witnesses Hartsfield had collected to back up his charges, the attorney pleaded with the board to hold up its certifying of the list of firemen who had taken oral examinations.

Hartsfield was ordered to appear at City Hall Friday at 1:30 p.m. to present his final oral

Dr. English Ordered to Stand Trial

Dr. I. B. English, prominent Pasadena surgeon and former NAACP head, was ordered to Superior Court trial in Pasadena Tuesday as an outgrowth of a shooting two weeks ago of his wife, Mable.

The physician, staff member at a number of hospitals, was released on $5,000 bond pending trial on charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

THREE BULLETS

At a preliminary hearing in the court of Justice Richard Hayden in Pasadena, the physician stood mute as the court heard testimony of Mrs. English that her husband had tried to kill her as she lay in bed at their home at 1218 Solita road, in Pasadena.

Mrs. English suffered a bullet wound in the forearm.

The well-known doctor was reported to have fired four bullets at his wife, after telling her:

"Say your prayers."

Police declared they found only three spent slugs in the bedding.

Testimony was introduced that Mrs. English, mother of a small child, recalled no quarrel or argument with her husband prior to the shooting.

Down the Lane

By BILL LANE

During hearings anent bias in the Fire Department, one begrizzled fire chief told a white newsman he was going to discriminate against whom he pleased "no matter what they decide. And I'll still choose to sleep on the floor rather than sleep in a bed slept in by a colored guy."

The chief, obviously, has a problem. Perhaps the only way for him to solve it IS to sleep on the floor.

FIRE JOBS OPEN

Incidentally, this Friday, the 29th, is the last day to apply for jobs as a fireman. Negroes seeking a fireman's job should apply by Thursday. Exams in October. The jobs pay quite well, make for economic security, and demand about only a half of each month on actual active duty.

DID YOU know that L.A., according to the current Harper's, has a forcible rape rate more than twice as high as St. Louis and Philadelphia, three times as high as the rate for Chicago and more than four times the rate for New York City?

News goes that the Rev. Dr. Jesse Jai McNeil, formerly head of Tabernacle Baptist Church in Detroit, is new minister of Metropolitan Baptist Church of Pasadena.

And speaking of Detroiters, Atty. Cora Brown, most recently holder of a high government position in Washington, has taken up roots — and a swimming pool — in these parts.

RECORDS

Chris Chavez of Music City helped us out by letting us know who recorded two swinging new versions of two old songs, "Isn't It a Lovely Day to be Caught in the Rain" and "Up a Lazy River." Chris knuckled her thought plexus and told us the first tune —with Oriental jazz overtones— was recorded by Petula Clark, on Warwick, and that Si Zentner, who blew all those nice notes for Capitol's Jimmie Lunceford album several years ago, has the swinging new version of "Up a Lazy River" in his new "Big Band Hits" album on Liberty.

FOLKS are looking for Richard "Groove" Holmes to come into his own with the new World Pacific album he made with the groovin' big band of the Mississippi mad man of music, Gerald Wilson.

UNCLE TOM?

Backroom talk has it that Negroes would have been much farther ahead in integration in the L.A. Fire Department if they hadn't years ago begged for their "own" "all-cullud" fire stations. Well, that might be so. But that is also water over the dam. This is today. Not yesterday.

MAGGIE HATHAWAY happy that Johnny Mathis consented to lend his vocal tones to the cause of the NAACP when it holds its gigantic rally. Vincent Tubbs is happy, too. Tubbs, an all-'round newsman and the nation's only Negro public relations man with a major movie firm (Warner Brothers), is also Mathis' press representative.

AND JOHNNY MATHIS, TOO — Among top entertainers who will aid the NAACP Hollywood Activities Committee social Sunday night for Roy Wilkins, following the Olympic Rally, will be, from left: Vocalist Juanita Cruze and band leader Roy Milton who are purchasing tickets from committee members Bunny Crowers, host Celes King III and Fannie Thomas. Johnny Mathis, 'tis said, will also be there.

Cab Driver Escapes Gun-Wielding Fare

Yellow Cab driver Henry M. Boyd, 43, of 325 E. 37th street, answered a call at 59th street and Avalon about 10 p.m. last Saturday night. Two men got in his cab; one had his right hand bandaged with a large piece of white cloth. The other ordered the cabbie to drive to the General Hospital as "quick as you can."

Just south of S.. a Barbara on the Harbor freeway, the man with the bandaged hand snatched off the bandage, jammed a concealed gun into the back of the driver and said, "There is nothing wrong with me. I'm going to kill you. I don't like the way you drive. Get off the freeway driver; Get off the freeway!"

Boyd drove off the Santa Barbara ramp and raced to a stop at 41st street and Broadway. He leaped from the cab and ran like a fullback carrying the ball for pay dirt. The suspects yelled stop and fired one shot at the fleeing cabbie who was not hurt.

Police could find no trace of the two men. Boyd said neither of the men made any mention of money.

ground-floor office and taken $270 from the harried man's wallet.

The money was recovered. Police matrons found it in the woman's undergarments, when she was searched.

It all started about three a.m. Sunday when Fred D. Turney, 64, caretaker of a 10-story apartment building at 407-11 East Pico, refused to let Miss Williams into his penthouse quarters. He said she then broke the kitchen window, and entered, chasing out another woman, Ruth Adams, of 322 E. 118th street.

The caretaker said Miss Williams then became a whirlwind, tearing his pajamas, striking him on the head with a gun, cutting him on the hand with a bread knife and chasing him with a barrage of dishes and furniture.

Turney fled and called police.

Two Attorneys Plead Not Guilty

Atty. Robert Boags, 35, whose offices are at 4618 S. Central avenue, and his brother, public defender Charles Donald Boags, 32, of 4723 S. Broadway, pleaded not guilty Tuesday to four misdemeanor counts.

The brothers, who claim they were severely beaten by Wilshire police last Sunday night, were accused of assault and battery, disturbing the peace, interfering with an officer and being drunk. Both claim they asked for and were refused sobriety tests at the police station.

Trial date has been set for Oct. 13 in Division 20.

Decision Awaited on Pasadena Schools

areas for the various schools which it operates so as to make the best possible use of the school facilities.

"By that I am referring to the rooms available for the instruction of pupils, transportation which the school provides to bring pupils to school and take them home, and the general facilities of the various schools operated by the board."

USE, NOT COLOR

Continuing, the County Counsel argued that, "The plaintiff on the contrary seeks to establish the proposition that in delineating these pupil attendance zones, drawing the boundaries of the attendance zones of the various school boards, they must consider the color of the pupils without any regard to the best utilization of the facilities of the district."

In direct answer to the County Counsel's position, Samuel C. Sheats, attorney for Jackson told Judge Fox, "We allege that the Pasadena School District or its duly constituted servants, agents or employes have so altered, manipulated and gerrymandered a junior high school district so as to give preference to residents in an elementary district."

He said that this district or zone should properly be included in the Washington Junior High School zone.

RACIALLY MOTIVATED

Sheats further argued, "That the origin, design and effect of that action were racially motivated."

Sheats said that in order to avoid association and contact with Negroes, Linda Vista residents urged and importuned the board to assign the Linda Vista pupils to McKinley Junior High School, and threatened to seek withdrawal of the Linda Vista Elementary School zone from the Pasadena school district if such assignment was not made.

He explained that the situation arose because recent unification of the La Canada School District resulted in pupils residing in the Linda Vista Elementary School zone subsequent to July 1 of this year, who were not attending junior high school, being required to attend a junior high school other than La Canada Junior High School.

In his rebuttal, Lamoreaux held that "discretion is the right of the board and no one can tell them what to do and that is what the plaintiff is doing." He said:

"The board has undoubted rights to manage its schools and to utilize its facilities to best advantage. This discretion is not to be interfered with by someone who thinks otherwise. The board has a very wide discretion in transferring pupils from one school to another."

To this Sheats countered that "the board does not have plenary powers. They are creatures of us. They are elected servants. They cannot arbitrarily run the schools."

In closing Sheats said: "Racial segregation in California today is illegal. The boundary lines relegate Negroes and others to a single district which makes it unequal and inferior which is in violation of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution."

Throughout arguments - references were made to school litigation in New Rochelle, N.Y.; Little Rock, Ark., and Birmingham, Ala.

Neither the superintendent of schools nor any member of the board attended the hearing.

When asked when he expected to hand down his ruling, Judge Fox said, "sometime early next week."

He is active in the underwriting of stocks as well as in private banking. Keon and Company has become one of the more prominent private banking institutions in the West.

When he was notified of his election, Keon stated, "The most rewarding feeling one can achieve is in helping emotionally disturbed children to attain to a fuller and richer life.

"I am sure many other members of the financial community will understand and accept the importance of the work which lies just ahead for the clinic," Keon concluded.

Goodie Knight Makes Bid for Local Support

By C. MARIE HUGHES

Former Governor Goodwin J. Knight who recently announced his candidacy for the governorship of California made his initial political bid for Negro support Saturday at a luncheon in the New York Room of the Statler-Hilton Hotel. John Lamar Hill, president of the Angelus Funeral Home, was the luncheon host.

Predominant among the invited guests were 30 or more ministers.

Informality prevailed during Knight's chat after he was formally introduced. He told the group of church leaders and laymen he was open to suggestions about his campaign from those who had any to offer.

The former governor told the group his prime interest in again seeking the governor's seat is to finish the job he started as California's chief executive. Among his unfinished projects he said are providing bomb shelters for the kids in ever yschool that is built or remodeled and providing for rapid transit systems in such cities as Los Angeles.

In referring to race, he said he believes government is for all the people not just some of the people. He went on to say that the Republican Party seemingly has failed to recognize that it has been behind the eight ball since 1932.

Hill pointed out that Knight has long been a life member of the NAACP and also was the founder of the Women's Political Study Club. Among the appointments he made during his six years in office was the selection of Hill as a member of the State Cemetery Board.

Jeff 'Student' Held In Attack on Teacher

A 19-year-old classroom "crasher" will have to stand trial for felonious assault, a Municipal Court judge ruled Monday.

Ordered held for arraignment Oct. 9, in Superior Court, was Milton Williams, of 2516 Naomi street. Judge Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., ordered Williams held on a complaint filed by Russell Craft, of 906 Gretna Green Way.

FIST IN CHAIN

Craft, a history teacher at Jefferson High School, told police that Williams entered his history class at Jefferson one day last week and seated himself in the teacher's chair in front of the class.

The instructor said when he attempted to eject the intruder from the chair the youth struck him with his fist, which Craft said, was wrapped in a chain.

The blow broke Craft's eyeglasses, and inflicted a serious laceration on his eyebrow.

CHAIR-SNATCHING

The boy testified he had gone to the classroom to give "some money to a boy I know." He said he sat in a vacant chair in the rear of the room until Craft ordered him to the front of the class and told him to sit in the instructor's chair.

Williams said when he tried to sit down, the teacher snatched the chair from beneath him.

"Then I hit him," said Williams.

Filipino Dancers To be Presented At Shrine Sat.

The Bayanihan Philippine Dancers who will appear at the Shrine Auditorium Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 under the auspices of the Los Angeles Community Concert Association are currently filling a 13 week transcontinental tour of 50 cities.

The company of 30 young dancers and 15 musicians made dance history at the Brussels World's Fair in 1958 and in New York in 1959. This 1961 tour is presented in response to nationwide demand.

The gorgeous costumes, fresh and original dances and the attractiveness of each member of the company enhance the entire production, which vividly depicts the many facets of Philippine culture. Painstaking research has gone into every detail of costume and scenery.

The unique program is divided into five parts: "Dances of the Mountain Region," "Fiesta Filipina," "The Muslim Suite," "Regional Variations" and "The Rural Philippines Suite."

PHILIPPINE DANCERS—The Bayanihan Philippine Dancers, one of the most sought-after dance groups in the world, will appear at the Shrine Auditorium, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, as part of their 13-week transcontinental tour.

Disgrace of Fire Department

The story of what has happened in the Los Angeles Fire Department since Fire Chief William Miller purported to order integration in the department has been told before the Civil Service Commission. It is a sordid one that should make Los Angeles thoroughly ashamed of itself and it casts grave doubt on Mr. Miller's fitness for public office.

Negro firemen have been subjected to petty harassment and to discriminatory practices that never should have been tolerated. Those practices could not have persisted without the chief's knowledge and approval.

The pretense that the administrators of the department lack power to eradicate the rules that have resulted in the ostracism of Negroes in the stations and the refusal to let them participate in the full use of station facilities won't hold water.

Even worse, the hearing has developed the fact that there has been a concerted and deliberate effort to bar Negro recruits through packed and fictitious oral examinations. The chief can't be heard to say that he didn't know what was going on. It is hard to believe that he didn't acquiesce in what the oral examiners from his department were doing and that he didn't approve of their unfair actions.

Now that the facts have been uncovered, Mayor Yorty ought to intervene and let the chief and the petty bureaucrats in the department know that the city won't tolerate their actions and attitudes.

We don't know of any American city, north or south, which has been as guilty as Los Angeles of treating its firemen in a shabby and un-American manner. We think it's time Los Angeles Fire Chief Miller and his department got in step with progress. After all, the South did lose the Civil War.

Integration: "Slow Indeed"

The two southern members joined their northern colleagues on the Federal Civil Rights Commission in a report to the president telling him that the progress toward school integration is "slow indeed." All six commissioners joined in a proposal that Congress set a date for the beginning of desegregation in all school districts.

Five of the commissioners proposed that the federal government withdraw governmental assistance to states which tolerate segregation in their school. The suggestion strikes us as a sensible one. If the states won't obey federal laws they have no right to use federal funds.

The commission also took occasion to point out that there is a great deal of school segregation in the north, arising out of gerrymandering of school districts or tolerated and encouraged because such segregation flows from residential segregation.

If, as the Supreme Court found in the School Cases, segregation is harmful to Negro children it is easy to see that an uncounted number of Negro children are being injured by the deliberate action of school boards all over the nation.

In the long run, the entire nation pays the cost of the injury done to Negro children. Hundreds and thousands of youngsters who should receive training that would enable them to contribute to the common welfare aren't getting that training and as a consequence the whole country is being cheated out of their talents and contributions.

We're paying too high a price for prejudice.

The End of Bus Jim Crow

The Interstate Commerce Commission struck a telling blow at segregation in transportation, particularly on bus lines, with last week's order telling carriers not only to drop all segregation but to post notices of the new policy.

Under the new order the bus lines will be obliged to post notices that there is no segregation on buses and to post similar notices in all waiting rooms informing passengers that all facilities are available to patrons without regard to race, color or creed.

The clincher is that the bus lines must make periodic reports to the Commission telling it what has been done and what states or private individuals are doing, or have done, to obstruct the new policy.

Obviously the step should have been taken years ago but that does not detract from the fact that the order is the most important step taken by federal administrative action in history.

The order was made as a direct response to a petition from Atty. General Robert Kennedy and he certainly deserves credit for his courage and ingenuity. But the fact remains that the order is a direct result of the activities of the Freedom Riders whose excursions to the South put the issue in the headlines and drew it to the attention of the whole world.

What the Freedom Riders did illustrates the compelling power of public opinion. It is a safe guess that most Americans didn't know what was going on until the Freedom Riders took their brave trips to the South. As soon as the Freedom Riders put the case against segregation on the front pages of the world's newspapers the NAACP responded with requests for action from the attorney general and the Commission.

As a matter of fact, the Association had urged such a course on the Commission several years ago without success.

Racial segregation will continue to yield concerted action such as was displayed in the bus situation. It is as much out of style as high button shoes but we can't wish it away or talk it away. We must find new techniques, such as the Freedom Rides, to attack and vanquish it.

Federal Judge Thurgood Marshall

The appointment of Thurgood Marshall as a judge of the United States Court of Appeals is important not only because it is a recognition of the fact that color should play no part in government service but because of the part that Mr. Marshall has played in the long battle against segregation.

There has been a tendency on the part of presidents, governors and mayors to name "safe" and "non-controversial" Negroes to public office when they finally decided that a Negro must be appointed.

Thurgood Marshall is anathema to the South. He is hated and feared by the segregationists because he has been the NAACP spokesman in the courts for the cause of integration. In that sense, he isn't "safe" and he certainly isn't non-controversial.

His appointment is a recognition of the fact that what Negroes want and the person they desire for public office is a factor that ought to be considered in the selection of a Negro for public office.

Moreover, it serves notice that a Negro who isn't afraid to stand up and be counted in the fight against discrimination can aspire to public office.

The Kennedy administration took the first step in that direction when Robert Weaver was named head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Weaver had been a leader in the fight for integrated housing and had made his stand plain. He was chairman of the board of the NAACP.

Mr. Marshall's appointment will set off a violent reaction in the South. Southern senators will vote against his confirmation and will seek to drag the red herring across his trail just as they did in Mr. Weaver's case. They will meet with the same lack of success. After the smoke has been cleared way he will be confirmed.

Thurgood Marshall is one of the nation's most distinguished lawyers. It is safe to predict that he will become one of America's most distinguished judges.

Fire Dept. Charges Met by 'Stone Wall'

arguments before the commission. The move came after Hartsfield had asked more time to consult with his clients.

The hearing Thursday saw local Fire Fighters Union 748 withdraw its charge of anti-union activity among fire heads sitting on the commission's oral examination board. The action tended to take away some of Hartsfield's support.

LIST REJECTED

When Hartsfield presented his itemized list of complaints of interdepartment Jim Crow and ostracism, the commission quickly cited a City Attorney's ruling that the Civil Service Commission could only hear and consider Hartsfield's original charges. These charges were that Negro firemen, seeking to advance to the position of captain, were questioned about their views on civil rights in oral examinations, and that the applicants were generally flunked out of the test by two fire officials sitting on the board.

Abe Levy, speaking for the Fire Fighters union, announced his union would press for elimination of Fire Department officials from the oral hearing board.

This view was ostensibly supported by Civil Service Commission President George K. Simmonds in a private talk with newsmen during a hearing recess. Simmonds also said he favored lowering the percentage given the rating on the oral examination.

DEAF EAR

But Simmonds joined with other members of his commission in turning a deaf ear to complaints that Negro firemen are denied participation in Fire Department recreational activities, are segregated in the mess halls, are not introduced to white firemen with whom they have to work and are generally Jim Crow throughout the city's firefighting system. The commission said it could only hear charges of examination bias.

Norman B. Houston, Jr., lone Negro member of the commission, put forth the only objection to the ruling. Houston said it was improper to turn down the interdepartment bias charges because the charges tended to show the policies of fire officials sitting on the oral examination board.

Simmonds quickly dismissed this point of view, declaring that Dep. Chief W. W. Johnston, Jr., a commission examiner, had admitted he was prejudiced against Negroes, but that he "put aside" his racial ill-will when hearing Negro firemen in their oral examinations.

Houston said he did not see Frank how such a feat of mental gymnastics was possible.

It was then that Hartsfield said the commission had closed all doors to his list of complaints.

The packed courtroom, notable for its dearth of Negroes, was silent. A rustle of noise came from the audience only when Hartsfield asked for time to confer with his clients pending "further legal remedies."

FREE UNIT ENTERS

Fred Kline, president of the Mayor's Fire Commission, told the commission he would "look into" the interdepartment bigotry after the Civil Service Commission concluded its hearing Friday.

Negro firemen, however, told the EAGLE they would believe Kline only when his commission took definite action. Kline had previously said his commission would not consider Hartsfield's charges because they had been "clouded" by what he allegedly termed publicity before the Civil Service Commission.

Hartsfield told the EAGLE late Monday the Fire Commission could no longer take this view since the Civil Service Commission had acknowledged the possible existence of Jim Crow in the department although saying it could not act upon it.

ICC Bans Bus Bias

partment asked the ICC to take administrative action in regard to busses because it felt the commission had clear powers in that field.

In its report on adoption of the new rules, the ICC said it has found that "many Negro passengers are subjected to racial segregation in several forms. It went on to specify seating on busses and use of eating, rest room and other terminal facilities.

SIGNS REQUIRED

The ICC directed that, beginning Nov. 1, all busses and bus terminals used by interstate passengers must display signs affirming that their use will be without regard to race, color or creed.

Operators of interstate busses were directed to report to the ICC within 15 days of any interference with enforcement of these rules—whether the interference came from an individual, a private group or a political subdivision such as a state or city. Such reports also would have to include a statement on action taken by the carrier to halt the interference.

ATTY. GEN. COMMENTS

Atty. Gen. Kennedy said Saturday the Justice Department "will co-operate fully" in enforcing the new Interstate Commerce Commission order outlawing segregation in interstate bus travel.

He said the order, issued Friday and effective Nov. 1, was the "most far-reaching administrative action ever taken by the federal government" in the field of racial discrimination.

"I am gratified that the commission has taken this important step," the President's brother added in a statement.

DETERMINED PEOPLE

In promising his department's full co-operation in enforcing the order, Kennedy said the unanimity of the ICC "reflects the determination of the American people as a whole to make progress in the civil rights field.

"If the new regulations are accepted and applied with goodwill and wisdom," he added, "the results will be a credit to our country."

In a reference to the freedom riders, the attorney general recalled that federal and state authorities found it necessary last May "to take extraordinary steps to protect the safety of interstate travelers."

Loren Miller Says . . .

that the Councils had taken an extreme position. That gave rise to the myth that I started out discussing.

WHO'S EXTREME?

The myth was that both the NAACP and the Councils were extremists and a fellow by the name of Dwight Eisenhower who was in temporary possession of the White House gave it as his opinion that nothing could be done unless "extremists on both sides" quieted down a little. That statement supposes that there is something "extreme" about supporting the Supreme Court. I never quite understood that point of view. Clear up until that time I hadn't even thought of the idea that there was anything extremist about the citizen who yelled for the police to do their duty when he caught a burglar in his parlor. If you had left it to me I would have said that the burglar was the extremist.

As time wore on and liberals lost heart in the face of massive southern opposition to the school decisions they began to repeat the statement that the real trouble about school desegregation lay with the "extremists on both sides." As nearly as I could make out they were saying that if the NAACP stopped insisting on obedience to the law the southerners would wake up some fine morning and open every school door down in Dixie. I have my doubts.

NOTHING TO IT

To get back to President Kennedy and the Marshall appointment, it is apparent that the chief executive puts little credence in the claim that the NAACP lawyer had taken an extreme position or that those who supported him were extremists. Marshall's job on the appeals court will be that of interpreting and applying the constitution. Presidents don't appoint extremists to that kind of a job. I don't mean to say that the talk about "extremists on both sides" will die out tomorrow. It won't. What the appointment will do, I hope, is to make the fearful and faint hearted take another look and hush their talk about the NAACP as an "extremist" organization.

FINE FUNERAL

Beneath the hue and cry against the NAACP and those who agreed that desegregation of schools was required lurked the unspoken idea that Negroes should be content to assert less than their constitutional rights. The thinking was that it was just dandy for Negroes to have their rights but they shouldn't try to exercise them—the rather whimsical proposition that it was quite proper to give a starving man a half loaf of bread but that he shouldn't be rude enough to eat it.

Anyhow I am glad that the myth has been laid to rest. I'm like Grandma when she heard that Will Ammons was dead. Will was about the meanest man in Thurman county who counted that day lost when he didn't do somebody in. After he died, a neighbor asked Grandma if she had attended Will's funeral. She said no she hadn't been to the funeral but she certainly approved of it.

Beverly Hills Group Eyes Liberty Ass'n

Matthews. All are Negroes.

The Probate Court sale involved 10 shares of Liberty stock owned by the late Mrs. Ella Blodgett who was the wife of L. M. Blodgett. Atty. Matthews, her brother and executor of her estate, had proposed to sell the stock to the syndicate but when he appeared in court to seek approval of the sale, representatives of Blodgett appeared and sought to raise the bid. Matthews then withdrew his offer for sale with the tart comment that the stock was "not for sale to L. M. Blodgett at any price" and the matter was delayed pending further proceedings.

CONTROLLING SHARES

Ownership of the 10 shares of stock is important because of its voting power on the question of control of the company.

Liberty was founded in 1924 and its stock has always been owned by Negro investors. News of the proposed take-over aroused widespread community resentment from depositors who have supported Liberty because of its local ownership.

Beverly Hills groups have been casting a covetous eye on Liberty's ownership and control for the past several years because of its sound financial position and the earning power of its stock which have been achieved under L. M. Blodgett's guidance as president and general manager. If the Beverly Hills group should succeed in taking over the institution, it is feared that Liberty may be merged with other associations and that Negro stockholders will be eased out of participation in management.

$8000 PER SHARE

The current effort to obtain control of the Association began when the outside group sought to take advantage of a minor dispute over membership on the board of directors at its last annual meeting. When L. M. Blodgett retained control of the board, minority stockholders began negotiations with the Beverly Hills group and it is rumored that the sales price of the stock has been fixed at $8,000 per share in the escrow.

The matter is complicated by a conflict arising out of an interpretation of the late Mrs. Blodgett's will. She left the 10 shares of stock to Atty. Matthews and his son and left other real property to her sister. A lawsuit is now pending over her real property interests.

TIED TO BLODGETT VOTE

Mrs. Blodgett's will directed Atty. Matthews as her executor to vote the 10 shares of stock in the same manner as L. M. Blodgett voted his interests, but he has not followed that direction. He had served as the attorney for the association for many years but was relieved of that position after the last annual stockholders' meeting.

L. M. Blodgett's refusal to sell his own stock and his effort to forestall the Beverly Hills group's bid is understood to stem from his unwillingness to see the very important business institution wrested from the hands of Negroes. Under Negro ownership and control, it has been a very important factor in granting loans for Negro home purchasers when other financial institutions refused to make loans in order to prevent sales to Negroes.

Liberty is the oldest Negro financial institution in the city. It has current assets of more than 16 million dollars. It was one of the few California building and loan associations of its size to survive the rigors of the depression and its financial position has grown steadily for the past 20 years. All deposits are guaranteed by the federal government.

members of the community since she was not one of those involved in the hotly contested struggle for the post.

At one time Frank Barnes, who has worked for the Post Office for close to 20 years, was reported to have been appointed to the position. He had the backing of leading state and local Democrats, including Sen. Clair Engle, and it was assumed by almost everyone and printed in Valley newspapers that he had been given the post.

Postmaster General Day, however, withheld confirmation of Barnes, whose appointment was opposed by various white groups, one of which frankly opposed his selection on the basis of race.

WRONG ADDRESS

In rejecting Barnes for the job, Postmaster General Day gave as the reason the fact that Barnes lives in Northridge and not in Pacoima, a technicality which is frequently ignored.

Mrs. Avery, the mother of a son 14 and a 13-year-old daughter, has lived in Pacoima since 1954. Born in Oklahoma, she has been extremely active in California affairs since her arrival here.

She is a life member of the California Congress of the PTA, a former president of the NAACP, president of the local PTA, active in the YWCA and numerous other civic organizations. She is a member of the Good Shepherd Baptist Church of Pacoima.

Williams Brands Kidnap Charge a 'Frame-Up'

peaceful picketing of the county court house Aug. 27.

OTHERS CHARGED

They were surrounded by Negroes and taken to Williams' home. Mrs. Stegall told police that Williams "chided" them for their action. The Stegalls were later released, unharmed.

Arrested on kidnapping charges were a New York Freedom Rider and two Negro residents of Monroe. Indictments on the same charge have been brought against Williams and Mae Mallory, a New York supporter of Williams' newsletter, "The Crusader," who was visiting him in Monroe. The penalty for kidnapping in North Carolina is life imprisonment.

Shortly after Williams, his wife and two children fled their home, police broke in and searched the premises.

The FBI then entered the case and launched a nation-wide manhunt that extends into Canada, accusing Williams of fleeing across state lines to escape prosecution.

WILLIAMS' LETTER

Williams' letter is quoted here addressed "To the Editor".

On Saturday, August 26, 1961, violence was unleashed on a group of non-violent Freedom Riders in Monroe, N.C. These Freedom Riders had been invited to this racist community to aid in the Negro struggle for human rights and liberation. They, along with other Negroes were attacked because they had established a peaceful picket line around the Union County Courthouse and Mayor Fred W. Wilson's office. The police refused to make any arrests of the people who attacked Negroes and Freedom Riders.

As President of the Union County branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, I had repeatedly appealed to the Federal and State governments to accord Negroes and white Freedom Riders equal protection under the law. These appeals were in vain. On Saturday night August 26, 1961, I talked to one Hugh P. Cannon, an aide of the Governor of North Carolina (by telephone). I appealed for protection under law. The Governor's aide said that he didn't give a damn who was being beaten, that I was getting just what I deserved. He said that I had asked for violence and now I was getting it. The U.S. Justice Department also refused to intervene.

MOB OF 5000

On Sunday, August 27, 1961, the Monroe Non-Violent Action Committee, consisting of Freedom Riders and local Negro youth staged a picket line around the Union County courthouse protesting the absence of police protection for Negroes and all forms of racial injustice. A mob of almost 5,000 racists gathered at the square and started attacking the non-violent pickets unmercifully. The local police joined in the attack on the peaceful pickets. Police held fourteen and fifteen-year-old pickets while the mob beat them. Negroes from other communities tried to rescue the pickets but the police attacked them, disarmed them and armed the white thugs.

While all this was going on I was home where I had remained all throughout the picketing. Carloads of white Ku Klux Klansmen invaded our community and started attacking Negroes. A group of Negroes gathered on the street where I lived to form collective guards to fight the KKK. They started returning the fire against the Klan.

NOT PART OF GROUP

A car was stopped and the driver, a white man, and woman were captured, disarmed and placed under citizen's arrest by a group of Negroes. I was not part of this group. However, the group said this was done to prevent killing the couple who had been recognized as part of the Klan group that had attacked them in town on Saturday.

The pair of whites were brought up the block to my yard. I asked the colored group to let them go and they did. I told the whites they could go, however, they would have to leave through the angry crowd. The woman said she did not want to go through the crowd.

I turned to go into the house and she followed. I was called out into the back to set up a rear defense of the house. I was informed by others, escaping from the riot scene, that Negroes who needed medical attention were being locked in jail by police. I called the police station and asked for possible treatment for the injured — it was denied. I could hear a lot of gunfire in front of my house.

TROOPERS COMING

I received a telephone call from a voice I identified as that of Chief of Police. He said that I had caused a lot of race trouble and that state troopers were coming and that in 30 minutes I would be hanging on the courthouse square. I saw police cars blocking off the block in which we lived.

I remembered that I had filed charges against the Chief of Police with the Federal government because he had refused to protect Negroes. He had also threatened to kill me. I told my wife that we had to leave with the children right away and that we didn't have time to get any clothing or anything. The white couple had disappeared long before this time.

We slipped through an alley and past police cars to a highway. I wanted to leave so that I would be able to tell the world of the brutal racist oppression in Monroe, N.C. Some Negroes who passed the highway drove us to Greensboro, N.C., and from there we caught a bus to New York. We arrived August 28, 1961. We tried to telephone a number in Monroe to see if anyone was at our house. The operator informed us that all circuits to Monroe were busy. We learned later in the evening that warrants had been issued for my arrest.

NOT GUILTY

This is indeed strange because four attempts had been made on my life and local, State and Federal officials refused to issue warrants. I had saved the lives of people who were now accusing me of kidnaping.

I am not guilty. My only crime is that I am a Negro who has loudly and militantly protested America's ruthless oppression of Negroes. The U.S. Government seeks my arrest at the request of Union County Klansmen because my newsletter, "The Crusader," was in opposition to Kennedy's censorship plan.

In conjunction with the KKK, the U.S. Government is seeking to lynch me for political reasons. The U.S. Government's interest is based solely upon the fact that I refuse to be an Uncle Tom apologist for the State Department and because I have openly supported Revolutionary Cuba.

The U.S. Government knows that I am innocent of any crime. It seeks to take over where the Ku Klux Klan failed. It intends to lynch me to silence my international newsletter which represents unbridled opposition to imperialism and racism.

She told the court her husband had fallen in the bathroom of their home a day before the incident, and fractured a rib. She said he had complained of pain that day, and had gone to the hospital earlier to get medicine to abate the pain.

She testified the next thing she knew she saw Dr. English standing at the foot of her bed, with the gun.

After the shooting the physician is reported to have lapsed into a daze. He was arrested at the Altavista hospital where he had gone for treatment.

Mrs. English received treatment at St. Luke's hospital.

Bail had originally been set at $25,000 for the prominent surgeon, but was reduced to $5,000 upon plea of Defense Counsel Loren Miller.

Arraignment in Superior Court was set for Oct. 19.

wife and two sons. The court on which he will sit includes New York and New England states.

After several years of practice in Maryland, Marshall earned his first fame when he represented a Negro student seeking admission to the University of Maryland law school. His victory in that case was the first success of its kind in the school field. Soon thereafter he joined the legal division of the NAACP and has spent his entire time as a civil rights attorney. He won particular praise and acclaim for his skill in the presentation of constitutional cases to the Supreme Court.

Marshall's appointment was the third made to the federal judiciary by President Kennedy. A month ago a Chicago judge, James Parsons, was named federal district judge and last week Judge Wade McCree of Detroit was also named to the district bench.

He is the second Negro to be appointed to an appeals court, having been preceded by Judge William Hastie who was appointed by President Truman and who sits on the Third Circuit appeals court.

He is credited with having built 11 churches and coverting hundreds to Christ.

The dinner arranged by the present pastor, Dr. Jesse Jai McNeil and Atty. Martha Malone Louis, daughter of the couple was a spirit filled affair, with mood music from the silver throat of Arthur Lee Simpkins and Mrs. C. Mae Haynes of San Francisco. Simpkins sang, "Thru the Years," "Walk Hand in Hand with Me," and "Bless This House." Mrs. Haynes contributed "Precious Lord" and "Walk With Me."

IN STITCHES

Rev. Marvin T. Robinson, of Friendship Baptist Church served as master of ceremonies and the principal speaker was Dr. Horace N. Mays, director of Christian Education for the Western Baptist State Convention.

Mrs. Malone was also presented an envelope by Inez H. Edwards, the church clerk. Congratulatory greetings were read and Everette Porter brought greetings from Mayor Sam Yorty of L.A.

Rev. Malone, a master humorist, had the guests in stitches as he told of his experiences as a minister through the years.

Unreality to be Scientists' Next Sermon Topic

"Hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?" Paul's searching question to the Corinthians (I Cor. 1:20) is the Golden Text keynoting the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality."

The importance of distinguishing between sound and unsound thoughts will be brought out at all Christian Science Church services.

Scriptural citations in the sermon will include these verses from Psalms (119:113, 142), "I hate vain thoughts: but thy law do I love. . . . Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is the truth."

In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy explains, "The suppositional warfare between truth and error is only the mental conflict between the evidence of the spiritual senses and the testimony of the material senses, and this warfare between the Spirit and flesh will settle all questions through faith in and the understanding of divine Love" (p. 288).

Lord's Supper Spiritual Lift Expected Here

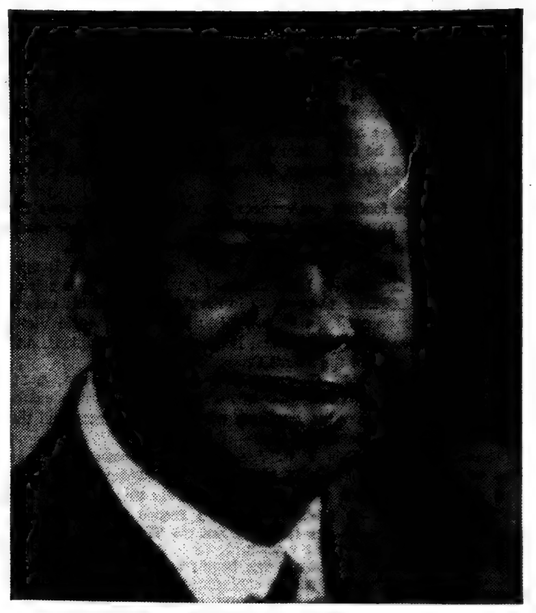
BY BARBARA MOUNTS

At Sunrise on Oct. 1 in New Zealand and the Fiji Islands the observance of World-Wide Communion Day will begin. Following the sun around the world communicants will partake of the mystical body and blood of Christ in the sacrament of the holy communion or the Lord's Supper as it is called in many localities and denominations.

The communion symbolizes the mystic union of the spirit of Christ with the soul of man and the renewing of the flame which burns deep within each man and which is the light of the world, the Christus ro God in man. The spiritual lift of the observance is expected to be felt here, according to local ministers.

Communicants will draw near with faith to altars throughout the world for the ritual of the breaking of bread and sipping of wine which represents the preservation of life through the loving sacrifice of the Christ.

The brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God needs to be realized now probably more than ever before because of the scientific discoveries which could well blow mankind from the face of the earth.



Let us hope that when each celebrant arises from the altar next Sunday he or she will rise determined to help bring peace within our sphere of influence. Sharing, participating and dealing with other according to the Golden Rule.

Johnson, and Sheridan Roseborough. Richard Turner director and Jessie Clay, president. Other outstanding groups will be featured.

COUNCILMAN M. L. SHEPARD

Councilman to Keynote Protest Dinner Fete

Community leaders who consider the refusal of the City Council to appoint a qualified Negro to the vacant seat on the council, have formed political action groups with the intent to recall the newly appointed councilman Joe Hollingsworth.

Incensed over the appointment refusal a group of ministers have invited Marshall L. Shepard, Councilman - at - large from Philadelphia, to address a protest dinner meeting at the Glen-Aire Country Club, in Sherman Oaks, next Thursday evening.

Mr. Shepard arrived in the city Wednesday morning and held a press conference at the Statler Hotel. He is expected to tell what steps were taken by Philadelphians when he himself was a victim of similar discrimination prior to his election to the Council.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch--Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Too little is known about Negro Colleges and their football teams. Almost everyone has agreed that Willie Brown will lead USC to the Rose Bowl. And if he fails there is UCLA with those Smith fellows. California, Stanford and Washington are the others. So much for the Rose Bowl!

Negro College football conferences are usually listed among the smaller colleges. This I am sure is only done because of their small student bodies, not because of the brand of ball being played.

For instance, Southern University way down in Baton Rouge, Louisiana a few farms from LSU, survived a rugged 10-game schedule last year, going all the way down to the final game of the season before bowing to defeat by a narrow 23 to 15 loss to Prairie View. Last year they were named National Intercollegiate Champions, and ended up with a slice of the SWAC Crown.

Prairie View A. & M. College is a part of the Texas A. & M. College System. It is a four-year co-educational institution established in 1876. Last year the Panthers won 10 of 11 games and the 1961 Southwestern Conference.

Grambling College is a full-fleged sectional power and has been that way for years with their 60-man squad which boasts three All-Americans and with only four players missing from the last year's team which posted a 9 and 1 record you don't have to be a mathematical genius to figure out the Tigers rating in the Southwestern Conference this season.

Since Negro college football was begun way back in 1892 they have also had great championship conference teams which have included W. Va. State, Lincoln, Paul Quinn, Howard, Bluefield, Wiley, Wilberforce, Kentucky State, Texas, Langston, Morris Brown, Florida A&M, Morgan, Tuskegee, Johnson C. Smith and Xavier.

After watching the Big Five or the Big Ten football teams over a period of years nothing gives an alumnus a greater thrill than to return to the dear old Alma Mater and catch the annual Homecoming game. You will be amazed at the little difference in the brand of ball played at any college homecoming. The crowd maybe a little larger at our Memorial Coliseum when USC plays UCLA but the thrills at Xavier Stadium as Gold Rush battle Dillard University's Bluedevils are equal to those in the Coliseum. Visit a Homecoming game this season.

Home Town Grid Scores

What could be regarded as a mild upset in the Southwestern Football Conference was the 20 to 14 defeat Jackson College handed Prairie View last Saturday at Prairie View Stadium.

Other scores: North Carolina College, 19; Allen, 6. Morgan State, 13; Hampton Inst., 7. Howard, 19; St. Paul's, 6. Virginia Union, 18; Shaw, 12. Morris Brown, 39; Benedict, 12. N. Central Tennessee, 15; Fisk, 14. Miles, 26; Albany State (Ga), 12. Alcorn, 52; Rust, 6.

Georgia Tech Wrecks Jim Bates In 27 to 7 Tilt

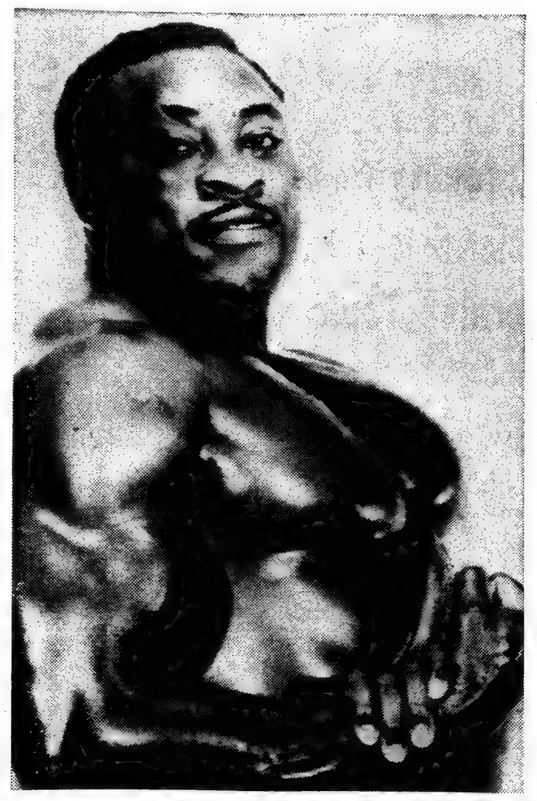
By EDW "ABIE" ROBINSON

Georgia Tech, the South's largest technological institution which gives degrees in Civil Engineering, Mechanical and Electrical will perhaps add Physical Engineering after their football team showing at the Coliseum last Friday.

Tech defeated the Trojans easily 27 to 7 and lived up to its name of the "Rambling Wreck", by putting Jim Bates, one of the finest collegiate safetymen, in the hospital in the very first quarter of the game. He may be out for the season.

Georgia's big fast line also spoiled the debut of Willie Brown, the southland's most publicized player.

The big mobile line held the speedy Brown in check. Brown carried the ball seven times, gained seven and lost seven for a very unproductive duty from the line of scrimmage.



However, as a pass receiver he flashed the form that made the Georgians blink, catching eight passes for 87 yards.

Tech's linemen were hitting hard and clean and forced the Trojan ball carriers to fumble which set up two of Tech's three scores. Impressive USC lineman was tackler Frank Buncom, ex-Dorsey High star.

Deadline Set for Winter Baseball

Men's winter baseball leagues are now being formed in the Southwest Los Angeles County area.

Play is tentatively scheduled to begin during the first week in November. The leagues are affiliated with the Western Baseball Association, sponsored by the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation and sanctioned by the Southern California Municipal Athletic Federation.

TOP WRESTLER — Art (Sailor) Thomas rated the best Negro wrestler to break into the game in years, will headline the big mat show at the Sports Arena Friday, Oct. 6.

Deadline Set For Golf Entry

Entries in the 10th annual Los Angeles City Senior Men's Golf Tournament, co-sponsored by the Municipal Golf Association and the City Recreation and Park Department, must be in the hands of the committee in charge of arrangements for the event by 5 p.m. Tuesday, October 10.

Floyd Patterson Set to Sign Bout

Champion Floyd Patterson and unranked, unbeaten Tom McNeeley of Arlington, Mass., were finally matched last Friday for the world heavyweight title fight at Boston Gardens Nov. 13, after weeks of negotiations four days of New York conferences.

Ceremonial signing by both fighters will be staged at headquarters of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission next Thursday or Friday, if the commission approves the contract.

New Trainer for A&T Aggies Team

GREENSBORO, N. C.—A former star athlete, who often broke one important training rule, is the new athletic trainer at A&T College.

Arthur "Art" Statum, who excelled in football, boxing and track from 1949 through 1953, assumed duties on Sept. 1, as head trainer for the A&T College Aggies.

During his athletic career at A&T, Statum was selected All-Conference end in football for three years in a row, 1950, 1951 and 1952, won the NCAA heavyweight boxing title in 1952, after placing third for the two previous years and turned in fine performances in track and field events.

Fourteen other top gifts will be awarded to L. A. Angel fans as the club hosts its first "Prize Day."

Tickets for the drawing are made available at all of the Angels' remaining home games. All participants must be present to win.

In addition to the prizes the Angels still have a lot of baseball left in store for local fans. Tonight the Angels windup 1961 play against the Washington Senators.

Cleveland comes in for a three game set Friday night. The clubs meet again Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The Dodgers, apparently out of the pennant race, finish 1961 play on the road.

Battling Torres Faces Joey Limas

Raymundo (Battling) Torres, knockout winner over Ray Riojas two weeks ago at the Olympic, comes right back to headline tonight (Thursday), card.

The hard-hitting young Latin will take on Joey Limas, promising New Mexico lightweight. The latter holds the Rocky Mountain 135 pound title.

Limas is undefeated this year and last year suffered but one defeat. He has beaten capable campaigners like Joey Parks, Manuel Gonzales, Ruben Munoz and Rip Rendell.

Regular prices will prevail for this show and it will not be televised.

High School Teams Slate Scrimmages

City high school football teams began last Tuesday when 41 of the L. A. grid elevens engaged in inter-school scrimmages, prior to their first round of non-league games this Friday, Sept. 30.

'Tee Time' — WITH — Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

Renee Powell may become the Althea Gibson of golf because she is only 15 and her score runs from 77 to 80.

This youthful golfer lives in Canton, Ohio and her father, William Powell Sr. is the owner and professional of the Clearview Golf Course. He bought the land in 1946 and opened his golf course to the public in 1948.

The entire Powell family plays golf and Renee works behind the counter in the pro shop waiting on most of the customers who are Caucasian (attention Earl Martin at Western Avenue.)

The children (Bill Powell Jr., 20, Larry, 9, Renee) and their mother help Powell run the course.

The most interesting fact about this family is that they all play golf. The mother, Mrs. Marcella Powell, shoots in the middle nineties.

Renee is now shooting professional golf scores and her long drives average 235 yards. To top that off she is an accurate putter. She has been playing golf since she was 3 years old.

She began serious competition three years ago and since then she has won the girls' championship of the predominantly Negro United Golf Association.

After winning their girls' championship twice she went farther to defeat expert women golfers in several regional tournaments. Finding little competition in the Junior Division, she will compete this year for the women's crown of the United Golf Association.

We know it will be easy for this young, long hitting Miss Renee to mop up the ladies competition in UGA (all Negro eastern golf association) but we are going to have to inform her that her toughest fight is yet to come.

That fight will be after she decides to turn pro and has to join the Women's Profession Golf Association (lily white) to become our first Negro woman pro.

Here is hoping that she will immediately turn professional in order to allow herself about 10 years for the fight to get in because this group of professionals (women) have their headquarters located in Florida.

Star-Liters Club Plans Spectacular Prelude to Glamour Show

HAT FULL OF SURPRISES—Star-Liters Club members for their fall benefit show at the Ambassador's Cocoanut Grove have selected the theme of "Prelude to Glamour," and the swanky bow tie affair is expected to attract a capacity crowd to an annual event that is rated as one of the winter season's most fabulous. Because the Oct. 15 affair is only 51 days before Christmas the organization has made it possible for someone to have a visit from Ole Saint Nick himself as early as Oct. 15. The club will be giving a mink coat away in addition to spotlighting designer Howard Greer's fall and winter fashions. In store for those attending will be the breath-taking and stunning gowns made by the members and which they will model. Most of the Star-Liters' gowns which will be premiered on the night of the affair will either be designed by each individual or suggested by one of them and each original will feature superior workmanship. The organization whose members are shown with the above informal Hat Box is inviting you to take in their Prelude to Glamour affair. Club members are: Maxine Gauff, Ann Malbrough, Doris Le Grass, Barbara January, Lena Cooper, Mildred Curtis, Harriet Tabor, Louise Cummings, Leontyne King, club advisor; Joyce Sonnier, in the star position, president of the club; Harriett Terry, Charity Wylie, Jean Lewis, Lula Mason, Gloria Ragin and Artye Davis. Oxnard and Ventura County Happenings

By Frankie Nash Smith

Just a few more days and that special election for state Senator of the 33rd Senatorial District will be held. The seat was made vacant by the death of Senator McBride (known as Dean of the Senate).

In the running for that office come Oct. 3, will be District Attorney Bruce A. Thompson, and Assemblyman Rex M. Cunningham of the Democratic ticket,and Robert J. Lagomarsino on the Republican ticket. If you have attended any of the many meetings, coffees and teas, etc., I am sure by now you have a choice. Remember to support that choice by voting.

Rev. Jessie Walker of St. Paul Baptist Church recently returned from a trip to Kansas City, Mo., where he and Mrs. Walker attended the National Baptist Convention. He will fill the pulpit this Sunday at the 11 o'clock service and the Training Union time, 6 p.m.

Rev. H. W. Washington of Trinity Baptist Church accompanied by his wife, also attended the National Baptist Convention. Enroute, he was guest preacher in Texarkana, Texas, Oklahoma, and St. Louis, Mo. Rev. Walker is widely known throughout the county for his civic and spiritual work, and has assisted many in housing, and job situations.

An NAACP membership meeting will be held this Friday, Sept. 29, at Bethal AME Church, 3rd and Rousavelt streets. President Charles Jenkins, who recently returned to his classroom after spending the summer in Denver, Col., and Los Angeles, says "make this a must". There may be a treat in store. The time is 7:30 p.m.

Bethel AME Church was the setting for the Board of Christian Education's "This Is Your Christian Life" program last Sunday evening. To her surprise, Thelma Calhoun was selected as the one whose life was relived. Her life as a child was portrayed by her sister Margaret Tatum, school days by Mrs. Wilks, College days Mrs. Patterson. Greetings from the official board was brought by James Kelley. Her USO days and church activity was presented by Elsie Kelley. Producer of the skit was John Mack. Acting as Christion philosophers were Harriett Mack and Verna Henderson.

Mrs. Calhaun was presented a corsage by her husband Gilbert and was addressed by her son, Gilbert Jr. as "simply wonderful". She was presented a souvenir in book form by the Board, and received several telegrams from her home state, among them one from her mother.

Mrs. Calhoun was one of the founders of Bethel AME Church. She worked and gave unsparingly to help erect the church building.

The Browns and Harmons made the trip to Oklahoma and return safely, we are happy to report.

Yours truly had a Saturday guest, Ruth Bolton from my home town, Los Angeles.

Visited with Jeanie Walls this week end. With her cheery little smile, she says, as usual, "I am just fine."

Saturday evening at the hame of the John Macks, the club girls had friends in for cards and other games. Six prizes were given. Harry and Christeen Alford walked away with the highest prize honors, a beautiful set of glasses and coasters.

Just want to take time out now to say "Thanks to my news boys who answered the call. We sold out of papers. Next week we promise M-O-R-E.

Don't forget, I will be listening for your news next week and every week. Call HUnter 6-5825.

SINGING ALL THE WAY

Lindsey Vickers picked Ward Chapel for her autumn nuptials. A postoperative success at Temple is Mrs. Melissa Duncan, mother of Betty Jones, Ida Bacon and Thos. Creacy Duncan. House hunting and singing all the way: Pegga Hawkins. Wesleen Foster-Williams settled in a cozy apt. Ceth Lee did S. F. Rosalie Woodward-Young and Louise Watts leave on Oct. 20 for Hawaii.

Richard Asbury (he was Mabel Price's widower) married. Mildred McKinney and Margery Bruce have plans for a trip in Oct. to N'Orleans and surorunding countryside, visiting Mildred's sister-in-law. Has Big Plans: Dorothy Watson. Chuck Burris' mother. Mrs. Harriet Burris (beloved by many), winds up her lengthy trip back east and heads for home toward the end of Oct. She's been away for many, many weeks.

SOME DO, SOME DON'T

Virginia Morgan decided she just can't adjust to being an Angeleno and is moving back east (NYC) before too long. Cal Bailey, doing caricatures in the clubs where Dick Gregory appears, decided he's been away from the Atlantic seaboard too long to like it now, so after NYC and St. Louis he thinks he'll jet-tail it back to the coast. Joe Makel checked out've the Mayfair. He was here over the weekend enroute back east after attending the African Week sessions in SF, representing his company (they love that man, I do declare). Youthful Steve Curry, here from military studies in Va., will be hitting it back there shortly.

The Connie Scruggs-John Wilkins nuptials (Oct. 15) were to be secret in a fashion but the cat got out've the bag when she resigned her teaching job. An apt. in D.C. awaits them. Golf-loving Mary Woodyard, and she's good at it too, won't make the Bill Fong tournament up north this time. Too many business commitments here, she laments. Cleveland's Bobbye and Glenn Tildon, in a suite in the Ambassador East last week, said adieu to a crowd of us via a table of always brimming "French 67" goblets; tequila over chilled French champagne, mind you. They're winging to Tahiti and on to India.

Franklin Williams caught in the middle of top-level seesawing is catching the very devil all around on his Peace Corps job? They even reduced his job importance. Come back west, Frank boy, if they don't treat you right. We need you. Mme. S.N. and Co.: I don't doubt the Turnabouts are possibly unique and all that. Personally, I've no direct way of knowing. I've never been asked to an affair of theirs. But I somehow manage to stay happy.

Clara L. Harris Ushers in Social Season With Party

Youthful looking Clara L. Harris, attractive teacher in the Los Angeles school system, ushered in the fall and Christmas seasons with a gay champagne and supper party at the spacious Wilfandel Club last Saturday evening.

Some five hundred of her friends have not had such fun visiting with each other since the time when a party such as the one last Saturday was a weekly occurrance. But since the city has grown to become the third largest in the nation, one is lucky if he sees his mother-in-law more than once a month.

Miss Harris' party provided an opportunity for old friends to get together before the Christmas season.

Champagne was served in the garden and dinner in the dining room of the Wilfandel. Delicious turkey was the piece de resistance. Among some of the notables present were Dr. Thomas and Mrs. Bolger, Stacy Williams, Mae Harvey, Ethel Bell, Toni Atkinson, Norman O. Houston, Jimmy and Helen Garrott, Herbert Duckett, Eloys Williams, Camille Cannady and a host of others.

Another gay party was that of the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association and its Women's Auxiliary which opened its fall season with a Get-Acquainted Party on Friday evening at the plush Windsor Ballroom on West Slauson with Charlie Green's Orchestra providing the dancing pleasure.

Dr. and Mrs. Booker T. Tucker chose the Victoria Hall for their party which featured dancing, cocktails and hors d'ouvres last Friday evening.

The all-male fashion show at Hollywood's Pink Pussycat honoring Estelle Sherwood, one of the Southland's finest personalities was a very entertaining affair. Val Verde Park Hillside Home Setting of Club Meet

The beautiful flagstone patio gracing the hillside home of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Austin of Val Verde Park was the setting Sunday of the monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters.

At 10 a.m. in Los Angeles the members, together with their husbands and a few friends, gathered at the home of the president, Mrs. Arie Walker, and drove caravan-style over Golden State Freeway arriving at the home of the host and hostess at 12 noon.

Each room in this spacious home was adorned with huge bouquets of native desert plants and flowers artistically arranged.

The tables in the patio were graced with native desert shrubs and the popular Manzanita.

Incidentally, each stone in the flagstone patio was personally selected two years ago by the Austins when they drove to the quarry situated at the 5,000 foot level of majestic Del Sur Mountain.

Cooling refreshments were served the guests upon arrival and the meeting was called at 1 p.m.

Applying and accepted for membership were Mrs. Alberta Wright and Mrs. Ida Duncan.

Fennell and Mrs. Alberta Wright. Also in the spotlight was Mr. Albert Phillips who prepared a most delectable dinner which was served at 4:15.

To Mr. Phillips also goes the credit for the select flower arrangements. Judging from expressions of all present, the afternoon was an interlude of sheer enjoyment.

Boys' Club Announces Fall Program

The Southern Area Boys Club facilities house a complete Arts and Crafts Department, social recreation and games room, television room, gym, playground and library.

The club offers a variety of activities under capable staff supervision for all boys ages 7-20.

In Arts and Crafts a boy may learn ceramics, woodwork, painting, sculpture, photography, to name but a few. The Social Recreation Department offers table tennis, table games, dances, parties; club and co-ed groups. If it's athletics you desire, the Physical Education Department has tackle, and flag, football, trampoline, gymnastics, archery and many other organized games.

Two new activities added to the program this year will be golf and bowling; with instructions for some of the cities finest. Because of clear interest in the development of young golfers, the Cosmopolitan Golf Club, under the direction of Pres. Earl Reason, has donafed an indoor driving range to the club; and all golfers are invited to visit the range.

SPENDING EVENING — Ella Fitzgerald, everybody's favorite vocalist, raises her voice in song to the accompaniment of the Paul Smith Trio, Friday, September 29, 8:30 p.m., at the Shrine Auditorium. As always, Ella is never too busy to contribute her singsational services to worthwhile causes and most certainly will perform at the NAACP Civil Rights Rally when you come out to see and hear Roy Wilkins speak on our struggles in America for Freedom and Equality. Be there!

SHOW BUSINESS

By MARY THOMPSON

The LIMELIGHTERS — MARCINI — LONDON Concert in 3-Acts Saturday night, September 23, 1961, at the Hollywood Bowl, was a sell-out and a success.

THE LIMELIGHTERS, who skyrocketed to fame on the wings of a current folk-music trend via the Ed Sullivan show and nationwide concerts, have definitely developed a unique approach to music in this vein. Lou Gottlieb, Glenn Yarbrough and Alex Hassilev are the three singles who merged their talents over a year ago and manufactured the Limelighter's refreshing sound.

MANCINI PLAYS PRETTY

HENRY MANCINI fronted his big band with its sweet trombones and buoyant brass and filled the night with the tender music of "Misty's" somber strain and "Timpanola's" bouncy refrain, among other ballads and well-known tunes. The audience reaction to Marcini's "Mr. Lucky" and theme from "Peter Gunn" was wild and enthusiastic.

LONDON SINGSATIONAL

JULIE LONDON, lovely to look at in a white bouffant creation with bits of sparkle to complement her queenly beauty, cooed "Cry Me A River," chanted "Everything Happens To Me," and cautioned "There'll Be Some Changes Made," together with several other London-aires.

ELOYS WILLIAMS — Pretty head nurse at the Cedars of Lebanon is the kind which makes male patients forget about their ills when she strolls through the wards!

HOLLYWOOD MUSICAL DIRECTOR—Ernie Freeman is one of the appreciation award recipients in the "Little Foxes Filmland Festival," October 8th, at the beautiful Fox Hills Country Club. General public will witness many "in person" appearances of the various film artist honorees. Claude McLin's music for dancing.

DUKE ELLINGTON GRADUATE — Marie Bryant, choreographer, will make one of her rare appearances as she receives her appreciation award at the Little Foxes Filmland Festival, October 8th, at Fox Hills Country Club. Make reservations in advance.

HIGH HATTER SCORES—The "Little Foxes and the Hares," national model of color organization, will present Appreciation Awards to 50 Negro artists of the film industry, October 8th, at their Little Foxes Filmland Festival. Veteran actor, dancer, and Disneyland personality, Clarence "Frenchie" Landry will be one of the artists justly honored.

Kingston Trio Sings at Bowl September 30

Southland folk music fans, and their number is legion, will be flocking to the Hollywood Bowl Saturday night, Sept. 30, to "catch" the "new" Kingston trio.

Advance sale for the event is brisk, according to Concerts Inc., company presenting the attraction. Mail is also very heavy from Kingston followers in the area, wishing the group, which now has lanky John Stewart in place of old-timer Dave Guard, the best of luck for the future.

LES BAXTER ORCHESTRA

Les Baxter, composer - arranger - conductor, who has recently been kept busy with moving picture and TV film scores, will augment the program with his full-scale recording orchestra.

MAURICE SAUNDERS — She operates the tasty West Jefferson eatery at Arlington and her waiter and waitresses come to attention when she calls out "Iantha, Dot and Gypsy." They come up with some pretty swift brownskin-service!

NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BAR-STANDER

One of our favorite mimics and comedians GEORGE KIRBY admits in the current issue of Showbusiness Illustrated under an article titled "A Mimic Throws a Monkey off His Back" that he has been a junkie for years but is now cured. He says he kept the knowledge of his habit a closely guarded secret from his friends as long as possible. This scribe is one of his friends, and he sure fooled us. So HAPPY COMEBACK from the "Nightmare" George . . .

One of the leading movie reviewers says his choice for Academy Award nominations for films released until now would include SIDNEY POITIER for Best Actor, RUBY DEE for Best Actress and DIANA SANDS for Best Supporting Actress. They all appeared in the "Raisin in the Sun" flicker which he incidentally would pick as a contender for Best Picture. Significant is his omission of CLAUDIA McNEILL for Best Actress honors. She appeared in that same film, 'member? . . .

We attended JOHNNY MATHIS' opening at the COCOANUT GROVE and the reception for John Boy following the show. We've heard Johnny in better voice or better projection, but even when he's below his usual par he sounds enormously better than a majority of his contemporaries. He's still the thrill

ABBEY RENTS SALES-RENTALS

Some people in the beer business think we're nuts

THEY think we spend more money to make Burgie than we have to. But there's a method to our madness. For example, every brewer knows there are two different ways to make beer light. One way is to cut down on the amount of hops, grain or malt. Instead, add a little more water. The other method, which we prefer, is to brew the beer to be light. And to do this, Burgermeister spends almost twice as much as the average brewer for the one choice brewing grain that makes beer light naturally. You can taste the difference in today's Burgie. Light. But not watery. Refreshing. But not wishy-washy. It costs us more money. But it's worth it. And that's the way it has to be. A beer that is brewed for refreshing people has to be brewed exactly right. And Burgie is. Try one.

New York Scene

Saw the 1962 Ice Capades at Madison Square Garden, and it was thoroughly entertaining as always, with Ronnie Robertson simply fabulous and almost unbelievable in his skating feats. Again L.A.'s own Mildred Blount was responsible for many of the unique and artistic hats worn in the show, and these particularly caught the fancy of Laura Prescott, as she oggled the gorgeous costumes.

LYNN PLEASES SULLIVAN

Gloria Lynn was simply "the end" in the Apollo Theatre show, as she sang everything from swing to ballads to the blues, all with feeling and soul. Gloria must be our next star, as Ed Sullivan came to the theatre twice to catch her and now she is scheduled for appearances on his TVer in the near future.

The Earl May Trio backing her, is ideal and loaded with musical talent to aid and abet her style. There were 'drums for days' through the rest of the show, all individually excellent, but a little too much for me all on the same bill, and with no comedy relief.

First, it was Herbie Mann and his group, featuring conga and African drums, plus snares, then oodles of drums of all kinds and sizes as Babatude Olantunji serenaded with his Drums Of Passion, followed by Art Blakey on drums, with the Jazz Messengers. A good show, too long, but loved by the packed houses all week.

That top flight executive secretary for the Regional Director of the AF of L/CIO, in Detroit, Miss Juanita Parnell, arrived in town after enjoying a grand tour of the New England States with her mother, Mrs. Bessie Gholston, and so I had to take Juanita out. We went to Basin Street East and caught Chris Connor singing a variety of songs, from jazz to ballads, and nicely accompanied by a trio, consisting of Bonnie Ball on piano, Ben Tucker on bass and my good friend, Dave Bailey on drums.

Chris also had most of the Stan Kenton band backing her. Next it was the turn of the utterly masterful Oscar Peterson Trio, with Oscar on piano, Ray Brown on bass and Ed Thigpen on drums, playing "Witchcraft", "The Touch Of Your Lips", and a 'boss' version of "Yours Is My Heart Alone", among other crowd pleasers, to the complete ecstacy of a jammed room.

Last came Stan Kenton and his 18 piece orchestra, which was much too much for that sized room, but would have been fine for a concert hall or auditorium. Kenton's numbers were all very loud and brassy, and covered "Tico, Tico", "Somewhere" (from West Side Story), and "The Waltz Of The Prophets". The food was choice, and the atmosphere smooth.

SUMMIT STAR — Jazz pianist Les McCann and his Trio swing into The Summit on Sunset Thursday, September 28, for a limited engagement at the popular nitery. McCann has just returned from a very successful tour of the South of France, where he appeared at Jazz Festivals in Nice and Cannes with Count Basie and Ray Charles. Also on the bill will be comic Slappy White.

FINE FORM — Juggler cyclist, Yvette Blue, now being seen with Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, juggles clubs while balancing on a unicycle. The circus will appear in Los Angeles air-conditioned Sports Arena daily, through October 1st.

Police Car Hit by Bomb; Woman Held

A 36-year-old woman was arrested Tuesday and charged with assault with intent to commit murder after a Culver City police scout car was blown up by a bomb.

Held by police was Mary Parker, who refused to give her home address.

CAR RIPPED

She was arrested after a mysterious blast ripped apart the squad car parked 100 feet from Culver City police headquarters Monday night. The blast rocked the neighborhood, breaking and rattling windows in nearby homes.

Police estimated the bomb, presumed to be a "Molotov cocktail," caused $3600 damage to the scout car.

Mrs. Parker was seized by Patrolmen Hugh Gipe and Robert Smith as she reputedly siphoned gas from a tank at the rear of a cleaning plant at 1478 W. Santa Barbara ave., a notable distance from the scene of the blast. She was driving a '57 Cadillac.

HAD GUN

Police said when they apprehended Mrs. Parker she had already filled one five-gallon container with gasoline, and was working on the second. In her possession they found a loaded .25 automatic pistol, wads of fa-

Board Finds Fire Dept. Tests 'Fair'

The City Civil Service Commission Friday told seven Negro firemen, their attorney, and the general Negro public that there has been no racial bias shown in oral examinations for Negro firemen.

In a 4-to-1 vote, with Negro Commission member Norman B. Houston, Jr., dissenting, the Commission thus turned a deaf ear to widely publicized charges that Negro firemen taking tests for captains' promotion were given lower grades than white firemen taking the same oral tests.

NEGROES 'FLUNKED'

Seven Negro firemen had protested certification of a list of firemen who had undergone the tests, through their lawyer, Atty. Arnett L. Hartsfield, Jr., who was for 20 years a fireman.

The seven Negro firemen charged the oral examinations board had asked them questions about their belief in race equality, in Freedom Rides, and whether or not they attended integrated schools. And when results of the oral tests were revealed, the Negro firemen said they had been "flunked" out on the oral tests after passing their written tests.

Each test scores 50 per cent in rating.

CHIEF ABSOLVED

The decision came as no surprise, as the Civil Service Com-

Half-Day Sessions For Negro Children In Sharp Increase

Figures just released by the Los Angeles City Schools show that while half day sessions in elementary schools for the city as a whole have registered a slight decrease, those in the Negro and other minority areas have increased to alarming proportions.

In the central area, the number of children enrolled for half day sessions has jumped from 3,610 in 1960 to 6,415 on Sept. 20 of this year, or an increase of 77.7 per cent.

This contrasts sharply with the situation on the west side and in the valley where the double shift has almost been eliminated.

On the west side, the number of children given only half-day schooling has shrunk from 1,453 in 1960 to a mere 51. In the west end of the valley, the number has decreased from 2,263 to only 21, while in the eastern end of the valley the figures are 1,102 for 1960 as compared with 202 for the current year.

While the central area shows the greatest increase, there are also large increases on the east and south sides, also areas of minority group concentrations.

On the east side the number increased from 1,619 to 2,089, while on the south side the increase is from 3,412 to 4,426.

Total number of half day sessions in the city are 13,204 this September, as compared with 13,459 a year ago, or a decrease of 255.

The lopsided development shows, however, that on the west side and in the valley, last year's figures of 4,818 children on half days have been reduced to only 274.

In the central, east and south, on the other hand, conditions that were already bad in 1960 with 8,641 children attending half days have now become much worse, with 12,930 children adversely affected, or an increase of just under 50 per cent.

Mrs. Avery Sworn In as Post Master

Mrs. James Avery, mother of two children active in civic, community and school endeavors, became the acting post master of Pacoima in impressive ceremonies at 7 p.m. Friday.

She was sworn in by Inspector H. F. Hardy of the Glendale Post Office, following announcement last Tuesday that she had been selected for the post.

Mrs. Avery thus became the first Negro to take office as the head of a major post office on the West Coast, and one of the first in the entire country.

The appointment, which came as considerable of a surprise to the community, was no surprise to her, Mrs. Avery told the Eagle. She said she had been interviewed for the post and had received necessary recommendations from top political and civic leaders and had been given to believe that the appointment would be approved.

Dellums Renamed

Governor Edmund G. Brown Tuesday reappointed C. L. Dellums, international vice president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, Oakland, to a four-year term to the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

New Airport Hiring 600 at Concessions

Negro and white applicants were being hired this week to man various concessions at the new Los Angeles International Airport.

Neal Sullivan, personnel manager for Interstate Hosts, announced that his firm has 600 job openings, "without any racial regard whatsoever."

Interstate is in charge of staffing the cafe, gift counter, food and beverage concessions for the eight airline satellite areas at the glittering new air center.

"We have hired about a hundred already," Sullivan told the EAGLE. "Some of those hired are Negroes, and we shall hire more as they apply and show qualifications."

Applicants must show some experience when seeking hiring, it was pointed out.

Some clerks and typists are being hired. Cashiers, counter girls, waitresses, bartenders, gift shop salesgirls and general laborers for all Interstate departments are being considered, Sullivan declared.

Memphis Ends Segregation

MEMPHIS — This key Tennessee city followed the peaceful trend toward token integration Tuesday when 13 Negro youngsters were admitted, without incident, to "white" schools.

The eight girls and five boys were selected as first graders from 42 who appealed to the Board of Education after their applications were rejected last month.

Police were out in force, but the plan to integrate had not been publicized and the segregationists were taken by surprise. Only a few white mothers took their children from the mixed schools.

Rob Williams Given Political Asylum in Cuba

Robert F. Williams Jr., president of the Union County (N. C.) NAACP who claims he was framed on a kidnap charge in his native Monroe, N. C., was in Havana Saturday and has requested the Cuban government for political asylum, according to a report from the official Cuban news agency.

Prensa Latina said Williams asked asylum because he was "under threats of death and persecution" as the result of his courageous fight for integration and his "determined defense of the Cuban revolution."

FLED AT NIGHT

Williams is one of the leading figures of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee and spoke at a public meeting at the Embassy Auditorium in Los Angeles this spring as a representative of that committee.

Williams fled from Monroe in the night last Aug. 27, after riot conditions developed following peaceful picketing of the county courthouse. Williams claimed he was informed by the Monroe police chief that "state troopers were coming and that in 30 minutes he would be hanging on the courthouse square."

Williams, his wife and children fled their home, hitch-hiked a ride with a Negro driver to Greensboro, N. C., and there caught a bus to New York. His whereabouts remained a mystery until he was reported in Havana.

WHITE COUPLE HELD

During the Aug. 27 rioting in Monroe a white couple was brought to Williams' home by a group of Negroes who were alarmed at the turn of events. The couple was detained for about two hours and then released unharmed. Williams claims he had nothing to do with their detention.

The FBI, however, launched a nationwide man-hunt for Williams, distributing a flood of "Wanted" circulars describing him as "heavily armed," "extremely dangerous" and "schizophrenic."

Spokesmen for a hastily formed New York "Committee to Aid the Monroe Defendants" claimed the posters were an invitation to law enforcement officers to "shoot at sight."

Williams, in a letter to several newspapers in New York, described the kidnap charges for which he was being hunted like a criminal as a frame-up and as evidence that the government was seeking to "lynch" him "for political reasons."

A New York Freedom Rider and two Negro residents of Monroe have been arrested on kidnap charges, growing out of the Aug. 27 riot. A New York supporter of Williams, Mae Mallory, who was in Monroe at the time of the rioting, is also on the "wanted" list on a kidnap charge.

A man raging about his extravagant wife declaimed: "She thinks she's Teddy Roosevelt. She runs from store to store yelling, 'Charge!' "

Shift of 10th to Valley Would Bar Election Of Negro Councilman

Fuel was added to the flames of the movement to recall Councilman Joe Hollingsworth of the 10th District when Councilman V. Lemoine Blanchard proposed a city charter amendment that would move the district to San Fernando Valley and split up its present area among five neighboring districts.

The move for the charter amendment confirmed rumors that were rife at the time of the Hollingsworth appointment that he was only a caretaker councilman as far as the present 10th District is concerned and that he was appointed subject to the understanding that the district would be moved at the earliest possible opportunity.

URGED TO RESIGN

The Hollingsworth recall committee announced through Frank Terry that it has scheduled a meeting for Monday, Oct. 19, at the Golden State auditorium, 1999 W. Adams blvd., where plans will be launched to remove the councilman from office.

"It is apparent that Mr. Hollingsworth was not appointed to represent the present 10th District," Terry commented. "Since he was appointed to represent a Valley constituency he should either resign or submit to a recall without contest."

The Valley now has three and a half councilmen. The Blanchard proposal would go on the

Harry Levette Succumbs to Long Illness

DIES—Harry Levette, dean of the news corps, died Tuesday after a lengthy illness.

gro Press, Harry was best known for his widely distributed column, "Gossip of the Movie Lot."

Less well known were facts from Levette's past—that in his youth he was a boxer in the South known as the "Black Corbett," and that he had at one time taught school in Texas.

Levette, 77, lived at 4266 S. Central avenue until his illness necessitated his being moved to Rancho some six months ago.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ed Lucas of Chicago, and a son, believed to be in Mexico.

Funeral arrangements were still pending at press time.

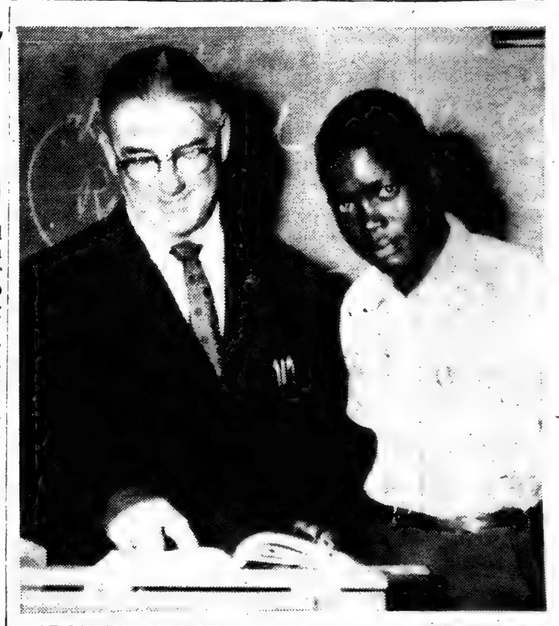
There are now more television sets than bathrooms in the United States and every American family is averaging close to six hours a day huddled around the TV.

Plan Appeal In Pasadena School Case

An appeal to the State Supreme Court loomed this week in the case of a Negro student who accuses the Pasadena Board of Education of racial discrimination.

Atty. Samuel C. Sheats, chairman of the Legal Redress Committee of the Pasadena NAACP, and counsel for the 13-year-old boy, announced he will appeal the decision of Pasadena Superior Judge William E. Fox.

UPHELD BOARD



Judge Fox ruled last Wednesday that the city's Board of Education has a right to shift pupils to whatever schools it sees fit.

He refused to order the board to admit Jay R. Jackson, 13, of 2515 Vista Laguna Terrace, to Eliot Junior High School in a transfer from Washington Junior High School.

The boy's father, Jay R. Jackson, Sr., had petitioned for a writ of mandate against the school board, charging the board had wilfully engaged in racial discrimination by packing Washington Junior High with Negro pupils.

The suit came as result of a

Realtors' Head Backs Jim Crow Housing

The Los Angeles Realty Board doesn't accept the membership of Negro brokers because it is determined to "preserve neighborhoods" and because it "is not going to be a party to the salt and peppering of the whole community."

That's what an assembly committee learned from Charles B. Shattuck, big time realtor and chairman of the L.A. Realty Board's curiously named "race relations committee." He gave his testimony before a committee which was holding hearings to consider the advisability of fair housing legislation.

EXPULSIONS TOLD

Shattuck told the committee that if one Negro moves in it is only a question of time before the whole community "turns black." He said that it was his observation that "birds of a feather flock together." And he added that the Negro lacks "social privileges because he has not earned them."

On the other side of the picture the committee, headed by Assemblyman Lester McMillan, heard Atty. Vaino Spencer testify that white brokers who sell to Negroes in what Realty Boards regard as "white communities" are disciplined through fines and expulsion.

Other witnesses told of the heavy financial burden laid on Negroes through discriminatory practices of realtors, builders and developers. They joined in urging fair housing legislation. McMillan indicated his support of such laws.

The committee was told that between the years of 1950 and

Man Killed In 'Friendly' Poker Game

Charles Lindberg Bryant, 34, of 1739 E. 52nd street, was killed during Saturday's early morning hours. He was shot three times in the chest during a "friendly" $5 buy-in poker game.

His alleged assailant, William D. Swink, 26, of 5141½ E. 31st street, accused of cheating, jumped upon his chair, pulled a gun and levelled it at Bryant, according to the police report.

DON'T MOVE

"No one move!" he commanded. Turning to Bryant, he threatened, "I ought to kill you!

Drops in at Eagle

A few days of autumn's chill were missed this week by a Detroit newspaperwoman who visited sunny Southern California for a two-week vacation.

Mrs. Bettye E. Ellington, general manager and managing editor of the Detroit Tribune, was visiting in Los Angeles this week. She toured the offices of the EAGLE.

Down the Lane

By BILL LANE

JOE ADAMS and Roy Wilkins arrived from NYC last week on the same plane.

Bill Walker, of the Screen Actors Guild, was in the welcoming party awaiting Wilkins.

Tom Hawkins, of KGFJ, happy over the pronto move of his station to the Melrose-Normandie vicinity.

The current move to get more Negroes hired in more roles in movie and TV films is shaping up into a wild situwayshun. Frankly, it bears, somewhat, the earmarks of other and long forgotten such Hollywood fights — a lot of people cringing silently on the sidelines hoping to sneak into a role or two while the other "crazy" Negroes are battling with the bosses.

NOW, as before, protagonists are finding antagonists in their midsts. Actors — Negroes — and actresses are snarling at one another in person and over phones.

And, like sly foxes, some are phoning movie studios raisin' cain for "not using Negroes in these pictures," threatening to unleash the NAACP, CORE, the Great Gospel Tabernacle and the general Darktown Social Uplift Society on the Hollywood bosses if they don't see the light. Many of the callers are actually using these methods to try to get jobs for themselves, and let the Devil take the hindmost.

ACTUALLY, taken altogether in a pot, the Negroes' lot in Hollywood is not worth anybody's proud assay. No matter what answers and doubletalk are issuing from the white movie moguls, it all represents a certain form of bias.

True, Hollywood is a business, backed by billions. So was Lockheed's big plant in Marietta, Ga., which was ordered to cease racial Jim Crow. So are local hotels which by state law must toe the equality line — even though real estate agents don't.

Of course, many of the people crying for acting roles should not have the temerity to regard themselves as anything but background fodder in Union Station or Pershing Square. Many are natural "Toms" and know nothing of acting at all.

But the real trouble in Hollywood is fully apparent. TV films shot in New York — like "Asphalt Jungle," "The Naked City," et al — utilize Negroes without their becoming any cause celebre. Like Warner Brothers, which uses its Negro publicity man, Vincent Tubbs, to write publicity about its white as well as Negro talent, NYC films use Negroes as humans. That's all. Why can't Hollywood do likewise?

WHEN Hollywood filmed "Detective Story," showing a Negro cop rapping a white culprit over the head, Hollywood followed the New York stage script.

EAGLE TAKES TO THE AIR — Starting Sunday, Chuck Johnson's program on KTYM-FM, 103.9 on the dial, will expand to a daily feature, from 3 p.m. to sign-off time. Featured on his program of music are newscasts, based on news, sports, theater, editorial and church pages of the California Eagle. Tune in—it's a good program.

Radio Music Program Features 'Eage' News

A surprising new radio program, providing music of all types for all tastes, interspersed with newscasts, conducted at a fast and compelling pace, has acquired such popularity in the few weeks it has been on the air that it is expanding from a once-a-week to a daily feature.

The Chuck Johnson program, which heretofore has been limited to Sundays on KTYM-FM, 103.9 on the dial, will be heard daily, starting this Sunday, from 3 p.m. until sign off time.

Once every hour up-to-the-minute news from the California Eagle is broadcast by Eagle columnist Chazz Crawford.

A variety of personalities is being brought to Los Angeles and to KTYM by Chuck Johnson, who is known in Kansas City as that area's No. One radio personality, through the Chuck Johnson Productions Co.

The Chuck Johnson program has just added the Golden State Co. to its expanding list of sponsors.

On Friday, Oct. 13 (anyone superstitious?), Chuck Johnson will conduct a citywide talent search, called the New Star Revue Broadcast, to be on stage from 8 p.m. till midnight at the Casa Manana Center, 1131 W. Manchester avenue. The program will be for the benefit of CORE and the Freedom Riders.

Elnora Cole Victim of Fatal Heart Attack

Undergoing severe chest pains on her way home from club meeting last Friday, Mrs. Elnora Cole, 47, of 4265 S. Figueroa, stopped at the home of a friend, Mrs. Ida Tolbert, 157 W. 70th street, where she suffered a fatal heart attack.

Mrs. Tolbert told investigating officers Mrs. Cole complained of gas pains under her heart. Going into the kitchen to get some soda for her, Mrs. Tolbert heard her friend call out. Rushing back into the living room she found Mrs. Cole sitting in a chair gasping for breath. Within five minutes she was dead.

Pastors Group Joins We-Ain't-Ready Club

By BARBARA MOUNTS

The first annual "New Horizons in Human Relations" award dinner of the National Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, held Thursday night at the exclusive Glen Aire Country Club, placed the alliance squarely in the group of charter members of the "We Ain't Ready Yet" club.

There were only about 50 people present, although covers had been set for more than 300. The dinner was announced for 7:30. It was well after 9 p.m. before the discouraged food was served to the disturbed and disappointed audience.

WHERE WERE THEY?

The politicians who were to receive awards were there. The invited speaker was there—after some delay caused apparently by inadequate transportation arrangements. But the ministers and the community were elsewhere as the rows of empty seats eloquently demonstrated.

Philadelphia's Councilman-at-Large Marshall L. Shepard had flown here to address the meeting and to explain how Philadelphia's Negroes had achieved unity and voted in city officials. He spoke as if all the disappointed candidates for City Council were there. He spoke as if the hundreds of ministers, their wives and trustees had turned out to honor a colleague who had made the grade politically. He spoke as if all the presidents of all the civic and social clubs had attended to gain some pointers on forming a solid voting bloc.

AWARDS GIVEN

The awards program was carried out by Marnesby Tackett, Augusta Glover, Rev. A. Degeddingseze and Gilbert Lindsay.

Among those receiving awards were Wesley Brazier, who was given the Republican Central Committee's Oscar DePriest roving trophy on behalf of the Urban League; Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman; Councilmen Edward Roybal and John Gibson; Congressman James C. Corman; Assemblyman Tom Carrell; Sheriff Peter Pitchess; Ethel Bryant, field secretary for Mayor Sam Yorty; Alice Thomas, John Nance and Sam Davis.

Whiskey-Chased Sleep Pills Fail

Despondent over an unhappy love affair, Gloria Starkes, 21, of 1749 W. 25th street, tried to end her life last Thursday by taking a large quantity of sleeping pills, and washing them down with whiskey. The attempt failed.

Kenya Lad Adopted by Dorsey Club

The Key Club of Dorsey High School introduced its newest member and its African protege to the press last week. Probably as much interested in the press as the news representatives were in him was 17-year-old Leo Arao, of Nairobi, Kenya, who was one of 150 young students who crowded into a plane in Africa a week ago to come to the United States to study.

Fifty of the students were sent to Canada and the others were sent to high schools and intermediate schools in this country.

STUDY MILITARY

Young Arao said that he was amazed at the quality of the agricultural production of America, the wealth of the people, the friendliness of everyone and the helpfulness of both students and adults in making him feel at home.

Arao eventually wants to return to Kenya to help his people attain full freedom and self determination. "We need a good military force," he said, "so I shall enter military training to learn the techniques and the discipline which alone can create a great military force for my country."

Young Leo, who looks straight into the eyes of those with whom he is speaking, said that he has three sisters and two brothers, all of whom want to come to America to study.

NAACP Not Tied to CORE, Says Wilkins

When United Airlines New York-Los Angeles Flight 211 touched down at the beautiful new International Airport Friday, out stepped a dapper, tall, slightly built man with close-cut mingled gray hair and small gray mustache.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, had arrived.

He had come to Los Angeles to appear as principal speaker at a mammoth rally staged by the local NAACP chapter.

White newsmen and radio interviewers began at once to question the quick-speaking New Yorker about CORE (Congress of Racial Equality) and the Freedom Riders.

"Is the NAACP giving CORE legal and money assistance in pleading the cases of Freedom Riders?" was one of the questions.

"We are only giving assistance where we are asked," replied Wilkins. "In several instances in Albama and Mississippi we have aided litigants, but we are not supplying any funds for sippi."

"I suppose CORE is supplying its own money," said Wilkins, apparently ruffled at questions trying to link his organization cooperatively with CORE. "I do know, CORE is up against it after having to put up $1500 bail each in so many cases in Missis- CORE.

"You say the NAACP and CORE are not jointly supporting the Freedom Riders. Then does the NAACP sympathize with what CORE is doing?" asked one radio man, pressing the microphone in front of Wilkins.

Wilkins was quiet a second, then he said:

"The NAACP sympathizes with anybody, or any group, that works strongly to wipe out racial discrimination."

Keep On Protesting Wilkins Tells Rally

The need for the NAACP is greater than ever, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, told an audience of more than 6000 persons at an Olympic auditorium meeting Sunday.

Wilkins urged his listeners to "keep right on protesting and laying plans to root out the last vestiges of Jim Crow in America."

RAPS FIRE DEPT.

Turning to local problems, Wilkins decried a decision of the city Civil Service Commission that there was no discrimination in examinations given to local firemen. He pledged the assistance of the national office to the local branch in its effort to halt segregation in the Fire Department.

In a quick review of the school situation on a national scale, the NAACP executive pointed out that northern cities and towns impose segregation through gerrymandering of school district lines and through transfer policies. He described segregation in schools as "harmful both in the north and south."

The Sunday meeting was chaired by Ike Adams who told the audience that "freedom isn't free." President Edward Warren described the 1962 program of the branch as one that would come to grips with local problems and assist the organization on a national scale.

CRITICISM, PRAISE

Wilkins, who was presented by Atty. Loren Miller, was critical of the Kennedy administration's legislative policy but had praise for its appointive policies and for executive action undertaken before such agencies as the Interstate Commerce Commission. He added that the president had done much to create a climate of public opinion favorable to civil rights.

The combined choirs of Holman Methodist Church; Price Chapel, Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, Mt. Tabor Baptist Church, and Faithful Central Baptist Church and the Community Youth Choir furnished entertainers. Johnny Otis acted as master of ceremonies.

The program was preceded by an hour's entertainment by local music for the occasion.

U.N. African Delegates Get Hate Letters

UNITED NATIONS — African delegates to the United Nations have been receiving a rash of crude and insulting letters, bearing evidence of having been sent by the Ku Klux Klan.

Among the recipients of the hate messages have been the chief delegates of Nigeria, Ethiopia and Morocco.

Ambassador Stevenson said the FBI is investigating in an endeavor to discover the sources of the letters.

Jilted Lover Shot in Heart

An ex-suitor was shot through the heart in Compton Tuesday after he reputedly jumped on the hood of the car in which his former girlfriend and her new boyfriend were seated and threatened to kill them.

Dead is Murry C. Calvin, 28, of 803 W. Palos Verdes st., San Pedro. He was slain by Willam J. Hunter, 28, of 708 S. Aprilia st., Compton, who claimed self-defense.

Police arrested Hunter and Miss Vernelle Walker, 31, of 2227 W. Alondra Blvd., for investigation of murder.

According to the story told police by Hunter and Miss Walker, Calvin had formerly been going with Miss Walker, and her been trying to see her since she ended the friendship.

The two told police Calvin jumped on their car hood as they drove near the home of Miss Walker. They said Calvin said he was going to kill them. No weapon was found on him.

Hunter fired three fatal blasts from a .38 revolver through the car windshield and into the heart of Calvin, testimony showed.

St. Agnes' Bells Stolen; 2 Jailed

Who stole the church bells that formerly chimed in St. Agnes Catholic Church, 1404 W. Adams blvd., an old familiar landmark that was recently torn down?

Whoever it was, police said, was better at "lifting" than at bargaining. The bells were variously valued at $600 and $750.

But the Los Angeles By-Products Co., where the bells were discovered, gave somebody who signed a receipt "M. Hodge" only $144.16 for the chimes last Thursday.

Police arrested Opal M. Hodge, 33, of 1906 Carmona street, and Alvin Jeffrey Jefferson, 22, of the same address and accused them of the theft that occurred Aug. 25

Both admitted they were on the truck that carted the lost bells to the junk yard, but both denied knowing how the bells got onto the truck.

Jefferson said he "just drove the truck" and Miss Hodge "is trying to hang it on me."

Miss Hodge admitted signing the receipt for the money for the bells but insisted the first time she saw them was when they were being unloaded.

Lillian Fentress Will Head History Week

Mrs. Lillian J. Fentress has been selected as chairman for the 1962 celebration in Los Angeles of Negro History Week, which this year will be held February 11-18.

This year's activities, the 14th year the event has been given public recognition locally, will center around the theme, "Negro History and a New Birth of Freedom."

The initial meeting of the city-wide planning committee has been scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 8, at 3 p.m. at the Messiah Baptist Church, 4500 W. Adams blvd.

. . . Nothing but the Truth

Charles Shattuck, one of the city's leading realtors and an acknowledged spokesman for home builders and developers deserves an "A" for honesty for his testimonial at an Assembly Committee hearing. By the same token, he merits a resounding "F" for his outlook on the problem of racial ghettoes.

He stripped away the pretence of the Los Angeles Realty Board that it doesn't discriminate against Negro brokers with the frank admission that the Board doesn't want Negro brokers because it wants to restrict Negro residence.

As for himself, Mr. Shattuck made it plain that he would do his best to retain and strengthen residential segregation. He thinks Negroes should be kept in their place.

Moreover, Mr. Shattuck could see nothing wrong with second class citizenship and advanced the opinion that Negroes should "earn" their rights.

Mr. Shattuck's opinions are those of the vast majority of the city's home financiers, developers and realtors. What he said demonstrates the need for legislation forbidding discrimination in the sale or rental of all housing. There is no hope that men of Mr. Shattuck's ilk will ever see the error of their ways.

Despite Mr. Shattuck's bluff and bluster the case for residential segregation rests on a series of false assumptions and old wives tales that have long since been discredited.

The American city cannot solve the problems of urban renewal and redevelopment as long as it insists on segregation. All that it can do is to worsen the social ills that flow from penning up Negroes and other non-whites.

Mr. Shattuck has made it plain that legislation is the only remedy for California's widespread residential Jim Crow. In light of that fact, the NAACP and other organizations should redouble their efforts to put adequate fair housing laws on the statute books.

There are None So Blind

The proof of the adage that there are none so blind as those who will not see was borne out by the decision of the Civil Service Commission last week when it gave the Fire Department a clean bill of health after hearing complaints of discrimination made by Negro firemen.

The only commissioner who saw merit in the complaints was Norman B. Houston, who, naturally enough, was able to see through the self righteous disavowals of the fire department officials.

The time has long since passed when racial discrimination is practiced out in the open. These days it is covered up and the facts are obscured by personnel practices and by subterfuge.

If the Civil Service Commission is waiting for a case in which department heads will openly admit that they draw color or racial lines it might as well forego the time required by hearings into such matters.

The only remedy now available to firemen is through hearings by the Fire Commission which can certainly mount a far ranging inquiry into what is happening in the department under its control.

However, the Fire Commission can't reach the evil unless it is willing to look behind the shams behind which Fire Chief Miller now hides. He says that he is unable to deal with such obvious discrimination as exclusion of Negroes from use of facilities at the various stations. He pretends that he is unable to control the actions of firemen who virtually isolate Negro firemen. That is all nonsense.

Firemen don't have to have "coffee pots" at their stations but if they do have them on city facilities they ought to be open to all firemen. The same thing is true of all other facilities.

Racial discrimination and segregation will disappear in Los Angeles fire stations when the chief wants them to disappear.

Lester B. Granger Retires

Lester B. Granger who has been a fixture on this editorial page has retired after twenty years as executive of the National Urban League. We're glad to report that you can still find him in his usual position in the Eagle.

The twenty years of Mr. Granger's service with the League have been marked by the organization's growth and usefulness to the nation. Its budget has more than tripled in those years and the number of its branches and executives has grown in an even greater ratio.

The Urban League doesn't get the headlines that other organizations earn because it does the hard and unspectacular spadework in social reform. Many times it doesn't even get the credit it deserves for the victories it wins or makes possible.

Millions of Americans who are familiar with the names of other persons who have been active in interracial affairs for the past two decades don't even know Lester Granger's name and couldn't tell the name of the organization with which he has served. Yet it is safe to say that every Negro in the nation is a little better off for the good job the League does and has done.

Thousands of persons are now working in dozens of industries because the League broke down color barriers that had kept them out of jobs. Numerous cities have reversed themselves and have come to grips with their racial problems after League studies and recommendations.

All Americans, of whatever race or color, owe Lester Granger a profound debt of gratitude for his two decades of service.

Whose Councilman is He?

The best possible argument for the recall of Councilman Joe Hollingsworth was advanced last week when the Council received a resolution proposing a June 5 referendum on redistricting the city and removing the 10th District to San Fernando Valley.

The resolution lets the cat out of the bag: Mr. Hollingsworth was not chosen to represent the present 10th District at all. He was chosen because it was felt that he would be acceptable to the new Valley district.

In light of the fact that the new councilman was chosen to represent a Valley district, the residents of the present 10th District are quite within their rights in removing him from office.

The plan is to move the 10th District to the Valley and to split up the present district between neighboring districts. The practical result of that plan would be to continue, even intensify, the gerrymander which prevents the election of a Negro to the city's governing body.

The success of the recall will depend on the zeal with which it is pursued, and financed, by those who have initiated it and by the response of residents of the district.

Freedom, somebody observed at Sunday's NAACP rally, isn't free. It is bought by those who want it. The question is whether or not residents of the 10th District really want the freedom to choose their own representation.

However, the burden should not be cast on residents of the district alone. They should have the united backing and support, financial and otherwise, of all of us who believe in the principle of representative government.

There is no hope that Mr. Hollingsworth will have the decency to resign from his position. The only remedy is to oust him from that office.

BATTLEAXE & BREAD

By Lester B. Granger

One of the fringe benefits derived from writing a weekly column is found in the letters received from approving or disapproving readers. These letters give a columnist a chance to peep inside of all kinds of minds—healthy and sick, mean and vindicative or friendly and inquiring. Some of the letters are anonymous; even those that are signed are apt to come from persons one has never heard of and will probably never meet.

This last is a pity, for now and then there arrives a letter at my desk that makes me want to talk with the writer — whether to chuckle with him over some shared point of view, or whether to try to cool his (or her) fevered brow and assure him that life isn't so terrible as he seems to believe.

GRANGER

QUICK, THE NEEDLE

In the case of Abe Gold of Queens Borough, it isn't amusement or fear that's displayed in his letter. It's complacency — complacency that proceeds out of ignorance and makes you want to prick it with a sharp needle that will deflate without hurting too much. Brother Gold writes me on the subject of "good morals."

His communication is admirably terse. It consists of an August clipping from the Daily Mirror. The clipping is a headline that reads only "Inside the Bedford-Stuyvesant Jungle." Brother Gold attached a comment of his own on a three-by-five slip of paper: "First good morals then intergration." The original way of spelling integration is Abe's not mine.)

Now, Mr. Gold is evidently a reader of my column. He has probably read some of my statements on the relationship between integration and social development. Being also a reader of the New York Mirror, he probably gets his knowledge of social problems — and possibly social ethics — from the news stories and editorials of that sensational journal. I can just see Brother Gold now, cuddling up in an easy chair, putting on his glasses, reading about what the Mirror calls "the Bedford-Stuyvesant jungle" and learnedly nodding his head and grabbing pen and notepaper to share his electric thought with me—that if colored Americans want integration, they've first got to acquire a moral purity, worthy of this great country.

See what I mean, about complacency stemming from ignorance? And about the temptation to deflate by needling. Well, I shall resist the temptation, even though—unlike some— Mr. Gold furnished me with his name and address. But I shall remind him of what every observer of social problems should know—that social behavior is a reflection of social environment. (And this is a point that even our own Negro editors too often overlook.)

Mr. Gold's name indicates that he is descended from an earlier immigrant group that came from Europe, settled in large numbers in Manhattan's Lower East Side, and eventually won integration into the Greater New York population by finding homes, jobs and cultural associations that gave them a chance to absorb and reflect standard American behavior patterns.

Until this was accomplished, the Lower East Side, like today's Harlem and Bedford-Stuyvesant areas, was to many a synonym for poverty, disease, crime and delinquency. There was and still remains this difference: as Lower East Siders acquired education, expanded their economic and social objectives and broke out of their ghetto, they were accepted in broad areas of American opportunities and rewards that are still closed to Negros—solely because of their color.

EYES CLOSED

Mr. Gold has closed his eyes to the blighting influence of prolonged discouragement that turns into chronic frustration. Otherwise he would never specify "first good morals then intergration (sic)." I don't believe he is consciously prejudiced. If he were, he would indulge in some of the bitter or filthy diatribe sometimes directed at me—and sometimes by colored readers. No, I think Brother Gold is simply ignorant—and so pathetically complacent in his ignorance. He doesn't even realize that integration with people who can't even spell "integration" is not a top priority on the Negro's list of things-to-do.

But I confess that he may have gotten his lead from an editorial appearing in one of our own newspapers which said in effect that Newburgh, N. Y., was right —that mothers of illegitimate babies should be punished by having their families deprived of federal aid to dependent children. There's a lot of ignorance still floating around and some of it sticks on people who are the last you would expect to show it.

Oral Exams Ruled Fair

mission had already dismissed charges of bias against Dep. Chief W. W. Johnston, Fire Department member and one of the examiners on the oral board. This followed Johnston's open admission of bias against Negroes, with an explanation that he "put aside" this bias when putting Negro firemen through the rigid oral test.

Many of the Negro firemen were said to be better qualified scholastically and physically than many white firemen who passed the oral test with ease.

The only drawback for the Negroes, it was charged, was that they had dark skins.

NO BIAS SHOWN

The dismissal of the complaint came after Atty. Tom Williams, counsel for accused fire chiefs, and Martin Whelan, attorney for the Police and Fire Protective League, protested vigorously that the four hearings conducted by the Civil Service Commission had produced no evidence of bias.

The commission also refused to honor Hartsfield's request that certification of the list of firemen who took the controversial oral exams be withheld until he could formulate adequate court remedies.

Hartsfield told the EAGLE he and his clients need financial assistance to enable them to purchase transcripts from which to build their case for presentation in court.

This admission came on the heels of a promise from Fred Kline, president of the Fire Commission, that his board would "look into" the Hartsfield charges of interdepartmental bias.

KLINE DOUBTED

Hartsfield had already said he and his clients viewed with weak belief the Kline promise.

"And even if he does," said Hartsfield, "past history has shown that all we can expect is for Kline to look into the charges the same way the Civil Service Commission did—and sweep the charges under a 'we don't believe it' carpet."

But some observers felt that Mayor Sam Yorty's orders that something be done to clean up the biased conditions in the city's Fire Department would bring action.

Car Bombed

cial tissues, matches and a five-foot length of soft paper which police said could be used as a fuse for a bomb.

Mrs. Parker would not talk to police when she was arrested, but Culver City police, University Precinct detectives and Fire Department Arson Bureau detectives learned she positively lived at 8719 Graham ave., Redondo Beach, and that her husband worked in San Fernando Valley.

Arson detectives were busy trying to determine the type of explosive used in the bombing of the scout car.

SUSPECT KIDS

Although the arrest of Mrs. Parker with gasoline, a gun and a possible fuse in her possession tied in circumstantially with the Culver City car bombing, authorities did not discount the possibility that the Culver City incident was caused by children.

The explosion disrupted a meeting of the Culver City Council in City Hall, across the street from where the scout car was parked.

10th Dist. Plan Kills Negro Council Hope

June 5 ballot and would have to receive a majority of votes cast in that primary. It would then have to be approved by the legislature.

Hollingsworth's term to which he was appointed is slated to expire June 30, 1963. He won the job over the bitter end protests of community leaders who had urged the Council to name a Negro from the district which has a large Negro constituency. In the final balloting, Hollingsworth received eight votes while George Thomas got six.

AGREEMENT CHARGED

The failure of the Council to appoint a Negro was blamed on the fact that the plan to move the 10th District to the Valley had been agreed upon and that Hollingsworth had acquiesced. However the charge drew blanket denials at the time.

Political observers said that they believed that Hollingsworth will move to the Valley if the June 5 proposal is approved. He could then run as an incumbent.

The 10th District would be divided up into five areas with Councilmen Gordan Hahn, Harold Henry, L. E. Timberlake, Rosalind Wyman and Ransom Callicott getting portions of it. Hahn and Mrs. Wyman opposed the Hollingsworth appointment.

If the Blanchard move fails to win Council approval nothing can be done about redistricting until after the 1964 presidential election when the city must be redistricted under the present charter.

INCREASE PROPOSED

The move to switch the 10th District to the Valley recalls the fate of the 7th District which was also moved when its Negro population grew to the point where the election of a Negro was feared by downtown politicians.

Meanwhile, a proposal to increase the number of city districts from the present 15 to 25 is being widely discussed. That proposal was made by Don Allen, former councilman, and many observers feel that the Blanchard proposal is a tactic to head off the Allen move. Valley spokesmen have indicated that they might go along with residents of the South Central area of the city to increase the number of councilmen in order to get more representation from their section.

'Save Tenth' Meet Slated

"Recall To Save the 10th", will be the theme at the public meeting to be held Monday, Oct. 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Golden State Insurance Building Auditorium, 1999 W. Adams Blvd.

An action-packed program is scheduled for the gathering. Invited to participate are the Negro candidates who unsuccessfully sought appointment to the 10th District from the City Council.

Sharing invitational honors are those Negro members of the various City Commissions recently appointed by Mayor Yorty.

A permanent steering committee of 25 persons representing a cross-section of the community will be elected and special recall committee will be selected to launch, officially, the group's initial project.

Man Killed

If you say one more word, I'll shoot."

He pulled the trigger. The shot hit Bryant in the chest. The wounded man began to struggle with his attacker. Swink reportedly fired two more shots point blank at Bryant. Both shots hit him in the chest, police reported.

The shooting took place shortly after 3 a.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tray Redrick Jordan, 1534 E. 83rd street, who had invited friends in Friday night for a party. The friends brought their friends, and the party grew in size.

CHEATING CHARGED

Half a dozen or more of the men were playing poker when Swink won the pot. Bryant reached down at Swink's side and came up with a card. A roar went up from the players who accused Swink of being a cheater.

It was then he drew his gun and fired.

Swink was arrested at his home where, deputies said, they found him packing a suitcase. Police also reported that Swink has a lengthy record of arrests and that he served time in St. Louis for assault with a deadly weapon. He was employed at a serve-yourself gas station on Avalon blvd.

Cancer Society Elects County Crusade Officers

District 11 of the American Cancer Society was well represented both in attendance and awards received at the Los Angeles County Branch American Cancer Society's 13th annual dinner last Wednesday in the patio of the Stuart social hour buffet dinner and an interesting program. Officers were also elected.

Louis W. Guiss, M.D., County ACS president, after welcoming the volunteers introduced the speaker of the evening, Werner W. Duemling, M.D., president of California Division ACS, who spoke on "Money Matters—But People Count."

DIST. 11 AWARDS

District 11 was recognized by awards to: Mrs. Frieta Shaw Johnson, 1712 E. 114th street, District 11 chairman of volunteers, who received a plaque honoring her as being outstanding in the County in overall program; Mrs. Clarice Pollock, 448 W. 79th street, district service chairman, accepted for District 11 an award for the district with the most outstanding service program; Katherine Parry, 1131 W. 52nd street, district special events chairman, received a special award for designing and making an unusual set of flip charts depicting the ACS three fold program of research, education and service; Dorothy Jantzen, editor of the South End Bee, was awarded a Certificate of Merit for her contribution to cancer education by means of publicity in her paper.

Realtors Admit Opposition to Open Housing

1960 the Negro population of Los Angeles rose from 171,209 to 334,916, an increase of 95.6 per cent.

Figures were offered to show that 93.7 per cent of this Negro population lives in a certain limited area of the city's central district. Only 21,050 Negroes live in Los Angeles outside this central district area, John A. Buggs, executive secretary of the County Commission on Human Relations, testified.

Buggs declared his statistics prove that Los Angeles is a highly segregated city and that there are fewer Negro suburban dwellers in the Los Angeles area than in any major southern city of the United States.

Henry Hodge, national vice-chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, testified about details of a survey of housing opportunities made in the Los Angeles area.

The California Committee for Fair Practices, charged that "dominant elements in the housing industry — realtors, builders, lenders, rental property owners— serve as an 'enforcement agency' for restricting minority group persons in segregated areas.

"A complex of factors — fears, misapprehension, misinformation and misguided self interest — usually hold back the individual from taking the initiative to break old patterns and practices. Each is afraid of the consequences of being 'out in front,'" the committee said.

Letters to The Editor

To Loren Miller:

You made a good point about Thurgood Marshall and President Kennedy. A few of us get together and talk history, politics, etc., and we said these same words a few weeks ago in discussing Robert Weaver.

Those people who have worked in organizations to help other people are our best bet. They are not seeking personal gain, but are interested in mankind as a whole.

It may be that those of us who study these things and write as you do should continue to raise our voices heard. We need to stress voter registration, education, reading and listening to news. Many, many of our people know very little of what goes on in the city and state, the nation and the world.

In my opinion it was selfishness on our part — no team work — as to why a Negro was not selected for the 10th district. I'm not going to blame the white man for all of our troubles — we are the cause of many of them. We don't seem to know how to act as a community, except when we want to help the white man get elected.

In my opinion Gov. Brown has done better by the minority groups than any other governor, but I bet there will be plenty of Negroes trying to help Knight and Nixon to unseat Brown. I only wonder when will we learn what is BEST for us.

Even the National Republican Committee has already hired two Negro lawyers to try to help win Congress against Kennedy next year — party should not matter that much to us. But I read where one of them told the Republicans that they should infiltrate the Urban League and NAACP. Those organizations should always remain non-partisan in my opinion.

—Mrs. Ophia C. McNeil.

Plan Appeal

controversy earlier this year when the Linda Vista school became a part of the newly unified La Canada school district.

The La Canada school district is headed by Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, noted for his fight to get "Americanism" compulsorily taught in U. S. grade schools.

STEP BACKWARD

Negro and white youngsters from Altadena and Pasadena had been attending Linda Vista. After unification, they were shifted to other schools, notably Eliot, McKinley and Washington.

By some strange calculation, most of the pupils shifted to Washington Junior High School were Negroes.

The Jackson boy's father objected to what he termed the "gerrymandering" of the district and asked that his son be allowed to attend Eliot.

BAD AFFECT

"I want my son to attend an American school," the boy's father said. "A segregated school, either black or white, is bad. I feel it has an adverse affect on my son and is not in his best interests."

When the school board refused the father's plea, Jackson filed suit. He also charged the Board of Education in Pasadena had actually conspired to manipulate the transfers on the basis of race.

Dr. Robert E. Jenkins, Pasadena school head, who has been publicized as "happy" about the new isolationist Americanism courses in Pasadena schools, told Los Angeles newspapers he was suddenly beseiged by phone calls and telegrams from "all over the country" as a result of the Jackson suit. He tried to justify his refusal to grant the Jackson transfer on grounds that "all of Pasadena's schools are integrated."

REFUSAL 'LEGAL'

The case was argued before Judge Fox last Friday. On Wednesday, the jurist ruled the board had acted within its discretion in refusing the transfer, and that his court had no right to do anything contrary to the board's acts or policies.

"I strongly feel," said Attorney Sheats, that an appeal to the Supreme Court of California will be successful, and I will take such an appeal."

A perfect autumn day is one when the lawn no longer needs mowing and the leaves haven't yet started to fall.

Pacoima Postmistress' Oath Said Crowning Experience

By Rev. Hattie M. Maunder

The lovely community of Pacoima witnessed the most outstanding ceremony of all times last Friday evening. The occasion was the taking of oath by Mrs. Nancy Avery as post-mistress of our new post office which is an asset and credit to our government.

As the Rev. Van Dyke, pastor of Pacoima's Congregational Church invoked a prayer filled with warmth and sincerity it shattered racial barriers and magnified brotherly love for all races and creeds. Would to God more ministers would pray such prayers from pulpits throughout the world.

PREPARED FOR THIS

Mrs. Avery was a reflection of lovliness in her queenly manner as she responded to the oath. Her friendly smile was captivating, her concise words of gratitude and pledge of loyalty were thunderously applauded. A goodly number was present to welcome her to the herculean task that lies ahead. We feel that she is well qualified to steer this coveted ship through troubled waters and land in a peaceful shore. This writer believes that Almighty God prepared and preserved Nancy Avery "For such a time as this."

LET ALL HELP

We are proud of Pacoima, and we delight in our post office, new hospital, library, police station and fire department. Democracy should work hand in hand in all avenues of employment both in Los Angeles and the Valley. So let us employ women and men in all these departments and "Lest we forget" give us more bus drivers.

Now that our postal department leads out in making democracy work; let all citizens help Mrs. Avery to symbolize the true bond of fellowship by uniting our strength and pulling together in one direction toward peace and understanding and not until then will God bless and heal our land; not until then can we truly salute our flag, void of hyprocrisy and say "With liberty and justice for all."

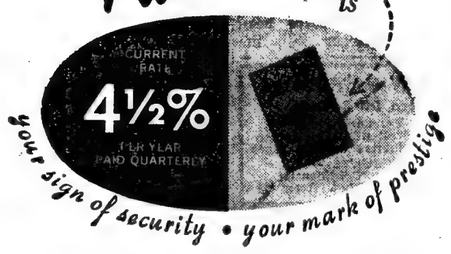
Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.



And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

PROMISING HEAVYWEIGHT WRESTLER — Newest wrestling marvel is New York's Al (Sailor) Thomas, who will appear at the Sports Arena this Friday night, Oct. 6, when promoter Cal Eaton presents his third big world championship card. Freddie Blassie makes his second defense of the world wrestling crown, opposing Tricki Ricki Starr. Sailor Thomas who has been enjoying great success in the New York ring is considered as one of the mat world's most promising stars. On the coast for the first time, he is shown with his personal friend, Jimmy Whiterspoon, one of the nation's hottest recording stars who just won Playboy Magazine's award for the best male singer for 1961. Thomas matches muscle with hefty "Spoon", and it appears that "Spoon" is caught flat-chested. Jimmy Jackson, manager of Earl Bostic's Flying Fox, is welcoming the party to the place. Seated from left: Al Thomas, Jimmy Whiterspoon, Ruby Overton and ex-footballer Woodley Lewis. Sailor Thomas gets menu pointers from Tommy Tucker while waiting to dine. Thomas' 6-2 frame and 240 pounds bring a smile to Tommy Tucker who suggests as a starter half dozen New York cuts. Cal Eaton is expecting a banner crowd to take in Friday night's star studded show, whcih starts at 8 p.m. and will not be televised. Thomas and Witherspoon were next door neighbors in Gurdon, Ark., where they were born and played together as kids and through the California Eagle Sports Dept., were brought together for the first time in 30 years. "The Spoon," will definitely be at ringside Friday night rooting for his home town friend.

Grid Competition Deadline Set For Punt, Pass Contest

Rams area contestants will compete on October 12th and 14th in cities from San Diego to Bakersfield, with winners advancing to the finals to be staged at halftime of the Rams-Forty-Niners on November 12.

Entrants will compete against boys of their own age group, scoring will be based on distance and accuracy in punting, passing and place-kicking.

Forbes Fails To Make Cage Squad

The Los Angeles Lakers today (25th) announced that they have asked waivers on Sterling Forbes, rookie from Pepperdine College. If Forbes is not claimed by another team in the NBA, he will be free to negotiate for himself.

Said Coach Fred Schaus in announcing the release, "Forbes is a fine young man with good basketball skills, but he just wasn't able to adjust quickly enough to playing guard, a new position for him."

This is Forbes second try with the club, and in each case inexperience was the principal cause of his failure to make the team.

Art Thomas On Big Mat Show at Arena

By EDW. "ABIE" ROBINSON

Art (Seaman) Thomas will oppose "The Brute" on the big Friday, Oct. 6 wrestling card at the Sports Arena.

Headliners that night are Freddie Blassie and Ricki Starr. Blassie will be risking his world heavyweight mat crown.

Thomas, called the best Negro wrestler to come along in years, is built along the line of a Greek god. He went from the Merchant Marine to pro wrestling less than two years ago and has been a big success.

He recently appeared in Chicago on a show that drew $125,000. Thomas stands 6 ft., 2 inches and weighs 230 pounds.

Huskies Vs Vikings

Clyde Johnson's East Los Angeles Huskies football face the defending champion Long Beach City College Vikings Sat. Oct. 7 on the Viking field.

Paulie Armstead Boxes Al Escobar

Olympic Promoter George Parnassus has three top bouts lined up for the downtown boxing club.

This Thursday, Paulie Armstead, the former La Poly High cross country runner, boxes Alfredo Escobar for the latter's State lightweight title.

On Oct. 12, Featherweight Champ Davey Moore comes in to box Pelon Cervantes of Mexico. The show on the 19th, will be a 12-rounder with Herman Marques meeting Carlos Hernandez. They are bantamweights.

Johnny Williams Sparks Cub Win

In a game which could be described as a "Comedy of Errors, Los Angeles City College football team defeated East Los Angeles College 14-7.

Errors led to all three touchdowns. In the first period, with fourth and two on his own 36, Huskies punter Jim Roveti kicked to LACC 18 and fleet footed Johnny Williams, latched on. A key block sprang him into the open and he zipped 82 yards for a score.

Two minutes later the Huskies tied the score with Potas Newman making a sensational grab of Bill Esselman's high pass and raced 55 yards.

With Williams, the ex-Dorsey High sprinter eating up yardage, the Cubs got their go-ahead touchdown with Ernie Lockert driving over.

'Tee Time' — WITH — Maggie Hathaway

California Eagle Golf Editor

We recently saw the cutest picture of first lady Jackie Kennedy taking a healthy swing at her golf ball. She was wearing an all white slack outfit with a French style knitted tam (the tam may start a new fad among hat-wearing women golfers).

After taking a second look at the picture we wondered if Jackie's game was suffering from a slice because we noticed that her golf ball was in line with her right foot and she was using a driver (wood). Most ladies tee off of the left foot forward to avoid a slice, but regardless she looked "real pretty" swinging.

We also read that President Kennedy's father just lost his female caddy (in Paris) to a handsome groom and he was shopping around for a new caddy. Maybe if the public golf courses in America would hire female caddies, some of the wives would hasten away from the bars to the course to see what the caddie's were doing to help hubby's game along.

October is here and it is bringing two golf tournaments with it, the Stovall tournament and the Fong tournament. This is the first year that golfers will be given a chance to play golf to help the aged. The ladies will tee off at Western avenue in the Stovall tournament and the men will play at Whittier Narrows. This tournament will be held Oct. 15 (on a Sunday so there won't be any "I had to go to work" excuses) and the county is donating the golf courses. The Stovall tournament will be just in time to get the golfers sharp for the Fong tournament in San Francisco which will be held three days later (Oct. 18-19). Art Larieau, popular tournament director, will have the charming Justine McDowell preside as his Keno Queen.

Last year this organization gave away such fabulous prizes (sweaters, coats and mink) that Eoline Thornton flew back from Honolulu to take her chances on the mink stole. Oh, yes, she won it and, speaking of Eoline, we can say without an argument that there is no-one in the Bay Area who can defeat her.

We notice that Emma Banks is golfing again and she can be as dangerous as she wants to be when she is on her "stick."

The Tee Masters have been discussing a merger with the Western avenue. Women now that they have broken down segregation on all public courses and all ready to play some golf for a change Thelma Cowan once said that it was impossible to fight and play golf and do you know that seven years later we have found out that she was right.

It is rumored that the Western States (all Negro clubs) Golf Association is going to carry its next tournament to Pebble Beach. Well, Pebble Beach is owned by 15 millionaires (including Bing Crosby) and it is probably better to play there even if they're not members rather than continue to play elsewhere in the face of the Caucasian clause. In fact any place is better than Fox. Vernoncrest had one of its saddest tournaments there because many players chose to stay away rather than take a chance on having to cross a picket line.

Just the mere idea of not knowing whether there would be a picket line (at Fox) apparently made the lady champion play badly because we observed that she (Gladis Mitchell) won the championship flight with a 99-98 which is not championship golf. In fact it is a score that a B-flight golfer would expect to shoot.

Ivy Friendship Organization Holds Colorful Eighth Annual Garden Party

Sunday afternoon, Sept. 24, will long be remembered by all who attended the Eighth Annual Garden Party of the Ivy Friendship Group.

This affair was held in a very picturesque setting — the patio and garden of the club's president on W. 49th street.

The 400 invited guests who attended were regaled with delicious food and cool drinks, and a delightful part of the afternoon was the enjoyment of a well arranged musical program rendered by the many artists who assisted.

The artists were: Soloist, Christol Jordon; pianists, Sharon Dupart, Le Grand Mason, Jr., and Mary E. Thomas; whistler, Geraldine Procello; violinists, Janice Gower and Charleta Thomas; trio vocal, Maude E. Masters Group; teen age instrumentalists, 11 pieces directed by Prof. Milton R. Hall; and as a grand finale, the sweet strains of Roy Clarke's Orchestra.

The members of Ivy Friendship Club, comprised of 20 ladies, have served the community well during their eight years of existence. They hold a life membership in NAACP, have received many awards for outstanding service with the American Cancer Society, and their president, Mrs. Berry, has been a member of the board of directors of that organization for several years.

During the deplorable happenings in Louisiana and Tennessee, these charitably minded ladies sent several boxes of good clothing plus monetary assistance to the needy in those southern areas. Letters of appreciation have also been sent to those courageous individuals in the South who are enduring hardships in the fight against discrimination and injustice.

The club's officers are:

President, Mrs. Ann R. Berry; vice president, Mrs. Josephine Jones; secretary, Mrs. Edna Harris Dameron; treasurer, Mrs. Emma Adams; chaplain, Mrs. Dorothy Taylor; and chairman Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. Annie Jarrett.

ANNUAL GARDEN PARTY — Members of the Ivy Club are shown following their colorful affair in the garden of the president's home. Seated from left: Ruth Payne, Dorothy Taylor, Emma Adams, Ann R. Berry, Edna Dameron, Annie Jarrett, Blanche Howard, Mamie Lowe and Bertha Fitzgerald. Back row: Bessie Campbell, Gladys Holloway, Eloise Williams, Julia Alridge, Alice Marshall, Trudie Rubin, Lucille Mc Donald, Louise Harris, Chevie Curry and Nellie Shepherd.

BRIDE — Marguerite Waller is shown following her marriage to Ralph Waddy Jr. at St. Patrick's church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waller and attends UCLA. The groom is serving in the Navy. The young couple are making their home in the city.

Honor Teacher At Dinner Party

Ida M. Jones, of 4073 Kenway in Viewpark, entertained Earline Shaw and her daughters with a dinner party last Sunday.

The occasion was Mrs. Shaw's birthday. She is a member of the Los Angeles City School System.

Bill Smallwood

Gala of the season was the Sat. night party hosted so opulently by Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Howard; in fact, it marked the last of their distinctive parties at that address for they will be saying adieu to Berkeley Square in the near future. They have the flair indeed for successful parties. This one drew just about everybody in town that you know well. A dance pavilion and a swingin' trio, an array of bartenders and waiters; flaming torches lit the lawns, a delicious buffet, plenty of parking area, laughter of attractive women, what more is needed to make a memorable night? Wellington Howard (Wayne's brother) flew in from Chicago for the party, flew right back home Mon. p.m.

The Clef Club met Sun. with Les Hite and Harvey Brooks at the home of the latter. The Nannettes gather Sat. at Laura Fowler's. Get-well cards will reach Ed Hurd at Kaiser Rehabilitation Hospital in S'Monica. Betty Hudson Nichols, Daisy Brooks and Marian Orendorff were among the balling crowd at Disneyland Sat. night via the Dixieland bash; with their menfolk they went onto the late party down there for Louis Armstrong.

GLADLY JETTED HOME

The Gene Burneys (Ruth) were dined on their ninth anniversary by the Phil Fortiers (Yvonne). That's Wadsworth School faculty member Alida Robinson at the wheel of that new fire-engine-red Valiant station wagon. At times she hides away over weekends at the comfortable desert ranch house of [illegible] in Apple Valley.

Virginia Morgan's mother flew to Sewickly, Pa. on Mon. to live permanently so the day before their apt. was filled through the day with friends coming in to say goodbye. Accompanying her was Helen Carr (fireman Hank's missus) who returns to LA after visiting that section.

Phila. City Councilman Marshall Shepard, here on a perfect fiasco of a trip, gladly took a swift midnight jet home Thurs., vowing never again. Harry Blackiston Jr. is the lad at Cal-Tech who is working on his Degree of Aeronautics while studying on a second Howard Hughes grant. His first Hughes fellowship put him through graduate school at Purdue. He's on leave now from the aircraft company. Sat. is anniversary time for the Maurice Paillets (Ruth) and Opal Jones birthdays next Wed. (11).

Juanita Collins turned down another term (she's served four) as president of Trinity PTA; she's a devoted, tireless community worker. "Now I can work more for the Boy Scouts," she adds. She and hubby Nate are true gadabouts once they begin. Recently they decided within a few hours to grab a jet to NYC and, by golly, they did. Just like that.

AFRICAN SPECTACULAR

Impressed with Joe Makel's cool efficiency throughout the Christian Brothers' sponsored tour of their wineries and lunch under fragrant grape arbors, she introduced herself to wonder boy Joe; he masterminded the successful outing. RINKEYDINK PLANNING — Fabulous Rinkeydinks are shown following their regular club meeting at which they announced the club's annual event which is scheduled at the Beverly Hilton Hotel on Halloween night, Oct. 31, in the form of a Cabaret Party, featuring Louis Armstrong and Dick Gregory. Seated from left: Ann Odom, Lena Barnes and Alice Payne. Standing: Gloria Collins, Barbara Dale, Hildegarde Bostic, Bernice Brooks and Lillian Kazarian.

Portia Craig Is Chairman For Women's Group Affair

The newly organized Democratic Women's Study Group of the 53rd Assembly District has scheduled its "Getting to Know You" reception Sunday, Oct. 8 at the home of Mrs. Florine Edwards, 10117 Clovis avenue. The reception will be held from noon to 4 p.m. Refreshments will be served in the garden.

Introductions will be made by Mrs. Marion Holden, columnist for the Pittsburgh Courier.

Many dignitaries of the Democratic Party have made personal commitments to attend in order to become acquainted with members of the community and the study group.

Mrs. Portia Craig is chairma of the initial affair, and states that all are welcome.

Sixteen Rehearsing For Affair

Sixteen young ladies are busy rehearsing for the Questionette Club's second annual Courant Ball at the Beverly Hilton on Nov. 3.

Rita William, president of the Questionettes, and her committee have been working with the sixteen candidates chosen to make their bows this year.
